COUNTY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETS

Mrs. J. A. McConnell Withdraws From Race for Representative.

The newly elected democratic executive committee for this county met at the office of Madden & Denny in Crockett Saturday, the 12th inst., at which time the following proceedings were had, viz:

The committee organized by electing G. Q. King, member of the committee from Crockett precinct, as its permanent secretary, the committee now being composed of one member from each justice precinct in the county, being eight in all. The committee then proceeded to arrange the order of the names of the several candidates on the ballot for the second primary, this being done "by lot," and this will be the form of the ballot to be used in said primary. We suppose the county papers will publish this ballot in their issue of this week. The committee, having called for sealed bids for printing the ballot for the second primary, opened the several bids and awarded the work to Hal Lacy, he being the lowest bidder therefor.

While the committee was in session, Hon. I. A. Daniel, at the instance of Mrs. J. A. (Louella) McConnell; came before the committee and stated that Mrs. McConnell desired to withdraw from the race for representative, with the request that her name be left off the ballot for the second primary. Her withdrawal and request were accepted by the committee.

This action of Mrs. McConnell left no one in the race for representative except Hon. Chas. C. Rice, and the attorney general having advised the committee that his name would have to go on the ballot for the second primary, the committee ordered that this be done, the ruling of the attorney general being based on the idea that Mr. Rice would have to receive a majority of the votes cast in order to make his nomination valid, such majority not having been received in the first primary. Mrs. McConnell desired that the committee declare Mr. Rice the party's nominee for the office in question, and this would have been done had not the attorney general held that the committee was without power to do so and that Mr. Rice's name should go on the ballot for the second primary so as to get a majority. This will explain to the voters how it happens that only Mr. Rice's name will appear on the second primary ballot for that office.

There being no further business for the committee, a motion to adjourn to meet again on Saturday, the 2nd day of September, to canvass and declare the result of the second primary, was adopted, a sub-committee, consisting of the county chairman and G. Q. King, being appointed to tabulate the vote of such election and have it ready for submission to the full committee at its said next meeting.

J. W. Madden,

County Chairman.

G. Q. King, Secretary.

Mrs. A. R. Spence.

Mrs. Adele Robbins Spence, wife of the lamented Major John Spence, died at her home in Crockett Friday evening, August 11. Mrs. Spence was in her 80th year and was born in Wilcox county, Alabama. She had lived in Crockett many years and had taught school in this city for about forty years. She had resigned only within the last few years as a teacher in this city's schools. Besides teaching in Crockett, she had taught in other places, Rev. S. F. Tenney, the Presbyterian pastor and who had been her pastor for many years, speaking of her, said: "Hundreds of useful men and women scattered over our country will look back to her as having given them a good start in life and as having impressed upon them the right principles. She received her early education at a noted college for girls in Maryland. She was married to Major John Spence, who was a volunteer soldier in the Confederate army among the Maryland troops. Both her husband and herself were blessed with godly ancestors, running back for generations to Scotland. Her name before marriage was Robbins. She was a member of the Presbyterian church in Crockett more than 51 years, and until her last sickness was very active and useful in church work, having been a Sunday school teacher for many years and a regular attendant upon church services. She was blessed with remarkable health until her last sickness. When told by her physicians that the only hope of saving her life was a surgical operation, knowing the risk at her time of life, she chose to let her disease take its course. After lingering many months, at times suffering much, she passed gently away. Her reason was spared to her. She calmly looked death in the face for many months, confidently trusting in the Savior. She found much comfort in the visits of her friends and in the truths of the Bible read to her and in prayer. She specially liked the 37th Psalm. One verse of that Psalm illustrates her end—"the end of that man is peace."

Mrs. Spence leaves a sister, Mrs. W. T. Parnell of Camden, Ala., who was at her bedside when death came; also a son, Judge John Spence of this city. Her husband had been dead 43 years and a daughter died last year. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery and the funeral services were conducted by Rev. S. F. Tenney with the assistance of the Methodist pastor, Rev. E. A. Maness. It was the passing of one of Crockett's best-known and best-loved women.

Another Nobleman Feels Pinch of Hard Times.

London.—The Duke of Northumberland is hard up, as are many other members of the old nobility in these days of excessive taxation, and is compelled to retrench like many untitled folk in order to make both ends meet.

He has sold one of his northern properties, including several large hotels. To a wealthy Paris art dealer he recently rented his magnificent mansion on the Thames, near Kew. It is one of the biggest residences in the country.

And still the duke feels the necessity of cutting down expenses. He has decided to close Ainwick castle, which has been the Northumberland home of the Percys since early in the fourteenth century. He will retain only a few rooms in the castle for use when he and the duchess are in the north.

Took His Own Life.

A young man was found dead in a Ford automobile about four miles north of Grapeland Monday night. The automobile stood in the main travelled road and a number of cars had driven around it before it was discovered that the man was dead.

The name of the young man was said to be Carl Kennedy and it is said that he lived two miles south of Elkhart on the Palestine road. He was 25 years old. It is said that he left home in the Ford car Monday afternoon, driving toward Grapeland.

When he was discovered to be dead, the car was headed toward Elkhart. Parties travelling toward Grapeland from Elkhart turned around the car as others had been doing, but decided to stop and make an investigation. Finding the man dead, they came to Grapeland and got the justice of the peace and a physician. Returning to the scene the man was taken from the car, placed on the ground and examination made. While the examination was under way, some of the party found an empty strychnine bottle which had been thrown from the car. There were no wounds on the man's body and all indications pointed to a case of suicide. It is said that he was unmarried and lived with his father and family. No cause for the act could be advanced.

SWEET POTATO STORAGE PLANTS

The Farm Bureau Sweet Potato Association is Doing Business.

Notices have been mailed to the Sweet Potato Association members that a subsidiary corporation will be formed at once, forming a stock company for the purpose of financing storage plants over the county.

Plans are in the hands of County Agent Mr. R. R. Morrison for the construction of a plant in Crockett and to make over buildings at Ratcliff, Kennard and Weldon right away so that they will be in readiness for the fall harvest.

If you are going to have sweet potatoes for the market this year and want to take advantage of this marketing organization, one that will not make a profit, then join the organization, see or write S. M. Monzingo or R. R. Morrison at Crockett, who will furnish you with a contract and give you every aid in the matter.

This move bids fair to revolutionize farming in east Texas. S. M. Monzingo.

EASTERN TEXAS MAY ABANDON ITS TRACK

Federal Judge Gives Road Power to Tear up Lufkin-Kennard Line.

Austin, Tex., Aug. 11.—United States District Judge Duval West today entered an order permitting the Eastern Texas Railroad Company to take up and abandon its tracks from Lufkin to Kennard, as prayed for by the railroad company. The state immediately gave notice of appeal, which stays the removal of the railroad.

The case has been in the federal court since 1920. It was appealed to the United States supreme court, which, on March 13 last, remanded the case, holding that the federal transportation act was not superior to the law of Texas in cases of this kind. The interstate commerce commission had given the Eastern Texas Railroad the right to abandon its track, and the state of Texas, through its railroad commission and attorney general, successfully contested that order in the supreme court.

The highest court having held the state law superior to the order of the interstate commerce commission, the Eastern Texas Railroad recently contended before Judge West that for the state to compel the operation of the road was to violate that provision of the constitution forbidding the taking of property without due process of law; that its operation would be at a loss and require the owners of the road to put up their money to sustain its maintenance. This contention has evidently been upheld by Judge West, though his opinion in the case will be filed later. His reasons were not known today.

The railroad commissioners, Attorney General W. A. Keeling, the Cotton Belt Lumber Company and others are enjoined and restrained from commencing suit or proceedings against the railroad company for the recovery of damages, fines or penalties, under the provisions of the laws of Texas, or any other provisions of law which would prevent or tend to prevent the railroad company from the abandoning the operation of its railroad or dismantling same.

SOME NEWS OF THE CROCKETT OIL FIELD

The tools ordered to be made for use in the Austin No. 2 well of the Porter Oil Company had not arrived on Wednesday of this week and drilling had not been resumed. Wednesday was the day set for resumption of work in this well and the failure of the tools to arrive was a disappointment to the operators. The delay was no doubt caused by some of the tools having to be made, as a special size was desired. Drilling is to be resumed as soon as these tools of special make are received.

The Driskell well is drilling around 2000 feet and indications, it is said, continue to be good and encouraging.

Report from the Weldon well is that it has a fishing job at a depth unknown to outsiders. The Porter Springs well and the Grapeland well are at a standstill.

QUESTIONS ASKED BY JAMES E. FERGUSON

"Why Should a Texan Vote The Democratic Ticket?"

In a signed editorial in Ferguson's Forum of October 7, 1920, Jas. E. Ferguson said:

There is no longer any reason, logical or sentimental, why any Texan should vote the democratic ticket.

In the first place the democratic party has abandoned the principles upon which it was founded. It has left the idea of sovereign States and has helped to bring about a Washington despotism that is a shame upon civilization.

The democratic party has left the cardinal principles of individual liberty and has set up more domination and invasion or rights of the people than ever inflicted by the czar of Russia or the kaiser of Germany.

The democratic party has ceased to consider any question that will bring any material welfare to the people. It is now in league with the special interests to rob the people of their sustenance.

The infernal democratic party can't ruin the schools.

The infernal democratic party can't build roads without graft.

The infernal democratic party can't run the State government without vicious extravagance.

The infernal democratic party is already condemned and beaten in the national campaign. Cox is a joke, and Wilson is a memory.

A party without principles, the leadership, of course, must "blow up." The people everywhere have already heard the democratic explosion.

Whether you are a farmer in the country or a laboring man in the city; whether you are a stockman on the ranch or a business man in town; ask yourself, with your conscience to answer:

"Why should a Texan vote the democratic ticket?"
Jas. E. Ferguson.

In a signed editorial in Ferguson's Forum of October 21, 1920, Jas. E. Ferguson said:

Our only hope is to carry Texas for the American party electors and take Texas out of the democratic column and thereby insure the election of a republican president, who will give us some relief, just to show how bad the democrats were.

The Texas politicians, all democrats, have not got the pride of a jack ass or the decency of a skunk.

They stand for nothing and they are nothing.

Jas. E. Ferguson.

Closing a signed editorial in Ferguson's Forum of July 29, 1920, Jas. E. Ferguson said:

Who wants to be a Democrat? Stay out of the primary.

Jas. E. Ferguson.

In a signed editorial in Ferguson's Forum of October 14, 1920, Jas. E. Ferguson said:

If the American party electors win and they cast the electoral vote of Texas for Ferguson, their nominee, then Cox is beat in Texas and Texas is freed from the democrats and Mr. Harding will not have to overcome those twenty votes in the electoral college. In other words a republican vote for the republican electors in Texas is a vote wasted, because, as I have shown, the republican ticket can't win in Texas. But a republican vote in Texas for the American party ticket is equal to half a vote for Harding. Every republican voter, who wants his vote to count and be effective, will add his vote to the American party ticket and thereby make a cinch of beating the democrats in Texas.

Jas. E. Ferguson.

INVESTIGATION OF CHARGES OF UNDUPLICATE METHODS IS ASKED

Washington, Aug. 10.—Investigation of charges that undue methods of practices are being employed by the trade in restraining the natural operations of the lay of supply and demand and depressing cotton prices was proposed in a resolution introduced today by Senator Smith, democrat, South Carolina. The resolution was referred to the agricultural committee.

Senator Smith's resolution recited that the cotton carried over was less than normal and that reports on the growing crops indicated a yield below the world demand. It also stated that the boll weevil damage was "more extensive and severe than in history—making the yield entirely problematical."

The price of cotton in the markets has failed utterly to respond to these conditions, said Senator Smith's resolution. Senator Smith made public a letter from J. S. Wannamaker, president of the American Cotton Association, reporting that New York and English cotton speculators are working together to beat down the market.

"Since the government's crop report was issued, one of the most bullish reports ever issued—one of the most bullish reports ever known—the market has gone down every day," said Mr. Wannamaker in his letter, "and it is the general talk of the trade that a powerful combine has been formed for the purpose of beating cotton prices down, it being stated that this combine is composed of some of the biggest financial interests in New York, some of the biggest speculators there and some of the biggest speculators in England, and that they boast that they will beat the price of cotton down to 15c. Through some of the most reliable sources I am given this information."

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord

Discounting the "Discount" in Advance

You don't have to be a shrewd bargainer to get the bottom price on the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord.

Instead of listing it at a high price, to enable the dealer to attract you with a so-called "long discount," we list it as low as we profitably can. You can see from the figures below that its advertised price is lower than the net price you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown value.

We believe the average man would rather buy tires on this frank and open basis, and assure himself a product of recognized worth.

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord is made of high-grade long-staple cotton, and it embodies the patented Goodyear method of group-ply construction.

In design, materials and manufacture it is a representative Goodyear product, built to safeguard the world-wide Goodyear reputation.

It has a different tread from the famous All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and it sells for substantially less.

PROHIBITION TO BE ISSUE IN ELECTIONS

Will Be Headliner With Personalities in This Fall's Voting.

Prohibition and personalities promise to be the headliners in this fall's election. Bereft of outstanding issues as off-year elections usually are, the political atmosphere so far this year has been singularly free of that sort of ammunition employed by stumping spellbinders to lift the listening voter out of his seat. Hence, the dramatic possibilities in the two issues mentioned.

Republicans are going to talk about the tariff, farm credits and the arms conference. Democrats are going to talk about hard times, the defection of influential republican leaders and newspapers from the party itself, and numerous alleged failures of the g. o. p. to make good.

The outstanding contests this year, however, will be those for the senatorship in California, Missouri, Wisconsin, North Dakota, Minnesota, Ohio, New Jersey, New York and Massachusetts. In all of these, it is safe to say, the republican tariff, farm credits and republican defections in the East will play about as little a part as the question of Philippine independence.

The contest in California has its center and vortex in Hiram Johnson, the man. The fight in Wisconsin similarly is against La Follette, the man. The North Dakota contest will be decided very largely on the issue of the Nonpartisan League, Lynn Frazier, the republican nominee, being perhaps the best known "leaguer" in the country today. Minnesota's contest is of interest because it is between Senator Kellogg, close friend of President Harding, and a woman, Mrs. Peter Oleson, the democratic nominee.

Ohio's election will hinge largely on whether the home of the president wishes to indorse him by defeating Senator Pomereene, democrat.

The principal issue in Massachusetts will be Senator Lodge. All these contests will be primarily personal contests.

The contests in Missouri, New Jersey and to a lesser degree, New York, will center almost exclusively on the wet and dry question. In Missouri Senator Reed, democrat, and known as a strong "liberal" on the prohibition question, will be opposed by R. R. Brewster, a bone dry republican. If the primary revolt against Reed is carried into the elections, with thousands of anti-Reed democrats refusing to vote for him or voting for the republican candidate there should be only one thing that could save Reed, that thing being a tremendous vote for Reed by the wet German element in St. Louis—most of republican persuasion—in protest against the g. o. p. dry nominee. It is this vote which Reed's friends will seek to take from Brewster and which may bring the senator back.

In New Jersey Senator Frelinghuysen, who happens to be the only republican candidate thus far personally indorsed by the president, is a "dry." He will be renominated and will run against Governor Edwards, who will be the democratic senatorial nominee, a "wringing wet." The prohibition issue will decide this contest—probably in favor of Edwards.

EDITORIALS BY COL. R. T. MILNER

What the Former A. & M. President Writes in the Rusk County News.

Not even Karl Marck, the great German Jew Socialist, ever dreamed of a more socialistic scheme than the Sheppard-Towner Maternity Act. And the most dangerous feature about it is the fact that both the political parties are claiming credit for it. The thing is fathered by a Democrat and a Republican.

We should keep the fact everlastingly in mind that as long as we send our raw cotton thousands of miles to be manufactured into finished products, others and not us, will reap the fortunes that grow out of this, the greatest of all material for clothing in the world.

Mayfield's majority over Ferguson will be very large, but that fact will not prevent a warm campaign. Ferguson and Miller are both good campaigners, and both enjoy it. The hotter the weather the better, because by great and constant perspiration, the scientists tell us, a new man is formed every few days, and that is necessary where opinions must be made over once a month.

It has been stated over and over, again and again, and it will bear repeating a thousand times and ought to be repeated that many times, that the Eastern Texas picnic is the best thing of the kind in the world. For the good and gentle manners of the people, the nice way in which everything is ordered and managed, and the enticing way of preparing the food and the great variety of the same, are all themes that cannot be over exaggerated. It used to be that at nearly every picnic a scrub or two would show up, generally from another community, and make things embar-

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. . . I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all druggists. E 85 assing. A few years ago the writer was at a barbecue, far from here, when the boys got up on top of the table, with their boots and spurs on, and thus gave the audience a few exhibitions in savage life, a performance which could not take place in these parts.

The Dallas News was going to elect every man pledged to a repudiation of the Klan. It was going to have a legislature pledged to do its bidding with reference to the administration of public affairs, temporarily, if not spiritually. The News' fight on the Klan reminds us of a good story which they used to tell on a gallant Texas Colonel, in the Confederate Army. His boys and the Yankees were a few hundred yards apart, with a small hill between. Once in a while the Blue Coats would appear in sight and the Confederates would fire away at them. And each time the Confederates would shoot, the Yankees would seem to double their force and return the fire with increased fury. That sort of thing did not last long until the Colonel aforesaid called out to his men in profane, but unmistakable language: "Boys, by the eternals, quit shooting at them; it seems to intensify them!"

The campaign recently ended was a very quiet and decent affair. It contained less spite, spleen and abuse than the usual Texas political fight, and was conducted on a much higher plane than the anti-Ku Klux Klan press sought to put it. In these shell-shocked times, all things considered, it was a tame scrap.

One of the most dangerous practices in Congress right now is for a Democrat and a Republican to father a bill, for instance a measure like the Sheppard-Towner Maternity Bill and the Smith-Towner Bill, both containing elements that lead toward the destruction of this Republic. The Sheppard-Towner Bill is already a law, and the Smith-Towner Bill is being urged by both Democrats and Republicans. The Smith-Towner Bill provides for a Federal Department of Education, with $10,000,000 to start with. And if the whole country manifests no more interest in public matters than the Texas Democrats the Smith-Towner Bill, or most any other pernicious measure backed by a Democrat and a Republican will get through.

The Eastern Texas picnics are known far and wide as occasions of unbounded hospitality, good behavior, homely associations, excellent food, and a high regard for whatever kind of ceremonies are performed. They are enjoyed by those of all ages and conditions, and it is of rare occurrence that a thing is done or a word is spoken to mar the dignity and propriety of the occasion. They signify a civilization of a high standard and reflect honor and decency upon a people who have always revered the virtues of their ancestors.

If the men of the South would study and read, and inform themselves on the times, they would begin at once to erect cotton mills and thus solve the great problem of marketing the farmers' products and more justly distribute the wealth of the nation. That problem can only be solved in that way, and if it is not done the political and social fabric of the South will go all to pieces.

We do most earnestly beg of the Dallas News that it go out and preach for cotton factories for Texas. The News could become a mighty force for industrial progress, but it cannot add to the wealth of our State by its present or past political methods. There is not any doubt in the minds of men familiar with conditions in and around Dallas that The News could do more for its State by a well planned campaign for cotton factories than it can help the country by remaining in politics. The News would be a power for good if its brain and energy were properly directed.

COTTON LEAF WORM IN THREE STATES

Washington, D. C., August 8.—The cotton leaf worm has been reported generally during the past few days over Texas, Louisiana, and Mississippi, the United States Government announces. Apparently a very widespread infestation is developing, which may later spread to the northern and eastern States of the cotton belt.

Where infestation becomes acute it is advisable, says the department, to dust the cotton with calcium arsenate diluted with one or two parts of lime or undiluted lead arsenate. Four or five pounds should be used to the acre. If Paris green or London purple are used, either of these substances should be diluted with about eight to ten parts of lime, in order to avoid injury to the cotton plants.

The leaf worm is the larva of a tawny moth (Alabama Argillacea), having a wing expanse of slightly more than an inch. This species is not present in the United States every year, but frequently it migrates from the tropical regions to the south of us where it passes the winter. If it arrives in this country fairly early in the season, considerable damage may result from the defoliation of late maturing crops of cotton. On the other hand if its appearance is late in the season the resulting defoliation is often beneficial, as it hastens the ripening of the cotton bolls and cuts off the food supply of the boll weevil.

PALESTINE REPORTS KIDNAPPING OF MAN

State Ranger Captain Making Inspection of Conditions There.

Palestine, Texas, Aug. 10.—Four men in an automobile kidnapped a young white man on Avenue A here last night, drove three miles into the country, stripped him of his clothing and turned him loose to walk back to town. He borrowed clothes from a farmer. It is reported the young man was employed in the International & Great Northern shops here and had been attending a picture show.

Sheriff Rogers said he has information which he believes will lead to an arrest. He held a consultation with officials of the road and is working on the case.

Captain Jerry Gray of the Texas rangers arrived this afternoon and interviewed local officers and railroad officials. The sheriff's department is strong in the belief they can keep down trouble here.

Captain Gray could not state what action would be taken by the governor relative to proclaiming the open port law effective here. The general manager's office of the International & Great Northern Railway states that Captain Gray already has sworn in several deputies to help him should occasion arise.

Chairman Jack Quinn of the strike breaking shopmen is rounding up strikers and informing them that they must stay off the streets at night. A large majority of the union men have taken a stand against unlawful acts.

DALLAS MAN WILL RUN AGAINST NEFF

HARMONY MARKS NOMINATIONS AND PLATFORM AT FORT WORTH.

Fort Worth, Tex., Aug. 9.—Old line republicans, men whose variations in politics it is declared have crossed party lines, today were nominated as Texas standard bearers of the republican party for this year. In the final session of the state convention at the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce today at noon, Dr. E. P. Wilmot, Austin banker, was selected as the candidate for United States senator to oppose James E. Ferguson or Earle B. Mayfield, as the second primary August 26 may determine.

William H. Atwell of Dallas, who was republican district attorney for the Western district of Texas under Theodore Roosevelt, is the republican candidate for governor to oppose the candidacy of Governor Pat M. Neff for re-election.

Before the republicans gathered in convention assembled there was a strong movement to place prominent lapsed democrats into nomination for office, and State Chairman R. B. Creager of Brownsville indicated sympathy with such a movement in his keynote address yesterday morning.

There was no fight in the convention, but before the committee nominations it was a vexing question that had not been definitely determined this morning at 2 o'clock when a recess was declared. Nor was a decision ready for unanimous adoption at 9 o'clock this morning when the committeemen returned for further discussion.

During the long night in the convention room the name of Oscar Branch Colquitt, democratic governor of Texas for two terms, and six years ago the runner-up and plurality leader in the first primary for democratic nomination as United States senator, was a magic word that aroused enthusiasm. Efforts were made to reach Mr. Colquitt by telephone, but the former governor, now actively engaged in industrial enterprises, was not at his home in Dallas and could not be reached.

Further evidence that the republicans believe that it is time to combine democratic thought under a republican banner to destroy the Ku Klux Klan, was to be found in reliable reports that the name of Cone Johnson of Tyler, next to that of Colquitt, was much bandied about in the committee rooms as any other. There were some of the delegates who held out strongly for the nomination of Johnson.

The list of candidates as named by the convention today follows:

For United States senate: E. P. Wilmot of Travis county.

For governor: W. H. Atwell of Dallas county.

For lieutenant governor: George E. Kepple of Harris county.

MAYFIELD ATTACKS FERGUSON'S RECORD

"Asking Nomination of the Party He Quit and Attempted to Destroy."

Sherman, Texas., Aug. 10.—In his speech here tonight Earle B. Mayfield, candidate for United States senator, again attacked the record of his opponent, James E. Ferguson, charging that Mr. Ferguson, "after quitting the democratic party in 1920, and endeavoring to desert, was now back in the ranks asking the party to nominate him to the highest office in the gift of the people of the State of Texas.

"Ferguson's plea for vindication," said Mr. Mayfield, was answered when he ran for governor against Hobby in 1918. He was defeated approximately 200,000 votes."

Mr. Mayfield read aloud what he stated was an article from Ferguson's Forum of Oct. 7, 1920, signed by James E. Ferguson. It follows: "There is no longer any reason, logical or sentimental, why any Texan should vote the democratic ticket. The democratic party has ceased to consider any question that will bring any material welfare to the people. It is now in league with the special interests to rob the people of their sustenance.

"The infernal democratic party can't run the schools. The infernal democratic party can't build roads without graft. The infernal democratic party can't run the state government without vicious extravagance. The infernal democratic party is already beaten in the national campaign. Cox is a joke and Wilson is a memory.

"A party without principle, the leadership, of course, must 'blow up.'

"The people everywhere have already heard the democratic explosion.

"Whether you are a farmer in the country or laboring man in the city, whether you are a stockman on the ranch or a business man in town, ask yourself with your conscience to answer: 'Why should any Texan vote the democratic ticket?'

Mr. Mayfield stated tonight that he did not intend to accept the challenge in a joint debate with his opponent, and gave his reasons for not accepting it.

Mr. Mayfield declared, as in former addresses, that the paramount issues of the campaign are the transportation question and the liquor question, the first raised by himself and the other by James E. Ferguson, his opponent.

"Notwithstanding recent declarations by Mr. Ferguson that he is opposed to open saloons," said Mr. Mayfield, Ferguson advocated the repeal of the eighteenth amendment, the Volstead act and the Dean law in plank 12 of his platform published in The News of last February, and if that doesn't mean the return of the open saloon to the state and the return of the brewery gang to power, then what does it mean?"

Attack on Ferguson.

The speaker charged that the brewers maintained an organization in New York and still hoped to be restored to power.

He repeated the charge that James E. Ferguson, in an interview given to a Fort Worth correspondent, had stated that he would be next year the logical candidate for vice president of the United States on a wet ticket if elected senator at the close of the present campaign.

In his speech tonight the candidate gave the same amount of attention to a full discussion of the transportation question as at other places and before other audiences.

For many years the state commission, according to the speaker, had functioned well and had worked in harmony with the interstate commerce commission which was created at a subsequent date. It had proven a great benefit, but a few years ago congress had passed a law known as the Esch-Cummins act and engrafted therein the celebrated Shreveport rate case and this had shorn the state commission of its rate-making powers, placing authority to deal with the railroads in the hands of the national commission. He contended that the first act of the interstate commerce commission after being given jurisdiction had been to raise both freight and passenger rates in order to give the roads the amount of earnings guaranteed them by the government on their capital stock. The speaker said that he regarded this guarantee as entirely unjust, as nowhere had provision been made by the government to guarantee the earnings and profits of any other class of business.

Rates fixed by the interstate commerce commission, he said, had proven ruinous to the producer and shipper as in many instances the value of the commodity would not bear the expense of shipment.

"My candidacy for the United States senate," he said, "is centered on the undertaking of improving the transportation situation. I'm asking the democrats of Texas to let me go to Washington as their representative that I may render real service in the settlement of the transportation problem.

"For ten years I have served on the Texas railroad commission, and no man will say aught against my official record except Jim Ferguson."

KU KLUX KLAN NOT A POLITICAL BODY, CLARKE DECLARES

Acting Imperial Wizard Says Order Has No Party Lines.

Atlanta, Ga.—With the political "dopester" growing more excited every day over the reported activity of the Ku Klux Klan in city, State and national politics, and the servants of the "peepul" themselves viewing with certain apprehension the appalling power of the klan, it is interesting to learn that Edward Young Clarke, acting imperial wizard, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, disclaims that this organization is to be a political machine.

Asked what the political status of the klan was, Mr. Clarke said: "The Ku Klux Klan shall never be an independent party, and it will never officially endorse any particular party. We are not interested in party lines nor platforms. We are, however, interested in the candidates themselves. The klan as an organization has its principles and ideals, and klansmen will naturally give their support as individuals to those men who promise to embrace these principles." Mr. Clarke stated emphatically that the klan would never dictate to its members as to how they should vote.

Referring to what is popularly known as the klan "victory" in Texas, the acting imperial wizard pointed out that the klan had taken no part in the primary contest until enemies of the organization made it an issue. "Klansmen," said Mr. Clarke, "were branded as outlaws and subjected to every sort of abuse. Our very existence was threatened. It was only human and natural that klansmen of Texas became incensed and decided to fight the matter out at the polls. Were the life of its fraternal organization jeopardized, its members would certainly rally to its support, politically or otherwise."

A Swimming Party.

Last Wednesday at five-thirty, August 9th, a group of about thirty boys and girls assembled at the Methodist church, from which place they were taken in cars out to the Crook lake. Having arrived all ran to the bath house, out of which in a few moments a group emerged ready for a dip into the cool, inviting water. Having stayed for about two hours, we felt as if we could eat something. We then went to the clubhouse and gathered our lunches, went out into the yard and spread it beneath a large tree. And such a lunch as there was, everything one's heart could wish for, and such a hungry bunch also. After eating to our hearts' content toasts were offered to Miss Lillian Burns, honor guest from Waco, for whom the party was given, and a visitor of the Methodist Missionary Society. Toasts were then offered to our host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. John Cook, who are always so willing to help in giving pleasure to others. Last, but not least, a toast was given to Dr. E. B. Stokes, honor guest also. Another out-of-town guest was Miss Fay Harrison of Los Angeles, California. Thanks are also offered to Misses Alta Stokes and Bess Jordan for the efficient way in which they handled the telephoning and informing others. After having spent a pleasant evening, we departed for home about nine-thirty and all hoping that we should again have the pleasure or spending another evening as this one.

NEWSPAPERY.

Fort Stockton Pioneer: Records recently compiled show that more than 4,000 newspapers of various sizes have suspended publication in the last four years. A printing journal ascribes it to the rapidly mounting costs of publication, estimating cost of publishing a newspaper is now 300 per cent on an average above what it was fifteen years ago, most of the increase coming since the outbreak of the war.

Running a newspaper now causes the perspiration to moisten the brow of the business manager even in the good old winter time. When a paper has a large circulation the print paper bills and the freight tax give the business manager vertigo, and when only a small circulation is involved the advertising manager is daily subject to blind staggers. The number of newspaper suspensions is large; but part of it is caused by the disinclination of rich men, and special groups with particular axes to grind, to longer stand behind publications which eat up money steadily without seeming to do anything else noteworthy. The time has passed when a newspaper of any size could be maintained for its use in propagating local or industrial or financial interests for the behoof of small groups of certain individuals. In the first place, a newspaper of any size could not be published for an ulterior purpose never commands the public's confidence, therefore never can depend upon the public for support. The successful newspaper must be devoted to the public's most permanent interests, yet never be afraid of the public, never fail to champion that which may be for the time unpopular, but which must eventually prove righteous. The editor who has no courage is entitled to no following; the paper which doesn't stand for something stands for nothing. Neither those who are always honestly wrong, nor those who are forever cautiously subservient to the hysteria of the hour amount to anything in the long run. And it is those whose amount to nothing in the long run who succumb in the short runs. Exactly. Come to Texas.—State Press.

WEEDS.

Hamlin Herald: Why is it that every person doesn't cut his weeds and clean up a bit? It is worth it. It is more healthful. It would have a more pleasing effect on the visitors. Let's cut the weeds and remember that our town is what we make it look like.

The reason why every person doesn't cut his weeds is because the weather is warm and the cutting of weeds requires considerable muscular exertion. It looks like you would have known without asking. When we have a wet-weathered summer in Texas we have weeds galore, or weeds gazickity. They come up and grow and branch out and bloom and scatter seed all over out-of-doors. Few men there are eager to cut them down, bruise their heads and burn them in a funeral pyre dedicated to town pride or domiciliary neatness. Even the grounds around many churches are suffered to become desecrated with weeds, the stewards or deacons or vestrymen, or the Sunday school superintendents and teachers—even pastors—being reluctant to seize weapons of offense and smite the interlopers. Weeds are unlovely; they are unhealthy; they are harbors of mosquitoes and chiggers, shelter for serpents, stamping grounds for cutworms and potato beetles. In the defiant weed patch, probably sporting its hydra head upon the ground of a nonresident owner, may be found all manner of litter, thrown there by hasty scavengers. There may be discovered the disconsolate old shoe, the disintegrating tin can, the rejected watermelon rind, the abandoned window shade, the forlorn bed spring—the snails and snails and puppy-dogs' tails of an entire community. Away with it! Away with the weed patch. It is a blot on the neighborhood escutcheon, an offense and an eye-sore. Away with the weed patch, provided anybody can be hired to make away with it.—Galveston News.

UNJUST CRITICISM OF TEXAS.

It is not unnatural that the retirement of so eminent and venerable a statesman as Senator Culberson should occasion nationwide comment and much regret. The Texas senator was regarded as one of the bulwarks of the democratic party, and as one who measured up to the standard of all the fine traditions of the United States senate. But much of the comment by the newspapers of the country not only proceeds on a false basis as to the reasons for the senator's defeat, but it is downright silly when it deals with the personality of the leader in the first senatorial race, and the man generally expected to succeed Senator Culberson. No little abuse and criticism has been leveled at Texas for daring to bring forward a man for this high position whom the newspapers claim is "not known outside the State." Well, as a matter of fact, how many States send men to the senate who are known outside their respective States before they are elected? And, for that matter, is it not a fact that a rather large proportion of the senators are known only by name outside their own States at their election?

On the other hand, is it not rather a rule that new senators have to be introduced to the country when they enter the senate? If Easterners are displeased with Texas for favoring a man who happens not to be known in the East, Texas may reply that most of the senators named in the East are unknown to Texans, but the people of this State have never considered it their business to condemn others for exercising their right to choose their representatives.

The fact that a man is unknown outside his State by no means indicates mediocrity. In the case of Earle B. Mayfield, it assuredly does not. For Mr. Mayfield has a splendid record of State service behind him. As a State senator he was one of the most influential members of the upper house, and as a railroad commissioner he has been a conspicuous success. He has shown a high standard of efficiency in every public office he has held, and our-out-of-the-State contemporaries are laboring under a serious delusion when they assume that Texans under the spell of a sudden emotion have taken up and exalted an unknown.

The people of Texas know Earle Mayfield. Tens of thousands of them know him personally, though he is still a young man; they know his private and his public record; they know his qualifications; they know the character of his ideals, and they know what he will stand for when he goes to the United States senate.

The newspaper critics of Texas are rather presumptuous, to say the least, it would seem, when they attack the Texas electorate in the way they have, since it is primarily a concern of Texas as to who represents the State in the senate. And they are committing an injustice against the State and against the leading senatorial candidate, as well as misleading their public by their conclusions.

For their enlightenment and peace of mind, let it be said that Commissioner Mayfield is in every way eminently qualified to represent Texas in the senate of the United States. With his splendid personality, his fine mental poise, his excellent education and intellectual equipment, his lofty ideals of private and public morals, and his long experience in the service of the State, he is fitted to render solid service to the State and nation in the senate, and he will be a worthy successor to the illustrious statesman of Texas now closing his career in that great body.—Houston Post.

"STATE AID" AND "RAT HOLES"

Speaking in Austin, July 20, in behalf of his candidacy for state superintendent, Ed R. Bentley quoted with his approval a statement to the effect that the state's appropriation for rural schools—"State Aid"—had simply been "poured into rat holes."

Is that his opinion of the country schools?

Is your school one of the "rat holes?"

S. M. N. Marrs believes State Aid has been helpful to the country schools in the past and in the future will be used to the welfare of the state.

He favors a continuance of State Aid to equalize the educational opportunities of Texas boys and girls.

Elect a big school man on his record. Vote for S. M. N. Marrs for state superintendent.

UNTRUE REPORTS CIRCULATED

Weldon, Tex., August 4, 1922.
To Whom This May Concern:

I have been informed that certain parties are circulating reports stating that Mr. E. C. Thompson is heavily indebted to me and refuses to make satisfactory settlement.

Such reports are untrue, and are not only calculated to injure Mr. Thompson, but are an injustice to myself as well.

Therefore, in justice to all concerned, I respectfully ask that any one refrain from circulating such reports.

Goes to Attend Meeting.

S. M. Monzingo, secretary of executive committee, Texas Farm Bureau Sweet Potato Exchange, will leave for Texarkana Thursday where he will attend a meeting of the Southern Sweet Potato Growers for the purpose of associating the leading states in a national exchange.

This is a wonderful move, as at present all the southern states harvest at about the same time and will ship to the same markets and flood them, and with the cooperative marketing and one sales agency the crop will be spread over all the consuming territory and there will be no glutted markets. Growers are becoming acquainted with conditions and are righting them as fast as is possible so that in a short time competition will be between buyers and not between the sellers as is the case at present.

To the Tax-Payers of Houston County.

Along about the first of the year there were certain parties who began planning to grade and hard-surface the old San Antonio road. Upon a close estimate, this would cost the tax-payers of Houston county about one million dollars.

I realize that there are now hundreds of people unable to pay their tax, also that this would increase the burden upon them. I will be compelled to oppose it. And for this reason it seems that those parties are determined to defeat me, and may do so. But if I am defeated, I will be defeated try-

STATEMENT BY CHAS. C. RICE

To the Democratic Voters of Houston County:

Because of the withdrawal of my opponent, Mrs. McConnell, in the second primary, I feel that I should make public acknowledgement of my appreciation of her kindness in so doing. With the handsome plurality I received in the first primary, I felt morally sure of winning in the second, but her withdrawal makes my nomination CERTAIN. At the same time it relieves me of the expense and trouble, to say nothing about the SUSPENSE, of another campaign, for which I am truly grateful to her. It is important that ALL of you understand WHY my name ONLY is on the ballot for the second primary for representative. I lacked a comparatively small number of votes to give me a MAJORITY in the first primary, and the attorney general of Texas has ruled that I must have a majority in order to make my nomination valid. But for this ruling the county executive committee would have declared me the NOMINEE, which Mrs. McConnell desired to have the committee to do. I have no grievance against any one who voted against me in the first primary, and I would be awfully glad if the voters in the second primary would make my nomination UNANIMOUS. You may COUNT ON ME to do my "dead level best" to make you such representative in the next legislature that you will always feel proud of having voted for me. My heart goes out to each and ALL of you for your great kindness to me, and for the unselfish expression of your CONFIDENCE in me.

Gratefully yours,
Chas. C. Rice.
