Ches Gore Making An Invisable Reputation As Peace Officer and Collector - Assessor

While Not A Terry County Native Is One of Pioneers. Successful in Handling Prisoners. Selected With Care A Fine Bunch of Deputies Who Know Their Duties

This week, we are dropping off business men, and letting them rest a spell, and getting onto another county official, in the person of our very popular Sheriff, Tax-Assessor and Collector, if you can feature a tax collector being popular. However, there are collectors and assessors. Some of them can extract the money from you for your taxes by using the "painless" method, while others go after it in the rough shod position he held until 1926, when he formed a partnership with Jim Miller in retailing Magnolia products. Their's was one of the most successful service stations in the city. In 1933, he sold to Mr. Miller as the new Gulf station just built on west Main was offered him. This station was a success from the start, and Ches continued its operation until he was installed in office in January 1937 for the first term.

method. In the office where taxes are paid, two very obliging deputies are there to wait on one, and make their call just as pleasant as possible, but this later.

Sheriff Ches Gore was born during the last year of the 19th century, so is now or soon will be exactly 40 years of age. His parents lived in Hall county, Texas, at the time of his birth, and lived there until 1915, when they moved to Terry county, purchasing a farm a half mile northeast of the city limits, and built a home thereon. For two years after young Ches arrived in Terry, he attended the Brownfield schools, but started in as a ranch hand on the Ray Brownfield ranch about 1917. Being a youth only 18, when the call for men to carry on the U. S. part of the World War, youths of his class were concentrated at the colleges to be trained as soldiers, and at the same time be instructed in the literary departments. So Ches and a number of other Terry county youths were sent to Wayland College, Plainview, but Ches added with one of his sly grins that very little book knowledge was undertaken but plenty drilling. The book "Iarnin," was no fault of the college, however, but that of a lot of unruly young guys, according to Ches. But they had to submit to drilling.

While well trained, the war ended without any of this class having to go overseas, so he came home and took up cowboying again, and was on the ranch some two and one-half years. Let us say just here that the training these boys got at Plainview is fully recognized by the army, they being sworn in same as those who trained at Bowie, Travis or Camp Mabrey, and they are eligible for any benefits other soldiers have. About 1919, Ches was married to Miss Ona Walker, a native Terry county girl, to which union two fine offsprings have been born, Miss Doris-Lee, now finishing her sophomore year in Tech college, and a son, Claudie, still in Brownfield high school.

Somewhere about the time Ches was married, he went to work for Pat Brothers as butcher, which

Mayor Coleman Not Pleased With Clean-up

In conversation with Mayor Clyde C. Coleman this week about the results of the Clean-up Campaign last week, he remarked that in most instances, people had lent hearty support by cleaning up their premises, but that in some instances, people with the very dirtiest and eye-sore places had made no attempt whatever to assist the town to become clean and pleasing.

Mr. Coleman explained that this condition was mostly in the business district, and that the residence districts came nearer complying with his proclamation than the business area. Mr. Coleman explained that the city did everything possible to comply with their part of the program by providing the means of removing the debris, but he felt like the civic clubs and chamber of commerce had rather fell down on their job of seeing and encouraging people to clean up their premises. Personally, we agree with Mr. Coleman.

It is his idea that these clubs and committees should have called on places that were making no attempt to clean up their places and kindly ask them to do so. Even now it is not too late to do this. It adds very little to clean yard or premises when the next door neighbor fails or refuses to join his neighbor in giving the old town a scrubbing.

The Herald don't understand much about the law, but it seems that eye-sores could be declared a nuisance, and that some refuse could be classified as a menace to health, and that the city through the health department could go after these parties, if they refuse to clean up after being visited by committees.

The city has no legal right to enter one's premises and clean it up even if the city was able and willing to do so. So, in a way it rather becomes a matter of pride and industry to keep one's own premises presentable.

Minister Reports Plains Growing

Rev. J. D. Anderson, pastor of the Plains Baptist church, accompanied by his daughter and little grandson, Mrs. C. F. Lemons and Edward from Floydada, were in our city, Wednesday, and paid the Herald a call. He reports three new homes just completed by Mr. Camp, Jesse Criswell and John Fitzgerald, and a nice home started by A. C. Copeland.

The trustees of the Plains school have recommended the erection of a new school building to cost $75,000 if approved by the property holding voters. The Plains school has recently added the high school students from three other schools, Glen Park, Center Point and Moorland. Liberty is already sending their high school students to Plains.

Rev. Anderson also reported the roads from Plains to the oil field towns were being improved by oiling.

Jaycees Held Monthly Meeting Tues. Night

Regular monthly meeting of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday night at the Venetian auditorium with fifty-seven members and guests present. Meeting was held in the form of a banquet and such procedure is to be followed until further notice.

At the conclusion of the meal, reports were heard from the various committees, which, as a whole, had made favorable progress in their assignments.

Among other things, a resolution was passed to help the band mothers and the city keep the band instructor here for another two months.

Tentative plans are being formulated by the organization to stage a spring ball, which if successful shall be turned into an annual affair.

W. J. Fulps has gone to Fort Worth for the summer.

Another Tragedy Marked Up Here Monday

Just west of the city limits Monday about 10:30 a. m., was enacted another serious tragedy, when Mrs. Dessie Berryhill, 50, was run down and so badly bruised and broken that she passed away at the Treadaway-Daniell hospital about 6 p. m., that day. Mrs. Berryhill was crossing the highway to board a car to ride into town, when she was hit by a car driven by Mrs. Della Adams.

Charges of second degree homicide were filed by two highway patrolmen against Mrs. Adams, as her breaks were said to have been faulty. Mrs. Adams hastened to the nearest phone to call the ambulance and officers. The affair is greatly to be regretted by everyone, and it should remind all of us to see that our cars are in good driving condition at all times, and to drive carefully. It is bad to snuff out the life of another human.

The body was prepared for burial by the Brownfield Funeral home and services conducted at the Assembly of God church in the north part of the city, by Rev. Bryce, at 2 p. m., Tuesday. The body was then carried to Forrester for burial.

Large Crowds Reported At WTCC Meet

Mayor Clyde C. Coleman, Secretary J. E. Shelton of the Senior Chamber of Commerce, Glen Akers and Tom May, were the official representatives of Brownfield at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce annual convention at Abilene. Much business was said to have been transacted by the organization in the time allotted.

Tom May reports that Col. Ernest O. Thompson made one of the best talks he heard. Much of his speech was used in getting the railroads told. According to Col. Thompson, who is a railroad commissioner, the trouble with railroads is that they've made no progress. They are still using 19th century rolling stock and methods here in 1939. Who, asked Thompson would buy a T-model truck now? Citing one case of modernization, Mr. Thompson said that one had to make reservation a week in advance to ride the modern streamlined train out of Houston.

Much of the business of the organization was that of rail rate equalization and soil and water conservation. Until Texas and especially west Texas is given a rate more equal to that of the rest of the country, the Interstate Commerce Commission is going to hear protests from this body.

A Short But Lively Term of County Court

County court has been grinding away this week, but so far as one could discern from conversation around the courthouse, most of the cases were for the sale of beer, which is illegal in Terry county. We understand that two of the defendants plead guilty but the fines assessed had not been announced, but will likely be much less than the one who chose to go to bat with his case.

The one tried before a jury was assessed a fine of $100 and costs. Notice of appeal has been made, we understand. During the trial of this case it is said that two attorneys came near to blows, but were separated by a constable and deputy sheriff.

One of the lawyers referred to the constable as a "Two-Bit Constable," but he denies the allegation, by saying he did not have the two bits. By gosh, we always miss all the fun.

We just wonder how this row effected the usual dignity and decorum of our county judge, Raymond Simms?

Mrs. Rudolph Moorhead of Brownfield and Mrs. J. R. Moorhead of Meadow, left Sunday for Oklahoma City to visit.

County Soil Conservation Committee

As announced in these columns last week, the land owning farmers met last Monday afternoon at Union, Meadow, Johnson and Wellman to elect members of what formed the County Soil Conservation Advisory Committee of four members. It was reported that good turn outs were had at all but Meadow, the attendance not being as good as was expected there, perhaps for lack of sufficient advertising.

Union No. 1, elected G. M. Thomason, committeeman; Meadow, No. 2, A. J. Nelson; Johnson No. 3, Wood Johnson; Wellman No. 4, J. L. Lyon. A meeting of these committeemen was held in the office of Judge R. A. Simms, Tuesday afternoon, and A. J. Nelson was selected as chairman. J. L. Lyon was elected delegate to the Plainview district meeting next Monday, 22, where we understand delegates in turn will be elected to go to the State meeting presumably at Austin, May 29th.

This is in compliance with recent legislation passed by both houses at Austin, and signed by Gov. Lee O'Daniel. Farmers who agree by vote in each county to comply are aided by both the state and national governments in soil and water conservation. This will mean much to Terry county, which erodes badly from wind.

In fact, in driving over the country, we are very much impressed with the fact that the worst wind erosion, despite unusually big rains in January, have occurred in Terry in some 22 years. More sand is piled around most houses than in history almost. Measures to control this drifting sand is very important.

Sky Woman

Three women who fly are Alice Faye, Constance Bennett and Nancy Kelly, stars of "Tail Spin," 20th Century-Fox production coming Sunday and Monday to the Rialto Theatre. The film tells the story of their split-second escapes and the heart throbs behind their spectacular lives.

Good Rains Visited Terry Tuesday

Ninety-five one-hundredths of an inch of rain visited Brownfield at an early hour Tuesday morning. This rain covered the south side of the county pretty well, but the north side got light showers. Brownfield seemed to be the dividing line of the heavy and light showers.

However, the north part of the county was not as badly in need or rain as the south. The rain was especially good from Brownfield to Seagraves. Wellman and Union communities seeming to share the heaviest falls, which in some places was said to amount to two and one-half inches.

Since the weather kinder warmed up this week, planting operations have been going on at a rapid rate, and we hope soon to see cotton, feed and corn shining up and down the rows.

The planting season was fully a month ahead of the time last year. In fact some didn't get enough rain to plant on until after the 20th of June last year.

County Agent R. N. McClain Turns In Long List of Benefits to Terry County Farmers

Point Out Many Way for Our Farmers to Cash-In On the 1939 Crop. Advises Against Having Just A Fraction of Acre Over Allotment. If in Doubt Talk With McClain.

Farmers of Terry County are in a position to earn approximately $714,000 in AAA benefits by participating to the fullest extent possible in the 1939 farm program.

About $475,000 of this amount is offered in "conservation" payments, designed to reward farmers for soil conservation accomplished through adjustment of soil, depleting acreage, and for carrying out approved soil-building practices such as terracing, strip cropping, seeding legumes, establishing pastures and planting green manure crops.

The other $239,000 is the estimated total for the county that can be derived through the cotton price adjustment, or "parity" payment. The parity payment is so named because it is designed, as near as possible with the funds available, to make up the difference between the market price and the parity price of the given crop.

These two sets of payments are calculated according to two slightly different sets of rules.

J. E. Patterson, Secretary of the County Agricultural Conservation Committee, makes the following explanation of how these payments are made.

Conservation Payments
The conservation payment is 2 cents a pound on cotton, and (tentatively) $.92 an acre, adjusted up or down according to the farm's productivity index, on general crops on the farm's general allotment less 25 per cent of the cotton allotment.

The rate on cotton applies to the normal yield of the farm's cotton acreage allotment, and is figured by multiplying the payment rate times the normal yield times the number of acres in the allotment.

For example, if a farmer has a cotton allotment of 20 acres and the normal yield established for his farm is 200 pounds of lint cotton per acre, the payment is 2 cents a pound on 4,000 pounds (20x200) or $80.

The rate on general crops applies to the number of acres in the general allotment.

Soil Building Payments
A part of the conservation payment is in the form of assistance for carrying out soil building practices. Each practice is measured in units. For example, construction of 200 linear feet of terrace counts as one unit; seeding an acre of alfalfa qualifies as two units; and an acre of green manure or cover crop rates as one unit. And the rate of payment, of assistance, for carrying out such practices is $1.50 a unit.

However, each farm is given a maximum soil building allowance. That is, the farmer is paid at the $1.50 rate up to a certain limit, the limit varying according to the farm.

Parity Payments
In addition to the conservation payments, the 1939 program provides for a price adjustment or "parity" payment of 1.6 cents a pound on cotton.

The rate applies to the number of acres in the cotton allotment. Example: If a farmer's cotton allotment is 20 acres, and the normal yield established for his farm is 200 pounds an acre, the cotton price adjustment payment is 1.6 cents a pound on 4,000 pounds, or $64.

If the farmer exceeds his cotton allotment by a fraction of an acre, he forfeits his right to any parity payment.

Mahon Explains Delay Of 1938 AAA Checks

Congressman George Mahon this week announced that he had conferred in Washington with Comptroller General Brown and officials of the Department of Agriculture and Commodity Credit Corporation regarding the issuance of 1938 AAA compliance checks to producers who, it is claimed, are indebted to the Commodity Credit Corporation by reason of the fact that cotton placed in the loan during the 1937 season was allegedly overgraded. The cotton in question was stored in certain warehouses at Jayton, Haskell, Lorenzo, Snyder, O'Donnel, and Hamlin. Mahon stated that, in cases where the Commodity Credit Corporation was demanding a set-off agreement because of alleged overgrading of the cotton, considerable delay had occurred in College Station and that it had been held that these cases had to come to Washington for an additional audit before final payment. Hundreds of producers throughout many West Texas counties are affected by this action.

"However, it now appears," Mahon said, "under procedure worked out this week, that when these cases are cleared at College Station and referred to Washington final approval of payment can be secured very promptly here. Last fall producers and I myself were assured by the Commodity Credit Corporation that where farmers signed set-off agreements or paid alleged deficits in cash there would be no delay in the issuance of checks for compliance with the 1938 AAA program. Chairman of the Farmers Committee Joe Rose of Dickens, Secretary of the Committee Judge Marshall Formby of Dickens, and hundreds of farmers have joined me in demanding that this promise be kept. Moreover, we are exerting every effort to cooperate in securing more prompt delivery of all the other AAA checks which are still outstanding in many localities."

Young Beck Wins In Poster Contest

In a letter from Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner, he informed us that Brownfield was in the winnings again this year on fire prevention posters. Last year one of the little sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Arvay won a prize. Euland Beck of the west ward school won a 4th prize and $2.50 this year.

There are three divisions, each carrying four prizes, high school, intermediate and primary. The first prize in each division is $10, second prize $7.50; third $5.00 and fourth, $2.50.

Mr. Hall stated that a number of the posters were ruled ineligible because of a lack of information about the name of the school, the teacher and grade of the pupil submitting the paper.

Revivalist Comes Highly Recommended

Ray Johnson is the man who is to hold the revival at the Methodist church, June 4-18. He is most highly recommended by such men as Bishop Arthur Moore and Bishop C. C. Seelman. The local pastor has a letter from one of his presiding elders:

"I was his elder when he was pastor at Brownsville, Texas, and now that I am a pastor, Muskogee, Oklahoma, I have insisted he be with me in a meeting. He is here now, and he is the best man I know, safe, sane and deeply religious."

He and his singer are to be in Brownfield, June 4th to 18th.

The Official Paper of Terry County and the City of Brownfield

A Dallas driver that was doing ninety recently hit a concrete bridge abutment, wrecked his car and got killed. It's a pity all 90 per mile drivers could not hit a concrete post instead of some poor unfortunate human.

Neighboring papers have been complimenting Editor Hale of the Yoakum County Review, Plains, on the installation of a typesetting machine. We have been waiting for his first machine set paper to add our mite. But we learned this week that the machine was still out of time, and the paper is still being hand set.

It seems that a bunch of the south Texas counties are always getting their state taxes remitted, and one or two of them have been having them remitted since we landed in Texas nearly 40 years ago. Lately, rich Harris county, of which Houston is the county seat has been added to the list, and others had their time extended. Now, why can't a few of the west Texas counties get in on that deal that are hurt from blowing sand, if seaside counties can get it for being injured by waves, tides and floods?

Well, the good rains have the stage here this week by a large majority, and farmers are just about as scarce about the town this week as the proverbial hen's tooth. However, you can note the good farm ladies coming in with their eggs, butter or cream to sell or exchange for needed groceries, leaving the men and boys to keep the planters humping up and down the rows. A lot of seed will go into the ground in this section this and next week. Land is in fine shape, and with usual rainfall from now on, Terry should produce an average crop.

It was reported to us at Lubbock Tuesday that this session of Federal Court in that city was especially heavy with applications of foreign born people to become American citizens, and the proportion of Germans was greatly in advance of all other nationals. So, it looks as if we in the west at least, should have no fear of our Germanic settlers turning to and aiding Mr. Hitler. In fact, on the face of this evidence, it looks like the former citizens of Germany are trying as fast as possible to get out from under. But there was a case or two before that in which we were a witness, and being in the same room could not help hearing the examination. We just wondered if there are any natives that had as little knowledge of the laws and constitution of our country as one, especially displayed. He didn't know who was president, nor what part Tom Connally and Morris Shepher played in our government, nor did he know who represented us in congress, nor what form of government we are under. And of course he knew nothing about congress being the law making body, the president the man to execute the laws, or that the supreme court was to pass on their constitutionality. Had he not had two well versed ex-Germans with him for witnesses, we doubt he would have made the grade. Here is our idea of the applicant: We believe he is a good, law-abiding citizen, a hard working man who probably pays all his honest debts. But he is a man who comes in from the farm tired at night, feeds his stock and poultry, eats his supper and immediately retires. He has no time, he thinks, to spend on reading papers, magazines, etc. No doubt his neighbors will go to some trouble now to teach him something about the country he has lived in, according to his own testimony, since a baby, and he is now a man of 54 years.

THE NEW YORK FAIR

New York City, the metropolis of superlative in the way of skyscrapers, wealth, population and other elements of giness, has opened its World's Fair which in size and cost eclipses all other expositions of its kind. The fair, costing $160,000,000, is expected to draw 50,000,000 visitors and $1,000,000,000 to its city by closing time, October 31.

It is, moreover, a symbol of the huge size of this country and of its resources. Significantly, because of the burden of armaments on others, the United States is the only nation today which can afford two World's Fairs, costing $50,000,000 and $160,000,000; it is the only country which stands apart as a champion of peace and friendly international relations.

The theme of the New York Fair—the World of Tomorrow—which gives it uniqueness is epitomized in a model Democracy which is housed in the largest globe ever built by human beings. In this exhibit there is laid out the imagined city of the future, based on careful calculations of skillful engineers and scientists. Such a prophetic display is founded upon faith in a better world in the future and the capacity of people to achieve it. If all the people of Europe could see the New York Fair, the course of history might be changed.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram

POLICE ADVISE YOU TO BE FINGERPRINTED BEFORE TRIP

State police this week advised summer vacationists to start their trips by way of their local police stations.

There an obliging officer will record their fingerprints and give them an identification card valuable in case of accident, amnesia or other serious illness.

"Your card will be a sort of inter-state passport, showing who you are, and where you're from—a mighty handy thing to have along with your driver's license," Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., state police head, commented.

New Bait and Fly Casting Game May Rival "Skeet" in Popularity

WITH AN ESTIMATED total of 12,000,000 anglers in the country, "Fish-O", a new accuracy game just introduced for fly-fishermen and bait-casters is expected soon to rival "skeet" in popularity. Sponsored by the American Wildlife Institute and the Izaak Walton League of America, it may be played both indoors and out. An enthusiastic booster of the sport, because it simulates actual conditions and rules out special equipment, Tony Accetta (center), U. S. professional all-around bait- and fly-casting champion and star of "Let's Go Fishing", new 2-reel sound motion picture being distributed by the Fisher Body division of General Motors, explains the fundamentals of the fly-casting game to Dr. Charles A. Wilson, president of the American Camping Association, at the Michigan Sportsmen's and Boat Show in Detroit, while little Larry Baus Long awaits an opportunity of playing his first game of "Fish-O" as developed for bait-casters. The 4 1/2-year-old boy, grandson of the hunting and fishing editor of the Indianapolis Star, shows exceptional ability with the rod and reel as evidenced by the fact that he appeared on the same program with the champion. Hollow metal rings, or bicycle tires, placed at unknown distances from the caster form the targets used in both games. They are scattered from 20 to 40 feet away for fly-casting, and from 40 to 80 feet for bait-casting.

gives the state first rank in production.

"The tragedy is that two thirds of this butter is of poor quality and serves to curb the consumption of the product on the farm and at the market," W. V. Maddox, dairy manufacturing specialist of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, has commented.

"Yet good sweet cream butter can be produced on Texas farms if milk and cream are handled correctly."

Correct handling begins with the production of milk, which should be clean and free from objectionable flavors, he says. Clean, sterilized utensils are essential.

Cream, whether mechanically separated or hand skimmed, must be cooled immediately after separation and held at 50 degrees until churning time. Freshly separated cream must be cooled before adding to cold cream.

Maddox recommends that the different lots of cream be mixed from two to four hours before churning so that the temperature and ripening will be uniform. Use of a thermometer will help insure butter after 30 to 40 minutes of churning, and firm, not hard butter granules. The best temperature is between 50 and 60 degrees in summer and 55 to 68 degrees in winter, and the churning should be stopped when the granules are the size of grains of wheat.

The granular butter should be washed twice with water of about the same temperature as the buttermilk. The buttermilk, which produces off-flavors very rapidly can be washed out, but not worked out. An ounce of butter salt is added for each pound of butter, and if this is dampened, it will be more evenly distributed.

men in culture, identify them, produce large quantities, and dry and store them. They send some of the stock to Dr. Prince in Houston, who prepares extracts and send them to the cooperating physician. He in turn uses them for both skin tests and therapeutic treatment.

Don't have to ask the fire boys what they're up to, when you see them begin practicing tying in hose from a fire plug to the fire engine late afternoons, to see how quickly they can do it. We know they are getting ready for the firemen's convention, which happens to meet at Harlingen this year.

A. L. I. To Meet In Lubbock, May 31st

LUBBOCK, Texas, May 15. — May 31st next has been set as the date of the Agricultural-Livestock Industrial meeting for West Texas region at Lubbock. This meeting will be held under the immediate direction of Texas State Manufacturers Association, the Texas Technological College and the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. John Lee Coulter, economist Washington, D. C., will be the principal speaker. J. Handy Wright, secretary of the committee on agricultural cooperation of the National Association of Manufacturers will conduct a farmer-manufacturer session. Dr. Kenneth M. Renner, head of the Department of Dairy Manufacturers at Tech will preside.

Dr. Coulter has been described as America's leading authority on foreign commerce and is said to be posted on "tariff and agriculture" than any other man. He will discuss the "cotton situation" and other agricultural problems as they relate to industry.

This is the first meeting of its kind to be held in Texas and Lubbock has been chosen as the location. The session will begin Wednesday morning, May 31, at 9:30 o'clock, at the judging pavilion at Texas Tech and continue through the day. Cost of farm machinery, marketing cattle, wool etc., will be discussed at this meeting.

At noon there will be a barbecue given all the visitors. Approximately 1,000 or more are expected. There will be no registration fee.

Letters of invitation are being mailed to farmers, bankers, newspapermen, manufacturers and business men throughout the area.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alexander of Plainview were down Tuesday looking after their business interest.

Miss Marguerite Wood has returned from Big Spring where she has been teaching the past school year.

Ed Aryain A Full Fledged U. S. Citizen

Ed Aryain, until recently of Brownfield, but now of Seminole, came through Tuesday morning and picked up W. B. Tudor and ye editor, and carried us to Lubbock, where we were supposed to swear that Ed was a tolerably good boy so that Judge Whitt Davidson of the Federal court now in session up there, would swear in Ed as a full-fledged citizen of the good old USA.

While living in the United States since young manhood, he still remained a citizen so far as law goes of Syria, having been born near Damascus. Having married an American girl, the process of naturalization is not so lengthy now, nine months instead of three years in that case. Ed went through all examinations with flying colors, answering many questions about our government with greater accuracy and rapidity than many natives.

It was not that Ed never expected to become a citizen, but like many others, just dreaded the ordeal of the court procedure. By the way we were informed that many are asking for citizenship this term of court, especially Germans.

ALL BLONDES BANNED

Cadets Favor Brunette Beauties

Upsetting various theories and the hopes of all blonde entrants in the competition for the six most beautiful girls at Texas State College for Women, the five gentlemen from Aggie land who made the final choices not only picked four brunettes but left out the blondes entirely. Selected from the sixteen nominees from all four classes, the dark-haired beauties are Misses Margie Smith, senior from Llano; Doris Harrison, freshman nominee from Tuckerman, Ark.; Naomi Boutwell, Terrell sophomore; Edith Eppright, senior from Charlotte, selected at large. Miss Elsie Black of Hallsville, junior chosen at large, is auburn-haired; and Miss Corinne Zimmerly, Dallas junior, is a brunette.

Each of the girls will be featured in full-page pictures in the Daedalian yearbook. Their identities were kept secret until they were presented at the Senior Formal Prom by Editor Doris Coats. Cadets W. D. Barton, Longhorn editor; Andy Rollins, scholarship society president; Joe Boyd, outstanding football player; Bob Adams, senior president; and Bill Smith, Battalion manager, were the blonde-banning judges.

Bi-District Camporee At Seminole

By James Ragan, Scribe Troop 49

On Friday and Saturday of last week the Boy Scouts had a Camporee at Seminole. Troops from Brownfield, Lamesa, Tahoka, Seagraves, Seminole, Ropeville and Meadow were present.

Camp was made at about 3 o'clock Friday and supper was prepared. Troop 49 had the largest camp, having almost perfect attendance and using ten tents, five of which were new, having just been added to our equipment by the American Legion.

Following supper the entire camp was assembled and the council fire was started, during an Indian dance given by Joe Spikes. After a short talk by the new scout executive, the council was turned over to the different troops for campfire stunts. Each troop gave a short program of some kind. After these songs were sung under the leadership of Mr. Peterson, and the council was dismissed.

At ten o'clock Taps was played. At 6 o'clock Saturday Reveille was sounded. Almost immediately the camp was humming with action.

Due to the damp night some of the cooks had trouble starting their fires, but in the end a very good meal was enjoyed.

Immediately after breakfast, the camp was assembled and the contests were started. There were contests in signalling, knot tying, first aid, tracking, compass, fire by flint and steel and an undressing race.

The patrols were competing against time and a very high standard, instead of each other. At the close of the contests personal inspection was held. After this dinner was cooked and the tents taken down. At two o'clock a general assembly was called and the awards were made. At about 2:30 the Scouts began leaving.

The awards were: Class A, Troop 23, Lamesa; Class B, Beaver and Pirate Patrols, Troop 22, Lamesa; and Green Bar, Indian, Wolf, and Panther, Patrols of Troop 49, Brownfield.

Editor's Note: James got this article in a bit too late last week, but as it is a fine article for such a young Scout, we are printing it this week anyway.

SCOUTS OF TROOP 45 ENTERTAIN MOTHERS

The Scouts of Troop 45 entertained their mothers at the Scout hall on Friday night, May 12. A nice program was given by the Scouts. The Welcoming Address was given by Ray Elliott. This was followed by the speech of the evening, given by Dale Rentfro. Then we had a short address by Rev. Walker, who is one of the Troop committeemen. Scoutmaster David Mitchell then described all the work that has been done lately in remodeling the Scout hall. Following these inspiring talks, Coyt Norwood gave a definition of the Scout badge. After this Homer Hughes and Dale Rentfro gave a demonstration of first aid. The semaphore code was then demonstrated by Richard Elliott. Concluding the program, Earl Burnett demonstrated the Wigwag, or dot-dash system of signaling. M. J. Akers and Earl Burnett then served refreshments of cake and punch.

The mothers that were present were: Mesdames Akers, Burnett, Elliott, Rentfro and Hughes. The men present were: Rev. Walker, and Scoutmaster Mitchell; and the Scouts present were: James Hankins, Paul Auburg, Sonny Walls, Coyt Norwood, Homer Hughes, Richard Elliott, Dale Rentfro, Ray Elliott, Earl Burnett and M. J. Akers.

The program was enjoyed very much by all who were present, and it served to arouse interest among the mothers of Troop 45.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Aven, Jr., and son, Gene, spent the week end in Wichita Falls.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

SPRING BLOSSOMS

Blossoms add a charming seasonal quality to your springtime snapshots. Make a collection of such snaps this year—they're welcome in any album.

ANOTHER winter has passed into history, and spring is coming in. Soon many trees will be masses of blossom, early flowers will appear—and we will face picture opportunities that occur at no other season.

Any camera can be used for taking pictures of springtime blossoms. Usually, the best blossom pictures are close-ups, and we should always avoid the temptation to include too much. A single graceful branch generally makes a better picture than a whole orchard.

For these close-ups, a portrait attachment will be needed if you use a box or fixed-focus folding camera. Such an attachment is also helpful with focusing cameras. Another useful device is a short tape measure, since in a close-up the distance from camera to subject must be correct. A pocket range finder is even more convenient for measuring distances. Lighting is important. Straight overhead sunlight should be avoided.

Rather, light should come from the side, or somewhat from behind the blossoms, so that their form and translucency are emphasized. For this reason, the best time for taking blossom pictures are rather early morning or late afternoon. A slightly hazy day, with soft diffused sunlight, is ideal for making these blossom studies.

Any good "chrome" or "pan" film is suitable. For pictures that are to be enlarged, a fine-grained film is best. With "chrome" or "pan" film, satisfactory pictures can often be made without color filters, although a yellow filter such as the K-1 or K-2 may be used for even more truthful tone values and for darkening the sky behind white blossoms.

Blossoms make beautiful spring like settings for informal portraits of friends, or family and children. Collect as many of these pictures as you can this season, for they are always a welcome touch in any album.

Behind the Scenes in American Business

NEW YORK, May 15 — BUSINESS — Settlement of the controversy between operators and miners of bituminous coal, which caused a six weeks' shutdown, brought a deep sigh of relief to the business world last week. A more optimistic viewpoint on business prospects for the summer months was expressed in many quarters, by retailers, salesmen, manufacturers, and professional economists. Because it will mean increased purchasing power in rural areas, the recent upward trend of commodity prices was seen as a forerunner of livelier trade activity. So far, wheat, oats, tin, cotton, silk and soy beans have touched new 1939 highs. In industry, purchasing agents are relaxing their extremely cautious buying policies of last month when European tension was at a peak. Gasoline sales and prices are rising. New orders for lumber are exceeding production. Cigarette consumption is gaining. Heavy airline traffic this spring may encourage the opening of more routes soon. One such project being considered is a line between Kansas City and New Orleans which Kansas City Southern Railway would operate.

WASHINGTON — REA's annual report, just out, reveals healthy progress, with more than 340 projects bringing electric service to an estimated 750,000 people in 150,000 rural homes. Industries in every state in the union participated, the report points out; it cites the bauxite mines of Arkansas, the Montana copper mines, wire drawing plants and manufacturers of equipment throughout the nation. On 1,200,000 poles was strung enough wire to grade the earth five times.

GROCERIES — Sharp increases reported by both chain and independent stores in retail sales of grocery products, unusual in this industry where demand is highly inelastic since people eat about the same quantity of food every day.

AUTO SALES — How much business has improved this year is indicated by automobile factory sales. In the first four months 1,414,776 cars were sold, a gain of 56 per cent over the period in 1938.

Mrs. C. Black and granddaughter, Edith Sue Bozeman were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bridges and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Moore last week.

Junior Chamber To List Vacancies

It has been decided by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to list residence vacancies occurring in the city and try to fill them as immigrants move in.

It was suggested that reports of discontinuance of service could likely be available from the various utility concerns, and vacancies determined in this manner, but landlords, in order to be on the safe side, should list their vacancies at their offices in the E. G. Akers building. It is understood this is to be a free service.

Mr. and Mrs. James Harley Dallas accompanied by their little daughter, and Mrs. Glen Akers left Tuesday for Amarillo.

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

Good congregation at the morning hour last Sunday with two received into the fellowship of the church. The theme of the sermon was the family, or home and emphasized the fact that the home was being undermined and deserted by many who should cherish it and discussed frankly some of the things that was bringing a change for the worse to the homes of the land.

The W. M. U. met in circles last Monday but will all meet at the church next Monday at 2:30 p. m. for their regular monthly missionary program and business meeting.

Next Monday evening at 8 p. m. will be the first regular meeting of the Men's Brotherhood since its organization with 65 members, one month previously and is the only meeting of men only, in the church life and it is hoped that the men will give it their support by their presence. All of the men of the church are invited and welcome. A program has been arranged with local men of the church to bring the discussion which will be changed each meeting.

The pastor and Mrs. Rudolph Moorhead are at the Southern Baptist Convention, meeting this week in Oklahoma City, representing this church and they are expected to bring a message from this great convention to us next Sunday morning. Watch the Baptist Standard for a full report of this missionary meeting.

Beginning next Tuesday at 8 p. m. a teachers training course will be conducted at the church for all teachers and prospective teachers of the church Bible school. The church feeling the responsibility for what is taught each Sunday morning asks that you attend this training for teachers and make yourself the very best teacher possible. A large number not now teaching should take this training as we will need additional teachers as soon as the new addition is completed to our present building and more room is provided.

Bring your visiting friends with you to the church next Sunday morning and they will feel welcome.

HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS SHOWING DECREASE

AUSTIN, Texas, May 5. — Julian Montgomery, State Highway Engineer, called attention to a noteworthy reduction in persons killed and injured in motor vehicle traffic accidents the first three months of 1939, as compared to previous years.

Year	Killed	Injured
1939	353	3,398
1938	434	3,650
1937	441	3,846

"This reduction," Mr. Montgomery said, "was the result of an intensive educational campaign being carried on by the Traffic and Safety Division of the Highway Department in conjunction with the Department of Public Safety and other enforcement agencies. It also shows a splendid co-operation by the traveling public of Texas, but we must keep up the good work."

Sunday continues to lead all other days in the number of accidents, with Saturday in second place. 6 p. m. to 8 p. m. are hours in which most accidents occur, and passenger cars were involved in 70 per cent of all accidents. 62 per cent of all accidents happened while the vehicles were going straight ahead, and 14 per cent of all accidents happened while the operators were driving too fast for conditions. For your own safety and that of others motorists and pedestrians, drive carefully and respect the other drivers' rights.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Moore had as their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Black, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McFarland and family, of Idalou; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Washington and family of Lubbock; Mrs. Bessie Duke of Lubbock; Mr. Lorman Brannan of Indian Gap; Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Brannon and Mr. Ralph Jeter all of Brownfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Turner of Saragosa, Texas, spent a very pleasant week end with Mrs. Turner's mother, Mrs. J. O. Brown.

R. G. Nutt of route three, and M. Y. Bennett of route one, are among the new readers.

Mrs. Bob McDonald of Nocona, Texas is here visiting relatives.

Swimming Pool Opens For Season Today

W. H. Harris is announcing this week the opening of the Brownfield Swimming Pool for the season. As heretofore this pool will be operated in a clean sanitary way, with frequent changes of water. The bath rooms and swim suits for hire will also be kept clean.

As heretofore, there will be a big reduction in the price of swims if one purchases the season or family ticket. See the management at the pool today, Friday, May 19th for particulars.

Parity Payments Endangered

According to Mr. B. L. Thompson, Secretary of the Terry County Agricultural Association, there is considerable opposition in the House of Representatives in the appropriation of the $225,000,000 for parity payments. It is the suggestion of the State President of the Texas Agricultural Association, Mr. C. H. Day, that if the farmers are interested in receiving this payment they should write or wire to their congressman immediately. In other words if the farmers want it they are going to have to show a little fight.

PREACHERS CALLED IN

All of the Methodist preachers of this District were called to Lubbock last Monday to go over the plans for a campaign to raise $300,000 for McMurry college. The president of the college was present, Dr. Frank Turner, and made a most optimistic report on the work.

The presiding elder, Dr. O. P. Clark, called on all the preachers to manifest new and greater devotion to the college and to offer their utmost cooperation in the campaign. Our own preachers, Jesse Young and J. W. Hendrix, were in attendance from our town.

Mr. Lush L. Brown of Caddo, Okla., and Mrs. F. E. Moses of Houston, Texas, son and daughter of Mrs. J. O. Brown met for the first time in 16 years and enjoyed a very gala day with their aged mother on Mother's Day. Another son, Tilden C. Brown of Post, Texas, joined them here for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Fulton and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Moore were Lubbock visitors, Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam White spent Sunday in Abilene, Texas. They were accompanied from Colorado, Texas, by their daughter, Mrs. Harold Watson and family.

METHODIST NEWS

Mother's Day found further expression in the fact that the young people invited their mothers to a 6 o'clock service Sunday evening. They had prepared an extra program, appropriate to the hour, and after this they served delicious refreshments. The mothers responded almost to a mother. They reported a good time.

Rudolph Moorhead spent Sunday with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Moorhead of Meadow. They celebrated their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary on that day.

Mrs. G. W. Cleveland and little daughter of Lubbock stopped for a short visit with the W. B. Turners enroute to New Mexico, where she has ranching interests.

METHODIST CHURCH

John Witt Hendrix, Pastor

Yes, siree, last Sunday was a great day with us! The attendance at Church school was up—has been on the increase for several sessions. The Mother's Day service was well attended. It was a gracious service. Several things aided in making it so. The choir did themselves proud, the sermon seemed well received, and we had the people present.

To be sure anyone is welcome, but we want our own. If we could become the spiritual and devotional center of our people, of the parents and children of Methodist homes, if we could count on even their "reasonable service" and loyalty our success would be assured. To decoy one from another church, from another Sunday school, might even be a mistake; but to win one who does not attend anywhere, is a notable triumph.

Morning Worship comes on with a goodly sprinkle of choice, devotional hymns, and then the pastor will use as his subject "Spiritual Springtime." It seems reasonable to speak on this subject. Why allow winter to remain, hold sway, in our spiritual nature. You might like it; quite a group seem to.

Evening Worship comes on at 8 o'clock. The evening choir is made up mostly of young people, with a sprinkle of adults for seasoning. The pastor will speak on this subject: "Wreckin' the Devil's Play House." Must, of course, locate it; examine it, and does it hurt. Suppose you join us in the search and in the wrecking, if you like.

Leagues meet, one at 6:00; another at 7:00 p. m. To each you are invited; Hi-League and Young People, as per your age.

DAREDEVIL DOG... World's only canine member of an auto daredevil troupe is Odin, giant great dane, being praised here after practice for New York World's Fair stunts, by Mrs. Jimmie Lynch, wife of the Texas death-dodger who will stage six free thrill shows daily for an Akron, O., tire company.

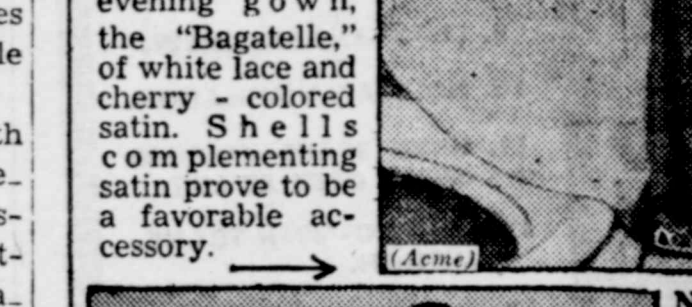

NEWEST "FASCIST"... Typical representative of latest "conquest" for Mussolini is this Albanian peasant, shown here with his son riding only means of conveyance, a donkey. Men like this were among those who resisted futilely, huge expeditionary force of Italians sent by Il Duce to set up Fascist "protectorate" in tiny country.

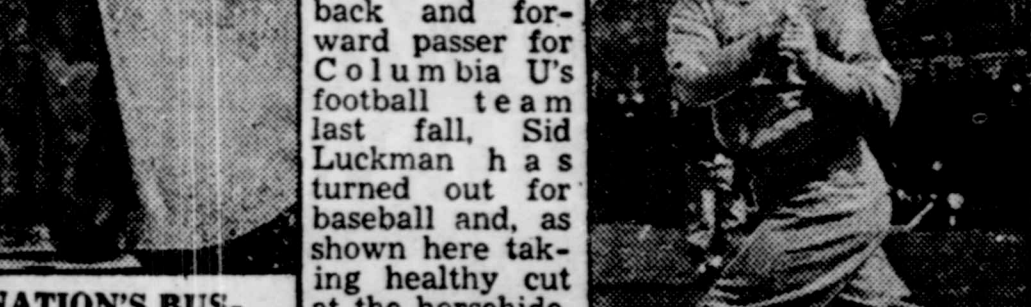

LACK IN FAVOR... Newest creation from Parisian fashion centers is this evening gown, the "Bagatelle," of white lace and cherry-colored satin. Shells complementing satin prove to be a favorable accessory.

ADOPTS NEW ROLE... Not content with athletic glory attained on gridiron as ace half-back and forward passer for Columbia U's football team last fall, Sid Luckman has turned out for baseball and, as shown here taking healthy cut at the horsehide, is one of Lions' batting mainstays in early season contests.

NATION'S BUSIEST?... Mrs. Grace Keefe of Chicago could well claim title of "nation's busiest mother." Besides caring for family of nine, she is now forming neighborhood National Consumers Tax Commission unit to study hidden taxes, and recently wrote prize-winning essay in nationwide contest on "America's Greatest Need Today."

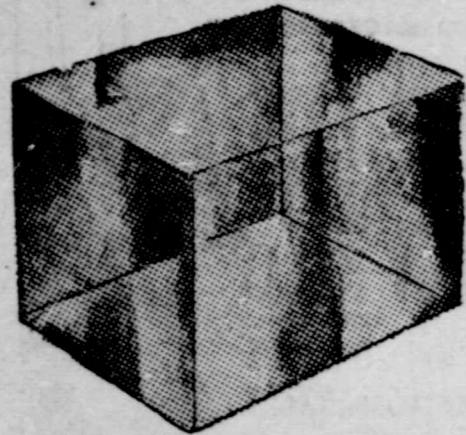

"MAD MONK"... Barney, big, hairy orang-utan in Chicago's Lincoln Park zoo is mad because he had to exchange cages with Bushman, the park's 450-pound gorilla. The change was necessary because Bushman is growing all the time and Barney's cage was the largest.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By Julian Capers, Jr.

AUSTIN — They took the $40,000,000 sales tax constitutional amendment "program" out and "laid it on the table" last week—technically—but actually, they laid it on a slab in the morgue, from which it has only the remotest chance of ever being resurrected. Somebody misinformed Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel about the strength of the "program," and when he confidentially predicted over the radio that it would pass the House with a bang, he didn't know there were 60 votes in the House that would withstand all of the terrific pressure that could be put upon them by those members of the House who honestly believe in writing a tax rate and sales tax into the organic law, backed by all the strength of an organized special interest lobby, plus the personal pressure of the governor himself. So the House test sent the "program" which was originated by a special interest lobby, and for which that lobby and the Governor have worked day and night for four months, into the boneyard for good.

Legislators Take The Ball

As a result, the lobbyists who with amazing audacity seized the ball at the opening of the regular session and have kept it throughout the first 120 days of the session, have at last relinquished it. It is now an "every man for himself" scramble, with each individual lobbyist struggling madly to get the special interest he represents exempted, or kindly treated, in the omnibus tax bill which now appears to be the only tax measure that can possibly be enacted—and the devil take the "program."

There is still no certainty that any tax measure will be enacted, although the legislators, serving since May 9 at $5 a day, are earnestly striving to bring out a bill increasing natural resource taxes, and imposing a sales tax on certain luxuries. Unless the lobbyists working individually, turn out to be as strong as they were collectively, some such bill will probably be enacted. But it will raise nearer $20,000,000 a year than the $40,000,000 proposed in the lobby "program." That will be ample to finance a reasonable social security program, including a somewhat liberalized pension list, aid blind, dependent children, and teachers' pensions. But the plan of taxing poverty for twice as much as is needed for social security, through a sales tax, and writing it into the Constitution, and turning the $20,000,000 surplus into the pot for the relief of special interest taxpayers, is definitely consigned to the limbo of the fantastic dreams of a lobbyist who, drunk with a delusion of power, lost all sense of balance. The regular session will last at least another two weeks, possibly longer. House members are definitely desirous of enacting tax legislation to finance the social security program and, with the legislative power back into the hands of the folks the people elected to do the job, there is a fair prospect they may succeed.

Grady Gentry Named

Last November, four East Texas Senators, including Will Pace, John Redditt, Joe Hill and Harold Beck, visited the then Gov. Elect W. Lee O'Daniel at Fort Worth. They discussed with him the appointment of a man to succeed John Wood as Highway Commissioner. They told him where East Texas is located, and pointed out the geographical allocation of the Commissionerships which has always been observed. Though they have never discussed this particular angle, it is quite likely the names of some likely men were brought up, and if so, it is also quite likely the name of Bardy P. Gentry, of Tyler, was mentioned. At any rate, O'Daniel, the Senators reported, agreed heartily with their views, and gave them assurance these views would be respected.

Last January, O'Daniel nominated Carr P. Collins, Dallas insurance man, and his No. 1 campaign director. Dallas is not in East Texas, according to the view of the Senators. So Collins was rejected. Then O'Daniel, went far afield and named J. C. Hunter of Abilene. Hunter, facing rejection, withdrew. Then O'Daniel sent up Jim West, Houston oil multimillionaire, and West, too was rejected, but not on geographical grounds. Last week, O'Daniel nominated Grady Gentry. Gentry, three times Smith County judge, has had plenty of political experience. He knows a lot about highways, and enjoys the confidence of those interested in state highway development. A quick canvass of the potent East Texas senatorial group indicated he will be promptly confirmed. So, in six months, the Governor learned where East Texas is, and the kind of a man the Senate wants for highway commissioner. It he had listened to the four Senators, he might have saved six months embarrassment, and avoided learning at least one lesson the hard way. That's how it is done in politics.

A Correction

This column last week carelessly referred to Rep. G. C. Morris of Greenville, a probable opponent of Congressman Sam Rayburn of Bonham next year, as "Joe" Morris, for which your reporter apologizes. G. C. Morris, one of the leaders of the anti-sales tax bloc in the House, is an able legislator, an extraordinary debater and orator, and is reported to be an excellent campaigner. Sam Rayburn's record in Congress as majority is too well known to need review here. If Morris takes out after Sam, it ought to be an interesting campaign to keep an eye on.

Maverick In Saddle

Taking advantage of a San Antonio city political machine which was on its last legs and divided against itself, Maury Maverick, the fiery ex-Congressman from the Alamo City, led three of his ticket of four commissioners to a resounding victory over Mayor Quinn, the ultra-liberal mayor. Notwithstanding loud shouts from Washington columnists who don't know San Antonio politics, hailing it as a "come-back" for the New Deal, Maverick's victory reflected less strength for the New Deal than did his close race for re-election to Congress last year, when he got almost half of 49,000 votes and was beaten by Paul Kilday. This time Maverick got 18,000 votes out of 45,000—which gave him the election, under San Antonio's "no-runoff" rule. Always colorful, Maverick is sure to give San Antonio plenty of fireworks, and underground rumor has it that a fight on the local power company will be his opening gesture when he takes office June 1.

HARMONY

(Delayed)

We don't have very much news this week as your reporter has really been at work, mostly in the yard, transplanting annuals and trying to beautify our premises. Let's let the Mayors very important suggestion about beautification of our homes, yards etc., extend to the rural communities. It takes a little work, but it's worth it.

Then there's the garden which needs beautifying too, with all kinds of good fresh vegetables, not weeds. We are certainly happy over the good rains. There was some hail, not enough to damage fruit, as the trees were too full to mature good sized fruit.

Our school closed last Friday. The exercises given by all grades were enjoyed by all.

We do not know how our teachers plan to spend their vacation.

Miss Velma McManis has gone home, she lives at Lakeview.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Murry were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Garner last Sunday.

Miss Velma McManis and Mr. Joe Merritt visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Davis, Sunday.

Rev. Morrison preached last Sunday night.

Our community is planning a Mother-Father's Day program for next Sunday.

time until he went in as deputy with Sheriff Gore in Jan. 1937. Mrs. Bennie White is an office holdover deputy from the Jess Smith administration. So well is she on to the tax rolls and business of the office, that Sheriff Gore retained her when he entered the office, to both his and the peoples' pleasure. "Deputy" Bennie as we always call her to watch her blush, hails as a native of Navarro county, Texas, the family moving to Terry county in 1928, but later moved to Sorrocco, New Mexico, where she finished high school, and removed back to Terry in 1931. She was married to Horace A. Smith, June 1, 1938.

J. Houston Hamilton is another Parkerite by birth, and is making good as a law-enforcement officer. Like the other deputies, he assumed his duties soon after Ches took office. Houston not being present when this interview took place, we had to gather what knowledge we have of him from others. It is believed that he moved from Parker county to Terry about 1929. He is married and has four children, three girls and a boy. We failed to get their names. Houston is a good natured fellow and everyone likes him.

Last but not least by some 200 pounds, is a native born son, Joe Price, who first saw the light of day at the old Price homestead just south of the draw that runs through Brownfield. Joe is 32, and so was just a tow-headed boy of two years when we came here 30 years ago. He is the son of the late T. J. Price and wife, and his father was serving the county as county and district clerk at the time we arrived here. In fact, we purchased our marriage license from him. So Joe has "grewed up" and attended school and played hooky perhaps right under our eye, and didn't have to ask many questions about him. Joe is a good humbre, the only objections we have to him is that since we got old and fat, he tries to bully us every time we meet him by assuming a pugilistic attitude and with some 200 pounds of bone and muscle behind his fists, we are no match for the big ox. However, will say that Joe, while good natured, has made a whale of a good deputy, and they don't come too big for him to handle. Joe married a Terry county girl, Miss Bernice Miller in 1929, and has two children, a boy and girl, Gerald 9, and Joe Ann 7. Sheriff and police forces are always mugging and finger printing some one. Well, we have them mugged and printed in these columns this week. Hope you like it—the picture, we mean.

WEEK'S SHORT STORY

A carload of local colored folks were traveling along the highway in the vicinity of Haskell county which was visited by at least three small tornadoes Sunday afternoon and upon their return to Jayton we overheard a conversation between one of the storm threatened colored boys and one of his friends:

"Man, we was drivin' long the highway and seen one of them funnel-shaped doomajiggers come a' twistin' down, jumpin' along throo de country an' we stopped de car an' set dere watching it teah up de places what it hit and you know fust thing we knowed another one spuck up behindst us an' come dang nigh blowin' us all tuh Kingdom Come!"

The black boy's eyes narrowed in earnestness as he added: "An when I looks aroun' dogged if I wasn't ridin' with a carload of as white a bunch of folks as you evah seen! Yassuh!" — Jayton Chronicle.

ALVIN ALLISON IS NAMED AS TEXAS GOOD WILL AMBASSADOR

AUSTIN, May 9. — State Rep. Alvin R. Allison of Levelland and Cecil T. Rhodes of Hearne will go to Mexico City about June 15 as "ambassadors of good will," Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel said today.

The two legislators will repay a visit by several Mexican officials to the Texas capital early this year.

DREAMS do come true! For three years, Raymond Paige thought and talked about bringing a hundred piece orchestra to the air. He tried to sell the idea to Hollywood, didn't succeed. Then he went to New York. On February 22 Raymond Paige realized his dreams—in-inaugurating a series of programs heard Wednesdays over CBS—with an orchestra of 99 men and a girl singer under his direction! Today that program is the talk of the nation, and Paige—well, he's a very happy man, to say the least!

Best described as the first new idea to be brought to radio in years, Raymond Paige's "99 Men and a Girl" may be expected to revolutionize radio music, according to critics. They predict a new vogue, in which super orchestras, creating spectacular music, will be the rage.

EDWARD G. ROBINSON is one actor who's really interested in extending a helping hand to newcomers. The star of radio's "Big Town" (Tuesdays, CBS) regularly attends the "Gateway to Hollywood" program to cheer on the boys and girls who are trying for a film career. He also devotes time to teaching acting at the Max Reinhardt Workshop, and has a front row seat reserved for every student production.

When Jesse L. Lasky was forced to break a tie between two contestants on his "Gateway to Hollywood" airshow several weeks ago, he learned his lesson. On the second elimination, he arranged to have an extra judge in the audience. It was just as well, as there was a double tie between both boy and girl film aspirants—and Gale Sondergaard, the extra judge, was put on the spot instead of Lasky!

MARTHA RAYE, screen comedienne heard weekly on the Al Jolson radio program (Tuesdays, CBS), recently was discovered to have her serious side. Under the name of Martha "Roth" (Roth is her secretary's last name) she's been studying nursing at a Hollywood hospital for two years.

Staggering figures: Now that Carlton E. Morse, author of "One Man's Family," has added the adventure serial, "I Love a Mystery" (heard over NBC west coast stations) to his weekly writing stint, he's well on the way to becoming the world's most prolific writer. Morse, who already has written an estimated 6,000,000 words, this year will turn out 1,200,000 for "I Love a Mystery" and "One Man's Family." That's a grand total of 7,200,000—all spelling entertainment!

During the filming of "Tarzan in Exile," actors became curious about a man who spent several hours examining and photographing the feet of the animals, natives and extras on the set. He turned out to be Dr. John Martin Hiss, famous foot specialist, gathering material for a forthcoming book.

When you hear the voices of Frances Langford or Dick Powell on a recording, the chances are you're listening to the music of HARRY SOSNICK and his orchestra. Sosnik records regularly with both Frances and Dick, played for Rudy Vallee the only time Vallee ever made a recording without his own orchestra.

SPUR RANCH RODEO AND ROUNDUP IN JUNE

SPUR, Texas, May 15.—Memories of the old Swenson ranch will be revived here June 16-17 when Spur is host to all West Texas for a two-day all amateur rodeo. Titled the Spur Roundup-Rodeo, events will be run off in historic Charles Jones Stadium, $30,000 outdoor arena, near the former site of S. M. Swenson roundups.

Top hands from the many ranches in this territory will compete for $2,500 in purse money distributed among five events, calf roping, bronc riding, wild cow-milking, steer riding and steer wrestling.

Pretty West Texas cowgirls compete in a sponsors' contest. Winners to receive a $135 saddle. Other events include daily parades moving out each morning in which all rodeo rides, sponsors, and visitors are asked to ride.

Two performances are listed daily at two and eight p. m., and will be preceded by a Grand Entry of all contestants. Judges of rodeo events are Frank Rhodes, Throckmorton; Burl Sauls, Spur; and Johnnie McClellan, Clarendon.

State celebrities, Jerry Sadler, Gerald Mann and Coke Stevenson have accepted invitations to attend the rodeo. And Governor O'Daniel this week received his invitation but has not replied. Shannon Davidson, pony express race winner, is expected to be on hand if a motion picture in which he is appearing is finished in time.

Special parades, old timer's dances, young folks dances, swimming races, are other events carded. The rodeo is sponsored by the Young Men's Business Club of Spur and is chartered by the State.

Mrs. John Randal has only recently returned from Seymour, Fort Worth, Austin and Possum Kingdom in Palo Pinto county, where she used to fish when a child, and this is the exact place they are building their dam for water conservation.

Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Bell were in the last week after young chickens at the Chisholm Hatchery.

MAKE YOUR STATE PROUD OF YOU

AUSTIN, May 2. — Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., State Police Director, suggested today that summer vacationists will have a lot more fun if they see the sights instead of the business end of a wrecker car as they travel hither and yon this season.

"It's human nature to brag to the home folks when you get back. But be able to brag about what you saw instead of the miles per day you averaged," he advised the thousands of Texans who soon will be headed to the New York and San Francisco Fairs.

Other rules which will lessen summer traffic casualties: Budget your mileage for daylight travel rather than night travel over unfamiliar roads. Keep brakes, lights and tires in top condition. Don't clutter your windshield with a lot of stickers. They obscure vision and cause accidents. Get plenty of sleep and rest and if you feel drowsy at the wheel, pull to the side of the highway, get out and exercise until the drowsiness passes. If it doesn't, change drivers or take a nap.

Women motorists should keep car doors locked to prevent anyone from forcibly entering and they should under no conditions pick up hitch-hikers. No one should display large sums of money or valuable jewelry. It's best to carry travelers checks.

Be sure you have your driver's license. Become familiar with the highway laws of other states you pass through.

If you must imbibe, drink in the beauties of nature—not the contents of a flask.

Conduct yourself so that Texans will show the nation they are careful, courteous drivers.

SMALLPOX COULD BE ELIMINATED

AUSTIN, Texas, May 15. — Case reports reaching the State Department of Health indicate that smallpox is rapidly forging to the front in the list of preventable communicable diseases over Texas at this time.

"Smallpox epidemics would never occur if everyone, especially children, could be effectively vaccinated," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "At the present there is an increasing lack of vaccination among school children and this constitutes a menace.

"Modern safeguards have removed every legitimate objection to vaccination. The virus is made from calves and, consequently, is incapable of transmitting human blood diseases. Among some ten million vaccinations performed in the Philippine Islands, there was no loss of life or limb or demonstrable injury to health.

"A primary vaccination with one successful revaccination will, as a rule, protect throughout life from the milder forms of smallpox, but this is not true in the severer types of this disease. Therefore, be vaccinated and re-vaccinated at least every five years, so that you will have the greatest protection possible and the least chance of being sick. Revaccination should also be done after each time you have been near a known case of smallpox. Vaccination is not to be feared but rather sought as the only safe, positively harmless and absolutely certain safeguard against smallpox. See your doctor today and be sure that you are protected."

Lloyd Moore is constructing a nice home in southeast Brownfield, just south of Fred Smith. This part of the city has some mighty fine lots that has enough slope to be well drained and we predict will soon settle up with nice homes.
