City Electrical; Building Code Slated

Council Receives Pollution Letter

City To Interview Prospects For Building; Electric Inspector

City councilmen took a step in the right direction during their regular meeting Tuesday morning as they voted to begin immediately working out building and electrical codes for Muleshoe.

City Manager Albert Field was instructed to obtain copies of a uniform building code and electrical codes to be checked and approved for this area. At the same time, the city manager will begin preliminary interviews of possible prospects for a building and electrical inspector who will be employed by the city.

To be named at a later meeting will be a building commissioner to help work out the details with the local contractors, lumber yard operators and electricians. The building commission will meet with the various interested parties, then with the city council in the event they have problems arise which they cannot resolve.

mission to help work out the details with the local contractors, lumber yard operators and electricians. The building commission will meet with the various interested parties, then with the city council in the event they have problems arise which they cannot resolve.

An ordinance controlling the repair or removal of dilapidated houses and buildings was proposed, but was tabled until the building and electrical codes can be worked out and adopted. Councilman Kenneth Heathington was designated to begin contacting the local interested persons in the two codes and will be working with them to outline codes which will be adopted for use in this area. He will be assisted by a building inspector once such inspector is approved for employment.

A letter from Michael Peters, Environmental Health Specialist with the Texas Air Control Board to National Air Dehydrating was read to the council. Copies of the letter had been mailed to the headquarters of the alfalfa dehydrating company, Dr. B.O. McDaniel, Bailey County Health Officer; the mayor of Muleshoe and to Bill Vinson, local manager of the alfalfa mill. Peters wrote the letter on September 11 and told the officials that members of the Texas Air Control Board had checked pollution from the mill on two consecutive nights in August and asked for a letter from the mill officials by September 20 outlining methods they plan to use to combat the pollution.

Three local residents have purchased a drive in restaurant in Muleshoe and are now open for business under new management.

Bob Palmer and Mr. and Mrs. Dee Puckett have purchased Ray's Rocket on West American Boulevard and Mrs. Puckett is operating the drive in restaurant, under the new name of Pattie's Drive In.

Puckett is a Muleshoe native and is employed by Wilson Drilling. Mrs. Puckett is from Ohio. Palmer, who operates A & B Plumbing in Muleshoe, is a Lubbock native.

Pattie's Drive In will be open seven days a week. The hours are from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. Monday through Thursday; 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. on Friday and Saturday and from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Sunday.

They will specialize in short orders and cold drinks.

Ford Dealer To Sponsor Competition

Robert Hooten of Muleshoe Motor Company has reminded that September 26 is the deadline for eight to 13 year old boys signing up for the annual Punt, Pass and Kick competition which will be held in Muleshoe the first Saturday in October.

A total of 18 trophies will be awarded locally, said Hooten, and all eight to 13 year old boys are encouraged to enter the competition.

Last year's winner was Dusty Davis.

Drug Story Told By Amarillo Youth

"In offering specific, constructive advice and tips to parents concerning drug use and abuse, specialists in a variety of fields stress five principal approaches," a crowd of noticeable after-effects. Soon they want to get on to a stronger drug, she continued. In describing the next step Sandy told of taking the drugs orally. This is a much slower process as the drug has to go through the digestive system. Skin popper and mainliners come next, where the drug is injected directly into the vein, she told the crowd.

Sandie Roberts then continued in details of how the addiction grows. She described graphically the heating of the water to dissolve a powdered drug, often in a "community" spoon; cotton to catch the drippings; then injection into the vein with a needle. Shots into veins on the arms, behind the knees, anywhere there is a vein -- even under the eyelid or between the toes. Unsanitary conditions prevail because of passing needles and spoons around, the "don't care" attitude, dirt and filth in re-using cotton. It is also dangerous.

Diez y Seis Queen Is Beatrice Acosta

A two-day celebration highlighted the annual Diez y Seis festival this week in the Catholic Center at Immaculate Conception Catholic Church. The 12-piece Junior Perales band from Hereford headed up the musical list for the opening night Tuesday, and "The Chicanos", a 10-piece band from Hale Center provided the music on Wednesday night.

Festivities got underway at 7 p.m. Tuesday evening and the 1970-71 Diez y Seis Festival Queen Beatrice Acosta was crowned in ceremonies at 8 p.m. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Armando Acosta and won her crown by virtue of acquiring the most funds during a fund-raising campaign which concluded on September 1.

First runner-up was Cordy Velasquez, who makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. Juan Garcia and second runner-up is Diane Lucero, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Lucero.

For several months, the three girls, their families, friends and associates held bake sales, dances, raffles and took donations for the contest. All of the funds received during the contest are used in the building fund for the Catholic Center.

A record amount of money was raised during the queen contest this year with approximately $3,800 being raised to help pay for the new Catholic Center, Beatrice was first place winner with $1,400; Cordy in second with $1,300 and Diane Third with $1,100.

Preparations have been underway for the past several months for the annual Diez y Seis festival, which is the celebration of Mexican Independence Day.

The festival is held throughout the world to celebrate the occasion of Mexico's independence from Spain.

Editorial Cooperation Vital

GUEST EDITORIAL

The mass arrests and speedy indictments on narcotics and drug abuse charges here Friday night point up several important factors concerning the drug situation in Plainview.

Primarily, it provided evidence that, as long suspected, Plainview is not unlike most cities of its size. It definitely has and has had a drug problem, involving both adults and juveniles.

Secondly, the raids and arrests proved that local law enforcement officers haven't been "sitting on their hands" in regard to drug abuse here. It was, in fact, an eight-month-long investigation which laid the groundwork for the action this week.

Since the probe, in which assistance was given by special narcotics agents and several Plainviewians working undercover, was carried out in utmost secrecy as such cases must be, citizens in general were unaware and sometimes critical of the lack of action which had taken place to date.

The Herald, which had known of the investigation and planned arrests for some time, cooperated with all agencies involved as did other local news media.

The result is Plainview's first major crackdown on drug abuse, an action which can serve several purposes, not the least of which should be a clear warning to all citizens, juveniles and adults alike, that experimenting with dangerous drugs and narcotics is risky business.

Hopefully, the arrests Friday and Saturday will bring this home to those tempted to use drugs and will serve as the major factor in their decision against doing so. Perhaps this will be of some consolation to those families of young people who are suffering understandable anguish as a result of the action.

Many people are due special credit for their roles in the planning, investigative work and the quick grand jury action which resulted in the arrests and indictments. It was a splendid example of cooperation at all levels and involved, particularly, the Plainview Police Department and Hale County Sheriff's Office as well as the special narcotics officers and volunteer undercover agents.

Their work, along with assistance by other government officials and agencies, involved extra duty, late hours and, in some cases, no small amount of personal danger.

Without the efforts and cooperation of all concerned a successful crackdown could not have been made.

American-Style Politics Here in Bailey County

"POLITICAL PARTICIPATION remains the citizen's most effective force. All too often, citizens are reluctant to involve themselves in partisan politics. Some think of politics as messy and believe that the best people should be above it.

"To say that politics is beneath us is to say that democracy is beneath us. A failure to participate in politics is a sign of ignorance, not innocence."

The man who spoke those words a year ago is willing to practice what he preaches. He himself got involved in politics in running for office in a county race and in surprisingly short time he climbed from the courthouse to the vice-presidency of the United States.

Sprio Agnew's zest for politics, American-style, is shared by many of us. And it is this outspoken competitiveness that is the most obvious evidence of the continuing vigor of our political system.

OFFICES IN BAILEY COUNTY through a slate of state offices, including governor and United States Senator, are up for grabs. All over this great country from the smallest village to the biggest city, the American people are once again buckling down to the serious but exhilarating business of choosing their government.

As usual the big political show has already produced suspense and surprises. Incumbents have fallen - even here in Muleshoe; famous names have been dimmed by defeat; relative unknowns have risen quickly in the voters' favor.

It is a great process and, as Spiro Agnew noted, everyone can get in on it. Politics, in America is not an exclusive activity. Those who exclude themselves in the belief that this is none of their affair are merely fooling themselves, the Dallas Morning News pointed out editorially this week; we agree.

The citizens who refuse to take part in this noisy process are really abdicating their part in self-rule.

IT IS GOOD and much more effective to be active before an election than to wait until afterward to complain or fuss about the results and state of affairs brought about by the election.

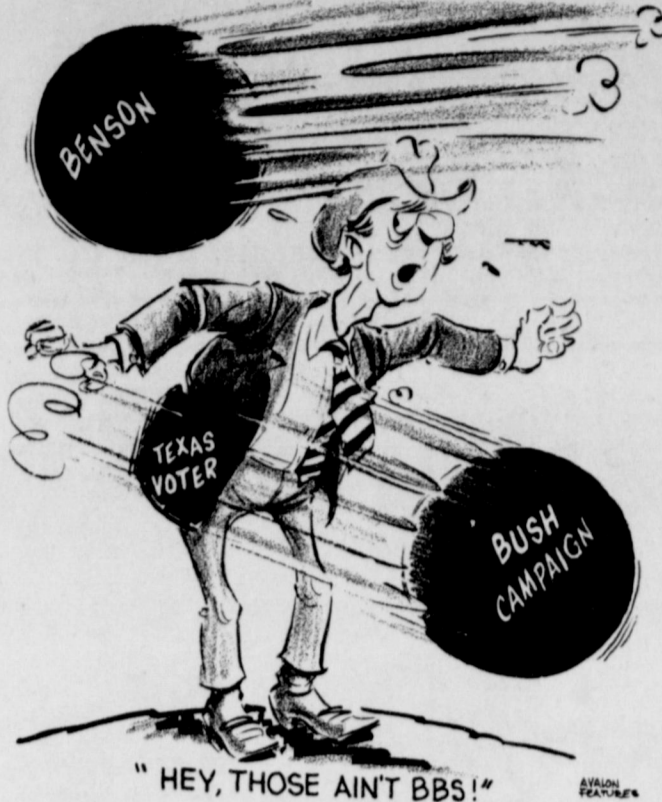

LOCALLY slightly less than one third of the 3,026 registered voters in Bailey County took time to go to primary polls here in May. This indicates that quite a few voters DID, in fact, "abdicate their part in self-rule" - as other past voting records in this county, city and various type districts, elections show.

The Journal would like to reflect the increased interest in politics and local affairs so traditional after Labor Day is past and gone.

"Letters to the Editor" may express political comment and any informative issue discussion to utilize the column as a personal sampling of voter interest in this area.

The citizen interested in the welfare of his country, state and county - even city and hospital district - must pay close attention to political activity within and the general election on November 3.

MIDDLE EAST
The headlines which are taking lead position these days, replacing even those of the war in Vietnam, are those telling of the latest development in the Middle East. We have, in the Middle East, a trouble spot of great importance which could easily mushroom into a world confrontation.

The United States is vitally interested in Middle East events. We are concerned from both economic and spiritual points of view, in addition to our general hopes for world peace.

Most of us feel a natural sympathy for Israel. We link the birth of that small new nation in connection with such tragic names as Dachau and Buchenwald. Most of us also feel a basic admiration for Israel because of the determination of her people. The Israelis must not only defend their borders from attack but they must also work endlessly to wrest a living from an arid land.

The United States is also vitally interested in the Middle East from an economic point of view. The Arab nations produce large quantities of petroleum which is the main source of supply for Western Europe. If Arab oil should experience an immediate fuel crisis. Under existing treaty commitments, the United States would be called upon to meet the needs of most European nations for oil.

Unfortunately, we are already experiencing shortage in our domestic oil supply. We would be hard pressed to meet the oil demands of Western Europe as well as our own.

Peace in the Middle East is also the key to resumption of operations for the important Suez Canal. We are now spending untold dollars in transportation costs because ships are now required to sail around the Cape of Good Hope rather than use the Suez Canal. Since everything of bulk importance moves by sea, the Suez Canal rates along with the Strait of Gibraltar.

Northwest Quarter of Section No. 11, Block "Z", W.D. and F.W. Johnson's Subdivision, Bailey County, Texas.
E.C. Chitwood to Earl R. Chitwood, Edward D. Chitwood, Grace Young, Dallis L. Snyder, Giorita Bowman, Allie B. Snyder, Lucy G. Jones, W.A. Chitwood, L.D. Chitwood, A.E. Chitwood and Jo Ann Mills, Lots 9 and 10 of Block 6 of the Lakeside Addition to the City of Muleshoe, Bailey County, Texas.

Lee R. Pool and wife, Jewel N. Pool to W.M. Pool, Jr., and wife Bertha E. Pool, all of the Northeastly Seventy-one feet of Lot No. 2 in Block No. 3, Riverside Addition to the town of Muleshoe, Bailey County, Texas.

U.S. is seeking to extend Middle East cease-fire.

Until a peace settlement is reached, however, we have only one means of keeping Middle East turmoil at a relatively low level. We must insure that a balance of power exists so that the Arab nations will not choose to attack Israel and so that Israel will see no need for a preemptive attack upon her neighbors.

With the Soviets supplying arms and indeed, pilots and technical advisors to Egypt, we have no alternative but to insure that Israel possesses comparable military strength. I am not advocating the deployment of American military forces in Israel. But we must provide Israel with the military equipment necessary to keep her on a par with her neighbors.

It is with this goal of peace and stability in mind, that I recently argued in the Senate for a provision specifically authorizing the sale of U. S. aircraft to Israel; and I am grateful that the provision left the Senate intact, as a part of the Military Procurement Authorization Bill.

Only by maintaining a balance of power in the Middle East can we encourage stability and provide the kind of climate necessary for serious and successful peace negotiations. But I do believe that Middle East peace can be achieved through skillful diplomatic relations if all those nations involved act in good faith.

YOUTH PANEL -- Three Amarillo students, part of a group of 25 youths who have trained under Potter County 4-H Clubs since November 1969, added a Muleshoe P-TA audience of 165 to their record. They have spoken to over 20,000 persons in the Panhandle area since last year. gerous because of the shaking of an addict which often causes missing the vein and hitting a muscle. Withdrawal pain is unbearable, she continued - in Amarillo some have shot peanut butter or mayonnaise if they can't get a fix... "It's really like committing suicide, it really is, I don't know why they do it but they do..." she concluded.

Buddy Bertrand, WTSU freshman, spoke of marijuana and LSD. "The older kids start with smoking marijuana like they would a cigarette. This usually leads to harder drugs - LSD, speed, methadone, desadrine, besidrene, et al. Some of these drugs are physically and/or psychologically addicting. At first, a 'crutch'; then as addiction becomes physical, the body HAS to have it to live," he continued.

One ounce of pure LSD equals 300,000 individual injections, Bertrand noted. He gave reasons for all drug taking as they had heard them listed by "what other kids have told us"; (1) curiosity (2) "for kicks", (3) "to understand myself better" and (4) a quest for philosophical or religious insight.

The average dose of LSD has affects that last from 8 to 10 hours. It can be taken in crackers, sugar cubes, cookies, even put on postage stamps and mailed across the US - "just a lick will give a person a trip," Bertrand pointed out. The dust from LSD is so strong it will put a person not attend the Levelland meeting. The representative said he was visiting the county commissioners courts in Bailey, Lamb, Cochran, Hockley, Terry, Yoakum, Lynn and Garza Counties to explain the function of the housing authority.

He indicated to the Bailey County Commissioners at the meeting that a feasibility study has proven that of the 254 counties in the state of Texas, not one county is without substandard housing.

Emphasizing that a Regional Housing Authority will be used to band together a group of counties to do something about adequate housing for people in low income categories. The houses would be both rent houses and houses for sale. He stressed that no public money whatever would be involved except for two required legal notices.

All the funds would be from local bank and housing institutions backed by Federal Funds. The houses would be built when and where possible using local labor and supplies, plus local financing, he stated.

Rep. Salter told of the pilot Regional Housing Authority in Mississippi which was the first to authorize regional housing and build homes. This was in 1969. Since they began, he said, they are finishing two houses a day, and added that this seems to be the most efficient means of combatting the housing problem.

According to a release by Texas Governor Preston Smith last weekend, said Rep. Salter, Texas is short at least 700,000 houses and used that statement to answer a question by Commissioner Stephens if this was a good time to build, with high interest rates and low money.

According to what he told the commissioners, if Bailey County approved a Regional Housing Authority, there would be a representative from this county on the authority board. He could not be paid or elected county official, he said the board decides all things except federal or state requirements, giving the example that all houses must meet Federal Housing Administration qualifications as FHA would be providing the funds for the purchase of the homes.

The board would determine in what counties the houses would be built to begin the program, Rep. Salter said that probably at least in the beginning stages, the first allocation of approximately 1,000 houses would be equally divided among the eight counties in the Housing Authority.

He said a three-bedroom home would cost in the $12,800 range and the purchaser must be steadily employed and qualify under federal guidelines for low income families. The qualifications would be clarified when and if such program is initiated. Following another question from a commissioner, Rep. Salter told the group that the county would not be responsible for houses which may be abandoned or not sold. Stressing that providing decent housing could be a good business proposition, Rep. Salter said that if pride of ownership could be given low-income families, that it has been proven they make taxpaying citizens who add to the economy of the community.

Following a lengthy, sometimes serious, sometimes light discussion on the project, the commissioners tabled a decision to their next regular meeting which will be held on Friday, October 2. In other action, the commissioners purchased a 1970 Ford for the Bailey County Sheriff's office. Low bidder for the new sheriff's office vehicle was Muleshoe Motor Co. The Ford was purchased for $3,138 with trade in of an older car from that department. Also approved was the payment of routine bills before the meeting was adjourned.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON OWNERS, INC.

One of the major stumbling blocks in all efforts to improve farm income has long been the fact that the farmer gets only a small percentage of the consumer dollar spent for agricultural commodities. And this is no less true for cotton than for other products of mother earth.

According to The Farm Index, a publication of USDA's

Economic Research Service, only about 10 cents of each dollar that the consumer pays for finished cotton products goes to the producer of raw cotton fiber. The other 90 cents goes for processing and trading services between the cotton producer's gate and the consumer's shopping bag.

The big marketing margin for cotton includes the cost of taking seed cotton to gins, having it ginned and baled, warehousing, transportation to mills, manufacturing raw cotton into finished products, distributing the goods through wholesale channels, and retailing to the consumer.

Retailers take the biggest bite. The average retail share, as of 1967, was one-third, but the amount varies greatly from product to product. The retailer's share of a $5.00 shirt can amount to as much as $2.50. The farmer gets only about 25 cents.

Next to retailers, manufacturers of apparel and household goods take the largest slice of the market margin. They accounted for 29 percent of the consumer dollar in 1967.

The lights were bought by clubs and individual members at a discount price of $22 per light and the donor's name is placed on each light.

Thirty-two gaslights line the quarter-mile long road from the highway to the Girlstown Campus and intersperse the Honey Locust trees planted by Caprock District members in 1968. Around the circle are 15 lights, gifts of past presidents and life members. Past presidents who provided lights are Mrs. W.P. Averitt, Lamesa; Mrs. J.W. Walker, Plainview, also a state president; Mrs. H.F. Godcke, Lubbock; Mrs. A.T. Coeannogner, Lubbock; Mrs. A.E. Boyd, Plainview; Mrs. Bill W. ## Glamour Foods From Cottonseed

AUSTIN -- Some glamour foods that have been extracted from lowly cottonseed will be on the Texas Department of Agriculture's platters in the Food and Fiber Pavilion at the State Fair in October, Commissioner John C. White has revealed.

Mrs. Margaret Hardin of Texas Tech's home economics department will give demonstrations with the new foods during "Cotton Day," October 11 at the Fair. Those protein-filled foods will be served at the press luncheon in the all-new Food and Fiber Pavilion October 8, and for the general public, during "Cotton Day,"

The Maid of Cotton, Miss Marsha Shaver, a Texas Tech blond beauty, and Miss Cotton of Texas, who will be elected before the Fair opens, will also be attractions October 11. Research has brought forth the new foods from cottonseed, and probably also will result in a new high-protein drink that is under development, according to Jack Whetstone, executive vice president of the Texas Cottonseed Crushers Association.

A "glandless" cotton has been developed and about 15,000 acres of it were planted under contract for the cottonseed that has been used in preparation of the new foods.

Food shows featuring cottonseed foods will be given at 10 a.m., 2 and 6 p.m. October 11 in the Food and Fiber Pavilion. Other foods will be featured at the same hours other days during the Fair. ### The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discovers an offshoot of inflation this week. We hadn't thought about it. Dear editor:

I knew everything was going up, for example it used to be that one terrorist was worth say one hostage but now one is claimed to be worth around a hundred according to Arab mathematics, but it took a report by a bunch of economists to really underscore the notion. According to an article I read last night in a Sunday newspaper which would have cost me a quarter if I'd gotten it off a newsstand in town instead of a fence out here, these economists have figured that if the present rate of annual rise in the cost of living index continues for the next 30 years, by the year 2,000 a $3,500 car will cost $17,000, a $400 color TV will cost $2,800, a $20 bag of today's groceries will cost $114, and a $25,000 home will cost $147,000.

Now you understand that farmers have never been brought under the cost of living index, that is not completely, only half way -- they pay more for what they buy all right just like everybody else but they don't get more for what they sell (cattle prices on the hoof are a little less now than they were 15 years ago), so I have done a little figuring and find that while today for example it takes 11,666 dozen eggs to buy a $3,500 car, 30 years from now it will take 56,666 dozen, which will certainly be a strain on chicken farmers and I won't even mention the fright of their chickens.

Or take wheat farmers. If it'll take five times as many bushels of wheat to buy a car 30 years from now as it does today, what in the world are they going to do with all that wheat? I don't have the time or the head for it, but you figure up how many bales of cotton it'll take to buy a $147,000 house. It staggers the imagination and strains an adding machine.

I don't know anything about how to control inflation and if anybody else does he hasn't shown up, but at least somebody had better start raising the price us farmers get if they don't want the country swamped up to its neck in cotton, grain, fruits, vegetables, eggs and chickens. Fifty-six thousand dozen eggs for one car is a lot of eggs.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.
