SOME NEWS OF THE CROCKETT OIL FIELD

All interest has centered on the Porter well at Crockett and we hear nothing said of any other well or location. The Courier told its readers last week of the swabber pulling off in this well, the accident happening Monday night. Since that time Mr. George L. Porter, who is operating the Porter well, has had a fishing job. In attempting to fish out the broken cable and swabber last week, some part of the machinery was broken and repair parts sent from Humble had to be waited for, as well as additional tools for the fishing job. When work was resumed it was found that bridges had formed in the well and these had to be drilled out. The well is again open all the way down and parts of the lost cable had been gotten out on Wednesday evening of this week. Fishing was resumed this (Thursday) morning and it is believed that the rest of the broken cable and swabber will be gotten out soon. On account of the extreme care necessary to be taken, no night work has been done this week, only the day crew being used. The gas pressure in the well is so strong that it is feared a blow-out may happen at any time and destroy the well and this is a reason for extra precaution.

There seems to be no doubt but that if this well can be controlled it will prove to be the opening of an extensive oil pool. Already sharp trading in royalties has started. We hear of one lessee who had retained an eighth royalty in his land selling a sixteenth of the royalty on ten acres for $1000, or $100 an acre for half of his royalty. A number of big oil companies have representatives here watching developments, and several leases have changed hands at a nice profit to the seller. But we do not yet know when we'll know what we'll know.

ALICE IN HUNGERLAND.

A three-reel motion picture entitled, "Alice in Hungerland," is now being shown through the state as a part of the Near East Relief campaign. The heroine of the play "Alice" was found by Near East Relief workers in a Jewish orphanage in Constantinople.

"We all fell in love with Alice," said Dr. A. C. McCreary, who is a National Executive of the Near East Relief and now touring the west in the interest of this cause, and we took her with us all through Armenia that she might "star" in our movies. This picture shows her frolics with the hundreds of happy children in our orphanages and it shows her distress as she saw the great multitudes for whom we have been unable to make room. The real Alice is now in America bringing a message to American children of the gratitude of the children of all nationalities, Armenian, Syrian, Greek, Jew, Chaldean, Assyrian and others for the life given them by America.

Shiloh News.

Editor Courier:

Mrs. T. J. Buchanan left Friday for her home in Crockett, her school being closed. She was accompanied by Miss Ruth Sanders, our principal teacher, who will attend the county meet before returning to her home near Lovelady.

The ones who received the most head-marks in the primary room in spelling were: Little Miss Irene Williams, fourth grade, and Master Hugh Bitner, fourth grade. They both were awarded lovely prizes. In primer class was little Master Gordon Williams, who won a lovely prize. In third grade Master Ernest Bitner won the prize.

Those visiting in our school Friday were: Little Misses Eunice Huntsman, Lillie Craven, Ruth Huntsman and Masters Aubrey Williams, Gaire Huntsman.

Mrs. Albert Higginbotham entertained her friends Thursday night with a play party in honor of our teachers who were to soon leave us. Those from other places attending were: John Craven of Creek, Homer Sanders from Lovelady.

Alton Bitner was in Crockett Thursday.

Edgar Elliott of Creek was in our community Thursday night.

I. J. Williams was a business visitor in Crockett Saturday.

We all like this norther which is blowing hard at present.

Pupil.

Another Good Egg.

Mrs. Jennie Heath, wife of Mr. S. J. Heath, who lives out on Route 3 from Crockett, sent to the Courier office Saturday a Rhode Island Red hen egg that measured 8 inches around the long way from tip to tip and 5 inches around the center. The egg contained two yolks or yolks (whichever it is, or one of each), enough to make two egg malted milks, which was done. We thank Mrs. Heath for the treat.

JUST A WORD WITH OUR SUBSCRIBERS

Farmers are busy this week with their corn planting as evidenced by the small number who have called to renew their subscriptions since the last issue of the Courier. The majority of our subscribers are among the farmers of Houston county, a fact the Courier is proud of. The Courier can say, without boasting and without fear of successful contradiction, that we have a larger circulation among Houston county farmers than any other newspaper. There is a reason for this. The Courier has never neglected the interests of its subscribers for personal gain, which might be temporarily had in the matter of advertising and job printing. With the Courier the interests of its subscribers always come first, for its subscribers are the foundation of its success. On the principle of "Keep thy shop and thy shop will keep thee," the Courier has always labored in the interests of its subscribers, and they have rewarded us with a most liberal patronage, for all of which we are appreciative and thankful. We especially desire to thank that subscriber in the southern part of the county who wrote: "Every one who is acquainted with the Courier compliments it very much."

Among our friends who have called to renew or subscribe or sent in their renewals and subscriptions since last issue are the following:

C. H. Fritze, Crockett Rt. 2.
Joe Lockey, Palestine.
A. P. Bolch, Crockett Rt. 7.
A. F. Thomas, Crockett Rt. 5.
L. L. Poe, Crockett Rt. 6.
John L. Dean, Crockett Rt. 7.
F. A. Lively, Lovelady Rt. 2.
Wright Arledge, Crockett Rt. 7.

SOMETHING ABOUT NEAR EAST RELIEF

One day a few months ago a lonesome little girl in a Near East Relief orphanage in Turkey, the next day a star in a motion picture dramatizing the tragedy that has overtaken her people, is the experience of Alice Duryea, Near East orphan, now the adopted daughter of Mrs. Florence Spencer Duryea of New York City, national director of the Woman's Division of Near East Relief.

Alice was chosen from among thousands of her associates because she is typical of her race, very like American girls, bright, ambitious and pleasant. Losing her parents in the war, as so many thousands of these children did, she found refuge in a Near East Relief Orphanage near Constantinople, and there the director of the film, "Alice in Hungerland," together with Mrs. Duryea, who were members of the commission sent from America to investigate conditions in Armenia and the Near East, found her and asked her to take the part of little "Alice" in the picture which the commission intended to make.

"Alice in Hungerland" will be shown at the Crockett Theatre Saturday (matinee), March 25, under the auspices of the local committee of Near East Relief, who are now engaged in securing foodstuffs for the relief of the starving.

Revival Meeting.

Sunday the revival meeting will begin in the Methodist church in Crockett. Rev. R. L. Flowers and wife of Dallas will lead the campaign. Choir Director Edwards will have charge of the musical part of the campaign.

The purpose of the revival is to promote the kingdom of Jesus Christ. Therefore all Christians of all churches are especially invited to attend the revival services and make themselves at home in the service of our common Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

There will be two services daily. We especially insist that the Christian people arrange to attend the day services. Special reward is offered to those who attend all services during the meeting.

The entire public, those who belong to churches and those who belong to no churches, are cordially invited to attend the services. There is a blessing in this meeting for every man and woman in town. You will miss the blessing if you remain at home.

Tell your neighbor about the big revival—kindly invite him to come. If you have a family, bring every member of it to the services. Let's crowd the church every night during the meeting. You are kindly asked to pray for the success of the meeting.

Pastor.

Pure Oil Geologist Here.

Mr. B. W. Blanpied, geologist for the Pure Oil Company of Tulsa, Okla., and Mexia, Texas, was at Crockett from Wednesday until Saturday. Mr. Blanpied was sent here to look the field over and report to his company, which is one of the largest oil concerns operating in Oklahoma and Texas and whose capital is away up in the millions. Mr. Blanpied was favorably impressed with what he saw and announced before leaving that he would return in a few days and make further investigation of Houston county oil possibilities. Should his impressions continue favorable and his company decide to come into Houston county as oil developers, a number of test wells will be drilled by them, as their surplus capital is ample for any development work they may undertake. It seems that oil development work is just beginning in Houston county.

BRAZORIA COUNTY FOR ERADICATION OF CATTLE TICKS

Federal Inspector Finds Sentiment Favorable; Work Begins April 1.

Angleton, Texas, March 18.—Brazoria county is 100 per cent for the eradication of the cattle tick.

This is the opinion of Glen R. Peck, supervisor for this county, representing the federal bureau of animal industry and the State government in the tick campaign. Mr. Peck has been in all sections of the county and he is meeting with the co-operation of every cattleman in his district. He maintains his office here, which is the center of the county, so that he can keep in close touch with the work.

Material for the vats in the various sections of the county has been purchased, and work is to start upon their construction during the next few days. The vats will be built with lumber, and it has been proven that vats of this construction are far superior to concrete and similar vats.

Chas. F. Wright of Alvin has been appointed by the county as supervisor and will be under and work in conjunction with the federal supervisor. Mr. Wright will be assisted by 12 inspectors, located in the various sections of the county. These inspectors have been appointed and just as soon as the vats are completed they will enter into the work and rush it to a finish.

Mr. Peck believes that the prairie section of the county will be cleared by the end of the coming summer and the entire county will be clear of ticks within the next two years.

The commissioners court has appropriated $32,000 to carry on the work, which includes building the vats, furnishing the dip, of which 5000 gallons already has been purchased, and the salaries of the different inspectors.

With the cattlemen working in harmony with the officials and the county it is hoped that the work will be under full headway by April 1.

73, But Spry as Ever.

Mr. J. H. Rhoden, from the eastern part of the county, was in Crockett Saturday and feeling as spry as ever. He says that he is 73 years old, but that he is yet able to "ride down a $100 horse in penning a $5 yearling." He is feeling so spry in spite of his age that he has a hankering to get into some kind of a race or contest, and doesn't know but what he will run for some county office. He says that if he decides to run, his announcement will appear in this paper and that before the campaign is over, all voters will know what office he is running for.

"SEX DETECTOR" IS GREAT FRAUD SAYS THE GOVT.

Washington, March 8.—Be-ware of the sex detector, says the department of agriculture. It is widely advertised as one of the greatest "marvels" of the age, but there is nothing to it, the department asserts in a formal statement.

According to its manufacturers and publicity agents, the detector is a small instrument that will unfailingly indicate the sex and fertility of eggs, the department says, adding that poultry raisers were promised phenomenal hatches and as high a percentage of females as they might desire by its use.

"But this was only part of what might be expected of this simple but potent little device," declares the department in a recent circular. "It was said to tell the sex of oysters, butterflies, caterpillars, beetles, worms, and even the sex of the animal from which were obtained such products as leather and cheese, although there would seem to be little difficulty in the case of dairy products.

"Even the criminologist was offered assistance, for it was claimed that the unfailing little detective would tell the sex of the person who shed the blood found on clothing or elsewhere. One manufacturer said that by attaching a wire to his apparatus and running it through a keyhole he could determine the sex of any person holding the loose end of the wire."

At the suggestion of the post-office department the bureau of chemistry of the agricultural department made tests of several such instruments—with the result that all the manufacturers have now gone out of business!

"One of the detectors," continues the report, "was an elongated, tubular, plummet-shaped device made of nickel-plated iron and filled with a greenish mixture of calcium carbonate and an aluminum salt, and suspended by a fine thread.

"When held an inch above an egg containing a male germ the stuffed tube was said to swing back and forth like the pendulum of a clock; but if the egg were of the opposite sex, the bob would describe little circles, and in case of an infertile egg there would be no motion at all.

"Another device consisted of a small gilded wooden ball having a cavity filled with red lead and covered by a small iron disk, the whole suspended by a cord. The telltale motions were claimed to be the reverse of those that indicated male and female with the other instrument."

Try as the agricultural department experts would, they could not get the "miracles" to work. Tests on eggs and other things by a number of persons showed that all the instruments were useless. No two persons got the same results with the same eggs, and eggs known to be infertile gave positive indications that they would hatch both pullets and cockerels.

LON A. SMITH WILL SEEK RE-ELECTION AS STATE COMPTROLLER

Sound Business Administration Has Been Aim, Incumbent Declares.

Announcement of his intention to be a candidate again for the post of State comptroller came Saturday from Lon A. Smith, the incumbent.

The text of Mr. Smith's announcement is:

"Two years ago, on the anniversary of my birthday, March 13, I submitted my candidacy to the voters of Texas for the office I now hold. The results attending the campaign were absolutely satisfactory and pleasing to me. My only promise to the people then was an efficient and economical administration of the duties of the comptroller's department. It is your province as a voter of Texas to sit in judgment and to decide whether or not my administration meets with your approval, and I am aware of the fact that your decision will be rendered in accordance with the manner in which I have discharged the duties which have devolved upon me during my first official year, which is now closing.

"I have instituted some reforms in the department, none of them radical, however, but all of them with a hope of giving the people a sound business administration.

"I have had the hearty cooperation of all the people who have had dealings with the department, and they have contributed largely to any success which has attended my administration. I am grateful to each and all and am glad to share with them any glory and honor which has come to me.

"It has been my desire and ambition to gather about me in this department men and women capable, energetic, courteous and loyal. Should you choose to keep me in office another term I can only promise a faithful, fair, efficient and economical administration as I have striven to give you during my incumbency."

THE RESULT COUNTS.

It is doubtful if the average citizen realizes the amount of time devoted to the public welfare by town officials and members of the governing bodies.

They can never consider their time their own.

Scarcely a day passes but what some citizen approaches them with some request or suggestion relative to community affairs. Each of these must be carefully considered from all angles, and the good points weighed against the bad ones.

This requires much time and thought, all of which is taken from their private business affairs.

The slight compensation they receive from the town treasury is but a pittance, not to be compared with the value of the time and energy they devote to the public good.

Why, then, do they do these things?

You love and take pride in the little child in your home, and spend endless hours and days training it, to the end that it may grow to maturity a credit to itself as well as to you.

Much the same reason actuates the average village official.

"Mudder, I always wins the race when I eat my home Kellogg's Corn Flakes. I can't hardly wait till I have some quick, mudder!"

Watch the little folks speed home for Kellogg's Corn Flakes

It's great to see child-enthusiasm for Kellogg's; great to see every one in the family enjoy their crisp crunchiness and wonderful flavor! To sit down before a heaping bowlful of these cheery, oven-browned "sweet-hearts-of-the-corn" and some milk or cream—and fresh fruit, if it's handy—is just about the very last word in appetizing appeal! And, your good taste will prove that!

Kellogg's Corn Flakes ought to be superior—they are the original Corn Flakes! Kellogg's are never tough or leathery; never hard to eat; never a disappointment!

Be certain to get Kellogg's—the kind in the RED and GREEN package—because none are genuine without the signature of W. K. Kellogg, originator of Toasted Corn Flakes!

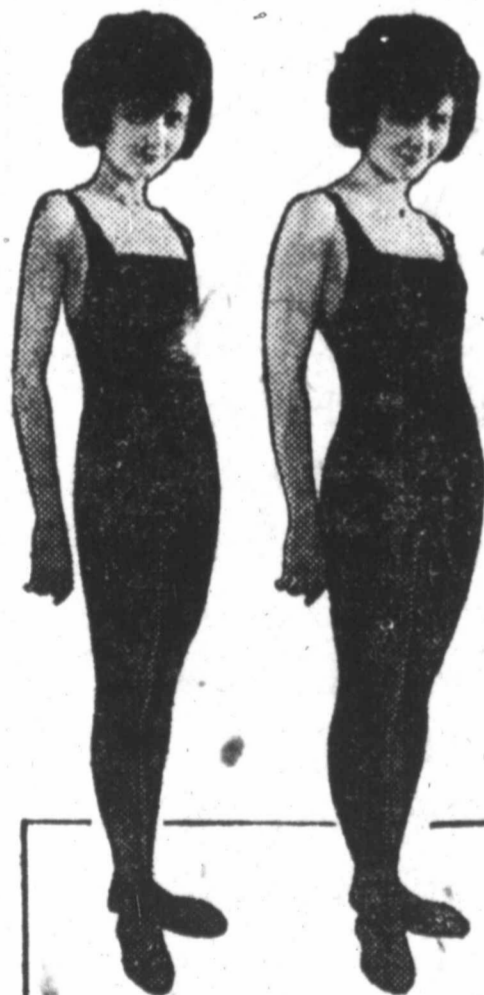

Don't forget, KELLOGG'S Corn Flakes are made by the folks who gave you the JUNGLELAND Moving Pictures. Coupon inside every package of KELLOGG'S Corn Flakes explains how you can obtain another copy of JUNGLELAND.

MELLON SAYS BONUS BILL IS DANGEROUS

Treasury Head Calls Measure An Abuse of Government Credit.

Washington, March 12.—The new soldiers' bonus bill as drawn by house republicans was attacked tonight by Secretary Mellon as involving "a dangerous abuse of government credit."

Replying to a request for the treasury's comment on the new bonus bill, Mr. Mellon in a letter to Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee made public tonight by the treasury, sharply criticised the features of the proposed measure providing for loans by banks upon adjusted service certificates as indirect and "forced" borrowing by the government. He suggested that the "direct and regular way" to provide for a paid-up endowment insurance feature would be to authorize insurance certificates with provision for direct policy loans to be financed by the government. Mr. Mellon contended that "it is both dangerous and unwise" to attempt to avoid the cost of the bonus for the time being.

Tax Raise Inevitable.

"There is no way," he said, "by which the American taxpayer can avoid the burden and if a bonus is to be imposed it is far better for all concerned that it be placed upon a direct and definite basis and paid for each year out of current revenues. To do this at this time will necessarily mean the imposition of additional taxes for the purpose."

The secretary estimated the cost of the bonus under the bill, considering each of the possible choices offered to veterans, at more than $1,200,000,000 by Jan. 1, 1926. Whatever form the bonus measure might take, he asserted, would mean a cost to the government of from $300,000,000 to $400,000,000 for the next three or four years and possible continuing liabilities thereafter of more than $200,000,000 a year until 1943.

Accompanying his letter Mr. Mellon transmitted statistical tables prepared by treasury experts showing the varying cost of a bonus according to what percentage of veterans might choose the different plans of payments offered.

Mr. Mellon called attention to the fact that the bill makes no provision for raising additional revenue to meet the cost of the bonus and recalled to Mr. Fordney President Harding's letter of Feb. 16 in which it was suggested that a general sales tax be enacted to provide the necessary funds or the bonus legislation be postponed. Secretary Mellon's letter, in part, follows:

No Sinking Fund Proviso.

"The bill makes no provision whatever for sinking fund, amortization or other reserves against either the liability that would be thrown upon the government in 1925 or against the liability on certificates at the end of twenty years, nor does it make any provision for the payments which would accrue in ordinary course from year to year on account of death of veterans."

"The direct cost to the government of a bill carrying these provisions for about 4,500,000 ex-service men is almost impossible to estimate because of the uncertainty as to which of the plans will be chosen and in what proportions. But the government actuary has prepared tables of estimated cost on the assumption that 70 per cent will choose the certificate plan, 23 per cent the farm and home aid plan, 5 per cent the vocational training plan and 2 per cent the land settlement plan. In the calculations as to the cost of the certificate plan it is assumed that half of the veterans will borrow on their certificates from the banks and default on their loans, in view of the attractive provisions for cash redemption in case of default.

"It appears from these tables on the basis assumed by the actuary the total direct cost to the government in the fiscal year 1923 would be $289,954,000; in the fiscal year 1924, $216,440,000; in the fiscal year 1925, $128,013,000, and in the fiscal year 1926, for the most part by Oct. 15, 1925, when the adjusted certificates issued as security for bank loans would have to be redeemed, $615,822,000. This would mean total payments within about three and a half years over $1,200,000,000. These estimates take no account of amortization or other reserves against certificates to remain outstanding after the fiscal year 1926, which would add at least $40,000,000 a year to the current charges, or of possible additional costs under the land settlement plan if the reclamation projects therein authorized should be carried through. It is estimated that about $100,000,000 per annum would be required after 1923 if these reclamation projects should be pressed.

SOARING PRICES COMING.

A new era of soaring prices during 1922 is the prophecy made by William Maxwell, first vice-president of Thomas A. Edison, Inc. Extraordinary expenditures for public works, probably similar expenditures by the federal government and the soldier bonus plan, if adopted, would combine to bring about a secondary period of inflation, he declared. He didn't think it would be a good thing but remarked it seemingly inevitable. He expected the prices of practically all commodities to strengthen materially and shall not be surprised to see $1.50 wheat, 71 cent corn and 20 cent cotton by July first. Moreover, he predicts increased business activity will tend to check the liquidation of labor. And why shouldn't Maxwell be an optimist? Wheat has gained from 25 cents to 35 cents a bushel from the low prices of the season last November. Corn has risen 15 cents to 20 cents a bushel since the beginning of the movement of the new crop. Hogs are returning good profits at the prices that have prevailed in the past six months for pork and corn. Sheep have doubled in value. Incidentally the same may be said of cotton. There is a positive assurance of an upturn in agriculture.—Wichita Falls Record News.

That sounds good and it is devoutly wished that it may be true. The world is about to face a cotton famine, since the amount now in existence will be consumed to the last bale about the first of July. Two millions of bales will be needed from that date until the new crop comes on the market. With a shortage of 2,000,000 bales, the new crop ought to go on the market in the fall at prices as high as they were before the panic. It is gratifying that the tendency now is upward, and will prove a powerful incentive in the cultivation of the crops soon to be planted.

FEDERAL AID DANGEROUS.

Whatever may be said of Ex-Governor Frank O. Lowden he has put more real Democratic doctrine into about 200 words than any man in the Republican party ever did before. Every patriotic citizen, whatever may be his party, will endorse every word. Here it is:

"Federal aid, generally speaking, is a bribe offered to State governments to surrender their own proper functions. See the maternity project now awaiting the attention of our own legislature.

"There is scarce a domain in the field of government properly belonging to the municipality or the State which the Federal government is not seeking to invade by the use of the specious phrase, 'Federal Aid.'

"The bureaus in Washington tasted the delights of power over fields which before had been exclusively occupied by the States. Propaganda, that new-found weapon of all causes, good and bad, was employed to perpetuate these new powers.

"If the number of public employees continues to increase as rapidly as it has in late years we will, within a reasonable time,

LAST OF AMERICAN SOLDIER DEAD TO BE BROUGHT BACK

Washington, March 18.—Special honors will mark the arrival in New York, March 30, of the transport Cambrai carrying the last of the bodies of American soldiers killed in France to be returned for burial at home. Major General Bullard, commanding the second corps area, will be in charge of ceremonies in which the garrisons in New York and vicinity will participate.

The navy department has been invited by acting Secretary Wainwright to take part in the services.

There are approximately 1200 bodies on the Cambrai bringing the total number of those who died or were killed in action in France and whose bodies have been brought home for burial up to 45,712. American dead who lie in the fields of honor in France number 31,277.

Of the total number of bodies already returned to the United States the great majority have been in private cemeteries, only 5,710 having been buried in the national cemeteries.

Across the River from Houston County.

In the Houston Post of Sunday, March 12, appeared an article from Normangee setting forth the oil activities in Madison county. The article follows: "Normangee, Texas, March 11.—Normangee is fast taking on the appearance of an oil town.

"Corduroy and boots are familiar sights on our sidewalks, while mule skimmers are busy hauling out machinery to the different locations. Many wells are in the act of being drilled.

"George Stoneking is ready to spud in on the Jessie Young survey and M. A. Currie is setting up a rig and will be ready to spud in on the Thomas Lamb this week.

"Crank and Lancaster are drill-

Mrs. R. L. Flowers—at the Methodist Revival

ling around 100 feet on their John Vinson.

"The Pioneer Oil and Gas company is hauling out its rig to its new location on the Thomas McDougall tract.

"Daniel Hewett is making ready to begin drilling on the Grey B. King Monday.

"Broome et al. are pushing on down with zeal after their excellent showing of oil at 300 feet in their well on the Enoch Latham tract.

"Captain Brown has made his location on the Crownover and Blythe surveys in Madison county south of Normangee."

Of course the above would lead the reading public to believe all the oil activities in Madison county were at Normangee, and those who might become interested in oil in this section might become disappointed upon arriving in our little sister city and finding that the headquarters of all these concerns are located at Madisonville, except possibly one. We dislike for anyone to be disappointed in finding these locations, where wells are being drilled in Madison county, so we are giving below the location of each well that is being drilled and those that contemplate drilling in the near future:

The George Stoneking location, above mentioned, is located about fifteen miles east of Madisonville, and this is the nearest railroad point by at least ten miles.

The M. A. Currie well is on the Ferguson State farm, about eight miles south of the Stoneking location.

The Crank & Lancaster drilling rig is still south of the Currie well, and the nearest way to Normangee would be via Madisonville.

The Pioneer Oil and Gas Co. well is located six miles north of Madisonville, and the Broome well is about the same distance, also north.

All of the above companies can be reached by addressing them at Madisonville, Texas.

We do not blame the Post correspondent for trying to capture all the notoriety possible for Normangee. It seems that some of our local correspondents for the big dailies are "sleeping on the job," for these facts should have been made known through the daily press long before now.

A council that has been formed to develop the natural resources of Western Australia already has led to the establishment of glass and pottery works.

IT SHOWS WHAT A YOUNG MAN CAN DO

Editor Courier:

We had a pleasant caller the past week in the person of A. P. McCelvey of Vernon, Texas. He is a fine-looking young man and one his father, Hugh McCelvey, has a right to be proud of. The writer is happy to say that he was named for him. The young man is further proud of the fact that he has made good, and says that his success is the result of his own efforts and hard licks. Nobody gave him anything. Another son, Alton, used to be with the Courier, but is now with one of the Houston dailies as advertising solicitor. He was also a visitor with his family in Houston county last week. Any father has a right to be proud of such boys. The younger, A. P. McCelvey, was accompanied by his son, a fine-looking youngster, and he was impatient to be going in order to see his grand father. P.

64 German Brides to Return With U. S. Troops.

Coblenz, March 18.—While a band played "How Dry I Am," the favorite tune at departure of American troops for the homeland, a train carrying 1100 members of the American Rhine army left here Saturday evening. Sixty-four German brides are accompanying their husbands to the United States.

Bright spring weather brought out thousands of the inhabitants to see the Americans off. The train is due at Antwerp Sunday morning and the men will sail on the transport Cambrai in the afternoon.

The American forces on the Rhine are now below the 4000 mark.

Recruiting Officer Here.

Lieutenant E. R. Guild, recruiting officer from Fort Crockett, that part of the coast defense located at Galveston, passed through Crockett Thursday from Nacogdoches with a number of recruits from that point. Lieutenant Guild stopped at the Courier office long enough to say that if any Houston county young men were interested in enlisting at Fort Crockett they should address him there, and if a sufficient number are interested, he would come up and talk it over with them.

MR. HARDING DECLINES TO THREATEN.

The republican bonus for able-bodied soldier boys, by which it is proposed that the recipients be given an insurance policy and a note of introduction to a bank with the invitation to the bank to "hock" the policy for half its face value, isn't very likely to get much of anywhere. The secretary of the treasury, the controller of the currency and the president of the United States are said to be agreed that it is preposterous if not positively dangerous. As for Mr. Harding, we are told that he entertains this view with all positiveness and firmness, but that, instead of telling congress so, he intends to let that august body find it out itself. By way of adding to the ease with which congress may determine the executive attitude into which the bonus measures may shortly run, the president talks with the correspondents or with those who talk to the correspondents, and makes his ideas as plain as they can be put in print without absolute quotation marks to rim them.

It is explained that Mr. Harding refrains from veto threats on the ground that he regards it as the obligation of the president not to interfere with the deliberations of congress, and that he considers that the responsibility of congress is as great as his to frame a suitable bonus policy. In short, Mr. Harding is doing all he can to avoid the charge of "one-man rule" which he himself leveled against his energetic and emphatic predecessor during his campaign for the place which he now holds. Mr. Harding is trying to be a "constitutional" president, by which phrase he doubtless understands a president who presides over, rather than provides the general policies of government during his administration. And yet Mr. Harding does not adhere to the notion that as president it is his duty to sign every act of congress which does not conflict with his oath of duty to the constitution. That notion perished early in the history of the republic. Mr. Harding would exercise powers something in excess of those of the French president and something less than those of the British premier.

But the ridiculousness of the situation by which Mr. Harding is left in the position of permitting congress to go ahead with a bonus scheme which he has actually determined to veto, whilst he is being besieged by congressmen who want to know what he is going to do about it, is not less than the ridiculousness of the whole position of the dominant party on this bonus question. The genuine question involved is not whether the country can afford to pay the bonus, but whether it is right for former soldiers of the United States to demand a gratuity from the pockets of the people by way of putting a price mark on a service which those soldiers owed the government as a part of the true citizen's obligation. The question is moral and not financial.—Galveston News.

BUTTERMILK PHILOSOPHY.

Senator Charles A. Culberson is both a States rightest and a centralizationist. In his formal announcement he says he voted against submitting the nationwide prohibition amendment, but points with pride to the fact that he voted to submit the nationwide woman suffrage amendment. It's hard to catch Charlie. He can make a good bid for the votes of the States rights people and the votes of the Federalizers. And he will come mighty near getting them.

Because times are a little out of joint many of us are prone to declare the period of depression the worst ever. How easy it is to forget. In 1893 nearly 600 banks in the United States suspended payment and there were 16,000 bankruptcies. This was twenty-nine years ago and many of us remember very well that there was hardly enough money in the country to provide chewing tobacco for those of our people who had to have it.

It isn't often that a dog gets its dues. As a rule, no matter how many noble deeds a dog has performed, or how much loyalty it has shown, the faithful canine gets a scold or a kick; but over at Denton the other day three dogs were actually rewarded for service. Six rat terriers had killed 12,000 rats in a year, and the city authorities called them up and presented each of them a free license tag.

A New York woman who was suffering from nervousness and couldn't sleep, sent for a physician. The physician showed up and left a tablet for the lady to take. The sufferer, by mistake, took a pearl button that was on the table beside the tablet, and slept splendidly. Old Imagination has a stronger hold upon us than we are aware of.

The grand jury of Fannin county returned sixty-three indictments, but nearly all of them were felony cases. We do some meanness in Fannin county, but we do not engage in little meanness like the people of some counties. When we refract the law we give it a jar that wakes it up. No petty meanness for us.

It's a little difficult to determine just now, from reading the Dallas papers, whether the largest per cent of our country's population are Russian violinists, Irish tenors or Polish piano players.

Save your fruit jars when you devour moonshine. It looks like there will be a fine fruit crop.

Our idea of a first-class salesman is a man who can sell a moonshine distiller a brass horn.—Honey Grove Signal.

A WARNING TO COTTON GROWERS.

Five thousand bales of cotton were returned to this country from Bremen recently because of unfavorable marketing conditions in Germany, the owners preferring to pay the return freight to selling in the German market.

Evidently the textile industry in Germany is not recovering as rapidly as expected from the demoralization occasioned by the war. Numerous other reports lately have indicated that Germany was not in a position to buy much cotton in the United States.

This condition should not fail to impress Southern farmers contemplating planting a large acreage this spring. Without a normal European demand a normal cotton crop can not be consumed. The return of this vessel from Bremen is a plain warning to American producers against overproduction of cotton this year.—Houston Post.

Less than half as much quicksilver was produced in the United States last year as in 1920, falling below 10,000 flasks for the first time since 1820.

GIANT AND MIDGETS TO APPEAR IN CROCKETT

The world's tall man and smallest horse in existence will be a feature at the Crockett Theatre Monday, March 27th. Besides these marvels of nature, Major Liable and Lady Nelson will appear in person and in vaudeville. They are the only survivors of the original Tom Thumb Midgets and are now on their last tour before retiring.

Mr. Longfellow, the tallest man, was born in this state. He was six feet tall when 11 years old and states he was never allowed the privilege of riding trains on half-fare tickets. One of the greatest difficulties that confronts him on these tours are the beds which he is forced to sleep in. It is said he seldom finds one of sufficient length to accommodate him.

His horse attracts as much attention as himself. It is only 21 inches high and does not weigh over 65 pounds. It is not a pony, but a full grown horse.

Fox Trotting Greatest Leg Exercise Ever Conceived.

Paris, France, March 18, 1922.—Fox trotting is the greatest leg exercise ever invented, according to Dr. Karl Heinstadt, a Swiss physical culturist, who estimates that the average fox trotter covers a mile and a quarter every twenty minutes, while the waltzer's record is less than half that distance. Continuing his calculations, the doctor declares that a young woman who does not miss a dance between 10 o'clock at night and 5 in the morning, with about half an hour out for a midnight supper, exercises just as much as if she had walked thirty miles, and seldom shows any ill effects, although probably she would object if asked to cover a single mile along the boulevards of Paris without taking a taxicab.

With nearly 12,000 acres of bogs from which 160,000 barrels of berries were picked last year New Jersey has become the leading cranberry state.

It will be a birth-day party in accord with the Lord's Day. Of course I would like to have all my friends attend, and if there are any who do not class themselves as my friends they are specially invited. S. F. Tenney.

Handed Us a Lemon.

Mrs. A. W. Phillips sent to the Courier office Monday a lemon of her own raising that weighed 1 3-8 pounds. Mrs. Phillips has a bush that is two years old and had twelve lemons on it this year, all of them similar to the one sent to the Courier office. Mrs. Phillips has demonstrated that there is no necessity for any one to go to the Brownsville valley or anywhere else to grow citrus fruits, as they may be grown right at home in Houston county. The lemon sent to the Courier office had a very fine flavor and was the kind of lemon that we do not object to having handed us. Mrs. Phillips will please accept our thanks for the favor.

For Justice of the Peace.

E. M. Callier announces this week as a candidate for the office of justice of the peace in precinct No. 1, which is the Crockett precinct. It is needless for the Courier to say Ed Callier's announcement is subject to the action of the democratic party, as he is to the manner born. He has lived in Crockett a number of years and in Houston county many years—so many years that any introductory mention by the Courier would seem superfluous. He is the present incumbent of the office of justice of the peace in precinct No. 1 and is giving universal satisfaction insofar as the Courier has heard. If there is any complaint against him, the Courier has not heard it. But Mr. Callier asked the Courier to not give him any extended write-up. He said to just say that he is a candidate for justice of the peace in precinct No. 1; that he is a democrat and that he will appreciate the support of all other good democrats in the democratic primary election to be held on Saturday, July 29. The Courier will add that he promises the same faithfulness in office that has characterized his present term.

For County Commissioner.

Mr. Chas. A. Story announces in the Courier this week as a candidate for the office of county commissioner in precinct No. 2. Mr. Story is well and favorably known to the people of his precinct, in which he was born and reared to manhood. The place of his birth is a few miles northwest of Crockett and he was educated in the public schools of that community. His education also came from the hard knocks incident to coming up on the farm. Reaching manhood he became or was already a farmer, and a number of years ago moved into a community near Grapeland where he has since continuously resided. He always was, always is and always will be a democrat, having never thought of being anything else. He has continuously resided in his precinct for many years and is in close touch with the needs of the people whom he seeks to represent in county affairs. He believes in a conservative and economical administration of the public funds to the end that the tax rate may be lowered to the minimum. He believes in applying the same business principles in spending the tax money as he would apply in the management of his own affairs. On this ground he solicits and will appreciate the support of all democratic voters, both men and women, in the coming primary election.

County Meet.

The county meet brought many teachers and students to Crockett Friday and Saturday. Two days and the evenings following were taken up with the various contests on the program. Prizes were offered and won in numerous instances—so numerous that the Courier was unable to keep up with them and has no record of them. But that in no way detracts from the good work that was done and the excellent results that are to follow. Credits were what the students were after and not notoriety. Winners in the contests will be congratulated by their friends, and those who lost will strive all the harder to win the next time. Crockett welcomed the teachers and students of Houston county in a way to make them feel at home, and they were at home. Come again.

"Pine Bur" Club Entertains.

The "Pine Bur" Club, a local club organized for social purposes, entertained Friday evening with a "harvest dance" party, at which overalls, jumpers and gingham dresses were worn by the participants. The Pine Bur club rooms were decorated to resemble a farm scene, with plow gear, plows and other farm implements in evidence. Chairs were dispensed with, and there was no place to sit except on plow stocks, implement boxes, wheel barrows and such things. A well with rope, bucket and pulley occupied one corner of the main club room, from which water could be drawn from a tub at its bottom—and drunk from the bucket, if desired. A bucket of lemonade occupied a prominent place on an oil-cloth covered table. Plow lines, hanging from harness on the walls, added to other decorations of like nature. About twenty couples, including chaperones, participated in the evening's enjoyments. Out of town guests included Miss Cecille Gibbs of Huntsville, Miss Winnie Davis of Elkhart and Mr. Jimmy Gee of Huntsville. The music was by the "Pine Bur Foot-Warmers," an organization of young, but good, home talent. The event marked the second of the club's most enjoyable social affairs.

The manufacture of cement from native raw materials will be attempted in Brazil.

Death of Mrs. B. F. Janes.

Mrs. B. F. Janes of this city, who has been for some time under treatment in the Baptist Sanitarium, Dallas, passed away there this morning at 9:30. Her body will be brought home Saturday and the funeral and burial will take place Saturday afternoon, though definite arrangements have not been made as yet.

She is survived by her husband, B. F. Janes, and one child, Miss Jewel Janes and her mother, Mrs. Clay Cloud, all of whom were with her during her last illness. She is a cousin of Jim and J. B. Brewton of this city and the latter was with the family in Dallas at the time of her death.

The Janes family came to Mineral Wells from Crockett, Texas, about a year and a half ago. Mrs. Janes was an active member of the Methodist church and hers was a faithful and devoted Christian life.—Mineral Wells Index.

Funeral of Mrs. B. F. Janes.

Funeral services over the body of Mrs. B. F. Janes were held at 3 p. m. today at the family home, 506 West Hubbard Street, followed by the burial at Elmwood Cemetery. The services were conducted by Dr. C. L. Cartwright, pastor of the First Methodist Church, of which Mrs. Janes was a devout member.

Mrs. Janes passed away at the Baptist Sanitarium Dallas, where she had been under treatment, and her body arrived here by the 11:15 train this morning and was placed in the care of Beec-ham & Son, funeral directors.

Mr. Janes is an active and valuable member of the Knights of Pythias lodge and a procession of K. P.'s and a large number of personal friends met the family and the body at the station here. Many beautiful offerings of flowers attested the love and esteem for Mrs. Janes and the family in this community and elsewhere. The impressive services conducted by Dr. Cartwright inspired all present at the funeral with the example of christian faith and service which the earthly life of the one who had passed on had been to those about her.—Mineral Wells Index.

Mrs. Luker's Operation.

Mrs. A. H. Luker was operated on for appendicitis at her home in this city Tuesday morning. She stood the operation well and is doing nicely. We have every reason to expect a complete recovery within a few weeks. Miss Eva Doss, a trained nurse of Palestine, is with her.—Grapeland Messenger.

Confederate Veterans Are Pallbearers to Ex-Slave.

Winchester, Virginia, March 18.—Confederate veterans were the honorary pallbearers at the funeral of "Alf" Whiting, a former negro slave, who died at Ponsey. Whiting, one of the few surviving negroes who served in the Confederate army, attended every Confederate reunion and selected his own pallbearers. He was captured, refused to take the oath of allegiance to the federal government, and finally was released on bond of $6000, with the understanding that he would not return to Virginia during the period of the war.
