FIRST DAY OUT WITH THE BOOSTER BUNCH.

A Wonderful Trip Through a Wonderful Country—First Day Without An Accident.

The Crockett booster bunch—the men who made famous the first automobile excursion over Houston county—left Crockett on time Tuesday morning. Fifteen automobiles made up the excursion train and each automobile carried from two to five men according to capacity. The excursionists were from among the city's representative business men, nearly all of them wearing white cloth hats and linen dusters. I. A. Daniel rode in the pilot car, acting in the capacity of pathfinder and guide. Latexo was the first town reached, which was on schedule time, and advertising was distributed with great enthusiasm. From an automobile Mayor J. W. Young of Crockett spoke to a good-sized crowd of Latexo people, telling them among other things that Crockett was the county seat of their county and therefore as much their town as anybody's. He told them that the people of Crockett were their neighbors and invited them to come to Crockett on trades day, Saturday, June 21. He also told them about the big Houston county fair that is to be held at Crockett from September 30 to October 3, four days.

Grapeland, the next town, was reached ahead of schedule time. The road is good from Crockett to Grapeland. The Booster band of six instruments played here as at Latexo and Mayor Young made a talk in the interest of Houston county, its county seat, the Houston county fair and trades day. Many Grapeland people gathered around and there was much enthusiasm. While the band played the business men were visited in their stores, souvenirs were handed out on the streets and the excursionists departed for Percilla, encountering some deep sand on their way, but every car went through without trouble, proving the excursionists to be as good drivers as they were boosters.

At Percilla a pleasing reception awaited them. Here the crowd was larger in proportion to the size of the town than at either of the other two places and the reception was enthusiastic. The band played, Mayor Young made a speech and the band played some more. The people of Percilla wanted to know why Crockett had never before sent a delegation up to see them and extended a pressing invitation to call again. The invitation to visit Crockett on trades day and during the Houston county fair met with a hearty response and many promises to do so, showing the Percilla people to be full of the spirit of progressiveness and enthusiasm. A barrel of lemonade was free and the thing on a hot day. Some good boosters are there. We started to write it "among those good people," but since we come to think of it the good people are all over Houston county.

The trip from Percilla to Augusta was made without incident, except that Augusta was reached ahead of time and the crowd on arrival was not large. But when the band played they began to come in from all around and a good-sized crowd

ENTHUSIASM IS THE WORD FOR THE BOOSTER BUNCH

Second Day's Trip No Less Enthusiastic Than Was the First—Big Dinner at Kennard.

So well did the Crockett trade excursionists make the first day's trip that two automobiles were added for the second day, making seventeen cars to leave Crockett Tuesday morning on time. Everybody wanted to go. The trip from Crockett to Ratcliff, the sawmill town in the eastern part of the county, was made by way of Enterprise school house and through the beautiful Hickory Creek valley. The trip was made without incident except for a few tire punctures, the road being very rough in some places. On account of the sand in the sawmill country, Ratcliff was reached about thirty minutes late. Here the usual program of music, speech making and souvenir and advertising distribution was carried out. Mayor Young was the spokesman for the Crockett party throughout all four days of the trip. It became known while at Ratcliff that the people there had raised a fund for a dinner for the boosters, but learning that Kennard was ahead of them and that dinner would be taken at Kennard, the plan was abandoned. Before leaving Ratcliff it was noted that two brick buildings have recently gone up, one occupied by Mahoney, one by McKinney Bros. and the other by the bank. Kennard was returned to for dinner. Here the band played, speeches were made and enthusiasm ran riot. Long tables had been arranged in a nearby grove and on this the choicest viands that the ladies could prepare were heaped. It was "some dinner," as the average booster described it, and big eaters as they are, a showing was hardly made. The Kennard people know how to win the hearts of a Crockett bunch. Overflowing with the spirit of the occasion, County Attorney B. F. Dent, standing in an automobile, in his usual happy way thanked the Kennard people for their hospitality. The band played and the bunch departed for Pennington shouting hurrahs for Kennard. It might be noted, however, that two of the cars turned back at Kennard, fearing the bad road ahead of them. Before Pennington was reached some of the worst road of the trip was encountered. The only time the excursionists left Houston county was at Pennington, the first county seat of Trinity county. Here the historic old jail, a hewn log structure, yet stands, and we were told that its walls once held the notorious desperado, John Wesley Hardin. The old court house, that stood near by, was destroyed by fire. The lightning rods on the large houses indicate that it is an old town and the big, old-fashioned homes add historic value. The excursionists were welcomed by a large crowd, ladies and children predominating. The usual program of music and speeches was gone through and the business men were visited in their stores. A quick trip was made through a prosperous country from Pennington to Shady Grove, where it seemed we were getting back into Crockett, there were so many familiar faces. After the usual greetings here, the trip was made, over a good road, to Crockett without incident worthy of mention, all automobiles coming in together and on time. Some fine crops were viewed on the second day's trip as well as on the first.

IN MEMORIAM.

Beautiful Tribute to Cecil Crockett, Deceased, by a Boyhood Friend.

From the McKinney Enterprise.

Cecil Marion Crockett, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Crockett of Prosper, passed away at St. Joseph's Infirmary at Ft. Worth on last Thursday night, having been operated upon for appendicitis, and never recovering from effects of the operation. All possible was done. Five of that city's most skilled physicians were employed in an effort to stay the hand of the Grim Destroyer. But to no avail, and at the midnight hour the spirit of the silent sufferer passed from its tenement of clay to the God who gave it.

The subject of this sketch was born Sept. 2, 1888, and grew to manhood at this place. Attended the public schools of Prosper; later he entered Jones' Academy at McKinney, going from there to College Station where he entered A. & M. College, Sept. 1906, graduating four years later, with honors and the degree of Bachelor of Science, amply qualified for the battles of life in the field he had chosen—that of a civil engineer. A more popular student never passed through the halls of this splendid institution of learning, as was attested by the fact that he was elected captain of his class, and upon graduation was presented by his classmates with a magnificent gold watch, the initials of his name artistically engraved upon it.

His qualifications being apparent his services were in demand, and his first employment was with the Dalworth Townsite Co., in laying off the town of Dalworth, a position he held from July 3, 1906, to February of the following year, when he resigned his position, believing that other fields promised greater remuneration with better opportunities for advancement. He entered the service of the U. S. Government, and was assigned to duty with the civil engineering corps doing lock and dam work on the Trinity River below Dallas. Later he was transferred to Jefferson, and Shreveport, La., where he performed similar work, coming from there to Crockett, Texas, on Jan. 1, 1912. His advancement had been rapid and at the time of his death he was General Superintendent of the Engineering Corps at his station, and in recognition of his splendid services had been tendered a substantial raise in salary. As a token of the love and esteem in which he was held by those who were closely associated with him, on last Christmas he was presented with a beautiful watch charm studded with diamonds, bearing the Masonic emblem, having been made a member of the above order only about ten months ago. Yet only a short while previous to his last illness he was honored with the Royal Arch degree.

It was the pleasure of the writer to have known Cecil practically all his life and during all those years we failed ever to hear him speak disparagingly of a fellow-human being, or take the name of his Creator in vain. We do not believe he had an enemy under the broad canopy of heaven, or even one who did not wish for him all the success possible to one so eminently deserving. Truly, he was one whose morals our young men can emulate with profit, "whose days had been pure and whose nights have been sinless." Cecil was converted during a religious revival held here in his home town during the summer of 1904, and he united with the Methodist church, living a consistent Christian life until the final summons came.

Rev. A. P. Hightower of Allen performed the last sad rites at the Methodist church before the largest congregation ever in attendance on a similar occasion, after which the remains were taken in charge by Lee Lodge A. F. & A. M. and conducted to the Wear cemetery 4 miles east of town and consigned to the grave, there to await the resurrection of the just.

The deceased is survived by his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Crockett and one brother and four sisters, viz: Edward, Myrtle, Mary, Abby and Mrs. Daisy Stivers all being at home save the last named whose home is at Lewisville.

To the heart broken loved ones we join their many friends in sincere expressions of love and sympathy in this perhaps the darkest hour of their lives. A Friend. Prosper, Texas, June 5, 1913.—Adv.

BATTLE WITH MOROS
ONE OF THE FIERCEST

Brigadier General Pershing Describes Thursday's Fight as Desperate Encounter.

Washington, June 13.—"Probably no fiercer battle since American occupation," is the description by Brigadier General Pershing of the battle with the Moros yesterday in his report by cable today to the war department. The Moros made desperate attempts to rush the American lines, but were finally beaten back and overwhelmed. Their leader, Amil, and several other noted outlaws were reported killed, but the total loss of the Moros was not reported.

One American officer, Captain Taylor A. Nicholas of the Philippine Scouts, was killed; First Lieutenant Edward H. Rackley, Philippine Scouts, was wounded, and three Filipino scouts of the Fifty-first Company, all natives were killed.

General Pershing's report was as follows:

"On June 12 the Moros' resistance at Bagsak was formidable, and their fort and trenches on the precipitous side of the crater not only supported each other strongly, but were defended with modern arms. The Moros frantically and continuously tried to rush the American line, but the careful disposition of our force held the American loss to a minimum. Probably there has been no fiercer battle since American occupation.

"Major George C. Shaw of the Philippine Scouts commanded the right wing, with Company M, Eighth Regiment, United States Infantry, and Fortieth Company, Philippine Scouts. Captain Taylor A. Nichols of the Philippine scouts commanded the left wing with the Fifty-first, Fifty-second and Twenty-ninth companies, Philippine scouts. A mountain gun with each wing proved of great assistance. At the close yesterday Captain Patrick Moylan of the Philippine scouts with two companies supporting the gun on Mount Bunga and the American force occupied a controlling position on the rim of the crater.

"First Lieutenant Edwin H. Rackley, Philippine scouts, was slightly wounded and three Moro scouts of the Fifty-first Company were killed. Captain Taylor A. Nichols was killed in the early morning fight and it was a serious loss to the army. Amil and several leading outlaws were reported killed. Other mortalities are not known."

Love of Money is Root of all Evil.

This is as true today as it was the day it was uttered away back yonder in the early days of history. It is more true, if anything, because the love for money is more widespread, and its effect is more far-reaching.

With some men money getting becomes a disease which so obsesses them as to preclude every other virtue; and if not checked in time will consume all that is good within a man. The selfish desire to get gain will sacrifice the best of friends, and will stifle every right impulse. This craving for inordinate wealth and power works a wrong not only against the individual, but against all society. The writer has seen the generous, the good man, who once launched out on the mission of greed and gain, as completely change his character as is portrayed in the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde story. It is a thing which repeats itself almost every time a man sets out to amass a great fortune.

Two thousand years ago this was written, showing that this old world has not changed so very much after all. Open your bible, and turn to the fifth chapter of St.

Farmers' Union said: "The Lord made the greater part of Texas a cotton country and it will always remain the money crop of Texas so long as the farmer markets his crop direct from the harvest field, but I believe with plenty of good livestock and a silo a farmer can successfully raise feed stuff and he will be justified in planting less cotton and raising more livestock."

The Federal Census reports show that we have 14,080,936 head of livestock in Texas, and 96 per cent of our farms reported domestic animals.

There were 4011 farms in Houston county that reported livestock when the Thirteenth Census was taken according to a report just issued by the Federal Department of Commerce and Labor and the total number of domestic animals on these farms numbered 76,444, which has a combined value of $1,193,012. Swine is the predominating class of livestock in this county as shown by the following:

Cattle, 30,058; value, $387,476.
Horses, 5,066; value, $382,188.
Mules, 3,251; value, $312,562.
Asses and burros, 25; value, $2,635.
Swine, 35,836; value, $105,601.
Sheep, 414; value, $913.
Goats, 1794; value, $1,637.
Total number, 76,444; total valuation, $1,193,012.

Take Plenty of Time to Eat.

There is a saying that "rapid eating is slow suicide." If you have formed the habit of eating too rapidly you are most likely suffering from indigestion or constipation, which will result eventually in serious illness unless corrected. Digestion begins in the mouth. Food should be thoroughly masticated and insalivated. Then when you have a fullness of the stomach or feel dull and stupid after eating, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets. Many severe cases of stomach trouble and constipation have been cured by the use of these tablets. They are easy to take and most agreeable in effect. Sold by all dealers.—Adv.

Can't Keep It Secret.

The splendid work of Chamberlain's Tablets is daily becoming more widely known. No such grand remedy for stomach and liver troubles has ever been known. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

COLONEL MILNER COMMENDED.
Many Organizations Express Regret at His Resignation of the Presidency of
A. and M. College.

College Station, Tex., June 13.—Resolutions commending the administration of R. T. Milner as president of the A. and M. College, and who resigned from that position recently, were adopted by a meeting of the Bryan Commercial Club today.

The resolutions protested against his resignation and warmly praised the conduct of affairs at the college during his tenure of office.

The alumni association, at its meeting here, adopted resolutions declaring that the leaving of Colonel Milner would be most unfortunate and very detrimental to the best interests of the institution.

At a meeting of the faculty today resolutions commending the president's official actions during his administration were adopted.

Colonel Milner has received many telegrams and letters commending him and protesting against his resignation. He will remain in office until Sept. 1, when he will return to Henderson to take charge of his farm.

WORMS

When in health the baby laughs, the child plays, the youth enjoys athletic sports. The contrary indicates some departure from health, and in the case of children, is often caused by worms; a child so afflicted is pale, sickly and peevish. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE is the deadly enemy of worms. It destroys the worms and strengthens the weakened organs. Children who take it speedily recover their normal happy condition.

Studebaker

"I've had my Studebaker 15 years—and not a cent for repairs"

A word of just praise for a wagon that has done its work faithfully and well.

Men become attached to their Studebakers—proud of them.

Because they realize that a Studebaker is built on honor and with an experience in wagon building that dates back to 1852.

Studebaker wagons are a result of that long experience, coupled with a desire to build the best wagons, not cheap ones.

And when your dealer says "Buy a Studebaker—there's no better wagon made" he's giving you the verdict of a million farmers. He is not asking you to try an experiment.

James, and read this vivid description of the condition of the times then, and compare them with now, and the condemnation stands as surely now as it did then:

"Go to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you. Your riches are corrupted, and your garments are moth-eaten. Your gold and silver is cankered; and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye have heaped treasure together for the last days. Behold, the hire of the laborers who have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth; and the cries of them which have reaped are entered into the ears of the Lord of saboath. Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth, and been wanton; ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter. Ye have condemned and killed the just; and he doth not resist you."—Anderson County Herald.

FLAME-ENVELOPED

ENGINE RUNS AWAY

Explosion Covers It With Burning Oil at Palestine—Crew Jumps—Causes Damage.

Palestine, Tex., June 14.—International & Great Northern freight engine No. 226 acquired an individuality shortly before daybreak this morning, when, enveloped in flames, its throttle wide open and with no one in its cab, it shot like a terrestrial comet through the railroad yards here, bringing up with a loud crash against another big freight locomotive standing near the depot, causing the latter to ram a string of passenger cars on a track in front of the station. Both engines were badly damaged and a baggage car was literally splintered. In addition two box cars and a refrigerator caught fire from the blazing engine and Carl James, hostler's assistant, was injured when he jumped from the cab while the recalcitrant engine was racing at full speed. No one else was injured.

An explosion of gas caused the trouble. At 3:30 o'clock this morning the big engine was sent to the oil tanks, in the southern part of the yards. An explosion of accumulated gas from some unexplained cause occurred at the tanks. Burning oil was thrown all over the locomotive and its tender.

The hostler in charge reversed the engine and started it back toward the northern yards at full speed. The flames spread so rapidly that he and his assistant were compelled to jump for their lives without closing the throttle.

When the wild engine crashed into its sister the sound of the impact was heard for many blocks and attracted large crowds to the scene.

Opposes Amendment.

Austin, Texas, June 9.—The following statement has been issued from the headquarters of the state organization which is opposing the adoption of the amendment to Sections 49 and 52 of Article 3 of the Constitution.

"An address issued by the Regents of the University, which has been extensively circulated, makes the statement that the adoption of the bond amendment

"Will provide the funds necessary for the proposed expansion of the University without any addition whatever to the taxes borne by the people. The income from the University permanent endowment is amply sufficient to pay the interest and provide a sinking fund for the bonds proposed."

"This is a very clever, but a very misleading statement, in that it does not inform the reader of the fact that nowhere in the amendment is there anything which compels the Legislature, or says that the Legislature shall use any part of the permanent fund to pay off either the interest or bonds. It is left to the Legislature entirely.

Besides, the permanent income of the University will not pay the interest, to say nothing of the bonds, for the Five or Seven Million Dollars which the Regents said in their report for 1912 that the University would soon need. Again, there is no mention in the address of the fact that if bonds are issued for other State institutions that the tax payers have got to pay them. Any person who will secure a copy of the amendment and read it can see for himself that the statement that the adoption of the Constitutional amendment providing for unlimited bonds will not cost the tax payers a cent is not based upon anything in the amendment itself. All bonds must be paid by the tax payers. The adoption of the bond amendment will cost the tax payers in interest and in increased appropriations more than a quarter of a million dollars each year, and it means the destruction of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, the farmers' school. This, within itself, would destroy a Million and a Half Dollars of property, paid for by the taxpayers."

A Factory Guaranty Fund.

Two hundred business men of Dallas gathered at what they called a "prosperity dinner" the other night, and among other subjects discussed was that of creating a factory fund of $1,000,000 to be used in inducing factories to locate in Dallas. The purpose of the proposed fund is not to give bonuses, but to take stock in worthy enterprises and aid in establishing them upon a solid foundation. The plan for raising the fund as outlined by one of the speakers is to secure it through subscriptions paid in annual installments. This, it was pointed out, was the plan Boston had adopted successfully.

Here, in Houston, the business men are alive to the importance of factories, and efforts are being made to induce quite a number of plants to move here, but it seems to the Post that a factory guaranty fund, such as Dallas proposes to raise, is the most practical way.

The great majority of manufacturers that we can hope to bring to Houston must begin in a modest way. The inducement for them to come is the tremendous Texas market. It is obviously impossible for them to obtain financial backing for their removal from the people of their present locations. Such help, if it be had at all, must come from the community in which they desire to locate.

If Houston were prepared to take a block of stock in factories desiring to move here, there would be no longer any backwardness on the part of manufacturers. There are quite a number, no doubt, who would move tomorrow if they could dispose of stock enough here to enable them to become established. It is difficult, indeed, almost impossible, to handle matters of this character through individual investors. The only way is to have a guaranty fund handled by competent men who will be authorized to invest such stock after thorough investigation as to the reliability of the applicant, his capacity to make a success of the industry and the eligibility of Houston as the site for such an industry.

The sum of $1,000,000 judiciously invested in this way during the next three or four years would stimulate manufacturing in Houston and lay the foundation for great industrial growth. The stock thus purchased would belong to those who subscribed to the fund and it would be negotiable in the event one wished to dispose of it.

This subject is not new to Houston business men. It has been discussed before and generally considered with favor, but no headway has been made toward creating the fund.

It is effort of this character that is responsible for the remarkable growth of Dallas. We can hope for very little industrial progress if we wait for the factories to come of their own accord with no substantial encouragement from Houston. No city can become great, populous and wealthy without pay rolls, and we must look to factories for the pay rolls to enable Houston to reach that measure of greatness to which it is entitled by reason of its unrivaled natural advantages.—Houston Post.

THE THIRD DAY OUT WITH THE BOOSTER BUNCH.

Lovelady, Weldon and Other Towns Visited—Music, Flower Presentation at Lovelady and Speeches.

One car was added to the fifteen that made the first day's trip and that made the full second day's trip for the trip on the third day, Thursday. The start with sixteen cars for Lovelady was on time, and Lovelady was reached ahead of time, where a hearty welcome was in store. The Lovelady band, noted for its good music, led in the welcoming. Mayor Young, from an automobile, made a speech along the lines as at other places. When he had finished, Miss Verne Monday, in that charming and graceful manner that is always hers, mounted the speaker's automobile and presented Mayor Young, in behalf of the people of Lovelady, a large and beautiful bouquet of flowers. When Mayor Young had expressed the gratitude of the excursionists for such a handsome reception, County Attorney B. F. Dent, who formerly lived at Lovelady, was called on for a speech. Mr. Dent spoke of the unity of action that should lie with the people of Lovelady and Crockett in every worthy effort to develop their home county. He closed by saying that he hoped to see the day when the two towns would be linked together by a hard road and made as one city. He admonished the Lovelady people to first patronize their home merchants, but if there was anything their home merchants did not have which they wanted and needed, he invited them to send to Crockett, their county seat, for it and not to some town out of their home county. Sam Sharp, once a citizen of Crockett, but now of Lovelady, happily joined in the sentiments already so nobly expressed. The Lovelady band played again and the excursionists departed for Antioch, where a short stop was made as at other places. The next town was Weldon, on the new railroad from Trinity, the Beaumont & Great Northern, recently bought by the Katy and to be extended across the river to Midway in Madison county. Weldon is five miles from Trinity river and at the lower edge of Nevil's prairie, across which it is seven miles. Three miles from Weldon lies the famous Eastham farm with its thousands of fertile and cultivated acres, as level as the floor and as black as your black hat. Until last year this farm was worked exclusively by convicts and the prison house is there yet. The farm is now worked by free labor and many new tenant houses have been built. Under the guidance of the manager, W. A. Eastham, the automobile excursionists were piloted over the farm, good roads intersecting broad acres at convenient distances. There is no richer land on earth than this Trinity bottom land and there is so much of it that it looks like the ocean. Lunch was spread on the Weldon depot platform by the excursionists, and after a visit to the business men in their stores and a concert by the Booster band, the bunch was off for Volga and Morrow's Store and thence home via Shiloh. A good crowd was at Volga and the usual program was gone through. In a sandbed near Shiloh one of the cars was put out of commission and had to be towed in, its passengers dividing up in other cars. This car, however, was repaired at night and went out on the trip the next day. Crops are good, but corn is needing rain.

THE LAST LEG OF THE EXCURSION A GOOD ONE.

Enthusiasm Overrode Superstition—Friday, the Thirteenth, No Hoodoo Day for the Crockett Booster Bunch.

The last day of the Crockett trade excursion, of which there were four, was Friday, the thirteenth. So enthusiastic was the booster bunch that no attention was paid to the hoodoo number. Two new cars were in this day's trip, increasing the number to eighteen, the largest of any day. The bunch left Crockett blowing horns, waving banners and singing trade hallelujahs, with Porter Springs as the first stop. These eighteen automobiles carried upward of ninety business men. At Porter Springs a large and enthusiastic crowd of men, women and children met the excursionists with a hurrah for Houston county. After a short speech by Mayor Young of Crockett, in which he called attention to a few of the possibilities of Houston county in particular and East Texas in general, the good ladies of Porter Springs served to the booster bunch some cream and cake of the most delicious kind, after which each booster was presented with a bouquet of cape jessamines by a bevy of young girls. Dr. W. W. Latham responded to the mayor's speech with an address of welcome, after which the little girls sang a welcome and the band again played. The reception was held in front of the public school building.

Trades day, June 21, and the Houston county fair dates, September 30 to October 3, were advertised throughout the trip. The next stop was at Ash, surrounded by a fertile farming country. A large crowd was present to welcome the boosters and the usual program was carried out. From here the excursionists headed for the Big Four river farm, owned by Daniel & Burton, Arch Baker and John Markham. After a short run, led by I. A. Danial in the pilot car, the booster bunch was brought to a halt in the midst of a thousand acre block of as fine cotton as the world can produce—full of blooms and bolls, and all showing signs of scientific farming. Mr. Markham of the firm is in charge of the plantation. Leaving the Big Four plantation, the next stop was for dinner at Blue Lake, on the adjoining plantation of H. J. Arledge. Here a barbecue dinner was in waiting for the bunch, but it didn't wait long. You should worry about what that crowd of hungry boosters did for that barbecued mutton and pork! This dinner was prepared and served by the negro hands who gave it all the earmarks of the oldtime plantation barbecue. Led by Mr. Arledge in his car, beautiful Blue Lake was left behind and fifteen hundred acres of corn and cotton, as fine as grows, traversed by the excursionists. These plantations are all in the black land and level and the crops in a high state of cultivation. Out of this farm we passed through the Cowherd & Rucker plantation, where the corn and cotton is as good as the best, passing on the way the pretty lake home of L. D. Rogers at Patterson Lake. Next was the two thousand acre plantation of George Murray, where there is one cotton field of seventeen hundred acres, level and black. From here the excursionists turned homeward through the river valley farm of W. B. Cochran, viewing on either side the finest of corn and cotton. Coming out of the river valley one car became disabled and had to be left. The return trip was made by way of Creek, where the usual stop was made and the usual greetings exchanged. In a sandbed, thirteen miles from Crockett, on Friday, the 13th, another car went to the bad and had to be left. Sixteen cars were able to get back to town on their own power.

It was a wonderful and a memorable trip, combining educational, business and pleasure features. It afforded an opportunity for the city's business men to get better acquainted with sections of their home county that they knew little about and to get better acquainted with each other. The opportunity for observing individual character and characteristics was unlimited.
