DIPPING IS PLEDGED BY ELEVEN COUNTIES

Obstacle of Each Section Waiting on the Other is Removed by Conference.

Houston, Tex., Feb. 24.—Eleven East Texas counties represented at a conference here today on tick eradication were pledged to dip cattle rather than accept quarantine measures to be enforced by the state after April 1.

Action of the officials of these counties makes the dipping of cattle where necessary for tick eradication "unanimous" over the state, J. E. Boog-Scott, chairman of the state live stock sanitary commission, declared. The remainder of the counties of the state are either tick free or had previously announced their intention of killing ticks this year.

The counties represented were: Harris, Galveston, Waller, Washington, Liberty, Montgomery, Fort Bend, Grimes, Brazoria, Wharton and Madison. Galveston County was represented by County Commissioners Boddeker and Stoner.

The conference was attended by county judges and commissioners of many of the counties. It was proposed by County Judge Chester H. Bryan of Harris County.

Judge Bryan today repeated that Harris County has spent $52,000 on tick eradication and has $30,000 available for dipping in 1922, but that he and the county commissioners would prefer to save the $30,000 and accept the quarantine on cattle movements rather than "throw good money after bad," unless the surrounding counties all agreed to clean out the tick. Imaginary lines limiting counties will not stop a tick-infested cow from straying over into a county where tick eradication is being practiced, he pointed out, and unless all agreed to dip, he declared, Harris County would not do it this year.

A quarantine on all counties not dipping for ticks goes into effect in zone No. 3 on April 1. The zone comprises forty-nine counties in Texas, east of the Guadalupe River and parts of four other counties.

Favor Strict Enforcement of Law Against Tobacco.

Austin, Tex., Feb. 25.—Among the general important matters that came up for consideration at the meeting of the board of managers of the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher association, which closed a two-day conference here Friday night, was the establishment of an educational endowment fund of $25,000. Of this fund Mrs. Ella Caruthers Porter of Dallas, honorary president and founder of the organization, gave $5000 as a nucleus.

Another decision reached by the board was the motion for the president, Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs, to appoint a committee to select a suitable location in Austin for State headquarters and the appointment of a secretary.

Resolutions were adopted favoring the strict enforcement of the State law concerning the selling of tobacco to minors and promising the co-operation of the congress to the W. C. T. U. in efforts along this line. Twenty-four new organizations were reported and plans for co-operation with the proper State officials were formulated for county organization.

The honor guests of the meeting were Mrs. Milton P. Higgins and her secretary, Miss Bottomy of Worcester, Mass.

Miss Annie Webb Blanton, State superintendent of public education, delivered an address before the meeting.

Mrs. Pat M. Neff entertained the national president, Mrs. Higgins, with a reception at the governor's mansion Thursday afternoon.

I am ready to submit the proof to show that there was more corruption and graft in official circles at Washington during the war than the world ever witnessed before. The time has come for a show down, and to find out who stands for official honesty and who stands for official dishonesty. The abuse of a public trust ought never to be condoned. The politician who condones it and the party which condones it should be cast together into outer darkness.—Senter's Dixie.

SOME NEWS OF THE CROCKETT OIL FIELD

The Porter well in the Austin field is in hard rock, underneath which it is hoped the oil strata will be found. The drill has penetrated beyond a depth of 3500 feet. The formations are said to be all that could be desired and the only thing that is now lacking to make an oil well is the oil itself.

The Driskill well is near 1500 feet. This well is temporarily shut down on account of business matters, which it is hoped to have straightened out in a few days.

The Grapeland well is drilling around 750 feet, but is reported to be making slow progress.

The drilling rig for the Porter Springs well has not yet been unloaded, which may be attributed in part to the unfavorable weather.

MONTE CARLO OF BIG DESERT SEEN IN "THE SHEIK"

Scenes in Biskra Abound in George Melford's Fine Paramount Production.

"THE SHEIK" A GEORGE MELFORD PRODUCTION A Paramount Picture

Biskra is known as the Monte Carlo of the desert. It is the gathering place for the wealthy, the dissolute, the adventurous, the pleasure seeking people of the African littoral and affords a marvelously picturesque background for fiction or photoplay.

It is used in George Melford's Paramount production of "The Sheik."

Agnes Ayres and Rudolph Valentino are the featured players with a fine supporting cast. In a big casino, the most colorful spot in Biskra, the scene of a grand fete given by the young Sheik is laid and therein the beautiful customs of the Orient are shown with great fidelity.

Other scenes are those upon the Sahara, with the wild riders of the desert; the stronghold in the sandy sea of Omair, a bandit of the Sahara, and the Sheik's Oriental dwelling.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; I just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. . . I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too.

NO POLICE IN GREENLAND

Country Is So Law-Abiding That Officers of the Law Would Find Nothing to Do.

The only country in the world that has not a single representative of the law is Greenland. Here dwell 22,000 Eskimos and 240 Danes in settlements scattered along the coast. Eskimos manage their own affairs. Any grievance they may have is settled by the head man of the tribe. There has been no serious crime in the country for the past hundred years.

The Danish government allows no one to land there without permission, which is only granted to bona fide explorers and scientists. The sole object of this seclusion is to prevent liquor and disease reaching the Eskimos.

All Eskimos are Christians, and in the larger settlements there are fine churches, with steeples, organs, and oil paintings. Here you will find Eskimo ministers and physicians, as well as native newspapers, and an illustrated journal produced entirely by Eskimo labor.

During the short summer vegetables and various kinds of fruits are grown, and even strawberries, under glass. The coastal areas are a blaze of color from the wild flowers that abound. Then comes winter, when the whole of Greenland is cut off from the world and buried in snow and ice.—Detroit News.

USE MORE SNUFF NOW.

Modern fads are nothing more than venerable commonplaces all dressed up, in the opinion of Louisville cigar clerks. The jeweled pipe with which milady now courts a kick as cigarettes become plebian, is but a harking back to the fragrant days of grandmother's cornucopia. And now the younger set is taking to snuff, a tobacco man said the other day, with the air of having made a discovery, says Louisville Courier-Journal. Along with the first generation which has abided with its Copenhagen snuff during the ardor of the cigarette fad, an increasing number of young ones are taking to inhaling the weed in its natural state. Several downtown stores have stocked their shelves with the familiar brands of grandfather's time to meet the increasing demand. It is because the little cellar stocks are beginning to run dangerously low, was one cigar dealer's opinion. That little "eye opener" of bygone days now comes from a blue can of powdered tobacco.

A man is always losing his illusions, but not his faith. It is the nature of faith to grow and increase, for faith is a higher knowledge—an advance copy of what soon will be current knowledge. Illusions are lost because they are outside the man, but faith is inside, a personal, undetachable possession, says Dearborn Independent. Faith is a sixth sense which apprehends invisible things that are yet to be brought to the visible plane. Faith is progressive because it is positive; unfaith is negative, and therefore unproductive. Faith is its own guaranty, for while a man may have wrong illusions, his faith cannot take root except in the soil of truth. A man may have many illusions; he can have only one faith.

American women have started a campaign toward the elimination of "git," "youse," "yer," "ain't," and "haint" from the speech of their sex. It has been suggested by some married men that "I had it charged to you" should be included in the campaign.

A Harvard scientist estimates that the earth is just 360,000,000,000,000,000 miles from the center of the universe. Anyway, we bet it is the center of disturbance, and, with the watermelon season on, the very heart of universal interest.

The per capita of circulating medium has dropped $1.99 during the past year from $57.42 to $55.43. Anyway, it isn't so much the quantity of per capita that counts, but the quality and activity. One dollar in motion is worth ten in the sock.

If he can properly be harnessed, the sun will be one chef who will not strike for higher wages; but on the other hand nothing can keep him from going out nights.

Americans are eating eight per cent less meat than they did 20 years ago. Well, you can't reasonably expect your teeth to be as good as they were 20 years ago.

The per capita of circulation is now figured at $59.12. It is no lack of medium per capita that is pestering us, but a shortage of per capita of work.

ECLIPSED EVERY THREE DAYS

Astronomers Have Just Discovered Why the Star "Algol" Disappears at Regular Intervals.

There is a star that winks every three days. Algol is its name, meaning the "Demon Star," by which name it was known to the ancient Arabs. It was visible in July.

Ordinarily, it is quite a bright star, but at intervals of every three days it slowly sinks almost out of sight, and then just as slowly brightens again. The process takes about nine hours to complete.

Why it winks was for a long time a profound mystery. At last some one discovered that a dark, or nearly dark, star regularly passed in front of it and partially eclipsed it, as the moon sometimes does the sun.

Nether a telescope nor an opera glass is needed to see these nine-hour winks of Algol, although the writer has found that an opera glass is an advantage if the night is rather hazy.

It was one of the most wonderfully impressive sights to be seen in the sky.

No one knows how the star that makes Algol wink has come to be so dark. It may be a dead or dying sun. It approaches our own sun in size, but Algol itself is much larger.

Ancient Chinese Fable.

In a story in the Saturday Evening Post by Harry Leon Wilson, one of his characters relates the following Chinese fable: "About 1,700 years since, a politician named Su Tai was one day advising the King of Chao to put an end to his ceaseless hostilities against the Yen State. 'This morning,' said he, 'when crossing the river I saw a mussel open its shell to bask in the sun. At once the bird called an oyster catcher thrust in his bill to eat the mussel, but the latter closed his shell and held the bird fast. 'If it doesn't rain today or tomorrow,' said the oyster catcher, 'there will be a dead mussel.' 'And if you do not get out of this by today or tomorrow,' replied the mussel, 'there will be a dead oyster catcher.' Meanwhile up came a fisherman and carried off both of them.'"

Appeal to Hotel Guests.

One New York hotel has explained why it is forced to ask incoming guests to wait until evening for a room even though they have telegraphed ahead for reservations. It is because other guests persist in hanging on to their rooms until just before they rush off for their trains for home. A business man who is leaving in the evening packs his baggage in the morning when he goes out to clean up his odds and ends of business, comes back in the evening, grabs his baggage, pays his bill, and dashes for a taxi. Now this hotel, in the interest of efficiency and the newcomers, is asking its guests who plan to leave during the day to pack their baggage and check it, appealing to their sense of fair play to help out the other fellow.—New York Evening Post.

Camera in Surgical Operations.

Moving pictures of surgical operations have heretofore not been completely successful, owing to the liability of one of the surgeons getting in front of the camera, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. A recently developed camera is reported to have overcome this difficulty. The camera is completely inclosed in a globular metal case, which is located in a tube projecting from the ceiling, directly over the operating table. By means of a motor located outside of the room, the camera may be raised, lowered, or turned at any angle. A telescope attachment makes it possible to adjust and focus the camera promptly. It has recently been tried with great success.

Oil From Grape Seeds.

Grape seeds, generally thrown away after grape juice has been made, are wasted to the quantity of 1,100 tons a year, according to Frank Rabak of the bureau of plant industry of the United States Department of Agriculture. Mr. Rabak says that from them can be drawn about 13 per cent of an oil that is excellent for cookery and for use in salad dressings.

It may be true, just as the engineers declare, that industry is wasting millions and millions in this country, but, just the same, downright laziness and good-for-nothing loafing hobos and shirkers are wasting more.

New York theatrical managers are going to Europe to look for musical and spectacular novelties. Evidently the great work of reconstruction is not expected to adhere rapidly to industrial lines.

A French savant has evolved a system for rejuvenating used lubricating oils; and now if he can think up a way to drive a car with second hand gasoline our troubles will be practically ended.

State Senate.
Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 28, 1922.
Hon. George W. Norris,
Washington, D. C.,

Dear Sir:—The following resolution was adopted by the senate:

Whereas the Federal Government has, from time to time, enacted laws making sundry appropriations of moneys to the several States for various purposes upon condition of like appropriations by the States in aid of such purpose; and

Whereas the burden of taxation resulting from meeting such Federal appropriations has become grievously heavy, and an increasing number of Nebraska citizens have indicated their unwillingness to be so taxed as well as their disapproval of Federal control of State expenditures, consequent upon the acceptance of Federal appropriations. Now therefore be it Resolved by the Nebraska State Senate in special session assembled, That we condemn this form of Federal appropriations and request the Senators and Representatives of Nebraska in Congress to use their influence to prevent Federal legislation of this kind and instruct the secretary of the senate to forward copies of this resolution to the Nebraska delegation in Congress.

Yours very truly,
Clyde H. Barnard,
Secretary of the Senate.

The above resolution of the Nebraska Legislature is timely. For many years the Congress of the United States has been passing laws of this nature, thus heaping up bureaus and adding more and more burdens upon the people in the way of taxes. Not only that, but these laws are insiduously invading the domain of the States, increasing Federal office holders, and opening up new avenues for domestic troubles and interfering with the tranquility of sovereign States. Invariably these laws originate at Washington in the minds of a lot of impractical uplifters who have a morbid notion that all the ills of a Nation can be remedied by legislation. States are induced to avail themselves of these appropriations on the ground that they are only paying a portion of the sums in order to become beneficiaries of the rich treasury at Washington, as though the money in the National Treasury finds its way there in some mysterious manner that does not cost the tax payers anything.

There are very few measures, if any, that should be enacted into laws that are not demanded by the people, and often laws that are hurtful, unsound and impractical find support in large bodies of voters.

During the last quarter of a century a sentiment has taken deep root in the heads of certain reformers that the beginning of the eradication of evil must take place in the halls of Congress, and an army of weeping lobbyists besiege the Capitol at each session of Congress and what is strange to contemplate, a lot of soft-brained statesmen (?) soon fall victims to the beguiling influences of that lobby. The great body of tax payers do not send to Washington these lobbyists. The first they know anything about these uplift measures is when they are notified by the Legislatures of their own States that another step toward the millennium has been taken.

Let all the States follow the sensible example of Nebraska, and then these shallow-minded law makers may begin to realize the danger to which they are hastening, and the centralization of power they are creating at Washington, and the burdens of taxation they are piling upon the people. If we mistake not the feeling of the country just now the voters are going to have a general counting up of the cost of their government, and that if they and their children are to love their country more, they may be forced to love some of their representatives less. The old idea was that principles counted for more than men. In other words, it were better to have a good government than to gratify the political ambitions of men, even should they be our personal friends.

The Texas University Alumni are displeased with the sorry showing in athletics at the University, and are determined to remedy the situation, if possible. It is the consensus of public opinion that American institutions of learning are devoting more time and expense to athletics than is best for the education of the youth of the country. Athletics is all right if kept within proper bounds, but when all else is subordinate to it the purposes for which educational institutions are designed have been greatly impaired. Training of the body is very essential, but the nature of the most popular games played in our schools eliminates those most in need of physical training and fosters a character of exercise so violent that only those already physically developed can participate in it. And it is so violent that it is questionable as to whether those selected for the teams are benefited or not. Whatever may be the opinions as to violence, rules of elimination and selection, one thing is certain, and that is the fact that athletics should not become the paramount feature of our colleges and universities.

We are informed that men who cannot pay the taxes on their homes managed somehow to get enough money to pay their poll taxes. That fact is the strongest evidence that this country ever had that the people value their liberty above all earthly blessings. It means that the people are going to own their right to choose their public servants. As long as the people can register their will at the ballot box, free government will not perish from the earth. It has been said that the day you make a man a slave you deprive him of half his virtue. But as long as he will cast an honest, intelligent vote he will be free. We are glad to know that the franchise of the people is yet unincumbered; that it has not defaulted.

MILLION DOLLARS DAILY IS SPENT UPON SOLDIERS

Half-Billion Expenditure for 1922 Aimed to Provide for All Relief.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Uncle Sam's flat answer to those who charge him with failure to alleviate the physical and financial is that more than a million dollars a day, including Sunday, is being expended by the government for the ex-service men and their dependents. Supporting this answer, Uncle Sam points to the 1922 budget estimate of expenditures to be made directly for the benefit of ex-warriors, which calls for half a billion dollars.

Colonel C. F. Forbes, director of the United States Veterans' Bureau, today outlined for International News Service the expenditures his bureau contemplated for the current year. The estimate, in round figures, calls for $510,000,000.

This sum will be divided, Colonel Forbes said, into seven composite branches of soldier relief work. For vocational training, the sum of $167,000,000; for medical and hospital services, the sum of $64,600,000; for payments on war risk term insurance, the sum of $81,700,000; for U. S. government life insurance, the sum of $5,700,000; for soldiers' compensation, the sum of $161,000,000; for retroactive government allowances on proven and extant claims, the sum of $2,000,000, and for salaries and expenses, that is administration, the sum of $31,500,000. These figures total $514,000,000, from which Colonel Forbes deducts the $5,700,000 to be paid in United States government life insurance claims, on the ground that it is a self-supporting branch of the bureau's activities.

Of the $167,500,000 allotted to vocational training Colonel Forbes believes that not more than $3,000,000 will be used for administration expenses at the government's camps training schools and reconstruction centres. Thus the major portion of that allotment will go to pay the ex-service men an average of $115 per man per month while in training.

$115 Monthly is Average.

He pointed out that $115 was an average, declaring that the payments vary between $80 and $170 per month per man. The greatest amount will be expended for men at Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio. In addition, it will pay for the former soldiers stationed at the bureau's six additional large training centres and forty-one small training centres.

The administration, or salaries and expenses of the bureau's Washington office, its fourteen district offices, its 126 sub-offices and as well, the salaries of all teachers.

Colonel Forbes declared that the bureau is handling satisfactorily 203,000 compensation claims, for which the $161,000,000 has been allotted; and 150,000 insurance claims for which the $81,700,000 has been set aside.

50,000 Being Educated.

The bureau, its director continued to explain, is maintaining slightly more than 50,000 former soldiers in American public and private educational institutions and an average of 39,000 in placement training in industrial schools.

The number of men in all vocational schools is 5,035, 150 of whom are at Camp Sherman. In government and private hospitals the bureau is taking care of 30,300 disabled veterans, some of whom are also tendered vocational training, and some of whom are also on the insurance and compensation payrolls.

In round figures vocational training is being afforded 125,000 veterans, Colonel Forbes declared.

GROUND HOG DAY.

Written for the Courier.

A ventured step, a measured tread,
Came forward on that day;
A flash of sunlight crossed his path,
The groundhog old and gray.

Retreating steps and famished form,
When he had come to stay,
Before the sun had sealed his fate,
The groundhog old and gray.

Back to his crude and hapless home,
Six weeks to starve and stay,
Till nature reels the threads of life,
For the groundhog old and gray.

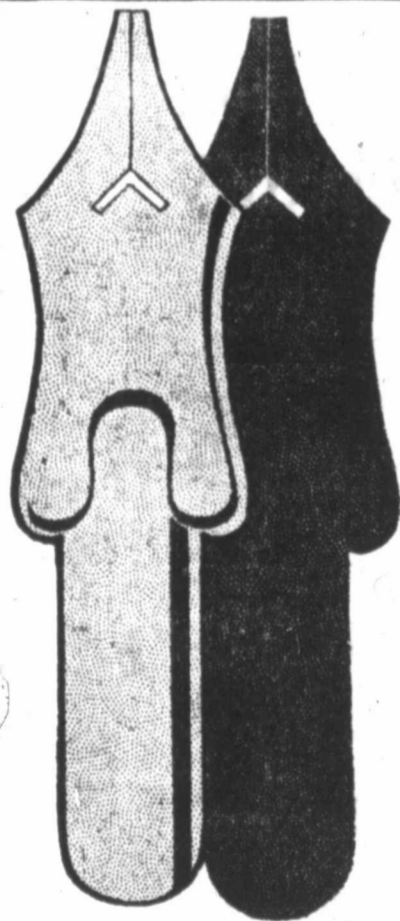

The shadows fall across our path—
Have followed on our way—
And find our plan is but a span,
Like the groundhog old and gray.

WRIGLEY, THE NOTED ADVERTISER, SEES WAY TO PROSPERITY

By William Wrigley, Jr.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—My large investments necessarily compel me to keep close tab on the country's economic situation and I am glad to say I am informed business is getting better in the east and that this condition is spreading to the middle west by degrees.

From all that I can learn the good old American dollar is coming back to its own. People from one end of the nation to the other are getting around to the idea that the only basis for real prosperity is an honest day's work for a fair day's wage.

The United States, considered as a whole, has been on a "business drunk" for the last five years. Prices, up to recently, were out of all sense of proportion for the value received. Some fellows fell into a habit of charging three times what a thing was worth and when some poor devil paid what they asked wanted to kick themselves because they didn't charge more.

The high value of our dollar has kept the foreign trade of the United States from expanding. However, I am selling more chewing gum in Europe as each month goes by and I believe other American products will show a like gain in foreign favor.

Yes, I believe American prosperity will be back before long. No one can say just how long. But it is a cinch the richest, most progressive and most intelligent people on the face of the earth are not going to let a temporary slump in business hold them down. We have the men, money and material. So it is only a question of getting things humming again.

The year 1921 was regarded as a bad period for lots of concerns in the east and middle west. For me it was the best year in the thirty-one years I have been established in the chewing gum manufacturing industry. One of the biggest factors for my excellent showing is advertising.

I am spending $11,000 a day this year to push my chewing gum. I am also spending what would have been a fine ransom for a king in the good old days to popularize Catalina Island.

The judicious use of printers' ink is the greatest selling force in the world. If you do business on a worldwide basis, or even in the locality encompassed within a few blocks, you have got to keep the people interested or you won't sell them your goods.

I have tried them all and I know whereof I speak, that the only effective way to appeal to hundreds of millions, or just a few hundred people, is in advertising space.

The International News Service asks me how I believe the average individual can help in restoring prosperity.

To my way of thinking the greatest cure for hard times is to stop talking, get a job, or if you are an employer hire more men, be a doer, not a dreamer, and try to keep your money circulating where it will most effectively help improve the public good.

I was asked by an editor a few days ago if I thought there was a danger of bolshevism ever spreading to the United States.

Not in a thousand years, I replied. The American people use their brains for thinking. Besides there are too many of them who own their own homes, and who know what firesides mean, and who take pride in seeing their kiddies grow up.

Many business men who have been reading Thomas A. Edison's strictures upon the ignorance of college men breathe sighs of relief when they reflect that Edison's questionnaire was not submitted to them.

It is safe to say that the former tenant of a city flat who is now occupying a comfortable suburban home sheds no tears, when he learns that his former landlord is holding a number of vacant apartments.

Uruguay's prison system is being touted as the best in the world. Judgment must be reserved until one finds out whether the recommendation comes from the prisoners or the others.

Here's a man who handled 90,000 pounds of concrete single handed in one day, and whose lunch consisted of milk. Wonder what he could do if he ate a little meat?

If President-Elect Should Die.

If the successful candidate for President or vice-president should die before the second Monday in January after an election, the electors would be empowered, under the law, to vote according to their judgment. This contingency has never arisen. No President-elect has ever died. If a President-elect should die between the second Monday in January and inauguration day the electoral college would not be reconvened, but the house of representatives would have to bear the responsibility.

Disastrous.

"I decided to economize by buying the cheaper cuts of meat instead of the choice ones."

"How did it work out?"

INCOME TAX FACTS.

Former soldiers and sailors, in filing an income-tax return for 1921, should not include as gross income any amount received under the provisions of the war risk insurance and vocational rehabilitation acts and as pensions from the United States for military or naval service during the war.

The special exemption of $3,500 formerly allowed soldiers and sailors in active service is not continued by the revenue act of 1921. "Persons in active military or naval service of the United States" are allowed only the exemptions granted other individuals, $1,000 if single (or if married and not living with husband or wife); $2,500 if married and the combined net income of husband and wife was $5,000 or less; and $2,000 if married and the combined net income of husband and wife was more than $5,000.

An unmarried soldier, sailor, marine, or ex-service man must file a return if his net income from all sources for 1921 was $1,000 or more or if his gross income was $5,000 or more. If married and living with his wife on December 31, 1921, he must file a return if the net income of himself and wife and dependent minor children was $2,000 or more, or if the combined gross income was $5,000 or more.

WOMAN'S LOVE.

It takes 100 men to make an encampment, but it only takes the influence of one woman to make a home. I not only admire woman as the most beautiful object ever created, but reverence her as the redeemed glory of humanity, the sanctuary of all perfect qualities of heart and head. It is because women are so much better than men that their faults are considered greater. The one thing in this world that is considered constant, the only peak that rises above the clouds, the window in which the light burns forever, the one star that darkness can not quench is woman's love. It rises to the greatest heights, it sinks to the lowest depths, it forgives the most cruel injuries. A woman's love is the perfume of the heart. This is the real love that subdues the earth; the love that has wrought miracles of art; that gives us music all the way from the cradle song to the grand symphony that bears the soul away on wings of life. A love that is greater than power, sweeter than life and stronger than death.—R. Ingersoll.

There are many men out of work because they can find no employment. There are many out of work because they can find no work they are capacitated to do; but there are a great many who are out of work because they choose to be—and it is this class for which no sympathy need be wasted. In the army of unemployed there are many who refuse to work because they can not continue to draw war-time wages. They howl at the conditions, and berate the capitalist and the employing classes, but they still prefer idleness to working for reduced wages. But let us not forget to sympathize with those, who for no cause attributable to their own actions, are out of employment. Nor ought we fail to render, as much as lieth in us, aid to this class.—Troup Banner.

A NEGRO COLOR THEORY.

Among the beliefs and superstitions of negro plantation days, as related by Eleanor C. Gibbs in the Atlantic Monthly, is one about the inside of negroes' hands and the bottoms of their feet being white. The story, handed down from one negro generation to another, was that God at first made all folks white, but finally there were so many that He got tired of looking at them. Then He decided to paint a lot of them different colors. He made some red folks like Indians, and some yellow folks and some brown folks. Then He studied about what He should do next, and decided to make some black folks. Then He told some of the white folks to get down on all-fours because He was going to paint them black. Of course the inside of their hands and the bottoms of their feet didn't get painted.

FINDS FINLAND A FAIRYLAND

American Traveler Has Nothing but Praise for the People of the Northern Country.

In Petrograd, Arthur Ruhl relates in "New Masters of the Baltic," he had handed over his bag and overcoat to be checked. The functionary in charge smeared a great label covered with uncanny paste on his suitcase, and then proceeded to duplicate the operation by marking his coat in the same way. Dumfounded at his protest against sticking so much soviet grime on his good American clothes, the old gentleman finally agreed to stick the label on the hook.

Thirty miles out from Petrograd you cross the Finnish border. Mr. Ruhl stepped into a station restaurant, deposited a small coin in an automat, turned the crank, and out came the best of coffee with cream and sugar on a neat metal tray. His luggage was cared for as it would be in the best American hotels. Instead of befurred Russians, there were dapper young men outside the station and charming young women inside, each dressed in the immaculate uniform of the Finnish waitress. "One went about," he says, "nibbling here and there as a child in a dream nibbles from a castle made of chocolate."

W. H. Allbright, Manager

Here from New York.

Mr. E. D. Terbell and daughter, Miss Anna Terbell, of New York city are in Crockett for a visit of a few days with friends. They formerly resided here, but returned to New York, where they came from, a number of years ago, following a residence of about three years at Crockett. Their desire to own a peach orchard brought them to Crockett and it is to be regretted that their peach orchard was not a success. In New York city they maintain a town home and on Long Island a country home. Friends of the family here have regretted to learn of the death of Mrs. Terbell last fall. Since the death of the wife and mother, Mr. Terbell and daughter have spent much time in traveling, having spent the winter in Cuba, the Panama Canal Zone and California. Returning to New York through Texas and St. Louis, they stopped in Crockett to make a brief visit with the friends of former days and thus to renew some cherished acquaintances.

Not on Cash Basis.

The Courier has been asked if Houston county is now on a cash basis. Answering that question, the Courier will say that the county general fund is now about $12,000 behind. It was announced in the Courier that when the 1921 tax money was turned into the county treasury the county would be able to take up all outstanding scrip against the general fund. We regret to say that the announcement proved disappointing and that county scrip against the general fund is now about five or six months unpaid. However, there is much delinquent tax uncollected, but this may not be collected soon. The county is not yet on a cash basis.

Advertise it in the Courier.

For County Attorney.

Earle Porter Adams announces this week as a candidate for re-election to the office of county attorney of Houston county. His candidacy is, as a matter of course, subject to the action of the democratic party. He has made an efficient record as a prosecutor of those who transgress the state and county laws, and his assistance to the district attorney has always been vigorous, fearless and strong. Those who have had the most to do with the courts know best his ability and efficiency. The lawless fear him while all others commend him for his untiring efforts in behalf of order and decency. Born and reared at Crockett there are few people in Houston county who do not know him, and any further introduction by the Courier seems superfluous. Suffice it to say, however, that he will appreciate the continued support of all good men and women in the July primary and he promises the same close attention to the duties of the office in the future as in the past.

For Tax Collector.

Mr. R. S. Willis announces this week as a candidate for the office of tax collector of Houston county, subject, as are all other announcements in that column, to the action of the democratic party. This is Mr. Willis' second call for the office, having been a candidate two years ago and having lost by a small vote. His support then was sufficient to justify his again entering the race, and the encouragement he received then, and since is the cause of his being again in the campaign, his friends promising him an encouraging support. Mr. Willis has lived in Houston county 52 years, which is the greater part of his life. He is fully competent to fill the office in every respect and his honesty has never been questioned. He hopes to meet all voters in person between now and election day and to become better acquainted with any who may not know him. He solicits and will appreciate the support of all good men and women in the coming democratic primary to be held in July.

For District Clerk.

A. B. (Poor Albert) Smith announces in the Courier this week as a candidate for the office of district clerk of Houston county. Albert Smith came into this world in Crockett and has been going in and out among Houston county people ever since. His education—that part which was not gotten through the hard knocks and ups and downs of life—was gotten in the public schools of Crockett. His education is of the practical and workable kind, and his qualifications to fill the office of district clerk are entirely adequate. He says he has been working for other people the most of his life and that he feels the time has now come for him to try to do something for himself. He will appreciate the support of his friends in the coming primary election and he hopes to meet all with whom he is unacquainted during the campaign. For the information of any who may not know him, the Courier will state that his experience in court house work well equips him for the office of district clerk, having served in various departments of the county as office assistant.

Martha Washington Tea.

The Martha Washington tea given Wednesday was in every way a success. The members of the Y. W. A. have nothing but pleasant reminiscences of their first and maiden attempt at social enterprise. At the appointed hour cars began to crowd in front of Mrs. D. O. Keissling's and thus they kept coming until the house overflowed with laughter and good-cheer.

Little Miss Virginia Moore and Master Douglas Harold Arnold, in costume in keeping with the day, stood at the door ready to accept the offerings which were so generously and graciously given by each guest.

Mrs. D. C. Kennedy and Mrs. J. S. Wootters introduced the receiving line, which was as follows: Master Will Ike Kennedy, as George Washington in all his glory, with powdered wig, be-plumed hat, bright blue suit and silver buckles; Mrs. Billie Allee, Mrs. Alton LeMay, Mrs. Jacoby, Mrs. Leonard Arnold, Mrs. E. P. Adams and Miss Bessie Satterwhite, officers of the Y. W. A., and in courtesy, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Lee. The members of the Y. W. A. were in costumes of "ye olden times" which brought back to our minds the Colonial days when lords and ladies bowed to each other in the stately minuet.

Mrs. G. L. Keene, also in costume, presided over the registry, which was a hand-painted affair in keeping with the occasion.

A short but complete program was rendered by the following: Will Ike Kennedy—Song, "George."

Mrs. Lewis—Violen solo.
Mrs. Keissling—Solo.

After this twelve little people—Tod Adams, Grace Hairston, Melvin Faine, Nina McLean, John Latimer, Hattie Bell Driskell, Harvey Asher, Bennie Sue Jordan, John L. Dean, Albertine Smith, Lewis Sullivan, Madine Pratt—danced the minuet to the tune of "Comin' thro' the Rye," accompanied by Miss Latimer.

Mrs. John LeGory then gave two very beautiful numbers. Miss Otice McConnell, in her usual charming manner, gave a very humorous reading.

Mrs. Robert Allen closed the program with two of her beautiful solos.

Mrs. Forrest West and Mrs. Tom Moore then invited the guests to the dining room, where a delicious salad course was served by Mrs. Houston Lively and Mrs. Charles Fuller. Here the guests were again reminded of days of yore, as those who attended the guests were also in costume in keeping with the day. Here the guests received the little red hatchets—the little symbol which is always associated with "The Great American."

The guests very reluctantly bade their hostesses adieu, but left behind them a feeling of Love, Hope, and Charity.
