Kitty's Korner

By Kitty Montgomery

Everytime I get something from a wholesale house and find it's been packed so badly half the stuff is broken or bent, or order a file cabinet and it looks like somebody dropped it on its top out of a ten-story window, I envy the old boy in this story.

One large wholesale house had a customer in a small town who received a shipment of goods and rejected it as unsatisfactory.

The wholesale concern prepared to institute suit for collection, and wrote the railroad agent at the village for information concerning financial condition of their customer; to the mayor of the city asking him to recommend a good lawyer to handle their case: and to the merchant himself. threatening suit if he did not make payment at once. Had a note from Lena Word, a transplanted Texan who lives in Colorado, this week. She said as she drove to town that morning she saw an Olds 98 parked in front of a grocery store with Colorado license plates and a bumper sticker which read "I'll Take Texas. Said she wished she had one.

I saw a clever bumper sticker on a new Ford at the post office the other day. It said "Upon making the 36th payment, this car will immediately self-destruct."

The Lions really put it on Sonora Friday night, and I think everybody in town is still excited about it. Year before last, I went through all the old papers and for 30 years, Sonora held a decided edge over the Lions, especially the past ten years or so. Perhaps the worm is going to turn in our favor for the next ten.

My other team, The Dallas Cowboys, played just about as bad as the Lions played well. Ozona Lions Smash Top Rated Sonora In Stunning 21-8 Upset The Ozona Lions waxed the ben Tambunga broke loose

Sonora Broncos 21-8 in their first out of town game last Friday night.

Although the Broncos were rated number 1 in state in Class A football polls, and were picked to win by most area sports writers, Ozona fans didn't see it that way and neither did the Lions.

It was the first defeat for the Sonora crew since the 1970 Lions beat the Broncos on their own home field, and to most Ozona fans the season can be counted a success regardless of what comes afterward.

The Lions were impressive even in the scoreless first quarter, and managed to rack up lots of yards against the Bronco defenders.

Exploding in the second quarter, the Lions got on the scoreboard for 14 points while holding Sonora scoreless. The second quarter saw the Lions move from their own 45 yard line in six plays to score. Ru-

The Lions dominated the ground game with running backs Tambunga, Gerald Huff and Sewell making impressive gains. The Lions rushed for 225 yards against the Broncos and Huff emerged as the leading ground gainer with 100 yards to his credit. He also caught the only Lion pass of of the night tossed from Sewell. The play was good for 44 yards and set up the final Lion score.

The Lions defense proved a powerhouse and was headed up by Gary Don Whitley, Gary Mitchell, Randy Crawford, George Gries, Freddy Vela and Tambunga. The Lions' offensive deserves a bit of the credit also, opening up the Sonora line for the big gain by the running backs. The Lions second score saw Sewell getting the honors from five yards out. The big play in the drive was a 31 yard run by Huff on a double reverse. Sewell hit the uprights with 40 seconds to go in the first half, and the Lions held a commanding 14-0 lead going into the dressing room. The third quarter was score less, but Sewell scored on a keeper from 30 yards out in the fourth and converted, to give the Lions a 21-0 lead. Sonora's only score of the night came in the middle of the fourth quarter when a 63 yard drive was capped with a one-yard sneak by quarterback Mark Rousselot. Hit toss to Mata in the end zone for two points was good and that accounted for Sonora's eight Potent linebacker Gary Mitchell was injured late in the second half and had to leave the field. This was also a contributing factor to the Sonora score. Mitchell suffered a knee injury and will be out for the next game or two.

DOOM PURVEYORS DEBUNKED

Since awareness of our surroundings became widespread in the 1960s, people have looked hopelessly forward to an overpopulated, polluted and starving world. While their concern is to be applauded, the threat to the the special session's bitterest earth is exaggerated.

The DDT furor is a good example. It was thought that banning this insecticide would purify the earth. DDT, however, was effective against insects that spread malaria and destroyed crops.

Now, with DDT spraying prohibited, people no longer have to fear chemical poisoning, just disease and starvation. A United Nations food report recently stated that this is happening in backward parts of the globe.

More people and less food is another concern. Food scarcity, too, is exaggerated. Millions of acres lie unused in Brazil, Ethiopia and elsewhere. The U.S. has to worry lity by intermediaries. AFLabout surpluses, not shortages.

Research has developed new strains of wheat that State Sen. Oscar Mauzy forgreatly increase yields. A century ago, it took 50 hours of work to produce one acre of corn. Today, mechanized farming can do it in two hours.

Pollution and population fears are likewise overstated. There has been no change in the atmosphere's oxygen content for a half-century. Some noxious gases, such as sulphur dioxide, have actually declined.

Charging that the United States will be overpopulated by the year 2000 is a little silly. If the present birth rate continues to decline, we will be underpopulated by the year 4000.

Today's doomsayers are rather like those who doubted Columbus, pessimists whose only joy is spreading their anxiety.

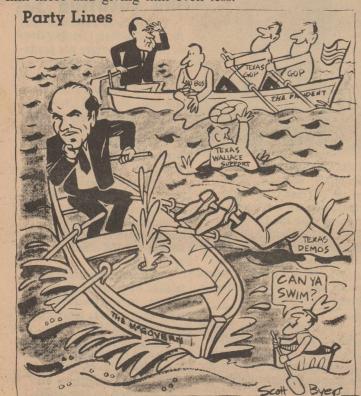

CULTURE AND THE COMMON MAN

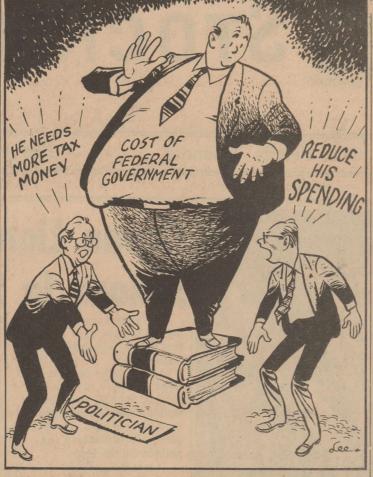

Surely no one would deny that Washington, D.C., our nation's capital and show place, should have a center for arts and culture. That was the thought behind the magnificent Kennedy Culture Center. The marbie structure rivals any in Europe. Patrons of the performing arts attend functions in elegant surroundings.

Almost a decade ago, a privately financed center was proposed. When private donations failed to yield enough money, the government took over. Reaction to the building's $50 million price tag was fairly mild. After all, we had to show off our civilization and make it available to the American public. But if the center continues present operations, hefty infusions of Federal funds will be necessary to prevent bankruptcy. And this was if the special legislative sesoriginally a voluntary project.

What have Americans gotten for their money? Well, the average working man can get a chateaubriand dinner for two at $20; caviar, roast wild boar or silk-covered matchbooks. French hamburgers are also on the menu; American ones are so unfashionable, you know.

Clearly, the Kennedy Culture Center is not designed for the people who paid for it. The center has soaked the taxpayer for huge amounts and given him little in return. With spending policies, the center is soaking him more and giving him even less.

Senate rejection of Secretary of State Bob Bullock to the State Insurance Board amid port facilities. infighting opened new speculation as to who may get the Sources close to Gov. Preston Smith appeared to be deliberately encouraging rumors that former U. S. Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough would be the Governor's next choice for the Insurance Board.

Yarborough himself said he had never been offered the post by the Governor or even felt out on his availabi-CIO President Roy Evans and mally urged Smith to designate Yarborough, and Mauzy predicted the former senator could get state senate confirmation where Bullock and Larry Teaver failed.

Would he take the job if offered? Said Yarborough: "That's entirely too 'iffy' a question."

Senators voted 19-11 (with one abstaining) for the Bullock tion votes can block any appointment.

Bullock promptly blamed Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and the insurance industry lobby for his defeat.

Smith chastised the Senate, charging the body "apparently will not permit a person who is committed to protection the the insurance consumer serve on the State Board of Insurance.

Bullock foes claimed the Governor had used some persuasive tactics of his own, dangling the prospect of submitting pet home district projects to the Legislature for senators who would support Bullock,

The Secretary of State said he now intends to remain in his present job through the Smith administration.

Session success doubted-some legislators are doubting sion really is going to come up with a competitive rating oill, the subject Smith called them to work on.

Senator Mauzy of Dallas, one of the bill sponsors in the Senate, says he doesn't think a competitive rate bill can be agreed on because of House opposition. Mauzy charged the House committee hearing the rate measure is lobby dominated.

Conflicting testimony was heard on advantages vs. disadvantages of free competition in rating during weeklong testimony by out-of-state experts.

At the end of the period, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes acknowledged:

"I have never been so much in the dark on legislation. People want to vote for a bill, but proponents have not done a good enough job convincing people competitive rates would be beneficial."

Agenda broadened-- a special session that started off confined to insurance and broadening the governor's fiscal powers has three times been expanded. Smith earlier submitted trailer-brake-light exemptions, school disannexation, exempting aviation schools from the proprietary school act, and reimbursement of medical schools for $13.5 million in funds "borrowed" to avert a 1970 welfare crisis.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

The heavy hand of Federal control over one's business operations is being felt as a result of a new law known as Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA), which went into effect 9n April of 1971.

Under this law every business, large and small, and every farm, must comply with a vast number of federally-imposed standards, including some that are utterly ridiculous. For example, an Atlanta firm was fined by an OSHA inspector for having ice in ice water. Another regulation requires split toilet seats rather than round toilet seats, two bath facilities in each business where men and women are employed, including the mom and pop establishments.

Stairways, electric connections, and practically every component of a building, must conform with a new standard imposed from Washington. Many small businesses have already been fined by inspector. In view of the hundreds of regulations that could apply, it would take a Philadelphia lawyer to determine whether one is in compliance.

Thousands of small businessmen are affected, all subject to penalties if an OSHA inspec tor should happen to drop in. In that event the government man becomes the investigator, the policeman, and the judge and fines can range into the thousands of dollars.

It happens that I was one of those who voted against the enactment of this law in 1970. Texas has its own safety and health laws, and they meet all reasonable safety standards. Last December I intorduced H. R. 12068, to amend OSHA by exempting all businesses with 25 or fewer employees and exempting all non-manufacturing firms--in those States which have safety and health

Recently we were able to obtain approval of a rider to ar. appropriation bill which denies any funds for inspections by

OSHA of small businesses with 25 or fewer workers. The Senate changed the figure to 15. Final action has not yet been taken.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club Mrs. Bailey Post

With October's cool nights and bright crisp days you know autumn has arrived. Too. with the soil still warm from summer you will find this the ideal time for gardening activities. Fall is the prime time for planting trees and shrubs, as well as for preparing the garden for winter.

To be ready for peony tuber: which will arrive soon, holes should be prepared in advance of planting time. When selecting the location, remember peonies are forever, are almost forever, as they may never need to be transplanted. Peonies need a well-drained soil with plenty of sun and a hole big enough to accomodate the large tubers. Dig holes 18 inches deep and at least that wide or wider, the bigger the hole the better. Clay subsoil should be discarded after saving the good top soil to mix with peat moss or compost and other good soil you may need. Should there be the least doubt about good drainage, add two inches of gravel in the bottom of the hole before adding several inches of a mixture made equally of top soil and compost (or peat moss), plus a large handful of 5-10-5 fertilizer. Cover this with two inches of fertilizer, free top soil, tramp it down hard and make a fat, firm cone of the soil in the middle of the hole to set the peony roots astride.

Set the clump (right side up) so that the uppermost pink bud is exactly two inches below the ground level. Peonies won't bloom if planted too deep, so measure carefully. Fill in around roots with top soil, working it among the brittle roots with your fingers until no air spaces are left. Firm carefully so not to break the buds off. When soil is up to the bud level, water well and let it sink in. If all top soil has been used, finish with a soil-peat moss mixture. Mound soil several inches above ground for protection against frost, leaving during the first winter. Keep watered during the winter, but not soaked enough to cause rot.

Compost recipe - There are many things suitable for compost such as leaves free of disease or insects, grass, tender hedge clippings, fruit peels, vegetable waste, certain kinds of weeds, cleanings from barnyards, hay and other materials. Let the green material wilt for several hours before putting in the heap. Either dig out a space in the ground two or more feet deep or make an enclosed structure of boards or corrugated metal sheets.

Begin by adding 4 to 6 inches of green wilted material, then 2 inches each of top soil and barnyard manure. either organic or chemical nitrogen should be used to decompose materials. Organic forms include barnyard manure and cotton seed meal. Chemi- 392-3120. 28-tfc cal forms of nitrogen include general garden fertilizers (5-10-5) or pure nitrogen is nitrate of soda. Water down well but do not pack down at any time. After 3 or 4 weeks, turn is almost full. Keep damp if over from bottom with a fork.
Repeat the layers until heap no rain. This should be ready to use next spring.

FOR SALE: Three bedroom two bath split-level house made from rice.

Sound weird? For Americans - yes ... but in the Orient and South Pacific, rice was once used to build homes. Today, Rice is still worn as a cosmetic, drunk as a wine or beer and treasured as a medicine in many Far East coun-

Most Americans would not buy a house built from rice (even if it were priced right and close to schools!) and are content just to eat it. Rice is served in a variety of ways and with varying amounts of "fixing" and "fooling." It's eaten at breakfast as a cereal or in hot bread; at lunch or supper in a soup, salad, main dish or dessert.

However, if you are planning on building a house with rice, this might be the month to start construction. The U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Marketing Service reports rice production this year is estimated at 85, 888, 000 hundredweight. This is the greatest volume in three years, and should result in attractive consumer prices this fall. Even though rice is listed on USDA's Plentiful Foods List for October, you still might want to notify your local grocer about your construction

I want to invite all interested persons to attend the 4-H Leader Training Sessions this month on October 9 and 16 from 1:00 - 3:00. Leaders will meet it the Ozona Com. munity Center to learn more about Teaching 4-H'ers. On October 16, Iris Kalich will conduct a special session for 7 th-12th grade 4-H'ers at the Ozona Community Center. She will be talking on "4-H'ers."

Un October 9, 7:00 p.m. at Ozona Community Center. I will be working with a class of young homemakers on child development. This month we're talking about "Feeding Kids", and all interested mothers are welcome.

THE ZINC IN YOUR DIET

To a nutritionist, zinc is truly a baffling element. While there is no doubt that small amounts of zinc are vital to tissue growth and repair, no one really knows for sure just how it works in our

It is also known that diets containing green leafy vegetables, fruit, whole grains, organ meats and lean meats generally supply enough zinc to meet most

There is, however, increasingly persuasive medical evidence linking depressed blood zinc levels with oral contraceptives. Recent tests indicate that women who use birth control pills develop a much greater need for zinc than women who do not use them. As a result of these findings, a special dietary supplement has been developed that not only contains 10 milligrams of zinc, but also all of the other vitamins and minerals women who use oral contraceptives are known to need each day. The new supplement is now available at drug counters everywhere.

If you are using birth control pills, should you also use a special vitamin and mineral supplement?

Maybe yes, and maybe no. Only your doctor knows for sure, so don't be reluctant about asking him. It could make the order to take roper care of wood surfaces on furniture, and we pass them along to you as a pubic service

Immediately remove any liquids spilled on surfaces and always use a blotting rather than a wiping action.

Pre-test cleaning and polishing methods on an inconspicuous part of the furniture before applying to nore exposed parts. Avoid exposing indoor furniture to strong sunlight. Some rubber and vinyl products stain or soften furniture finishes. A protective pad, or piece of felt, should be used between them and the furniture finish.

Lift objects to move them; never drag them across the the finished surface.

Avoid exposing wood surfaces to extreme heat or Avoid burning surfaces by using pads under hot dishes.

Although the finish itself may be highly burn resistant, the wood underneath the finish can be charred by a burning cigarette.

Use only polishes recommended for furniture. A selfpolishing floor wax, for instance, would soften the finish on furniture.

When dusting or waxing always work with the grain of the wood.

HOW CAN WE EVER THANK YOU

For Our 10 Years Of Good Business

Ten years ago this week we ran an ad in the Stockman introducing the Bill Watson family and announcing the opening of a new department store for Ozona. We expressed a commitment to supply Ozona with fine quality merchandise at a fair price for cash. In turn we ask for your patronage, suggestions, comments, but most of all your friendship because we wanted Ozona to be our Home.

You have done your part! We only hope we have done ours. You have caused our business to triple, our inventory selections to quadruple and made our stay here a rare delight. We hope we have the opportunity to be your friends and serve you for many more years.
