Kitty's Korner

By Kitty Montgomery

Important events took place on the national scene this week. President Nixon placed a ceiling on meat prices, Mohammed Ali's mouth was silenced by a broken jaw, and Jane Fonda called our returning POW's hypocrites and liars. Meanwhile, Congress dragged on with the Water-gate affair. The latter, although the least interesting, got most of the headlines and television coverage.

Immediately after the President announced the meat price ceiling, the national media began to call it a freeze. And everything I read thereafter took note of the "freeze" on meat prices. I almost panicked and thought I'd never be able to look another T-bone in the eye, until I became rational about the whole thing.

After all, I heard the President say "ceiling" with my own ears. He did not say one thing about a "freeze" on meat prices, and in case you are inclined to believe everything you hear and read, as most of us are, I will define the two. A "ceiling" on prices means "a top above which prices may not go, although there is no floor on how low the price may go." A freeze means exactly that, prices are literally frozen at their present level until a freeze is lifted, no up, no down.

So there really is a great deal of difference in a ceiling and a freeze. Had meat prices been frozen at last week's all time high, most of us would have had to save our nickles and dimes just to have hamburger once a week.

I've come to the firm conclusion on that things are never as bad as they sound, especially when they come from the television networks or over the Associated Press wire. After all, they are all based, programmed, and originate in New York City, and that small segment of the U. S. has an absolute monopoly on the news, all with a liberal slant.

We didn't hear much over the networks about Miss Fonda and her outlandish charges. I guess by now they are even embarrassed by her verbal atrocities. We can only hope she will fall into a commode and never be heard from again.

As for Mohammed Ali, it couldn't have happened to a more deserving fellow. You might even say it's "poetic justice."

The beautiful month of April has finally arrived upon the scene. However, two man-made things spoil the whole month, the tax filing deadline April 15, and daylight saving time the last Sunday in the month.

GIVING THEIR ALL in the high hurdle event at the San Angelo Relays Saturday are these two Lions caught in action by the camera. Center is David Sewell who finished second, but has consistently been a first-place winner in the event this year. At left is Rick Hunnicutt who finished sixth, but won the intermediate hurdles. Both boys added points for the Lions big win. They won their division with 164 points, keeping their record of winning every meet intact. They are in McCamey today for the District 7-AA meet, which they are also expected to win. Both the boys shown will qualify for the regional meet, along with a number of their teammates, and many of the Lions are expected to make it to state.

Oil & Gas Fields In County See Much Activity During Week

An unidentified discovery apparently has been assured in Crockett County with the flowing of 6.6 barrels of oil in an unreported time, plus gas at the rate of 340,000 cubic feet daily at North American Royalties, Inc., Midland, No. 1-66 Hoover, in 66 MM-T&StL, 21 miles southwest of Ozona, eight miles north of the JM (Ellenburger) field and five miles southwest of Canyon gas production in the Ozona multipay field. Flow was through a 3/4-inch choke and perforations at 10,370,465 feet, with tubing pressure of 10 pounds. Testing continued.

Amoco Production Co., Odessa, will drill an 8,850-foot wildcat in Crockett County, 25 miles south-southeast of Ozona, 3 1/2 miles southeast of dual production in the Joe T. (Strawn gas) and Baggett (Canyon gas) field, but separated by a depleted Strawn producer and 3 7/8 miles south of dual production in the DePaul (Strawn) and Canyon gas in the Davidson Ranch multipay field, but separated by 9,500-foot failures. It is the No. 1 Joe T. Davidson. Location is 1,520 feet from the south and 1,320 feet from the east lines of 17-TG-GC&SF, Abst. 3220.

Sixth producer was assured in the Miller (Ellenburger gas) field of Crockett County with the flowing of gas at the rate of 2.8 million cubic feet daily for an unreported time at Amoco Production Co., Houston, No. 1 Amoco Fee, in 6-0-W. E. Jones 25 miles south of Ozona. Flow was through a 21-64-inch choke and perforations at 11,197,363 feet, with tubing pressure was 1,150 pounds. Testing continued. Canyon sand gas production was extended 1/2 mile east in a south extension area of the Ozona multipay field of Crockett County with completion of Gulf Oil Corp. No. 1-E-V-1. Pierce, 19 miles south of Ozona, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 12 million cubic feet of dry gas per day. Production was through perforations at 5,883 feet to 6,375 feet, which had been acidized with 2,000 gallons and fractured with 60,000 gallons and 60,000 pounds of sand. Drilled to 6,500 feet, where 4 1/2 inch casing was set, it is plugged back to 6,438 feet. Location is 1,320 feet from the north and 1,544 feet from the west lines of 20-000-GC&SF.

Clean-Up Gets Underway Mon.

The annual spring clean-up gets underway Monday for Ozona. The clean-up will be held this year from April 9 through April 20, and Ozonans are urged to pitch in and clean up around their premises and vacant property. Collection crews will be crusing the town daily during weekdays picking up trash and discarded items. There is no need to call to have rubbish picked up and hauled away. Trash should be stacked near the curb or an alley in order that the trucks and men can get in and pick it up. The clean-up is sponsored by the Ozona Garden Club, and club members urge that residents take this opportunity to "Help Keep Ozona Beautiful."

County Bond Sales At 9%
According to Mr. Lowell Littleton, Chairman of the Crockett County Savings Bonds Committee, February sales of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds totaled $804 while sales for the two-month period were $2,620 for 9 percent of the 1973 sales goal. Sales for the first two months totaled $45,148,051 for 21 percent of the yearly sales goal of $216.6 million.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parker, left, have operated the shop 57 years, and Stella Ortiz, right, has been a shop employee for 22 of those years. The shop has remained in the same location as when it was purchased by the Parkers in 1916, and has seen very little change except for new equipment now and then.

March Leaves Over Inch Of Rain On Ozona

March went "out like a lion," as the old saying goes, but during the windy, gusty month a total of 1.63 inches of rain fell. The total was up considerably from previous years, and especially 1972 when zero rain fell during the month.

Several spring thunderstorms accounted for the rainfall, at least one with small hail, and all with high winds. However, there was no late freeze and no damaging hail.

The March rainfall brought the total rainfall for the year to 4.74 inches in Ozona, and apparently put an end to one of the most severe winters ever endured in the area.

Watergate & Politics

It's important for the average citizen to understand that the Watergate bugging sensation is being used, has been used, and will continue to be used as a political weapon. The Watergate buggers obviously and admittedly went too far when they invaded Democratic Party headquarters.

They have been caught, tried and jailed—which should be enough, normally speaking, to satisfy everyone. But because their deed might have been condoned or known about by superiors, perhaps in the White House, Democrats will continue to ferret out every juicy bit of the tale. Nor can the Washington Post and New York Times, which have long kept their staff people at work on this incident, digging into every possible angle; both newspapers, of course, have long been at war with the President.

Admitting someone, or some, in the White House might have known about this espionage operation, admitting it was going too far and admitting it was good the perpetrators were caught, tried, and punished, one need not necessarily conclude this is the most frightening thing to happen in America since 1492.

Congress will have much fun and make many headlines in battling the White House over who will testify. Certain newspapers will probably continue to dig in this area, which is as it should be. That is journalism and politics; but one wonders what would satisfy those who so exaggerate the incident. Would they be satisfied if five or ten employees were publicly hung in front of the White House?

Spanish Kicks

As the flood of Spanish-speaking Latins into the United States continues, from Cuba, Puerto Rico, illegally across the border in the southwest, and elsewhere, more and more complaints are being voiced by these citizens.

It is charged that the proportion of Spanish-speaking Americans in government jobs is low. There is a demand Spanish be used by teachers in the public schools. Now it's charged American courts do not have Spanish-speaking lawyers, judges and court officials!

All these charges may be true, at least partially. But this is an English-speaking nation and one of the traditional requirements of citizenship has been that immigrants learn the language of their new country.

That wise requirement, now sometimes ignored, was designed to prevent the very situation created in the past two decades by an influx of people seeking to avoid Americanization.

How can those who do not read English understand the Constitution, freedom of the press, of speech, of religion? How can they understand American history? The children of Spanish-speaking parents should attend English schools, just like all other Americans, and in this way the disadvantages of all newly-arrived immigrants can gradually be eliminated. No foreign group in history has ever entered any country and immediately enjoyed equal representation on the courts, in government, etc.—obviously an impossibility.

President Truman

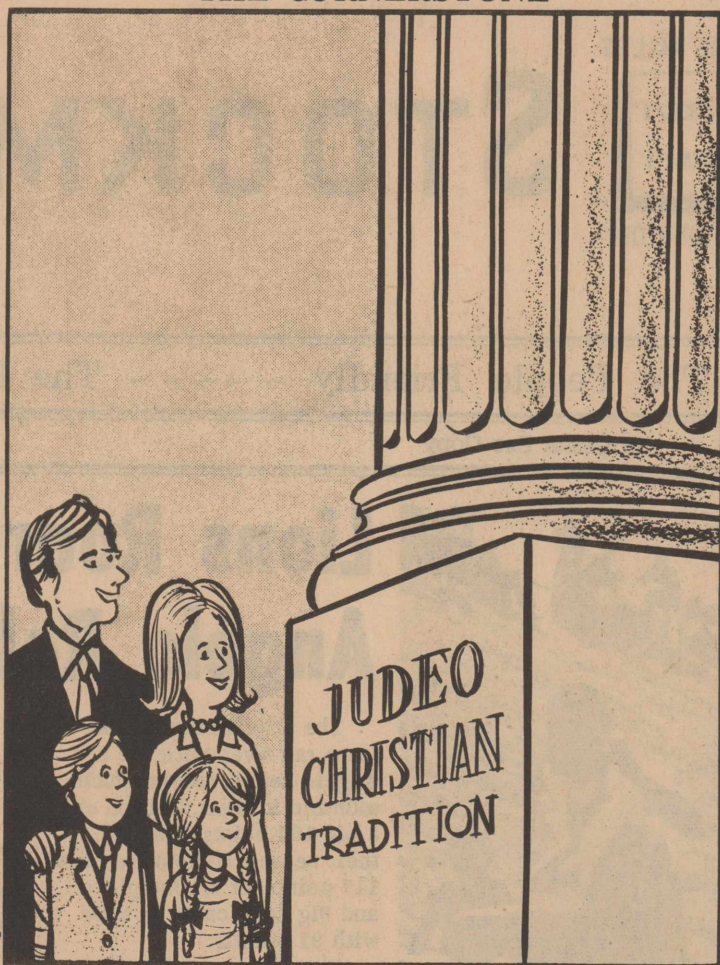

Bert Cochran, a well qualified writer, has written an interesting book on the Truman years as President, "Harry Truman and the Crisis Presidency." The author, after a careful and painstaking analysis, concluded that Truman was a man of limited ability, that his record was only mediocre.

He attempts to be fair and sympathizes with the man who failed in the clothing store business and who was run as the Democratic Senate candidate by a political boss seeking to prove he could make almost anyone a Senator.

In analyzing Truman's domestic failures, mistakes and accomplishments, and in examining his foreign affairs record, Cochran comes to the conclusion Truman's pet idea, that he had set a cold-war course that would win, was a miscalculation. He believes history will show, and is showing, that this cold war policy began a course which did not produce U.S. victory and which cost the nation dearly in many ways.

Cochran's study is a scholarly one and his book worthy of close study by all who wish to intelligently evaluate the immediate post-war history of the United States.

THE CORNERSTONE

REJUVENATION OF SPIRIT

Whether celebrating Passover on April 17, Easter on April 22, or just the fact that it's spring, it is appropriate for all citizens to honor the Judeo-Christian Tradition. Scholars say that this is the foundation of our secular American form of government, our freedoms, and our private business system.

Christianity followed the Jewish tradition of a well-integrated family life, a legal order, and ethical principles based on divine and brotherly love. "One nation under God" says the Pledge of Allegiance, and "endowed by their Creator..." says the Declaration of Independence.

So, whether celebrating the resurrection of Jesus or the sparing of the Hebrew first-born in ancient Egypt, we can all pray that we will be able to build on the wisdom and sacrifices of our ancestors to achieve a new era of prosperity and understanding. We can look forward eagerly and with great hope for future accomplishments to the rejuvenation of spirit which comes in this joyous season.

Washington News Letter

By

Congressman O. C. Fisher

Should food stamp violations be reported? Some people think they should, others disagree.

I recently received a letter from a San Antonio lady who reported: "... I spoke to one individual who quite openly admitted to receiving food stamps for some years and yet owned a 1972 Cadillac."

I reported this incident to Mr. Raymond M. Vowell, director of the State Department of Public Welfare in Austin, who replied: "... If the person or persons complaining to you will furnish names of individuals, I will be most happy to check them out."

Thinking this advice from Mr. Vowell might be of some public interest, in a recent Newsletter I stated that Mr. Vowell "would welcome the names/or auto license numbers of any food stamp users who drive expensive automobiles and would be happy to check them out on the question of eligibility."

For doing this I was taken to task in an editorial in the San Angelo Standard-Times, which stated: "Perhaps Rep. Fisher and Vowell could put their efforts to a better use than encouraging Texans to turn in their neighbors."

Frankly, I can't see why a citizen who reports a food stamp violation, or any other violation, should be criticized for doing so.

While they relate to different type offenses, our Government has a new program which is being widely publicized against drug offenders, called T. I. P. -- "Turn in Pushers!" And listing a telephone number to call.

The Food Stamp program is basically sound, but abuses are being widely reported. Legitimate recipients of stamps have a right to complain about this practice, and certainly every taxpayer has a right to complain--and report it if he has firm evidence of violations.

The Food Stamp program is now costing taxpayers $2.2 billion annually. It began in 1964 at a cost of $200 million a year. A typical eligible participant today pays $4.50 for stamps worth $10 in food.

A philosopher is a man giving other people advice about troubles he hasn't had.

The couple that hasn't seen tough days doesn't appreciate the value of a dollar.

Cahill's Veto

In the wake of charges and counter charges over press intimidation and press irresponsibility, veto of the Shield bill, which had passed the New Jersey legislature, is probably a sign of things to come.

Governor William Cahill vetoed the bill because it granted newsmen in New Jersey absolute immunity from courts, grand juries, investigating commissions and legislative committees. Newsmen were to be able to refuse to divulge sources and information, confidential and otherwise.

Cahill believes freedom of the press is vitally important but that other rights and freedoms also have to be considered, and that the American system must remain one of checks and balances.

Because a bill is being drafted in Congress to clarify the rights of newsmen, Cahill's veto of the Shield bill makes it likely federal legislation will be less absolute; the press, moreover, should not oppose reasonable exceptions to its general right to protect sources—for overriding public welfare considerations.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR:

Dear Mrs. Montgomery,
We still remember Ozona with a great deal of fondness.

Twice I saw Bryan on television and thought he did a good job. Since then we've looked for him in vain.

I'm still looking for a school system as good as the one piloted by Mr. Sikes and nursed and petted by the good people of Crockett County. I really don't believe one such exists.

On rare occasions I have been able to read the Stockman at the house of a friend and it's still the best weekly in Texas. You are doing a fine job.

I enclose my check for a year's subscription to the Stockman, and I look forward to receiving it.

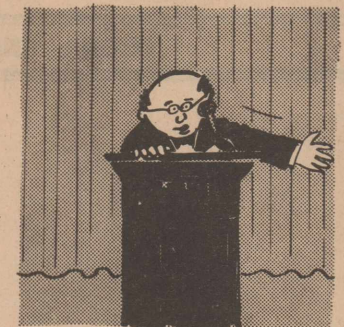

Very truly yours,

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Classroom Copycat

Scene: a college classroom. The professor is delivering a lecture on philosophy. Most of his listeners are paying only intermittent attention to his pearls of wisdom.

But one alert young man is zealously taking down every word. For he has a great idea. He will gather the lectures together, publish them in book form, and then sell them to students who are less energetic than he is.

Could the professor block the young man's project if he so desired? This question arose not long ago when a professor actually did go to court against a classroom copycat. He claimed that publication of the lectures would violate his "common law copyright."

The defendant retorted that the professor had lost the copyright by uttering his words in public, thereby making them "free for all."

But the court sided with the professor and granted him an injunction. The court pointed out that he had spoken not to the general public, for general use, but to a limited group for limited use.

Other courts have agreed that a professor does not lose his common law copyright merely by delivering lectures to his students. By the same token, a minister probably retains rights in his sermons after delivering them to his congregation.

However, a copyright generally protects only the mode of expression, not the information itself. For example:

A professor of medicine complained in court that a new book contained certain details about surgery that he had described in his lectures.

But it turned out that the book did not use the professor's language at all—and used his data only in combination with material taken from other sources.

The court decided that the professor had no grounds for complaint. The court said he could not, simply by stating facts out loud, gain a monopoly on those facts for himself.

A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. Written by Will Bernard.

Most denunciations are motivated by ignorance.

Few human beings like listening as well as talking.

An annual problem for the average rifle hunter is that of sighting in his gun. It's an essential art that must be done before the season actually starts if hunting is to be successful.

Most men feel they are just too busy to take an extra hour off and go to the rifle range to fire a few rounds.

It is fortunate for them that most guns hold their zero pretty well from one year to the next. And also that ammunition has become so nearly perfect that the bullet impact usually is retained.

But this good luck factor doesn't happen all the time. Neither does it happen for the man who just borrows a friend's gun and spends a couple hundred dollars for a lease and incidentals, only to miss the biggest buck he's ever seen. (That's always the case when you miss a buck. It's never a little one.)

True it is more difficult today to find a place for sighting in rifles than at any other time in history. You just can't go out and find an old gravel pit or crawl over a farmer's fence. But fortunately, there are enough shooting ranges where you can sight in the big bore for a dollar or two. If your gun is in proper form, two or three shots will do it. But if your scope has gotten knocked out of position, then you may shoot up a half-box of ammo before correcting the aim. But what is that compared to what you pay for a place to hunt?

Today's guns, especially those with scopes, are extremely accurate. They just need to be sighted in.

There's a good rule of thumb for sighting in a high-powered rifle. In fact, it works on all rifles.

If it's a .22 long-rifle hi-speed, zero it in at 25 yards. It will hit 1/2 inch high at 50 yards, but drops 4 inches low at 100. At 150 yards it is 16 inches low.

Now move up to the 222 Remington Magnum or the 223 Rem—lightest caliber that should be used on Texas' white tailed deer. This cartridge shoots 1/4 inch low at 25 yards. At 50 it is 1/2 inch high. At 100 yards it is 1 1/2 inches high and the same at 200 yards.

The popular .243 will zero at 25; it is 3/4 inch high at 50; 2 inches high at 100 and drops to 1/2 inch high at 200.

That popular .308 Winchester zeroes at 25; is 1 inch up to 50 and back to 1/2 inch at 200.
The old .30-30 zeroes in 1/4 inch low at 25; 1 1/4 inches high at 50 and 2 inches high at 150, but drops to 2 1/2 inches low at 200.

These are just a few figures to indicate what you can expect of your gun, if you hold it right and it shoots a consistent grouping. Lots of guns today still group shot after shot in the X ring, if held right.

This is one thing that adds up to more successful hunts, more kills and fewer cripples. With a good scope and any of the popular calibers, it is almost impossible to not make a killing shot on a deer up to 200 yards. Impact will be within an inch or two of where you aim, if you aim right and don't jerk it off by pulling rather than squeezing the trigger.

So, if you want to be sure, take the old smoke-piece out to the range and test it with a few shots. It will pay off by better shooting in the field.

Cheese, Peanut Butter Good Protein Source

Cheese and peanut butter making inroads on dinner table "welcome" mats have something going for them.

"First class protein" describes them, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University.

She suggested them as "excellent meat alternates," as well as eggs, tuna and dry beans, during the weeks ahead.

"With food dollars stretched to the limit, it's certainly well worth the time and effort involved to become a good shopper," the specialist added.

"For an economy class main dish, serve a macaroni and cheese casserole, or serve apples and cheese for an easy, nutritious dessert.

"Cottage cheese, a relatively inexpensive protein food, served in one-half cup portions, contains only 120 calories with about the same amount of protein as three eggs or three ounces of meat.

"Peanut butter sandwiches, popular with most kids, served with a glass of milk, provides a goodly amount of protein, too."

Turning to vegetables, Mrs. Clyatt cited carrots an "excellent selection because of the extra plentiful supply on farms in South Texas resulting in attractive prices."

Other vegetable choices include cabbage, potatoes, turnips, beets, cooking greens, rutabagas and broccoli. "Fruit counters boast first-of-the-season strawberries, usually luxury-priced, but looking very appetizing. Economical choices include bananas, pineapples, tangerines, grapefruit, oranges, apples and avocados."

In spite of increased prices, poultry remains one of the better protein buys, the specialist reflected. "Turkey and turkey parts are featured at some markets, and this meat can be used many ways."

Beef values in general will appear on chuch roasts and steaks, ground beef, round steaks, and beef and calf liver. Pork values are found on quarter loin sliced, shoulder roasts and steaks, smoked hams and picnics.

"Communism is like a disease; people get it not because they are attracted to it, but because they fail to protect themselves against it." Tony W. Beebe, The Spencerville (Ohio) Journal-News.

Surplus Property Auction Held Sat.

No bad luck is anticipated at the State of Texas' 13th Surplus Property Auction which is scheduled for April 7 at the Austin City Coliseum, Homer A. Foerster, Executive Director, Texas State Board of Control, announced. More than 160 vehicles are included in this sale.

Inspection of all surplus property offered by eleven State agencies will begin at 7:30 A.M., April 7, in the Coliseum. The Nelson International Company will act as auctioneers for the State of Texas and the first item will be sold at 9:00 A.M.

Good buys in this lucky 13th Auction include typewriters, adding machines, 40-drawer file cases, portable photocopiers, chairs, bookcases, microfilm reader printers, photograph print washing basins, a battery charger, radio equipment and surveying instruments, Foerster reported.

More than 1,000 persons attended the November Auction is sponsored by the Purchasing Division of the Texas State Board of Control.

Terms of the auction are cash on the day of the sale. Foerster reminded prospective bidders that merchandise must be removed the day of the sale because space and special protection in the Austin City Coliseum is not available on the following day.

Surplus Property Auctions are now approaching the million and a half dollar mark, the Executive Director pointed out. After the money has been collected each agency pays its share of auction expenses and then the money is available to purchase departmental needs.

Persons attending the auction may estimate approximately one minute for each numbered item to be sold, according to auctioneer officials.

TV COMMENTARY

IT HAS BEEN reported that your friendly TV weatherman in the larger cities earns from $17,500 to $100,000 a year, depending on his popularity and exposures.

THE NETWORKS are readying the new fall Saturday morning kiddie fare and seem to be relying almost solely on the cartoon. Many of these will be based on adult action dramas. From here it appears that children's shows may be headed downhill.

CABLE PAY-TV could in a few years become an important part of home entertainment. By FCC order, nothing can go on cable pay-TV until it has been off free broadcast TV for two years. It follows then that pro-football, baseball, basketball, etc., would have to forfeit two years of free TV income before they could capitalize on pay-TV revenue.

THE AMERICAN BASKETBALL ASSOCIATION'S play-off games will be telecast on Saturday afternoons from March 31 to May 12. The Masters Golf Tournament will be aired on April 7 and 8.

LORNE GREENE will star in ABC's "Griff," a TV movie and fall series. He'll play a private detective in the show. Meantime, Michael Landon, who left the ranch for London, has disclosed he has a deal in the making with NBC. He'll make a pair of movies, one of which may become a series.

Record Number of Traffic Deaths On State Hiways Local Draft Board Is Affected In ReShuffle

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today that a record 3,688 persons died last year in 3,099 fatal traffic crashes on the streets and highways of Texas. Another 128,158 persons were injured in 83,607 injury accidents.

Rural areas led in traffic deaths, but city crashes produced the greatest number of reported injuries.

Of the deaths, 1,409 were in cities and 2,279 in rural areas. Some 94,855 of the injuries were in city accidents and 33,303 were in rural crashes.

Overall, a total of 432,998 traffic accidents were reported last year in the state. Reported accidents increased 10 percent from the 394,166 occurring in 1971.

The total economic loss to Texans from traffic accidents during 1972 was $1-billion, 35-million. ($1,035,000,000).

Speir observed that almost 76.7-billion vehicle miles were driven in Texas last year—an eight percent increase from 1971.

On a positive note, the DPS director pointed out that due to the fact vehicle miles increased faster than fatalities, the traffic death rate per 100-million vehicle miles decreased from 5.1 in 1971 to 4.8 in 1972.

Speir observed that a death rate as low as 4.8 has been achieved in Texas only one other time (in 1961) since the DPS began making such calculations in 1937.

As recently as 1966, the Texas traffic death rate was 6.2. For point of comparison, it was 14.6 in 1937.

Looking at some of the 1972 traffic statistics, there were eight fatal accidents last year in which six or more died for a total of 57 deaths. In one of these accidents 10 were killed and another resulted in nine fatalities.

For the second year in a row, July had the most traffic deaths—404. This is the first time Texas has ever had 400 or more persons killed in one month.

September 20 was the only day of the year on which no traffic deaths were recorded.

HEART MEMORIALS

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Perner in memory of Sherman Taylor and Mrs. U. S. (Busty) Smith.
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Couch in memory of Sherman Taylor and Vic Montgomery.
Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Perner in memory of Sherman Taylor.

The reorganization of the Selective Service System announced by Colonel Melvin N. Glantz, State Director of Selective Service for Texas, will have an effect on the local draft boards in West Texas.

The number of local board offices in Texas will be reduced from 107 to 63 by the end of 1973. In West Texas there will be 10 offices where previously there were 16. Prior to the present reorganization, the local board in Eastland was moved to Abilene and the local board in Van Horn was moved to Pecos. Under the present reorganization, the local board moves in West Texas will be Jayton to Sweetwater, Lamesa to Big Spring, McCamey to Midland, and the boards in Brady and Sonora to San Angelo. Selective Service System Area Offices in West Texas will be located in El Paso, Alpine, Pecos, Del Rio, Odessa, Midland, Big Spring, San Angelo, Sweetwater and Abilene. All of the moves will be completed by the end of the year.

The local draft boards in West Texas will continue to function as they have previously with each serving the same counties. Under the standby draft situation, local boards will probably meet quarterly rather than monthly. Board meetings will continue to be conducted in the same town where the board has previously met. On occasion, the board members may be called to special meetings at the office sites.

Announcing the reorganization throughout Texas, Colonel Glantz stressed that the local boards themselves will not move, only the employees and records.

There will be a reduction in force of Selective Service employees throughout Texas from the present 342 employees to 193 full time and 27 part time employees. The reduction in force will affect the area offices in West Texas whether or not a move is part of the reorganization.

Colonel Glantz reminded the young men of Texas of their obligation under Federal law to register with Selective Service within 30 days before or 30 days after their eighteenth birthday and any young man who is late in registering is urged to do so immediately to avoid the penalty of Federal law for failure to register. Selective Service maintains registrars in each county in West Texas allowing young men to register without having to go to one of the local board offices.

Any questions about Selective Service requirements should be directed to one of the employees at a local board office.

Colonel Glantz told newsmen that there are no plans to draft any young men this year. Glantz noted that the Selective Service would continue to function in a standby basis with fewer people working in fewer offices throughout the entire nation. The agency is being kept "alive" in a standby status to meet any national emergency that may require a military mobilization. If the all-volunteer military concept being attempted by President Nixon does not maintain the necessary strength set by Congress, the Selective Service System may again be required to begin drafting young men.

District Track Meet Today In McCamey

The Lions go to McCamey today for the District 7-AA track meet. They will be defending their title for the third year straight.

The Ozona schools will be entered in three divisions, junior high, junior varsity, and high school.

With the exception of Tim Evans, who has a sore leg, the Lions are in good shape and will be heavy favorites to win the meet again this year.

The Lions have won every meet they have entered this season.

The District meet will start at 9:30 for the prelims and 1:30 for the finals.

Tips For Gardeners

Now that March is gone, we hope the winds are too, and that April will bring refreshing showers to help green up the country side and our yards.

I believe the flowering fruit trees and the rebuds have been lovelier than in several seasons. Now, if we can miss a freeze before Easter, maybe there will be a bountiful fruit harvest over the area.

Last week I forgot to mention that the many dead looking oleanders should be pruned back to near the ground and watered well.

If it doesn't rain soon all shrubs should be watered deeply. The high, dry winds have left the soil with very little moisture from our winter rains.

Check your broadleaf evergreens for freeze damage. They may have dropped their leaves, but the full extent of damage will not show until new growth begins.

Now is the best time to remove suckers that often grow on trees, shrubs and roses. They should be removed as soon as they are noticed, for they can weaken a plant in a short time.

If you have a good place where climbers are needed to shade, or to add a decorative touch, try the Carolina jessamine, roses, wisteria, clematis or bougainvillea.

Even though we are having warm days, the nights have been cool, so the ground is still not warm enough for seed to germinate well, or put out tender annuals.

When going to a nursery to buy plants, get full information on their growth, size, soil requirements, and if hardy for this area.

Embroidery And Lace Hilight Spring Fashions

Embroidery and lace promise to soften spring fashions--for women and men.

"Fashions going dressy will rely on embroidery, very much a part of the spring scene," Marilyn Brown maintained.

The consumer education-clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, said several reasons account for its revival.

"Increased popularity of at-home clothes for lounging and entertaining caused a demand for special trims to add elegance and dressy appearances. Embroideries and lace answered this need.

"Increased home sewing is another reason. "People are always on the lookout for something different. Embroidery is just that--exciting and colorful, with dimension and surface appeal."

Miss Brown noted that "big embroidery comebacks" include eyelets, lace, embroidered emblems and appliques. "Embroidery will appear on checks, plaids, solids and patterned fabrics. Colors will be clean, clear and crisp.

"Sportswear, including men's sports shirts, and women's dresser garments will feature it," she added.

Handle and store ground beef carefully to insure best cooking--and eating--results. Select ground beef--and all meat--just before checking out at the grocery store.

Ground beef stores well--either frozen or simply refrigerated. If it will be used within a day or so, ground beef can be safely refrigerated by wrapping it loosely--allowing air circulation around it. To freeze, wrap tightly in moisture-resistant material--such as heavy-duty aluminum foil or freezer paper. Frozen ground beef keeps for two to three months with little quality loss. To thaw, simply place package in refrigerator. If faster thawing is desired, put in a watertight wrapper and place in cold water. Both methods minimize bacteria growth.

When preparing a ground beef dish, mix it as little as possible. First blend seasonings and binding agents--such as eggs, evaporated milk and bread crumbs--in a mixing bowl. Then crumble in ground beef. Toss together lightly for a well-seasoned, tender food.

... to see the Truth Microscope advertisement with text: 'Heather here in Scotland is so common it grows everywhere. Why do you wish to study it?' I asked a botanist. He then suggested taking a single flower from the cluster and looking at it through his microscope. I was amazed at the delicate shading and breath-taking design of an individual bloom. I almost wished he hadn't shown it to me. I trample on thousands of them every day. The beauty and blessings of life are enhanced by observing God's creation through the lens of Truth. Consider the Church as a spiritual microscope. It helps you see the worth of single souls. It encourages you to call no man common or trample his capacities under the foot of indifference. It helps you discover and appreciate all the wonders of God's marvelous creation.'

Rural Economic Picture For State Good

A look at last year's balance sheets would generally indicate that the economic picture is improving for Texas farmers and ranchers, believes Tom Prater, economist in management for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.
"When looking at the overall equity of Texas farmers and ranchers, their general financial positions are excellent. Deposits and savings have remained about the same in recent years although there have been some increases in investments," notes the Texas A&M University economist.

Assets of farmers and ranchers continued to climb. From 1970 to the present, total farm and ranch assets increased from $28.8 billion to $32.8 billion. About 85 percent of these assets are equity, which means that farmers and ranchers owe about 15 percent for various types of debts.

"One important factor with regard to overall assets is that land values continued to increase," Prater points out.

"Farm and ranch land increased in value 10 percent from March 1, 1971 to March 1, 1972. So, land holdings are providing a definite boost to the total financial situation of many farmers and ranchers include higher values for livestock, poultry and machinery.

"Even though the financial positions of Texas farmers and ranchers is improving, they still need to keep close tabs on the balance sheet. Record keeping and analysis plus a cash flow sheet of expenses and income are key management tools for a sound farm and ranch operation," contends Prater.
