Tuberculosis Tests To Be Given Friday

With Bailey County selected as the site for a concentrated tuberculin skin testing survey, the tests will be administered (without cost) tomorrow (Friday) between the hours of 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. at West Plains Memorial Hospital.

All residents of Bailey County will be eligible to receive the free Mantoux skin test at the Hospital according to the TB Control Division of the State Department of Health, in cooperation with West Texas Area, Texas Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association.

Bailey County is the first county in the West Texas area of TTRDA to have this community skin testing program, and the TTRDA officials said they hope for a major turnout for the free tests.

Drama Students Will Present

Year Highlights

Muleshoe High School's Drama Department, under direction of Kerry Moore, will present "Dramatics in Revue" Friday, May 7, in the Muleshoe High School auditorium from 7:30-9:30 p.m. Admission will be 75 cents and tickets will be available at the door.

The 'Revue' will be an overview of the 1970-71 drama season, said Moore. The program will begin with the 'Adolescent Scene' from 'Wayward Saints' presented by Joe Duke and Greta Bamert. This scene won the West Texas State University Drama Tournament in March. Connie Pruitt and Jennifer Davis will present a scene from "Mary, Queen of Scots;" Christy Ford and Donna Woodard a scene from "My Friend Irma;" Linda Mason and Renee Caldwell portray a scene from "Anastasia;" and Fred Locker and Alan Payne present "The Black Box."

The last presentation on the agenda will be the Greek tragedy, "Medea."

Moore said everyone is invited to come to the auditorium and be entertained by some of the finest scenes from plays to be presented in West Texas this year.

Sheriff Warns Of Counterfeit Money

Because of a flood of bogus twenty dollar bills in Littlefield late last week, Bailey County Sheriff Dee Clements issued an SOS call to local merchants Monday morning, warning them to watch locally for such counterfeit bills.

Sheriff Clements said Monday that to his knowledge, no counterfeit $20 bills have been found in Muleshoe, but issued a word of caution to local merchants to watch carefully for the bills. He added that by putting the SOS call out, all merchants will be warned to watch for the phony money.

Muleshoe has devised a unique system in which each merchant is responsible for calling other merchants in a 'fast' system to warn of forgers, shoplifters and other possible violators. The system has worked well and Sheriff Clements said the warnings were beginning.

Included are a description of the bogus bills, including the two serial numbers used by the counterfeiters. The serial numbers which have turned up include K 13165560 A and K 13165562 A. They are Series 1969, and had the seal of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

It was reported that the word "TWENTY" across the seal on the front of all the bills was a little shaky, and the green on the backs of some of the bills was a little light in color, but the counterfeit notes with good color were considered good and extremely hard to spot by bankers.

A Littlefield banker said efforts had been made to reproduce the red and blue threads found in the high quality paper used by the Federal Reserve. The banker also said the bills with good color were the best counterfeit job he had ever seen.

Both banks in Littlefield and business firms have reported the phony money. As phony bills that are detected after being turned over to a bank are charged back to a bank and bills discovered before taken to a bank is the customer's loss and the customer is required to let the bank turn the counterfeit money over to the Secret Service, thus the customer stands the loss.

A number of tips on how to spot counterfeit money are listed below:

In genuine currency, the portrait stands out sharply from the background and the eyes appear lifelike. The background is a fine screen of regular, unbroken lines. In counterfeit currency, Con't on Page 3, Col. 1

ARROGANT KING IGNORES MEDEA--An arrogant King Creon (Bill Chapman) ignores the pleas of Medea (Greta Bamert) to save her sons from exile in the Greek tragedy "Medea." In the background, the women of Corinth, (Connie Pruitt and Jan Jinks) are in agony for Medea as she issues her plea. This is one of the contest winning plays which will be presented by the Muleshoe Fine Arts Drama Department at Muleshoe High School auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Friday night. Tickets to 'Dramatics in Revue' will only be 75 cents per person and Director Kerry Moore promised an evening of enjoyment for everyone.

Upcoming Projects Discussed By BAC

A group of business and professional people met in the Muleshoe State Bank community room Tuesday morning for the regular Businessmen's Activities Committee meeting.

Chairman Bob Stovall reported on the BAC-sponsored Zogi TV Revue which was staged last week in Muleshoe. Stovall reported that although only a sparse crowd attended the night show, two matinees had provided enough funds to bring the BAC to the profit margin with $323.80.

He added that the candy sale which was held during intermission added $183.83 to the profit.

The chairman said it was through a number of factors that the crowd was sparse, including timing, the fact that the show was in mid-week, im-

Dryland Farms Need Additional Moisture

"The main thing we are waiting for now, and what everything is hinging on right now is weather," said Bailey County Agent J. K. Adams, when asked to comment on the crop situation in this county. "As you know, last year the spring was terribly, but all cropland except dryland, is in good shape at this time."

He added, "The big thing in our county seems to be that farmers are leaning away from grain sorghum and stronger toward corn. Perhaps it is due to the larger supply of water at a shallower depth."

"This allows for more frequent watering of the young corn. For some reason, Parmer County seems to stay with grain sorghum more than we do here."

The county agent added that corn is up and growing and farmers are standing by now waiting for the first shower to help the young corn along. He would then work over the middles and apply herbicides.

Cotton has been planted, then re-planted in some instances, stated Adams. The replanting has been done in part, to cotton being planted in ground that was too cold to allow the cotton to grow.

Most of the cotton which has been planted has gone in during the last several days, he said, and the wind has hurt the tender cotton in some instances. Little cotton has been reported as being up, although Pat Childers and a few more farmers have reported they have some cotton peeping through.

As yet, said County Agent Adams, the dryland farmer is waiting and praying for moisture. He is not able to do

Building Inspector Views Library Site

Several library representatives, city officials and other interested persons met Tuesday morning with Fred A. Hull, Fort Worth, who is general inspector for the State Building Commission.

Persons at the meeting included the representative of the State Building Commission, Architect Bill Cantrell, Lubbock; local library administrative officers including David Sudduth, Building Committee Chairman; Mayor Irvin St. Clair; City Manager Albert Field; Vic Benedict, Library Board Chairman; Councilmen Alex Williams and Lindal Murray, Librarian Anne Camp and Friends of the Library President Mrs. L. B. Hall.

Also meeting with the group was Jerry Gailey, contractor. The meeting was held after signing all building construction contracts in order to discuss the responsibilities of the various parties as set forth in applicable laws and regulations.

Of particular importance are requirements relating to labor standards, minimum wage law, non-discrimination clause, project and federal payments, payroll payments and outline of final inspection by Hull of the State Building Commission and State Library representative upon completion of the building.

Jaycees Begin College Fund Annual Drive

"Are you tired of paying high prices for meat? How would you like to have a half a beef or maybe half a hog in your freezer?" These questions are being asked by the Muleshoe Jaycees, who are kicking off their 1971 Muleshoe-Stegall Opportunity Plan campaign.

"It's possible you know, you may be one of the four lucky people to win one of the beef or hog halves on June 19," said campaign chairman Glen Stevens. "All you have to do to be eligible is buy a ticket from any Jaycee member or at Harvey Bass Appliance prior to June 19."

He added, "You may not win one of the four great prizes, but you will be helping a local boy or girl begin or continue their education by going to college. In buying one of the tickets, you will be making funds available to the Muleshoe-Stegall Opportunity Plan fund. The fund is set up to financially assist local students in continuing their education. This fund is used for students who are not eligible for other scholarships or college funding means, regardless of race, color or creed."

Buddy Blackman, representing the Muleshoe Fine Arts Boosters, spoke to BAC concerning the band uniform drive and gave information as to why the uniforms were needed.

Blackman said the present uniforms are more than 10 years old, badly worn and out of style. He asked the help of everyone in the school district in the attempt to purchase 110-120 new uniforms.

TIRED OF BUYING BEEF AND PORK?--The Muleshoe Jaycees have a possible answer to that question. Johnee, Debbie and Janie were high point girls in FHA and Raygena was chosen to sing in the State Chorus at the very impressive sessions that are held at these meetings. The group enjoyed staying at the Adolphus Hotel and were able to visit Six Flags over the weekend.

We think a very special tribute should go to Johnee Seaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Seaton, who has done outstanding work in FHA, having gone to State all of her four high school years and being president the last two years, a very diligent worker, indeed.

Bill Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jones will be a candidate for graduation from West Texas State University in ceremonies this Sunday, May 9, on the campus at Canyon. Bill majored in Business Administration.

The high school girls surprised Miss Lanette Spurgeon with a bridal shower Sunday afternoon in the Fellowship Hall of the Church of Christ. Home Ec. teacher Miss Audrian Martin helped the girls with arrangements and they made a lovely quilt during class and presented it to Lanette. Most all of the Sophomore girls were present as Miss Spurgeon is their sponsor and several other students, all of which presented personal gifts to her also. Lanette will be wed to Gary Skaggs, shortly after school is out.

May we add our congrats to our neighbors, the Don McGuire family in their being selected as Library Family of the Year. A very worth honor, Don, Jo Ann, Marty and Diane, and I know you will really enjoy that nice big dictionary you were presented.

The seniors will be leaving on their class trip next Tuesday, May 11, and return in time for Baccalaureate Sunday, May 16. They will charter a bus from Amarillo and go to Colorado Springs and will enjoy tours in that area. They will be accompanied by Supt. and Mrs. Sam Barnes and parents Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jones.

It's easier to use plastic-covered wire trellis to afford pole beans a way to climb than it is to string cord from the ground to the top of each pole.

The trellis is light-weight, easy to install, and the beans don't know the difference between it and the cord.

High Plains Castor Study Results Told

High Plains Research Foundation scientists reported results of the 1970 castor research program to members of the castor committee recently at Halfway.

The castor committee is composed of area farmers and castor representatives who make recommendations and set guidelines for castor research studies.

Scientists reported that in a comparison of planting dates--May 14 and June 12--there was no significant difference in yield. However, it was noted that there was less field loss in castors planted June 12.

Also, scientists noted, seeds spaced nine to 36 inches apart indicated a trend to higher yields with 12-inch seed spacings.

According to the Foundation report, it is possible that skip-row castors irrigated between crop rows can achieve more dollar return per inch of water and more pounds of castors per inch of water when compared to solid planted castors irrigated every row.

Reviewing the 1971 research program the committee recommended that the irrigation and planting design study be continued adding a comparison of irrigation at second and third bloom to improve irrigation efficiency. The date of planting study and plant spacing study will be continued.

The study of control of volunteer castors in cotton was discontinued as adequate information had been compiled. However, committee members recommended continued screening of new herbicides.

It was recommended that the study of control of volunteer castors in grain sorghum be expanded to include new herbicides with various times and methods of application.

Committee members attending the meeting were Earl Gene Beach, Cotton Center; Don Marble, South Plains; Frank Moore, Martin Schur and Wayne Martin, Plainview and James Wedel, Muleshoe.

Foundation staff members present were Jim Valliant, Jim Schrib, Dennis Mooney and Jack Cloude.

It was recommended that the Muleshoe Planning Commission meet within the next two weeks in order to discuss and make recommendations on highway problems in the city limits of Muleshoe.

Board of Equalization members approved included Kenneth Henry, James Glaze, Curtis Walker, Clarence Christian and James Cox. The Equalization Board held their first meeting Monday, but no report was available during the city council meeting Tuesday.

Price Asking Lower Interest On Farm Loans

Congressman Bob Price has dispatched letters to the Secretary of Agriculture, Secretary of Treasury, and Director of the Office of Management and Budget requesting them to lower interest rates immediately on agricultural loans.

"There is an urgent need in the Texas Panhandle and other drought stricken areas of the state and nation for low interest, long term credit for people in agriculture to escape bankruptcy," Price said in his letters.

Price contacted the Secretary of Agriculture and the Secretary of Treasury with regard to Farmers Home Administration loan rates.

"I have recently toured portions of Oklahoma and Texas with Secretary of Agriculture, Clifford Hardin, and Director George Lincoln of the Office of Emergency Preparedness. The devastating drought damage is very evident."

The 18th District congressman also urged the Administration officials to actively support his proposals which would allow Farmers Home Administration to insure operating loans made to farmers and ranchers by private lenders and increase the loan limitation per borrower from $35,000 to $50,000.

"My bills would increase the amount of funds available for farm and ranch operating loans without requiring any expenditures of tax funds. I have urged the Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee to expedite this legislation because of the desperate needs for credit at the present time," Price said.

Contractor Jerry Gailey of Lubbock said it would be 180 days to completion after the groundbreaking next week. This would be sometime in November when the library would be ready for occupancy barring adverse circumstances.

Hull stated he would inspect and visit the construction site periodically during the construction.

Following the meeting, the group inspected the site of the new library which will be located at the corner of West Second Street and West Avenue D.

Groundbreaking ceremonies are to be held upon announcement. City Council members, the Bailey County officials, Library Board members, members of the Friends of the Library, ex-board members, clubs, organizations and the general public have been invited to attend the groundbreaking ceremonies on announcement of the date.

The seal on genuine currency has sawtooth points around the rim that are even and sharp. The sawtooth points on counterfeit may be uneven, broken or blunt.

Serial numbers on genuine bills have figures that are firm and evenly printed, well spaced. On Federal Reserve notes, prefix letters always agree with the district letter in the seal. Counterfeit serial numbers may be out of line, poorly spaced, printed too light or too dark, and the prefix number may or may not agree with the district letter in the seal.

Market Report

COLLEGE STATION-- Ways to save on fresh fruits and vegetables are many, if you just give some thought to selection as you shop, says Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

When you shop, carry a list of fresh produce items needed. But remember to keep the list flexible, she adds.

Take your time at the produce counter. Look around before you buy; make your selections from the freshest products.

And consider more than the price--check the "why" of specials. Perishables such as bananas, pears, peaches and melons that are ripe and ready to eat are good bargains if you plan to serve them soon.

Mrs. Clyatt reminds that you need to keep in mind to quantity your family will eat. Most fruits and vegetables aren't the kind of items to stock, even with plenty of refrigeration. Buy enough for two or three days, without overloading the refrigerator. "It's too easy to tuck an item away and forget it," she says.

Remember that the biggest is not always the best; what counts is how you plan to use the produce items. For example, small size citrus fruits packed a dozen per bag are perfect for juice, while the large, thick-skinned ones are fine for eating out of hand.

You'll find many choices at the vegetable counter this week, Mrs. Clyatt reports. Asparagus, broccoli, cauliflower, corn and snap beans are available at lower prices. Head lettuce and tomato supplies are heavier, with better quality and somewhat lower prices. Celery is also in ample supply. Other economical choices include cabbage, carrots, collards, yellow onions, potatoes and mustard and turnip greens.

Broiler-fryers and frozen turkeys are bargains in most meat departments. And Grade A large size eggs remain the best egg purchase, Mrs. Clyatt says.

care of husbands and met at the XIT Steakhouse for a meal cooked by hands other than their own.

After the meal, President Mrs. Elmer Downing reminded everyone of the installation of officers which will be held May 13.

At that meeting, the Young Homemakers are inviting their mothers as special guests for tea.

Mrs. Jimmy White presented the outgoing president, Mrs. Elmer Downing, a gift from the club in appreciation for the fine work she has done as president during the past year. The gift was an insulated serving dish.

Secret pal gifts were exchanged among the members with much guessing going on.

Present for the ladies night out were Mrs. Bobby Free, Mrs. Willie James, Mrs. Kenneth Powell, Mrs. Robert Hunt and Sheila, Mrs. Elmer Downing, Mrs. Eugene Burhman, Mrs. Jimmy Black, Mrs. Roland McCormick, Mrs. Jimmy White, Mrs. Bobby Newman, Mrs. Jay Harbin, Mrs. Derrell Nowell, Mrs. J. Lanehart Sets Muleshoe Visit May 11

Congressman Bob Price announced today that his district representative, Charles Lanehart, will be in Bailey County on May 11 to assist local residents with any problems they may have with the federal government.

Lanehart will be at the Courthouse in Muleshoe from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. "I find that with each passing year my legislative workload becomes heavier in Washington and it is becoming more and more difficult for me to be in each of the 28 counties in our district on a regular basis. For this reason, I have made arrangements for Lanehart to be in each county in the 18th District as frequently as possible, hopefully once a month," Price said.

TOPIC: RECORDS

Remember your resolution that you made a couple of weeks ago when you filed your tax return? You can also recall that you didn't keep good records after resolving to do it last year and the year before. Just about everybody will agree with you that going through a mess of stuff to make up your tax return is a mess. However, if you are going to keep good records this year you need to start now.

A GAS outdoor grill gives food a tangy outdoor flavor without the time and bother of charcoal fire. Char-broiled flavor comes from the smoke of meat juices dripping on hot briquets. Charcoal itself provides no flavor.

Permanent ceramic briquets in the gas grill reach cooking heat in a few minutes, and there is no long wait to start cooking. The heat is regulated manually so there is no need to move a grill up or down.

Cotton Program Is Seriously Lacking

"The current cotton program has obvious and serious defects in its lack of immediate provision for adequate producer income and supplies to meet market demands, but there is evidence that some features of the program are producing the desired results."

This is the opinion of Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., after reviewing the U. S. Department of Agriculture's "preliminary final" report on the cotton sign-up under the 1971 program.

The report shows 295,619 cotton farms signed up to participate in the program during the March 1-April 9 enrollment period. This figure is only about 62 percent of the 476,887 farms that signed up for the 1970 cotton program which, according to Johnson, is largely the result of two PCG-supported provisions of the 1971 cotton program.

First, under the 1970 program (Act of 1965), small farmers could sign up for the program and receive full price support payments without planting any part of their cotton allotments. And the record shows that 140,883 small farmers did receive payments without planting. Under the 1971 law, unless prevented from doing so by weather conditions, no producer can receive price support payments without planting at least 90 percent of his allotment.

"Consequently," Johnson says, "many of these small farmers this year elected to either lease, sell or release their cotton allotments. And this feature tends to put both cotton allotments and cotton payments where they belong -- into the hands of farmers interested in producing cotton."

"These small farmers may well be in need of government assistance," he continued, "but they should not be given that assistance at the expense of a cotton program designed to preserve a vital industry."

Also helping to move cotton allotments this year into areas with the desire and the capability to produce cotton has been the relaxed regulations which govern sale and lease of allotments. In 1970 cotton could not be transferred out of a county without a grower referendum, while in 1971 county Agriculture Conservation and Stabilization Service Committees had authority to permit out-of-county transfers. Growers in 1970 could not buy or lease more than 100 acres of allotment, but no such restriction applied in 1971. And last year all transfers of allotments had to be completed prior to January 1, as opposed to the later dates set as deadlines in the various cotton growing areas this year.

"These features of the new program," Johnson said, "have taken over 180,000 so-called cotton farms out of the cotton program. But virtually all of these were farms on which there was either no intention to plant cotton or else they were farms without the capability to produce cotton efficiently. And it seems obvious," he concluded, "that the industry and the nation are better off with cotton program payments going to cotton producers, and with cotton acreage going to the areas of most efficient production."

At county ASCS offices where signups took place, a special register was set up for cotton growers unable to complete their enrollments during heavy signup activity on the final day. However the "preliminary final" report includes signups through noon Thursday, April 15, and is thought to be fairly complete.

The 295,619 signed farms had 9,931,397 acres in cotton allotments, or 92 percent of the 10,743,489 allotted acres eligible for the program in 1971. The remaining acreage in the 11.5 million acre national allotment for the most part is acreage under the Cropland Adjustment or other conservation programs.

By states, the acreage signed up, expressed as a percentage of the total acreage eligible for the program is Alabama 95, Arizona 90, Arkansas 95, California 95, Florida 63, Georgia 82, Illinois 92, Kansas 100 (one allotment of eight acres), Kentucky 96, Louisiana 95, Mississippi 97, Missouri 99, Nevada 94, New Mexico 85, North Carolina 64, Oklahoma 92, South Carolina 91, Tennessee 90, Texas 93, and Virginia 47.

Total acreage committed for "set-aside" on the signed farms was 1,986,002.

A Look At Beef Cattle Situation

COLLEGE STATION -- Increased beef cow numbers, a strong demand for feeder cattle, and slaughter numbers near the 1970 level are part of the cattle outlook for 1971, according to Dr. Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist.

Total cattle numbers reached 114.3 million head on Jan. 1, 1971. This represented an increase of about two and one-fourth million head.

Beef cows that have calved reached 37.5 million head on Jan. 1, a gain of three percent. Beef cow numbers are likely to continue to increase for the next several years, Dr. Uvacek said.

increase over a year ago. Fed cattle marketings are expected to be close to the 1970 levels during the first half of the year. They may be slightly less in January-March and a little larger in April-June, Dr. Uvacek commented.

The 1970 calf crop was estimated at 45.8 million head, a two percent increase over the 1969 figures. Texas was one of the states showing the largest increases.

Cattle on feed for slaughter markets in Texas totaled 1,563,000 head on April 1. This represented a 26 percent in-

Amendment Three Passage Urged By TCWR

He predicts cattle slaughter for 1971 to be up only moderately from last year, with slaughter in the first half likely to be close to 1970 levels. Calf slaughter will be less than last year, but combined slaughter of cattle and calves will probably run along the same lines as in 1970, he added.

Dr. Uvacek predicted that cow slaughter in the first half of 1971 is expected to run somewhat under a year ago. Slaughter fell 12 percent and cow prices at most markets in January were about one dollar below a year ago.

With continued large supplies of pork, imported beef, and some heavy slaughter due to the drought conditions, cow prices are expected to rise seasonally, but considerably later than last year, he added.

Dr. Uvacek pointed out that cattle placed on feed in 23 major feeding states during January-March was up 12 percent over that same period a year ago. He commented that much of this gain in placements in Texas and the Southern Plains has been caused by liquidation of herds in the drought areas of Texas.

He indicated that the increased placements of cattle in feedlots in the next few months are likely to be encouraged by high fed cattle prices, and thus a strong demand for feeder cattle should used in their areas to educate the public to the importance of the amendment.

Time will cure all scars and wounds--if there's time.

This is because almost all of their flowers are female, thus capable of setting fruit.

Amendment Three will open doors for further welfare reforms and it is imperative we fight for it as hard as we can," This observation by Dr. Charles Laughton was the consensus of opinion of approximately 40 local and state leaders of Texas Citizens FOR Welfare Reform meeting in Austin this past weekend.

Dr. Laughton is a member of the group's Coordinating Committee and co-chairman of the Division of Social Policy and Action, Texas Council of the National Association of Social Workers Chapters.

Chairman for the meeting was Dr. R. C. Campbell, president, Texas Association for Services to Children, Dallas, who stressed the absolute necessity of concentrating on the "big push" to get passage of Amendment Three in the May 18 election.

Attending the meeting were spokes men for church, labor, civic affairs, welfare, service clubs and political groups. All major metropolitan areas were represented.

Amendment Three if approved by the voters on May 18 will leave allocations to the Texas needy aged, blind, and disabled to the discretion of the State Legislature but limit grants to Aid to Families With Dependent Children to a total of $55 million. The present ceiling on grants to Texas' needy is $80 million for Material for Muleshoe's new street lighting system arrived the first of the week, and work on installation of the underground conduit started Tuesday afternoon.

Monument To Mule Being Considered -- The burning question "Are there any mules in Muleshoe" appeared to be solved once and for all today, when the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce issued the following statement:

"There are two mules now working and making their home in the beautiful city of Muleshoe, Texas. These two outstanding specimens of the genus Equinus Missouriica, are known as Pete and Jack and they are the proud possessions of Dave Anders, who daisy uses these noble animals in his work of landscaping and tree trimming.

The question as to the existence of mules in Muleshoe came to the fore when a movement was begun to erect a monument to the pioneer mules who helped build the great state of Texas.

Naturally the citizens of Muleshoe in Bailey County began clamor that the only logical site for the proposed monument is Muleshoe.
