We want to again call the attention of our farmer friends to the silage special which will be in Graham on Wednesday, September 3. The talks by the specialists who will accompany this train will commence at 8:30 in the morning, and while this is an early hour to invite you to come to Graham, yet this train is operated for your especial benefit and we trust you will avail yourself of this opportunity to learn the advantages of silos, and the kind of feed to raise to put in them. The information you will glean from the visit of this train will cost you nothing except a little energy to get here and we feel it will be time well spent.

We are proud to see so many newsy letters from our correspondents and we wish to assure them that they are very much appreciated by the readers of the paper as well as the editor. We would like to have an expression from some of our readers as to what they think of the many nice letters sent in each week from the various communities. In order to offer our correspondents as much encouragement as possible and to further convince them that their efforts are appreciated we would like to have as many of our readers as will write us a short letter and tell us what they think of the correspondent's department.

The Reporter always appreciates the efforts of its readers in bringing about helpful discussions, and one of our good farmer friends submits some questions, asking that they be discussed through the columns of this paper. We would like to have you tell him and, just what you think about them. Our correspondents and all readers are invited to participate in this discussion. Here are the questions: "Is the present destructive drouth on the cotton crop a blessing or otherwise? Do you think it was sent for a purpose, and if so, what purpose?" The editor would appreciate a free discussion of these questions, both from the man who asked them and the general public. The columns of The Reporter are open to you, use them as you see fit.

The West Texas Reporter editor seems to have hubbed it with one of his correspondents. Although we are opposed to disruption in the news-family, we are bound to admit that it is capital reading. Brer Kessler doesn't have it all his way, either.—Woodson Record.

Nope, we don't have it all our way, not by a long shot. And if we did, our correspondent would not have had to spend so much energy on his proposition. But no matter what our differences, we were both trying to accomplish the same thing, and if we never succeed there will be a certain measure of good result from the discussion. Publicity is the thing. It will correct evils, establish good, assist the meritorious, hinder the harmful and if rightfully handled, will accomplish more than any one factor in our government. We like to have our correspondents express their opinions. It matters not whether they accord with our own, so long as they tend to benefit the citizenship of this section of the state.

Good roads are a saving to the merchant, the farmer and the ranchman. Careful investigation has proven that the saving to all concerned in the building of good roads will more than pay for the construction and maintenance.—Albany News.

What stronger argument or reason is necessary in order to induce Texas people to make their state the leader in the matter of good improved public highways? They are the trump cards.—Fort Worth Record.

Our Trip to San Antonio.

Delegates to the San Antonio convention of the Farmers, Educational and Co-operative Union were the following: County delegates, Judge Fry, A. H. Jones, I. B. Padgett, Mr. Young, C. W. Junker, A. P. Stewart and G. C. Boyle. Local delegates from Lone Oak 1002, A. P. Stuart and Dan Orr. Owing to press of business Judge Fry and Messrs. Jones and Padgett could not go so we put Bro. E. B. Moreland of Olney in the Judge's place, and he, C. W. Junker and myself were given seats in the convention. Neither of us missed a roll call nor a meeting and was together to the end.

We had the pleasure of hearing the report from Mr. Williams and Mr. Ousley which was truly a very elaborate and ably gotten up report. These gentlemen didn't betray the trust confided in them by our Order and our Governor when they were sent to the far east to study the condition of the manufacturers and producers, and their method of finance, rural credits and co-operation. It was a very comprehensive report and they did themselves proud. We are under lasting obligations to them and I predict that great good will come out of this trip.

They were gone three months and made all haste they could without slighting their work. I cannot in this article tell you one-fourth of the report, but you can get it in full in the Ft. Worth Record. It would have done you good to have heard that forceful and eloquent speaker, Mr. Ousley, address us after reading this report. He is a gentleman of letter and culture and made as fine talk as I ever heard. He told us many good things and answered all questions to the satisfaction of all. It will pay anyone that is not taking the Record to get it and read the report and then join the Farmers Union and get the benefits of co-operation in buying and selling and be better citizens.

I could tell you many more good things and may come back at some other time.

As our trip we were routed over the Katy and they certainly left nothing undone to make our trip pleasant and all the employees of the road were courteous and obliging.

The mayor of San Antonio extended to us all the hospitalities that the great city possesses and the great bands rendered some fine music for us; we were treated royally by them and will long remember the warm welcome they accorded us. As it is an old city and a very large one, it has many points of interest, and I wish that every boy and girl could go over the ground that I did and have as kind and as well posted a guide as I had for their young minds could grasp and retain things that in after years would be very valuable to them and their families.

In conclusion please accept our thanks for the many kindnesses shown us at San Antonio, by the Katy railroad, the Fort Worth Record, Mr. Williams and Mr. Ousley personally, and by the best county paper in Texas, The West Texas Reporter.

G. C. BOYLE.

Pratt Family Reunion.

It was the pleasure of the undersigned to be present at the family reunion of G. W. Pratt. They met on Aug. 12 at the home of L. M. Pratt. The old folks had all their children together: Chester Pratt of Falls; Parley Pratt and family of Waco; Finley Pratt and family of Elvinsville; Wm. Pratt and family of Woodson; Mrs. Eula Duckworth and John Pratt, the first and only auto shover in this part of Texas; Miss Hettie Pratt; a brother, Dan Pratt and wife of Ranger, and Mrs. Ida Hancock of Lacassa.

When we began to meet at L. M. Pratt's we found him out in the yard popping popcorn and of course we thought that was what we were going to have for dinner, as some of them said Larry had been out there popping corn all night. But let me tell you, Mr. Editor, about 12 o'clock Mrs. Mollie Pratt and Grandma Woods had their say. I saw they were dragging all the chairs on the place towards the kitchen and they walked us all off the way they had carried the chairs and my sonny, there were fourteen fried chickens and all sorts of good things, and after thanks were returned by Parley Pratt, we proceeded to see what we could do for Larry and your humble servant made a good hand. Chester Pratt, the second son of G. W. Pratt and wife, the family did not know him when they got him out of the dining room, he had grown so. They all got through dinner and they heard an auto horn and looked out and here came Dan Pratt and his whole force from Ranger, adding about ten more to the crowd. This was more than Larry could stand, so he took his gun and started out through the field and we were uneasy about him, but he came back in an hour or so grinning and said he had just as well grin and endure it.

There were forty of them with myself. I counted one where they had dragged those chairs, you know. There were three tables and I think Mrs. Addie Pratt made a hand at all three of them. After dinner we took two car loads of them to South Bend for some cold drinks, but we failed to get them, as they were out of ice, so we came back to Larry's and talked over old times and finally time for separation came and we were invited to the sitting room and the family sang "God Be With You 'Til We Meet Again," and prayer was offered by Parley Pratt, then we started to the home of G. W. Pratt near Elvinsville.

The next day was spent on the old reunion ground, where dinner was spread on the grandstand and thanks were offered by Mr. Duckworth and we proceeded to eat, drink and be merry. Again after dinner they got Mr. Price of Jacksboro to take a picture of father and mother and the children and their families, then one of G. W. Pratt and his six boys, and then one of the whole crowd. They said they wanted to wear some mule colts and told me and Jack Washburn and Dan Pratt and Mr. Duckworth to come to the front. I think that picture ought to sell for enough to pay the expenses of the whole thing.

It was a happy meeting, as they have not all been together before for fourteen years.

C. D. YANCEY.

To the Citizens of Texas.

If the South desires to be a free, prosperous people now is the time for action. They are offered the opportunity and they have the means in their hands. Remember setting and stabilizing the price of cotton is a battle between the people of the South and the speculator.

The people have the weapons of war at their command (the finances of the world and the organization to use it.) The South has all the ammunition, the spot cotton, they can place it in the hands of the enemy or keep it for their own guns. This is the question to decide; will they commit financial, moral and social suicide, or will they live and prosper? It is up to them.

The Southern States Cotton Corporation has furnished the weapons of war, it has the road clear—everything in readiness and standing ready for the ammunition-cotton. The country banks and merchants should not wait for the farmer to do it all—it is as much their business to get a good price for cotton as it is the farmers. Many of the banks and merchants are actively contracting cotton. Some are furnishing the contracting fees and taking the duplicate contract as collateral security. Some are contracting large quantities and guaranteeing their customers to fill them.

The plan is so simple and plain no one need misunderstand it. It is the same as placing the cotton in a warehouse or commission house and borrowing three-fourths of its value—except it is sold to the Corporation, and the Corporation borrows the money and makes definite arrangements for holding it off the market in a business way. The people, as a legal association, are doing it in place of each individual acting blindly in the matter. Let each man reading this article make up his mind to do all in his power. It is time to lay aside quibbling and indifference and go to work.

I hope the press will consider the importance of action and publish this letter, also the enclosed one from the directors and enter actively into the work of freeing the South.

The preachers and teachers, lawyers and doctors, can and should lend their assistance. We should put in the next two months working and talking for cotton. Add $20.00 or $25.00 per bale to every bale of cotton raised in your community or county and think of the results it would produce to each individual; to merchants, banks, churches, schools and good roads. Think of the change it would make in ten years and act accordingly. Act like sane business men and women who have the destiny of a nation in their hands to shape—bankers, merchants and public men have no right to say they do not understand it, if they have not availed themselves of the opportunity of attending the conventions or gone to the office and made investigation—and, if they refuse to do so, it looks like they are against a better system, satisfied with the present, or care nothing for the people. In either case they do not deserve the support of the people.

Our doors are open for all who wish to investigate—come and do so. We can furnish banks and merchants with contracting books, call for them.

A few farmers say their cotton is mortgaged and the merchants will not allow them to sell through the Corporation. If the farmer agrees to turn over to such a merchant the cash payment and scrip, and is refused by the merchant, he had better get out from "under the thumb" of that merchant and stay out. He is in danger. One-fifth of the cotton of Texas alone will win the battle. "Get the cotton." There will be a competent man in every town to grade and make settlement. Yours very truly,

Southern States Cotton Corporation.
Per W. B. Yeary,
Vice-Pres. for Texas.
G. W. Wiley, Local Rep.

ANIMALS USED TO TEST DRUGS.

Use is made by chemical manufacturers of various animals, such as chickens, dogs, cats and frogs, to test the efficacy of drugs. Ergotine, for instance, is tested on chickens in an extremely simple way. Should it fail to turn a chicken's comb black it is at once known by the experimenter that the drug is worthless. Dogs are employed to test hashish. This is manufactured from female buds of hemp, the male buds having no particular medicinal value. Hashish administered to dogs induces a peculiar pathological condition, and, if the drug is correctly prepared, which is seen in no other animal save man himself. Digitalis, the heart stimulant, is best tested on frogs. Injecting a drop of the drug into the stomach of the frog, the chemist, by means of the kymograph, or heart recording machine, studies the changes of the frog's heart action, thus obtaining accurate knowledge as to the effect of that particular kind of digitalis.

UNCOVERED BURIED CITY.

Prof. Hiram Bingham, head of the Yale Peruvian expedition, has returned to this country, having conducted extensive exploration work chiefly at Manchu Picchu, the Inca city discovered on a previous exploration journey. The jungle was cleared away and more than one hundred caves were discovered. Ruins of baths, houses and palaces were also laid bare, and practically the entire city uncovered. Owing to opposition on the part of President Billinghurst and his congress, Professor Bingham declares he does not intend to return to Peru in the near future.

WANT MORE TO BREAK.

Church—What are those English suffragettes after, anyway?
Gotham—Oh, they want to help make the laws.
"Why, they break the laws we have now!"
"I know it; but there are not enough laws to break. They want to make some more!"
