VOLUME XXVII—NO. 7

SANITARY CITY SEWER SYSTEM ADVOCATED BY MAYOR YOUNG.

Two Methods of Procedure Outlined—
School Buildings Also Needed—City
Finances in Good Condition.

To the Citizens of Crockett:

After four years intimate and active connection with the affairs of your city, I feel it my duty to lay before you some observations and recommendations concerning the welfare of your city, and the general health of its people.

Doubtless few, if any, of you realize that a most serious condition will soon confront you. What is known as the "anti-pollution law" will become effective on January 1, 1917. Before that time the temporary small sewer covering a portion of the business section, which is now taking care of the waste water and refuse from the drug stores, the barber shops, Pickwick hotel and court house, must be either abandoned or a "disposal plant" constructed. This will become necessary because the contents of this sewer are emptied into the town branch, and this will be prohibited when the above law becomes effective. The cost of the disposal plant, being from three thousand to six thousand dollars, is not only too much to take care of so small a system, but it is beyond the present financial ability of the city to meet. Should the abandonment of this sewer be forced upon us (and I see no escape from it), what is to become of the discharge water from all of the above places of business?

I have always entertained the view that when a city sells water to its citizens it is the duty of that city to furnish some means to dispose of the discharge water. It is useless to argue here about the great danger to your health from the lack of a sanitary sewer system. The life of one of you is worth ten times the cost of a sewer system.

Some time ago the city council, through the aid and co-operation of our efficient state health department at Austin, secured maps, profiles, etc., and an estimate on the cost of construction of a sewer system. This we did in order to ascertain about the ability of the city to raise the money necessary to put in the system. I am free to confess to you that under the present charter of the city, there is no way by which this system can be constructed, and this condition prevails notwithstanding the fact we have a city of more than five thousand people with the smallest bonded debt of any city in Texas, according to size. I firmly believe that Crockett is the largest city in Texas without a sanitary sewer system. I would not be discussing these conditions if there was no remedy. In my judgment there are but two ways to meet existing conditions; the first is to reincorporate the city under what is known as Title 22 of Vernon-Sayles Civil Statutes; the second is to double the values of all property in the city.

Under the first, in my opinion, the city council would have the power and authority to mortgage the revenues from the water works system and the sewer system in order to pay for the sewer system, and under this mortgage raise the necessary amount for the construction of the sewer system. This plan would be absolutely safe, because a first and prior lien would exist on such revenues to take care of the running expenses, and to maintain the efficiency of either or both systems. From careful observation during the four years I have been at the head of your city, I firmly believe the revenues arising from the water and sewer systems would be sufficient to pay for the sewer system within not exceeding ten years; and, at the same time, not affect the efficiency of either system. I cannot go more into detail on this proposition in this article; suffice it to say, that by this method not one dollar would have to be raised by taxation.

If you do not see fit to adopt this method, then, if any relief is to be had, you must turn to my second proposition. By doubling or greatly increasing the taxable values, I do not mean the amount you pay in taxes would necessarily be increased in the same proportion. At the present time our taxable values are about one million, five hundred thousand dollars and you pay one and 15-100 dollars on each one hundred dollars thereof. The taxable values might be raised to three million and your tax rate reduced very materially. The idea in raising the taxable values would be to increase the power of the city to issue sufficient bonds to construct the sewer system.

Again, you are almost as badly in need of a school building as a sewer system. The buildings in which your children are now being taught are not only dangerous, but practically a disgrace. The day is not far distant when you must either erect new buildings or discontinue the school.

This article is written neither in the spirit of a "calamity howler" or criticism. I simply want you to see existing conditions and then join with you in an effort to furnish a remedy.

In conclusion permit me to say I will not be a candidate for re-election.

It is with no small degree of satisfaction I can say to you that the affairs of your city have been handled to the best of my skill and ability. While I am sure all of you have not been pleased with its management, yet it has been conducted on an absolutely cash basis, and today there are no current debts and each fund is in a good healthy condition. In retiring from the office I want you to know that so great is my love for Crockett and its many good people, I expect to always be working in some capacity for her interest, progress and advancement.

Respectfully yours,
J. W. Young, Mayor.

The Court of Last Resort.

Around the stove of the cross roads grocery is the real court of last resort, for it finally over-rules all others. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been brought before this court in almost every cross roads grocery in this country, and has always received a favorable verdict. It is in the country where man expects to receive full value for his money that this remedy is most appreciated. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

THE ST. LOUIS "BROWNS" TO PLAY HERE FRIDAY.

Departing from the Usual Course in Playing Away from the Big Cities and Coming to Crockett.

The St. Louis "Browns" of the American baseball league will play in Crockett Friday, March 10, at 3:30 o'clock. The "Browns" are recognized as one of the strongest clubs in the baseball world. This club, which is now in training at Palestine, is departing from the usual course of the big baseball teams in playing away from the big cities. The Crockett Commercial Club has induced the team to play one game here. Business houses will be asked to close for the game and a large crowd is expected to attend. The opportunity of witnessing a real, big league baseball game will not soon be offered to Crockett people again. It will be an exhibition of the sciences in ball playing. The "Browns" carry thirty players—enough for the two teams that will play here Friday and twelve over. These players will all be here.

The following reporters of St. Louis newspapers will come with the "Browns": O'Connor of the Post-Dispatch, Lloyd of the Republic, Keener of the Times, Sheridan of the Globe-Democrat and Healy of the Star. These newspaper men are accustomed to the usual press courtesies in their home city and elsewhere, and no doubt will receive the same recognition and hospitality in Crockett.

The "Browns" will go from Crockett Friday night to Houston, where they will play an exhibition game Saturday.

The Inspirational Service.

Rev. R. A. Harty, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Houston Heights, delivered a very inspiring address at the Methodist church Sunday night. His address was based on the words of Jesus, "Learn of Me." He sought to impress the thought that we should turn from mere human standards and opinions and learn of Jesus. The fact that the various nations of the world are flying at the throats of each other made the message of the evening a timely one. Then the further fact that there will be held in Houston, March 12 to 15, a great laymen's conference which will be addressed by experts from all denominations of worldwide reputation and the educational opportunity thus brought to our very doors to learn of the things pertaining to the Kingdom of God re-emphasized the timeliness of the address. The laymen of Crockett, in conclusion, were urged to avail themselves of this magnificent opportunity.

There were two special numbers on the program of the evening: "Go Forward, Christian Soldier," an anthem by the choir, and "Take Time to be Holy," a song by First Methodist Male Quartette. Mrs. M. L. Sheppard was in charge of the pipe organ, displaying the highest technique and skill in her beautiful, sympathetic renditions of every number from the prelude to the postlude.

Some Good Plays.

The J. Doug Morgan Stock Company, with its own tent theater, is playing in Crockett this week to good houses. An actress familiar to Crockett theater-goers who is now with this company is Gertrude Ewing, who has filled engagements in the old Crockett opera house and who is popular with theater-goers here. Miss Ewing and Mr. Morgan have a strong supporting company and are giving some good plays. The company has its own band and orchestra, comprising about eight musicians.

Has Eight Children.

Mrs. P. Rehkamp, 2404 Herman St., Covington, Ky., writes: "I have been using Foley's Honey and Tar for nearly two years and can find no better cough syrup. I have eight children and give it to all of them. They were subject to croup from babies on. It is a safe and reliable medicine. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

PRINT PAPER GOING OUT OF SIGHT.

Recent advances in the price of print paper are tremendous. Wholesale dealers are withdrawing quotations and refusing to make advance quotations on account of rapid advances. There was a 10 per cent advance on January 31, another on February 2 and now comes a 20 per cent advance. Conditions in the paper market are growing worse daily. Many mills are facing the necessity of shutting down on account of lack of materials, and the cost of every product which is used in the manufacture of paper has increased in price from 25 to 2000 per cent. Rags have advanced in price 100 per cent on account of decreased importation; bleaching powder 1000 per cent and none to be had; colorings from 500 to 2500 and up. English mills have turned to Canada for the wood pulp which formerly came to the United States. To this trouble is added the scarcity of chemicals and dyes, of which Germany supplied us with the greater part. The largest paper mills in the country are refusing to make advance prices, and orders are only received subject to their ability to make the paper. The Courier has a good supply on hand, some of it bought before the advance, but the stock has to be replenished from week to week. However, the orders of our customers will be properly cared for, and we will have paper as long as anybody else has it.

There are too many men, old and young, who are not meeting their obligations and doing what they promise to do. Too many are trying to shirk responsibilities which mean labor and hardships. This makes the load heavier on those who are trying to do their best.

Those who are expecting to get through the world without making sacrifices and assuming responsibilities do not deserve anything in this world. The time has come when all men must come face to face with their duty and not run away from it. The man who is going through the world without bearing his part of the load is unworthy of any consideration or preferment.—Georgetown Commercial.

Make Tomorrow a Better Day.

If things "went wrong" today, if you suffered from indigestion, sick headache, biliousness, bloating, bad breath, or other condition caused by delayed bowel action, take a Foley Cathartic Tablet now and tomorrow will be a better day. This wholesome physic acts without pain or nausea.

What Do You Want to Know About Us?

CAUTION!

¶ With a shortage of ships to move our cotton to foreign shores; with no indication of the end of the war; with the nation stirred over preparedness for eventualities; with the buying power of the entire world gradually lessening day by day, it becomes our duty to issue this formal warning as the time of planting cotton is at hand.

¶ Let every one encourage his neighbor to be on the safe side by raising plenty of feed and food for the community as well as for himself, his family, and his live stock. (A calf, a pig, chickens, and a garden often mean the difference between want and money ahead.) Economical and safe living for all as well as "safe farming" must be the rule if prosperity is to abide with us.

¶ Six-cent cotton this fall would spell disaster in the cotton states. Low price follows over-supply as certainly as the night the day. High prices and prosperity over the South this year prove what voluntary reduction of cotton acreage does. Any marked increase in acreage over last year is going to result in a great loss to Southern cotton producers, merchants, and farmers, and will similarly affect all allied businesses and professions.

WHAT A DOLLAR WILL DO

This is the time of year when many people begin to approximate their expenditures for the ensuing twelve months.

What of YOUR expenditures?

Have you considered what a dollar will buy?

A dollar will pay for fifty-two issues of the Crockett Courier.

And what will the Crockett Courier do for you?

It will be a regular weekly visitor to your home—rain or shine, in good weather or foul, in prosperity or adversity.

It will tell you what the town and county authorities are doing, of the improvements they are making, of the manner in which they are spending the people's funds.

It will tell you of business conditions, of crops, of the state of the markets, of all that is needed in the conducting of public and private affairs.

It will tell you of the marriages, of the deaths, and of the sickness of your relatives and friends.

It will tell you of the business opportunities of the community, of the public sales, and of many other such details in which you have a personal interest.

It will tell you who is running for office.

It will tell you what you and your neighbors are doing, what others farther away are doing, what the community at large is doing; and it will tell others what you and your family are doing.

It will tell you of the activity of the churches, and of the societies, and schools, and of public gatherings of every nature.

It will tell you of the strangers within our gates, and of your visits to other climes.

It will tell you of everything worth knowing in our entire community, throughout your entire circle of acquaintances, and it will tell you all of these things FIFTY-TWO TIMES A YEAR.

Is there any way you can spend a dollar to better advantage than to invest it in a year of the Crockett Courier?
