Thirty cubic feet of paper money is a big pile of money and not often seen in a bunch. That is the size of the pile that was paid into the New York sub-treasury the other day by R. T. Wilson & Co., the Wall street bankers, in payment for the bonds of the Cherokee nation, which were recently awarded to them after a long legal fight. The money was in all sorts of denominations, from $10 bills to $1000, and amounted in all $6,740,000. The money will remain in the sub-treasury subject to the order of the Cherokee nation. It is to be divided amongst them per capita, and as the nation is not very large there will be a comfortable sum for each.
