Kitty's Korner

By Kitty Montgomery

Some new state laws went into effect Monday and Texans, you have lost another freedom, that of leaving your keys in the ignition of your car. If you have been leaving the keys in your car all this week, you have been committing a crime. A fine of from $100 to $200 can be imposed for this violation. There are several new laws which went into effect Monday, but the one mentioned will probably be the one most violated, around here at least.

We had all better get the habit of removing keys from the ignition. In case of car theft, it would be a shame to be forced to ante up a couple of hundred dollars fine while some thief was joy-riding in your auto.

I guess they make these laws to save us from ourselves, but sometimes it seems they bend over backwards to overdo it.

Football fever is in the air, and will be at a high pitch tonight at high school when the annual barbecue gets underway. A misprint in last week's Stockman said the fete would be held Sept. 12. Don't know where the 1 came from, must have been a gremlin, cause it plainly stated next Thursday, and that's today, Sept. 2. Or rather tonight at 7:30.

Incidentally, mothers may now attend the annual affair. We finally got that change into operation last year and I think there were more mothers and grandmothers there than fathers, etc. So male or female, if you are a Lion fan and want to attend the barbecue, ante up $2 for membership and make yourself at home tonight at the feast. If you haven't bought your ticket, you may do so at the dinner.

The boys were outstanding at the Fort Stockton scrimmage and according to eye-witness reports we probably have another winner this year, so let's all get behind them and shove them into another district championship.

By the way, I picked up a little household hint that's worth the money. I used it all weekend, so it's been thoroughly tried and tested.

A solution of plain old chlorine liquid bleach and hot water will clean mold and mildew off almost anything and remove the musty odor of too many damp days from closets and rooms.

After all the rain and using my evaporative cooler, I really had a problem. Even my books were beginning to get spots of mildew on them. I used 3/4 cup of bleach to 1 gallon of warm water and washed everything I could find with a sponge. This includes closets, walls, woodwork, leather goods, book covers and some upholstery. I even poured 1/2 cup of the bleach into the cooler and that helped too. It hardly takes anytime for the smell of the bleach to subside and then it's replaced with a fresh smell. Try it, I guarantee it. It does the job better than any expensive cleaning agent I have found.

Mr. Mayfield and Mr. West had a narrow escape last week when they were held at gunpoint all day long by a delinquent Mexican at the Mayfield ranch way down south, but I did get a laugh out of some of the high points in their story.

I had already heard about it when Ann Mayfield came in the office to buy a paper the next morning. She said as they were coming back to town around 3:00 a.m. Mr. Mayfield said "We've sure got to tell Kitty about this---sure wish she had been with us." I was really sorry I missed it the way things turned out, but I did manage to get the story and a picture of the victims. I asked them for a smile as I was about to click the shutter, since you seldom see them when they don't have a smile for you, but they informed me that under (Continued on last page)

THE MORNING AFTER THE DAY BEFORE - Ivy Mayfield and Oliver West look pretty well in spite of the 12-hour nightmare they endured the day before at the Mayfield ranch 65 miles south of Ozona on the Pecos River. The two men were held at gunpoint all day long by a Mexican National, who locked them in a walk-in refrigerator, kept them tied for six hours in a hot barn, took a shot at one of them, and left them tied up in the ranch house after dark as he made his get-away in the Mayfield pickup after putting the other vehicles out of commission.

Area Underground Water Supply Replenished By Recent Rains

Bill Cooper, manager of the Crockett County Water District, reported this week that the recent rains have brought the water level up in the wells which supply the city with water.

Cooper said when the level was first measured in 1943 in the wells on the east hill, the static level, surface to water, was 354 feet without pumps running. This year the static level was 363 feet, or a drop of 9 feet before the rains. A recent measurement shows the static level back up to 354. Heavy rains the latter part of July and first part of August replenished the underground water supply in all wells used to supply the city.

At present there are nine wells supplying Ozona with water. The first well, drilled in 1941 on the east hill hit the water cavity at 418 feet, the water rose 64 feet for a static level of 354 and has been more or less constant since then. The original well tested at 700 gallons per minute and this was the full capacity of the pump. Apparently the water channel runs underground from northeast to southwest, Cooper said. In 1947 or '48, the District made a location 75 feet due west of the number one well and production was only 5 gallons per minute. Another location was made 100 feet southeast and was a dry hole, bearing out the channel direction theory.

Out of five wells drilled three years ago north of Ozona, only two were good enough to improve and use for the local water supply.

Heavy pumping daily from the wells was a necessity before the rains. However, Cooper said the nine-foot drop in the static level occurred over a period of several years. Very little pumping has been necessary lately since the reservoirs are full and watering has not been necessary.

Directors of the District had been a little concerned at the nine-foot drop, but are now assured of several worry free years as far as the local water supply goes. Sherman Taylor is president of the board of directors; Lowell Littleton, vice president; W. E. Friend, sec.-treas.; Gene Williams and James Baggett, directors.

filled by Gary Mitchell and Gary Whitley, linebackers, and Mike Wellman at nose guard. Sewell said Saul Torres also turned in a good performance at nose guard also. Other boys who impressed the coach in scrimmage were Randy Crawford at left end and defensive halfback Ricky Webster who pulled in a Panther pass for the Lion's only interception of the night.

Coach Sewell said that Lion starters had not yet been assigned, but he was impressed with Ricky Crawford at center, who is doing a good job at a new position. Mike Jenkins, all-district tackle last year, has been moved to tight end and is looking good. Bill Edger-ton has been moved to a guard position in the offensive line.

Lions Show Up Well In First Scrimmage

Coach Rip Sewell, at home and apparently fully recovered from his recent surgery, had nothing but praise for his Ozona Lions after the Fort Stockton scrimmage Friday night.

Coach Sewell said the Fort Stockton team was a much improved ball club over those of past years, and afforded good competition for the Lions.

Sewell said he was especially pleased with the Lion defense. They held the Panthers scoreless on the forty plays while the Lions scored once on a pass play from David Sewell to Gerald Huff.

The major areas of loss on defense were two linebackers and a nose guard, all earning honors last year, David Pagan, Tom Davidson and Cuatro Davidson.

The vacancies have been

IT'S NOT SPANISH MOSS - It's an invasion of web worms, which has affected most of the trees in town, even those which were sprayed before the rains. The webs, which grow larger each day, are filled with small worms which eat the leaves and bark of trees. Most seriously affected are the town's pecan trees and sprayers are working overtime trying to rid the town of these pests.

Houston Woman Injured In One Car Accident

Elisa Huerta was transferred to a San Angelo hospital Saturday afternoon suffering from severe injuries received when the late model Ford Mustang she was driving or in which she was a passenger was wrecked 12 miles east of Ozona on Interstate 10. There was another woman in the vehicle, but she accompanied the injured woman in the ambulance and officers were unable to get the details. Both women were from Houston. The small car was apparently traveling at a high rate of speed when the driver lost control. It overturned three times, completely demolishing the vehicle.

Early Sunday morning Hector DeHoyos dozed at the wheel of a transport truck as he was driving toward Ozona on IS 10. The truck hit a sign coming off the Interstate and woke DeHoyos. He jerked the wheel and the truck skidded across the highway and overturned. DeHoyos suffered bruises and a scalp injury but was otherwise uninjured.

John Harris, DPS, was the investigating officer in both incidents.

Lions Booster Club Barbecue Supper Tonight

Lion Boosters will be admitted on membership tickets to the annual barbecue for coaches and players of Ozona High School tonight at the high school.

All Lion fans are invited to get acquainted with the boys and coaches and enjoy the annual outing on the high school lawn. Membership cards may be purchased before the dinner which is slated to begin at 7:30.

Price of membership is $2 and cards may also be purchased all day today at Maness Texaco, South Texas Lumber Co., Village Drug and The Trading Post. The membership card entitles the holder to attend all Lion Quarterback Club functions and the annual barbecue. The club, made up of local football boosters, will meet weekly to view the previous game film and get scouting reports about the team coming up.

McVean & Barlow Set Office Here On Pipeline Job

McVean & Barlow Construction Co. moved in to Ozona this week and set up offices in mobile trailers on county property just north of town on Hwy 163.

John Hogan is the office manager and Bill Reed is in charge of materials. Several families have moved in with the company.

Pipeline crews employed by the company will lay 40 miles of 36-inch line in the county. There will be two 20-mile loops laid, to begin near the Tom Mitchell ranch in the southwest part of the county and continue through the Buddy Phillips ranch to the south and on to Uvalde where it will tie into another large line going to the Texas Gulf Coast area.

The company officials estimate a 90-day job in Crockett County.

Rowan Drilling Co. moved a large drilling rig into the area Friday, according to Hubert Baker, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, and crews were being hired. The rig will use an eight-man crew each shift, W. W. Shepherd is the driller.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Carson, Jr., and daughter, Julie, returned recently from Alaska where he spent the summer working in the oilfield on the north slope. They are presently at home in Alpine where he is a student at Sul Ross.

Two Ozona Men Held Captive All Day On Ranch By Wetback

Ivy Mayfield and Oliver West had little knowledge of what the day had in store for them when they left Ozona with a load of salt last Wednesday and headed for the Mayfield ranch around 65 miles south of town on the Pecos River.

Upon arrival Mayfield discovered the front door of the house had been broken into and West walked around to the back to investigate.

This was the beginning of a 12-hour nightmare for the two men. As West walked to the back door, a young Mexican National jammed a loaded 30.30 rifle in his back, then to let him know he meant business discharged the gun, the bullet zinging past his ear. This brought Mayfield to the back of the house and with gun cocked, the teen-age Mexican forced the two men into a walk-in refrigerated box. The electricity was off and there was no ventilation in the airtight space. The inside latch had been removed and there was no way out. The two men beat on the door and cried out to the boy that they couldn't breathe. He finally opened the door and again with the gun loaded and cocked, herded them to the barn where he held the gun to West's head and forced him to tie Mayfield's hands behind

In telling about it later, Mr. West said "Of course, I tied him so he could get loose pretty easy." However, West wasn't so lucky. The boy chained him and locked it. The three remained in the barn for five or six hours as best the men could tell. The boy took their watches, a diamond ring from Mayfield, and the money from their wallets.

They managed to talk him out of taking their eyeglasses. They told him that the glasses were worthless to anyone except them and that nobody else could see out of them. He took West's glasses and tried them on and returned them with a "no buena."

After about six hours of looking down the barrel of the cocked gun, the men were exhausted, and began trying to talk the robber into going to the house for water and food. Surprisingly, he agreed and unshooked them for the walk to the house.

The men said they decided in the beginning not to provoke the young gunman in any way. They thought at first that he was high on some form of narcotic, but later decided that he was just plain "mean." Mr. West said the barrel of the gun looked like a "stove pipe," and the boy kept it cocked and pointed in their direction at all times.

However, the ordeal was not without humor. While the three were sitting at the kitchen table having lukewarm tea and cookies, the canned biscuits in the refrigerator began to pop, sounding like rifle fire. The boy was out of his chair in a flash looking for an ambush. It took some serious talking to convince him that the noise was just a lot of canned biscuits outgrowing their cans because of the excessive heat.

Shortly after that episode, the bandito repeated the process of having West tie Mayfield and then tying West himself. The men remained tied until the badman left around 9:00 p.m. During the time the boy regaled them with tales of what a bad hombre he was, and they certainly had no reason to disbelieve him as they sat tied under the barrel of the gun.

The boy left in a pickup, about nine o'clock as near as West and Mayfield could tell without watches or timepieces. They managed to escape their bonds shortly after, but without a telephone and with the other vehicles put out of commission by the youth before he left.

R. L. Flowers Killed In Ranch Accident

Funeral services for Richard L. Flowers, 68, were held Thursday afternoon at 5:30 p.m. from the Ozona Methodist Church with burial in Cedar Hill Cemetery under the direction of James Funeral Home. Rev. John Berkley conducted the service and Masonic graveside rites were held.

Mr. Flowers died around 12 noon Wednesday, Aug. 25, during surgery in Odessa Medical Center Hospital in Odessa. Mr. Flowers died from injuries suffered when he was thrown from a horse and trampled at his ranch five miles north of Ozona about 8 a.m. that morning. He was rushed to Crockett County Hospital and from there transferred to the Odessa facility to undergo surgery for massive head injuries. He never regained consciousness after the accident.

Mr. Flowers was a former Crockett County Commissioner and a ranchman. He had been a resident of Crockett County the past 60 years. He was an active member and past master of the Ozona Masonic Lodge No. 747. He had served as patron of the Ozona Order of the Eastern Star 30 terms. He was a 32nd Degree Mason and a Methodist.

He was born Jan. 13, 1903 in Lee County, Ark. He was married to Kathryn Baggett in Ozona August 12, 1930. She died in 1967.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Jack Brewer of Ozona and Mrs. John Harrell of San Angelo; a sister, Mrs. Walter Augustine of Ozona; his mother-in-law Mrs. Will Baggett of Ozona, and three grandchildren.

Egrets, Unusual Visitors To West Texas Dot Lakes

Ozonans and travelers on IS 10 between Ozona and Sonora have been amazed and fascinated by the huge flock of egrets feeding on the marshes left by the recent rains near the Taylor Box Road exit.

The enormous snow white birds are an uncommon sight in this country and one can only guess that they discovered the water in this part of the country purely by accident.

Many guesses have been made as to their origin and species, but a local authority declares they are the common egret or white plummed heron, normally found in coastal areas.

They have been called everything from sea gulls to storks and whooping cranes, but the fact remains that they are there, a large flock of them in fact, and they have remained for several days. It is a most unusual sight to see them on the water and roosting in the nearby mesquite trees.

A GRIM REMINDER that a three-day holiday weekend is coming up and the traffic fatality rate for Texas has been predicted at 52 persons. The two women, who were in the above auto when it went out of control and overturned three times on IS 10 twelve miles east of Ozona last Saturday are alive to tell about it, in spite of the mangled automobile. Others will not be so fortunate this weekend. If you can't avoid driving on the holiday weekend, do avoid exceeding the speed limit, drinking and driving, and pay close attention to the other driver.

WHO NEEDS RED CHINA IN U.N.?

Before we load the U.N. down with an intolerable burden, we ought at least to ask Peking's leaders whether they intend to abide by the U.N. Charter. We will be buying a pig in a poke if we accept another flagrant violator of the principles of the U.N., while turning our backs upon a respected law-abiding member, Nationalist China.

The United Nations already harbors a member that attacks other members by invading their territory and quartering large numbers of troops thereupon. There is another member that makes a business of training guerrillas and exporting revolts to other members of the U.N. throughout Latin America. Both of those members use the U.N. headquarters in New York for purposes inimical to the United States.

If for no other reason except our own protection, we ought to consider whether adding another totalitarian member will improve or finally wreck the organization and speed the world toward that final conflict which the Communists seek.

There is nothing in contemporary diplomacy that requires the United States to help put Red China into the U.N. If ever a veto were indicated, this is the time to consider one. It would be the first veto cast by the U.S. compared with 104 by the Russians. To further weaken and degrade the U.N. is unwise.

Red China is the outlaw among the community of nations. Among other reasons, it was so branded by the U.N. itself for invading South Korea.

Peking is asking that we disarm Free China, abandon South Vietnam, and keep Japan disarmed as the price of her friendship. If we do these traitorous deeds she will make other demands, such as disarming South Korea and abandoning the Philippines to the Communist dragon.

In conscience we cannot do any of these things. In place of her unjust demands, why do we not make some just demands of her? We should make her promise to stop supporting guerrilla activities in the U.S. and elsewhere, and give up her huge narcotics trade, for a start.

OVERKILL WITH BAD NEWS

A study by Dr. Jerome A. Motto of the University of California Medical School found a decline in suicide rates in cities hit by newspaper strikes. The Baltimore suicide rate dropped 22 percent below its peak of the previous five years. In Detroit's 268-day newspaper strike, it dropped 28 percent from its high of the previous four years. In Seattle, it dropped 43 percent, then shot up 47 percent in the two years after the strike ended.

Dr. Motto affirms: "Whether or not self-destructive behavior is precipitated at the time a newspaper is read, a much more insidious process may lead in this direction. By constant emphasis on violence, sexuality, power and notoriety, a value system is nurtured in receptive young readers that tends to inhibit emotional growth. The resulting immaturity increases vulnerability to various subsequent emotional disorders, which in turn increase one's potential for self-destructive behavior."

TV stirs emotions even more than newspapers. It needs crises for its viewers' attention. Furthermore, there are never apparent solutions for any crisis. Dr. David Viscott, a psychiatrist in the Boston area, concludes: "You get the feeling that you are no longer in control of your own fate. This leads to a feeling of complete helplessness and then to swallowed raged and suppressed tears."

If the media are genuinely interested in performing a public service, they will maintain a balance in their news reporting. Not all news need be bad news. The human condition is one of joy and sorrow, of good and evil. Balanced news reporting fosters balanced Americans, who both face problems and are confident that there are solutions for them.

LABOR DAY 1971

We are about to observe another three-day weekend. On the last one, Independence Day, 636 persons were killed on the highways. By comparison, during the same week, 29 U. S. soldiers were killed in battle in Vietnam.

The war is coming to an end, but there seems to be no end in sight for senseless highway slaughter.

Many lives could be saved if motorists took the simple precaution of being certain their automobiles were functioning properly before leaving home. Others could be saved by using the safety belts provided by all manufacturers. And still more could be saved if that "one for the road" was made from a recipe of three parts of caution mixed with one part of common sense.

If you are driving over the Labor Day weekend, we want you to have a pleasant holiday and to see you and your family back home safely. Drive defensively and, if in doubt about safety, don't drive.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

An unexplained mystery related to the current wage-price freeze has been the sudden turnabout by George Meany, president of AFL-CIO, who for the past two or three years has repeatedly demanded wage price controls to protect the nation's economy and slow down the galloping inflation. Yet, Meany became one of the first to condemn the President's announcement of the temporary freeze order.

A recent grant of $502,413 by OEO to the Crystal City school system has raised many queries by taxpayers. A number of people have written me about it, insisting that guidelines for the expenditure are fuzzy, that it obviously discriminates against other schools which are equally as well qualified. Others, well acquainted with the political situation at Crystal City, question the competence of local officials to spend this vast outpouring of tax money.

Among other things, the big donation is to be used as handouts for one hundred sophomore and junior level students. Fifty of them are to receive a gift and all one hundred of those chosen are to have at least twelve hundred dollars per year each for two years, to help pay their college expenses.

In addition, according to the announcement, the Crystal City district has been awarded a $162,000 federal grant for a bilingual program for the next year, and a $25,000 federal planning grant to write a proposal for staff development under the federal government's Urban-Renewal Program.

But that's not all. Some of this tax money is to pay the salary of an assistant superintendent, a curriculum writer, two counselors (one for students and one for their families), and five teachers who are supposed to be specialists in their field - as if all teachers are not specialists in their respective fields!

When this very questionable outlay was called to my attention, I called upon OEO to explain who one hundred students at Crystal City are entitled to $2400 for college scholarships, and why thousands of other equally qualified students are not entitled to the same treatment. I have not yet received a reply. Any such scholarships are completely out of order.

In addition, I am calling this bureaucratic use of tax mo-

'ZAPPING' FAP

Washington, D. C. -- President Nixon's proposal that his controversial Family Assistance Act be delayed a year is not simply a part of his anti-inflation drive. Washington observers say that the delay is recognition of the fact that the welfare expansion legislation has little chance in the Senate because of increasing comprehension of the injurious effects of the misnamed "welfare reform" plan.

The key element in the blocking of FAP has been the alternative legislation submitted by Sen. Carl Curtis (R-Neb). In a recent speech, Sen. Paul Fannin (R-Ariz) noted that "a rather remarkable groundswell is developing in behalf of the alternative welfare reform legislation introduced less than two months ago by the senator from Nebraska."

Another important figure who has shed light on the hurtful character of the Nixon-Mills welfare bill is Sen. Russell Long (D-La), who plays a decisive role in the Senate Finance Committee.

Powerful liberal newspapers in the Northeast continue to press for enactment of FAP. The Washington Post, for example, recently said in an editorial: "We support this bill... because we regard it as a first step to a more dignified national income support system financed and administered by the federal government. FAP would put a federal floor under welfare payments for the first time and would extend aid to the working poor."

For the same reason, opponents of welfare expansion are trying to "zap" FAP in the Senate. They believe that the legislation is wrong in principle, in that it embodies the guaranteed annual wage concept. They also hold that payments under FAP will be increased with every session of Congress, precisely as farm subsidies have mushroomed over the years.

While FAP has passed the House of Representatives, many members of that body are busy trying to educate the public on the evils of the legislation. U. S. Rep. Edward J. Derwinski of Illinois is one of the members of Congress taking a leading role in that educational effort.

In a recent speech in the House, Congressman Derwinski pointed out that FAP "by providing welfare assistance to an entirely new category of families where there is an employable or employed adult member, will nearly double the number of people eligible for welfare in the first year of operation."

The congressman further pointed out that "realistically a reduction in the caseload, even over the long run, is not likely to occur if H.R. 1 (the Family Assistance Plan) is enacted. First of all, by incorporating the 'guaranteed annual

Snakebite Ends Saga Of Trouble For Wetback Pair

A young Mexican and his wife spent sixteen days coming from Mexico to a pasture near Ozona, only to be returned after he suffered a rattlesnake bite and spent several days in Crockett County Hospital.

Edward Alvarez and his wife crossed the swollen Rio Grande River on a raft of Georgia Cane lashed together, but it wasn't easy. After making the raft and pushing it out into the river, Alvarez discovered that he could not guide it with the long pole he was using as the river was too deep. After drifting most of the day the raft came to rest on the other side far downstream.

The couple made their way across rain-swollen draws and streams until they arrived at the bank of the Pecos River. The normally lazy river was at flood stage. Alvarez swam the swollen stream, took a fence length of barbed wire and finding the narrowest place, secured the wire and swam back across. He then lashed the wire to that side of the river and guided by the wire swam back across with his wife clinging to his back. She couldn't swim.

They found a cave to hole up in and managed to dry out. Several days later they found themselves with a wide expanse of open field between them and the highway (Hwy 290 west), approximately 10 miles west of Ozona.

Thinking they might have to make a run for cover, the man told his wife to sit awhile and rest. As he sat on the damp ground, he felt something like a sticker in his hand. When he examined it, he found fang marks with heavy bleeding and discovered he had been bitten by a rattlesnake. He gave his knife to his wife and told her to make the cross cuts made to relieve snakebite. However, she was frightened and cut his hand severely. They saw the pumps at the Texas-New Mexico Station and made their way to them. Alvarez was on the point of collapse when they finally got help and was taken to the Crockett County Hospital here. After several days he was fully recovered and the "Chotas" (Border Patrol) they had been avoiding so long, returned them to their native Mexico.

Mrs. Margaret Box of Duncan, Okla., who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jess J. Marley, left Sunday to visit another daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Higgins, of Abilene. The Higgins were weekend guests of Mrs. Marley.

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club
By Mrs. Bailey Post

"O sweet September, thy first breeze bring, the dry leaf's rustle and the squirrel's laughter, the cool fresh air whence health and vigor spring and promise of exceeding joy hereafter." - George Arnold

September brings the beginning of fall and cooling weather. The pattern of our gardening efforts begin to change from one of maintenance chores to activities connected with planting and transplanting.

The propagation of numerous kinds of plants nearing maturity calls for staking, tying, disbudding, spraying and other routine work.

Rose beds should be thoroughly gone over in preparation for the fall bloom. Remove any diseased foliage, prune out any weak or dead wood, and apply fertilizer. Feed with two tablespoons of ammonium sulfate or equivalent around the base of each plant. Continue to spray or dust for black spot, mildew and insects. Keep well watered if no rain.

Dahlias and chrysanthemums should be fertilized lightly to promote growth and good flowers. Disbud both if needed. Mix one teaspoon of complete fertilizer per gallon of water. Apply one pint (2 cups) to each plant.

Minor blooming bulbs may be planted now, including anemones, baby gladioli, alliums, crocuses, narcissi, Dutch and Spanish iris, Freesia, grape hyacinths, lycoris, snowdrops, oxalis, scillas and ranunculus.

Tulips should be purchased early, placed in cold storage until December to insure results.

Chives and parsley potted from the garden or planted in pots and taken indoors will supply pickings in winter for salads, seasonings and garnishing.

MAKE-BELIEVE

This is make-believe... tying a bundle to a stick and pretending to set forth on a great journey. His lively little imagination glows. Maybe, right around that bend in the road, he'll run smack into a big brown bear...

That's a "scary" idea. So he takes off his hat, puts down his bundle, and plays at home. Yes... it's fun to make-believe.

Home, just now, is his place. In it, he feels a wonderful sense of security, basking in his parents' love, knowing by instinct that they are there to help and guide him.

At night when he kneels to say his prayers, his mother tells him the story of Christ. She is preparing him for the day when he will become a more active part of the Church. She knows that, during his life, when he makes real journeys, the Church will be his home, and that it will help protect and guide him when she cannot.

K-K-

Robbery-

(Continued from page one) they were all but helpless. Meanwhile when the men failed to return, their families became concerned. Mayfield's son, Bruce and his wife, Ann, decided to drive down to the ranch from their home here and arrived around midnight to find the two nursing rope burns and thanking the powers that be that they escaped a 30, 30 slug. The episode was reported to the DPS office here when they reached town and by 8:00 a. m. they had discovered that the young man, who had four different aliases, had crashed the pickup into a bridge and was in critical condition at a Ciudad Acuna hospital.

Mayfield, accompanied by Texas Ranger Alfred Allee, Jr., was in the Mexican border town Thursday to identify the boy in the hospital. While Mr. Mayfield was making identity, another ranchman came in to have a look at him, lending credence to his story, "that he did this all the time."

The pickup was damaged beyond repair and there was no sign of the watches, money or diamond ring. However, some stolen tools and a television set missing from the R. J. Everett ranch was found with the pickup. None of the stolen items were turned over by Mexican authorities, but Mayfield expects to have the several hundred dollars worth of tools returned in time.

A local border patrolman investigating the incident, said that this sort of thing had become more common in recent years. He said the "wets" no longer want to work for wages, that most of them prefer stealing, quite a turnaround from a few years ago when they would put in a full day's work for $2 and their room and board. He blamed the trend on Mexico's undisciplined younger generation, which is very similar to the young thugs in the States.

As for the Ozona duo who spent some 12 hours under the gun, they seem none the worse for the wear. When the staff photographer asked them to smile when taking their picture, they both refused, saying that a smile would not be appropriate under the circumstances.

Football-

Coach Sewell reported that all coaches were very pleased with all the players and that the boys came out of the scrimmage in good physical condition.

The Lions will have another scrimmage at Robert Lee tomorrow night before the season begins Sept. 10 in Junction.

Information On Price Freeze At ASC Office

All residents of Crockett County may obtain answers to questions on operation and interpretation of the Presidential order of Aug. 15 on prices, rents, wages and salaries from the Crockett County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Office, according to San Perner, Chairman of the County ASC Committee.

County ASCS offices throughout the United States have been chosen as information centers to answer questions from all citizens on President Nixon's Executive Order which is designed to stem inflation and strengthen the national economy.

The Crockett County ASCS Office is receiving official answers to questions concerning the President's action, and any person in Crockett County who wants or needs precise information should get in touch with the County Office, Mr. Perner said.

The Crockett County ASCS Office is located at 801 Ave. E. The mailing address is Box 929, Ozona, Texas 76943. The telephone number is 392-2203. In charge of the office is Clifford W. Elder, County Executive Director. Mrs. Ray O. Sproul is Program Assistant.

"Ours and all ASCS offices throughout the nation, will function as information centers in all locations outside of highly urbanized areas," Mr. Perner said.

County ASCS offices are not to handle complaints or appeals, he said. They will serve only to provide official information. Persons with complaints will register them with the most convenient district or sub-district office of the Internal Revenue Service.

"Neither will interpretations or guesses be made by ASCS county office people. They will answer only those questions for which they have been supplied answers. If they don't know the answer to a specific question, they will say so. If a member of the public wants the county office to obtain an answer, the question will go by phone or mail to the nearest IRS district office, Mr. Perner said.

Normal function of ASCS county offices is to administer farm action programs of the U. S. Department of Agriculture on the local level. County committee Chairman, Sam Perner said ASCS service to farmers will continue without interruption.

LOCAL GIRL RECEIVES DEGREE

She has moved to Poth, where she is employed in the school system. Esther is a graduate of Ozona High School.

CARD OF THANKS

So many of you have done so many nice things for us during our daughter's wedding and our stay in a Houston hospital that it would be impossible to really tell you how grateful we are. We could never have made it through such a trying time without your support and encouragement.
