City To Get Riot Equipment

Library Hours Also Slated By Council

The Muleshoe City Council met Tuesday morning, December 7, in regular session at 8:30 a.m. in the City Hall. Present were Mayor Irvin St. Clair, Kenneth Heathington, Lindal Murray, Alex Williams and City Manager Albert Fields.

Also present at the meeting was Herb Rammage who requested permission of the council for Poyner's White Store to construct a metal building to be an automotive center on the lot behind Poyner's, Mayor St. Clair said that the fire ordinance would have to be checked out and told Albert Field to investigate the matter.

Chairman of the Library Board, Joe Harbin, was also present and discussed the library opening hours with the city council. It was mentioned in the past that the library would be open 40 hours a week.

City Manager Albert Field commented that not all of the equipment is in the library at this time, but he felt it was possible that the library could be opened within a week.

New hours tentatively established by the council are 11 to 6 on weekdays and 9 to 2 on Saturdays.

Joe Harbin also pointed out that the council has helped to provide good library service and everyone expects that with the opening of the new library, book circulation should increase with the new facilities.

There is to be a suggestion box put in the library for anyone to drop in written suggestions on how the hours are working out.

The council approved payment to Bill McManis for park engineering services in the amount of $1,647.36. Also approved payment of $20,929.50 to Jake Diel for park paving.

The council approved a $190 payment for soil testing at the location of the new sewage treatment plant.

Councilman Alex Williams made a motion that was subsequently seconded and passed that all advertising signs on city property should be maintained.

Payment for these advertising signs on city property was also discussed. The signs are to be 25 feet back from the city property line. For each sign, each leasee must plant ten Arizona Cypress trees ten feet apart and pay $25 a year. These trees are to be five feet high at the time planted.

The council voted to replant a portion of the Country Club Addition in order to straighten up Houston and Ethica Streets.

The council transferred a delinquent account in the amount of $36.86 to bad debts.

Bids were opened on a 1972 pickup to be used for the water sewer department. Muleshoe Motor Company's bid was $2713.31 and Crow Chevrolet's

BAC Reviews '71 Activities

The Businessman's Activities Committee of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce met in regular session Tuesday, December 7, in the Muleshoe State Bank Community Room at 10 a.m.

Chairman Bob Stovall opened the meeting and Mrs. Henry Stoneham read the minutes of the previous meeting.

R.A. Bradley reported on the Christmas tree that the BAC brought to Muleshoe last week. The tree was cut at Cloudcroft, N.M. and brought back by Bradley and Harold Cowan. It stands 55 feet tall and is a Douglas Fir.

Jerry Hutton, manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce reported on the Christmas parade to be held Saturday afternoon. He reported that there are seven floats entered along with other parade entries.

Rev. Walter Bartholf reported to the committee on the progress of the new city park now under construction. He stated that the sprinkler system has been installed and the paving on the parking area finished. He also said that part of the lake has been dug and that playground equipment will soon be arriving.

Grass will be planted in the area in the spring.

This was Stovall's last meeting to preside over as the new chairman. Lyndal Murray, has been elected by the BAC Steering Committee. He will assume duties the first of January. Stovall thanked his fellow workers for helping him in making the CHRISTMAS TREE GETS DECORATIONS...With the help of Bailey County Electric employees, the 55 foot Christmas tree at the Mule Memorial was adorned with lights and decorations this week. The Douglas Fir was brought to Muleshoe by the Businessman's Activities Committee of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce. Several hundred lights will decorate the tree which will soon be lighted for the holiday season.

Outstanding Young Farmer To Be Chosen

The Outstanding Young Farmer of the Muleshoe area will be named within a short time, according to Dr. Jim Tucker, chairman of the Jaycee sponsored event. He said that applications and entries are being accepted at this time and the deadline date will be announced shortly.

A survey of farmers between the ages of 21 and 35 will be climaxed with the naming of the Muleshoe area's Outstanding Young Farmer of 1971-72.

"The sole purpose of the OYF project is to build better urban-rural relations by increasing urban understanding of the farmer, his life and his problem," Tucker stated. And it is our hope that the OYF program will result in a better understanding and appreciation of the role the farmer plays in our daily lives."

The Jaycees, under Tucker's direction, will interview the young farmers and from their reports a panel of judges will select the winner. His identity will be announced during a special farmer recognition program. Tucker stated that the recognition given these young men by the local Jaycee chapter has brought about a better and lasting understanding of their problems as well as their achievements and their contributions to their communities.

Also serving with Tucker on the Outstanding Young Farmer project are Monty Dollar and Bruce Little.

Pheasant Hunt To Be Held This Weekend

The Pheasant Hunt, sponsored by the Muleshoe Jaycees, will be held this weekend, December 11 and 12, according to chairman James Brown. Final plans have been made and the first 75 hunters to sign up for each day will be the only ones allowed to hunt on Jaycee leased land. The area will be heavily stocked with pheasant before the hunt.

The hunters will be taken out to the leased property by the Jaycees each morning one hour before sunrise. If any of them does not kill bird or get his limit that morning, the Jaycees will take him out again at 4 p.m. that afternoon. The hunters will meet at the Dinner Bell Restaurant one hour before sunrise on both Saturday and Sunday mornings.

At the regular meeting Monday, Jim Tucker reported on the progress of the Outstanding Young Farmer that will be sponsored by the Jaycees. Entries are now being accepted from the area young farmers.

December 22 will be the Family Social Christmas Party. This is planned for the kids of Jaycees.

Gary Glover reported that the Jaycee float is now complete and ready for the parade Saturday.

Jaycees attending the noon meeting at Leal's Restaurant were Bob Finney, Derrell Oliver, John Martin, Curtis Walker, Monty Dollar, Frosty Jones, Dick Chitwood, Don Barnes, Doyce Turner, Joe Pattie, Wayne Peterson, Ronnie Gustin, John Gentry, Hugh Young, Bob Stovall, Paul Wilbanks, Joe Bob Stevenson, Bruce Little, Max King, Mac Brown, Jim Tucker, James Brown, Glen Watkins, Ken Gentry, Duane Seay, Tommy Black, Jerry Hutton, Smitty Aylesworth, Don Heb, Corky Green, Gene McGuire, Marshall Lee, Ronnie Spies, Jerry Harrison, Clarence Christian, and Bill Russell.

Guests were Rayburn Ott and Derrell Mason.

With snow still on the ground and more expected this week, farmers are still waiting to get their cotton strippers into the fields for the harvest.

The fields are still too muddy from last week's snow to hold machinery but as of yet, no damage has been reported to the cotton from the inclement weather.

Earl Richard at the Muleshoe Co-op Gin reports that all cotton operations are at a standstill at the present time but should begin in full force as soon as the fields dry up. He reports that cotton prices are going up a little with the price ranging from 25 and a half cents to 27 and a half cents. This year's harvest has just begun with less than a third of the crop being harvested at this time.

Jimmy Presley at the Progress Gin reports that he has ginned just over 300 bales so far this year. He also reports that some cotton has been contracted for 25 cents.

Unfavorable weather halted all cotton harvest activities on the South Plains and sample receipts at the four U.S.D.A. Cotton Classing Offices dwindled to a few hundred on Friday, according to W.K. Palmer, in charge of the U.S.D.A. Cotton Classing Office in Lubbock.

The U.S.D.A. Classing Office at Lubbock, Brownfield, Lamesa and Levelland classed 79,000 samples during the week ending Friday, December 3rd, bringing the season's total to 134,000. At this date last year the four offices had classed 1,073,000 samples of the 1970 crop.

This is one of the latest cotton harvests on record with still was $2672. Alex Williams made a motion to amend the water and sewer fund to purchase a Chevrolet pickup. It was seconded by Heathington and 11 the members voted yes.

The council discussed the purchase of some riot control equipment in conjunction with the county. The city portion would be approximately $600 for approximately $2400 worth of equipment.

Mayor St. Clair proposed that in order to raise necessary funds, the city turn back a radar unit for which they are paying $50 a month for lease.

The council asked Harrold White, City Chief of Police, why the radar was not being used more. White stated that although the radar was not being used as much as it should it was being used at the school crossing. The council wanted to know how much of the time he was using it. White said eight to ten hours a week at the school crossing.

Councilman Alex Williams inquired as to why more tickets were not being given to more speeders on American Blvd. and Avenue D. Chief White replied that the police department probably should be giving out more tickets instead of talking to the people.

Alex Williams commented that cars on American Blvd. seem to be going in excess of the speed limits. White said that this was true and that Williams would see more speeders in his car and he would see more in his car than the officers would in police cars.

Mayor St. Clair explained that one year's rental on the radar would pay the city's portion of the riot equipment.

A discussion followed pertaining to the riot equipment and Chief White commented that while the police department would not use all the riot equipment in day to day activities, the riot program is itself a reasonable planning program to co-ordinate riot plans.

"We can acquire," Chief White explained, "good equipment at reasonable prices and in order to participate in the regional riot plan, we have to have adequate equipment." White said that there were not too many items that could not be used in the daily police force activities. Items not used would be grenades, tear gas, gas masks and riot helmets.

Alex Williams made the motion to approve the resolution to participate in a regional riot control program and to purchase special riot equipment. Kenneth Heathington seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

Mayor St. Clair concluded with that the radar equipment should be used or should be sent back. The mayor stated "I am against someone standing on a corner handing out tickets, however, traffic danger points should be controlled."

If city tags are on a dog that is picked up, owners can be notified that the animal is in the city pound.

Dog owners that do not keep dogs under control and vaccinated, are subject to a fine of $200, according to the new dog catcher, Dave Watts.

In the last four operating days, Dave Watts has picked up 15 dogs. Most of them were caught by baiting them with meat.

HOLIDAY DECORATIONS...Mrs. Hazel Cunningham is shown above with some of the many decorations she has made for her home to be used during the coming holiday season. The oil painting and the toll-painted butter mold were painted by Miss-Glenana Raney.

Mrs. Cunningham Prepares Decorations For Christmas Season

Christmastime is a season of many preparations; baking, candymaking, Christmas shopping and decorating.

With the coming of Christmas season, Mrs. Hazel Cunningham is busy preparing for the holidays. Mrs. Cunningham makes many decorations for her home and for gifts to her family and friends.

For her Christmas table, Mrs. Cunningham has made a green felt table cover decorated with felt sleigh and reindeer, Santas and bells, and edged with red and white braid.

The Christmas tree will be adorned with a red felt tree skirt featuring felt Santa, sleigh and reindeer, Christmas trees, bells and snowmen, all outlined with sequins. She has made all her tree decorations by decorating hair spray can lids.

A kissing ball, complete with mistletoe, was made from medicine cups edged with green glitter which have been attached to a red styrofoam ball. It will be suspended from the ceiling with a red velvet ribbon.

Christmas stockings trimmed with sequins will be awaiting Santa on Christmas eve.

Egg cartons, sprayed green have been formed into a Christmas tree lighted with twinkling lights and trimmed with red, green, blue and gold tree ornaments. "A manger scene will be used with the tree," states Mrs. Cunningham.

Mrs. Cunningham has crocheted red, green and white bells complete with jingle bell clappers.

Throughout her home, Mrs. Cunningham will use several centerpieces featuring Christmas flowers and candles. One of the centerpieces, made from silver tinsel, will be lighted with twinkling lights.

She has made a large yarn snowman, crocheting all the features and topping it with a crocheted black felt hat.

Mrs. Cunningham will decorate her doorknobs with crocheted Santas, complete with long, white whiskers.

Mrs. Cunningham has many hobbies and can usually be found working on one of these hobbies during her leisure hours.

Cooking Game

Game meat adds variety to meals and is high in nutritive value, report Extension home economics specialists. The meat is an excellent source of high-quality proteins, fats, minerals, iron, copper, phosphorus and B vitamins.

Fresh and properly handled game meat can be made tender and palatable when cooked by dry or moist heat. But the success of cooked game is determined before the animal is brought home. If a hunter properly cares for the game after it is killed, the homemaker can prepare a savory and nutritious meal.

Market Report

Take advantage of high quality food available this week at economical prices--follow these marketing tips, suggests Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

An abundance of food specials in this week's market places pork as a leader in money value among red meat selections. Pork fanciers should enjoy the wide selections available, including semi-boneless hams, cuts from the shank portion of the regular bone-in ham, rib and pork chops, one-fourth loin cut into chops, whole pork loins, and rib and loin-end roasts.

Beef has taken a back position during the holiday season but adequate supplies are available. Some markets are featuring chuck roasts and steaks, rib roasts, boneless rolled roasts, ground beef and beef liver. Scattered features are on porterhouse, sirloin, T-bone, rib and round steaks.

At poultry counters, egg prices are up a bit in some stores and are likely to continue increasing as more holiday baking gets underway. Nevertheless, eggs are still marked with attractive price tags, since prices have been so low. Fryer chickens are not much in demand, but they are an excellent protein choice, price-wise.

Large displays of apples continue to be in the limelight at fruit counter. Many varieties are available for eating out-of-hand, general cooking or baking. Texas grapefruit and oranges are now in larger supplies and are most economical when bought "by the bag". Other good fruit choices include bananas, tangelos, tangerines, pears and cranberries.

Traditional fall vegetables in good supply include cabbage, carrots, potatoes, dry onions, mustard, collards, and turnip greens along with several varieties of hard shell squash.

Kevin Ross Born To McGehees

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McGehee of Lazbuddie are the parents of a new son born in Lubbock's Methodist Hospital Friday, December 4. The baby weighed eight pounds, six ounces and was 20 inches long. He has been named Kevin Ross. Kevin has two sisters, Lisa and Amy.

Grandparents are Mrs. Alva J. Hudson, Bryan, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. John McGehee, Lazbuddie.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Young children put almost everything in their mouths as they begin teething. This is a natural tendency and is nothing to become alarmed about. There is one thing to be remembered, however, that can prove most harmful, even fatal and that is--lead poisoning.

Most manufacturers of cribs, infant's bed and toys use paints which contain lead pigments. Children chew on window sills, chairs, all kinds of furnishings. It's the mother's job to watch this closely and put a stop to it before harmfulities of hard shell squash.

is done. Lead poisoning affects the child's brain, liver, blood, bones and most of the other vital organs. Even if your child's life is saved, he may show later effects.

If you suspect your child has lead poisoning, call a doctor at once and explain the situation to him.

One can't be too careful in checking the label on Christmas toys--don't buy any toy that doesn't state clearly that the paint is lead free. This simple precaution could save a life.

MR. AND MRS. PAUL ZAHN

Youth Group Sponsors Film

The Llanos Altos Youth Association, the district Southern Baptist Youth organization of this area, will sponsor the showing of THE LOST GENERATION Monday, December 13, at 7:30 p.m., at the Lazbuddie Baptist Church. A member of the Billy Graham film association will be present to present the film.

The latest Billy Graham film, THE LOST GENERATION, features special appearances by Art Linkletter and "Dragnet" star, Jack Webb. Linkletter, whose daughter Diane died as the result of the use of drugs, discusses drug usage in America, and points to what is being done voluntarily by many teenagers to combat the problem. Webb states his views on the role of the police officer and his relationship to the laws of our society.

THE LOST GENERATION, filmed in Eastmancolor by World Wide Pictures, is a probing documentary which takes a close look at the attitudes and morals of the Nation. Location filming was done in Alaska, the Southern states, on the farms and in the small towns of mid-America, and in the dying Haight-Ashbury hippie district of San Francisco.

Larry Shafer, president of the District Association, states that the film is open to the public. Those wishing to attend may meet at the First Baptist Church in Muleshoe at 6:45 p.m. as many will be going in a group and transportation will be provided by the young people and their sponsors.

Reception Will Honor Schoolcrafts

Santa Letter

Thirty Years Ago

Dear Santa:
This coming Christmas eve will you be kind enough to leave besides the toys you have for me, some duplicates for Dad, that he may tinker with his own and play as fathers will on Christmas Day? Then I, for once, won't have to wait for days and days to celebrate!

Epsilon Delta Has Christmas Dinner

The Epsilon Delta Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society met Saturday evening, December 4, at 7:30 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church in Earth for a Christmas dinner. Mrs. Glays Houk, Littlefield, read "The Second Christmas" and Mrs. John Miller gave a Christmas Prayer.

The traditional dinner was served from banquet tables decorated in the holiday decor. Tiny Tim's words "God Bless Us Everyone" was the theme of the occasion. Gifts were exchanged by those present.

Mrs. Joe Costen, president, announced that Alpha State is sponsoring a Chapter in Sweden and each member will have a part in this project. The International Delta Kappa Gamma Convention will be in Houston July 31 to August 6 and Epsilon Delta Chapter will be responsible for decorations and souvenirs for one banquet table.

Approximately twenty-five area members attended this annual dinner meeting. Those attending from Muleshoe were: Mrs. Joe Costen, Mrs. Ed Johnson, Mrs. Jay Harbin, Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. Eric Smith.

Non-essentials take up too much time in life but why be different from everyone else?

ABOUT YOUR HOME

It takes a certain amount of skill and know-how to carve roasts, hams and birds. There's no point in making the job harder by not having the proper tools and a knowledge of the correct way to cut different kinds of meat.

One important requisite is a big platter. Never put the roast, ham or turkey on a small plate surrounded with potatoes, peas and such. It's too much to expect the carver not to slosh under these conditions. Skewers and cords should be removed before the meat is brought to the table.

Roast leg of lamb and ham are more often massacred than any other meat. To carve either of these meats the protruding bone should be on the carver's right, with the bone pointing up. Cut against the grain.

Carving a turkey, a roast chicken or a duck is about the same. Place the bird on the platter breast up, with the legs to the carver's right. Insert the fork at the top of the breast with the prongs straddling the breastbone. First cut off the second joint and drumstick together. Carve these if you like—then remove the wings. Slice the breast meat from the top

Holiday Party Held By AAUW

The Muleshoe Branch of the American Association of University Women met Monday evening, December 6, at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Eric Smith, 1810 Avenue H.

Mrs. Oscar Rudd, President, made announcements relative to tours, insurance and Fellowships sponsored by the AAUW. Mrs. Neal Dillman read the story of "The Littlest Angel" by Tazewell.

The members participated in seasonal games, pantomimes, and charades. Gifts were exchanged in a progressive manner, number one having the right to choose from the total gifts.

In the living room the picture window framed the church scene; in the den the stockings hung by the fireplace; in the second den the white-flocked tree decked with a myriad of ornaments was the focal point. Lighted candles and holiday arrangements were displayed throughout the other rooms.

The hostesses, Mrs. Glen Harlin and Mrs. Eric Smith, served coffee, spiced tea, cheese cake, candies and nuts from the festive table.

Shopping For Christmas Toys

The key to shopping for Christmas toys is to choose them wisely and to select them according to age and interest of the child, reminds Doris Myers, Extension home management specialist at Texas A and M University.

For children under three years old, Mrs. Myers says to avoid toys with sharp or rough edges that might cut or scratch. Don't choose toys with small attachments that could become loose and be put in ears, nose or mouth, such as glass or button eyes or small wheels. Also check for poisonous paints on objects and toxic, heavy breakable toys.

Brightly colored objects that can be hung out of reach but in view are excellent gifts for children under one, the specialist says. Or look for squeak toys; sturdy, nonflammable rattles; washable stuffed dolls with embroidered eyes; colored balls; or cups and other smooth non-breakable objects that can be chewed.

Children one-to two years old are safe with squeak toys and soft stuffed dolls or animals, she continues. Also consider blocks with rounded corners, push-and-pull toys with strings or rounded handles, and nests of blocks.

For the two-to three-year-old child, Mrs. Myers suggests buying wooden animals, push toys, tip-proof kiddie cars and tricycles. Don't forget large crayons; low rocking horses; and box with buckets; shovels and spoons; large peg boards; small chair and table; or simple musical instruments, she adds.

If you're shopping for three-to six-year-old, avoid gifts too heavy for the child's strength, the specialist says. These include electrical toys; poorly-made objects that may come apart, break or splinter; and sharp or cutting toys. Also omit from your gift list highly flammable costumes, ill-balanced mobile toys and shooting or target toys that could endanger eyes.

Some gift ideas for three- and four-year-olds are small brooms and carpet sweepers, toy telephones and dolls with simple wrap-around clothing, Mrs. Myers suggests. Doll buggies and furniture, dishes, trucks and tractors, non-electrical trains, drums and building blocks are also safe gift ideas.

The child four-to six-years of age is safe with simple construction sets, paints and paint books, modeling clay or doll houses and furniture. The specialist adds that other safe toys for this age group include skip ropes, small sports equipment, paper doll sets with blunt scissors, blackboard and dustless chalk, and flame-resistant costumes.

Those attending were Miss Virginia Bowers, Mrs. Oscar Rudd, Mrs. Neal Dillman, Mrs. Tom Jinks, Mrs. Robert Hooten, Mrs. Mabel Wolfe, Mrs. Kenneth Powell, Mrs. Ed Johnson, Mrs. Joe Costen, Mrs. John Watson, Mrs. John Gunter, Jr., Mrs. Jim Shafer, and Mrs. Jack Rennels.

Peanut Butter Has Protein

The protein in peanut butter is of higher quality than most vegetable proteins and is a good supplementary food to include as often as possible in menu planning, according to Frances Reasonover, Extension foods and nutrition specialist.

Peanut butter also ranks near the top of the food list in energy, fats necessary for body balance, phosphorus, thiamine and niacin, she says.

Whole or halved peanuts can decorate the top of a butter-scotch pie, other desserts and salads. And peanut butter can be used in soup, sauces, mashed potatoes, gravy and milkshakes.

Baked goods that can be made with peanut butter include pies, biscuits, muffins, rolls, cakes, cupcakes, coffee cakes, brownies and cookies.

For something new and different, a peanut butter pie crust might be a hit with the family. Use 1 cup sifted flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup shortening, 3 tablespoons peanut butter and 2 to 3 tablespoons cold water. Cut shortening and peanut butter into salted flour. Add just enough water to form dough into a soft ball. Wrap in wax paper and chill about 15 minutes. Roll and shape into fluted crust.

Bake 10 to 15 minutes in a 400 degree oven. For the filling, try a peanut butter chiffon, vanilla, chocolate or butterscotch pudding. Garnish with finely chopped peanuts.

Or, a chocolate peanut butter milk shake will please children. To make four cups; blend or use a face-to-face dialogue with electric mixer to smooth one pint of vanilla ice cream and a half cup cream peanut butter. Gradually add two cups of milk. Then stir in a half cup of instant chocolate flavored mix and serve.

Congress Of Parents And Teachers Holds Annual State Convention

The Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers has concluded its 62nd annual state convention and thoroughly shattered its old image of a cookie-baking bunch of school carnival sponsors.

The more than 3,000 Texas PTA delegates and their guests meeting in Dallas tackled issues like school financing and the property tax, prayer in the public schools, U.S. prisoners of war and the multi-sided busing situation in Texas.

Two resolutions passed by the group recommend support for constitutional amendments to prevent assignment of students to schools on the basis of race, creed or color and to preserve the neighborhood school concept.

A third resolution backed the majority of San Antonio school districts against the possibility of consolidation by the federal courts. Edgewood Independent School District, also in Bexar County, is seeking establishment of a county-wide taxing agency for school financing, charging that the present district system discriminates against low-income districts.

Another resolution approved by delegates also supports the local school district concept, as opposed to state control. A proposed amendment stressing quality education in integrating neighborhood schools was defeated.

The group voted to write Harbin in support of U.S. prisoners of war, to back a constitutional change putting "freedom to pray" back in the public schools, to study the federal court system and to seek designation of a postage stamp commemorating the 75th anniversary of the National PTA.

Breaking tradition, Texas PTA President Mrs. Jean Harris of Agua Dulce moved to the floor of the convention hall for To make four cups; blend or use a face-to-face dialogue with electric mixer to smooth one pint of vanilla ice cream and a half cup cream peanut butter. Gradually add two cups of milk. Then stir in a half cup of instant chocolate flavored mix and serve.

The group heard an array of distinguished speakers including Dr. John W. McFarland, dean of the School of Education, University of Texas at El Paso; Dr. Bernice M. Moore of the Hogg Foundation for Mental Health, UT Austin; Dr. W.C. Newberry, director of secondary education, Southwest Texas State University; Lt. Col. O.H. Entwistle Jr. of Vienna, Va., representative of the National PTA, and Dr. Andrew Holt,

Oranges Are Tops In Citrus Fruits

Oranges top the list in popularity of all citrus fruits in U.S. households, report Extension foods and nutrition specialists at Texas A and M University. According to a nationwide consumer survey conducted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, nine out of 10 homemakers reported using fresh oranges and orange juices in a one-year period. Seven out of 10 used fresh grapefruit and lemons during the same period.

Homemakers interviewed in the survey indicated that they thought oranges were the best of the citrus fruits for health, taste and family appeal. They considered grapefruits as good for health, low in calories and high in Vitamin C, and lemons as good for flavoring.

The easiest way to finish a hard job is to get to work. After a start is made, the finish is near at hand.

Mrs. John Gunter, music teacher at the Bula school, will present her pupils in a Christmas recital on Sunday afternoon Dec. 12, at 3 pm.

To visit in the V.C. Weaver home the past week were a grandson, Bob Huffman, a Senior at the University in Austin, and a granddaughter, Mrs. Diane Woshomurka, and girls, Amy Lena, from Lubbock.

Both boys and girls drove to Lazbuddie Tuesday night for basketball games. Bula boys and girls won both games.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.--House Speaker Gus Mutscher's bribery trail switched abruptly from Austin to Abilene, with February or March now the expected date.

With both the defense and state filing rival motions for change of venue, Austin District Judge Tom Blackwell concluded extensive publicity in the capital city area made a transfer of the case advisable.

He sent it to the 104th district court of Judge J. Neil Daniel in Taylor County, along with indictments of co-defendants Rep. Thomas C. Shannon of Fort Worth and S. Rush McGinty of Austin, a Mutscher aide.

Defense attorneys had contended widespread news coverage made a fair trial of the speaker in the Central Texas area impossible. The indictment grew out of Mutscher's and co-defendant's 1969 profits on National Bankers Life Insurance Company stock. State alleges he received the stock tips and loans for purchases in exchange for helping pass bank deposit insurance legislation favored by Houston Banker Frank Sharp.

Travis County District Attorney Robert O. Smith turned the defense argument around. He said Mutscher has so much power in Austin, where many citizens work for the state, that finding a jury free to give the state's case open consideration there may be difficult.

Blackwell didn't buy either argument entirely, but conceded Austin newspapers, radio and television stations had covered the case rather enthusiastically since last January. Further, he stated the coverage blanketed counties surrounding the capital city.

Mutscher said he was satisfied with Abilene as the trial site.

"The only thing that we have ever asked is that we be afforded a fair trial," Mutscher commented after the brief court hearing. "I felt that the citizens of Taylor County will afford us an ample opportunity to establish my innocence."

Along with Daniel went a stack of defense pre-trial motions, including on to quash the indictment. Mutscher's attorney predicted a February or March trial date. January 10 had been set originally.

DRUG REFUNDS DUE--Texans who filed valid claims under an anti-trust case may receive up to 60 percent refunds on purchases of broad spectrum antibiotic drugs purchased during 1954-66.

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin said refunds will be made probably no later than March, 1972.

Tax supported hospitals and other state agencies which bought the antibiotics will share in the $4.6 million recovery against five large drug companies named in the anti-trust suit. The U.S. Supreme Court denied the companies' last appeal October 12.

Martin and his staff are working on an allocation formula. A New York federal court will hold a hearing after notice to all claimants, hopefully in January.

The drug case is the pioneer "treble damage" anti-trust case allowing individual consumers to be represented by the Attorney General and recover damages for overcharges paid as a result of price-fixing conspiracies.

LEGAL OPINIONS--Candidates who moved into new districts before November 7 (a year prior to the 1972 general election) are eligible to run for House and Senate seats in those districts. Secretary of State Bob Bullock held in an opinion prepared as chief state election officer.

Atty. Gen. Martin released a long list of opinions including the following:

*The time natural gas is produced under "take or pay" purchase contracts actuates accrual of production taxation on deficiency payments. The total price paid under contracts is the measure of the market value, based on the tax rate in effect at the time of actual production.

*Potter County may not legally employ a flagman at a railroad crossing on a county road, but services can be performed by a traffic officer or a signal light and bell may be provided under county contract.

*Commissioners court or boards of district judges need not give notice of an official meeting to appoint or employ a public officer or employee.

*The Court of Criminal Appeals presiding judge is to receive a $33,500 a year annual salary, just $500 more than other judges of the court are paid.

*The Department of Corrections can buy and maintain an airplane.

*Parker County Hospital District can be charged with a portion of attorney's fee for defending two tax injunction suits to restrain collection of taxes.

APPOINTMENTS--Gov. Preston Smith designated his former aide, V. Larry Teaver of Lubbock, chairman of the State Board of Insurance. Smith emphasized Teaver's role as "consumer representative" on the board and his concern for curbing rates.

Smith appointed Kountze insurance agency owner John Blair to succeed William P. Hobby Jr. of Houston on the Texas Air Control Board.

Governor placed Charles W. Woodridge of Dallas on the Trinity River Authority board of directors.

Smith picked as his acting press secretary 26-year-old Carlton Carl, a native of Houston.

Dr. Stanley Burnham of the University of Texas at Austin is chairman of the Governor's Commission on Physical Fitness. Albert A. Rooker, also of UT-Austin, is executive director.

Donald Eastland of Hillsboro will serve as acting chairman of the State Judicial Qualifications Commission.

A 26-member State Advisory Council on Alcoholism has been named to advise on a state plan for combating alcoholism. SPANISH TREASURE APPRAISED--Appraisers have completed the preliminary process of putting a value on treasures recovered from four-century old shipwrecks off Padre Island.

Final reports will go to Federal District Judge Reynaldo Garza of Brownsville who directed the appraisal be made as the result of a lawsuit.

Platoro Inc., the Indiana firm which recovered the treasure in 1967, seeks title to at least half the artifacts. The state claims all of them, and has threatened to take its case for possession to the U.S. Supreme Court.

POLITICAL FIELD EXPANDS--Dallas attorney Barefoot Sanders stepped into the U.S. Senate race, slugging from the opening bell at Republican Sen. John Tower.

Sanders, 46-year-old former federal district attorney, U.S. assistant attorney general and White House aide, is the first Democrat to announce for the Senate.

W.L. (Bill) Jones Jr., Odessa businessman, entered the Democratic primary for lieutenant governor and set up campaign headquarters here.

SAFETY TIPS OFFERED--Texas Safety Association warns holiday tipplers that 70 driving drunks may end up dead in traffic crashes.

Along with the verbal warning, TSA sent out charts showing how much alcohol by weight a driver can consume before reaching the state legal "drunk" test level of .10 percent blood alcohol concentration.

"The motorists of Texas, for their sake and the sake of their passengers need to recognize the potential dangers during the upcoming holiday season. They need to be alert, ready to take evasive action," said TSA.

United States Senate COMMITTEE ON ARMED SERVICES

This week I have devoted the majority of my attention to acting as a Senate floor manager for the important Economic Stabilization Act which is vital to the current program for returning to a healthy economy relatively free of the burdensome inflationary pressures which had built up over the past several years. I am acting as minority floor manager for the bill, which I offer on October 19 on behalf of the President, because of my position as ranking Republican member of the Senate Banking Committee.

We are all aware of the consistent problem that inflation has posed for this country in the 1960's and 70's and of the problem it has posed for maintaining a stable price structure, for making informed business and personal decisions, and for the meeting of expenses of persons living on fixed incomes, principally our elderly population. The deleterious effects of inflation on Americans and the American economy are very pervasive and very difficult to measure in quantitative terms, but it is quite evident that we would be substantially economically better off without a high rate of inflation, and that we should take appropriate governmental actions to reduce the level of inflation.

The President's actions on August 15 marked a significant change in policy in this regard; until that time, since the dismantling of the Korean war economic control, the only policy weapons that were used or thought to be needed were fiscal and monetary actions designed to keep the supply of credit tailored to production-demand conditions and to stimulate economic expansion when unemployment increased. However, inflationary expectations that have been built up over the last decade were not affected by mere financial policies of the government; witness the increases in such prices as labor costs and interest rates over the 1960's in the face of more than an adequate supply of these respective factors, and in spite of monetary and fiscal policy to the contrary.

Consequently the President determined that wage and price controls had to be invoked temporarily in order to attack the problem of inflationary expectations directly. Although no one is particularly anxious to see this type of economic control imposed, the country has generally accepted the temporary necessity of this action and I believe will continue to support the President in the program to knock out inflationary expectations. Monetary and fiscal policy can again serve to keep inflation under control, when the extraordinary inflationary expectations our economy has experienced in recent years have been flattened out by the present controls program.

In the bill reported to the Senate, the wage and price control authority granted to the President in the Economic Stabilization Act is extended for one year past its present expiration date of next April 30. This extension is called for now because the country needs to know whether Congress means to stand by this grant of authority over the period of time controls will be needed. Even though some decontrol has already occurred and will continue to occur before the end of next April, some controls will almost certainly need to be continued for a while beyond that time.

The bill devised by the Committee is basically a good one. It does not create any kind of partisan advantage or disadvantage for any group. It objectively addresses itself to the resolution of the very grave economic ills which confront our country.

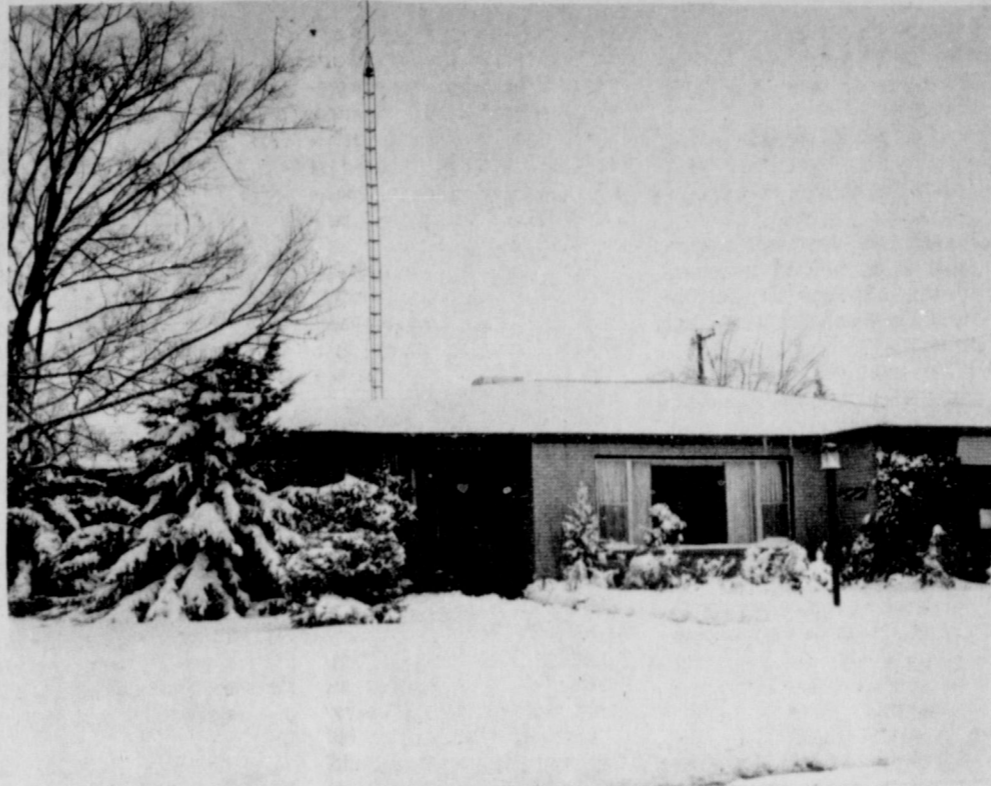

In addition to the one year extension of authority to control prices, rents, wages and salaries, for the President to exercise if he deems necessary the new bill also includes authority to stabilize interest rates and dividends. It sets certain standards and limitations to be observed by the Administration in the application of any controls; establishes enforcement provisions including a $5,000 criminal fine and $2,500 penalty for each violation plus treble damages for civil suits based on violations.

The Committee debated the issues involving this legislation extensively. After thorough hearings, the Committee held no less than six executive sessions to debate certain aspects of the bill and specific amendments suggested by Committee members. Some of these amendments were adopted by the Committee and it is my view that the bill as reported by the Committee is, overall, an improvement upon the legislation specifically requested by the President.

If business firms and other organizations are to know how to plan and budget for the future, and if individuals are to know how to plan their own personal finances, they need to have some firm idea now of whether controls will continue past next April. And it is imperative that the Congress encourage a return to economic health by enacting the Economic Stabilization Act.

ON POSTAL HIKES

Washington -- Postmaster General Winton Blount said a recent report of additional postal rate increases was in error. He said there are no more increases in sight for at least another year.

SNOW SCENE...The home of Mrs. Frankie Black is shown during the recent snow. Trees and shrubs were covered with snow making a scenic effect.

Congressman Bob Price

The young people of today have before them a phase of life which has often been overlooked, that of examining this Nation and its people. "not from the standpoint of what is wrong, but what is right," Congressman Bob Price said Friday.

Speaking to Amarillo College students, Price challenged the students "to identify that which is good and durable in America, that which is worth preserving, that which is worth making great sacrifices to protect."

"When you assume the managerial responsibility for this nation you are certain to be confounded as much by the successes of our system as its failures. You are likely to be dismayed that our national institutions, which have been criticized for being so resistant to change, in fact permitted and even accommodated more change, in fact permitted and than you will be able to deal with in an orderly society," he added.

Price predicted that in the year 2000, Americans will be mining and farming the oceans and will have colonies on the moon. "You will conduct your lives across a greater expanse of territory; yet, one of your severe problems will be dealing with the estimated 6.4 billion human beings who will inhabit the earth."

but I don't think this pertains to anyone to our town, and most children and some adults don't know the reason for this.

If its because of space or ink saving why not out some of the ads or use smaller letters. I'd rather see this than X out Christ. If Christ loved us enough to die for us the least we can do is not try to put his name and him out of the celebration that is suppose to be in his honor.

All for keeping Christ in Christmas. Carolyn Harris P.S. Where is the nativity scene? Why doesn't it at least have a place beside the tree and snowman instead of being put in less seen place as in years past?

Editors comment: The Journal has no control over religious attitude. The nativity scene could possibly be put up this week weather permitting.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

What is the matter with some of the stores in this town?

It is my opinion that some of our good store managers need to be reminded what Christmas is all about. They seem to see it as only a boom season and I'm sure it is, but they are King out the real reason for Christmas, CHRIST.

Christ that came as a small babe in a manger but with a big task ahead. That was to redeem them of their sins.

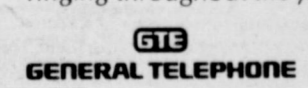

It seems to me that even a non church attending someone would appreciate this enough not to X out his name, and you as editor couldn't you refuse to print any such ad as the recent one using Xmas three times. Maybe a suggestion on your part to change this would be accepted by the advertiser.

Cattle Blood Transfusions Answer To Shipping Fever

LUBBOCK, Texas--Low-cost blood transfusions for cattle may soon help solve the problem of Shipping Fever.

Texas Tech University Veterinarian W. H. Wohler Jr. foresees the use of blood transfusions and infusions to combat the problem one which has been estimated to cost West Texas cattlemen more than $27 million a year.

Dr. Wohler and his Texas Tech associates are working toward improved instruments and processes which will lead to economic collection, treatment, storage and use of the whole blood and blood plasma. This, in turn, could result in transfusions costing as little as one dollar per head. "Considerable progress" has already been made.

"It's one of the most exciting things I have been involved with in a 20-year career in veterinary medicine and livestock production," Dr. Wohler said.

Shipping Fever is a problem "to some degree with nearly all groups of cattle that are transported and at nearly all places where cattle are received. Numerous vaccines have been developed to prevent Shipping Fever and some, if used properly and at the proper time, are of great value. Antibiotics and sulfa drugs are of inestimable value in reducing loss, but none of these has completely eliminated or controlled the problem," the Texas Tech veterinarian said.

The degree of sickness and amount of loss are related to the amount of stress to which the cattle are subjected. On that basis, Dr. Wohler has directed efforts to attempt to scientifically relate the amount of stress as measured by biologic methods to sickness and loss and further to study all the facets of stress in cattle in order to determine how to compensate the animal for the "physiologic derangement" induced.

Work in this area has been supported by Texas Tech University and by private sources and it has been conducted on the Tech campus, at origin locations, and at local area feedlots.

Dr. Wohler and his research associates at Texas Tech have found that stress, in the physiological sense, among other things, produces a blood protein deficit. Such a deficit causes an animal to be vulnerable to infections like Shipping Fever. He suggests that in the case of Shipping Fever, cattlemen might improve their batting average if they treated the underlying cause as well as attempting to combat the infectious organisms (some of which are not susceptible to antibiotics or sulfa drugs).

Once the animal's proper protein level is restored the animal has a much better chance of combatting the disease itself.

The veterinarian believes that among the most effective and most economical preventive procedures and treatments now available are blood injections and blood transfusions.

"Transfusions for livestock are not new," he said. "They have been used in veterinary medicine almost as long as in human medicine."

In the case of feeder cattle the cost of collecting, processing and administering the blood has been prohibitive in the past; but a new simple technique devised by Dr. Wohler allows for economical, sanitary collection of the blood at the packing plant from cattle which have been through the feedlot and are immune to common feedlot diseases. This blood is of particular value because of its chemical and antibody content.

Work is currently in progress to devise methods of treating cattle at a rate upwards of 100 head per hour. The one dollar cost would compare with about $5 per half-pint for serum now used against Shipping Fever.

"Furthermore, since the protein is denatured in the serum commercially available by processing techniques, it lacks the utility of whole blood," he said. The advantage would be that the economy would allow the use of doses large enough to be of value as replacement therapy for the depressed serum proteins as well as providing needed antibodies to fight disease producing viruses and bacteria.

The treatment will not replace other lines of treatment, but rather support and augment them to increase efficiency and reduce costs of production. He said whole blood can be placed into the veins of cattle or injected under the skin with good results.

Shipping Fever, by any standard, is the most troublesome health factor that cattlemen face. It occurs year-round, but is especially hard to handle in the fall.

Dr. Wohler stated other areas of care of newly arrived cattle are also being studied at Texas Tech. "While there is much to be done yet, it is encouraging that information is being accumulated and there are definite signs of progress. Texas Tech is very proud to be moving ahead in this area of much needed research."

Dr. Wohler, who received his veterinary medicine degree in 1951 from the University of Missouri, joined the Texas Tech faculty in 1970 after 13 years of practicing veterinary medicine, ranching and cattle feeding in the Fort Worth area. He was resident veterinarian for three years for a large Angus herd in Missouri.

He is an associate professor of animal science and university veterinarian at Texas Tech.

If you're very good, or very smart, someone will eventually discover it without you bragging about it.

Got A Laugh

The wedding presents were on view. Displayed in a prominent position was a check for $1,000, the gift of the bride's father.

"I say, who is that chap laughing at your father's check?" exclaimed the bridegroom, feeling annoyed. "Oh, that's the bank manager," said the bride.

Cotton Harvest Efficiency

LUBBOCK...Efficiency is something that everybody wants, but few people achieve. Top efficiency can be a reality in cotton harvesting if the operator takes the time to make proper equipment adjustments.

A well-adjusted stripper can harvest up to 99 per cent of the total crop in the field, but to do this all the working parts must be in good condition, according to Dr. Bob Metzger, Extension area agronomist at Lubbock. The machine must be adjusted to fit the individual field conditions and the operator must have the knowledge and desire to make the machine perform properly.

He reminds that brushes, augers, grates, bearings, belts, bushings, and chains should be checked and replaced if worn. The plant lifters and adjustments for header height, row spacing, stripping roll pressure, fan inlet baffles and elevator deflectors should be in good working conditions.

Among the more common reasons for harvest loss is driving the machine too fast. This often results in tagging and inefficient operation. Metzger says the machine must be centered on the rows for top performance; and that harvester and ground speeds must be matched to fit field conditions.

Improper header height can also be a problem.

"In some cases, raising the header only one inch can reduce harvesting efficiency by four per cent," the agronomist explains. It does not take long to feel the bite of inefficiency out of the producer's pocket-book.

Another mistake is entering the row with the header raised or not centered on the cotton plants. Also, bolls are often bounced out the front of the machine after they are stripped. A chain or rubberized curtain can minimize this loss.

A combination of driving too fast and applying insufficient brush pressure on large stalks can cause lowered yields.

"This year, stalks are larger than average, and a high percentage of the bolls are near the base of the stalks," Metzger says, "this makes stripping difficult and generally means that ground speed will have to be reduced to allow better cleaning of the stalks."

The specialist says there are three important things to remember in making equipment adjustments. First, make sure all fruiting parts of the cotton enter the stripping units correctly. Next, see that the cotton is properly removed from the plants; and finally, that the cotton is put into the basket or trailer.

"Once the source of an excessive field loss is determined, it is generally a simple matter to make the needed machine adjustment," Metzger explains.

He emphasizes the importance of harvesting efficiency because the current cotton price is better than in past years and the actual 1971 yield will be used to determine the payment base for 1972-73.

MJHS Basketball Teams Play Friona

By Carey Sudduth

The A team boys traveled to Friona Monday to take on Friona in their first game of the season. The game came out with the Mules losing 42 to 22. The scoring was as follows: Larry Puckett, 6 points; Rene Tores, 6 points; Tom St. Clair, 4 points; Carey Sudduth and Gene Bray, 2 points; Gary Herring and Ricky Grogan, 1 point. The boys will play D. Dimmitt here on Monday December 6.

The Jr. Mullettes played Friona last Friday, the 25 of November. The A team lost their game, but played well, considering they were playing Friona, who were unbeatable last year. At the half, the score was their favor. The game ended with the score 35 to 22 their favor. High pointers were Cynthia Rogers, with 11 points, and Diane Vinson, with 7 points.

The B team won their game 22 to 5. At the half, the score was 16 to 1 our favor. High pointers were Vicki Griffin, with 10 points, and Julia Gomez, with 7 points. The next game will be December 6, at Dimmitt at 5:00.

Snowed In!

by Kacy Sanderlin

Many of us observed the traditional Thanksgiving day feast last Thursday. Also, some of us went to see friends and relatives near and far. And of course for a lot of us there was the parade on television and the football games!

I think that most of us would agree that the holiday was a welcome change, but we were glad to get back to school to see our friends.

Things Kids Do When It Snows

During the snowy days a few Junior High students got together and went to a 20 foot ditch. They made slides down the side, but they didn't slide down sitting down! They would get at the top, lay down on their backs, head first, and slide down!

Out in the country some kids got their dad to pull them behind a pickup while they set on an inner tube.

Deadly Dust
When bugs invaded his field of honeydew melons, a farmer enlisted the services of a crop dusting company. The company promptly sent out a pilot to spray the field. But because of prevailing breezes, the deadly dust drifted to the beehives on a neighbor's farm.

Bees languished and died by the thousands. Result: a damage suit filed against the crop dusting company by the farmer who owned the bees.

In court, the company protested that it could not be held responsible for the vagaries of the weather. Nevertheless, the court granted the farmer's claim. The court pointed out that the pilot, if he had been reasonably careful, would have foreseen the danger and delayed his spraying until the wind died down.

Crop dusting zoomed in popularity after World War II. Surplus airplanes were available. So were surplus pilots. And so were new and potent insecticides. But, like many technological advances, this one has brought legal complications in its wake. Repeatedly, courts have held crop dusters responsible for failing to take reasonable precautions in their work.

One pilot underestimated the carrying power of his spray equipment. Another pilot failed to give fair warning to a neighboring landowner. A third pilot disregarded the special characteristics of the chemical he was using. In each case, a court found enough evidence of negligence to impose legal liability on the company.

In fact, some courts have imposed liability even if the pilot took all the usual safety precautions before spraying. They say that, simply by using such dangerous stuff, the company automatically takes full responsibility for the consequences. Occasionally the plane itself, rather than the chemical, will cause harm. In one case, the sudden gunning of a crop duster's motor threw a flock of turkeys into panic. They hurled themselves against a fence, with many of them perishing.

Was this also the company's fault? A court decided that it was indeed. The judge said the timidity of turkeys was so well known that the pilot should have known what to expect.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Dear editor:
I know that President Nixon is going to have a lot of things on his mind when he visits Red China in February but I sure wish he had time to find out something that's bothering me about that country.
According to an interview I saw on television the other night with two Americans of Chinese extraction who talk English and Chinese fluently and who have just returned from a visit to China, everybody over there or down there I guess I ought to say knows about Mr. Nixon's forthcoming visit.
"I talked with lots of people," one of the men said, "even lots of farmers, and they all know about the coming visit. They know that Dr. Henry Kissinger has visited there twice preparing for the trip. They know he's a brilliant scholar and they're looking forward to the President's visit."
"You mean even the farmers know about it?" the T.V. reporter asked.
"Yes, I talked with lots of farmers, and they all know about it."
The thing I want Mr. Nixon to find out is where abouts on those oxen-drawn plows do the Chinese farmers keep their radios? How do they keep from missing a lot of news while trying to listen to radio and yell at their oxen to gee and haw, however that may be translated into Chinese?
I don't know anything about China, but I understand there are 800 million people living there and two-thirds of them are farmers. What I want to know is, if they all know about Henry Kissinger, how come they never found out about modern tractors?

If two-thirds of the people in the United States were farming instead of 8 percent, there'd be so much food and produce stacked up a man couldn't get his car out of his garage.
I guess you could tie your radio to the handles of a walking plow or around the neck of the off-ox, but still Mr. President I'd like to know,
Yours faithfully,
J.A.

A Circus
A hard-driving taximan ignored a red signal, threatened the traffic policeman's knees, missed the street island by an inch, and grazed a bus, all in one clash.
The policeman hailed him, then strolled over to the taxi, pulling a big handkerchief from his pocket en route.
"Listen cowboy," he growled. "On your way back I'll drop this and see if you can pick it up with your teeth."
