THE LEADER.

Published Weekly by J. W. Graves.

Subscription $1.00 a Year.

LITTLE LOCAL LEADERS.

Rev. B. R. Wagner and wife left Tuesday for Greer county. Their post office is El Dorado, O. T.

When you come to town don't fail to come in and get your prices before you buy, as we sell cheaper than any house in town, and have the goods.

S. B. STREET & Co.

J. W. Horner brought in a hog last Saturday that weighed 554 lbs. net. It was a whopper.

Buy your Lumber and Portland Cement from H. N. FROST, the leading Lumber Dealer of Mineral Wells.

J. J. McCasron of Jacksboro, was in Graham last Saturday shaking hands with old friends.

When at Mineral Wells stop at the Mineral Wells Wagon Yard.

E. T. Kirtley and Magruder Parsons, of Sorghum Flat, Stephens county, gave THE LEADER office a pleasant call last Wednesday.

Miss Hattie Wallace has accepted a position in Gorrisen's store.

Marriage license was issued on Nov. 30 to Jim Reynolds and Miss Minnie Proffitt.

Alex. Stringer of Randall's Store community, called on THE LEADER last week and made us glad a dollar's worth.

New goods coming in every day.

S. B. STREET & Co.

If you want to sell, buy or trade anything, or if you have lost anything, it will pay you to advertise in THE LEADER.

When you are in Mineral Wells buy your groceries of Cogdell Bros. and save money.

The people of Young county have had a "hog killing" time during the past week.

Rev. M. L. Moody returned from Haskell Tuesday and left Wednesday morning with his family, returning to his new charge.

Don't be fooled by false advertisements, but trade with us and get honest values.

S. B. STREET & Co.

Cheapest House in Town.

We are needing the small amounts due us on subscription very badly. When you read this notice do not lay this paper aside forgetting the amount because it is small. It takes money to run a paper, and we shall have to collect every thing possible.

We will sell you more goods than any house in town for the same amount of money.

S. B. STREET & Co.

Cheapest House in Town.

During the past few days a very suspicious looking character has been seen on the streets of Graham. Some people said he was an Irishman, while others thought he was a foreign nobleman in disguise. But the mystery was solved yesterday when it was announced that S. R. Jeffery had shaved off his mustache.

We have the best stock of goods in town and will beat all competition.

S. B. STREET & Co.

A Missouri exchange says that a man who had been kept two years in such a manner as to exclude air. The newspaper must, however, be one on which the subscription is paid in full or the dampness resulting from the due will cause the fruit to decay.

We advertise just what we have and always have what we advertise.

S. R. Crawford, R. F. Arnold and John Taylor have gone to Seymour this week.

Cas Beckham has moved to the country and will try farming next year. He is located on Hylfettelle.

Last week a storm of stiff north-erly wind and we had real hog-er for several days. The cold weather as we last winter. Some-er prophet says we er mild winter. We er prove to be a false

Commissioners' Court.

The Commissioners' Court met last Friday. The new Commissioners were all present but Ardis who arrived and was sworn in on Saturday morning. They got down to work like old hands at the business. The bonds of all the county officers were approved except that of Surveyor, and the Surveyor-elect, E. T. Higgins, was given till the next meeting of the Court to complete his bond. The old Surveyor, C. P. Benson, tendered his resignation which was laid on the table and deferred till the next term of the Court. The question of fixing ex-officio salaries was also deferred till the February term. Some business of minor importance was transacted and the Court adjourned on Saturday at noon.

The new Court will be a good one we think. They manifest a disposition to thoroughly investigate all matters coming before them and they are all studying the law governing the duties of Commissioners. We think the people may rest assured that the county affairs are in safe hands.

Bill Crump Killed.

W. G. Crump, formerly a well known and highly respected citizen of this county, was accidentally shot and instantly killed by W. D. Bruner, near El Reno, Okla., Oct. 31, while turkey hunting. Mr. Crump was cattle inspector for the Cattle Raisers Association of Texas. He had a comfortable home twelve miles west of El Reno. He leaves a wife and six small children. He has many warm friends in this county who regret to hear of his death.

Cut Prices.

In order to reduce our stock of Dry Goods we have decided to offer every thing in our line at greatly reduced prices for the next thirty days.

We have a large stock of shoes which we are offering at bargains never before offered in Graham. Get our prices; it will certainly pay you for your trouble.

Yours for Bargains.

SHUMAKER BROS.

Thanksgiving Day was appropriately observed in Graham. Rev. W. H. Wycough preached a good sermon at the Presbyterian church; all the business houses in town were closed.

Quite a number of our citizens spent the day hunting. Capt. Gay and D. A. Ford each killed a deer. A number of school children, in charge of Prof. Fowler, spent the day on the river picnicing.

Books Wanted.

C. G. King, at the new drug store, wants the following second hand school books:

Steel's Philosophy, Maury's Physical Geography, Swinton's Word Book, Lockwood's Composition, Robinson's Elementary Algebra, Miller's Arithmetic, Maury's Elementary Geography, Atwood's Latin, Werber's Primer.

Or any other books used in the Graham Public school. If you have any books you are through with, take them to him.

Don't dally with rheumatism. Purify your blood and cure it at once by taking a course of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Masonic Lecture.

Rev. H. R. Coleman, the great Masonic Lecturer and traveler, will deliver public lectures on the subject of Masonry and his travels in the Holy Land, on Tuesday and Wednesday nights, Jan. 5th and 6th, 1897, and to the Masons exclusively Thursday night, Jan. 7th.

Mr. Coleman is an able speaker and his lectures will be interesting to mass any of his lectures.

If you know a local item don't tell us about it, but keep it still, and ease the paper when it comes because it does not contain every-thing.

REVERENCE.

BY J. N. JOHNSTON.

"By reverence we mean a profound regard for what is great or good, or both."

There seems to be a tendency on the part of most teachers at present to neglect the training of the young in everything except the learning of facts, definitions, etc.

We have often said in these columns that education includes more than the mere cultivation of the mind, and the education that fails to develop the whole man—mind, soul and body—is not the education for our boys and girls. It is the duty of all public school teachers, and also the need of this age that the reverence of children should be cultivated and trained. Ours is a new country, and in the rush and hum of temporal affairs we seem to forget that there is anything to be treated with reverence and respect. The cartoons portraying in shameful style the political ideas of parties and great men is a shame and a menace to public life, and respect for those in authority. Take out the irreverence and flippant nonsense in our illustrated journals and give the subject a serious thought and all the wit disappears. It is said that children are not slow to imitate their fathers. They often speak of their father as "the old man," the school teacher as the "old boss," and even worse names to lady teachers. It does not stop here. Girls and boys often use that sacred name, mother, as the "old woman." Many other disrespectful names are applied to ministers, and old men whose bodies are stooped by reason of their years or manner of dress.

This irreverence extends to the mutilation of private property. The boys in the home are permitted to prop their feet upon a chair, or place them upon the fireboard, or against the ceiling, or spit upon the floor to the disgust of every decent person. The teachers permit them to prop their feet upon the stool, or sit in a very unsightly manner in the presence of the girls.

In some schools in Young county the desks, which cost $5 each or more, have been cut to pieces by the boys' Billy Barlow. Not only was the property damaged, and the boys' character lowered, but the public suffered an encroachment upon their respect and decency.

Nor is this all; the reverent attitude of mind or speech toward God man seem to be very unpopular. This tendency of the public mind does not speak well for the future. Let the efforts of all teachers be directed towards this matter. Reverence for the good and the great, not irreverence, should prevail.

South Bend.

Mr. Elmer: You know there was a man hanged at Palo Pinto last Friday. Well, the following gentlemen of this place went down to see that the execution was properly done: Messrs. W. W. Ford, O. H. Clay, and West Parker, and G. A. Gray. The execution took place privately (in jail), but the spectators, of which there were only a few could see the criminal while on the gallows and after he was dead. Also hear the noise of the hatchet when the rope was cut, the fall of the trap door, and the fall of the executed. The criminal was, while standing on the scaffold, and while the sheriff was placing the rope around his neck, he cursed horribly.

He never gave down, nor never denied his guilt. He was a man of very small stature, about 23 years of age. He had a little money, about $600, which he will- ed to the deputy sheriff, instead of his mother or brothers, who are living, but none of whom had been to see him while in prison nor at his death. He and the sheriff were at enmity, he having told the sheriff on the morning previous to his death in the evening that if he could get a chance to cut his d—n throat he would be ready to die. He cursed the judge when he pronounced his sentence, he cursed everything and died cursing. His name was John Dove.

The "crew" that went from here was told several times along the road that they were hanging the wrong man—that we were those who ought to be hanged.

The crowd started Wednesday evening by back, but at its return was cut off by the river, having started back by a nearer route, and was detained till Monday morning just in time for the "Prof." to begin school.

Here's Our Settlement.

No newspaper, no matter how ably edited or how enterprisingly conducted, can long keep afloat and abreast with the times when published in a dead town. It takes a live town to make a live newspaper. There never was in the past hundred years, never will and never can be a live town without a live newspaper. The newspaper is dependent on the town. It reflects the push, progress and aspiration of the town. Without home patronage it cannot live and thrive. Then again, while it is dependent on the town, the town can not get along without it. There is no auxiliary so valuable to a growing town as an open-spoken, public spirited paper, wisely and well managed. Nor is that all; the business man who does not advertise in it, and the enterprising citizen who does not subscribe for it and talk up for it, stands in its light and is a stumbling block in the way of the town's progress. Help the press of your town and in nine hundred and ninety nine out of a thousand cases it will return your help many fold.—Ex.

Facts From Farmer.

We had a fine rain last week, plenty of stock water once more. Some cold weather for the past week.

Mr. N. Gregg killed some nice hogs Monday.

W. M. Perry has moved to the Steen place 4 miles north of town. Geo. McNew and family have gone to Bowie for a weeks visit.

J. J. O'Harrow of Enon, Tarrant county is visiting this community again.

L. A. Wann has quit school at Jacksboro.

T. H. Wann returned home Saturday from Moore county, where he has been for the past six months.

Finis Powell left today for Kansas; he has a job on the Herren ranch.

W. W. Farmer went to Graham today after a load of corn.

The Justice court was quite lively here Saturday. Two cases on docket, J. T. Slade against Harming, and J. T. Slade against J. B. Pettit. In the first case judgment was rendered against Harming. Slade against Pettit was thrown out because the proof of the distress warrant was insufficient. Joe Akin of Graham, represented Slade and O. B. Swank of Antelope, Jack county, represented Pettit.

Rev. J. J. Harris preached his farewell sermon here Sunday; left Monday morning for Ranger to enter his ministerial work.

Henry Stuppert and wife of Markley, was in town trading Tuesday. S. M. Wann went over to Antelope Monday on business.

Mrs. Ayne-worth is on the sick list but is improving at this writing. Bert Kneiblerger and W. W. Neely passed through Farmer today on their way to Bowie after two loads of lumber.

The Orphan Home Entertainment course of second Sunday night in this month. Don't forget to come.

Farmer will have a Christmas tree, two weddings, two entertainments, and several big dinners. S. M. WANN.

There is a new girl at the residence of Almos Martin.

Prominent Republicans are talking about a special session of Congress soon after McKinley's inauguration, March 4, to pass a tariff bill.

The receipts of the Dallas Fair fell off $30,000 this year, leaving a deficit of $17,000.

An exchange says: "The newspaper that pleases everybody has not yet been published." It is so. People are quick to take offense at an item that is contrary to their views, and too easily forget any favors shown by their home paper. There is a certain amount of consideration and charity due everybody, and the publisher of a local newspaper should not be exempt. He is a human, and has feelings like other people. If everybody were to cultivate and practice virtues, people would understand each other better and enjoy more.

Teachers of Young county will please remember that the 2nd Institute will be held at South Bend on Saturday, Dec. 6th, 1896. Let every teacher make an effort to be present, especially those who are assigned part in program.

Some people make us very tired.

A new scheme for forwarding letters from Cuba to this country has been devised by a New York postage stamp dealer. He has stamps sent him from Cuba and letters are concealed in the wrappings which protect the stamps. Several important letters have recently been received in New York by this means which otherwise would never have escaped the strict censorship regarding outgoing mail.

Emma Goldman is out with a petition started by some Pennsylvania socialists and anarchists for the purpose of securing a pardon for Alexander Berkman, the young New York anarchist who tried to kill C. E. Frick some years ago. He was sentenced to state's prison for twenty years. The press reports intimate that Mr. Frick himself will sign the petition. Can this be really true?

Beware of ginger cordial. An eminently respectable New York woman, 49 years old and mother of numerous grown-up children, was obliged to face a police justice the other day on a charge of intoxication, and investigation showed that a drink of ginger cordial taken at a drugist's for a passing indisposition was the cause of the whole trouble. Incidentally this story is recommended to married men who sometimes come home in a more or less shattered condition.

This is a curious item. A man lives just outside Atlanta has grown three acres of "leafless" cotton, the plants averaging from seven to fourteen feet high and producing to the plant, without great exhaustion, the seed, it is claimed more than five times as much cotton as the ordinary plant. Yesterday he was visited by a committee from the southern part of Georgia offering him $10,000 for all the plants and seed for the purpose of destroying them. Naturally he did not accept the offer, which savors of the middle ages. He has sent an offer of forty bushels of the seed to the New Orleans exchange for $20,000, which will be accepted.

Constable Quigley of Paterson, N. J. has a contract on his hands which he would like to be rid of. Whiskers' circuits straggled in that city, and some of the people who had money coming to them from the show attached Lady Hienheim, a hippopotamus belonging to the menagerie department. Quigley served the attachment and took charge of the coy young lady, but since he has discovered that she eats eight bales of hay daily, and also has to be milked. Moreover, she dislikes strangers and has nearly done up the good Quigley several times. The bold constable is now endeavoring to get rid of the heavy-weight dame, thus displaying a lack of gallantry truly admirable.

A statement issued by the agricultural department shows that the total commerce of the United States, including imports and exports, for the ten years ended June 30 last, was $16,913,205,858, or a yearly average of more than $1,691,320,585. Compared with the annual average of this ten-year period the statement says the figures for 1896 show an upward tendency, not quite so marked as the gain of 1895, but sufficient to warrant the hope that unless some new distributing factor arises the commercial depression of 1894-95 is a thing of the past.

Sarah Bernhardt enthusiastically patronized the popular Spanish sport of bull fighting. It is announced from San Sebastian that she was present at a bull fight she was enchanted with the torador Brindis, who killed five toros, that she presented him with a valuable pin ornamented with brilliants.

Some good Kansas people thought a down-east orator was putting on air when he said "the horse reared on his hind legs" when it was clear the animal "reared."

The author of a western Kansas story which recently appeared in Harper's Magazine, makes a rail fence figure prominently in it, and the newspaper says there are giving him the berry-wire laugh.

TALMAGE'S SERMON.

"CHANT TO THE STARS," SUNDAY'S SUBJECT.

From the Text: "Who Laid the Corner Stone Thereof, When the Morning Stars Sang Together"—Book of Job, Chap. 38, Verses 6 and 7.

I have all seen the ceremony at the laying of the corner-stone of church, asylum, or Masonic temple. Into the hollow of the stone were placed scrolls of history and important documents, to be suggestive if, one or two hundred years after, the building should be destroyed by fire or torn down. We remember the silver trowel or iron hammer that smote the square piece of granite into sanctity. We remember some venerable man who presided wielding the trowel or hammer. We remember also the music as the choir stood on the scattered stones and timber of the building about to be constructed. The leaves of the note-books rattled in the wind. And we remember with a great rustling, and we remember how the bass, baritone, tenor, contralto, and soprano voices, "chanted." They had for many days been rehearsing the specific program that it might be worthy of the corner-stone laying.

In my text the poet of Uca calls us to a grander ceremony—the laying of the foundation of this great temple of the world. The corner-stone was a block of light and the trowel was of celestial crystal. All about and on the embankment of the world's history, the choicest characters unrolling the libretto of overture, and other worlds clapped shining cymbals while the ceremony went on, and God the architect, by stroke of his great stroke of light, dedicated this great cathedral of the world, with mountains for pillars, and sky for frescoed ceiling, and flowering fields for floor, and sunrise and midnight sun for the chandelier. "Who laid the corner-stone thereof, when the morning stars sang together?"

The fact is that the whole universe is a complete canvas, an unbroken dithyramb, a musical symphony. The great sheet of immensity had been spread out, and written on it were the stars, the smaller of them minims, the larger of them minims, the meteors marked the staccato passages, the whole heaven a gamut with all sounds, intonations, modulations, the space between the worlds a musical interval, trembling of stellar light a quaver, the thunder a bass cleft, the glimmer among trees a treble cleft. That is the way God made all things a perfect harmony.

The human intellect out of tune; the judgment wrongly swayed or the memory leaky or the will weak or the temper inflamed, the well-balanced mind exceptional.

Domestic life out of tune; only here and there a conjugal outbreak of incompatibility of temper through the divorce courts, or a filial outbreak about a father's will through the surrogate's office, or a case of wife murder or husband-poisoning through the criminal courts, but thousands of families with June marriages and January divorces.

Society out of tune; labor and capital, their hands on each other's throat, Spirit of caste keeping those down in the social scale who are struggling to get up, a putting those who are up in society lest they have some law. No wonder the old pianoforte of society is all out of tune, when hypocrisy and lying, and subterfuge, and double-dealing, and sycophancy, and charlatanism, and revenge, have for six thousand years been banging away at the keys and stamping the pedals.

On all sides there is a shipwreck of nations in discord and confusion; it is the feeling of nation for nation that symbolizes chosen are fierce and destructive, it is the feeling of nation for nation that symbolizes chosen are fierce and destructive, it is the feeling of nation for nation that symbolizes chosen are fierce and destructive.

Tartini, the great musical composer, dreamed one night that he made a contract with Satan, who was to be ever his employer's servant. But one night he heeded to Satan a violin, on which Diabolus played such sweet music that the composer was awakened by the emotion and tried to reproduce the sounds, and therefrom was written Tartini's most famous piece, "The Devil's Sonata," a dream ingenious, but faulty, for a melody descends from heaven and only grows ascend from hell. All hatreds, fends, contravertes, backbitings, and revenges are the devil's sonata, are diabolic fugues, are diabolic phantasies, are grand marches of doom, are allegros of perdition.

But the worst of all discord is moral discord. If society and the world are painfully discordant to imperfect man, what must they be to a perfect God? People try to define what sin is. It seems to me that sin is getting out of harmony with God, a disagreement with his law, a sinning against him, with his love, with his commands, or will clashing with his will, the finite frail against the infinite, the frail against the puissant, the created against the Creator. If a thousand musicians, with flute and cornet-piston, trumpet, and violoncello, the hautboy, and trombone, and all the wind and stringed instruments that ever existed in a Duesler's fabrick should resolve that they would play out of tune, and put concord to the rack, and make the place wild with shrieking and grating and rasping sounds, they could not make a more fatal symphony than that which ranges in a sinful soul when God listens to the play of its thoughts, passions, and emotion—discord, heaving discord, maddening discord.

In order the chorists had a tuning fork with two prongs, and they would strike it on the back of pew or music rack, and put it to the ear, and then start the tune, and all the other voices would join. In modern orchestra the leader has a complete instrument most rightly attuned, and he sounds

A COLONY OF CATS.

COLLECTION OF NAMES THAT IS UNIQUE AND APPROPRIATE.

Happy Family with a Pissant House—But the Mistress Thinks She Has 'You Many Tabbies for One Household—Feline Traits.

WENTY-FIVE cats and kittens are a goodly number, but at the time of which we write, says Harriette Rice in the Boston Transcript, they could all be counted upon a farm within a radius of six miles from Lowell.

The fields are wide, the barn is large, the mice are plenty and the birds and squirrels, in spite of such a picket force, are content to abide in the pleasant spot.

Two or three original cats were the foundation of this settlement. The farmer, a very kind-hearted man, saw a cat and looking out upon the world with wide-open eyes, was watched, for all the family were interested, until some trait was developed that might suggest a name, and a peculiarity of distinctive quality was claimed to appear.

There was Signor, lofty and high-stepping; Nancy, more common in her taste; Poppin and Pewee, who never showed normal growth; Gibbles, a member named Dorothy, who ate and eat nothing unless a portion was saved for her; two little brothers, so intimate that they were called Jimmy Blue and Jimmy Black; Dexter and Motley Ann; and several mice, who seemed to have been unadvisedly left by the roadside. He came mewing to the door on a dark night, was taken in the house, and on account of his amiability, he was named Dolly, Dolly, Dolly. There were Richard and Thomas; Tony, so distinguished because she was disposed to stray off her haunch and attend strictly to her own games; and finally, for his light-colored coat and his vanity; Pop and Poozer, whose playful spirit extended to old age. There was dear old Kitty, a great pet in the family, and a man member named Scroggie. There was Salina, Duffy, Princess and Signib, Skippy Jim was a notorious runner. Bounce and Betty were always good-natured, Jeremiah wailed with a loud, harsh cry, and was named because of his handsome and fascinating; Isaac and Rebecca were fond of lapping water from a dish by the well. Among such a host of names it is not strange if the cat member named Scroggie, there is a story that he was named because of his amiability, he was named Dolly, Dolly, Dolly.
