SENATOR HARDING TO VISIT TEXAS

Point Isbell, Nov. 3.—Lying eight miles north of the Rio Grande, on the Laguna Madre, an arm of the Gulf of Mexico, Point Isabel, chosen by Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican President-elect, as his resting place after the arduous presidential campaign, is one of the oldest and quaintest towns of the gulf coast. Point Isabel's population is about 400 and with a few exceptions all are Mexicans who obtain their livelihood by fishing and raising goats. The town up to fifteen years ago was a regular port, big steamers calling there regularly for more than forty years, but when railroads entered this country in 1904 it was abandoned as a port of call and since has lain dormant. Point Isbell points with pride to one thing only its United States radio station. It has a lighthouse, a United States coast guard station nearby, splendid surf beaches and what is declared to be the finest duck shooting on the gulf coast. The town is connected with civilization via Brownsville by a little narrow gauge railroad, the rolling stock of which has been doing duty since 1870. Point Isbell obtains its water from nearby water works and from Brownsville, and water boys deliver it in barrels, to which are hitched little burros which uncomplainingly drag these barrels through the streets day in and day out. R. B. Creager, of Brownsville, twenty-five miles from here, who seconded Senator Harding's nomination at the Chicago convention, is responsible for the President-elect coming here to spend his vacation. Mr. Creager, a close personal friend of Senator Harding, exacted a promise from the senator months ago that he would visit Point Isabel for his post-election vacation. Mr. Creager owns a summer cottage here, where his guests will probably spend most of their time in this section.

REPUBLICANS WILL CONTROL CONGRESS

Washington, Nov. 3.—Information given at the Washington headquarters of the Republican committee tonight advances the claim that the party will have a majority of twelve in the Senate, 115 in the House of Representatives, the largest majority in the history of Congress. The Republicans have gained one district in Texas, that of the Fourteenth, where H. M. Wurzbach of Seguin, the Republican nominee, has defeated Carlos Bee, (Dem.) brother-in-law of the Postmaster General. A telegram of Wurzbach to the Republican committee tonight declared that he had carried the district by 5,000. Behind Bee's opponent was the combined strength of the Republican and American organizations. This will be the third time in the history of Texas that a Republican has represented the San Antonio district. Edward Degener of San Antonio, represented it as Republican in the Forty-first Congress, and George H. Noonan as a Republican in the Fifty-fourth. The country and political managers have come to look upon Texas as about the most hopeless Democratic State in the American Union, and were astounded to learn that five Republicans and one Independent have been elected to the House of Representatives, James W. Flannagan of Wallis Ferry, father of Gen. Webster Flannagan, was a Republican senator from February 22, 1870, to March 3, 1873, and Morgan C. Hamilton of Austin served as Republican Senator from March 31, 1870, to March 3, 1877. The Republican members of the House were: George W. Whitmore, Tyler Forty-first Congress; William T. Clark, Galveston, Forty-second Congress; Edward Degener, San Antonio, Forty-first Congress; George H. Noonan, San Antonio, Fifty-fourth Congress; R. B. Hawley, Galveston, Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses; Thomas H. Ochiltree, who achieved

23 INJURED IN HEAD-ON SMASH AT BRECKWALKER

Breckenridge, Nov. 6.—Twenty-three persons were injured in a head-on collision last night at Breckwalker, between the northbound passenger train and a southbound freight on the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Fort Worth line. The injured are: Miss Nellie C. Randol, Mrs. I. W. Lotton and three children, Mrs. J. J. Ceteron, R. Pappjohn, his wife and two children, Eva and Junior, George Lane, Anastasio Diaz, Mrs. S. Hozie, Miss Edna Baker, P. J. Snell, Angelus Bejanes, C. Dastos, Miss Gertrude Jones and Charley Woods, all of Breckenridge. Four negroes, Rosa Hinkle, Mattie Ferguson, Alberta Reese and Jess Ware, all of Ranger. Drs. G. M. Kessler, G. C. Wood, D. A. Swinney and S. L. Smith of Breckenridge, were hastily summoned and left on a special train from here and administered first aid to the injured at Breckwalker and brought them back on the regular train. All the injured were taken to the local emergency hospital, where they are being treated. There are no serious injuries and very few minor fractures. Most of the hurts were of the spine and hips and minor cuts and bruises. It is reported at the hospital that all patients are now resting easy, and will recover.

POLITICAL SABOTAGE NOT WANTED

Governor Cox voices his hope of all true Americans when he says that the Democrats should not become obstructionists in Congress. "For the first time in ten years," he says, "the Republican party is in complete control of the legislative and executive branches of the National Government, therefore policy as to statutes and administration is with it. Its task is no longer that of the critic but the constructor. It is my hope and firm belief that the Democracy of the Nation will not attempt political sabotage." It is a happy phrase and puts the situation in a nutshell. It would be "political sabotage" for the Democrats in Congress to follow a course during the next two years of obstruction. We have had two years of delay in the work of reconstruction because the Republicans in Congress have followed a policy of political sabotage. The fact that it was successful in bringing about Republican success does not change the fact that it has done untold injury to the country. The delay was blamed upon the executive department of the Government by the unthinking, which was precisely what the Republican politicians intended should happen, but that object lesson would not justify such a course on the part of the Democrats. There already appear signs that the Republicans will have some sabotage in their own ranks. This should supply the Democrats with their opportunity. Instead of yielding to the temptation to aggravate the situation by encouraging insurgents in Republican councils, it will be the part of patriotism for the Democrats to co-operate wisely with the Republican majority to solve the problems of reconstruction which the country faces. Leave the sabotage to the Republican malcontents and give the country a demonstration of disinterested service, free from all taint of politics.—Star-Telegram.

FARM POULTRY

LARGE INFLUENCE OF MALES

Selection of Roosters to Increase Egg Production is Urged by Poultry Specialists.

Although poultry experts have long advocated culling non-producing hens, poultry workers at the College of Agriculture at Ithaca now advise the selection of roosters to increase egg production, according to an article in the Cornell Countrymen. From experiments extending back for more than a year, it has been demonstrated that it is possible to determine from appearances the males which are most likely to produce the best-paying hens.

The difference in the appearance of males is comparable to the difference in the rate of growth and the intensity with which hens lay, according to the college. Some hens can lay an egg once in every 24 hours; others are not able to produce an egg oftener than once in 48 hours, although both have the same care and feed. If one hen can lay faster than another, it indicates that she can digest large amounts of feed quickly. The experiments at this point determine also the value of males as foundations of high-producing flocks.

The Cornell workers measured several lots of males a year ago, and by observing the records of the offspring, they say that they can tell from the appearance of the rooster whether his daughters will be good layers. Members of the college staff think the results of these experiments will have as much value in developing efficient poultry flocks as the original discovery that it was possible to determine by appearance which hens were laying.

A rooster to father egg-laying offspring should grow rapidly and mature quickly. He should appear deep bodied and short legged, full in breast and abdomen with a flat, wide back. His head should be moderately short, set on a large full neck, and with prominent eyes. A good male for breeding is friendly, courageous and proud of himself, calling attention to his pride by frequent crowing.

MAKE HEN FLOCK PROFITABLE

With Possible Exception of Leghorns Fowls Over Two Years Old Do Not Pay to Keep.

It seldom pays to keep hens for laying after they are two and one-half years old. This may not be true of Leghorns but is generally so of most other breeds. Hens older than this may return some profit but younger hens will return greater profits. In this day of high-priced feed, culling will make poultry more profitable.

VARIETY OF FEED ESSENTIAL

Every Flock of Hens Must Be Supplied With Necessary Material to Manufacture Eggs.

Every flock of hens is an egg factory. Like any other factory the flock can be given the best materials in the world to work on and still fail to produce enough to pay for running the plant. Good feed in sufficient variety is necessary for egg production, but the ability to manufacture eggs from feed must be there first.

COLONY HOUSE IS PREFERRED

Give Poultryman Chance to Raise His Fowls Under Ideal Conditions—Must Keep Clean.

Colony houses on free range give the poultryman a chance to raise his birds under ideal conditions. But the same sanitary precautions must be taken as with laying houses. The small houses must be frequently cleaned and sprayed and the roosts painted with kerosene or some like paint to keep down the red mites.

NO PROFIT IN POOR LAYERS

Unprofitable Producers Should Be Cut Out to Save High-Priced Feed and Labor.

It pays to cull out the poor layers any time, to save the feed and labor they cost, but to make a profit on them it is best to cull in late summer or early fall, before the rush of spring chickens lowers the market price of old hens.

FLEA EMBALMED IN HONEY ALL THE TIME HE WANTED

Little Insect Pest Found Which Met Its Fate in Egypt Many Thousands of Years Ago.

It is believed that the earliest food store laid aside for his wants by man, and which is still in existence, is a jar of honey found in an Egyptian tomb, and probably placed there for the sustenance of the dead during the journey across the Stygian river, says the American Forestry Magazine. When found, the honey had changed into a very dry candy and it had lost its sweetness, though it could still be identified as honey.

In the bottom of the jar, well covered with honey, was a dead flea of precisely the same sort as those which plague Egypt to this day. Apparently, the insect had hopped into the jar while the last rites over the dead were being observed, and when the jar was corked, the little fellow was shut up within, and, like the true patriot, he probably would have declared that death was sweet. Anyway, he sank to the bottom while the honey was still soft, and there the archeologists found him after a good many thousands of years.

A Cleveland man with business interests in Illinois tells of an incident at a railway junction in that state. He was hungry and it was only two minutes before the departure of his train.

"My friend," said the man behind the counter, "take all the time you want. Just cast your eye over this menu and I'll telephone the superintendent to hold the train a while."
"Do you mean to say that he will actually hold the train while I eat?"
"Sure, friend. This is a branch road, and there's no other train coming or going over it this morning. The superintendent will wait you to have a good meal—he owns this lunch-room."

While Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, the annoying symptoms which accompany it may be controlled, and normal health restored by the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Moreover this reliable remedy contains no narcotics or harmful drugs and owes its efficiency to the medicinal extractives of the native roots and herbs which it contains.

Gross Ignorance.

A Pittsburgh lawyer was conducting a case in court not long ago and one of the witnesses, a burly negro, confessed that at the time of his arrest he was engaged in a craps game. Immediately the lawyer said: “Now, sir, I want you to tell the jury just how you deal craps.”

“Wass dat?” asked the witness, rolling his eyes.

“Address the jury, sir!” thundered the lawyer, “and tell them just how you deal craps.”

“Lemme outen heah!” cried the witness, uneasily. “Fust thing I know this pen-ten gwine to ask me how to drink a sandwich.”—Boston Transcript.

Don't Go From Bad to Worse!

Are you always weak, miserable and half-dead? Then it's time you found out what is wrong. Kidney weakness causes much suffering from backache, lameness, stiffness and rheumatic pains, and if neglected, brings danger of serious troubles—dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease. Don't delay. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. Y. L. Southard, 1422 Garland Ave., Texarkana, Tex., says: “I had a bad attack of kidney trouble. I had pains in the small of my back and suffered from headaches and dizziness. I was advised to use Doan's Kidney Pills and after taking the second box the pains and aches were gone and I have never been troubled since.”

BIG ULCER ALL HEALED

“Here is another letter that makes me happy,” says Peterson, of Buffalo. “One that I could read over to a thousand dollars.”

“Money isn't everything in this world. There is many a big hearted, rich man who would give all he has on earth to be able to produce a remedy with such mighty healing power as Peterson's Ointment, to sell at all drug stores for 50 cents a large box.”

Dear Sirs—
“I was an untold sufferer from old running sore and ulcers. I had tried most everything without any relief from pain. A friend told me of your wonderful ointment and the first box took away the pain that had not left me before in years, and after using just nine dollars' worth of the salve I am cured. The ulcer was 3 inches by 5/8 inches, is all healed and I can walk. Never, never will I be without Peterson's again.”

“You may use this to recommend your ointment, if you wish. I cannot say enough to praise it.” Yours truly Mrs. Albert Southcott, Medina, N. Y. Mail orders filled by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.

Highway Improvement

NEED FOR BETTER HIGHWAYS

Freight Congestion on Railroads Has Emphasized Importance of Our Country Roads.

We are being treated to a demonstration of what happens when the arteries of commerce become diseased, congested and run down. The lack of adequate transportation facilities on the railroads of this country mounts into the millions of dollars in the delays that are occasioned. Our railway system, like our agricultural methods, have grown up so gradually, keeping abreast, even ahead of the demands of commerce, we have come to look upon them as a matter of course. But the even balance between transportation facilities and demands of commerce is easily upset, as the experience of the past few months has demonstrated.

Our railroad system needs rehabilitation. But along with the improvements of the railroads there is great need for a material improvement throughout the land. Over the country roads move the raw materials that go to make up a vast proportion of the tonnage carried by the railroads. The present freight congestion has emphasized the importance of the country road. It has proved the value of hard surface roads as passageways for freight carried in motortrucks and automobiles.

Much relief for the railroads has come through the immense tonnage that has moved this summer on motor trucks. A greater tonnage would undoubtedly have moved in the same manner if our highway system had been fit. The time has come when the mileage of concrete, brick or other hard-surfaced roads must extend in an ever-increasing network until the remotest parts of the country can have the advantage of quick transportation every day of the year in a motor vehicle.—American Fruit Grower.

ROCK FOR HIGHWAY BUILDING

First Systematic Efforts to Determine Value Were Made in French Laboratory in 1878.

The first systematic attempts to determine the value of rock for road building purposes by means of laboratory tests were made in France, where in 1878 a road materials laboratory was founded in the French School of Bridges and Roads. Here the Deval abrasion test was adopted, and this test with slight modification has been accepted as standard throughout the United States. The test is named from its inventor. It was first used in connection with contract work in the city of Paris. Many valuable data were collected in this laboratory on the hardness and toughness of rock, and tests for these properties were developed which were, in principle, the same as those in use today.

ARGUMENT FOR GOOD ROADS

Judgment Rendered Against County Because Culvert Was Obscured by Weed Patch.

An argument for good roads that carries with it a sharp punch in the way of a substantial judgment for damages is disclosed in a recent decision of the supreme court of Wisconsin. In this case it appears that when a machine went out of the traffic path of an old-fashioned country road for the purpose of letting a tractor pass it struck the cement curbing at the end of a culvert which crossed the road at this point. Being covered with weeds the obstruction was not seen until the accident occurred. The county was held liable in damages for the accident.

USING CONCRETE FOR ROADS

Building Going on at Rate of Mile a Week With Equipment of Michigan Contractor.

With the ever-increasing interest in the necessity of building good roads there comes the effort to build them good and fast. With the special equipment that a Michigan contractor is using concrete roads are constructed at the rate of a mile a week.

WHAT YOU WILL IN NEGLIGEEES

“ANYTHING you will” appears to be the latitude given fair women this season in the choice of negligees. They are here in supple silks and in transparent fabrics following many paths in the quest of style and drawing inspirations from many lands. One has to look twice at some of them in order to decide whether they are really meant for indoor wear or are colorful extravaganzas in evening coats. They are made on lines familiar to us in wraps for evening wear. There are others of airy materials—lace, chiffon and georgette—that are suited to the tropical air of steam-heated homes or the lands of perpetual summer and there are many attractive but simpler models in cotton crepe that are destined to give more general satisfaction than their fancier rivals. The wraplike negligee which has been selected for illustration is beautiful and practical. It is made of two colors, in satin which forms the lining as well as the wrap and may be interlined if one must depend on it as a protection against chill. It is very handsome in high blue, with rose-colored lining, but there are any number of beautiful color combinations in which it may be made. The lining forms the superposed collar and appears in the turned-back front. Such a negligee is useful on a journey for the sleeping car and in hotels and is especially easy to get into as only two fastenings are required to hold it in place. The draping is unusual and the management of the sleeves original and interesting. In them and in the soft and heavily padded cord about the bottom the designer pays tribute to Japan, but otherwise this negligee does not suggest a kimono.

RIVALS IN TINY GIRL'S GARB

HERE are two garments designed for the little girl of three or more years, that have everything to recommend them, which means that they are sturdy, good looking, easily made and laundered and up-to-date in style. They are rivals; for one is a frock similar to those worn by little maids for generations, and the other is a very modern example of a pair of rompers. Their very name proclaims the emancipation of small girls from the tradition of skirts.

In passing it is worth noting that bloomers have replaced petticoats for wear under the frocks of little girls, in all their everyday garb. They are gaining in favor for older girls and for grownups, giving greater freedom in walking. Rompers serve as a combination of dress and bloomers, a two-in-one arrangement that saves in sewing, in material and in laundry work.

For the dress pictured, chambray, gingham, cotton poplin or any of the strong cotton goods will prove appropriate. It could hardly be more simply made, being merely a full, straight skirt slipped onto the narrowest of yokes, a mere band of the chambray with flat shoulder straps attached and a decorated braid applied to it. The skirt is cut long enough to turn up in a very deep hem, bordered with the fancy braid. Place is made in the hem for two real pockets, much to the delight of little wearers, who always dote on pockets. There is a bow of chambray, bordered with braid, placed purely for ornament and having no other use whatever, thus proclaiming that the frock is intensely feminine, and furthermore the underbodice is made of dainty white batiste. The braid used for trimming reveals many scampering rabbits woven in colors on it. Life is one perpetual round of joy when one owns frocks like this to put on of an afternoon, or to wear to school. The bloomers illustrated are made of light checked gingham and finished with white embroidered bands in a fairly heavy quality. They are very full and flare out at each side like a dancer's frock. There is a plain belt around the waist with flat pearl buttons on it. This particular pair of rompers is in pink and white checked gingham. Only the simplest of designs in embroidery are to be chosen for rompers. Very simple hand needlework, on clothes for little folks, is still in great demand, but machine-made trimming does very well, as the two examples pictured will prove.

FOUND CARDUI GREAT BENEFIT

South Carolina Lady Suffered Until She Couldn't Stay Up or Go Anywhere—Tells How Cardui Helped Her Get Well.

Batesburg, S. C.—In telling how she found relief from troubles that had caused her much suffering, Mrs. E. E. Oswalt, of this place, says: “Each month I would begin to suffer with my back and head. My limbs would ache and I would shiver. I wouldn't be able to stand up, no matter what I wanted to do, or where I wanted to go. My people tried giving me different medicines and teas and tonics, yet I didn't get any better. “Some one told me of Cardui, and I began to take it. I noticed it helped me. I kept it up. After a few months I didn't have any trouble. For about six months I used it, before . . . “I found I was all right, and from that day to this have never had any trouble at this time. I have taken it since, a bottle or two in the winter, especially when I have been exposed, and would take a cold, for I consider it the best thing a woman can take to tone up the system, keep off nervousness, and increase the appetite. I certainly know it has been of great benefit to me.”

If you are weak, nervous, or suffer from womanly troubles such as Mrs. Oswalt mentions, take Cardui, the Woman's Tonic. All good druggists sell Cardui.—Adv.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Adv.

“Spare” in Readiness.
A little girl was on a ferryboat with her mother. Evidently being the first time she was on a boat, she looked around and took everything in. Her mother questioned her as to how she liked the boat, upon which she replied: “I think it very nice, and I am glad they carry a ‘spare,’” pointing to a life buoy.

About all the use some men have for the golden rule is to measure the conduct of others.

A SOFT, VELVETY SKIN

should be the ambition of every woman as there is nothing so attractive as a fair, smooth skin. Neither soaps nor powders can give this. Thousands of southern women know from experience that Tetterine will quickly rid the skin of its disfiguring pimples and blotches and give it that bright clear appearance so much admired. Tetterine is sold by druggists or sent by mail for 50c. by Shuprine Co., Savannah, Ga.—Adv.

New Ulm woman writes that Ware's Black Powder gave prompt relief after other remedies failed.

So writes Paula Wotjha of New Ulm, Texas, on May 11th, 1925. PUBLIC HEALTH CAMPAIGN

Austin, Nov. 8.—One hundred and ninety thousand dollars will be available in 1921 for the fight against tuberculosis and other preventable diseases by the Texas Public Health Association and its affiliated organizations over the State, if the Texas quota is reached in the 1920 Christmas seal sale. This announcement was made by D. E. Breed, executive secretary of the Association.

Of the quota of $200,000 to be raised in Texas, 95 per cent will remain in Texas to better health conditions here, while the other five per cent will go to the National Tuberculosis Association to carry on its extensive anti-tuberculosis work all over the United States. The other $190,000 will be used to wage the Texas war against the "white plague."

"Every county in the State will be given the opportunity to purchase the little seals of good health," said J. W. Butler, of Galveston, chairman of the Texas Christmas seal sale committee. "Chairmen have been secured in nearly every large county of the State to sell the Christmas seals, and we hope to complete the organization of many more counties before the opening of the seal sale on December 1st. Seals will be mailed out into the few remaining counties which are not organized, so that people all over the State will be given the opportunity to help in health work, and to place the little seals on their holiday mail."

TEXAS REMAINS IN DEMOCRATIC COLUMN

While the returns are very incomplete as we go to press it is certain that Texas remains overwhelmingly Democratic. From the press it appears that Carlos Bee of San Antonio, has been defeated by a Republican and in a few instances some minor offices may be filled by Republicans, but the State has not yet departed from its custom of rolling up a big Democratic majority.

The Democratic nominee, Hon. Pat M. Neff of Waco, has been elected by a large majority and all State officers received large majorities. The returns are coming in so slowly that we are not able to give the vote received by the different candidates.

The vote in Young county was not as large as was expected as the weather was fine for farm labor and the farmers preferred to remain on the farm and sow wheat and rather their crops. The county went Democratic.

A fuller account of the election will be given in our next issue.

SECRETARY TO HARDING WILL KEEP OFFICE

Marion, Ohio, Nov. 5.—George B. Christian, one time Democrat, six years secretary to Senator Harding and an intimate friend of the Hardings, will be the President's secretary after March 4, 1921, it was learned from an authoritative source yesterday. Public announcement of Christian's appointment will not be made for several weeks, but it is known the Senator does not consider making a change and will follow the practice of most incoming Presidents of retaining their secretaries.

Before going to Senator Harding Christian was in the limestone business at Marion and the Harding and Christian families have been intimate friends for many years.

Until there arose in Marion a new political party known as Harding Democrats, Christian, too, was a Wright Democrat, like his father before him. He was assistant clerk and called the roll of delegates at the Democratic national convention that nominated President Wilson in 1912 at Baltimore. For many years he was next door neighbor to Senator Harding, living in the house which he turned over in July for use as the Harding campaign headquarters.

DALLAS LAWYER ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE

Dallas, Nov. 2.—Allan Charlton, prominent Dallas attorney, was acquitted by a jury here today of the charge of murder in connection with the shooting to death last June 23 of Charles Eubank, local business man.

The jury, which had deliberated about twelve hours brought in its verdict of not guilty shortly after 10 o'clock today. The case went on trial Monday of last week.

Eubank was shot and killed in his office in a downtown building early in the morning of June 23. Charlton, testifying in his own behalf during the trial, said his life had been threatened by Eubank the day before the shooting because "Charlton had filed a suit to collect attorney's fees due the defendant."

On June 23 Charlton said he entered Eubank's office to obtain papers from a safe used by occupants of the building. Eubank protested against his entering the office, Charlton testified, and in the ensuing quarrel, Eubank opened a drawer of a desk. The defendant said he began shooting because he believed Eubank opened the drawer to get a gun.

The case attracted wide attention due to the prominence of the parties involved.

DEFEAT NOT EXPECTED TO BE DISASTROUS TO WILSON

Washington, Nov. 2.—Aside from the actual result of the election, perhaps nothing has been given greater concern here than the possible effect upon President Wilson of an adverse verdict at the polls. The President has always had unbounded confidence in his own judgment of what the American electorate would do and yet many of his friends think he will be greatly disappointed this time. He has had reverses before, as in 1919, but on nothing so close to his heart as is the covenant of the League of Nations.

It has been argued convincingly in the press that the election results will not have indicated anything conclusive about the League, and will only have registered the natural reaction of people against their war government, something that has happened throughout Europe. But nobody in the inner circles of the administration has probably paved the way for today's defeat. So far as is generally known, the President has been continuously optimistic about the outcome.

The true condition of the President is a matter of conjecture. Few people know, though there is the usual amount of rumor about a relapse. The best information the writer has been able to obtain is that the President has been steadily improving and is much better than he was some months ago. Nobody can foresee what the effect of a disappointed may be, but men who know Wilson best are convinced that he will be able to withstand the blow that is sure to come. The President does not read newspapers generally, and it is said that he has not been given any pessimistic reports about the campaign, so the result will come as a shock to him.

Misses Kate and Ethel Johnson are visiting in Fort Worth and while gone will visit their sister at Italy.

BRYAN URGES GIVING HARDING CHAIR AT ONCE

Chicago, Nov. 4.—President-elect Harding should become President as soon as possible. President Wilson's resignation and Harding's appointment as Secretary of State by Vice President Marshall followed by Marshall's resignation in turn should accomplish this, according to a statement made here today by William Jennings Bryan.

"Mr. Wilson should resign at once," Bryan said. "Then Mr. Marshall as soon as Congress convenes, should name Mr. Harding as Secretary of State and himself resign so that Mr. Harding may become President at the earliest possible moment and carry through a definite plan for peace."

Bryan arrived in Chicago to speak in Oak Park this evening.

BAILEY SUITS AGAINST NEWSPAPERS DISMISSED

Tested Eighteen Months to Prove Perfection
TWO years ago a puncture-proof cord tire was unheard of.
 Many experts believed the final development in pneumatic tire-making had been reached with the production of a Fabric puncture-proof—the only one, the LEE.
 Motorists naturally looked to LEE for a puncture-proof cord.
 LEE has succeeded in building such a tire. It has all the economy and resilience of the best cord tires. It practically eliminates blowouts, tread separation, broken sidewalls and other common tire troubles. And it is positively puncture-proof!
 For 18 months this tire was cruelly tested before being offered to the public. It rode as lightly and as smoothly as a cord without the puncture-proof feature. It was as economical on fuel and oil. It was easier on tubes. And—it outlasted cord tires that were not puncture-proof!
 Let us demonstrate the economy of the new LEE CORD PUNCTURE-PROOF.

G. O. P. INCREASES HOUSE MAJORITY

New York, Nov. 3.—Republican control of Congress for another two years with an increased House majority and a prospective increase in the Senate, was a major part of the election sweep.

A net gain of twenty votes in the House was shown with complete reversals from only seventeen States, but with most of the Democratic strongholds reporting.

Eight of the fifteen Republican Senatorial candidates had come in winners today, the seven others had substantial leads, while in ten other States all of the Republican entrants were reported in the van.

For the nineteen Democratic seats, nine of the minority party had been returned winners—all from Southern States—while in the border and Western States the others were fighting an uphill battle.

That the general Republican landslide would seat several more Republican Senators was predicted confidently by Republican campaign managers, whose claims included a majority of eight to ten in the next Senate.

Both the Republican presidential and senatorial tickets were reported early today as ahead in California, Nevada, Missouri, Colorado, South Dakota, Idaho, Ohio and Washington. In Ohio, former Governor Frank B. Willis, who nominated Senator Harding at the Chicago convention, was reported in the lead.

Of the Democrats, Senators Underwood of Alabama, minority leader, was re-elected and Representative Heflin chosen to succeed the late Senator Bankhead. A new face in the Senate on the Democratic side will be Representative Caraway of Arkansas, who defeated Senator Kirby in the primaries and was elected yesterday.

REPUBLICANS WIN IN LANDSLIDE; SENATOR HARDING NEXT PRESIDENT

Victor Asserts That 'It Is An Expression of Confident Americanism'

TEXAS POLLS A HEAVY VOTE

Majorities Run Five to One On Returns So Far Tabulated Two Amendments Win

New York—It is conceded by the most conservative that Warren G. Harding, republican will have upward of 329 votes in the electoral college, which makes him an easy victor of his democratic opponent James A. Cox. From the very start, the republican candidate took the lead; and as returns came in this lead was not only retained out the doubtful states continued to fall to the republican column, adding to the total, and making it a veritable landslide.

With actual returns far from complete, yet it can be said the republican standard bearers are running true to form and that delayed returns will only add to their victory.

On the receipt of late returns showing the growing landslide for Harding, Governor Cox's own newspaper, the Dayton Daily News, and Chairman White of the democratic national committee, conceded the election of Senator Harding. Without waiting for returns from the west, which four years ago elected Wilson in the face of pluralities for Hughes throughout the east, the democratic candidate and his chief manager conceded the election of Senator Harding.

The women's vote swelled the totals to unprecedented proportions and made the democratic defeat appear all the more overwhelming.

Harding, when he assumes the presidency March 4, 1921, will go into office with a senate and house of representatives republican by wide margins.

Defeat in their fight both for the presidency and congress was conceded early by democratic national leaders on the basis of the crushing republican vote.

With the presidency and congress went loss to the democrats of governors state legislatures and other state and local candidates. The break even threatened to extend into the border states hitherto "solid south," with republican gains in some southern states larger than any since the civil war.

The republican congressional swing was as strong, increased majorities in both senate and house being marked up.

The league of nation issue was stressed by Senator Borah of Idaho, prominent among the league's foes, in a statement declaring he regarded the election as "the triumph for nationalism and the death of the League of Nations."

Governor Cox, who was in his newspaper office when the concession to Senator Harding was published, said he would issue a statement later.

Senator Harding at his home in Marion said he was "more given to prayer to God to make me capable of playing my part" than he was to exultation.

Eugene Debs, the socialist candidate, received the returns in Atlanta penitentiary.

Harding's Statement

Marion, Ohio.—Convinced by early returns of his election to the presidency, Warren G. Harding issued a statement saying that instead of being exultant over the result he was "more given to prayer to God to make me capable of playing my part."

Receiving the election returns at his home here, Mr. Harding declined during the early evening to make any comment, and issued his statement only after the figures had filled up majorities for him which his advisers declared made his election certain.

At the same time, it became known that the senator and Mrs. Harding had made plans for a vacation trip, to be carried out regardless of the result of the election, taking them for a rest next week in Texas and after that for an ocean voyage to the Panama Canal Zone. They will return to Marion during early December.

The senator's statement follows: "Assuming that the early returns are wholly dependable, I do not hesitate to say that I am pleased of course. I am happy to utter my gratitude. But I am not exultant. It is not a personal victory. It is a renewed expression of confident Americanism and a national call to the republican party."

"It is all so serious, the obligations are so solemn that instead of exulting I am more given to prayer to God to make me capable of playing my part and that all these calls to responsibility may meet the aspirations and expectations of America and the world."

"I am sure, the people who have voted the republican ticket will understand my feelings that I should make no unstudied statement of policies at this time, beyond the expression made throughout the campaign."

Coincident with the senator's statement Harry M. Daugherty, a member of the republican campaign committee, made this statement: "It is the greatest victory in American politics, clearly foreshadowed and predicted. It is more than a partisan victory, as the result was contributed to by millions of democrats. The women of the nation have quickly vindicated the conferring of the suffrage privilege, as they sensed correctly the issues and rallied to the cause of America and American institutions. The republican party is fully conscious of the great responsibility immediately implied in this popular verdict and will faithfully keep its obligations."

"The senator's trip to Texas will begin Friday night or Saturday morning and Mr. Harding will arrive at Point Isabel, Texas, near Brownsville, next Monday. He plans to spend about 12 days there and then leave for Panama by way of New Orleans."

Chairman White's statement New York.—Chairman White of the democratic national committee has conceded Harding's election. Mr. White said: "The abandonment by some of the most prominent leaders of the league of nations which they helped to construct has been successful. The people have succumbed to the confusion brought by these distinguished men and to the misrepresentation of those who would not and did not understand the league of nations. I hope it may be rescued from the political morass and be saved to mankind."

"No one has any occasion for bitterness or recrimination. What the whole people decide the whole people must accept. The democrats abide by the result cheerfully, if with forboding. Senator Harding is the people's president."

"In the election republican propaganda has been shrewdly directed to induce the descendants of six European nations to vote as one American nation. They have inveigled these Americans to vote with their thoughts across the sea instead of on this country. Our common task must be to coalesce these groups again."

"The fate of Irish freedom has been settled adversely. Men and women of Irish blood have voted for the candidate who has declared the Irish question to be a domestic problem of Great Britain; in which we can have no official concern. With their support the American people have returned their Irish problem to Dowling street. They have endorsed, I am sad to say, a separate peace with Germany."

"For the first time in eight years the republican party is face to face with the task of constructive legislation, and more than that, the measures of reconstruction for which the country has been asking a republican congress for two years is vain. They must change a negative record into a positive, and in this task they have the best wishes of all who love their country."

"As the national chairman of a party which is and has always been for America first, I have sent messages of congratulation to Senator Harding, Governor Coolidge and Mr. Hays. I wish them success."

Anti-Japanese Program Wins

San Francisco, Cal.—Returns show the California anti-Japanese program was carrying the state almost 3 to 1. The measure extends the present anti-alien land law, which forbids aliens not eligible to citizenship holding land titles so as to prevent them holding land by lease, through corporations or as guardians for minors.

Big Vote in Texas

Dallas.—With the exception of the fourteenth congressional district, the democrats of Texas elected a full state, district and congressional ticket. The 14th congressional district has gone republican, Harry Wurzbach, leading Carlos Bee by a fairly large majority.

Dallas.—Democratic majorities of more than a five to one vote over the republican candidates are indicated in the election held Tuesday.

Running true to form, the democrats made a clean sweep of all state offices and probably of all congressional places, with the one possible exception of district 14, the San Antonio district, in which a very close race has developed between Congressman Carlos Bee, democrat, and Henry Wurzbach of Seguin, republican.

Two of the three proposed constitutional amendments have carried, being the city tax rate and the educational tax limit amendments. The compensation amendment, designed to give the legislature power to abolish the fee system, and also to fix the salaries of compensation of all state, district, county and precinct offices, has probably been defeated, although returns so far show a very close race with a slight lead in favor of the amendment. However, the returns so far are mostly from the cities and the towns and experience in the past has been that whenever early returns show a constitutional amendment has only a narrow margin, later reports, including the rural districts and especially the remote sections, invariably result in its defeat.

Indications are that Texas polled the heaviest general election vote in its history, probably far exceeding the previous record of 544,876 set in the 1896 general election. It also seems certain that the total vote of approximately 450,000 in the two democratic primaries last summer will be far exceeded, although in many previous years the primary vote has exceeded the general election poll.

San Antonio furnished one of the surprises of the election by showing a majority for Harding for president and also for Harry N. Wurzbach of Seguin, candidate for congress, over the democratic nominee and incumbent, Carlos Bee, whose home is in San Antonio. This race is very close.

In Houston, where a mandamus order of the district court let down the bars to all voters, under the ruling that all women should be permitted to vote despite the recent enactment of the legislature, the negroes voted in great numbers especially negro women, and early indications were that the black and tan republican party had a lead in many precincts in the city, with a chance at a majority in the county.

In every section of the state, practically, the voting was the haviest ever known in a general election, and indications are that the total vote will far exceed the record of 544,876 set in the 1896 general election. It also is certain that the total vote for approximately 450,000 in the two democratic primaries during the last summer will be far exceeded, although in many previous years the democratic primaries polled more votes than the ensuing general elections.

The American party failed to show the strength that had been claimed for it, although in some counties, including DeWitt, Fayette, Washington and several others in south Texas, the voting was very heavy and some local offices were reported as likely to go to the American party nominees over the democrats.

In Galveston, the independents failed to make the headway that had been expected for local offices. District Judge Robert G. Street who had been vigorously opposed by the longshoremen and labor radicals, probably is re-elected.

Quinlan, in Hunt county, gave majorities to the democratic electors and to Neff, but all three constitutional amendments were opposed by slight majorities.

The official ballot carried the names of an unusually large number of nominees of other parties opposing the democratic nominees, and also the names of several independent candidates. There has not been in many years, if indeed in the entire history of the state, a time when the democratic nominees for various state and district offices were so generally opposed by other parties.

In the other sixteen congressional districts twelve democratic candidates had opposition, all of the democrats being elected. The districts where the democrats had opposition are: District 2, John C. Box, Jacksonville, incumbent and democratic nominee, elected over George E. H. Myers, American party.

District 4, Congressman Sam T. Rayburn, democrat, re-elected over A. W. Acheson, republican.

District 3, Morgan Sanders of Canton, democrat, elected over J. A. Butler, republican nominee.

District 5, Congressman Hatten W. Summers, Dallas democrat, re-elected over J. O. Burlison, republican.

District 6, Rufus Hardy, Corsicana, democrat, incumbent, re-elected over D. H. Merrill, nominee of the republican, the black and tan republican and the American party.

District 8, D. E. Garrett, democrat, elected over M. H. Broyles, black-tan republican, and J. M. Gibson, American party.

District 10, Congressman J. P. Buchanan, democrat, re-elected over B. G. Neighbors, American party.

District 11, Congressman Tom Connally, democrat, re-elected over W. D. Lewis, American party.

District 12, Fritz G. Lanham, democrat, incumbent, re-elected over S. T. R. Green, black-tan republican, and Sam Davidson, republican.

District 13, Congressman Lucien W. Parish, democrat, re-elected over C. W. Johnson Jr., republican.

District 16, Congressman Claude B. Hudspeith, democrat, re-elected over William C. Easterling, republican.

District 17, Congressman Thomas L. Blanton, re-elected over W. D. Cowan, American party.

The following democratic nominees were elected to congress without opposition: First district, Eugene Black, Texarkana, incumbent; third district, Morgan Sanders, Canton; seventh district, Clay Stone Briggs, Galveston, incumbent; fifteenth district, John N. Garner, Uvalde, incumbent; eighteenth district, Marvin Jones, Amarillo, incumbent.

"HARDING VICTORY," SAYS DAYTON NEWS

Governor Cox's Paper Concedes Election of Republican Nominee.

Dayton, Ohio.—The Dayton Daily News, owned by Governor Cox, the democratic presidential candidate, at 10:15 o'clock Tuesday night went to press with an extra edition conceding the election of Senator Harding, the republican nominee Governor Cox received returns in the Dayton News office.

The newspaper, Wednesday carries election returns under the caption "Republican landslide; Harding wins."

Other than casting his vote early Governor Cox apparently took only a passive interest in the election.

NEGRO CONFESSES TO ACCOUSING A GIRL

Prisoner is Remover from Jail at Arlington to Fort Worth.

Arlington, Texas.—Dispensing a dense crowd of 750 men, women and children who had assembled about the town prison, Sheriff Clark and a party of deputies took Robert Lowe, negro, charged with assault on a 12-year old white girl, in an automobile to Fort Worth.

Lowe was taken in custody here and, according to statements made by Sheriff Clark, admitted that he is the negro who accosted the little girl near the railroad tracks here Monday night. Immediately following his arrest a large crowd of Arlington people assembled about the jail, making demonstrations and discussing the case with a view to taking summary vengeance on the negro. The presence of Sheriff Clark probably deterred them in their intentions.

Shortly after 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon deputy sheriffs Hobson, Parker and Coke arrived in an automobile from Fort Worth, driving up to the jail where they were joined by Sheriff Clark. These officers without delay placed the negro in the automobile and started the machine directly through the crowd.

Webster—Man's Man

By PETER B. KYNE

Author of "Cappy Ricks," "The Valley of the Giants," Etc.

Copyright by Peter B. Kyne

"PLEASE LET ME HEAR FROM YOU."

John Stuart Webster, mining engineer, man's man, 39 years young, boards in Death Valley, California, on his way back to civilization after clean-up $100,000. He is dreaming of cool baths, silk pajamas and ham and eggs. But he looks like a hobo to the porter and the conductor. His way of changing his views gives a hint of the mettle of the man. Then he meets a distressed lady, who makes his heart flap over for the first time in all his days. He eliminates the offending man after the style of the man's man the world over. Being what he is and also gri-shy, he does not take advantage of his opportunity. But he just had to find out who the no-longer-distressed lady is, being determined to hatch up a scheme to meet her again—and marry her. She is Dolores Rues.

Webster struck the upholstery of an adjacent chair a terrific blow with his stick—the effect of which was to cause everybody in the room to start and to conceal Mr. Webster momentarily in a cloud of dust, the while in a bel-lowing baritone he sang:

"His father was a hard-rock miner; Ma comes from my home town—"

"Nonsense! My own brother wants this job, and I have refused to give it to him. Business is business—and I've saved it for you."

Jerome leaned forward and laid his finger confidently on Webster's knee; whereas the light-hearted wanderer carefully lifted the finger, brushed an imaginary speck of dirt from it, and set it down again. "Be serious, you ingrate," Jerome protested. "Listen! I've been working for two years on a consolidation up near Telluride, and I've just put it across. Jack, it's the biggest thing in the country. Colorado Consolidated Mines Company, Limited. English capital, Jack. Pay 'em 6 per cent, and they'll call you blessed. There's twenty-five thousand a year in it, with a house and a good cook and an automobile and a chauffeur, and you can come to town whenever you please, provided you don't neglect the company's interests—and I know you're not that kind of an engineer."

"Do I have to put some money into it, Neddy?"

"Not necessarily, although I should advise it. I can let you in on the ground floor for that hundred thousand of yours, guarantee you a handsome profit and in all probability a big cleanup."

"I feel myself slipping, Neddy. Nevertheless, the tall goes with the hide. I'm not in the habit of asking my friends to guarantee my investments, and if you say it's right, I'll spread what I have left of the hundred thousand when I report for duty."

"It's been a tremendous job getting this consolidation over, Jack. When—"

"In pity's name! Spare me. I've heard all I want to hear about your confounded consolidation. News! News! Give me news! I have to beg for a drink—Mose, you black sninner, how dare you appear before me without bringing a drink!"

Mose, the aged-colored porter of the Engineers' club, flashed a row of ivories and respectfully returned the democratic greeting.

"Letter for you, sah. The secretary told me to give it to you, Mistah Webster."

"Thank you, Mose. Speak up, Neddy, and tell me something. Ever hear anything of Billy Geary?"

He was tearing the edge of the envelope the while he gazed at Jerome, who was rubbing his fat hands together after the fashion of elderly men who are well pleased with themselves.

"You have a chance to become one of the greatest and richest mining engineers in the world, Jack," he answered, "now that you've cut loose from that young crook Geary. I don't know what's become of him, and neither does anybody else. For that matter, nobody cares."

"I do—and you can take the brief end of that bet for your last white chip. Don't let me hear you or anybody else say anything against Billy Geary. That boy goes for my money, every turn in the box. Don't make any mistakes about that, oldtimer."

Webster's face suddenly was serious; the bantering intonation in his voice was gone, and a now, slightly strident note had crept into it. But Jerome waved his hand soothingly.

"All right, old Johnny Pepper-box, have it your own way. Nevertheless, I'm a little mystified. The last I knew of you two, you had testified against him in the high-grade trials at Cripple Creek, and he had pulled out under a cloud, even after his acquittal."

"Give a dog a bad name, and it will stick to him," Webster retorted. "Of course I testified against him. As an engineer for the Mine Owners' association, I had to. The high-grade ore was found in his assay office, and the circumstantial evidence was complete, and I admit Billy was acquitted merely because I and others could not swear positively that the ore came from any certain mine. It was the same old story, Neddy. You can be morally certain that high-grade ore has been stolen from your mine, but unless you catch the ore thief in the act, how can you prove it? I suppose you read the newspaper reports and believed them, just as everybody else does."

"Well, forget it, Jack. It's all over long ago, and forgotten."

"It wasn't all over so long ago as you seem to think. I suppose you knew the Holman gang was afterward sent to the penitentiary for those same high-grade operations? Billy Geary's acquittal didn't end my interest in the case—not by a jugful! I fought the case against the friends of the Holman crew among the mine owners themselves; and it cost me my good job, my prestige as a mining engineer, and thirty thousand dollars of money that I'd slaved to get together. Of course you never knew this, Neddy, and for that matter, neither does Geary. I wish he did. We were good friends once. I certainly was mighty fond of that boy."

He drew the letter from the envelope and slowly opened it.

"And you never heard what became of Geary?"

"Not a word. I was too busy wondering what was to become of me. I couldn't get a job anywhere in Colorado, and I moved to Nevada. Made a million in Goldfield, dropped it in the panic of 1907, and had to start again."

"What have you been doing lately?"

"Borax. Staked a group of claims down in Death valley. Bully ground, Neddy, and I was busted when I located them. Had to borrow money to pay the filing fees and incorporation, and did my own assessment work. Look!" Webster held up his hands, still somewhat grimy and calloused. "The Borax trust knew I was busted, but they never could quite get over the fear that I'd dig up some backing and give them a run—so they bought me out."

"Somebody told me Geary had gone to Rhodesia," Jerome continued mustily, "or maybe it was Capetown. I know he was seen somewhere in South Africa."

"He left the Creek immediately after the conclusion of his trial. Poor boy! That dirty business destroyed the lad and made a tramp of him, I guess. I tell you, Neddy, no two men ever lived who came nearer to loving each other than Billy Geary and his old Jack-partner. We bucked the marts of men and went to sleep together hungry many a time during our five-year partnership. Why, Bill was like my own boy. Jerome, I curse the day I took that boy out from underground and put him in the assay office to learn the business. How could I know that the Holman gang had cached the stuff in his shack?"

"Well, it's too bad," Jerome answered dully. He was quite willing that the subject of conversation should be changed. "I'm glad to get the right dope on the boy, anyhow. Have another drink?"

"Not until I read this letter. Now, who the dickens knew I was headed for Denver and the Engineers' club? I didn't tell a soul, and I only arrived this morning."

He turned to the last page to ascertain the identity of his correspondent, and his facial expression ran the gamut from surprise to a joy that was good to see.

John Stuart Webster read the letter deliberately, after which he sat in silent contemplation of the design of the carpet for fully a minute before reaching for the bell. A servant responded immediately.

"Bring me the time-tables of all roads leading to New Orleans," he ordered. "—also a cable blank."

Webster had reread the letter before the servant returned with the time-tables.

"August, you go out to the desk, like a good fellow, and ask the secretary to arrange for a compartment for me to New Orleans on the Gulf States limited, leaving at 10 o'clock tomorrow night." He handed the servant his card. "Now wait a minute until I write something." He seized the cable blank, helped himself, uninvited, to Neddy Jerome's fountain pen, and wrote:

"William H. Geary, Calle de Concordia No. 19, Buenaventura, Sobrante, C. A.

"Salute, you young jackass! Just received your letter. Cabling thousand for emergency roll first thing tomorrow. Will order machinery. Leaving for New Orleans tomorrow night, to arrive Buenaventura first with a hundred thousand. We cut it two ways and take our chances. Keep a light in the window for your old

"JACK-PARDNER."

"That's a windy cablegram," Neddy Jerome remarked as the servant bore it away. "Why all this garrulity? A cablegram anywhere generally costs at least a dollar a word."

"That's my delight of a shiny night in the season of the year," quoted John Stuart Webster; "and why the devil economize when the boy needs cheering up?"

"What boy?"

"Billy Geary."

"Where is he?"

"Central America."

Neddy Jerome was happy. He was in an expansive mood, for he had, with the assistance of a kindly fate, rounded up the one engineer in all the world whom he needed to take charge of the Colorado Consolidated. So he said:

"Well, Jack, just to celebrate the discovery of your old pal, I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll O. K. your voucher for the expense of bringing young Geary back to the U. S. A., and when we get him here, it will be up to you to find a snug berth for him with Colorado Consolidated."

"Neddy," said John Stuart Webster, "by my halldom, I love thee. You're a thoughtful, kindly old stick-in-the-mud—"

"No if's nor but's. I'm your boss," Jerome interrupted, and waddled away to telephone the head waiter at his favorite restaurant to reserve a table for two.

Mr. Webster sighed. He disliked exceedingly to disappoint old Neddy, but— He shrank from seeming to think overwell of himself by declining a twenty-five-thousand-dollar-a-year job with the biggest mining company in Colorado, but—

"Rotten luck," he solloquized. "It runs that way for a while, and then it changes, and gets worse!"

When Jerome returned to his seat, the serious look in Webster's hitherto laughing eyes challenged his immediate attention.

"Neddy," said John Stuart Webster gently, "do you remember my crossing my fingers and saying 'King's X' when you came at me with that proposition of yours? It just breaks my heart to have to decline it, but the fact of the matter is, I think you'd better give that job to your brother, after all. At any rate, I'm not going to take it."

"Why?" the amazed Jerome demanded. "Johnny, you're crazy in the head. Of course you'll take it."

For answer Webster handed his friend the letter he had just received.

"Read that, old horse, and see if you can't work up a circulation," he suggested.

Jerome adjusted his spectacles and read:

"Calle de Concordia 19, Buenaventura, Sobrante, C. A.

"Dear John: I would address you as 'dear friend John,' did I but possess sufficient courage. In my heart of hearts you are still that, but after three years of silence, due to my stupidity and hardness of heart, it is, perhaps, better to make haste slowly."

"To begin, I should like to be forgiven, on the broad general grounds that I am most mighty sorry for what I went and done! Am I forgiven? I seem to see your friendly old face and hear you answer 'Aye,' and with this load off my chest at last I believe I feel better already."

"Jack, you poor, deluded old piece of white meat, do you think for a moment that I held against you in Cripple Creek? I thought you believed the charges and that you testified in a firm belief that I was the guilty man, as all of the circumstantial evidence seemed to indicate. I thought this for three long, meagre years, old friend, and I'm sorry. After that, I suppose there isn't any need for me to say more, except that you are an old fool for not saying you were going to spend your money and your time and reputation trying to put my halo back on straight! I doubt if I was worth it, and you know that; but let it pass, for we have other fish to fry."

"The nubbin of the matter is this: There is only one good gold mine left in this weary world—and I have it. It's the sweetest wildcat I ever struck, and we stand the finest show in the world of starving to death if we tackle it without sufficient capital to go through. It will take at least thirty thousand dollars, and we ought to have double that to play safe. I do not know whether you have, or can raise, sixty cents, but at any rate I am going to put the buck up to you and you can take a look."

"This is a pretty fair country, Jack—if you survive long enough to get used to it. At first you think it's Paradise; then you grow to hate it and know it for hell with the lid off; and finally all your early love for it returns and you become what I am now—a tropical tramp! There is only one social stratum lower than mine, and that's the tropical beachcomber. I am not that—yet; and will not be if my landlady will continue to listen to my blandishments. She is a sweet soul, with a divine disposition, and I am duly grateful."

"I would tell you all about the geography, topography, flora and fauna of Sobrante, but you can ascertain that in detail by consulting any standard encyclopedia. Governmentally the country is similar to its sister Republics. It's a cold day indeed when two patriots, two vivas and a couple of old Long Tom Springfield rifles cannot upset the Sobrante apple cart. We haven't had a revolution for nearly six months, but we have hopes."

"I am addressing you at the Engineers' club, in the hope that my letter may reach you there, or perhaps the secretary will know your address and forward it to you. If you are foot-loose and still entertain a lingering regard for your old pal, get busy on good job under you. I'll O. K. the voucher and charge it to your personal expense account."

"That's nice of you, old sport, and I thank you kindly. I'll talk to Billy when I arrive in Buenaventura, and if the prospect doesn't look good to me, I'll argue him out of it and we'll come home. Let me go. I might come back. But I must go. I want to see Billy."

"You just said a minute ago you'd turned the forty-year post," Jerome warned him. "And you're now going to lose a year or two more in which you might better be engaged laying up a foundation of independence for your old age. For Heaven's sake, maa, don't be a fool."

"Oh, but I will be a fool," John Stuart Webster answered; and possibly, by this time, the reader has begun to understand the potency of his middle name—the Scotch are notoriously pig-headed, and Mr. Webster had just enough oatmeal in his blood to have come by that center fire name honestly. "And you, you poor old horse, you could not possibly understand why, if you lived to be a million years old."

He got up from his chair to the full height of his six-feet-one, and stretched 190 pounds of bone and muscle.

"And so I shall go to Sobrante and lose all of this all-important money, shall I?" he jeered. "Then by all the gods of the Open Country, I hope I may. Dad burn you, Neddy, I'm not a Methusalem. I want some fun in life. I want to fight and be broke and go hungry and then make money for the love of making it and spending it, and I want to live a long time yet. I want to see the mirage across the sagebrush and hear it whisper: 'Hither, you fool, hither, you fool, hither, you fool, and I'll hornswoogie you again, as in an elder day I hornswoogled you before.'"

Jerome shook his white thatch hopelessly.

"I thought you were a great mining engineer, John," he said sadly, "but you're not. You're a poet. You do not seem to care for money."

"Make it $10,000 and I will guarantee to deliver the man within 90 days."

"Affectionately,
"BILLY."

Jerome finished reading this remarkable communication; then with infinite amusement he regarded John Stuart Webster over the tops of his glasses as one who examines a new and interesting species of bug.

"So Billy loves that dear Sobrante, eh?" he said with abysmal sarcasm. "Jack Webster, listen to a sane man and be guided accordingly. I was in this same little Buenaventura once. I was there for three days, and I wouldn't have been there three minutes if I could have caught a steamer out sooner. Of all the miserable, squallid, worthless, ornery, stinking holes on the face of God's green footstool, Sobrante is the worst—if one may judge it by its capital city. Are you going to chase off to this God-forsaken fever-hole at the behest of a tad scarcely out of his swaddling clothes? Jack Webster, surely you aren't going to throw yourself away—give up the sure thing I offer you—to join Billy Geary in Sobrante and finance a wildcat prospect without a certificate of title attached. Be reasonable. What did you wire that confounded boy?"

"That I was coming."

AN IMPORTANT LETTER

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS.—"In my early married life I became very ill with feminine trouble and no doctoring or medicines gave me any relief until I started to take Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took about six bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and say positively that it cured me of all feminine trouble for I have been in perfect health ever since. I take pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to all women suffering with inward trouble."—MISS ANNIE F. EDDS, 224 Rogers Street.

MR. NORMAL TIMES IS RETURNING HOME

Mr. Normal Times has recovered from his attack of wanderlust and is coming into his own again. He has not arrived, but he is happy on the way, and all of our millions of people are joyfully awaiting the time when he will again become a welcome member of our social center. Normal left us when the great war commenced. He just wandered away and was not seen again. We were all so busy chasing money at the time that we hardly realized his departure. But gradually, however, the fact of his absence was thrust upon us, and during the past four or five years we have bitterly regretted our indifference and short-sightedness, which lost him to us.

Daily now our citizens look and long for the return of our wandering boy. We are like a little child the day before Christmas—we can hardly wait for the hour to come.

But far out over the horizon is a little cloud of dust. Each day it gets a little larger and becomes more readily discernable to the naked eye. Those of keenest vision pronounce it our dear friend Normal, returning to his own with the speed of the wind. Thrice welcome will he be.—Ex.

The following is an attractive creed for every citizen of every Texas town. If it is so attractive for Ballinger would it not be just as attractive for Graham? Here it is as it appears in the monthly publication issued by the Young Men's Business League of Ballinger: "I believe in the United States, the greatest nation in the world. I believe in Texas, the greatest State in the Union. I believe in better schools, better best little city in Texas. I believe in better schools, better churches, better homes, sidewalks and public utilities. I believe that every citizen owes a part of his time and ability to community service. I believe that this city has made my business what it is today, and I am willing to give a part of my substance to assist in its growth."

HALLOWEEN JOKERS ARE JAILED

The city and county jails were bulging with youthful Halloween pranksters last Sunday night, thirteen being registered at the City Hall and twelve at the county jail. The Halloween pranks began Friday night, on account of several parties being held that evening. Again on Saturday night the spooks were abroad, getting a little rougher in their stunts and doing some slight damage here and there Sunday night, which was really Halloween night, the spooks got rough and so did the officers of the law. A number of screen doors on business houses were slashed, an auto or two was damaged by running into obstacles in the streets, the fire alarms were discharged recklessly over the city. The officers decided that the fun had gone far enough and made raids on several bands, gathering them in and lodging them at the city and county hotels. Twenty-five spooks, ranging in age from ten year old youngsters to grown men were jailed. All paid their fines the next morning and were released. Their fun cost them about ten dollars apiece.—Hall County Herald.

HONEYMOON IN THE SKY
Carl M. Bensten, aviator for the Childress Aerial Transport Company, and Mrs. Louise Rozar Handy were married in Hollis, Oklahoma, last Wednesday morning. Aviator Bensten did not inform any of his friends of the wedding.

Aviator Bensten was to leave that morning for Leila Lake to fill a flying engagement and before leaving he called Mrs. Handy and she decided to accompany him. After arriving at the flying field they decided to fly over to Hollis and get married. This they did.

The morning was quite cool and in making the trip the ship was flown to a height of 4,000 feet when the water in the radiator froze. After that an altitude of 2,000 feet was maintained. After landing in Hollis and the wedding over Aviator and Mrs. Bensten flew to Leila Lake. They spent the week in Hedley and Memphis and a total of fifty-one people have been flown as passengers. They returned this morning in the ship to Memphis where they will fly for the next few days.—Childress Index.

M. E. COLLEGE FOR ABILENE

The Methodist College at Stamford will be moved to Abilene. This was the decision reached at the Methodist Conference which was held at Clarendon last week.

The college burned at Stamford about a year ago and Abilene made the Methodist Conference a proposition to move the school there which was accepted.

The Abilene proposal was simply that the citizens of the town will give to the conference, thirty-two or more acres of land for a site and perpetual street car and water right. The site is valued at $50,000, being a part of the land offered by the City of Abilene for the West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College and accepted by the locating board. It is situated south of the Texas & Pacific railroad tracks and commands a view of the surrounding country.

Disposition of the dormitories and campus of the Stamford College, is expected shortly. The property is valued at around $100,000. The college plant at present comprises a large four-story brick dormitory for girls, a wooden building for boys and one or two other smaller buildings. The ground comprises several acres. The proceeds from the sale of the plant will be used one-half to finish the big $150,000 Methodist church here and the other half to be awarded the City of Stamford for donations made when the college was erected there.

1920 CHRISTMAS HEALTH SEALS

The idea of the Christmas Seal as a means of financing the war against tuberculosis was originally brought from Denmark, where the children, by selling little stamps of Christmas cheer, were enabled to raise funds for a children's hospital.

The Christmas Seal idea for America was worked out first in Delaware during the Christmas holidays of 1907, when the little stamps of good health were sold to finance tuberculosis work in that small State. Ever since that time, for 12 years, Christmas Seals have been sold in the fight against tuberculosis for the betterment of the health of the people. During eight years they have been sold in Texas.

Everyone knows the little Christmas Health Seals. They have been used on packages during the Christmas Holiday season year after year. They have been sold for a penny each and bring many pennies' worth of health to the State.

The seals are no longer known as the Red Cross seals, as the National Tuberculosis Association and its 1,000 affiliated organizations have taken over the seal, with its best wishes of the Red Cross, and the proceeds of the seal sale are used entirely for anti-tuberculosis and other health work. They are now the "Christmas Health Seals."

In Texas, 20,000,000 Christmas Seals will be placed on sale during the Christmas Seal Sale, December 1st to 10th, by the Texas Public Health Association and its local organizations all over the State.

CONTRACTOR NOW GIVES OUT FACTS

Gains Twenty-Five Pounds And Feels a New Man Since Taking Tanlac

"Tanlac has not only relieved me of my five years of stomach trouble, but I have gained twenty-five pounds in weight besides," said Robert McAloney, well known contractor, of 33 York street, Halifax, N. S.

"My stomach seemed to be upset all the time," said Mr. McAloney, "and it would get as sour as vinegar. Nothing tasted right or agreed with me and after forcing down a little something at mealtime I would bloat up with gas so I would be miserable for hours. There would be sharp, cramping pains all through my stomach and at time I could hardly get my breath. Many a night the gas bothered me so much that I walked the floor all night without a wink of sleep. I had to lay off for weeks at a time and lost thirty pounds in weight. I was habitually constipated and had a nagging headache nearly all the time. Of mornings I felt so tired and no-account it was an effort to drag myself out of bed and I had suffered so long without being able to get any better I had about reached the point where I didn't care whether I lived or not.

"But I feel entirely different since taking Tanlac, for it has put me in such fine shape I eat three big meals a day without the least trouble. The constipation, headaches and fagged out feeling are entirely gone and I get up in the mornings ready for a hearty breakfast and a good day's work. I simply feel like a new man and I am glad to let others know what a fine medicine Tanlac is."

Tanlac is sold in Graham by Sloan Drug Co. and in Newcastle by Leon Slaughter & Co.

IT IS ALL OVER--WHAT?

IT is all over the country, and an absolute fact too, that LYDON POOL SYNDICATE is the Best investment now being offered, and it will only be available a short time, as we are now drilling and our drillers and tool dressers are working for an INTEREST in the well. So there will be no time lost on our part and you SHOULD NOT LOSE ANY GETTING YOUR UNITS.

We are now drilling our first well on our 8 acres about 2500 feet southeast of the famous LYDON WELL which came in at 2200 barrels. There are from 600 to 900 barrel wells on all sides of us. A better located tract could not easily be found. Another advantage in the LYDON POOL is 73% oil sand which insures longer life wells and is 17% better than the Breckenridge Pool.

LYDON POOL SYNDICATE is operating under a declaration of Trust. Mr. C. E. Martin, Vice President, First National Bank of Breckenridge, Trustee. Capital $100,000.00. Per Unit $100.00. 79 acres all in Stephens County and in Proven territory, 8 acres in the LYDON POOL where we are now drilling, one acre in the southwest corner of the town of Necessity with good production within 500 feet, 70 acres south of Breckenridge about 12 miles, a 300-barrel well came in last week near this tract and other locations are being made

ASK ANY OIL MAN ABOUT THE LYDON FIELD and he will tell you it is the coming field of the County. Our drillers, tool dressers and contractors are working for interest in the well in preference to the CASH. Our rig was built for an interest. If it isn't good why would experienced oil men want it. 7-16 of the entire production from this 8 acres belongs to the Unit holders and 7-8 from all other acreage, also at any time should any of this acreage be sold the proceeds belong to the UNIT HOLDERS.

A 500 barrel well where we are now drilling will pay to each $100.00 Unit $23.00 per month, this would be the smallest completed well in the field, so you see the chances are all in our favor.

Dont wait until these Units are all gone and then wish you had a few, buy them now. The time to make money in the Oil game is to buy at par. Dont wait and pay a premium. Buy now and sell at a premium.

MAJOR LITTLEFIELD CALLED BY DEATH

Austin, Nov. 16.—Major George W. Littlefield, Austin financier-philanthropist, ex-Confederate soldier, ranchman and a friend of the University of Texas, who died at his home in this city at 1 o'clock this morning, had an interesting career. He had enjoyed distinctions above the average man, his achievements in the world of affairs have been large, and with it all he had borne himself as an unassuming, modest, kind-hearted man. Major Littlefield's death followed an illness dating back two years, and his passing was not unexpected. With him at the time of his death were his wife, H. A. Wroe of Austin and Dr. Whitfield Harral of Dallas, both of whom are nephews.

Major Littlefield, during his long residence in Austin, took particular interest in the University of Texas, and his gifts to that institution have been numerous, including the Wrenn Library, valued at $250,000. Among his first gifts was the Littlefield fund for Southern history. He donated $40,000 for the Jefferson Davis monument on the Davis homestead in Kenton county, Ky. His latest gift to the University is a memorial arch, not yet erected, commemorating the deeds of University students in the world war, the cost of which will be approximately $300,000. For a number of years Major Littlefield served as a member of the board of regents of the University, resigning because of failing health.

Major Littlefield was born in Panola county, Mississippi, on June 21, 1842. His parents were Flemming Littlefield and Mildred Satterwhite Littlefield. They moved from Mississippi to Gonzales county, Texas, in 1850.

The future boy soldier and man of affairs spent his boyhood on the Gonzales county farm and obtained his schooling in the common schools of the county and at the Gonzales college. He was between 18 and 19 years of age when he enlisted in the Eighth Texas Cavalry—Terry's Texas Rangers—as a soldier in the cause of the Confederacy. This was in 1861 and young Littlefield was given the rank of Second Sergeant. The regiment was ordered to Bowling Green, Ky., where Albert Sidney Johnston was in command, and here, in January 1862, the young Sergeant was made a Second Lieutenant. Though a Second Lieutenant, commanded his company during the two days battle of Shiloh and on May 1, 1862, was promoted to First Lieutenant. On May 10 he was promoted to a captaincy and as senior Captain of the regiment served as Major following the battle of Chickamauga, in September, 1863, until he was wounded at the battle of Mossy Creek (East Tennessee) Dec. 26, 1863. The wound was a serious one, in the hip, caused by a bursting shell, and kept the injured man on crutches until the summer of 1867.

There was a recompense in the fact that while he lay on the field he was promoted to the rank of Major for gallantry on the field. It was General Thomas Harrison who conferred this mark of recognition.

In the meantime, while yet a Captain, he was sent to Texas on detached duty, and while on that errand was married to Miss Alice Tillar at Houston. This was on Jan. 14, 1863.

Major Littlefield in October, 1864, resigned his position in the army and returned to Gonzales county. Here he engaged in farming until 1871, raising cotton on the plantation. Overflows that came in the years of 1869 and 1870 proved disastrous, so that he abandoned cotton raising and in the spring of 1871 embarked in the cattle business with a capital of $3,000. During the early years he drove many a herd overland to Kansas and what are now the States of the Northwest. In 1877 he established a ranch on the Canadian River in Oldham and Potter counties. This he sold in 1881 and the following spring established a ranch in Chaves county, N. M., which he still owns. In 1901 he purchased the Yellow House division of the Cautoul Syndicate land, consisting of 300,000 acres, which he still owns and pastures cattle upon. He developed the town of Littlefield, Lamb county, and in his honor by the Santa Fe railroad. Major Littlefield also had ranch and land interests in Mason, Menard and Kimble counties on the Llano River.

But the landed property of which he was proudest, probably, is a 1,250 acre irrigated farm near Roswell, N. M., 220 acres of which is a fine apple orchard, the rest in alfalfa, which is fed to Hereford cattle and fine mules. Major Littlefield established his home in Austin in 1883 and continued to reside here until his death. He engaged in the banking business soon after his arrival in Austin, and in 1890 founded the American National Bank with a capital stock of $100,000. It now has a capital and surplus of over $1,000,000 and resources of over $10,000,000, and is housed in the ten-story Littlefield building.

BAPTISTS CONDEMN CARDS, DANCE, ETC.

El Paso, Nov. 15.—Resolutions condemning Sunday amusements, card playing and dancing by church members or in the homes of church members, were unanimously adopted by the Baptist General Convention of Texas at its closing session today.
Dr. M. A. Jenkins of Abilene, in his report on foreign missions, declared the World War had facilitated the work of missionaries. "The people are more willing to hear of Christ," he said.

Rev. Dr. George W. Truett, pastor of the First Baptist church of Dallas, addressed 5,000 persons in Liberty Hall Sunday afternoon. His address was a part of the annual Baptist convention program.

"Everyone of us must have dealings with Christ," he said. "We must crown Him or we must morally crucify Him. It is Christ or chaos in human lives."
"Wise men are bound to look at consequences when deciding for or against Christ. If temptation comes to you to cast away the Christian hope, I bid you before you take that course look ahead, take the long look. Jesus insists, 'I must be first. I must be the Lord of all or not Lord at all. I must give pre-eminence to love in life.'"

"Christ's terms of discipleship mean utter death of self. But we would not have our religions other than exacting. You let us make religion easy and it will play out. You let us make it compare with the standards of Christ and men will find comfort and good and will get glory out of it."

"We are all bound up together in the big bundle of life. As goes one goes another. The responsibilities of parents to their children is higher and deeper than could be described by an angel. The greatest waste that you'll ever know is the waste of personal influence over others. 'Lord, to whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of life.' Thus spoke Simon Peter in a time of deep distress."

"I ask you who hear me this afternoon if you do not accept Christ what will you do with human sorrow? What will you do with sin? What will you do with death? Christ is the lodestone of human hearts. He is the one and only Savior of men."

MORE ABOUT TREES

Last week The Leader said the good season this winter ought to induce all home owners in Graham to plant trees about their places. With proper care during dry summers trees will flourish here. Several thousand trees should be planted in Graham this winter. The rains during the fall months have put the ground in good condition for planting trees.

December and January are good months to plant trees. It is not necessary to wait until February. Any time during the winter months is all right. Begin now to plan for seedlings next spring. Help make Graham the most beautiful city in West Texas.

Builder of incomparable PIANOS and PLAYER-PIANOS

STRAVINSKY recognized no limit of quality in violin-making when he opened his little attic shop in Cremona. He aimed to make better violins, if possible, than any made before. Today the Stravinski is considered incomparable.

Many years ago, when the Baldwin Company began to build pianos, it recognized no limit of achievement beyond which it might not go. And ever since, its continuous aim has been to produce instruments with the care and skill that would make the name "Baldwin" stand for supreme excellence in the piano world.

HOGS ARE BOLL WEEVIL DESTROYERS

Col. C. C. French, of the Fort Worth Stock Yards, recently brought to the attention of the writer a matter which should prove of great interest to people of the cotton producing section of our State, and other cotton producing States. It is that hogs, turned into the cotton fields, will save the cotton crop by eating as fast as they fall the squares in which are the larvae of the weevil.

Col. French sends clipping from the Livestock Reporter, giving the experience of W. B. Starling, Comanche county, a farmer who got more than a half bale per acre by help of his hogs. The standing of Mr. Starling in his community lends emphasis to his idea that hogs loose in a weevil infested cotton field are worth while cotton savers. The item in the Reporter goes on to say:

"As soon as the boll weevil begins to make its appearance, Mr. Starling turns his hogs into the cotton field. He has about 30 to 35 head of pigs big enough to eat sand, and these pigs gather every fallen form punctured by the weevils and knock off the punctured which still adhere to the stalk. They actually fatten on the larvae thus devoured, and seem to be specially fond of the combined vegetable and animal diet.

"In addition to destroying the entire weevil crop, they also loosen up the soil without the slightest damage to the plan in their rigid cleaning up of the fallen forms. Fields adjoining or adjacent to this farm where no hogs have been grazed will not make enough cotton to pay for picking."

Waco, Nov. 16.—The collection of the works of Browning now in Baylor University's library is the second largest and most complete collection in the United States. Boston University's library surpasses the Baylor collection of the works of the great English writer. A separate division of the Baylor library know as the Browning room contains all the works and criticisms of this writer. A HINT TO TEACHERS

Teachers have a greater opportunity for rendering to their pupils lasting and valuable services than the mere teaching of what is in the textbook implies. The teacher who considers his duty to his pupils fulfilled when he has heard their lessons and helped them to master their textbooks has but a very poor conception of what his duties, responsibilities and opportunities are. The teacher ought to supplement the training and instruction which his pupils are presumed to receive in the home from their parents. The teacher ought to teach them the value of personal purity and honor, the value of truth and honesty. He ought to teach them true Americanism, which is patriotism, a sense of the duties each citizen of America owes to his country, his fellowmen.

While these things should be constantly taught to the pupil there is one thing which at this time ought to be taught not alone by precept but by example. The sin of America at this time is extravagance, thriftlessness, spendthriftiness. Isn't it so? Old and young alike have indulged in a regular "saturnalia of spending" during the past few years. There will be handicaps on many a business undertaking and on millions of individuals for years to come because of this habit that we have formed—and many a child of this day is destined to go through life with this handicap upon him, with habits formed which forbid is ever entering into successful business for himself or even enjoying such credit from those having credit as the child otherwise would be entitled to. Teachers, here is a great opportunity for you. Write Denamore W. Hume, care Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas, for literature upon the subject of Thrift and how to teach it.

MASKAT TEMPLE CEREMONIAL NOV. 17

Wichita Falls, Nov. 10.—Plans have been perfected to "handle" more than 250 Masonic novices in this city on November 17 next, when Maskat Temple A. A. O. M. S. will hold its second ceremonial. The affair throughout will be a revival, on a somewhat smaller scale, of course, of the now historic "Shrine Day" of August 31st, when Masons from all over the United States participated in the institutional ceremonies that brought Maskat Temple into existence.

The divan of the Temple has been rehearsing faithfully for the "big doings" and has reached a state of perfection that is particularly pleasing to Mayor Walter D. Cline, who is Potentate of the order in this city. The patrol, under the leadership of Captain Robbins, has developed to a point where local Shriners believe it to be second to none in this section of the country.

Owing to the fact that Shriners from all over the United States have settled here, have made their homes in Wichita Falls and have affiliated with Maskat Temple, the local organization is more than ordinarily fortunate in its Shrine work. Today it has advantage of the experience of members who have in the past been affiliated with some of the largest Temples of Masonry in the country.

An outstanding feature of the coming ceremonial will be the presence in Wichita Falls as a guest of Maskat Temple of Tris Speaker, native Texan leader of the world champion Cleveland Indians and the outfielding ace of the baseball world. Tris has been a Shriner for a number of years, and only recently was elected to honorary membership in Maskat Temple. The ceremonial exercises will be held in the basement of the First Baptist church, which will seat 1,500 persons.

KLEBURG COUNTY BUILDS WAREHOUSE

Corpus Christi, Nov. 15.—Fred Roberts, of the United Cotton Growers Association of America, announces that the first warehouse to be constructed under the auspices of the United Cotton Growers Association of America will be built by the Kleburg county unit. This decision was reached at a meeting of the members of this local organization held in the Woodman Hall, Kingsville, recently. It was the sentiment of the meeting that the warehouse should be of the most modern type commanding a low insurance rate. It was enthusiastically agreed that its construction should begin just as soon as the architect's plans shall have been finally approved by the Board of Governors of the United Cotton Growers Association of America.

The Kleburg county unit is but one of many county associations that are expecting to push the warehousing phase of the Association's plans. It is anticipated that warehouses will be started in all sections of Texas at an early date.

FANCY BULK CHOCOLATES at HOWARD'S CONFECTIONERY

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING OF COTTON

Corpus Christi, Nov. 16.—"It is folly to dump cotton in large quantities upon the American market, which is already glutted to the satisfaction of all those who prey on the cotton industry," said Wellington Brink, editor of The Cotton Grower, in an interview. "Speculators and buyers could wish for nothing better than to have a great deal more cotton added to that which is already choking the channels of our marketing system. But, on the other hand, it is the height of foolishness to keep large quantities of low grade cotton unsold when there are such ready markets to be found overseas. Furthermore, every bale of low grade cotton that is held over until next year will represent a liability.

"The answer to the whole puzzle lies in co-operative shipping and selling of cotton to European mills, eliminating the usual middleman and ignoring the markets on this side of the water. It is to the interests of every farmer who desires to see a fair deal for himself and his neighbor either to attend the Waco conference to be held November 16th, or to send his representative. With more than two and one-half million bales ginned up to October 18th, it becomes increasingly evident that there is no general holding movement in process. So long as there is a super-abundance of cotton on the market just so long will the bears have control. Growers should hold their cotton until they can sell it at cost plus a reasonable profit. They should put it under cover. If they don't have warehouses they should put it in their parlors."

LITTLE DIFFICULTY IN ADMINISTERING FREE TEXT BOOKS

Austin, Nov. 9.—Little difficulty is being experienced in the administration of the free textbook law this year, according to Miss M. L. Barnett, head of the free text book division of the State Department of Education, who recently estimated that approximately six million volumes have been placed in the hands of school children.

This is the second year that Texas children have been provided with free school books, and considerable difficulty in obtaining delivery was experienced last year. This year, however, the publishers are prompt in delivering the books to the four depositories in Dallas, Miss Barnett declared and although they complain of a shortage of paper and labor troubles, orders are almost invariably promptly filled, except where there is an unexpected demand upon the depositories and then the books are forwarded within a few days. She added that she expects next year to develop an almost perfect administration of the system.

Books are shipped direct from the depositories to the schools and at the end of each session school authorities collect the books from the pupils and re-issue them the next session after they have been fumigated and covered. The fact that most of the books required this year were already in the hands of school officials worked to expedite their distribution to the pupils.

Approximately $4,500,000 has been spent by the State to supply free text books, Miss Barnett said, and reports from schools are that the children take better care of the State books than they did of their own before the enactment of the free text book law. The fact that children are required to pay for damage to books in their possession, she added, very likely accounts for this.

HERE AND THERE

Young man, if you have a good job in the country, hang out it.

If you want to walk the streets week after week in a fruitless search for work, go to one of the big cities. Newspapers are not parading the fact, but those who understand conditions in the large cities can tell you that employers are laying off their help in increasing numbers every day, and the end is nowhere in sight.

A good country job has many attractions. The army of the unemployed has none.

SCHOOL AMENDMENT CARRIES

A long stride forward, educationally, was made when the constitutional amendment was carried November 2.

Any community can have just as good a school as it wants now if it is willing to pay the price. Each community has the privilege of voting a tax sufficient to maintain its schools. The passing of the amendment did not carry with it the levying of a tax. It will be necessary for each district to order an election and vote such tax as will be needed to maintain its school.

The board of trustees of each district interested in better teachers and better schools should begin to study local conditions so that when the Legislature meets and the amendment is put into effect they will know how to proceed intelligently to order the election and get the money in time for the next session of school.

County superintendents will be glad to advise with trustees who want better schools.

TRADE MARK

Farm Tractor

More than 100,000 Fordson tractors have been sold to farmers in the United States. They are helping those farmers do more and better work in less time and at less cost. North, East, South, West, everywhere, the Fordson has proven itself a money-maker and a real necessity to the farmer. Besides it solves the labor problem. These practical farmers have affirmed the economy—the exceptionally low fuel and operating cost—of the Fordson; its time and labor saving qualities and its ability to increase production. The Fordson was built to be the most economical tractor. It is compact and devoid of excessive weight. And it is built of same strong Vanadium steel as the Ford car. Winter or bad weather does not hinder the Fordson's usefulness. Day or night—24 hours a day if you choose—you can utilize the Fordson.

Only so many Fordsons are allotted this territory. Orders are being filled in rotation. Let us have yours now.

GETTING BATH ROOM READY FOR REPUBLICAN SENATE

Washington, Nov. 16.—The Greco-Roman baths of the United States senate, installed nearly eight years ago, but never put into service, are now being cleared of the cobwebs and stains of time and will be in shape to offer their luxuries of steam, plunge, shower and electricity to the members of the new senate when it assembles.

Charges of extravagance were aimed at the baths in congressional debate when the power of administration last swung from republican to democratic, and as a result, the baths installed in the then new senate office buildings, were shorn of their expensive equipment, bereft of their attendants and left to gloom. The marble slabs, Turkish rugs and steam proof tables and chairs were turned over to the government hospitals and only the marble shells and nickel fittings left in place.

Now, however, the baths are coming back, but under a new plan. Members of the senate themselves will pay a large part of the operating expense and a special unofficial committee has taken charge of the assessments, which will be levied against each user in proportion to the service he exacts. The baths will be somewhat less gorgeous than the original plan anticipated, but in their luxury and completeness will still have claim to comparison with private club installation.

COTTON FARMER TAFT

Charles P. Taft is the biggest cotton farmer in Texas, and perhaps the largest producer of the fleecy staple of the whole South. Charles P. is a citizen of Cincinnati, owner of the Cincinnati Times-Star, brother of former President William Howard Taft, and his ranch of 160,000 acres at Gregory, Texas, brought in a gross revenue of more than $4,000,000 in 1920. Nearly 25,000 bales have been picked and ginned and there remains a small part of the crop still to be gathered. The Houston Post says that more than 1,500 bales of the crop were of the long staple variety and sold for 60 cents a pound. Charles P. Taft has converted about 30,000 acres of the property into farms and these are rented to the most industrious and dependable farmers to be found. All the cotton produced upon the Taft farm is ginned at the ranch gins, compressed at the ranch compress and the seed converted into oil mill. Colonel Taft has an army of and cake at the ranch cotton seed oil tenants, he has immense holdings and he makes farming pay. There is gold in the soil of Texas.—Fort Worth Record.

RED CROSS TRAINING CLASS

More than 35,000 women in the Southwestern Division of the American Red Cross have matriculated in courses of Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick, according to figures compiled at Southwestern Division headquarters in St. Louis which were made public today. The figures cover the period up to October 1st last.

During this time 4622 classes were held by 370 chapters, the figures show. The instructors in each of the classes were registered Red Cross nurses.

Those who attended the classes were shown various things to be done, and how they should be done, in the care of the sick—things heretofore known and practiced by professional nurses almost exclusively. The women also learned matters of health and sanitation as regards their homes which doubtless will prove of great aid in warding off disease.

While the things taught the women in the classes will not make them entirely capable of nursing as it is practiced by professionals, yet they do learn what to do in case of illness or disaster in their homes, until a doctor may be summoned, in addition to the sanitary measures.

This branch of Red Cross work is viewed as one of the most important of the organization. The women trained thus are expected to prove of invaluable aid to the organization to its health program for the division, which is contemplated in the peacetime activities of the Red Cross.

The Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick courses are becoming more and more popular throughout the division and it is expected that each month will find hundreds of students added to them.

SEVERAL OF A KIND

Once I knew a Baptist,
He had a pious look.
He had been totally immersed,
Except his pocketbook.
He'd put a nickel in the plate
And then with might and main
He'd sing "When we asunder part
It gives me inward pain."
I also knew a Methodist
Who couldn't sin, he said.
He'd holler "Glory" loud enough
To almost raise the dead.
But as to his apportionment,
Though his barns were waxing fat,
His shouting wasn't loud enough
To even quite raise that.
I knew a Presbyterian,
And you may know him, too,
In doctrine and dignity
The bluest of the blue.
To give in large donations
Was against his constitution.
He left the church to save the world
Without his contribution.
He was regular at meeting
And sat in a cushioned pew,
But the things he did to serve mankind
Were scandalously few.

GRAVE MYSTERY MAN RELEASED ON BOND

Abilene, Nov. 10.—B. J. Cochran, the principal figure in the empty grave case has been released on bond in the sum of $4,500. His case will come up for trial next March.

"THE VIRGIN OF STAMBOUL"

Critics who have had an opportunity to obtain a pre-release view of the latest Universal-Jewel production, "The Virgin of Stamboul," starring Priscilla Dean, have been unstinted in their praise of this picturesque photodrama which is announced for Wednesday, November 24th, at the National Theatre.

The story was written especially for Priscilla Dean by H. H. Van Loan and it is said that he kept her vision before him constantly during the months he was at work on the colorful romance, the scenes of which are laid in Stamboul, the wickedest city in the world. The result is, from all accounts, that Van Loan has supplied Miss Dean with a role that permits her to exercise the thousand and one phases of her magnetic art.

The central figure in "The Virgin of Stamboul" is Sari, a beggar girl on the streets of the Turkish city, wild as an Arabian steed, and according to the Moslem creed with a soul as the filth in the streets. While secreted in the mosque, whither she has gone, against the law, to pray that her soul may be cleansed, she is witness to a brutal crime and becomes embroiled in a chain of circumstances as fantastic as the Arabian Nights.

Sari's meeting with the young American commander of the Black Horse Troop, composed of the scum of Asia, her wooing by the powerful sheik, her imprisonment in and escape from the harem, her wild ride across the desert at the head of the untamed cavalry—all are but a few incidents from the story that is alive with tense drama and stirring situations.

The photodrama has been given a sumptuous production by Tod Browning and the principal characters are portrayed by Miss Dean, Wheeler Oakman, Wallace Beery, E. A. Warren, Edward Burns, Eugenia Forde, Ethel Ritchie, Nigel de Brullier and Yvette Mitchell.

"CLOTHES" OF THE SMART SET

The Broadway stage success, "Clothes," by Avery Hoywood and Channing Pollock, has been turned into a photodrama and it is announced for the National Theatre Friday, November 27. The production is a Metro special, with an all-star cast, including Olive Tell, Crauford Kent, Cyril Chadwick, Zeffie Tillbury, Rae Allen, Frank Currier and Mary Beaton.

A feature of the production is the lavish fashion display that is promised. The play deals with a New York society set, wherein the women vie with each other to wear the most brilliant gowns.

WINNEPEG MAN HAS GAINED 25 POUNDS

All His Troubles Were Overcome and He Feels Fine Since Taking Tanlac

"I have gained twenty-five pounds by taking Tanlac and never felt better," said E. J. Coleman, well-known painter and decorator, of 195 Michigan Ave., Winnipeg, Man.

"About a year ago I had double pneumonia," said Mr. Coleman, "and it left me a wreck. I was too weak to walk by myself and my stomach was in such bad shape I could hardly eat enough to keep a bird alive. My nerves were so shattered I almost collapsed when a friend one day unexpectedly slapped me on the back. It was out of the question for me to sleep at night. I was even afraid to be alone in the dark and had to have someone in the room with me all day. My kidneys were so out of order that I had a pain across my back nearly all the time and I lost so much weight I actually looked like a frame.

"I had taken so much medicine without getting better that I was discouraged and when my folks brought me a bottle of Tanlac I didn't want to take it; but finally I tried it and, much to my surprise, I began to improve right away. Now I am on my fourth bottle and am so well I can do as hard a day's work as any man. I eat heartily of anything I want and never have the slightest pain or trouble of any sort whatever now. As long as I live I'll never be able to praise Tanlac enough for what it has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Graham by Sloan Drug Co., and in Newcastle by Leon Slaughter & Co.

THREE CLAIM BENSON AS WEDDED HUSBAND

When three women claim one man for a husband, it is bound to create trouble. When he really loves one of them his explanations in regard to the other two are bound to be funny to any one not involved. Also when it develops that the other two wouldn't have him for a husband on a bet, their reasons for claiming him are interesting.

Of such complication is the humorous, interesting Marshall Neilan production "Don't Ever Marry," which will be the attraction at the National Theatre Saturday, November 27.

SPEEDER FLEEING FROM OFFICER, KILLS BOY

Wichita Falls, Nov. 15.—Police and county officers of practically every city in the State tonight are carefully watching for a blood-bespattered murder car, which today noon ran over and killed Archie Martin, a 13-year-old youngster of this city, and then sped on at accelerated speed. In his race a mob of furious citizens and policemen followed, but lost the trail in the dark.

Shortly before 12:30 o'clock today a motorcycle policeman arrested a man of dark complexion on a charge of speeding. The man argued with the officer and protested when he was ordered to drive to the police station. He said he had no money and made several excuses. The policeman had stopped his machine and the speeder suddenly threw his car into full gear and rushed off.

The motorcycle officer gave chase. The man turned into a main and crowded thoroughfare, running at a speed of about forty-five miles an hour, barely missing hundred of pedestrians and dodging other machines by a hairbreadth.

In the middle of the block young Archie Martin, not seeing the oncoming car, started to cross. The machine struck him fairly and hurled him into the air, then on to the bumper. Witnesses saw the lad grasp the radiator cap and hang on, evidently not seriously injured. The car continued fifty feet and crossed a street car track.

The slight bump was sufficient to again hurl the lad off and the heavy car passed over him. The rear wheels threw him a distance of fifty feet against the curb. His skull was fractured and every bone in his body broken, physicians at the hospital where he was taken say. He died within an hour.

Leaving a trail of blood in its wake, the murder car, without stopping, and turning into a straight thoroughfare, gathered speed. Dozens of cars immediately took up the chase, the motorcycle policeman leading. The chase continued until it was dark and the speeding machine was lost. The engine of the officer's car failed and he was forced to abandon pursuit.

Every town within a radius of a hundred miles was notified of the tragedy and officers instructed to watch for the car, which is described as a Hudson Super-Six, top down, no rear number. The front number, State license, is 481999.

Local police know who the driver of the machine is. His identity has

THANKSGIVING DAY

What more fitting time for giving thanks than at this season, when the Sun and the Rain and Mother Earth have conspired to give to our nation an abundant harvest and the golden crops have been garnered against the Winter's needs.

Thanksgiving has ever been a day welcomed because of its feasting, its joyousness, its happiness. But we must not forget that it is also a day set aside for sober thought and earnest meditation.

We are thankful for the prosperity the year has brought to our friends and neighbors, and we are finding our greatest cause for thankfulness in their co-operation with us. We are grateful if, throughout the year, we have added something to the happiness and success of this community.

May this Thanksgiving be to you and yours a day of joy and happiness.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Reported by Leola Price

One quarter of our school closed with the ending of examinations November 5. The Seniors gave a party Friday night to celebrate. They gathered at Mildred Tidwell's home and later went to Lillie May Calvin's, where they played games and had a marshmallow and weenie toast, which they all enjoyed.

On account of the rain Monday morning, many were absent from school.

Thursday being Armistice Day, the school was closed. In the afternoon the high school football team played the American Legion but were defeated.

The report cards were given to us Friday afternoon. The names of the student, who made an average of 90, or above, on all their subjects were on the honor roll. Mr. Glenn, made an average of 80, or above, were on the honor roll. There were few on the high honor roll but many were on the honor roll. Mr. Glenn, the principal, read the names of those who were on these, and made a short talk inspiring the students to do better work the following terms.

Bessie Christopher has been absent on account of sickness in the family.

Mary Bowman spent the week end at Fort Worth and Denton.

George D. Spears, from Sweetwater, has entered school in the tenth grade.

Mary Clark has stopped school.

Cecil Porter has been absent on account of sickness the past week.

Robert Lynch was absent Monday.

Monday morning in chapel Rev. Evans made the students a talk. He pointed out to us the demand and the necessity of trained and educated men and women. His talk was very interesting and inspiring.

We have recently added some new play ground equipment to our school yard.

A. H. Woolfolk, of Vernon, had his figures moved up one year on The Leader.

Judge R. W. McFarlane, of Greenwood, Arkansas, is in the city visiting his son.

E. J. Bumsted has remodeled the lower floor of the Graham Land Office and now has several offices conveniently arranged which he will rent.

Rev. J. T. Bloodworth, pastor of the Methodist church in Bryson, was in the city yesterday.

J. C. Rickman returned Sunday from a week's visit to Kaufman, Waco, and other points. Mrs. Rickman remained for a visit with her parents and other relatives.

Jiggs, Maggie and their daughter have read so much of our prosperous little city they have decided to visit it, stopping at SNODDY & SON. Would you be glad to meet them? 12c

NEAR EAST RELIEF

A year ago two hundred and fifty thousand children in the Near East were starving. Their parents, because they were Christians, had been killed before their eyes. Many of these innocent little ones were naked; they were weak, diseased, dying from desert exile. They were homeless and hopelessly wandering about the fields and villages, feeding on roots and offal. Tens of thousands of Christian girls were the unwilling slaves of the Turks and Kurds.

Today the table set by the Near East Relief is over twenty-four miles long. One hundred thousand of these children are well fed and well clothed. Practically all of the children are being educated; the older ones are being taught useful trades. Work of restoring their self-respect, which was lost through hunger and nakedness. Sixty-three hospitals with 6,552 beds care for the sick ones. Rescue homes receive women and girls released from slavery as fast as there is room to take them in. Over a half million refugees are fed daily with food supplied by America. Broken families have been united and homes restored.

Tomorrow the children in our care must still be fed and clothed—there is no one else to do it. If we fail them, they will die. The coming winter will drive thousands more from their temporary summer shelters to the doors of the Near East Relief.

Five dollars a month will save one life. Ten dollars a month will feed and clothe a child. Fifteen dollars a month will feed, clothe and educate one of these children.

Near East Relief is incorporated by the Congress of the United States for relief of the suffering ones until some responsible government is established. It is the voice of the American people responding to the call of outraged humanity.

Five hundred and thirty-eight American men and women are administering this relief in the Near East. While they themselves are in peril of death from war and disease, they urge us in the name of humanity to continue aid until responsible governments take over the care of the children.

Make your check payable to S. J. McFarland, State Treasurer Near East Relief, 717 Dallas County State Bank Bldg., Dallas, Texas.

CALIFORNIA LAND LAW HELD UNJUST

Tokio, Nov. 9.—The Emigration Society of Japan, an influential body, held a meeting today in protest against the California land law, adopted at the recent election. The fifty members present heard from Marquis Okuma, former Premier, the chief speaker, a depreciation of what he called "jingo" talk. He insisted, however, upon the necessity of defending Japanese rights. He trusted that America had not forgotten the spirit in which that Nation was founded, but if she had forgotten it, Japan must take a firm stand, as yielding to unjust treatment would compromise the dignity of the Empire.

A resolution was adopted declaring that the land law act contravened the principles of justice and humanity. A fundamental solution of the question was demanded and the society planned itself to make untiring and unyielding efforts to obtain redress. Professor Chusuke Sutchiro of Kioto University asked how the resolution would be carried out and the chairman replied that it would be the propaganda of Japan abroad.

BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS

Austin, Nov. 16.—Tuberculosis, in terms of dollars and cents cost Texas over $40,000,000 in 1919. This is the statement issued by the Texas Public Health Association, which declares that this is a very conservative estimate.

Scientists have estimated that the minimum economic value of a life is $1700, and since 3,396 deaths in Texas from tuberculosis were reported in 1919, the economic value of lives lost from the white plague would be $5,773,200. The loss in earnings was figured to be $10,875,900 last year; while the cost of medical attention, nursing and medicine for the thousands of cases was estimated as $25,518,975. This would make the total loss to the state, $42,168,075.

"The 200,000 which the Texas Public Health Association and its local tuberculosis societies over the State are to raise through the sale of Christmas Seals, December 1 to 11, is health insurance for the people of the State against tuberculosis," declared D. E. Breed, executive secretary of the Association.

"We are supporting tuberculosis clinics, dispensaries, and children's summer camps; working for more hospitals and sanatoria; directing the Modern Health Crusade which brings lessons of health to thousands of Texas children every year; sending out nurses to examine school children and demonstrate school and community nursing; forming health societies among Mexicans and negroes; making tuberculosis surveys; establishing local anti-tuberculosis pieces of health literature, furnishing speakers and lecturers on health, and much other work."

The Association is directing the sale of 20,000 Christmas Seals in Texas, December 1 to 11.

RED-CROSS ROLL CALL

Millions of children in Europe, robbed of the joys of childhood and most of the natural safeguards to which they are entitled, by the war, and thousands of children in the United States who are hindered in life by preventable ailments, are looking to the Fourth Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross as one of the principal means by which they will be restored to a normal condition.

The Roll Call will be from Armistice Day, November 11 through Thanksgiving Day, November 25. In that time efforts will be made to reach every person in the Southwestern Division of the Red Cross, which embraces the States of Missouri, Kansas, Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, as well as other sections of the United States.

There is a vast work throughout Europe and the United States waiting to be carried on on a much larger scale than has been possible heretofore, which will be taken up by Red Cross workers. To gain for this work the great success that has been planned for it by Red Cross officials, the first step is the roll call.

In the roll call funds to carry on the work will be obtained of course, but most of all, a membership of millions will be rolled up, it is hoped, to spur the workers on and to show them the people of the United States have their hearts in the great peace-time program.

A great part of the peace-time program is going to be the furtherance of the rehabilitation work now being done among the children of Europe and the United States.

In Europe, most woeful conditions exist among them, according to Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the American Red Cross, who recently returned from a several months' tour of Europe. Upon his return he told of the deplorable condition among the European children and stressed the fact that they are almost entirely dependent upon the people of the United States for succor.

Dr. Farrand pointed out at that time that the future of Europe depends to a great degree upon the children of the present generation. Unless they are allowed to grow into normal men and women and are helped to do so, the status of Europe in coming years, will not have progressed, he said.

Among the children of the United States, many of them are undernourished; some suffer from ailments which, though of a minor kind, retard

FEMINE BEAUTY

It is amazing what an amount of energy and money goes into the development of female beauty. The materials by which the illusion is produced, are the principal stock of great department stores or retail trade. If women should suddenly become indifferent to their personal adornment, a large share of the country's business would be ruined.

The philosopher wonders that women are willing to spend so considerable part of their substance for things that, in the words of the Scripture, are essentially "vanity and vexation of spirit." But women will do it, as long as they feel that the question of beauty are the means by which they can interest men.

They may well question whether the man of the future is going to be as much swayed by this kind of appeal as he was in the past. Of course, if you look at the average college student room, with its galaxy of supposed beauties on the walls, or hear the boys spend long hours discussing which is the prettiest girl, you might think that the male world would be ruled indefinitely by the pretty face.

Still one can't help feeling that the day for the mere doll has gone by. The girl with the peach bloom, but who has no brains and no ability to say bright things, is apt to remain neglected. The girl with more wit and vivacity and ability will win friends though she may have a plain face.

The tendency of the times is to develop a type of woman who are self dependent and who do not feel that their lives are going to be spoiled if they never marry. They have resources of their own. Other ends than mere prettiness are filling their attention. Thereby they make themselves doubly attractive, to men with eyes to look below the surface.—Ex.

their progress in school and in other matters. Red Cross workers, in inspections made of school children throughout the United States, have found them to be suffering from defective eyesight, defective hearing, enlarged tonsils, obstructions of the nasal passages and other things which with proper care, soon could be eliminated.

CORPORATION TO BE READY JAN. 1

New Orleans, Nov. 8.—Dr. P. H. Saunders, chairman of the committee on arrangements for the Federal Foreign Finance Corporation, which was organized here Saturday at a meeting of over 100 prominent Southern bankers, announced that the new corporation would be ready for business by January 1, 1921.

The corporation was organized with a capital of $6,000,000, which, it is estimated, will give it a financing power of at least $60,000,000, which will be used to assist producers of the South in marketing their products in foreign countries, with special attention to cotton, sugar, rice and lumber. It is altogether probable that the capital stock, which will be subscribed by bankers of twelve Southern States, will be doubled within a few months.

The directors selected at the meeting Saturday will meet at an early date to elect officers and outline a program. Organization plans will be rushed in order that the work of assisting the producers of the South will be under way by January 1.

"By that time," declared Dr. Saunders in discussing plans for the organization today, "the cotton, sugar, rice and lumber people are expected to have at their call the facilities of an institution sufficiently strong to finance a large amount of exports and to begin to extend credits to foreign countries on commodities raised in this section."

"This means more, however, than the amount of credit extended for it represents the beginning of a new era of foreign financing through the communities directly interested in the sale of commodities."

WILL WE HAVE HOOF

LATER YEARS

Future generations will have hoofs instead of feet, said Professor Herbert Martin, of the Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa, a few days ago. Small shoes are responsible, he said. The little toe is becoming littler with each successive generation, the professor said and he predicted they would disappear entirely and then the other toes in succession, the last battle for survival to be made by the big toe.

The weight of the body is forcing feet into their present casings, he said. The result is that feet are losing their shape. Toes are compressed. Corns and callouses follow. Hoofs are the logical results.

MISSIONARY NOTES

HOW THE AFRICAN GIVES

The African native is poor beyond words to describe. No house but a mud hut. No furniture but a reed mat. No dishes but clay pots. No clothing but a goat's hide. No food but cornmeal porridge. No machines. No implements. Really you would say that he has nothing that makes life comfortable and strong.

Yet he gives to God's work. At the outstation he builds the church, the schoolhouse, the pastor-teacher's house and kitchen, and a house for the missionary to live in when he visits the place. He gives of what money he can earn. He gives grain or anything else he may possess. In a recent offering one native brought a good helmet that he had bought with his hard-earned money, and which was the pride of his life.—Rev. John R. Gates, Rhodesia.

ARE YOU WEARING A CHURCH OR TWO?

A missionary who was at home on furlough was invited to a dinner at a great summer resort, where he saw and met many women of prominence and position.

After dinner he went to his room and wrote a letter to his wife. He said:

"Dear Wife: I've had dinner at the great Hotel _____ . The company was wonderful. I saw strange things today. Many women were present. There were some who wore, to my certain knowledge, one church, forty cottage organs and twenty libraries."

In his great longing for money to provide the gospel for hungry millions, he could not refrain from estimating the silks, satins, and diamonds of the guests at the dinner in terms of his people's need.

LEPERS IN MISSION HOSPITALS

More than twelve thousand lepers are being cared for in ninety mission hospitals the world over. Dr. R. M. Wilson, who has charge of one of these hospitals in Kwangju, Korea, has his little community so well organized that the patients, in addition to caring for gardens of their own, are making brick for the erection of a new ward.

The money for this new ward came as the result of a sad incident. A leper girl had been begging for weeks to be allowed to come into the hospital, but the place was already crowded, and orders had come from headquarters that no more patients were to be admitted. Finally, as winter came on, the girl became desperate, and ended her life by drowning. The case so stirred the hearts of the native Korean people that they gave $300 for the erection of a sort of hut where special cases could be cared for. Already twenty-five patients are housed in the shack, and it is hoped that when the ward is completed, these lepers may be "promoted" to the regular hospital.

One great need of the patients is for warm sleeveless jackets. Cast-off vests serve the purpose admirably, and they can be sent from America duty free, but if they are made in Korea the material and workmanship amount to several dollars a garment. PUBLICITY SUPT.

CAN BE NO LEAGUE WITHOUT AMERICA

London, Nov. 10.—A number of British statesmen, all of world prominence, including one who is stationed at Lloyd George's residence in Downing street, have come to the conclusion that if the United States does not accept the League of Nations, there can be no league at all.

"Of course, the United States may come in or stay out as it desires," said the Downing street official, "but England, France and Italy are not prepared to enter a new association, abandoning the present one. America instigated the present league and now she has left Europe to carry it through while she wrestled with domestic politics."

Among the other statesmen, whose names may not be mentioned, it found a sentiment for the present league or none. They deride the idea of a world court without a League of Nations to enforce its decisions, comparing such a condition to that of a government having only a judicial branch but no legislative, executive or military branches.

These men recall The Hague tribunal as a horrible example of a merely judicial League of Nations, contending that the court could not survive without the backing of the league. Therefore, should the present league fall because of America's aloofness, they predict that the entire idea will be abandoned.

This does not mean that Great Britain does not stand ready to concede America's exceptions and reservations. If these be submitted they would certainly receive consideration and very likely the English would be found ready to enter a league with all the American reservation conceded.

FORT WORTH FALL RODEO

Fort Worth, Nov. 10.—Four world's champions of cowboy sports will defend their titles at the Fall Rodeo which will be staged here November 24 to 27. They are Jim Massey of Snyder, Texas, champion steer bull-dogger; Chester Byers of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, champion fancy ropo; Bryan Roach of Fort Worth, champion broncho buster and Tommy Kirman of El Paso, champion trick and fancy rider. Each champion is now in training here in anticipation of a gruelling contest. Many other cowboys and cowgirls who will compete in the Rodeo for large cash prizes are arriving here, while six cars of wild longhorn Brahma steers and outlaw horses, with which the contestants will test their skill, have already arrived and are now quartered in nearby pastures.

WIFE SLAYER KILLS SELF AS POSSE NEARS

Paris, Tex., Nov. 15.—After shooting and killing his wife at their home, four miles northeast of here, Saturday night, William Loftin shot and killed himself rather than surrender himself Sunday morning when a searching party found him two miles from Pine Bluff, Perry, near Ward's sawmill. He turned his pistol on himself after exchanging shots with the posse.

He is said to have shot and killed his wife during a dispute as to whether a window in their bedroom should remain open or closed during the night.

Depository Bank
American Exchange National Bank of Dallas, Texas
Assets over $44,000,000.00

INTRODUCTION

The United Home Builders of America, operating under a "Declaration of Trust" and Agreement, with the Home office located in Dallas, Texas, have appointed W. M. Webb and A. A. Cocks as Trustees to handle the "Trust Fund," to be administered strictly according to the terms and conditions set out in the co-operative contract issued to the co-operators, or "members," who help to build the business, known as the United Home Builders of America. The aforesaid Trustees have given a good and sufficient bond in the sum of $100,000.00.

OUR PROPOSITION AS A LOAN

The owner of a contract is entitled to a loan in the numerical order of the application therefor, according to the year, month, day, hour and minute the application is signed and when funds are accumulated therefor, in the "Loan or Trust Fund," as stated in the terms and conditions of the contract issued.

Under the terms of the contract, the "contract member" can

ACCUMULATE MONEY

BUY A HOME,
BUILD A HOME,
IMPROVE PROPERTY,
OR PAY OFF A MORTGAGE

carrying a high rate of interest, and you can repay the United Home Builders at the rate of $10.00 per month, with 3 per cent per annum on unpaid yearly balances, on each $1,000.00 borrowed, with the privilege of paying off the unpaid balance at any time, without bonus or premium.

No loan will be made until at least 15 per cent of the "face value" of your contract has been paid in, but if your contract should mature in six months, or any time prior to the payment of 15 monthly installments, you have the right to advance the difference and secure the loan at once; or you may continue your payments until 15 "monthly installments" have been paid, then take the loan according to the terms of your contract.

Or in lieu of a loan, YOU CAN TURN YOUR CONTRACT INTO CASH.

OUR PROPOSITION AS AN INVESTMENT

When the contract has matured for a loan under the terms thereof, the United Home Builders will, if the holder so elects, pay to the "member" the full amount of all monthly installments paid on the contract, and in addition thereto One Hundred and Fifty Dollars in Cash for each $1,000 carried.

Monthly installments of $10.00 each, paid on a contract reached for a loan in fifteen months the estimated average time for maturing our contracts would be as follows:
Fifteen monthly installments...$150.00
Cash bonus paid in lieu of a loan... 150.00

Total amount paid contract member
.....$300.00
A clear net profit of 140.00
On an investment of 150.00
This means an average of about 150 per cent per annum on the money you have invested in our contracts.

CAN YOU BEAT IT?

The above cash bonus of $150.00 on a $1,000 contract is paid in lieu of a loan in whatever month the contract is reached for a loan, and said bonus is ABSOLUTELY GUARANTEED.

CHOICE OF OPTIONS

When a contract has matured for a loan, the contract member has the choice of three options:

FIRST. The contract member can accept the loan at 3 per cent per annum, computed annually on unpaid balances, repayable in small monthly payments, less than rent.

SECOND. The member may reject the loan and cash in his contract for $150.00 more than he has paid in on "monthly installments." A net profit of $150.00 on each $1,000 contract carried.

THIRD. The contract member can refuse the loan; reject the bonus of $150.00 and carry his contract for 120 months, making payments for 100 months only, and receive his proportionate share of all profits accruing from the simple and compound interest earnings, not, however, to exceed the estimated maximum amount named in Section 14 of the contract.

It was convenient for only parents of the pupils to attend the affair but during the holidays a public recital will be given at the school auditorium and the teacher and class will be happy for all to attend who are interested.
