Bills Instead of Checks Received for Potatoes Shipped from Pelican Rapids.

John C. Peterson, the well known citizen of Pelican Rapids, was in the city Thursday on his return from St. Paul where he had gone in connection with the sale of a carload of potatoes. The potatoes was sold some time ago, to a Twin City produce Commission company, and the company had agreed to pay 15 cents per bushel for them aboard the cars at Pelican Rapids. This would have given Mr. Peterson $95 for the carload. When it came to a settlement, however, the company refused to pay the amount agreed, claiming that the car had not arrived on time and it could not dispose of them as expected. Mr. Peterson had paid $15.75 for sacks and $33 for sorting, and the amount which the company tendered him in settlement left him $9 behind. In other words, he gave away the carload of potatoes and was $9 out in addition. He consulted an attorney, but concluded that inasmuch as he would have to sue for the amount due in the St. Paul courts, the cost of the suit would be greater than the amount which he would be able to recover, and will accordingly drop the matter.

Mr. Mills, the Pelican Rapids merchant, shipped two carloads of potatoes to a firm down there some time ago, and instead of receiving a check in payment, he received a bill for $13. This is worse than the Moorhead case, where a grower received $3 for a carload.—Fergus Falls (Minn.) Journal.

EIGHT NEGROES KILLED

EAST TEXAS RACE WAR HOT AND BLOODY.

MILITIA AND RANGERS THERE

Thirty Negroes Are Missing From Neighboring Settlements—No White Men Killed.

Palestine, Tex.—At least eight negroes were killed in a race war in the extreme eastern part of Anderson county Friday night and Saturday, according to the most conservative reports which have reached here from the scene of the disturbance. It was rumored that white men were either killed or injured, but each time the rumor had been authoritatively denied, and it is said that order has been restored and no further trouble is feared. On receipt of the intelligence of the trouble, Palestine officers hurried to the scene. The saloons were closed by the order of the district judge and ammunition stores were forbidden to sell either weapons or cartridges.

In addition to this the authorities communicated with Adjutant General Newton at Austin, in the absence of Governor Campbell, who is in Galveston, and secured the prompt dispatch of three or four rangers to this place and an infantry company of thirty men from Marshall.

Origin of Trouble.

The trouble seems to have started Friday in the community three or four miles south of the small town of Slocum, which is near the Houston County line, and there are several causes which are said to have led up to it. It is declared that the first bad feeling between the whites and blacks was due to the fact that Alford Anderson, a white man, who had indorsed a note for a negro, had to pay the obligation. This was some days since. A few days after that, the report goes, a white man, named James Spurger, was notified to do road work under a negro overseer. Slocum is right on the line between Houston and Anderson counties, and the negro overseer must have been in Houston County, because it is declared here that no negroes have such offices in Anderson County. Spurger's indignant refusal to comply with the order, it is asserted, only added to the gravity of the situation. On top of all this came the discovery according to reliable men in that section, that the negroes were holding secret meetings.

One negro is alleged to have confessed that a plan should have been made to kill Spurger and his family. Another, armed with a shotgun, was seen sneaking up behind Spurger. Some of Spurger's friends shouted to him just in time and he dodged around a house. Then the negro fled, but was tracked down, and when he showed resistance was shot.

Eight Reported Dead.

Luther Hardeman and others who got back Saturday reported that there were eight dead negroes and that the rumor that Mr. Spurger had been killed was not verified. The scene of the trouble is in the eastern part of the county, along the Ion creek, and adjacent to the towns of Priscilla, Denison Springs and Slocum.

Another report which came from F. M. Power of Elkhart, who had just returned from Slocum, was that there are thirty missing negroes; there probably have been 100 to 200 white men hunting for negroes who have been causing trouble.

WENDLING RUN DOWN AT LAST

Alma Kellner's Murderer Arrested in San Francisco—Dragged From Under a Sink.

San Francisco, Cal.—Dragged from beneath a sink in the washroom of a Third street lodging house where he had been hiding for twenty-four hours, Joseph Wendling, accused of the murder of little Alma Kellner, in Louisville, Ky., the man whose twistings and turnings have baffled the police for months, was arrested Saturday by Detectives Burke and Ryan of the local police department. Wendling admitted his identity, but protested his innocence of the crime.

A few hours after the arrest Captain of Detectives J. P. Carney of Louisville arrived to learn that his 11,000-mile search for Wendling had been crowned with success. It was the final telegraphic tip from the Kentucky detective which led to the capture.

In his relentless pursuit of the supposed murderer, Carney many times lost the trail, but the secret of the whereabouts of his quarry always lay with Mrs. Cora Muena, a milliner of Hume, Mo. It was from her home that Carney flashed the information that led to the arrest.

RESTORED TO HEALTH.

After Suffering With Kidney Disorders for Many Years.

Mrs. John S. Way, 209 S. 8th St., Independence, Kans., says: "For a number of years I was a victim of disordered kidneys. My back ached, the legs of the kidney se-constantly, the pers-cretions were irregular and my feet and ankles were badly swollen. Spots often appeared before my eyes and I became very nervous. After using numerous remedies without relief I was completely cured by Doan's Kidney Pills. This seems remarkable when you consider my advanced age." Remember the name—Doan's. SCRATCHED SO SHE COULD NOT SLEEP

"I write to tell you how thankful I am for the wonderful Cuticura Remedies. My little niece had eczema for five years and when her mother died I took care of the child. It was all over her face and body, also on her head. She scratched so that she could not sleep nights. I used Cuticura Soap to wash her with and then applied Cuticura Ointment. I did not use quite half the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, together with Cuticura Resolvent, when you could see a change and they cured her nicely. Now she is eleven years old and has never been bothered with eczema since. My friends think it is just great the way the baby was cured by Cuticura. I send you a picture taken when she was about 18 months old.

"She was taken with the eczema when two years old. She was covered with big sores and her mother had all the best doctors and tried all kinds of salves and medicines without effect until we used Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. H. Kiernan, 663 Quincy St., Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 27, 1909."

The Return of Ferguson.

A night clerk in a hotel sat dozing at his desk at about 1 a. m., when a man in evening clothes came in as if laboriously trying to walk a crack, and said:

"I'm Ferguson; key to room 44."
The guest disappeared in the direction of his room, one flight up. In a few minutes a man in his shirt sleeves with a flattened silk hat on the side of his head, and with one shoe on a foot and the other in his hand, came in and said to the clerk:

"I'm Fershon; key to for-for."
"Mr. Ferguson just took his key and went up."

ANNUAL LOSS IS ENORMOUS

Two Hundred Million Dollars a Year Might Be Added to Wealth of Country.

Computing that there are in the United States at least 300,000 indigent consumptives who should be cared for in charitable or semi-charitable sanatoria and hospitals, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis estimates that the annual cost to the country for the treatment of these persons would be $50,000,000 at the rate of $1.669 per day per patient. At the lowest possible estimate the country loses $200,000,000 a year from the incapacity of these indigent victims of tuberculosis. This would mean a net saving of $150,000,000 a year to the United States if all victims of consumption who are too poor to afford proper treatment in expensive sanatoria were cared for at the expense of the municipality, county or state. And this annual gain does not include the enormous saving that would accrue from the lessened infection due to the segregation of the dangerous consumptives in institutions.

There Should.

Fritz the gardener was a stolid German who was rarely moved to extraordinary language. Even the most provocative occasions only caused him to remark mildly on his ill-luck. Not long ago he came back from the city in the late evening after a hard day in the market place. He was sleepy, and the train being crowded, the baggageman gave him a chair in his roomy car.

Finally the train reached Bloomfield. Fritz still slept as it pulled in and his friend had to shake him and tell him where he was.

"I tanks you," said Fritz, as he rose slowly to his feet. The open door of the car was directly in front of him. He walked straight out of it.

The baggageman sprang to look after him. Fritz slowly picked himself up from the sand by the side of the track, looked up at the door, and said with no wrath in his voice:

"There should here be some steps."

Gifford Pinchot, one of the leaders in the insurgent movement, is the latest entry in the New York state governorship race. Theodore Roosevelt was urged Friday to give his indorsement to the Pinchot boom, but he refused to give any promise to the friends of the deposed chief of the forestry bureau.

The working girls of Houston will soon have a new home, which will cost approximately $50,000, if the present plans of certain philanthropic persons are carried out.

The coroner's jury impaneled to inquire into the death of Ira G. Rawn, late president of the Monon Railroad, returned an open verdict Friday night at Chicago and found he died from a shot fired from his own weapon by his own hand.

Telegraphers and station agents of the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain system were granted a 6 per cent increase in wages which amounts to $50,000 a year, in addition to concessions granted in rules governing working conditions, by an award of the arbitrators under the Erdman act, which was filed in the United States circuit court at St. Louis Friday. The arbitrators found that the railroad company had a surplus of $17,000,000 and that in addition the net earnings of the last two years were $3,000,000. The findings are retroactive and the increase must be paid from June 1.

The twelfth annual session of the Texas Farmers' Congress, a session which President Kirkpatrick declares to have been one of the most profitable and the most largely attended, Thursday, passed into honorable history. Inasmuch as the seventeen affiliated organizations represent practically every branch of agriculture, and nearly every subject relating thereto received attention during the three days' meeting, this attention resulting in the development of many new ideas for the more economical operation of the farm and a greater increase of the products, it would be difficult to even approximate the value to Texas that must result from the congress.

Dudley Archdale, the favorite, had comparatively little trouble in winning the $10,000 Paper Mill stake for 2.11 class trotters in Kalamazoo, Mich., on Wednesday, the classic of the grand circuit race meet, in which a field of fourteen horses contested.

The "gentlemen's agreement" between the Russo-Chinese Bank and its missing cashier, Erwin Wilder, of New York, who is accused of embezzling $600,000 worth of stocks and bonds, expired Wednesday, when the district attorney's office was requested to take action and a private detective agency was put on the case.

American women who long to experience the thrills of an aeroplane flight will soon have an opportunity to gratify their desire. Three of the smallest, prettiest and speediest monoplanes in existence are now on their way to this country, with three French women to demonstrate them. The machines weigh only 180 pounds each, and are equipped with 12-horsepower engines.

Temperature from 30 to 70 degrees below zero. Wind blowing a blizzard most of the time. No human habitation in sight; no covering at night except a tent, and no "grub" that was not many times frozen. These are some of the conditions under which the recent census was taken in the interior of Alaska. The report of Chief Special Agent McKenzie covering the work in the fourth or inland district of the territory has just been received by Director Durand, and while the story is simply told it is a wonderful, thrilling narrative of adventure showing that when Uncle Sam starts out to round up his children he spares no expense to locate them and satisfy himself as to their status.

Mayor Bousman of Ridgeway, Va., was assassinated by a dynamite bomb which was thrown at him Monday. He died an hour after the explosion. No clue to the identity of the murderer or cause of the crime has been found.

Prosperity in the United States is on the increase if the purchases by Americans during the past year of works of art, diamonds, fine furs and champagne can be taken as a criterion. Whereas there were brought in to the United States during the fiscal year 1909 only $3,800,000 worth of art works, millionaires and other citizens brought in during the fiscal year just closed art works to the value of $21,100,000. In diamonds, the increase was from $24,100,000 to $39,800,000, and in undressed furskins from $11,700,000 to $15,000,000; in dressed furs and manufactures thereof, from $9,400,000 to $11,000,000.

Damages amounting to $300,000 resulted in three fires in Chicago Sunday. Flames swept through a half block of the homes in Lake View, wiping out twenty buildings; the Cragin grain elevator of the Northwestern Malt and Grain Company was burned to the ground, and the plant of the C. F. Orgen Brewing Company was destroyed.

The first bale of cotton for this season was roughed to Edna Thursday. It was ginned, and sold for 15c per pound.

Papers were served on the contest board of the American Automobile Association, of New York, notifying them that a preliminary injunction had been granted to Harold O. Smith, president of the Premier Motor Manufacturing Company, restraining the board from delivering the Glidden trophy to George W. Dunham of the Chalmers Motor Company of Detroit. Justice William Kelly of the state supreme court granted the injunction.

Hugh Smith, one of the best known saloon keepers of New Orleans, and prominent in the sporting world, having backed many prize fighters, was shot to death by his sweetheart because she caught him in company with another girl Friday evening.

Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, in a speech before a Chautauqua audience at Council Grove, Kansas, Friday asserted that the pledge of the republican national platform for a revision of the tariff was not fulfilled and that Senator Aldrich and Speaker Cannon and the others who took the lead in framing the tariff bill had never attempted and never intended to keep the pledges of the party.

August Ropke, assistant secretary and bookkeeper of the Fidelity Trust Company of Louisville, Ky., one of the soundest financial institutions in Louisville, is believed to have made away with $1,140,000, the entire surplus of the concern, according to a statement made Sunday by John W. Barr, president of the trust company.

FOREIGN.

At the conclusion of a conference Friday between King Alfonso and Premier Canalejas at Sebastian, Spain, it was announced that Marquis Emilio de Ojeda, Spanish ambassador to the Vatican, has been recalled. At the time the opinion was expressed that a rupture with the Vatican was inevitable. Senor Canalejas told the king that the government could not accept the conditions of the Vatican's last note, and that the Vatican would be so informed.

The king of England's accession declaration bill in an amended form passed its second reading in the house of commons Wednesday by a vote of 410 to 84. The bill as it now stands provides that the pronouncement against Catholicism shall be eliminated and faithful Protestant substituted.

Germany has declined to entertain the request of President Madriz that this government use its friendly offices to put a stop to what is termed the interference of the United States in the affairs of Nicaragua. The Nicaraguan circular note to the powers, in which a protest against the attitude of Washington toward the rebellion is coupled with a plea for foreign intervention, was received by the foreign office June 16 by cable direct from Managua. As Nicaragua has no diplomatic representative at Berlin a reply was made through Herr de Buch, German minister to Central America, resident at Guatemala City.

Embroidery

THE embroidery of fine lingerie is one of the favorite bits of summer needlework, and many women are making dainty corset covers, and nightgowns both for now and the coming seasons.

The design given is for the front of a corset cover, the edges of which are to be buttonholed and eyelets worked through which the ribbon is run.

The design might also be applied to a nightgown or chemise.

Transfer the design to the material by means of carbon paper and embroidery in French embroidery, using the finest mercerized cotton. One-half of the design is given.

WOMEN BLUNDER IN EXCESS. TO BE MADE UP IN GREEN

Over-Ornamentation is As Foolish as Painting the Lily or Gliding Refined Gold.

To know when to stop is just as important as to be able to begin. That is a fact that applies just as emphatically to the making of a hat or gown as to the actions of everyday life. Many women blunder in the wasteful and ridiculous excess of ornamentation that is as foolish as painting the lily or gliding refined gold against which the poet sings.

Just because a woman has bought one dozen crocheted buttons she, if of the blundering variety, must use the twelve. Perhaps ten can be disposed of creditably, but the effect must be foolishly sacrificed instead of two buttons, and the result falls short always of the good style.

A wish to use as much as possible on the little afternoon frock or the evening gown is the stumbling block for many home dressmakers. Certainly there can be too much of a good thing. If a little piece of velvet or malmé be left, keep it. Do not tack it on the front, or wind it at the belt, just to feel that economy is worth while. You can use these short ends to better advantage on another garment. Better one-quarter of a yard of ribbon not in use than a gown that has lost the indefinable touch of the artist. The overornamentation is just another evidence of the use of extremes, a habit that should be avoided by all who aim at refinement and good taste.

Wooden Beads.

A curious departure from the scintillating glass forms are the wooden beads that are in either natural color or any shade that is delightfully barbaric in its intensity. The texture of the wood insures a lack of luster that hurts one's aesthetic feelings.

The wooden beads are strung on coarse thread or string and are used for forming a cabochon for a hat or for draping the eastern turbans of coarse net.

Tucks are edged with wooden beads dyed to match the color of the gown, and on net, voile or chiffon the colored forms are decidedly effective.

Belts of raffia are studded with colored wooden beads, while handbags, linen buckles and fancy clasps are but a few of the possibilities suggested to the clever ones.

New Bolero Effect.

Wide shirring has found its way even into the bolero. A pongee bolero suit shows this shirred effect everywhere except in the upper sleeves. There are three bands of shirring about halfway down the tunic skirt, also, and the entire effect is dainty and summerlike.

Effective Style for Visiting Costume—Worn With Handsomely Trimmed Jacket.

Willow Green cashmere makes up very effectively in this style; the slightly trained skirt is trimmed round the foot by silk of color of the cashmere that is lightly embroidered with black; a ninon blouse of same color is worn.

The jacket is trimmed with the embroidered silk, and handsome silk ornaments in which a little dull gold tinsel thread is introduced.

The small collar and cuffs are of velvet.

Hat of fine straw to match the dress, trimmed with a feather mount.

Materials required: 8 yards 46 inches wide, 6 yards lining silk for jacket, 8 silk ornaments.

Veiled Effects.

Nothing is smart these days if it is not veiled. The predominating notes of the new fashions are a lack of many seams, kimono sleeves and mists of chiffon over spots, stripes, floral patterns, and vivid colorings. One tone is put over another until wonderful prismatic hues are produced.

The KITCHEN CABINET

HERE are so many things—best things—that commonly come when youth is past, that it may well happen to many of us to find ourselves happier and happier at the last.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

When the rubber plant droops, its leaves turn yellow and drop off. Mix a teaspoonful of mustard in a cupful of boiling water, cool a little and pour on the soil in the pot; sometimes a long, black hard-shelled worm comes to the top, and if this is killed the plant will usually recover.

Another treatment good for other plants troubled with worms, is to bury a small piece of fresh beef in the pot near the surface, and the worms will come up to eat it, when they can be killed.

Out-door roses may be slipped as any plant with good success if care is taken to keep them moist.

Try using borax dissolved in hot water to remove the spots made by grease of any kind on woolen fabrics. Fold a clean cloth for a pad to use under the spot and then simply put the spot with a cloth wet in the borax water until the spot is removed.

One may have fresh corn on the cob in these days the year around. Take off the coarse outer husks, remove all the silk and tie a cord tightly around the end to hold the inner husks in place. Put into a brine strong enough to hold up an egg, put under a weight, and you will have corn on the ear any time, by soaking it over night.

Mint Sauce.

Mint sauce is such an addition to the lamb roast or chops that it should always be served. Prepare it by mincing the mint very fine with a sharp knife. To two tablespoonfuls of minced mint add a tablespoonful of powdered sugar, a tablespoonful each of boiling water and vinegar. Let stand a few minutes to season before serving.

MEASURE success by accumulation. The measure is false. The true measure is appreciation. He who loves most has most.—Henry Van Dyke.

SUMMER BREAKFASTS.

The summer breakfast is even more of a problem than that of any other season. The appetite is so fickle that dishes that appeal to the eye are especially sought after. On a hot morning serve the cereal cooked the day before and placed on ice. Served with cream and fresh fruit it is most wholesome.

When one feels the need of a heartier dish at breakfast, croquettes of various kinds are both filling and appetizing. The rice left from the pudding of the day before may be used. Add to a pint of boiled rice two well beaten eggs, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, salt and paprika to taste with a few drops of onion juice. Set aside until cold, then make into croquettes, dip in egg and crumbs and fry in deep fat.

Baked eggs in cream make a pleasant change in serving eggs.

Whole wheat bread made with nuts is a highly nutritious bread and served with fruit makes a good, well-balanced meal.

A slice of well prepared toast with fresh butter and berries served with a cup of fragrant coffee, rich with cream, is sufficiently satisfying to most appetites these hot mornings.

Cherry Roly Poly.

Sift together two cupfuls of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and half a teaspoonful of salt. Cut in a tablespoonful of butter. When well mixed add milk enough to make a soft dough. Turn on to a floured board and pat into a long, narrow strip. Over this pour enough stoned cherries to cover the surface, leaving an inch uncovered at each edge. Sprinkle with sugar, dredge with flour and roll. Pinch the edges together, wrap in a floured cloth and steam one hour. Serve with cherry sauce.

Cream Sauce.

Melt a tablespoonful and a half of butter, add the same amount of flour, cook until thick, then add a cupful of hot milk. Season and simmer for ten minutes. Add half a cupful of green peas previously cooked, and serve hot.

PROFITABLE DAIRYING
 By HUGH G. VAN PELT

Feeding the Dairy Cow

It matters little how good the herd or how convenient and perfect its environment unless supplied with feeds in proper amounts and quality. It is customary on the farm in the corn belt for the farmer to content himself with the raising of corn largely, and in the past it has been too often the case that corn was used as the sole ration for every class of farm animals, and it was believed that as good results could be obtained by the use of corn and corn alone as though other feeds were used in conjunction with it. Corn in years gone by has been cheap in price and it has been possible for the farmer in the corn belt to raise large yields annually. During the past few years, however, although the crop has yielded as largely per acre, the price has continued to advance until at the present time the farmer feels that to feed it in such a way there is a waste which brings about unprofitable results. This is true and, furthermore, it is true that where corn is fed alone, especially to dairy cows, there is incurred a very large waste of feeding nutrients and profits. After any animal has consumed a certain amount of corn it is impossible for him to digest and assimilate the nutrients out of any larger amount of this one material even though he has the capacity of consuming double that which he can use profitably. After a certain amount of corn is fed to the dairy cow, all in addition to that is either wasted by passing on undigested or is converted into fat and laid upon the body, which is worse than wasted because it taxes the digestive apparatus and goes to produce beef which not only has no value, but is absolutely a detriment to the best work of the cow.

Other Feed Than Corn Necessary.

In consequence of this the dairy farmer has learned that it is necessary for him to supply some feed with the corn raised upon his farm that contains those nutrients in which corn is lacking. He knows that a balanced ration means nothing more or less than the supplying of the different feeding nutrients in proper proportions so that the ration is the one which will produce the greatest amount of milk and butter fat at the least cost. Such a ration is made up by supplying a proper proportion of carbohydrates and fat which are found to the greatest extent in the corn plant in proportion to protein which is found in oil meal, gluten feed, cottonseed meal, bran, dried distillers' grains, clover hay, alfalfa, cow peas, soy beans, etc. There was a time when bran could be purchased for $10 or $12 a ton and oil meal for a little more. Cottonseed meal the southern planter paid to have destroyed. Gluten feed was very cheap and, in fact, the protein feeds were less valuable than was corn. Gradually as the intelligent feeder became aware of the extreme value of these grow any particular one of these legumes, but it is, furthermore, a fact that there is scarcely a farm in the corn belt but what will grow some one of these legumes and it is a duty which the farmer owes to his cows, to his bank book and to his farm and to himself to raise and feed more of these other products and less of the corn. In doing so he will find that it requires less corn than it has in the past and that his profits are greater, that his cows produce more largely and that his farm retains its fertility to a greater degree than ever before.

Increasing the Milk Yield.

It is impossible to increase the milk yield of any particular cow to any great extent, no matter what the care, feed and attention given her, except during the period when the cow is fresh. The proper time to begin feeding the cow for best results is four or five weeks before freshening.

Cows in Good Fleshy Condition—Ready to Freshen Well.

As a rule dairymen and farmers believe that the cow should have a rest and consequently turn her dry during this time. It is then believed that because she is giving no milk she requires little or no feed and, in consequence, she is turned out, if in the winter time, in a cold stalk field or in the barn lot where she has little to eat except corn stalks, straw and water. As a result she has no opportunity whatever of storing up on her body any surplus flesh or fat that can be used at a future time, but she freshens in a poor and emaciated condition and does not have strength or power or stamina to produce the milk and butter fat which her owner desires that she should produce and the whole consequence is that she, being robbed of the opportunity, never sees the time when she can be a very large source of profit to her owner. It is strange why farmers will persist in caring for their dry cows in this manner because herein lies the secret of the great success in economical milk and butter fat production, and were I to give as my honest opinion the digestive apparatus, building up the foetus, storing up strength and stamina in the cow's body by placing there flesh and beef which can be drawn upon at a later date. For the purpose of fattening the cow there is nothing that is better than corn, but corn fed in a dry and hard dry state is more or less difficult to digest and the result would be, instead of resting the digestive apparatus, to continue its work even more strenuously than when the cow was producing milk. For this purpose, then, there is nothing better than corn silage, which supplies the same feed nutrients as does corn itself, but in a cheaper manner, and also supplies succulence the same as does green grass, and thus is effective in cooling out and resting the digestive apparatus.

The Cow Should Be in Good Condition When Fresh.

Experiments recently carried on go to prove that a cow freshening in high flesh will not only milk heavier, but will also test richer, the consequence of which will of course result in a great deal larger production of milk and butter fat, and this is reasonable to believe. There is one objection, of course, to having a cow freshen in a fleshy and plethoric condition, namely, that she will be more susceptible to milk fever and this, I believe, is the reason handed down from generation to generation which has instilled the feeder with the idea that the cow should be poor at time of freshening. There was a time when 98 per cent. of the cows which contracted milk fever died. At the present time at least 98 per cent. or 99 per cent. of the cows which are afflicted with milk fever recover by the use of the air treatment, which is simple and inexpensive and can be applied by the feeder himself if he has access to a milk fever outfit, or otherwise he can depend upon the local veterinarian. At parturition time the heavy grain ration should be taken away from the cow and her feed should consist of nothing more than hay and silage, together with a light bran mash which should continue to be given her for two or three days following freshening. At this time she should be given a small ration of solid foods and brought to a full feed much in the same manner as does the feeder of beef cattle bring the steers in his feed lot to full feed. It is well known and admitted among breeders that after putting large, rugged beef cattle in the feed lot and placing them on feed at once, sickness will result and the steer receive a great and lasting setback, and at the same time realizing this, the feeder of dairy cows will immediately after the cow freshens put her on full feed quickly, believing that in some way or other the dairy cow is possessed of a greater and stronger digestive apparatus than is her rugged brother, the beef steer. This is not only radically wrong, but greatly unreasonable. Heavy feeding immediately after freshening is, of course, necessary if the cow has freshened in poor condition, because she has nothing out of which to make milk except the feed which she receives at that time, and herein lies the great advantage of feeding her in such a way that she has stored up in her body milk-making nutrients at time of freshening. If this be the case, the ration supplied when the cow is fresh can be small in amount, stimulating in nature, and thereby induce a large production at small cost. It is very necessary, too, that the cow be stimulated to produce her greatest amount of milk during the first 30 days after freshening, because it is during this period that her maternal instinct is more highly developed and most thoroughly excited. It is the result of the development of the maternal instinct which causes the cow to give milk at all. Where it not for her instinct which through motherhood induces her to supply milk for her offspring, she would not give milk, and during a large portion of the year this instinct of maternity is of very little consequence, and it is a mistake to allow the cow to produce a small amount of milk immediately after freshening with the belief that at a future time during her period of lactation it will be possible to increase the yield to any perceptible degree.

Making Alfalfa Hay to Balance the Corn Ration.

products in balancing up the abundance of corn raised on the farm in the corn belt, he began using them, thus creating a demand which in time reached or even exceeded the supply, and at the present time we find these commercial products, rich in protein, selling for a high price. The farmer of the corn belt has it in his power to raise upon his farm those foods which supply in the cheapest and best forms all the protein that is demanded for balancing up the corn which he raises.

Raise Feeds to Balance the Ration.

It is perhaps a fact that there are farms in the corn belt that will not manner in which the yield of dairy cows in this country could be increased most quickly and certainly it would be this one method of feeding them properly during the 30 days which precede the freshening period and the 30 days which follow.

Feed for a Purpose.

In his operations the feeder should always have a definite purpose in view, and he should bear in mind that certain feeds will accomplish certain purposes which other feeds absolutely will not. After the cow has been turned dry, the purpose of the ration given her should be that of resting

“PLAY WITH THE CHILDREN”

Fabled Fountain of Youth Could Not Be More Potent Than Association With Little Ones.

“Play with the children!” was the recurrent advice of a wise and successful man. “This will keep your heart young, your viewpoint fresh, your wit sparkling. The child heart is at once the purest and the happiest in all nature; the child tongue is a transfiguring power.”

Something of this indubitable power attaches to good stories of those naive and innocent “little ones” scripturally declared specially blessed and potent. The child mind transforms, the child touch lifts to glad laughter incidents and accidents not otherwise worth noting. Witness this little tale of the careful mother to whom came a tiny son all agog over the acquirement of new and forbidden knowledge.

“Mother!” cried the child, baby eyes shining, baby cheeks glowing, “do you know what ‘I'll be hornswoggled’ means?”

“No, dear,” said the mother, solemnly, seizing the opportunity to impart a lesson. “I'm sure I do not.”

“Well, I do,” was the ecstatic answer, the suggested lesson being utterly ignored. “It means just the same as ‘I'll be gol-darned!’”

No other man appreciates a helping hand like a man in trouble.

DOINGS OF THE Legislators AT THE State Capital AT AUSTIN.

Austin, Tex.—The house during a short session Saturday passed to engrossment Mr. Currey's bill appropriating $30,150 for improvements to the negro ward of the Austin Insane Asylum, after having adopted an amendment by Mr. Robertson of Travis calling for an additional expenditure of $12,500 for a new laundry for the main asylum. The house struggled unsuccessfully to keep a quorum and for this reason mainly the bill was not finally enacted in this branch of the legislature Saturday.

About one-fourth of the house members are out of the city, some attending primary conventions in their home towns. The first roll call today developed ninety-three members, four more than a quorum, but soon there was less than a quorum present.

Owing to the hearing scheduled for Monday morning Mr. Moller's bill of lading measure in the committee on common carriers, and other committee work, the house adjourned until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Three Bills Offered.

Austin, Tex.—Three bills were introduced in the house Friday covering subjects embodied in the governor's fourth general message to this session of the legislature.

Two are bond retiring measures and one to reorganize the controller's department in conformity with report of the state auditing board. The committee on public debt reported favorably the bond bills and the committee on state affairs reported favorably the bill affecting the controller's office.

Anti-Picture Bill Adopted.

Amended just as it was engrossed Thursday so as to prohibit showing representation of bull fights, stage robberies, train robberies, bank robberies, executions of human beings and immoral scenes, the anti-prize fight pictures bill by Mr. Bowles, and others was passed finally in the house Friday by the very decided vote of 98 to 1. This action followed a debate as to what is "immoral," and a vain effort of Mr. Canales to strike from the bill all prohibited exhibitions other than prize fights and glove representations and "immoral scenes." Friday was the bill by Senators Ward and Cofer for prohibiting the exhibition of moving pictures showing prize fights and similar scenes.

Senator Alexander thought the bill should be considered and passed, moving to postpone the Ward-Cofer measure.

Currey Bill Reported Favorably.

Representative Currey's bill calling for appropriations aggregating $30,150 for improvements on the Austin Insane Asylum, was given a unanimous favorable report by the house committee on appropriations Thursday. The bill provides for the expenditure of $28,700 for additions to the male and female negro wards of the asylum and $1,450 for additional machinery for the asylum laundry. Some of this money will be used to complete improvements already begun.

Petition Presented to Senate.

A petition was read in the senate Friday from Copper, Texas, recommending that the Dallas County Farmers' Union ask the legislature to amend the anti-trust laws so that the sole collection of fines be stopped, because they put fees into the pockets of a few; also that the life insurance laws be amended so that the life companies and their immense amount of capital will return to Texas. Senator Senter presented the communication and it was ordered printed in the Journal.

Little Accomplished Thursday.

As the senate was busy throughout the day with the Hawkins case and the house held two very brief sessions, very little was accomplished. In the senate end of the capital the fire insurance committee began work on the bill by Hudspeth, Brachfield and Willacy, and during the session heard from citizens of Taylor, who complained that the agents in that town were declining to reinsure risks.

Senate Adjourns.

By a vote of 15 to 14 the senate, in executive session considering the case of Insurance and Banking Commissioner Hawkins, was on Thursday adjourned to Monday, Aug. 1. This action is said to be in the interest of a compromise or amicable settlement. Information is that there were three actions formed during the executive session. One favors the confirmation of Mr. Hawkins, another is composed of those who are fighting this, and still another is made up of those who are endeavoring to bring about "peace with honor" for both sides.

Austin, Tex.—The governor Thursday communicated with the legislature submitting the subject of refunding state bonds which expired July 1, 1909, to the amount of $1,055,700 and for the retirement of state bonds amounting to $298,000, maturing Sept. 1, 1910.

He also submitted the subject of retiring a series of bonds amounting to $13,200, which matured July 1, 1909, and are owned by individuals or corporations. He further suggests provision for paying the interest on the bonds which matured last year.

Text of Message.

To the Legislature: By virtue of authority vested in me by section 40, article 3, of the constitution of the state of Texas, I hereby designate and present to you for your consideration the following subjects and suggest legislation thereon:

1. Appropriate legislation providing for the retirement of $1,055,700 bonds of the state of Texas, dated July 1, 1879, and maturing July 1, 1909, and $298,000 bonds of the state of Texas, maturing on Sept. 1, 1910, and for issuing other interest-bearing bonds in lieu thereof, and providing for the execution of such other bonds and the manner of exchange of the new bonds for those maturing as above mentioned. These bonds maturing as aforesaid are owned and held as follows:

Seven hundred and ninety thousand three hundred dollars held by the state permanent school fund, $217,200 held by the permanent state university fund, $24,300 held by the permanent orphans' home fund, $29,500 held by the permanent blind asylum fund, $46,600 held by the permanent deaf and dumb asylum fund, $62,800 held by the permanent lunatic asylum fund and $174,000 held by the permanent agricultural and mechanical college fund.

2. Thirteen thousand two hundred dollars of the series of bonds maturing July 1, 1909, are now owned and held by individuals or corporations, and an appropriation for the payment of these bonds so held by individuals together with the interest thereon from July 1, 1909, is respectfully recommended, and it is also recommended that an appropriation be made in a sum sufficient to satisfy the accrued interest on all the bonds maturing on July 1, 1909. Very respectfully, T. M. CAMPBELL, Governor of Texas.

Austin, Tex.—Messages Nos. 3 and 4 were received from Governor Campbell Wednesday. Message No. 3 dealt with the usual vacation appointments. No. 4, however, presented a number of important matters.

Text of Message.

To the legislature: By virtue of authority vested in me by section 40, article 3, of the constitution of the state of Texas, I hereby designate and present to you for your consideration the following subjects and suggest legislation thereon:

1. Legislation providing for the election, qualification, bond and duties of the controller of public accounts of the state of Texas and of his employees, and providing for a complete, effective and more economical system of accounting, bookkeeping and auditing for that department of the state government.

2. Legislation prescribing the duties of county tax assessors, tax collectors and the county clerk, controller and state treasurer, with reference to the assessment and collection of taxes and providing a more systematic, effective and economical system of bookkeeping and accounting, and the enactment of such other rules and methods with respect thereto as may be proper.

3. The enactment of adequate laws defining "bills of lading" and defining the words "carriers." Providing that it shall be the duty of common carriers, and their officers and agents, to issue negotiable bills of lading and straight or non-negotiable bills of lading at the request of the shipper, between certain places to be prescribed in the law, and defining negotiable or order bills of lading and non-negotiable or straight bills of lading and prescribing the necessary requirements for all bills of lading; to make all negotiable bills of lading negotiable by indorsements and delivery in the same manner as bills of exchange and promissory notes and prohibiting the placing upon negotiable bills of lading any terms which would in any manner limit their negotiability; and providing for the division of bills of lading into such different series as may be appropriate and defining each series prescribing how bills of lading shall be issued and prohibiting the issuing of negotiable bills of lading in part or parts; prescribing the duties of general freight agents or persons authorized to act for them and the duties of local station agents of common carriers and for such additional legislation on this subject as business conditions and the general welfare may demand. Very respectfully, T. M. CAMPBELL, Governor of Texas.

DR. CRIPPEN ARRESTED

DRAMATIC SCENE ENDS MOST SENSATIONAL FLIGHT.

ETHEL LE NEVE WITH HIM

He is Charged With Murder of An Unknown Woman—Ethel LeNeve Held As An Accomplice.

Father Point, Quebec.—Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen and Ethel Clara Le Neve, his stenographer, who fled from London after the disappearance of Belle Elmore, the doctor's wife, were arrested Sunday aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Montrose at the command of Inspector Dew of the Scotland Yard.

The identification of the long-sought fugitives on board the fog-shrouded steamer by the detective who had traced them across the Atlantic, landing ahead of the Montrose, was the culmination of one of the most sensational flights of recent criminal annals. Accompanied by the Canadian Dew boarded the vessel Sunday morning and both man and girl were locked in their staterooms, Crippen broken in spirit but mentally relieved by the relaxed tension; the girl, garbed in boy's clothes, sobbing hysterically. They were no longer the "Rev. John Robinson and son," as booked from Antwerp on July 20.

Crippen was standing near the rail talking with Dr. Stuart, the ship's surgeon, and attempting to appear calm. But that he was nervous was indicated by his furtive glances and his remark to Dr. Stuart.

"There are three pilots coming aboard," he said nervously, "is not that unusual?"

The surgeon did not reply, but kept his eyes on the strangers, who walked rapidly toward them.

"Crippen, I want you," said Inspector Dew quietly, as he approached. The dentist recoiled involuntarily as he recognized the man who addressed him, then the blood left his face, and his breath came short and fast and he gurgled incoherently. As he was being led away to the captain's cabin, whence he was transferred later to his own stateroom, he said gratefully, "Thank God, the suspense is over, and I am glad."

Crippen's arrest accomplished, Dew hurried to Miss Le Neve's stateroom, where he found her, still dressed as "John Robinson, Jr.," on the verge of nervous breakdown.

Hysterics for Ethel.

Her appearance, when confronted by the detective and told she was under arrest, was pitiable. All the control she had fought so hard to retain throughout the voyage left her. She cried out hysterically and became so faint that restoratives were necessary. Shut in her room and restored to woman's dress, she was closely guarded, as the vessel continued its journey, for fear that she would take her life or collapse utterly.

Charter Forfeited.

Austin, Tex.—Secretary of State Townsend Saturday forfeited the charters of 550 domestic corporations for failure to pay their franchise tax for this year which should have been paid before May 1. Mr. Townsend said that the charters forfeited were nearly all charters of very small concerns or of benevolent organizations, but that there were not any big corporations involved.

Negroes Killed in Anderson County.

It was reported at Crockett Saturday morning that a clash between the white and the black races was in progress north of Percilla and on the line between Houston and Anderson counties. Sheriff Lacy and deputies immediately left for the scene, but upon their arrival at Percilla found that the trouble was across the line and in Anderson county. Out of the eight or more negroes killed, only one had been killed in Houston county. Sheriff Lacy and deputies made a thorough investigation on the Houston county side and on Sunday following arrested two white men, named Kirkwood and Jenkins, who are implicated in the killings. The sheriff brought his prisoners to Crockett Sunday night and placed them in jail, but on Monday took them to Palestine, where they will be held in jail pending the action of the Anderson county grand jury, which is now in session. The trouble between the races was started by reports reaching the white people that the negroes were holding secret meetings and arming themselves. The white people became alarmed and the result was that many negroes, reports varying in number from eight to sixteen, were shot down Friday night and Saturday morning. No armed resistance was made by the negroes and no white person was injured. The Anderson county officers had arrested six white Monday night charged with engaging in the conspiracy which, together with the two arrested by Houston county officers, made a total of eight. Anderson and Houston county officers and a company of state rangers are on the scene and more arrests will be made. Excitement ran so high in Palestine Saturday, that, as a precautionary measure, the saloons were ordered closed by District Judge Gardner until all danger of race rioting is passed.

County Democratic Convention.

al District Convention, C. C. Stokes, T. R. Deupree, C. L. Edmiston, E. B. Hale, J. G. Matlock, T. B. Satterwhite, M. J. Wellborn.

Motion was made and carried that the said delegates and alternates be seated in the state convention as delegates from Houston county, if the state executive committee decided to seat ten delegates from Houston county; if, however, the state democratic executive committee should decide to seat only five delegates from Houston county, then in such event the first five of the above named delegates should be seated as delegates to the state convention from Houston county.

On motion the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, the democracy of Houston county having given the Hon. O. B. Colquitt a plurality of the popular vote for governor, and,

Whereas, said Houston county and the State of Texas have voted in favor of submission,

Therefore, be it resolved, by the democrats of Houston county, in convention assembled:

First: That the delegates to the state convention be and they are hereby instructed to vote for and support a submission plank in the democratic platform.

Second: That said delegates be and they are hereby instructed to cast the vote of Houston county in favor of Hon. O. B. Colquitt for governor.

Third: That said delegates be and they are hereby instructed to use all honorable efforts to promote the campaign of Hon. O. B. Colquitt, and secure his election as governor of Texas, opposing any efforts to hamper such campaign, or defeat him for governor.

On motion the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved that the delegates to the state convention from Houston county are instructed to vote as a unit on all questions coming before the state convention.

On motion the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas the sentiment of Houston county democrats, as expressed in the recent primary election, is emphatically in favor of the submission to a popular vote of an amendment to the State Constitution for prohibition.

Therefore, we feel that all agitation or suggestion of a constitutional convention to incorporate such provision is unnecessary and not demanded by the people.

Upon motion the convention adjourned.
J. W. Madden, Chairman,
A. H. Luker, Secty.

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Crockett Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

Danger Signal No. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, illsmelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

Danger Signal No. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here is proof in the statement of a nearby resident.

W. B. Burton, 302 Palmer St., Palestine, Tex., says: "My kidneys were disordered for a long time. I had to pass the kidney secretions frequently during the night, and also suffered from pains in the small of my back. One day I happened to read about Doan's Kidney Pills, and deciding to try them, I procured a box. They helped me so much that I continued their use until I was in better health than before in two years. I have no hesitation in saying that Doan's Kidney Pills are the best kidney remedy I ever used."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
