FOUND: On Friday last concealed in a brush heap, a good saddle, branded in several places.

For garden hoses, tubs, buckets, washboards, wash pans, stew pans, milk strainers, dish pans, cups, coffee pots and all sorts of kitchen tinware, go to FORD BROS.

Quite a ripple of excitement was caused last Friday by the announcement that Mr. E. H. Cook had taken a small pox.

Next Tuesday I will have a load of forked-leaf sweet potatoes in Graham for sale at 75 cents a bushel.

Judge Timmons' son Gordon is down with pneumonia this week.

We understand that there will soon be a new hardware store in Graham: Let them come.

MARRIED: On Tuesday evening, Feb. 21, 1893, at the residence of bride's parents at Toccoola, Miss.

It is a source of a great deal of diversion to watch the maneuvers of the town cows when a farmer happens to leave his wagon on the street.

For tinware, cooking utensils, cups, pans, baking pans, fresh coconuts, roast peanuts, and all sorts of fancy confectioneries and groceries, go to Mrs. SADIE PARKER'S.

Constable Butler has taken the job of carrying the mails from this place to Farmer.

V. F. Gorrissen has just received a full line of fishing tackle and fishing poles.

Mrs. Sadie Parker has been quite sick during the past week but is improving.

The Graham school board disregarded the proclamation of Supt. Carlisle to observe Arbor Day.

The Institute. Last Saturday afternoon the LEADER reporter casually "dropped in" to the Teachers Institute meeting at Prof. Fowler's school room.

V. F. Gorrissen has a fine lot of Croquet Sets.

J. L. Payne went to Dallas last week to do some painting at Buckner's Orphan's Home.

V. F. Gorrissen has a fine lot of Trot lines and Hooks.

Mr. B. F. Shumaker has gone to St. Louis and other northern cities to lay in a large stock of spring goods.

English Sparin Liniment removes all Hard, Soft or Calloused Lumps and Blisthes from horses, Blood Spavins, Curbs, Splints, Sweeney, Ring-Bone, Stiles, Sprains, all Swollen Throats, Coughs, etc.

There are a lot of boys in town who seem to think it's smart to worry and bullrag the little negro who works at Horton's stable.

Strength and Health. If you are not feeling strong and healthy, try Electric Bitters.

The citizens of the Hawkins Chapel neighborhood have just completed a fine new school house.

Commissioner Frank Herron is in town today.

Part of the city council met last week and decided to get the city Mayor and Attorney to draft ordinances for the government of the municipality.

M. S. Handy has quit the drugg business and we understand that he is going to enter the life insurance business.

These figures represent the number of bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Croup, Coughs and Whooping Cough, which were sold in the United States from March, 91 to March, '92.

There were a couple of bridge men in town yesterday.

The Justice court of precinct no. one was in session yesterday and continued the case of S. B. Wadley vs. J. H. Brown.

There is no small pox in Graham. Don't let yourself be gulled by flying rumors.

Monday was court day at Farmer. The case of the State vs. Deberry was tried and resulted in a verdict of acquittal.

Buck Gets Mad. I got a communication in the shape of a letter from Jinny Pettus last week that up set me so completely and so all over like that I didn't feel like ridin.

Educational Column. The public school will close May 12th.

True as Preaching. When you want newspaper favors you strike your home paper, don't you?

Do you think a newspaper man can live on promises and pay his bills with the same material?

Do you think he can forever digest the fact that his paper is a good thing for the country, and yet receive nothing in return?

Bucklen's Arnica Salve. THE BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Swabs, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures them, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box.

Some of my brightest pupils failed to make the usual grade this month owing to non-attendance.

They were partly excusable, however, as the "La-Grippe" has been prevalent in our city for several days.

The following have proved faithful during the past month: Bernice Gallener, Donna Brooks, Theo Hindman, Joe Hindman, Bobbie Wallace, Augusta Beard, Rebecca Brisco, Crawford Harris, Frank LeGrand, Maud Case, Johnie Norman, Addie Johnson, Adele Johnson, Hattie McJinney, Eddie Trese and Arthur Thomas.

MARY MILLING. Go to V. F. Gorrissen's for Base Balls and Base Ball Bats.

Mr. John Kissinger paid the LEADER a pleasant and substantial call yesterday.

Judge R. F. Arnold left Monday for the Archer City district court. C. W. Johnson returned Tuesday. He won the divorce case of Mrs. John Thomas vs. John Thomas. He represented the defendant.

The Graham bar seems to be running the Archer court this time.

What must a good, faithful witness for the state think when he beholds the stealthy step of the assassin against whom he is expected to testify and whom the state by law methods of delaying justice has turned out to hunt him down?

By virtue of the Tax Rolls of the Town of Graham, Young Co., Tex. for the year 1892, and by authority vested in me as Tax Collector of said Town of Graham, I have this day seized and levied upon and will proceed to sell for cash, at public outcry, to the highest bidder, at the court house door in said town, between the legal hours of sale, on the FIRST TUESDAY IN APRIL, 1893, the same being the 4th day of said month, the following described tracts of land and town lots, situated in the corporation of Graham, or so much of each tract or town lot as will pay the taxes and costs due thereon; said sale to continue from day to day until the list is completed:

A new supply of Leaf Tobacco just received, price 20 and 25 cents a pound, at SHUMAKER BROS.

The "peace and dignity of the State" was very severely exercised, if not entirely broken up, by a crowd of bibulous youths last Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Burton's four year old son is quite sick with pneumonia.

Mr. Bob Garrett is expecting to leave for the territory in a few days.

Graham Leader

J. W. GRAVES, Proprietor.
Graham, - - - Texas.
The Smith family and the Jones family are prominent. Even the queen of Hawaii could not do without the assistance of P. C. Jones and W. O. Smith.

These are the days when the country has reason to be proud. It is upon having a few war-ships that carry the moral influence of the latest shooting-machines and modern armor.

It ought to occur to Mr. Cleghorn that the fact that Princess Kalaulani was educated in England does not constitute the best possible reason why the American people should aid her to mount the throne of Hawaii.

AMERICA may or may not want the Hawaiian Islands. It remains to be seen whether she does or not. But none would have any insolent or impertinent interference on the part of the British government.

A GOOD many anxious French statesmen would be glad to have enough money dust kicked up in Egypt to blind the public to the fact that the Egyptian people are not so much as they are.

The very sphinx will be startled by the sound of the little whiffle low and hoot out its authority if it doesn't give somebody to come along and give him some of its own.

Of a truth, the Latin race statesmen seem to be developing an insidious talent for financing of a shady order most remarkably. Nearly all Franco's great men are mixed up in the ugly Panama canal scheme.

THERE is one way in which prospective descendants may guard against unseemly squabbles over the property to be left behind when they depart. Several unscrupulous citizens have adopted it lately and with complete success.

No AMERICAN with a heart in his breast has any feeling other than that of care to see that the Count de Lesseps in the multiplying misfortunes that have befallen that venerable engineer and projector.

In the heat of debate Rev. C. H. Barlow of Newark, N. J., used strong language to the effect that he would like to shoot one of the deacons of the church for opposing a proposition to cut a copper bolt into the baptismal font, and has been indicted.

Having made an impregnable fortress of the port of Halifax, in the northeast, brother St. Lucia, in the southwest, and having attempted to gain a foothold for similar purposes on Lower California, to the southwest, the American people begin to understand why England looks upon the United States as a threat to its national security.

Even as far south in Europe as Constantinople the present winter has been severe. Snow and ice in sufficient quantities have been deposited in the streets of the ancient city to stop the movement of cars and street cars. In some parts of Hungary a temperature of 32 degrees below zero is reported.

The splendid ocean liners of the inland and foreign trade company have passed into the hands of an American company and will henceforth bear the stars and stripes instead of St. George's cross. This is a move in the right direction, but the change will involve a good many formal introductions to old friends on the part of the ships in the new colors.

There is a great need of more secondary schools of a high class. The public high schools in some Western cities and a few elsewhere furnish an excellent preparation for college, but in most parts of the country public schools hardly attempt this work.

THE BIMETALLIC LEAGUE

Class an Important Station at Washington on Yesterday.

A MISSISSIPPI "WHITECAP" KILLED.
An Old Man Shows John W. Mackay, the California Millionaire, Then Himself.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The closing session of the bimetallic league was devoted almost entirely to oratory. T. H. Tibbles, a farmer of Nebraska, introduced himself as an old hayseed and started his hearers by telling them they had been hearing here two or three days but had said nothing new. He said the farmers had been advised lately to keep out of politics, but their answer was "You go to Old Harry. We have tried that before and nothing came of it."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The closing session of the bimetallic league was devoted almost entirely to oratory. T. H. Tibbles, a farmer of Nebraska, introduced himself as an old hayseed and started his hearers by telling them they had been hearing here two or three days but had said nothing new. He said the farmers had been advised lately to keep out of politics, but their answer was "You go to Old Harry. We have tried that before and nothing came of it."

IT GOVERNED HIM.

A Captain's Nine-Day Attempt to Get into Portland by Boat.
There is a time of year when the storm-tossed mariner should never be over-confident that he is safely and certainly within Portland Harbor, Maine. Again, and again, vessels all ready to poke their noses past House Island have been driven off the shore by a wintry northeaster, and with rigging, crews despairing, have been whirled off the coast for miles, driven sometimes hundreds of miles away. Even a land-lubber can realize how men would feel under these conditions after they had drawn almost near enough to the home threshold to feel its warmth.

HAND SHAKING.

The New Style of Greeting and It Ends in Kissing.
"No, that's no longer the style," said one girl to another, as her friend raised her arm until the immense puff of her velvet sleeve was on a level with her head, "we don't shake hands in the air any more. A present this ceremony is performed very low down; the arm is held about the waist, and the hands meet as near the knee as possible. The clasp is the same, as is the shake. Wait until we reach home and I'll give you an object lesson in the new way of kissing," she continued.

The Graham Leader

I. W. GRAVES, Proprietor. Some papers say that Cleveland is going to start a new party, a sort of a Demo-Cleveland repug-

The few third party members in the legislature call themselves the "entering wedge" and a crucial election says it is an appropriate name because they were so well "mauled" in the late election.

The Ass'n Salons are still advising congress what to do instead of passing a few of the many much-needed laws for Texas. This legislature is great on national problems.

The democratic hosts are now gathering in Washington to witness the imposing ceremonies which will attend the inaugural of Grover Cleveland.

Col. Tom M. Bowers of the Texas Iconoclast seems to be running his paper with the one sole object of abusing Gov. Hogg. The little thing affects the governor just in the same proportion as the goat affects the bull by biting his horn.

The fellows who did the londer yetting over the election of Cleveland and those who did the hardest work for him in the campaign, feel like the little boy that the calf run over when they think that Grover has given them the best office he had to a republican.

That Pistol Law. The legislature is still hammering away on the pistol law in the endeavor to get an enactment that will prohibit the carrying of the deadly "pop."

There was a law which said the pistol toter found guilty should go to jail. This law was pretty rigidly enforced throughout the state and it created a panic among the hip-pocket gentry.

The county judges of the several counties are hereby requested to call the County Conventions. In the event of failure to hold a County Convention the County Judge will appoint delegates to the State Convention.

On the 22nd ult. President elect Cleveland finished his cabinet selections and they are announced as follows:

Walter Q. Gresham, Indiana, secretary of state. John G. Carlisle, Kentucky, secretary of the treasury. Daniel S. Lamont, New York, secretary of war.

Hake Smith, Georgia, secretary of the interior. Hilary A. Herbert, Alabama, secretary of the navy.

J. Sterling Morton, Nebraska, secretary of agriculture. Wilson S. Bissell, New York, postmaster general.

Richard Olney, Massachusetts, attorney general. Mr. Herbert has been in congress many years and has acted as chairman of the navy committee of the house.

Richard Olney is one of the leading practitioners of the Massachusetts bar. He has not held any political position or been prominent in political matters, but is known as one of the leading lawyers of Boston.

Office of Commissioner of Agriculture, Austin, Texas, Feb. 18, 1893.

TO THE PEOPLE OF TEXAS: At the solicitation of the farmers, merchants, members of the legislature and others I am induced to call a State Convention for the purpose of taking some action to influence farmers of the State and the South to plant less cotton the coming season, also to vary their crops.

I will designate Austin the place for the Convention and fix the time on the 10th of March. There are ample hotel accommodations in Austin and a suitable hall will be furnished and every attention will be shown to the delegates.

Every citizen, regardless of occupation, trade or profession is interested in this effort to decrease the cotton acreage, and permit me to urge upon every one to take a hand and encourage the largest possible attendance at the County Conventions and to see that a large and representative delegation is sent to the State Convention in order that the wishes and sentiments of the agricultural interest may be reflected in its action.

That you may better appreciate the necessity and importance of this call, I will say: that some days ago I sent to each county assessor to ascertain through the best sources of information possible whether there would be an increase or decrease in cotton acreage and report by the first of March. A few reports have been received and in nearly every instance an increase has been reported and in some counties as high as 20 per cent. increase, and if the other cotton growing states make a like increase it needs no wise prophet to foretell that five cents or less will be the prevailing price for cotton the coming season, which will be nothing more or less than a calamity.

Again let me urge upon you to take this matter actively in hand and avail yourselves of this opportunity to fix the price of cotton for the next year's crop. It is unquestionably in the power of the agricultural element to control the price of their leading product, a fact they are so loth to understand, or appreciate. It is also suggested that an interstate convention be called with the view of getting all the states to cooperate for the purpose of arousing a more general interest and to influence the entire South, attention to which will be given by the Convention when assembled.

The county judges of the several counties are hereby requested to call the County Conventions. In the event of failure to hold a County Convention the County Judge will appoint delegates to the State Convention.

May I hope you will properly appreciate this timely warning? Your obedient servant, JNO. E. HOLLINGSWORTH, Comm'r of Agriculture.

FUN AT THE CIRCUS.

The Man Who Goes Down He Wants to Always Laugh It. Blessed be the man who went to the circus for the sake! All homage to him who went to the big tent to see the animals and hear the music and see the performers just because he liked them all and wanted to go. Away with the hypocrite who went only to "please the children."

An American never grows so old that a snuff of the saddest ring does not start the sluggish blood in his veins afresh. There is something from the quick-gingered man in the ticket-wagon to the clatter of the busy workmen taking the tents down in the dead hour of the night that brings back a sweet recollection of a happier time and a wish that it could all be lived over again.

The loud crash of music as the camels and gorgeously caparisoned horses come in at first brings a bit of the real old feeling to the breast of the man who carried water to the elephant thirty years ago.

Why not be a boy again for an afternoon or for one of those glittering evenings under the great dust-colored canopy that is so big that one wonders how it is ever put up and taken down again in so short a time. Why not munch peanuts and laugh at the clown just the same as if your hair were in brown ringlets, matted by perspiration to a brown nose too clean, instead of the gray, straggling locks that it is? Get up on a top seat, fill your pockets with things to eat, buy the program and concert tickets, point to everything that comes in, laugh, have a fair for the daring lady in the leap, do all of these things and be a boy again.

Super Food for Bees.

There are two ways of feeding bees on sugar, one of which is to make the sugar into large cakes of candy, weighing from five to fifteen pounds, which are laid over the frames during winter for their winter stores.

During winter the moisture arising from the bees collects on the candy which melts to such an extent that the bees can lick it up, thus giving them a supply of food. However, during a cold spell, it often happens that the bees fall to cluster on the candy, and the severe cold keeps them from leaving the cluster to reach it, so that starvation occurs, which is not satisfactory to the apiarist; hence this plan of feeding is not practiced, only as the bees have been neglected until cold weather prevents any other mode of feeding.

When a colony has a few pounds of honey in the hive to bridge over these cold spells, this way of feeding is very satisfactory. The second plan, and the preferable one, is to make the sugar into a sirup, which is fed to the bees in feeders during the warm days of October and early November, so that they can store it in their combs, and use it over the same as honey. Many think such stores better for the bees than honey, but if plenty of honey is in the hives, I should never extract it for the sake of feed sugar.

To make the sirup I find the following formula the best. Put fifteen pounds of water in a vessel that will hold about twenty-four quarts, and bring it to a boil. When boiling, slowly pour in thirty pounds of granulated sugar, stirring as it is poured in, so that it will not dissolve instead of settling to the bottom and burning. Now bring to a boil again, and skim, if impurities arise, when it is to be set from the fire, add five pounds of honey stirred in. This gives fifty pounds of food, about the consistency of honey, and as soon as it is cooled so that it is a little warmer than blood heat, it is ready for use. The honey is put in to prevent crystallization, and with me it proves far superior to vinegar or cream-of-tartar.—American Bee Journal.

Mix salt and copperas with wood ashes for the hogs. A tip that always full will not take sufficient exercise. Any kind of stop is made better, if milk instead of water is used. The qualities belonging to the several breeds suit all consumers. Unless care is taken, the hog house will prove a source of disease. Learn to breed well and to feed well, so as to have the pigs grow well.

Generally it is not best to attempt to crowd the little pigs to fast at the start. In nearly all cases the farmer can breed hogs cheaper than he can buy when he needs them. A well fed pig is quiet and contented, while a half starved one is always restless and trying to get into mischief. In the selection of the sow a strong maternal appearance should be the first consideration, with beauty afterwards.

The only way to make the best of a well-bred pig is to crowd it from birth to maturity in the most economical way. The pig does not lose as much of the food consumed to make the waste of the system in heat and energy as the sheep or steer. Especially when they are to farrow early, the farrowing sows should receive careful attention in order to lessen the risks of loss. By grading the hogs according to size they will do better and make a more satisfactory gain in proportion to the amount of food supplied. It is not good economy, nor is it a safe plan, to discard all of the old sows at one time and supply their number and places with young animals.

Household Hints. Try a little oil on the hinges to stop a door's creaking. Canopied beds are not in favor from a sanitary point of view. All broiled meats should be served the moment they are cooked. Carpets may be brightened by dusting with a damp flannel mop. Soiled wall paper may be brightened by rubbing with pieces of light bread. Never boil chocolate in your coffee pot, as it would be likely to impart to the coffee an unpleasant flavor. Lemon juice will whitens frosting, cranberry or strawberry juice will color it pink, and the grated rind of an orange strained through a cloth will color it yellow.

A well-known decorator says that lace curtains should be put through every year, there is not a pair yet that has been able to take the pieces of the Bartlett or the Seckel. The Bartlett is a European sort, originating in England and named after the Duke of Devonshire. The Seckel is a native of this country, and its name getting lost, it was named Bartlett, after the man in whose garden it was when its excellent qualities were discovered. The Seckel is a native, a chance seedling found growing near the Schuylkill river, Philadelphia, and the original tree still stands and bears fruit. The Bartlett is in season all throughout September, the Seckel from the close of September and through October. These two kinds are no exception to the rule that the quality of all pears increases in value as the trees get older. The fruit from a full-grown Seckel pear tree, for instance, is far superior to that from a tree fruiting for the first time.
