Tomato Industry At Progress

New Hothouse Will Open In September

"Progress with Progress" seems to be the motto of V. T. Tanner these days. The Progress vegetable producer is adding yet another vegetable industry to the county.

Steel beams are presently being lifted into place to provide support for a tomatoe hothouse Tanner is having constructed immediately north of the railroad tracks in the small community five miles northwest of Muleshoe on Highway 84. Tanner said the completed facility will be of steel and fiberglass construction and will be 15,000 square feet. The 100 foot by 150 foot fiberglass building will house a tomatoe production. The vegetable producer said that tomatoes will be grown in the Progress soil, which Tanner termed, "The best soil in Bailey County."

He expects the construction to be completed around September 15, and said plants will be set out immediately. The first crop is expected to be harvested in the controlled temperature building around November 15.

Growing predominantly for local markets, Tanner did not discount the possibility that the operation would be large enough to ship some tomatoes out of the area.

"People in Bailey County deserve fresh foodstuffs in the winter the same as they have in the summer," reflected Tanner, who is slowly enlarging his vegetable operations in the county.

He added that cucumbers are rather slow getting started this year, and his cucumber separating machine has not gotten into full swing as yet. Rain and cool growing weather have slowed the cucumber harvest.

Last year, Tanner said he wrote more than $1,250,000 in checks to pay for contracted

BEAMS GOING UP FOR NEW HOTOHOUSE--V. T. Tanner, vegetable producer at Progress is adding to his operation. Workmen are setting steel beams to support a fiberglass side and roof hothouse for tomatoes near his cucumber operation at Progress. Tanner said he expects to set out the first tomatoes in the fertile Progress soil around September 15, and is hopeful of harvesting the first crop of hothouse tomatoes around November 15.

And the rains came!!!! Up to slightly more than four inches was reported in the area surrounding Muleshoe following rain which started in town between 11:30 and midnight Saturday night and continued until mid-morning Sunday. The official recording in Muleshoe was 2.22.

Around 7 p.m. Tuesday, a sudden hailstorm and hard rain inundated an area north and west of Bula. The hailstones virtually wiped out the only reported crops in that area. Paul Young of Bula, said the hailstorm tore up the crops rather badly and some of the crop would be a total loss. Many roads are under water from an inch and a half to two inches of rain which fell suddenly and hard and farmers could not move from their farms Wednesday morning to assess the damage.

Young said the hail started approximately one-half mile north of the Bula street and the damage cannot be properly assessed due to soggy roads and deep water, it is estimated that the damage area is probably at least a mile and a half

Commissioners Set Tax Rate Same As 1970

Bailey County Commissioners Court met in a lengthy session Monday with the predominant item on the agenda as setting of the county tax rate for the next year. Commissioners Lloyd Stevens, W. H. Eubanks and Rudolph Moraw and County Judge Glen Williams were present for the meeting with Commissioner Matt Dudley absent.

The county tax rate for the next year will be 95 cents per $100 valuation for county tax and special road tax of 30 cents per $100 valuation. This tax rate is the same schedule as the commissioners approved for last year. The special road tax is subject to homestead exemption, explained Judge Williams.

He also reminded that two taxes retired are Road District 1-A and the countywide road tax.

Another order approved by the commissioners court was establishing or 'fixing' election precincts. They approved the existing precincts without alterations.

Approved was the purchase of a new car for Deputy Sheriff M. C. Street.

A lengthy discussion was held on the proposed retirement program for county employees, but no final decision was reached by commissioners.

Community Survey Results Tabulated

(Editor's note: This is the third in a series showing the results of the Muleshoe Jaycee Community Development Survey which was taken in March of this year. In this tabulation, the seventh through the tenth questionnaires will be discussed.)

The seventh question on the Jaycee Community Development Survey asked if the residents believed the residential housing in Muleshoe is adequate.

A total of 55 percent of the people answering the question said they believed the housing was adequate. Recommendations given were 52 percent for development of new housing; 18.7 percent for more rent houses and apartments; 16.3 percent to improve present housing and the balance to improve lower income housing, providing labor housing and improve financing of houses.

Among the suggestions received for recreational facilities in Muleshoe as included in the eighth question, were 23.8 percent of the suggestions for parks. The next two items were movie theater, 18.1 percent and bowling alley a total of 15.4 percent.

Other recommendations given were skating rink, community center, youth center, miniature golf, new swimming pool, lake, public gym, zoo, drag strip, softball field, horse racing and rodeo and miscellaneous suggestions.

To explain the ninth questions, a Jaycee spokesman said, "The treat of being by passed is a real problem in Muleshoe. There is a definite conflict between the cars of retail buyers and traffic attempting to pass through Muleshoe."

"Removal of parking along the highway, elimination of as many intersections as possible, placing medians along the route, and elevated crosswalks across the school zones would improve the traffic carrying capacity of the highway."

"Driving surfaces throughout the city are in need of renovation. A plan of improving and developing the highway system through the city should be initiated in the near future."

The ninth question asked for recommendations to improve the highways through Muleshoe. Clean it up and make it more attractive, especially with landscaping, suggested 48.4 percent of the persons answering the recommendation question.

Other recommendations were general repairs; satisfactory as is; improve intersection at highway 84 and highway 70; more stoplights and street signs; eliminate parking on highway; widen roads; businesses too close to roads and a number of miscellaneous suggestions.

According to the answers given to the tenth question, the most needed improvement in the neighborhood is clean alleys and vacant lots. That was the answer given by 29.7 percent of the persons on the questionnaire. Other improvements listed included restrain loose dogs; maintain own homes properly; satisfied with neighborhood; more street improvement; better garbage maintenance; more street signs; stop pollution from alfalfa mill and feed lots and other miscellaneous suggestions for improvement.

The next report will include the eleventh through the fourteenth questions.

wide and more than two miles long.

Ironically, the extensive crop damage is in the irrigated area north of Bula, where Young said the only crops in that area were growing. He said the crops had been nursed through all the dry spell and were looking real good until the sudden storm Tuesday evening.

All paved roads are reported to be open in the area and Young said the Texas Highway Department was busy Wednesday morning pushing mud off the paved roads where the hard washing water had left mud and silt on the paved areas.

As soon as reports can be obtained when farmers can get out of their yards to check crops, as complete a report as possible will be given on the crop situation in the Bula area.

In the Lazbuddie area, Farmers Co-op said two inches and up fell in the area Saturday night and Sunday, with no hail losses reported. In the same area, four to five and a half inches has been recorded recently.

Dud Winders, six miles east of Lazbuddie, reported his rainfall as 3.7 during the weekend rain and Ken Agneley, approximately 15 miles northeast of Muleshoe recorded 3.9. Rains of more than four inches were reported in the area northeast of Muleshoe and east of Lazbuddie.

Around Needmore, 3.4 inches was reported Sunday and an additional one-quarter to one-half inch fell Monday night. Mrs. Rudolph Moraw said she had .4 in the gauge Tuesday morning from the Monday night rain.

James Dobbins, who lives west of Moraws less than a mile, received .25 during the Monday night rain.

Buck Ragsdale in the Stegall community, said he recorded one and one-half inches of rain Sunday, and an additional .25 Monday night and Mrs. Fred Kelley in the Maple community, said they received no rain Monday night, but did receive two and a half inches Sunday. "Any amount helps," added Mrs. Kelley.

Four miles south of the Lubbock Water Works on the Lubbock Highway, Mrs. Gene Bartley said they received 2.7 inches of rain Sunday, but the Monday night rain missed their farm.

In the bone dry southeastern corner of Bailey County, Mrs. J. D. Bayless at Enochs said they got 2.7 inches Sunday and .2 Monday night.

Clauch Gin at Bula reported anywhere from three and a half to four inches of rain during the Sunday rain. The spokesman there said it fell 'just perfect' and didn't run off. She also said there was no rain Monday night, but 3.2 inches and up had been reported east of Bula.

Mrs. Harold Allison, who lives nine miles east of Muleshoe on Highway 70- said they received two and a half inches of rain during the Sunday rains, and no rain on Monday.

In the West Camp area, from three to three and a half inches of rain was scattered in the area. From the reports, there was not a lot of runoff, but the rain stayed to soak into thirsty fields.

The lecture will be presented by Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Dill, Teachers and representatives of the Institute of Route Eight, Box 250, San Antonio.

Dr. Dill has been with the Institute since 1955. He has lectured all over the United States and in New Zealand. Mrs. Dill, who has a Master's Degree in Education from the State University of New York at Albany and is a teacher of High School English, has been assisting Dr. Dill since 1958.

When asked about Concept-Therapy, Dr. Dill stated, "It is a workable philosophy of life, a correlation of the facts that exist within the structure of all present day systems. We do not delve into theories, opinions, and the various beliefs because they can neither be proven nor disproven. We, therefore, respect them all." Dr. Dill continued, "The search for truth in this manner involves the correlation of the areas of agreement in the findings of science and statements of theology. This knowledge has been gleaned from science, psychology, philosophy, metaphysics, and theology." He emphasized that Concept-Therapy will enhance the truth in a person's beliefs and does not conflict with one's formal education.

There is no obligation, concluded Dr. Dill, and said the public is welcome to attend the free lecture.

Jane Williams Weds Kenneth McManis

Jane Elene Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Williams, became the bride of Kenneth Nolan McManis of Ft. Worth, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Huffman of Lubbock, Sunday afternoon, August 8, at the First Baptist Church of Muleshoe. Rev. Doug DuBose read the double ring ceremony before an altar featuring a sunburst arangement of white gladiolas with blue streamers flanked by palms.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a formal length gown of peau de soie fashioned with a fitted bodice and scooped neckline, accented by a flared skirt. The long fitted sleeves, ending in points over the hands, were fastened with rows of tiny covered buttons. A long chapel train was attached to the waistline with a tailored bow. The bride's veil of illusion fell from a tiara of illusion florets. She carried a colonial bouquet of cymbidium orchids and stephanotis with long white streamers.

Something old was a handkerchief she carried that belonged to her great grandmother. She wore a new pearl pendant, a gift from her parents, she borrowed part of her bridal attire from her sister and the traditional blue garter was a gift.

Bridesmaids were Vicki Robinson and Debbie Burch, both of Lazbuddie. They wore identical dresses of blue dotted swiss organza featuring empire waists with white bows and streamers and puffed sleeves. The nosebags they carried were of white daisies with blue streamers. White accessories completed their attire.

Serving as groomsmen were Gary McCray of Elida, New Mexico, brother-in-law of the bride, and Larry Shafer of Muleshoe. Ushers were David Pierce of Burleson, brother-in-law of the bride, and Larry Edler of Muleshoe, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Elbert Hamilton was organist and accompanied Mack Moore as he sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The mother of the bride wore an apricot dress with white accessories and a pale green corsage. The bridegroom's mother chose a beige dress with a pink corsage.

Following the ceremony, the guests were received at a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church by Mr. and Mrs. McManis and their parents. Registering the guests was Ruth Ann Blankenship of Farwell. Pineapple sherbert punch was poured by Leatrice Gallman of Lazbuddie. The wedding cake was served by Elaine Jesko of Lazbuddie.

The bride's table, covered with a lace cloth over blue, was adorned by a crystal punch service and the three-tiered white wedding cake designed with white columns and tiny blue florets and topped by the traditional wedding pair, Crystal and silver appointments and the white napkins imprinted in silver completed the table decor. Small white gladiolas with blue streamers were placed by the guest registry on a table covered with a blue cloth.

For travel, Mrs. McManis chose an apricot ensemble with white accessories. They will be at home at 3456 Townsend Drive in Ft. Worth where he is employed.

Mrs. McManis is a 1970 graduate of Lazbuddie High School and attended South Plains Junior College at Levelland. McManis is a 1969 graduate of Lubbock High School and attended South Plains Junior College and he was a member of the Ag Club and Rodeo Club.

Among out of town guests attending were parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Huffman, Karen, Sharon and Lydia; Mrs. Bessie Williams, grandmother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Murphy and son, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dever and children, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McManis and daughter, all of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Gary McCray and family of Elida, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. David Pierce and sons of Burleson; Mr. and Mrs. Orville Williams of Seagraves; Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Simmons of Crosbyton; and Bill Stokes of Austin.

Members of the wedding party were guests for refreshments following the wedding rehearsal Saturday evening in the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Elbert Morgan of Muleshoe. Assisting with the hospitalities was Mrs. Ruby Edler, aunt of the bride.

LOVE IS SPLENDID, BUT NOT HER'S

Dear Amy: I would like to have advice from you because I can't talk about this to my friends or parents. I am in love with a married man. He has one little boy and has been married for two years. He does not love his wife (so he tells me), but when I see him, he tells me that he needs me and wants me. Do you think I should stop seeing him or what should I do? Confused

Dear Confused: When a married man wants to fool around with a single young girl, he never loves his wife. Love is a many splendored thing, but not yours, and I'm sure you are merely infatuated. Don't ever see him again... no matter what he says.

Dear Amy: I am only 14 1/2 years old and I have a terrible problem. I hope you will be able to help me. All the kids in my class, except me, shave their legs. I asked my mother once or twice if I could because the hair was noticable. My mother said no and I tried to explain to her how I felt, but it was of no use. What can I do to convince her to let me shave my legs? Hairy

Dear Hairy: Every summer I receive a rash of letters from young girls with your problem. My reply always reads the same: "It's clear that Mom thinks your age is tender, but good grooming knows no age or gender."

Dear Amy: My letter is directed to "A Worried Girlfriend" and all the other ladies with guys in uniform. My Bill was one who would burn a pen before using it. He was stationed in Hawaii for 18 months and I received a grand total of 8 letters. He went to Viet Nam and I heard from him every chance he had, even when he could hardly hold up a pen. All in all,

I averaged over 20 letters a month and as many as 3 a day. These were not always letters. Some were simple: "Thought I'd shoot you a line" or just a sheet of paper with a question mark. I've learned that these guys write when they can and if the position is bad enough, the letters are often. Nothing takes the place of home. Dreams of home are fantasies and letter writing is their escape.

Keep writing him, but without pressing him to write. Send him little excerpts that will push him to write such as: a budding leaf, later, one in bloom, later, it's changing color, and later, a tiny branch from a bush or a tree. This tells him of his passing time. Whatever the outcome of his writing, be content. Use it to cease your longing for that next letter. I'm going through my third year.

Dear Amy: I'm 12 and I'm so ugly that it's pathetic. I have a pretty nice figure, but it's my face. I have nice eyes, nice nose and a nice mouth, but they don't seem to go together, and my hair is short and unnaturally curly. I was letting it grow but I looked awful. It would never stay combed neatly so I had it cut and now I look like a boy! No matter what I do, puff it up, put a little make-up on, I still look like a boy. Please help. I need it. H.U.P.

Dear H.U.P.: I doubt that you are as ugly as you think. Many girls your age are not satisfied with their appearance, but at your age many changes are taking place and in the near future, you will be more satisfied than you are now. Be patient and do the best you can. Nature will take care of the rest!

Market Report

COLLEGE STATION--New crop supplies of green cabbage and okra make them good vegetable buys as you plan for this week's grocery shopping, reports Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist at Texas A&M University.

Other vegetable selections economically priced include potatoes, dry yellow onions, black-eye peas, corn, head lettuce, celery, carrots, and mustard and collard greens, the specialist adds.

At the fruit counter, look for reasonable prices on bananas, cherries, apricots, avocados, cantaloupes, watermelons, plums, peaches, grapes and nectarines.

And even though prices have increased somewhat, fryers remain a bargain in most departments. According to Mrs. Clyatt, more emphasis is being placed on whole and cut-up birds and on fryer parts.

Low prices on all sizes of turkeys are also noticeable this week.

Heavier supplies of small eggs are in evidence, while prices on large sizes are moving up seasonally. Mrs. Clyatt suggests the prices still strain the budget--all sizes are still economical for the summertime favorite deviled eggs.

In the limelight at the dairy counter, check for cottage cheese, cheese loaves and margarine, she advises.

Beef features include chuck cuts, steaks for broiling, boneless rolled roasts, short ribs, standing rib roasts, and round steaks and roasts. Ground beef and hamburger may also be featured, she says, but remember hamburger has a greater fat allowance so it should be less expensive.

Pork production has been declining seasonally in recent weeks, pushing wholesale prices upward. Mrs. Clyatt reports a few special prices are available on Boston butt roasts, one-half and one-quarter loin chops, spareribs and tenderloin. Suggested buys on smoked cuts are hams and bacon.

Vitamin A For Summer Months

COLLEGE STATION, -- Lacking -- that's the nutritional state of vitamin A, especially during the summer months, says Sally Springer, Extension foods and nutrition specialist.

Studies have shown this to be a fact, Miss Springer explains. Many people do not get enough vitamin A, an essential element for body growth, during the summer season.

Vitamin A helps eyes adjust to nighttime dim lights. It is also necessary for healthy linings of nasal and digestive passages and provides for the maintenance of smooth skin.

In food, the vitamin is found as a natural element or as a precursor, carotene, which aids in its formation, the specialist says.

Natural vitamin A is available only in animal sources, including meat fat, milk fat and butter. Vitamin A is fat soluble, she adds.

Several vegetables are also good sources of vitamin A -- the dark green leafy and deep yellow vegetables. Summer squash and carrots are two vegetables currently in season supplying vitamin A. Other good sources include spinach, sweet potatoes and dark green leafy vegetables.

For well balanced diets, plan menus to include vitamin A every day, suggests Miss Springer.

Square Thru News

Well, the weather finally changed in favor of all square dancers. Somehow it must have known that the Muleshoe Square Thru's needed some moisture. But I believe they weren't the only ones. The rain has been great, and we know that it will help the square dancers smile just a little bigger.

The Muleshoe Square Thru's danced Monday night, August 9, with only a few in attendance, but a good dance enjoyed by that few. Dancers from the Littlefield Circle-8 club and from Clovis outnumbered the local dancers. Mr. and Mrs. Hade Walling of Clovis, had as their guest, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Secor of Spokane, Washington.

Joe Secor is a caller and called a tip for the dancers. Did a fine job. Our club caller, Eddie Gunnells, was at his usual best also. The host couples for Monday night's dance was Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ellington and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Copeland. They served tea, coffee, and cookies. It seems that the door prize wasn't easy to give away, as several children got a chance to draw a lucky number and finally Ed Gunnells drew and a lucky dancer from Littlefield claimed it.

The Littlefield club took our banner. They will present a float in their Festivities days parade and will feature area clubs banners on it, that still means we'll have to go get it after the parade on one of their regular dance nights. The Carl Ellingtons danced at Littlefield last Thursday night.

The Square Thru's had a swimming party last week and then enjoyed ice cream and cake at the Curby Brantleys. I think the majority of the swimmers cooled off in a hurry and may vote for a wiener roast next year.

This weekend will find several of the Square Thru families in Ruidoso for the Square Dancing Weekend. Top callers will be featured and the local dancers are anticipating a great time.

Our club caller, Ed Gunnells, will be calling a dance at the Bovina Bull Town Days next Friday night, August 20. We have had in the past two years a square of square dancers that have placed in the contest. This is a street dance with a free BBQ and lots of good visiting and dancing. Then on Saturday, August 21, Eddie will be calling along with Leroy Coffee and Bobby Graham of Clovis at the Sears parking lot in Clovis. The dance will be in conjunction with a big sale inside Sears. Lets all plan to go, and vie for the big door prize, from 7:30-10:30 New Mexico time.

The next regular dance will be held August 23. The Muleshoe Square Thru's invite all of you to come out, to dance or to just visit with us.

Disabled Vets To Get Free License Plates

Austin . . . Little notice during the 62nd Legislature was the passage and signing into law on May 19, 1971, by Governor Preston Smith of House Bill 615, which amends the Texas Motor Vehicle Registration Law to provide free license plates for certain disabled veterans according to Gil Moody, Commander, The American Legion, Department of Texas.

To qualify for the free plates, an applicant must:

1. Be a Texas resident
2. Be a veteran of the Armed Forces of the United States.
3. Have a disability rating of 70% or more.
4. Be drawing compensation from the federal government as a result of a service-connected disability.

Passage of the bill had the full backing of the American Legion, who noticed that many other states had such special laws for its native veterans. State Representative Lindon Williams of Galena Park who also serves as Legislative Chairman of the Texas Legion wrote and sponsored the bill through the House. It was sponsored through the Senate by Senator James P. Wallace of Houston.

"Under this new law, a qualified veteran is entitled to register, for his own personal use, one passenger car of light commercial vehicle having a manufacturer's rated carrying capacity of one (1) ton or less, without payment of the prescribed annual registration fee. Specially designed license plates will be issued, with the letters 'DV' appearing as either a prefix or suffix to the license number. The words 'Disabled Vet' will appear on the plates, also, Commander Moody added.

Vehicles displaying the 'Disabled Vet' plates will, also, be exempt from the payment of parking fees, including those collected through parking meters, charged by any governmental authority other than a branch of the federal government.

Although this law became effective when signed by the Governor, the free license plates will not be available until the 1972 Registration Year, since the bill provides that the disabled veteran must make application for such plates by October 1st preceding the Registration Year for which requested.

All of the 'Disabled Vet' plates will be issued directly from the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department, in Austin. Each application must be accompanied by the statutory fee of One Dollar ($1.00). As a prerequisite to the issuance of the plates, the applicant's disability rating must be verified by the Veterans Administration or the branch of the armed forces through which the veteran draws his disability compensation. A space for this verification will be provided on the application form. Also, Texas title to the vehicle must be issued in the name of the veteran before the application for 'Disabled Vet' plates will be approved.

Commander Moody indicated that application forms and in-

Congressman Bob Price

Congressman Bob Price announced Friday that Senator Barry Goldwater has added a stop in the Panhandle to his busy speaking schedule this fall. The former Presidential candidate will appear on September 18 at the Amarillo Civic Center. "Senator Goldwater has always had many friends and supporters in the Panhandle. They have frequently asked me to invite him back, and for that reason I am extremely grateful that the Senator has agreed to visit our area again," Price said.

The Arizona Senator was first elected in 1952 and was re-elected in 1953. In 1964 he was Republican candidate for President and won a majority of the vote in the Panhandle. He was elected to his present term in the Senate in 1966.

Free Speech: The Outer Limits

At a large public meeting not long ago, about 25 dissenters stationed themselves near the back of the hall to heckle the speaker. Shouting slogans in unison, they made him almost inaudible to many members of the audience.

Someone asked an usher whether anything could be done. "Not a thing," he replied gloomily. "They're just exercising their freedom of speech under the Constitution."

But the usher was wrong about the Constitution. He was making the all-too-common mistake of thinking that whatever is oral is lawful. The freedom of speech guaranteed by the Constitution does not mean that at all. Many kinds of oral conduct are unlawful.

- Here are some examples:
- 1) a moviegoer, just for kicks, yells that the theater is on fire;
  - 2) an envious spinster falsely informs the man next door that his wife is having an affair with the milkman;
  - 3) a hardware dealer, selling a stapler he knows is defective, tells the customer it is safe;
  - 4) a drunk warbles "Sweet Adeline" outside a hospital window at midnight.

Each of these actions is oral—and each is unlawful. Furthermore, they were unlawful when the Constitution was adopted. So is the deliberate disruption of a public meeting, whether by shouting slogans or blowing whistles or ringing cowbells.

What the Constitution does guarantee is the freedom that really counts: the freedom to express and advocate ideas, however unpopular.

In fact, it is to safeguard this primary freedom that the law imposes reasonable limits on the time, place, and manner of speech.

Judge Curtis Bok once put the matter in a nutshell: "In the whole history of law and order, the longest step forward was taken by primitive man when, as if by common consent, the tribe sat down in a circle and allowed only one man to speak at a time."

It is this kind of common sense that enables a free society to function. It is what the law is all about.

Industrial Award Deadline August 13

AUSTIN, Tex. - - - Entry deadline for the Texas industrial expansion awards, to be announced at the Oct. 13-14 Governor's Conference on Industrial Expansion, has been set for August 13.

More than 30 industries, nominated by local chambers of commerce, have been submitted for the five prizes, awarded on the basis of corporate expansion and contribution to community economy during 1970.

"The conference and awards program are shaping up as a most impressive event," said Jim Harwell, executive director of the Texas Industrial Commission. "We hope for entries from every economic and geographic area of the state."

This year's expanded conference, cosponsored by the Commission and the Community Affairs Department of the Governor's Office, will draw national authorities to explore topics ranging from federal industrial programs to housing problems.

Harwell pointed out that industries from communities of all sizes have equal chances in the competition since judges consider degree rather than magnitude of industrial expansion.

Chambers of commerce may obtain entry information and material from Jerry Heare, community director of the Texas Industrial Commission in Austin.

Last year's winners include Celanese Chemical Company of Clear Lake, Friedrich Refrigerators of San Antonio, Johnson Manufacturing of Lubbock, Kilgore Ceramics of Kilgore, Laredo Packing Company of Laredo and Missouri Beef Packers of Friona.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights By Bill Boykin TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex., - - An Austin district court decision invalidating the 1971 House of Representatives redistricting act handed state attorneys and legislative leaders a mountain of unanswered questions.

Atty. Gen. Craford C. Martin is in the process of appealing to the Texas Supreme Court the lower court's decision that the bill's "splitting" of 29 counties into separate districts is unconstitutional. Martin said the appeal is in line with a long-standing policy of his office to advocate the validity of a legislative act until the state's highest court rules on it.

Many high-placed state attorneys feel that if the Supreme Court upholds the August 2 district court finding, the chore of re-doing the job will fall to a five-member Constitutional Board (composed of lieutenant governor, House speaker, attorney general, land commissioner and comptroller).

Constitution says the Board will reappear when the Legislature fails to do so in the first regular session after publication of each U.S. decennial census.

Lawyers hope the High Court will provide guidelines, however, for they are confronted with these questions:

- * Board is directed to meet within 90 days after the Legislature adjourns (before the end of August) and to come up with a redistricting bill within 60 more days (by the end of October). What happens if there is no final Supreme Court ruling by this constitutional deadline?
- * Since the House tried to redistrict and its act was knocked out, would reappointment then be expected in special session of the Legislature? Constitution says the Board will reappear if the Legislature fails to act, but the Legislature did "act" in the case of the House plan, only to have a district court declare its work invalid. No Senate reapportionment bill was passed by the Legislature, so that job automatically falls to the Board.

* Since the 1970 census (on which lawmakers base their reapportionment) was published while the 1971 Legislature was meeting, could redistricting really wait until 1973 when the 63rd Legislature convenes?

AG OPIINNS - - Attorney General Martin held that a new law requiring certain county officials to report to the county money they receive from operating private business on public property is unconstitutional.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

- * Use of automated machines for check cashing at banking houses would not violate Texas laws against branch banking.
- * Education code does not entitle a retired school teacher to return to the classroom and have additional years of teaching service thereafter used in calculating retirement benefits.
- * Motor vehicle tax on rentals is due at the time of payment of rental charges. Legislature did not authorize credit or reimbursement for motor vehicle tax paid on original purchase price, when status of vehicle is changed from lease unit to rental unit.
- * Bill conferring additional jurisdiction on county court of Orange County is constitutional.

SOME AUTO INSURANCE COST CUT - State Insurance Board ordered a 50 percent reduction in premiums of standard property damage auto liability policy where $250 deductible is accepted.

Board further directed a 12 percent cut in basic bodily injury premiums for $250 deductible coverage, up to $500 per accident.

New deductibles authorized by the Legislature this year go into effect August 30. New rates take effect September 1. A statewide increase in liability rates of 2.2 percent already has been recommended with old deductibles. Basic liability coverage is $10,000 per person for bodily injury, up to $20,000 for several victims of one accident and $5,000 for property damage. Company can pay the amount of the total claim and collect the deductible later from the policyholder.

TOURISM STRONG - - Tight money and the drought failed to halt "a strong upward surge" of tourism during the first half of this year, according to Texas Tourist Development Agency.

Agency found business up 11 percent for the January-June period. Thirty-five main Texas tourist attractions, public and private, reported 17.3 million visitors, compared with 15.6 million in the same period for 1970.

Live Steam Museum at Alamo said business was up 97 percent, and Confederate Air Force Flying Museum at Harlingen reported 63 percent increase in visitors. Big Bend National Park visits were up 32 percent; East Texas national forests, 22 percent; Six Flags Over Texas, 18 percent and Padre Island National Seashore, 16 percent. Two-thirds of the visitors were Texans, a third from other states.

HIGHWAY FUND HEARING ASKED - - Gov. Preston Smith seeks a formal hearing before the U.S. Transportation Department to prevent a threatened cut in federal highway aid of 1973.

Failure of the 62nd Legislature to enact legislation to comply with the 1965 highway beautification act (billboard advertising controls and junk yard screening) will bring a cut in federal allocation. Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe has warned.

Absence of such legislation means a 10 percent federal aid reduction for highway construction.

Smith wrote Volpe that evidence can be offered by Texas to warrant a stay of final determination. He asked a formal hearing to present the state appeal.

SCHOOL APPEAL WATCH-ED - - Federal appeal of an Austin U.S. district court decision upholding limited busing to achieve racial balance in public schools met sharp criticism and is being closely watched by other school districts with similar problems to those of the capital city.

Only alternative to the moderate plan, maintained Austin school officials, is forced busing on an even larger scale. President Nixon's statements on the subject, in effect condoning the eleventh-hour appeal through the opposer busing, were hit by U.S. Sen. John Tower and other Texas Republicans as inappropriate and displaying a lack of understanding.

APPOINTMENTS - - Governor Smith named 12 to the Developmental Disabilities Planning and Advisory Council to develop a long-range plan for aiding mentally retarded, cerebral palsied and epileptic.

Dr. George Woolfolk of Prairie View A&M College was named vice chairman of the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission, succeeding John Steen of San Antonio.

Governor appointed to the Texas Cosmetology Commission Frank Joseph of Harlingen, Mrs. LaVonne Daniel of Pasadena, Richard C. Ingram of Dallas, Harold G. Grace of Austin, Herby Cohen of Longview, and James A. McMullen III of Fort Worth.

PROBE DELAYED - - Travis County grand jury investigation of profits by state officials in National Bankers Life Insurance Company stock has been delayed until August 17.

Frank W. Sharp, former head of NBL and Sharpstown State Bank (from which officials got loans to buy stock) has been called to testify at that time. Jury couldn't find Joseph Novotny, former Sharpstown president.

John Osorio, former NBL president, told newsmen he came up with the idea for two controversial bank deposit insurance bills in 1969, and there was no connection between the stock deals and passage of legislation.

This weekend I would like to discuss the contribution our retiring veterans can make to our society and particularly to our overall health care system.

We owe our veterans a great deal. They have made up our first line of defense at posts far from home. Their activities have protected us from the threat of military attack and have served to protect our nation's economic interests throughout the world; and our economic interests enable us to maintain and enjoy a high standard of living here at home. We owe our returning veterans an opportunity for employment and an opportunity to continue their education. We owe them the best possible medical care if they have suffered injury or severe psychological distress. And we owe positive and rewarding contribution to society in civilian life.

In Texas, we have a fine system of veterans hospitals and services which is continually being strengthened and improved.

For example, I am pleased to report that the Veterans Administration hospital which is presently under construction in San Antonio is ten per cent ahead of schedule and that the VA now expects its completion by the end of 1973. This facility will be an extremely valuable addition to the system of veterans' care facilities serving Texas.

While a new hospital is an impressive addition in terms of bricks and mortar, it is meaningless if we are unable to provide proper staffing with an adequate number of qualified personnel.

Our nation currently suffers from an acute shortage of health manpower, and it is imperative that Congress take action to promote health training programs.

I have introduced two measures in the Senate specifically designed to deal with this problem. One would authorize the expenditure of 237 million dollars over the next seven years to be used by the Veteran's Administration to establish five new medical schools. Because of the concentration of veterans in Texas, I am confident that our state would be selected by the VA as the site for one of these new medical schools. This legislation would also offer financial assistance to existing medical schools and other medical training programs affiliated with the VA to enable them to expand their current enrollment.

The other measure would authorize the VA to establish programs designed to assist veterans who have experienced military training in health and medical fields to utilize that knowledge in civilian jobs. Each year, more than 30,000 men and women leave the Armed Forces after having obtained some degree of medical training. With VA programs designed to properly complement and supplement this training, these veterans could rapidly qualify for civilian employment in various health professions. Our civilian health care system needs this additional manpower. Our veterans need employment opportunities. My legislation would encourage relief in both of these problem areas.

Over 15 educational institutions in Texas would be eligible to participate in the programs which would be established by these two pieces of legislation. Recently, I co-sponsored other legislation designed to improve educational benefits for veterans. This legislation would increase the allowance for full-time post-secondary education from 175 dollars per month to 220 dollars per month for veterans, their widows or war orphans. It would also make appropriate adjusted increases for those obtaining education on a part-time basis, and for those striving to improve themselves through vocational education and on-the-job or on-the-farm programs.

Due to inflation and the cost-of-living increases, these improvements in veterans educational benefits are necessary if we are to offer to our current returning veterans the same benefits received by those returning from the Korean conflict.

Our nation must renew its efforts to meet its obligation to assist the veterans in successfully readjusting to civilian life. Educational benefits which keep pace with rising costs of education and living in general is one way of meeting this obligation. Improving available medical services is another way. And improving opportunities for employment is yet another. Where we can couple employment opportunity with meeting growing demands for civilian health care manpower, we are helping everyone.

Mills deplors cost of crime to public.

Billy J. Ford

LOMPOC, Calif. - Billy J. Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Ford of Sudan, is participating in a U.S. Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps (AFROTC) field training encampment at Vandenberg AFB, Calif.

During the encampment, cadets become familiar with the life and activities on Air Force bases and can examine career opportunities in which they might wish to serve as officers. Other highlights of the course include survival training, aircraft and aircrew indoctrination, small arms training and visits to other Air Force bases. Cadet Ford is a member of the AFROTC unit at Texas Technological University at Lubbock. He is a 1969 graduate of Sudan High School.

Higher Temp Storage For Meat Effective

COLLEGE STATION--Storage of carcasses at higher-than-usual temperatures immediately after slaughter is an effective beef tenderizer, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station research shows. Standard procedure, R. L. West of the Texas A&M University Animal Science Department said, is to move the fresh carcasses into cold storage of about 30 degrees.

He said one side from each of 27 steer and 21 slaughter cow carcasses was stored in a 50 to 60-degree cooler for 12, 16, or 20 hours immediately after killing before being chilled down to 30 to 32 degrees. Companion sides from the animals, designated as controls were chilled at 30-32 degrees for the entire 48-hour period of the experiment.

Tests revealed that steaks from steer carcasses stored for 20 hours at the higher temperature were significantly more tender and rated higher in overall eating satisfaction than those from the control sides, West said.

However, he noted that steaks stored for only 12 hours at the higher temperature were not as flavorful as those from the controls.

As for the cow carcasses, all the steaks from the higher temperature sides were significantly more tender than those from the controls. Groups from the 12 and 24-hour storages had considerably higher overall satisfaction scores. West said the tests also indicated that longer storage periods at higher temperatures are required for tenderness improvement in carcasses from younger animals, and less time is needed for carcasses from mature animals.

It's easy to get the idea that no one should interfere with your business.
