EXCHANGE SAYINGS.

Why do the sheriffs, clerks and other officials oppose Hogg? Because Hogg, in the discharge of official duty, which he had sworn to do, has cut off some of their rations.

Jno. D. McCall has made the best Comptroller Texas ever had. He has brought the office up to the highest standard possible.

A commission to regulate the freight charges is "paternalism," say the anti-railway-commissionists. But a commission to say what a private citizen, must take for his land when a railway company desires to purchase it is not "paternalism."

Mr. Pendleton is broad and liberal in his views and has the mental grasp and the character to stand by them. The natural bent of his mind, his training and his position eminently fit him for the discharge of the duties which would devolve upon him as Lieutenant-Governor.

Capital is being invested by the thousand and hundreds of thousands of dollars weekly, in Texas, by eastern capitalists, right in the face of the fact that Jim Hogg is going to be the next governor.

Jim Hogg is only 39 year old. He was born and raised here among the red hills of East Texas, but in the black prairie land of Central Texas, down on the coast and away out west, they want him for governor.

A Throckmorton paper asks what Jim Hogg has done that the people owe him the governorship? Hogg is not running for governor because he believes the people owe him anything, nor are his friends supporting him because they think so.

A Pan-handle paper comes to us this week marked X with the name of Attorney-General Hogg nailed to its mast head for governor.

The mere fact that every railroad, or other corporation with monopolistic tendency, together with their organs, attorneys and allies, are moving heaven and earth to defeat Jim Hogg, is sufficient reason why every man who wants the laws enforced should support him.

We like McDonald and Wheeler personally. They are sterling gentlemen, able lawyers and well versed in regard to the political issues of the day.

The action of some of the newspapers opposing Hogg for governor on the grounds that he is not acceptable to foreign capitalists, is simply contemptible, and an insult to every honest man in Texas.

"Can you tell me, little girl, why we pray for our daily bread?" asked a Texas Sunday School teacher of one of her pupils.

A Michigan pastor tells this: "I have come across a small boy who has solved the problem of how to get safely by the saloon."

A bet was made in Terrell this week on the gubernatorial race. A friend of Hogg bet a Throckmorton man $100 on Hogg's receiving the nomination with the field against him.

Attorney General Hogg's opening campaign speech at Rusk last Saturday was a strong, forcible address, and when generally read, will strengthen him with the masses.

Texas owes Hon. Jas. W. Throckmorton a debt and should pay that debt in November by electing him Governor.

The above is a sample of the sentimental politics which some papers indulge in for argument. Why does Texas owe Throckmorton a debt now any more than she did eight years ago, when he failed to get the nomination over Hubbard and Lang?

Taking a cursory view of the field; expressing neither prejudice nor preference, the following seems the order of procession among candidates for state offices: For governor; Hogg, leading; Throckmorton following, and Wheeler lessening the gap between the latter and himself.

An old negro in Albany was brought up on a charge of stealing, and tried in the Superior Court during Judge Wright's time.

"Have you a lawyer?" asked the Court. "Naw, sah."

"Are you able to employ one?" "Naw, sah."

"Do you want a lawyer to defend your case?" "Not pertickler, sah."

"Well, what do you propose to do about the case?" "We'll-ll," with a yawn, as if wearied of the thing.
