Kitty's Korner

By Kitty Montgomery

Football has made its debut on television this season. I hope all you wives and mothers of boys made it a point to have all the conversation necessary until the season ends. If you didn't, forget it, they won't hear a word you say until the season is over. If they aren't watching it, they are thinking about it or hunting someone to bet with on the next game.

Jean Bower was here from Dallas a couple of weeks ago and brought me an item by humorist Cactus Pryor. It is entitled "Punt, Pass. and Paralyzed, " and tells of the trials and tribulations of a family headed up by a television foot-ball fanatic. It is "more truth than poetry" as the old saying goes, and it made me realize more than anything what my future holds until the last of January, 1972. Horrors!

However, the thought that I have plenty of company in my misery is some consolation.

Tom has already begun to hear nothing I say. During the pre-game warm-up Saturday night I commented on what a gorgeous hunk of man Don Meridith was. Tom said, and these are his own words, "Would you give up Don Meridith for me?" I said "Gosh no!" I thought I might get a rise out of him when he realized who he had transposed for whom, but he only smiled and glued his eyes to the set. You see, it was time for the kick-off. kk

Well, my column of week before last prompted "That Dern Fern," of the Iraan News to rip off her typewriter cover and rip off one of her rare columns (at least they have been rare all summer, I don't think I've seen a one). I do want her to know that she has Couch, in asking for the court's opinion, said that every member of the board had gained experience and were well A hospital district would levy aware of the rules and regulaand collect taxes for the opera- tions under which it is supposed to operate. He said the board felt that it had received much unwarranted criticism and that if the court felt the members were not doing their job as a hospital board and were going to continue with interference in hospital projects, the members wished to resign as a board.

Couch went over the rules which regulate the board and discussed the board's authority. He said the board no longer wanted to work long and hard on a project and at the last minute have its direction changed. He said the board wanted to do its job and relieve the court of hospital responsibilities but had been hindered in its duties at almost every turn. After a brief discussion, during which all four commissioners expressed approval for work done by the board, Judge Williams asked for a motion that the court give the hospital a vote of confidence. Commissioner Jack Williams made the motion and Commissioner Glenn Sutton seconded it. The vote was unanimous.

"I not only use the wrong hand and carry a step ladder, but I have to turn sideways to get in a door built for a tall skinny right-handed lady."

So, the next time you see a left-handed lady who is as broad as she is tall, run up and introduce yourself, she will be Ferne Gracey, editor of the Iraan News.

I think history has been made in Sonora. I read in the Devil's River News that the City had lowered the ad-valorum tax from $1.25 to $1.00 after voting a city sales tax in some months ago.

I knew that city sales tax proponents always dangled this plum in front of the voters, but I believe this is the first time it has actually come to pass. At least it is to my knowledge.

When out of town subscribto this paper come by, they never fail to comment on how much hometown news they get from their weekly issue of the Stockman, etc. On the other hand almost every week one or more of our "in town" readers comments on our lack of "news." This has always perplexed me, but I think I have solved the riddle.

The town is so small, that like most small towns, everybody has already heard the news before we can get it printed, some even know it before it happens. And, of course, if you already know it, it's no longer news. Our out of town subscribers don't have that "on the scene" knowledge, so when they read the paper, it's all news.

An interesting highlight of Local History Appreciation Week was the dedication of the Official Texas State Historical Marker for the town's first water well Friday night.

A brief history of water development in the city was given by Water Board Manager Bill Cooper. County Judge Troy Williams gave the dedicatory remarks and made the dedication.

The marker was a gift from the Water Development Board, Sherman Taylor, chariman. Mrs. Ira Carson told those gathered for the ceremony exactly where the well was located. A special guest was Mrs. Paul Perner (Elizabeth Odom) who was mentioned on the marker as one of the children who hauled water from the well in a toy wagon.

Judge Williams dedicated the marker to E. M. Powell, early town surveyor and public benefactor and to the pioneer settlers of Ozona.

The marker was unveiled by Mrs. Joe Clayton, Marker Committee chairman, and Mrs. L. B. Cox, committee member. Mrs. R. A. Harrell introduced the speakers.

A musical jamboree in the park, under the direction of Jamie Knox, concluded activities Friday night.

Spirit Of Lion Country Band To Organize Monday

The Ozona High School Band, Spirit of Lion Country, will meet Monday, Aug. 16, for organization and practice at 7 p.m. All students who are interested in band should be on hand at that time, according to Tommy Sanders, band director.

The first session will last until 9 p.m. The band will meet again the following day, Tuesday, Aug. 17, in a night session from 7 until 9.

Wednesday through Friday there will be two practices a day, 8 until 10 a.m. and 7 until 9 p.m. All practices will be held at the band hall.

Dramatic Rescue

College Station -- Two 1967 graduates of Texas A&M, both currently Air Force officers stationed at Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala., are credited with saving the life of a man involved in a boating accident.

Quick thinking by Capt. John H. Bonner of San Angelo and 1st Lt. Sammy W. Pearson of Calvert led to the the dramatic rescue on the Coosa River in Alabama.

The two long-time friends witnessed two men thrown from another boat and saw the boat hit one of the victims. Lt. Pearson drove his boat to give aid when the pair noticed the runaway boat was making a tight circle and was about to hit the second man. Pearson headed his boat between the runaway boat and the victim in the water. Capt. Bonner was pulling the second man into the boat when the runaway boat hit at an angle which permitted Pearson to jump aboard and stop the engine.

The first victim hit by the boat died and his body was recovered two days later, after Bonner and Pearson organized other boaters in a search of the area for him.

Capt. Bonner, a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harris of Ozona, is a Squadron Officer School student at Maxwell and has permanent assignment at Mather Air Force Base, Calif. Capt. Bonner often visited his grandparents in Ozona as a youngster. His mother was living with her parents here when Capt. Bonner was born in a San Angelo hospital. His father, John Bonner, Jr., was a fighter pilot and on active duty in the European war keep down weed growth, and conserve moisture. If you have no mulch, a shallow layer of loose, cultivated soil provides insulation between soil moisture, hot sun and drying winds. If you have a Gloxinia that has finished flowering, water should be withheld gr adually, and when all signs of growth have disappeared the pot may be set on its side in a frost proof place, and allowed to dry out completely. They should be potted in January in the usual soil, and when growth is well advanced one-half cup of liquid manure or other fertilizer should be given once a week. Good drainage is essential. The soil should be kept moist, but never wet. Plants should be in the light, but not in the sun. Leaves pulled in the summer will root in moist sand or water, and finally grow a bulb which will bloom the next year or may be grown from seed. -- 0--FOR SALE Well educated 8 years) two-door black 1957 Chevy, good shape. You'd probably love to have a car like this to fool around with. But suppose you had to drive it day in and day out?

We Americans are used to having the latest, and we don't like to live with what seems out-of-date to us. For that reason, a good many of us don't go to church. We tell ourselves that church was great for Grandma and Grandpa, or maybe even for Mom and Dad, but it has no place for us in this jet age.

If we believe this . . . then it is we who are out-of-date! The Church today is a modern institution in touch with the world around it. It helps us cope with the problems of modern life, teaching us to change with a changing world. Let's catch up with the times. Let's attend church.

Miss Janes, Mr. Loudamy Wed In Afternoon Rites

Miss Georganne Janes be-came the bride of Gary Louda-my in an afternoon ceremony Sunday, Aug. 8, in the Ozona Church of Christ. Performing the ceremony was Mr. Bill Morrison, minister.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Janes and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. (Bud) Loudamy.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white bridal satin covered with chiffon. The bodice was highlighted with a chiffon bib accented with seed pearls and short puffed sleeves. Lace, dotted with the pearls, encircled the empress waistline above an A-line skirt. Her waist-length veil was caught by a bandeau of imported satin loops and pearl-centered flowerlets. She carried a colonial bouquet of white rosebuds, orchids and baby's breath.

Mrs. Hugh Coates of Brackettville served her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Karen Loudamy, sister of the bridegroom and Janice Janes, sister of the bride.

The attendants wore formal gowns of peau de soie in hot pink fashioned with empress waistlines, circled with rosebuds and lace. They carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations.

Best man was Jeff Tabor of Artesia, N. M. Groomsmen were Bob Cass of Lubbock and Kirk Boyd. Ushers were David Huff and Donald Huff.

Jeffrey Boerner was ringbearer and Kelly Boerner was flower girl. Baskets of white glads and pink carnations flanked the altar and arrangements of the white and pink flowers centered the altar and bapistry. A reception followed the wedding in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was centered with a silver epergne filled with white carnations and the bridegroom' table held a silver bowl of red roses. The bride's bouquet centered the registry table.

The couple will be at home in Lubbock after a wedding trip to San Antonio and Corpus Christi. The bridegroom is a junior student at Lubbock Christian College. Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Ozona High School.

Houseparty members were Mrs. Letha Loudamy, Miss Beverly Loudamy, Mrs. A. E. Keeling and Miss Suzanne Keeling, both of Hobbs, N.M. Mrs. John Coates, Mrs. Bill

Watson, Misses Diana Burnham and Patti Burnham of Austin, Miss Raelene Burnham of San Saba, Miss Bonalyn Burnham and Miss Laura Burnham, both of Lubbock, Mrs. George Pasley of Big Spring, Mrs. Sam Beasley, Mrs. Ronald Pennington, Mrs. Dick Kirby, Mrs. Bob Falkner, Mrs. Oscar Sniffin, Mrs. Chester Wilson, Miss Joyce Tucker of Tipton, Okla., Miss Martha Simon of El Paso, Miss Grace Ann Tabb and Miss Suzy

METHODIST WSCS The Woman's Society of Christian Service met in the Parlor of the church Wednesday for a business meeting and program. Mrs. James Lively opened the meeting and the prayer was given by Rev. John Berkley, Mrs. A. S. Lock discussed the up-dating of the Methodist cookbook, asking for favorite recipes not only of members, but anyone in the community. Recipes must be in by Sept. 15 and may be mailed to anyone on the committee, Mrs. Lock, Mrs. R. A. Harrell, Mrs. Bill Cooper, Mrs. Bailey Post, Mrs. Stephen Perner or Mrs. L. D. Kirby. The books will be ready for Christmas giving and the proceeds will benefit the Ozona Community Center.

Mrs. Harrell, district president of the San Angelo District, announced the fall mission workshop will be held Sept. 12 in St. Luke's Methodist Church in San Angelo, and that the District Annual Meeting will be held Sept 16, at Trinity United Methodist in San Angelo.

The program was given by Mrs. Douglas Fisk, Mrs. John Berkley and Mrs. Harrell, who were the delegates to the annual school of missions this year held in July at Houston-Tillotson College in Austin. Dr. John King, president of this fine Negro college and his staff were very gracious hosts, the delegates reported. They also reported some interesting studies, Bible study on the Book of Matthew, New Generation in Africa, Technethics, and Future Shock, dealing with world poverty.

Following the program a covered dish luncheon was held in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Berkley. Present were Mrs. Lock, Mrs. Roy Killings-

Karen Sewell Becomes Bride Of David Huff

Karen Dee Sewell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Sewell, became the bride of David Earl Huff, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Huff, in an evening ceremony Saturday, August 7, at the Ozona First Baptist Church. Rev. Jim Hancock, pastor of Second Baptist Church in Odessa and former Ozona pastor, officiated.

The bride, given in mar-riage by her father, wore a formal gown of white Alencon lace and silk organza. The empire bodice featured a high ruffled collar and sheer lace sleeves. The skirt was organza over taffata. She carried a bouquet of yellow rosebuds.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Billy Spencer of Plains. Bridesmaids were Grace Ann Tabb, Jenni Womack, Christy Davidson and Kathy Sewell, sister of the bride.

The attendents wore yellow empire gowns featuring short puffed sleeves with daisy trim. They carried bouquets of yellow daisies.

Donald Huff served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Gary Loudamy, Kirk Boyd, Charles Dupree of Temple, and Charles Childress. Ushers were David Sewell. brother of the bride, Gerald Huff brother of the bridegroom, Will Collett, and Gregory Stuart.

Nuptial music was furnished by Mrs. L. B. Cox, III, at the organ.

Jim Brown, Former Ozonan, Waits 7 Years For Kidney Transplant

Jim Brown, former Ozonan and 1957 graduate of Ozona High School, was the subject of a feature story in the Iowa City Press-Citizen recently. Jim, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Brown, will be remembered by many Ozonans as an outstanding athlete and student. He is presently residing with Place, Coralville, Iowa, and is waiting for a kidney transplant. He has been waiting for a new kidney for seven years.

thority to run the Medical Building. Since the contract with Medica Diversified has been terminated, it is necessary that the board be in charge of the various medical offices, including rentals, maintenance, etc.

The board also reported to the court that it had been approached by a registered nurse, but wanted to wait until an administrator could be hired before taking action.

Board members present were Joe Couch, Mrs. Huey Ingram and Jim Peck. Absent were W. O. (Dub) Stokes and Frank McMullan, Jr.

In other business, the court received monthly reports from county department heads, approved payment of bills and attended to routine matters.

He is one of 41 patients in dialysis at Veterans Administration Hospital in Coralville. Jim Brown was preparing to be discharged from the Army in Germany in 1964 when he became ill. His illness was diagnosed as pneumonia and generally run-down condition. In the process of treatment, his mother at 712 Fouth Avenue his kidney malfunction was discovered. He began dialysis (a process of cleaning impurities from the blood, the normal function of the kidneys) May 8, 1964, at Brook Army Hospital in San Antonio. One of his doctors there was Dr. Richard Freeman, who is now on the Iowa City kidney unit.

In 1966 Brown was transferred to Iowa City Veterans Administration Hospital, one of the few hospitals accepting renal patients at that time.

His mother accompanied him, leaving his father, an area supervisor for a pipe line company, in Ozona. The father has since been transferred to Crane, but still maintains the family home on the east hill here. He visited his family in Iowa City in April of this year. Young Brown is now 32 and has seen a change in the entire system of dialysis. He now spends 14 or 15 hours in the hospital for each of his two weekly dialysis sessions.

He credits his mother's cooking with bringing him to his present level of health, which is much better than that of a iew years ago. Only a kidney transplant will eliminate the long hours of dialysis, and the Browns are hoping for a doner soon. The waiting has worked a hardship on the entire family.

State Disaster Relief Agents In Meet Here

The Crockett County Disaster Relief Committee met Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce with three state men who are specialists in defense and disaster relief.

Guests were R. F. Schnatterly, instructor in Civil Defense training, Texas A&M University; Richard K. Buckland, Regional Liaison Officer for the Division of Defense and Disaster Relief; and Lt. Joe Mlandeka, Department of Public Safety District Disaster Chairman.

Lawrence Janes, chairman of the local committee, said the meeting was very informative and the local group had profited a great deal by it, receiving plans and guidelines they had not had in previous meetings.

In a two-hour lecture by Schnatterly, the group learned how to use resources and coordinate facilities in case a tornado should wipe out half the town.

The working plans and guidelines give instructions for a minor disaster, involving as few as ten people, and well as for a major disaster, affecting as many as 1,000 persons.

It is up to the general committee to put local emergency plans together and the responsibility of each committee chairman to work out their individual plan, such as housing, transportation, communications, etc. All will be coordinated under the county government.
