at the site of the new $100,000 library at the Corner of West Second Street and West Avenue D. The new facility is expected to be ready for occupancy late this year. The library bond issue was approved by voters in a September 10, 1968 bond election.

Another New Business Here Opened Doors

Continuing a slow but steady growth trend which has been noted in the Muleshoe area for some time, another new business has been added, Dwyan Calvert, who has owned Calvert's Grocery at 1900 West American Blvd, for the past year and a half, has announced the opening of his motorcycle shop at 1904 West American Blvd. A Muleshoe resident since 1956, Calvert graduated from Muleshoe High School in 1965 and from Texas Tech in 1969. He and his wife, Vera, make their home near his business. Calvert cited the boom in 'bikes' as his reason for putting a motorcycle shop in Muleshoe. He said that until the early 60s, there were very few motorcycles in the U. S. other than American made. Then, because of the utility, versatility and all-purpose recreation of the bikes, imports became popular. He feels that although the popularity of the motorcycle will level off, they will continue to be popular and in much demand. Calvert said that new machines are very hard to find, and it is difficult to get service for them. He plans to have his new shop open from 1-8 p.m. on weekdays and all day on Saturday. Featured in the new motorcycle shop will be the Ducati, an Italian bike, which Calvert says is produced for quality

Over 10,000 Attend C of C Hosts Service Personnel Banquet

More than 10,000 persons from West Texas and Eastern New Mexico braved high winds, sand and a hot sun Sunday afternoon to visit Cannon Air Force Base at Clovis where open house was held. A number of Muleshoe and Bailey County people attended the outstanding show hosted by CAFB. You say you saw Corky Green taking orders in Leal's Restaurant!! And Ernest Kerr and Tommy Black, too. Come on now, be realistic. You know they are business and professional men. John Blackwell and Sugar Glaze were pumping gas at Mack's Shamrock Station. Sure, sure!! And, what about Bank President Bill Loyd, Harvey Bass and Jacque Baker serving tables at the Dinner Bell? Well, if you did see that, and Sheriff Dee Clements, J. W. Coppedge and other businessmen at a service station working; or Jimmie Crawford and Jeff Smith giving a wrong tire to someone at another service station; or Gil Lamb and Bill Dale threatening to start a gas war at another service sta-

Gates opened at 11 a.m. (CST) and several parking areas were designated for the visitors. Immaculately dressed security police directed the hundreds of cars as they converged on the base. At noon, the Thunderbirds, a precision aerial demonstration team, arrived and staged a brief landing show for the thousands who had already arrived for the afternoon. Movies on the F-111 and actual dynamic displays of the F-111 were held in two of the massive hangars along the flightline. Thousands viewed the versatile aircraft during the afternoon. Although high winds forced cancellation of a scheduled parachute jump demonstration by the Golden Knights of the USAF, other events held the attention of those attending the show. Early in the afternoon attention was focused on the flightline where the Confederate Air Force had a display at the Tactical Air Command installation. The planes in the Confederate Air Force ranged from a B-25, P51 fighter and two World War II Messerschmidts. The B-25 on display was the one which was recently featured in the movie, 'Catch-22'. Youngsters flocked to the display of the older planes, and some of the larger planes were open for tours through the facility. Air Force men were on hand to answer questions in most of the aircraft. Gattis Junior High School performed during the early

Auxiliary Will Sell Lemonade At Celebration

Of the 556 persons tested, 27 positive reactors were found to the tuberculin vaccine administered, reported Pat Keese, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce. The report was given during a salad luncheon at the Muleshoe State Bank community room Tuesday at noon. "Although the cooperation of volunteers was great," commented Miss Keese, "the test was not considered too successful as only 556 of the more than 8,000 residents of the county took the free test. It is possible that the tests will be administered again at a later date." Also discussed and approved during the meeting was the possibility of having a mobile unit lemonade stand for the July 4th celebration which will be held Monday, July 5. Cleta Williams was named coordinator of the project. Materials which include a wire display rack and letters to change the sign behind the display glass at the Mule Memorial site were ordered.

DISTINGUISHED CITIZEN--Outgoing Jaycee President Derrell Oliver presented the 'Outstanding Citizen' award to Sheriff Dee Clements at the annual Jaycee Officer Installation banquet last Saturday night. Sheriff Clements was cited for 'his many acts of aiding people, quietly and without publicity.'

Tri-County Announces New Vice President

Don Harmon, president of Tri-County Savings and Loan Association, announced that Clem Peden of Marshall has been employed as vice president of the local association, effective June 1. Peden, who has spent several years in the finance business, holds stock in the Tri-County Savings and Loan Association in Muleshoe. He is married, and he and his wife have two sons. Tri-County will still have local ownership. Directors serving the association include Alex H. Williams, Frank Ellis, Clem Peden and Lindal Murray. Don Harmon will continue to serve as director, president, and chairman of the board. Mr.

and Mrs. Harmon and Pat Keese moved to Muleshoe from Lubbock in December, 1964, and opened temporary offices in Alex Williams' building. When they received their insurance in February, 1965, Tri-County Savings and Loan Association

New President For Jaycees Is Initiated

The Muleshoe Jaycees met Monday with new president Jeff Smith, conducting his first meeting. He reported the initiation in his new office was 'rough' and he expected nothing worse to happen during his year in office. Reports were given by Raymond Schroeder and Glen Watkins on the Junior-Senior golf tournament which was held Saturday. They said the three top golfers from Muleshoe, Mike Riley, Lewis Wayne Morris and Bruce Chapman will be taken by the Jaycees to Abilene for the 'Sports Spectacular' in June. Doyce Turner reported on the installation banquet last Saturday night. He said 153 persons attended the banquet and dance after the banquet. A report was given by Leon Wilson on the Pitch, Hit and Throw contest held Saturday morning. He said there was good participation by the youth of the community, and it was a successful program. Glen Stevens said the Muleshoe-Stegall Opportunity Plan Inc. project was progressing well, but more tickets needed to be sold. Leadership in Action plaques were presented Bill Dale and Larry Combs for completing

Texas Reading Club Program Beginning

'Dive Into Summer -- Read' is the slogan for this year's Texas Reading Club for boys and girls at the Muleshoe Area Public Library and Hi-Plains Bookmobile. Registration will begin Tuesday, June 1 at the library at 2 p.m. and the program will continue until August 20. The program is conducted in cooperation with Texas State Library and is designed to stimulate interest in reading among young people, said Muleshoe Area Library Librarian Anne Camp. All boys and girls who read 12 books of their choice and reading level, will receive a certificate from the Texas State Library, added Mrs. Camp. A reading log will be provided to keep a record of books read, and should be returned to the library by August 20. Participants in the reading club will have a choice of two new posters to work on at the library . . . which they will take home on completion. Mrs. Camp commented, "The library has added 279 new books during April and May, and we hope that this will be the best summer reading program ever. "It is a well known fact that children who read well do much better in school, and the elementary schools of Muleshoe are again cooperating with the library in encouraging children in summer reading by including an invitation from the library for the children to take home with their report cards. "Children living in the rural area are encouraged to meet the bookmobile in their area, and to register for summer reading. They will find many new books on the library on wheels." The reading club at the library is sponsored again this summer by the AAUW of Muleshoe; and members of the organization will again do volunteer work during June and July.

Arrests Light In This Area For Past Week

Twelve persons jailed by the U. S. Immigration Service and held for deportation to Mexico constituted the largest booking at the Bailey County Law Enforcement Center during the past week. Muleshoe City Police officers booked one person for drunk, resisting arrest and abusive language and a vagrancy charge was filed against another person. The Bailey County Sheriff's office jailed one person for being AWOL from the Army. He was picked up by a Military Policeman Tuesday morning.

I JUST DON'T LIKE IT A BIT--Four month old Veo Wayne Kendrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Kendrick of Earth, doesn't seem to find much funny about his broken left arm. He cracked it above the elbow when he caught it between the bumper pad and mattress in his crib Saturday. After he caught his arm, he turned over said his mother, who is holding her son. He will be in the tiny cast for six to eight weeks said Dr. B. O. McDaniel at West Plains Memorial Hospital.

Outgoing President Oliver commented, "It's not hard to be an officer in the Muleshoe Jaycees, it's not hard to be president. If you want or need something done, just ask any member, and they are all willing to cooperate." Oliver commended the directors of the organization for the work they did during his year as president of the organization. He also introduced the outgoing directors.

directors and president of the Jaycees. As he prepared to install the new officers, he said he had "great confidence in the Muleshoe Jaycees. You have a tremendous slate of officers, a real job ahead that should be a great challenge."

Officers installed included Jeff Smith, president; Max King, first vice president; Leon Wilson, second vice president; Wayne Peterson, secretary; Dwyan Calvert, treasurer; Derrell Oliver, inter-club director; Doyce Turner, reporter; Gene McGuire, director; Corky Green, director; Glen Watkins, director; James Brown, director; Duane Seay, director and Bill Russell, director.

Guest speaker was Bob Brummal, Lubbock, who has been with Southwestern Public Service Company for the past 25 years. He has been active in many phases of civic work. He centered his talk around "The Disaster Lobby," a group of persons he contended is trying to destroy the United States and free enterprise by attempting to break down the democratic system.

Brummal said that people want to go back to "the good old days. In citing some of the good old days, he contended that 150 years ago, a man lived to the age of 38 years on the average; he worked a 72 hour week; his average yearly pay was $300; housewives worked an average of 98 hours a week and there were no electrical appliances to help her. Brummal said people froze in the winter, sweated in the summer, food was monotonous and scarce; in an epidemic, at least every family had someone carried off and a person seldom was more than 20 miles from the place he was born during his entire life time.

The speaker said, "We feel good because things aren't as bad as they disaster people would have them be. The disaster lobby are the most dangerous people in the United States today. They talk about air pollution, water pollution, student and college unrest, racial unrest and unemployment. It simply isn't true." "We have the same amount of oxygen in the air we had 61 years ago in 1910, scientists have proven this; our air is less fouled up than it was 100 years ago and New York City has had a yearly decrease in air pollution since 1965.

"It is quite true we had crystal clear water a hundred years ago. We also had cholera, typhoid and other diseases. The

Colonel Donald N. Stanfield, 832nd Air-Division Commander and Colonel Charles E. Francis, 27th Tactical Fighter Wing Commander.

Following introduction of the individual Thunderbird pilots, an amazing and beautiful precision demonstration was given by the pilots in the white F-4E Phantom IIs, with the black thunderbird painted on the underside.

Home based in Arizona, the Thunderbirds showed the maneuverability of the versatile F-4 as they swirled and swept across the sky. Taking off in a diamond pattern, the Thunderbirds flew the missing man routine; a solo maximum performance takeoff and roll; arrowhead loop; changeover roll; solo alleron rolls; solo four-point rolls; wedge roll and the beautiful high show bomb burst with solo vertical rolls, which looked like a gigantic firework explosion in the sky. Other outstanding and exciting maneuvers were also flown during the afternoon.

Landing, the Thunderbirds concluded the show by signing autographs for the awestricken youngsters who had been held spellbound, along with thousands of adults, as they watched the performance.

Mrs. Phillip Randel McLemore

Miss Gaston, McLemore Marry In Fort Worth

Miss Becky Lea Gaston and Phillip Randel McLemore were married Saturday, May 22, 1971, at 7:00 p.m. in the Richland Hills United Methodist Church in Fort Worth. Rev. Michael Patison, minister of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn H. Gaston of Fort Worth. The groom's parents are Mrs. Ben Pickard of Fort Worth and Aubrey McLemore, also of Fort Worth.

The church was decorated with a bouquet of white glads and majestic daisies, altar candles, flanked by a pair of white votive candle stands and a pair of tapers with palms. A pair of palms completed the church decorations.

Music was presented by Mrs. Larry Augsburg of Fort Worth who accompanied Miss Donna McKee, also of Fort Worth, as she sang "O Father, All Creator" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of pearl white satin and peau d'ange lace. A lace yoke and mandarin collar enhanced the high rise bodice and insets of lace accented the long petal point sleeves. Medallions of matching lace were repeated on the A-line skirt and on the wateau train caught at the shoulders by a satin French bow. Twin bands of lace edged the train which fell to an aisle width sweep. The headpiece was a three tiered veil of French illusion, held by a cluster of lace petals outlined in pearls.

The bride's bouquet, attached to a white Bible which was a gift from a bridesmaid, was yellow roses, white daisies and stephanotis. The groom's boutonniere was taken from the bouquet.

For something old, the bride wore an heirloom wedding band belonging to her great grandmother Rhoads. For sentiment, she carried a hankie with pearls and lace that belonged to her grandmother Bogard. Something new, the bride carried a six-pence in her shoe. Maid of honor was Miss Susan Gaston, Sudan, cousin of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Sandoval, Isreal Reyna, Cathy Lopez, Margita Torres, Michael Del Toro, Suzette Rojas, Diana Hernandez and Anita Rodriguez.

Best man was Tray Beck of Denton. Ushers were Doug Parker, Austin and Bill Sturgis, Dallas.

Flower girl was Shell Bogard O'Donnel, cousin of the bride. Candelighters were Miss Kimberly Lurah Kinnison and Miss Dusty Dawn Kinnison, Olton cousin of the bride. They were outfitted in dresses identical to the bridesmaids with white shoes and short white gloves. Headpieces were bows from leaf green maline.

The groom's mother wore a light aqua chiffon dress with rolled collar, full skirt and long sleeves with cuffs. Her headpiece was an aqua veil attached to small flowers. Her corsage was of white Sinbidian orchids. She was presented a rose as a token of affection from her new daughter-in-law as the bride and groom left the altar.

The mother of the bride wore a yellow crepe dress with lace bodice, A-line skirt, and a full, long sleeved lace coat. She wore a corsage of yellow Sin-

Pesticide Control Discussed By PCG

LUBBOCK--Beyond the perennial problems faced by farmers at planting time, pesticide control legislation at both State and Federal levels continues to figure prominently in the legitimate concerns of cotton producers and other agriculturalists.

Producer representatives, including officials of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., are speaking out in Austin and in Washington for laws which, based on scientific fact, will reflect an accurate and justifiable balance between the benefits and the adverse effects that can be expected from the use of a given chemical.

"In this way and only in this way," says PCG Field Service Director Ed Dean, "can pesticide control legislation serve the best interests of both agriculture and the consuming public."

Some environmental purists, without regard for consequences and without substantiating evidence to support claims that agricultural chemicals are "poisoning the world in which we live," are asking for laws that would immediately ban the use of many pesticides and severely restrict the use of others.

DDT and other chlorinated hydrocarbons, primarily insecticides, are under particularly heavy fire, despite the fact that we do not yet have on record a single human death caused by intake of DDT in normal food consumption.

The following excerpts from a speech by Dr. Roy Kottman, Dean of the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University, should be required reading for those so exercised about environmental pollution:

"Alarmed voices advocate retreat from our technological civilization, as if life had been better in some bygone age when our ancestors lived closer to nature ...desiring a return to 'good old days' that never were..."

"In all the furor about DDT people seem to forget, if they ever knew, that in 1950 there were 200 million people in the world suffering from malaria and two million of them died each year. Now, twenty years later, 40 percent of the world's population live in malaria-free areas. Another 40 percent live in areas protected by currently active DDT control programs. In India alone there were 75 million cases of malaria reported in 1953. In 1967 there were fewer than 100,000 cases.

That's one case in 1967 for every 750 cases that there were 14 years earlier...."

On a more general note, Dr. Kottman said "We take it for granted that modern drugs save millions of lives. We know also that some people have died through careless use or overdose of commonly used medical drugs. It is paradoxical therefore that nobody wants to ban penicillin because the allergic reaction to penicillin kills a great many more people each year than pesticides."

"The point I would like to make is that we must learn to balance benefits against risks, whether we are dealing with pesticides, penicillin, automobiles or any other element of our environment. The fact of the matter is that aspirin annually kills several times as many people as the most dangerous of our pesticides. Aspirin killed ten times more people in 1961 than did parathion, and parathion is a dangerous pesticide in terms of human health for those who handle the product."

Earlier in his address Dr. Kottman made another point worth pondering. He noted that agriculture by the year 2000 will be required to feed six billion people, almost double the present population, and that if we fail "it will not be because the resources of our planet are inadequate, but because our attention and energies will have been misdirected toward the attainment of a balance of nature, as nature now exists, or toward some hypothetical balance of nature which supposedly existed at an earlier date."

"Such endeavors would drain our energies and lead only to disappointment because the biosphere upon which life depends is, in itself, a dynamic and constantly changing entity. The forces acting upon earth and its biosphere are both external and internal. The external forces exerted by the solar system are so much greater than the internal forces exerted by man that it is open to conjecture as to whether the efforts of man himself really count for very much in terms of determining the direction of the gross environmental regime within our biosphere."

However, Dr. Kottman concedes that man does have a substantial capability to influence his immediate environment. Agriculture also recognizes this capability and is perfectly willing to assume its part of the responsibility for taking rational action toward a livable atmosphere.

As PCG Board Chairman Don Anderson of Crosbyton recently stated before the Senate Committee on Environmental Matters in Austin "We are all interested in maintaining maximum purity of the environment, but we must all agree as well on the need to continue producing adequate supplies of food and fiber for our nation and others in the world. Therefore any ban on use, or even restrictions on use, of agricultural chemicals should be taken only after informed deliberation and extreme caution."

A Little Tough "Above all," the doctor argued "you must eat more fruit, and particularly the skin of the fruit. The skin contains all the vitamins and the vitamins what, by the way, is your favorite fruit?" The patient looked gloomy. "Coconuts," he said.

9 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Roy Dyer.

The table decorations carried out the bride-elect's chosen colors of mint green and white. Punch and cake were served to the guests by Susie Cousatte, sister of the bride-elect.

The hostess gift was a set of yellow stainless steel cookware. Hostesses were Mrs. Roy Dyer, Mrs. J.E. Wilhite, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, Mrs. Jewel Bruton, Mrs. Troy Page, Mrs. C.P. The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has a complaint this week.

Dear editor:

One trouble with this country today is that people are too impatient.

I was reading just last night that when the six-cent postage stamp went to eight cents, some post offices around the country didn't have any on hand and customers were mad because they had to stick a six-center on their letters and then add either two ones or one two-center. I guess some people are too busy to be waisting their time like that, but they ought to slow down and realize that the only way the Post Office's Printing Plant in Washington had to get the new stamps out over the country was by mail and naturally that takes quite a while.

Some people are too impatient about getting ahead, forgetting that nowadays a penny saved in only a half-penny earned. Others say that a penny saved sometimes means the sales tax kitty was short-changed.

I know one farm woman who's mad because her husband hasn't planted this year's crop, and another who's mad because her's hasn't planted last year's. You can always find something to get mad about if you work at it.

Or take the Presidency. Regardless of how large a vote he went in with sooner or later any President becomes the victim of wholesale criticizing and complaining, and this frequently gets under his skin. It shouldn't. Presidents ought to remember that most politicians and all tires wear thin after a while.

Everybody needs more patience. After all, New York wasn't polluted in one day.

Yours faithfully,
 J.A.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to take this time to express our feelings for the neighbors for all they have done for me during my accident. To find words to express our feelings is far more than words can find. We are thankful for all who have sent flowers, cards and such a wonderful donation and for the blood donation. I just wish I could find the words to say thanks for everything. Like to thank the doctor and nurses and also for the ambulance. Also like to say thanks to the pastor and for all the many prayers said for me. I will remember everything that has been done. Friends and pastors are among the greatest blessings in life and I feel that I have been richly blessed. May Gods greatest blessing be with each and every one.

A GAS outdoor grill gives food a tangy outdoor flavor without the time and bother of charcoal fire. Char-broiled flavor comes from the smoke of meat juices dripping on hot briquets. Charcoal itself provides no flavor.

Permanent ceramic briquets in the gas grill reach cooking heat in a few minutes, and there is no long wait to start cooking. The heat is regulated manually so there is no need to move a grill up or down.
