LOCAL MEN HAVE MADE STAR TIRES A HOUSEHOLD WORD IN THIS AREA

McClish & Lowrimore Did Not Start With any Great Bal-laho, But by Persistent Attention to Business Have Built Up one of the Fastest Growing Businesses Here.

Among two of the most popular young business men of the city are L. E. McClish and Arlie Lowrimore, local dealers in Star tires and tubes. Mention Star tires and you think of these boys, or the other way round, mention these boys and you think of Star tires. The senior member of the firm has been a citizen of Brownfield for the past 16 years, and if anyone has anything on him we have never heard of it. Arlie has been here three years, but it was the first day of June, 1938 when the firm of McClish and Lowrimore was formed.

Soon after coming here from Tatum, N. M., Mr. McClish entered the service station business with his old friend, M. J. Craig. This partnership continued for many years. We heard him remark that they paid one man $4800 in rent on his building. But they finally put up their own building. Later, Mr. Craig decided to take an automobile agency, while Mr. McClish continued in the service station business, most of the time across the street from where they are now. On June, 1 1938, a partnership was formed with Arlie Lowrimore, and the dealers agency for the Star tires and tubes was taken. While Mr. McClish had handled and repaired tires, and even sold them, he remarked that he had not paid a great deal of attention to the construction, grades and prices of tires as that was just a sideline from their filling station. But after entering exclusively into the tire business he really learned something about tires.

On the other hand, Arlie had been in a tire shop in Lamesa since getting out of high school some 7 or 8 years ago; he is now 26. Three years ago he came to Brownfield and worked here in a tire store since then. So, the tire business is nothing new to this hustling young man and he has given the business close attention. He will tell you right off the reel that the Star is the best buy for your money, and will proceed to give you the whys and wherefores and not just assertions.

The writer was very particular to quiz the boys about the increase in their business since they formed their partnership. We knew already that the partnership was mutually pleasant, and believed it had been profitable. Neither hesitated a minute in telling us their business was far beyond their fondest expectations, and Loyd added that it was almost 100 per cent better than when they took it over, although good a that time.

While they have thousands of dollars worth of stock on hand at all times, but they stated that it was their ambition to continual-ly stock, even though that is not necessary now that a wholesale house has been put in Lubbock.

Sometimes when special sizes are requested, one of the boys can jump into their car and go to Lubbock after them while the other takes the old ones off, and not be gone much over an hour. The local trucks unload many tires and tubes each day to keep their stock up. Of course, naturally they get a lot of second hand tires, and while there is not a big demand for them here, it is said there is always a heavy demand for them among the negro and Mexican population of central Texas, and the tires are shipped or trucked down there. Then, they get a lot of the "equipment" tires and tubes that come on new automobiles. Many people prefer a

Visit to Terry County Memorial Cemetery

In company with County Judge R. A. Simms, who is also president of the Terry County Memorial Cemetery, we visited this new cemetery Wednesday afternoon, which is situated one and one half miles northwest of the city. This ground is all hard land, with a gentle slope toward the draw, and running so near the edge of the draw that land west of it may never be put in cultivation, as it is really better for pasture land.

At the entrance, a large granite marker has been erected with the inscription, "Terry County Memorial Cemetery," placed thereon. Mrs. W. M. Copeland paid for the monument. Fifteen of the 40 acres has been beautifully plotted, which includes the extreme south portion of the land. Wide drives have been left, which will in time be parked with trees on each side.

Judge Simms stated that the association needs to sell some $600 worth of lots and plots in order to raise money for a well and pump to be operated by a good gasoline engine and a good capacity of water. While there has been many lots sold, the wish of the association and officials is to sell others as fast as possible. There are only four graves in the cemetery at present, two of which have been moved from the old cemetery.

With good care and management this can be made into one of the most beautiful cemeteries in this section. The county bought some 15 acres on the extreme north side for a pauper cemetery.

A University of Texas student has developed a "smoke meter" which gauges the efficiency of various Diesel engine fuels by "measuring" the density of their exhaust smokes.

better grade tire than those that come on automobiles, and these are taken in for a set of the best six plys. Equipment tires are all standard makes, all right, but are thin, and are generally risky after driven 1,000 miles. Six plys are guaranteed unconditionally for 18 months.

In their employ as tire and tube repair man, they claim to have one of the best in this section, in the person of Otis Pavillard, a French-American. Otis has made rubber and rubber adhesion a close study, and has had years of experience in the matter. To aid him they have installed the very latest thing in the way of a welder, the OK Rubber Welder. When Otis finishes a job it is satisfactory to their customers in every way.

As stated above, the fact that the Star people now have a wholesale house at Lubbock has greatly helped the boys in maintaining stock, and to supply any size or grade of tire without delay. A huge truck with many thousands of pounds of tires comes to the Texas border, where 7,000 pounds is the load limit. They are then taken in lighter trucks and distributed to the wholesale houses and thence to the retail stores. This gives quick action of fresh tires from factory to store. In fact they showed us a tire in stock that was made this month. We call this quick service.

Mr. McClish is married and has two children, one married and living in Calif., Mrs. Bob Little and Miss Martha, still at home. Arlie married a Brownfield girl, Miss Velma Tittle since coming here. Arlie likes all kinds of ball games. Lloyd seems to have a hobby of fishing, and especially likes to go out with Walter Graey and Marion Craig and go to Post Lake for that purpose. These boys own their own homes, and Mr. McClish owns the building they operate in. They are therefore in every way citizens and taxpayers, and deserve to succeed.

Henry Chisholm Opens New Store This Week

Henry Chisholm is formally opening his store this week with some very special prices, which you will find on their page spread this week, and these prices need no comment from us. Go over them yourself. Needless to say, also that Henry is proud of his new store. Anyone would be. It is large, well built for the purpose, light and airy in summer, and will be easily made comfortable for winter. It is well located at the juncture of Hill street and Highway 51, and there is worlds of space to park while you are leisurely shopping.

This will be one of the chain of locally owned Red & White stores that now cover most of the United States and Canada, and is of course arranged for one to do their own shopping, or a courteous clerk will gladly assist you in locating what you wish. A full line of fresh groceries will be maintained at all times, as well as fruits, and vegetables in season, and cured and fresh meats. In fact, this is equipped to be a one stop store in the grocery line. You will not have to leave the building to find anything you need in the grocery line.

A large storage vault has been constructed for meats and fruits, and partitioned so as to have a lower temperature for certain things, and a higher for others which will not stand a very low temperature. In this department you will find all your favorite cuts of meats. A large vegetable spray rack has been built to keep their vegetable fresh and crisp.

Beside Henry, Dick Chisholm will be regularly employed as well as Joe Hardin, we understand, and possibly Henry and Dick's wives will help out on rush days. At least they have been a great help in unpacking and shelving this large stock.

Henry says, "tell 'em to come up to see me. It won't cost them a cent to get in, but might cost them something to get out." This is just a typical expression of Henry's and of course he doesn't mean it that way, but he really wants you to call if for nothing else than just to see his store.

First 1939 Cotton Payments Mailed

College Station, August 21.—First batches of a scheduled $24,000,000 in 1939 cotton price adjustment payments were on their way to approximately 30,000 cotton producers in 39 counties this week.

Designed to bolster the income of cotton farmers who have reduced their acreage this year in view of a towering cotton surplus, this series of grants will add to the purchasing power of Texas cotton producers the earning equivalent of around 600,000 bales at current prices.

B. B. Ingle, Granview farmer and member of the State Agricultural Conservation Committee, pointed out that the price adjustment payment of 1.6 cents a pound on the normal yield of the 1939 cotton acreage allotment is made to the 1939 producer.

Hollywood Magic Rivals Wizardry of Wintery Frost

Jack Frost's sparkling touch on windows is duplicated in Hollywood with stale beer and epsom salts. By daubing this unpalatable mixture across a pane and allowing it to dry, Paul Wildieska, special effect magician for Samuel Goldwyn, can duplicate the finest Polar frost ever seen in semi-tropical Hollywood.

This miracle man was assigned the task of making frost in rather large quantities for "Wuthering Heights," the Goldwyn picturization of the Emily Bronte classic, with Merle Oberon, Laurence Olivier David Niven, Flora Robson and Hugh Williams, which opens a two night's run at the Rialto, Sunday.

Frame Garden Successful on Farm

"My Frame Garden has been the means of our family getting a well-balanced diet," stated Mrs. Elmer Griffith, Farm Security borrower of Terry county. "Not only has our frame garden supplied fresh vegetables for the table use during the spring and summer months when an open garden was impossible, because of the many sandstorms, but I have canned 8 quarts of beets, 12 quarts of greens and 12 quarts of cucumbers from it," said Mrs. Griffith to Mabel Whitney, Home Supervisor of FSA when she visited her home recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffith built their 6x36 frame garden in March, according to instructions furnished by FSA and were eating mustard greens, lettuce and radishes from it in six weeks from the planting date. After the first planting was used the garden was replanted and has been in use constantly all summer. The last of the beets, carrots, beans and peas were gathered just last week and the garden was planted in beets, carrots, spinach, lettuce, tender greens and swiss chard.

"The Griffith's garden is not by any means the only successful one that has been built this year," stated Miss Whitney. "There have been approximately thirty-five others built by FSA families in Terry county and others are building and planting them now in order that their families may have other vegetables besides peas and beans, the main vegetables grown in the field gardens in this county. The cost of building such a garden is very small as there is enough scrap lumber around most places to build one. Where there is not any material available and new material is bought, I still believe they are worth the small expense," concluded Miss Whitney.

Caddenhead With Littlefield Bank

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Caddenhead and son, Herbert, are moving to Littlefield this week, and he will join the staff in the First National Bank here as teller, succeeding Clyde A. Harrison, who has resigned to take a similar position with an Amarillo banker, and left for that place Sunday.

Mr. Caddenhead is a former bank operator, but for some time past has been engaged in other lines, at Morton.—Littlefield Leader.

We are truly glad to see Earl get this position, as we have known him for 10, these many years. When we first knew Earl, he was an employ in the capacity of cashier of the Stockman's Bank at Plains, which was organized in the late 'teens.

When this bank closed, he was called to Meadow as cashier of the First National Bank, which position he held until that bank was closed during the depression. From there he went to Morton. Earl has a host of friends in Terry and Yoakum counties, where he has lived since young manhood.

John Chisholm Hard To Interview

John Chisholm and family just got in last week after a four weeks stay in California, where they visited his sister and saw many points of interest. But we just wanted to see if John was about ready to trade off the hardware and hit the trail for the golden west. But we failed to beard the lion in his den. He had fled the den.

Anyway, we heard he had been places, as his clerk confided that John had put 4800 miles on the old car since he left here the last part of July. So, we are guessing that he not only has been places, but has seen things.

R. M. Kendrick is authority for the fact that when one takes a two weeks vacation, he needs a week's rest when he comes home. In proportion, John needs two weeks to fully recover, so for three weeks at least, we don't expect to see much of him in town.

Rotary Governor to Be Here Sept. 8.

Hiram Arrant of Abilene, who is governor of this district of Rotary International, will be in Brownfield Friday, September 8, on his official visit to the Rotary club of this city.

Mr. Arrant is a professor of chemistry in Hardin-Simmons University and City Chemist at Abilene, a member of the Rotary club

Hiram Arrant there, and was elected governor of the 127th District of Rotary's 30th annual convention in Cleveland last June.

President Turner and Secretary Nicholson of the Brownfield Rotary club and the 24 other members of the club will confer with Rotary Governor Arrant on matters of club administration and activities. The Rotary club of Brownfield was organized in 1927 and now meets weekly at the Wine's hotel.

Rotary Governor Arrant was one of the nearly 200 men who were elected to serve Rotary's 5,000 clubs and 210,000 Rotarians in 80 countries and geographical divisions of the world.

The Herald Makes Another Bust

Last week we kinder made a mess of the write up about school opening, when the proof reader overlooked a very glaring mistake about two fine local young ladies who have recently been elected members of the faculty, Misses Irene Adams and Ona Faye Tittle. After telling of their graduating from Baylor University and Hardin-Simmons, respectively, then came the bust, when we said "they were 'ill' qualified to fill the positions," etc.

Of course, unless it was someone who wished to make a mountain out of a molehill, they knew we aimed to say "well" qualified, etc., and that was the way Mr. Emmett Smith, Supt., wrote the copy that the linotype man failed to follow, and the proof reader failed to catch.

The mistake was not found until after the entire edition was printed and ready for the mails. Both these young ladies were called Friday morning and explanations made. Both thought it very funny, and said apologies were unnecessary. The Herald didn't see much fun in it as we hate like the dickens to pull a boner like that.

Large Enrollment For Band Expected

The registration of the band began August 21st. A number of beginners reported, but the desired number, 35 have not yet made arrangements. Due to this, the beginners will not start until September 4th. However, since time is required to get music and horns, definite arrangements should be made as quickly as possible. This beginners class, due to the difference in scholastic standing will meet for two months in the morning from 8:00 until 8:50.

If you are interested in your child having this training, talk to the band director at the high school and he will explain the many, many plans that are offered in regard to the purchasing or renting of instruments. One of these plans should suit your needs.

Those who started this summer will meet every morning at 8:00 until school starts. Those who desire uniforms this year report in the afternoon at 2:00.

MILES AND MILES OF GROWING TERRY COUNTY CROPS WERE SEEN SUNDAY

After Traveling Some 40 Miles Sunday Afternoon We're Thoroughly Convinced that Terry County Has Present Prospects For an Average Crop at Least.

If there is one thing above the other we like to look at, it is good crops, nicely worked out and ready for the harvest, so the Old He and the wife took a spin of about 40 miles Sunday afternoon to see what we could of them. We didn't know when we started out whether we were choosing the better or worst route to see the best and most crops in the shortest time and in fewer miles, but we saw some that were eye openers, compared with just a few weeks ago. In fact, at that time it was doubtful that Terry would answer roll call this fall with better than half a crop or not. Now, we'll say positively that we will make an average production of cotton, a huge feed crop, and a better corn crop than in several years with the exception of 1937.

What we mean by an average cotton crop is around 25,000 bales, and some have set the yield higher. That all depends on the weather and the worms for the next few weeks. If there is as much as 30,000 acres of old cotton left, and we believe there is, and as much as 10,000 acres of young cotton, just now doing its stuff in blooming, we'll get the 25,000 bales, for we saw as much old cotton that had as much as a bale of bolls of all sizes on it now, not counting squares and blooms. What we mean by a large corn crop is anywhere from one million to one million two thousand bushels. And right here we'll say that depends somewhat on the worm attack on corn from knee to waist high. The old corn, or the roasting ears that we have seen this year, has less worms than for many years, apparently, but worms are attacking the blades of the young corn. Whether they will stay there until the silk and ear appears is a question. As for the row crop of sorghum grains, such as maize, higeria, cane, kafir, etc., the farmers of Terry county have a real job storing and harvesting it. In many of these fields, a binder won't move the length of the turning of a bull-wheel until they will tie.

It is true that we saw many fields that were foul, but despite this fact, some of them have very good crops of corn and other row feed crops in them. This was mostly in the section where they have had abundant rainfalls for the past month or six weeks, and the farmers have found it well nigh impossible to keep their feed and cotton fields both clean. Many of them, we are sure have done the very best they could under the circumstances. Perhaps some were overcropped. In most cases the cotton fields are clean, or would be with a few of the tall weeds cut out, which would be a good idea anyway before picking time.

Our route lay south via the old Sawyer ranch headquarters to the Foster gin, thence west to beyond the Foster school house and south to the Lee Lyon farm. This farm will make you think you are approaching a woodland, and really you are, for Lee has had a large wind-break for a number of years, and has recently put out another shelter belt further out from his premises. They have a nice farm home with modern conveniences, a large barn, and well kept premises. A full quota of all farm animals are kept including poultry every way you look. A large orchard is supplying the Lyons with all the fruit they will need this year, to eat fresh, or can, and they will no doubt put up enough for several years to come. He has on the home place a whaling good feed crop, some mighty fine young cotton, and some 38 acres of old cotton that will make a bale per acre, perhaps, and might do better. The Lyons always make one feel at home out on their farm.

Before reaching the Lyon farm, we stopped a few minutes at the Mrs. Broome farm, and saw Dad Smith, her father, sitting out on Remodeling Starts On Knight Furniture.

When workmen call it quits with the Furniture Department of the J. B. Knight Co., which fronts on west Main, that is going to be one of the prettiest and most modern in the city, and will be thoroughly modernized inside and out. Making a false entrance with boards some ten feet inside the store, will give workmen room to modernize the front, which we understand will take the present style of the straight line instead of the corners. In other words it will be a thoroughly modern front.

To more fully carry out the modern effect, the awning will be torn down, which is no longer used in modern store building. There will be one double entrance in the front instead of two as at present. When the building was constructed it housed both hardware and furniture, hence, two entrances. The Herald congratulates Mr. Knight on this step in modernizing this building.

The manager and buyer for the furniture department, Mr. Roy B. Collier and family, are taking their vacation this and next week in the mountains of New Mexico. They will likely return via Kansas City and Fort Smith, Arkansas, where most of their furniture is purchased. He will buy new stuff for the fall and winter rush of buyers. The Colliers will return via Bowie, Texas, where they will briefly visit his parents.

Speakers to Explain FHA Legislation

DALLAS, Texas, August 16.—In order to acquaint lenders, dealers and others with new FHA legislation passed during the recent session of the Congress and to provide them with more detailed information concerning loans for building and modernizing homes, a program has been announced by P. S. Luttrell, State Production Manager of the Federal Housing Administration calling for visits by FHA Mortgage Conference Representatives to 79 towns in Texas during the remainder of August. The schedule to be carried out in West and Northwest Texas is as follows: Brownfield, Thursday, August 31.

Mr. Luttrell said in announcing the field activities for August, "The recent reduction of the FHA interest rate from 5 per cent to 4 1/2 per cent has caused a decided increase in inquiries regarding residential construction and every indication points to an accelerated building program throughout Texas during the remainder of the year. Our present field program will enable those in the smaller towns to avail themselves of all information needed in connection with the FHA loan program.

the gallery reading. Stopped to say hello, but think he had read just about enough to get right sleepy, so didn't disturb him long. Bet that old guy was asleep before we reached Lee Lyon's farm. Returning, we cut in by the Mack Chambers farm and on to Lahey, down the railroad to the first crossing, north to Gomez, and on out to the Ed Thompson farm for a little chat with he and family, and his brother, Albert and wife from Dallas. Albert was nearer our age than Ed, and we used to go to school with him in Tennessee, and gallivant around with him in old Johnson county when we were both young men, sprouting a mustache. They were preparing to leave for home Monday.

Let's see what we had in between the seats when we got home. A sack of maize heads, a bunch of peaches and apples, a lot of roasting ears, a batch of string beans and okra. We believe that covered the invoice. Boy, our wife is some forager.

The Official Paper of Terry County and the City of Brownfield

The Lynn County News, Tahoka, came out last week with a special edition of 20 pages boosting their annual rodeo and roundup. It not only contained many historical facts about this section and ranching in the early days particularly, but was well patronized by Tahoka merchants. Congratulations, neighbor!

A little Whiteface, Texas girl recently got a toe torn off by riding tandem on a bicycle. We have noted much of this riding in Brownfield, and unless the bicycle is equipped with chain and sprocket guards, this manner of two riding one wheel is positively dangerous. We don't want a repetition of the Whiteface accident in Brownfield.

Readers of Lynn Landrum's column, "Thinking Out Loud" in the Dallas News, will get a rest for the next several days, as he's off on vacation. Once in a while Lynn gives his readers something worth while, but most of his article are rancid with hate, putrid with sarcasm, and vile with criticism of some person or thing. We have learned to read two or three lines of his column and tell whether or not we want to finish it.

We are particularly peeved at Ray Brownfield, Sr., this week. It has been our habit for years to peep out of our back bedroom door and see his windmill, and judge where the wind would come from that day. Now he seems to have torn down the windmill, and probably carried it to his ranch, and tied onto city mains for his water supply. But, how in the heck are we going to tell which way the wind is from since he moved the mill?

A new expression often heard now among farmers, is "holding the land." That has come in of course with the campaign for soil conservation, and is going to mean much to this section, if it is generally practiced. In fact, "holding the land" is going to be the salvation of farming in this country in the years to come. If the soil is held and improved, with our level topography, generally speaking, and light rainfall, even the our worst enemy of erosion is the wind, we will have just as good farming country here 100 years from now as at present.

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel seems to have it in for the press generally, and soon after taking office discontinued the time honored meetings and talks with the press boys. He confines his talk with the people to the radio, many say, because the radio will not ask him embarrassing questions about any of his policies, or take issue with him editorially. In fact, it appears that our governor is too poor a sport to be crossed over any issue. So far as we have noted in this section, the weekly press has never been critical of the governor, and we get most of the weekly papers. In fact, most of them have been very sympathetic to his administration, but with his attitude of ignoring the press, even those who supported him in his campaign are growing cold toward him.

Some of our neighboring papers have told why they are not carrying statistical beer ads, and we presume the general reader is just about as much interested in their reason as he is ours of why we carry them. Personally, we carry them for the matter of $40 that is in them; we need the money. It is like a lot of persons we have heard criticize local dancing, then go to the movies themselves and watch the same scene enacted. As far as learning the younger generation that there is something stronger than coke to drink, a school child ten years old who does not already know it, and know where it is sold, is too weak minded to ever be enticed to do any wrong. Ten year old kids now know more about sex, drinks and drinking than we knew at 20. We are not ashamed to admit that the story of old women when we were a child enticed us to hunt the woods over for babies when we were as much as eight years old at least. Try that on a six year old now. A lot of folks would lead one to think that they are so morally perfect that they nor their children never had an evil thought. We'll have to admit, however, that we are intensely human.

The conductor of this column or columns had a birthday Wednesday, and we don't know that it greatly concerns the reader just how many candles there was on our cake, if we'd had a cake, but we'll just say this; there would have been plenty, in fact too dog-gone many. Of course we received some nice presents, but none more appreciated than a poem from a little two-year-old, who had his birthday Tuesday. Of course, Master Basil Lee Webb, Jr., did not write the poem; we have a suspicion that it came from his grandmother, Mrs. W. G. Hardin, who we consider one of the best poetry writers in this section. Here 'tis:

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

Happy birthday, dear old Timer,
May I wish you many more,
As on bright, happy wings,
The years roll by.
And wouldn't it be finer,
If it were the day before?
For then you see,
You'd be as old as I.
—Basil Lee Webb, Jr.

Regulating the business of soliciting business by truck is occupying the attention of city councils in various of the smaller towns. At Stamford, the council went at the bread trucks with a vengeance, placing a tax on them that is so high there will be no profit in operating there. In other places laundry trucks have come in until it seems necessary to place some kind of legislation against them. Outside solicitors in many other lines of business which have made the local man sick, and does not fail to include the local printer. Injustice may be done in some instances when regulation is attempted in behalf of the local dealer, but that he is in need of some kind of protection is readily apparent. Of course, we could go on and let the business drift to the cities, with less and less use for small towns. Their industries would dry up, employees would eventually be forced into the cities themselves, leaving a few filling stations and restaurants to take care of the situation in places that used to be considered important. It is either that or the towns stand up for their own existence. At best their existence is going to be difficult enough when so large a percent of most any town's population seems to be willing and anxious to make their purchases from somebody else besides the home man. Mayor Maury Maverick of San Antonio is the kind of a Democrat that has made the country great, and upon which our future greatly depends. Last week the County Commissioners of Bexar county refused to permit a Communist to speak in a public park in San Antonio. Maverick and his City Government promptly granted the permission. Mayor Maverick is no Communist, but he knows that refusing to permit them to speak will make a dozen Communists where they might not make a single one by speaking. He said he was going to buy ten soap boxes, if he could not get them donated, and put them in Maverick park for anyone and everyone to use in presenting their views. The park was presented to the city by Mayor Maverick's illustrious forbears. Can't we ever learn that freedom of speech is a right to the weak as well as the strong? —Anton News.

Sometimes it seems rather hard to have to put up with the different isms, especially those who advocate a government from that we have been borned and reared under, but as stated by the Anton News, persecution sometimes makes an organization grow, as people get the martyr idea in their heads. We have an idea that the Ku Klux Klan lasted a sight longer than it would have done in the south had there been no antis to

Those "Ditches" Again

Some of our readers already have trench silos, some others are perhaps tired of hearing about those "ditches" to bury feed in; and still others are just waiting until a "more convenient season" for trying out the idea. Those who are already using trench silos, or any other kind, need no convincing, and our apology for continually harping on the subject is that there are still too many "unconverted" who are missing the benefits to be had from feed stored in this manner.

There can't be anything seriously wrong with the trench silo idea when it has been adopted by thousands of farmers and ranchers throughout the Southwest within a very few years, and we have yet to hear of one who would go back to the old way after using ensilage a season or two. Texas alone had 260 miles of these "ditches" in use the first of this year, and thousands more were dug to store the early feed crops during the past summer.

There's more truth than poetry in the jingle sent out last year by the Dallas office of F. S. A. "Farmer Jim's nobody's fool, And though he didn't go to school, He learned a thing or two. The neighbors came from miles around

To see Jim's silo in the ground— And now they've got 'em too!" There's no mystery and no complex "figgerin'" about a trench silo. Here it is in the a-b-c's from the FSA circular:

"Fix width and depth according to the number of livestock to be fed—length to suit the feeding period. Each cow needs four square feet of cross section area from which a six-inch slice is cut daily. For six head make a trench six feet deep averaging four feet wide, with properly sloped walls. Slope is needed to help settling and prevent caving. For 120 days of feeding, the length should be 60 feet. Trench four cuss and bemean them, and the same thing is now happening to the Townsend plan. It is said over in England, the Bobbies, (police to us) hunt up soap boxes for blooming orators, then protect them while they make their speech. As a consequence, the Britisher comes along, stops and hears all he wants to hear and goes on home. Therefore very little of the radical nature ever gets a very great hold on the ion-servative Englishman.

PRESERVING WILD TURKEY

A 15,000 to 20,000-acre tract of land in East Texas is being sought by the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster commission to be used in an effort to preserve the pure strain of eastern wild turkey, of which there are not more than 150 birds remaining in the Lone Star State and probably not that many additional from Texas to the Atlantic seaboard. The game refuge, if obtained, will also be used for projects tending to restore deer, turkey, quail, doves and fur-bearing animals. The game management project is one of those being considered if the use of federal funds made available under the Pittman-Robertson Act is resorted to the game department.

Many of the wild turkey in Texas, as well as other states, have become mixed with the domestic turkey, but game department biologists have found approximately 150 eastern wild turkey of a pure strain in southeast Texas. The unmixed wild turkey is a richer dark brown than the birds which are inbred with domestic turkeys. The bars on the tail are very faint.

Landowners asking too high prices for their land either on sale or lease basis has kept the department from going ahead with its plans for saving the eastern wild turkey, a truly game bird, which it is believed, could be brought back in large numbers in eastern Texas.

WACO READY FOR LEGION CONVENTION

WACO, Aug. 21.—Last minute arrangements have been completed here for what promises to be Texas' largest convention of the American Legion. The convention dates are Saturday, August 26 through Tuesday, August 29. The attendance is expected to swell to 6,000.

In spite of the heavy attendance anticipated, the convention housing committee promises adequate hotel facilities for every person. Legionnaires' headquarters will be at the Roosevelt hotel. Headquarters for members of the Legion Auxiliary will be at the Hotel Raleigh. Sons of Legion squadrons, expected to attend 1,000 strong, will be encamped, army fashion, on the Cotton Palace grounds.

All Legion organizations are urged to bring their colors in order to participate in the Americanism massing-of-colors program on Monday evening.

One of the outstanding events of the four-day session will be a two-mile Legion parade down Waco's main streets in which 20 bands besides the drum and bugle corps, Sons of the Legion proper, Legionnaires, Auxiliary members, and a large number of local officials are expected to participate.

Another top feature of the convention will be a "Judge Roy Bean" Court on Saturday morning, sponsored by La Societe des 40 Hommes and 8 Chevaux. The mock trials will be conducted all day Saturday and proceeds will go into the Legion's child welfare fund.

Edwards Dissatisfied With Cotton Report

C. T. Edwards, manager of the Farmer's Implement Co., and one of the best farmers we have had in the county himself, is not satisfied with the 20,000 bale yield given us by some Lubbock cottonman a few weeks ago, not by a jugfull. In fact, C. T. says he wishes that some rich guy would promise and make good a gift of all bales over 20,000 raised or ginned in Terry county this year.

Mr. Edwards places the yield at 30,000 bales, and we believe that after another round or two over the county, he may be persuaded to raise that some. Being an implement man as well as a farmer, he has occasion to see every nook and corner of Terry county frequently, thus his prediction. And if you don't think that C. T. is a good farmer, just drive out the Levelland road a distance of six miles some of these days, on the old T. J. Price farm, and see for yourself what he has.

Tried to get a gin man to say what he thought, but he drew in his neck like a terrapin. Said he was going to gin a lot of cotton in his section, but did not want to raise any hopes that might prove false. In other words, he refused to stick out his neck—just yet. But Edwards has no gin, and is not connected with any so far as we know.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank my friends for the many beautiful flowers that were brought or sent to me at the hospital, and for so many nice visits that made the hours seem shorter.

I also want to thank the Doctor and nurses who were so kind to make my stay there as pleasant as possible. May God bless all of you.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Fowler and children of Shreveport, La., came in last week to visit Mrs. Fowler's sister, Mrs. W. L. Stell. They, with Mrs. Stell and children left Monday morning for Colorado Springs for several days vacation.

FOOTBALL TICKET DRIVE

Representatives of the newly formed Athletic Council met with the directors of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday night, August 21, and requested the Jaycees to sponsor a season a football season ticket drive. The sponsorship will include actual participation in the sale of the season football tickets, the proceeds from which will be used to construct bleachers out at the new stadium.

Feeling that the organization would snap up the opportunity to aid the council in hastening to maturity the long dreamed of football stadium, the directors voted unanimously in tendering undivided cooperation. And so it is that a commendable proposition, imbued with community spirit, presents itself. Wisdom dictates this final statement: be ready fellow townsmen; because pretty soon someone will drop around and remind you of the fact that you can help the Athletic Council in this worthwhile undertaking.

COMMUNITY DAY

Community day is near at hand! In fact, next Tuesday, August 29, is the day. Place? Out at the new stadium. Just put on your overalls, shoulder your shovel, and come early; because much work is to be done, and there is little tax dough with which to do it. If you are at all interested in the game of football, interested in the boys who play the game, or just pure, plain interested, then grab a hoe, shovel, pick, or any other thing with which a fellow can do an honest, enjoyable day's work and join the fellows next Tuesday, August 29. Let us get the new football field ready. Of course, it is the old fashioned way; but, after all, just what the heck is wrong with the old fashioned way?

WHY Humble Oil & Refining Co. Reduced the Price of Crude

This statement is published as a paid advertisement by Humble Oil & Refining Company for the benefit of those who are interested and not acquainted with the facts.

On August 11 the Humble Company posted reductions in the prices at which it purchased crude oil in Texas and New Mexico by amounts ranging from 5c to 32c per barrel, and averaging 18.5c per barrel. In view of the fact that this action on our part has been severely criticized before the public, we outline below the facts and reasons on which it was based:

1. On August 1 the quantities of crude oil listed below, aggregating 218,920 barrels daily in Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas, were moving to market at prices substantially below the Humble's postings for similar crudes:

AREA	BBL.S. DAY
Texas—
West Central	37,000
Gulf Coast	22,600
Southwest	16,900
East Central	12,800
East Texas Field	6,850
Panhandle	1,500
Total Texas	97,650
South Louisiana	81,920
North Louisiana and Arkansas	39,350

2. The amount of crude moving below Humble's postings was greatly increased when on August 10 the Sinclair-Prairie Company posted a reduction of 20c per barrel affecting the oil produced and purchased by it in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas, which action was followed immediately by reductions in the price made by a number of smaller purchasers. These reductions applied to more than 150,000 barrels of oil. This, added to that mentioned in the preceding paragraph, equals 368,000 barrels. In the three States in which Humble operates, Texas, New Mexico, and Louisiana, the aggregate volume of oil moving below Humble's prices approximated 17 1/2% of the total current production in those States.

3. The movement of constantly increasing quantities over the past year or more of crude produced in the new Illinois fields, reaching a total of 300,000 barrels daily on August 1, on a price basis substantially lower than Humble's postings in its territory, exerted a progressively depressing effect on the crude oil market. The effect was felt in Texas; and actually since April 1 Humble has lost 10,000 barrels per day of business absorbed by Illinois crude. This loss of business was in addition to that lost by Humble as a result of the movement of crude at low prices in the territory where we operate.

4. On August 11, therefore, the total volume of oil moving at prices below those of the Humble was approximately 668,000 barrels.

5. The crude oil market has been under pressure for more than a year. The price adjustments made last October did not remove fully the disparity between Humble's prices and those of some oil moving in its markets. Since that time the volumes of crude moving below our prices have increased steadily, with the result that when the reductions of Sinclair-Prairie and others came on August 10, affecting approximately 150,000 barrels of crude per day, conditions were so bad that we were compelled to reduce our prices to meet this competition. In no case are our new postings lower than the Sinclair-Prairie postings for similar crudes.

6. The Humble Company is primarily a producer of oil. Its crude oil properties constitute its principal asset. Its net production averages 133,000 barrels a day. We are also crude oil merchants and purchase, at our posted prices, 251,000 barrels of crude oil daily in Texas and New Mexico. These prices also govern the price at which we sell the oil which we produce. Because of our large production we are vitally interested in the maintenance of fair prices.

Our refineries consume something near the amount of oil which we produce. As a consequence, with respect to our purchases we are in the same position as a merchant dealing in any commodity. To continue in business, we can not over a long period of time pay higher prices than our competitors. We are compelled to meet competition. The price of oil, like that of other commodities, is subject to change with market conditions. These are simple and fundamental business principles. We were reluctant to cut the price of crude, not alone because of its adverse effect on our own earnings, but also because of its effect on our customers and upon the industry and the state at large. Under these circumstances, we could not continue to pay the prices we had been paying.

7. As a matter of policy the Humble Company maintains stocks of crude oil very slightly in excess of the amount required as working stocks to carry operations. We do not believe in storage of oil above ground but in production of oil currently as required for market. We do not speculate in oil. We have no desire to buy oil at any price to accumulate for storage.

8. We think the price for oil brought about by the competitive conditions above mentioned is lower than should be realized. In our opinion the flood of oil from Illinois and Louisiana, most of which is being produced wastefully, in violation of conservation principles, is primarily responsible for the market conditions which necessitated our price reductions. It is our hope that these conditions will be corrected and that the market will improve.

Sam White Won't Talk Too Much

Sunday was the first day that we have gotten to talk much to Sam White since he and family returned from their trip to Tennessee and Parker county, Texas. But during the time he was in Tennessee, Sheriff Ches Gore's office deputy dropped us a card, on of these "check-off cards" that lazy people send on their vacations instead of writing to friends.

In this one, there was a whole list under the heading of "I Am Enjoying," it mentioned "moonshine" and since the good old volunteer state is famous for making good moonshine as well as war in time of war, we were just a bit confused on whether or not Sam checked off or on the moonshine part.

So, Sunday, we just asked the Deputy Sheriff "pint blank" just how he filled out that part of the card. "Well sir," says Sam, "I checked 'on' everything on there. But since he is a deacon in the church, we didn't press the matter to see if he meant balmy, mellow light that comes from the planet, or whether he meant that mellow, sparkling liquid that comes from corn and the mountain springs of the volunteer state.

Anyway, Sam says he and the family had a great time back there, and also at a family reunion and old-time gathering in old Parker county on their way back home.

BEST TEXAS GAS COMPANY

Chamber of Commerce Items.

By J. E. Shelton, Secretary

For the information of those who have heard that a Chemical Process Company was undertaking to locate in Brownfield and that they had not been contacted or encouraged by the Chamber of Commerce. Will advise that two of their officials were in our office a few days ago and informed us of their desires in a way of a location for their plant and in fact made a tentative selection. The owners of the land could not be contacted at the time and a price could not be quoted upon it, however they were advised of the price within the next few days and later on, the vice president of the company arrived in town and decided that another location was more suitable and the company has had a price made to them on this but it has neither been accepted nor rejected. It is a well known fact that "trackage" is almost "nil" in Brownfield city limits so we are undertaking to locate some land on the outskirts of the town and are figuring with four different property owners who have land next to the railroad track. Two of them have quoted prices and the others have not, but advise us that they will do so within the next few days. As soon as a suitable site is made available, we expect to procure it and have it divided in blocks in order to be able to deliver to any of the supply houses who may desire it.

Judge Simms, Commissioner Tom Warren and the writer made a trip down to the Cedar Lake oil well. Purpose of the trip being to contact the Gaines county commissioner and undertake to get him to improve the Gaines county section of the road. We did not locate him as he was down in Central Texas and was not expected home until the latter part of the week. In the meantime Commissioner Warren is working upon and grading the Terry county portion of this road and is almost to the county line. From observation I am of the opinion that the county commissioners of Terry county have their roads in better condition, leading into the oil fields than is the case with some of the other counties and I don't think that people have very much of a kick coming upon their condition.

Arrangements have been made for a meeting before the highway commission concerning the routing of highway 136 between Brownfield and the Dawson county line. The meeting will occur on August 31st and several farmers from that section effected are expected to attend.

A meeting whose main purpose is the organization of the Permian Basin Oil and Gas Association is to be had at Colorado City Thursday and Friday of this week and we had hoped to have a good representation there but up to date have not made very much progress and it begins to appear that only a few if any can make the trip.

On September 4th a state meeting of the International Parks Association will be held at Hereford, Texas and on the day following a National meeting will be held at Sterling, Colorado. Not able to say how well we will be represented but hope to have a good sized delegation as this highway is expected to be a very important one to us, running as it does from the Canadian border to the proposed Big Ben National Park and passing through several National Parks between.

The best hay-fever theory we have heard lately was by W. C. Smith. He said, "When stock was allowed to graze the town section, we never had hay-fever and I believe they ate the weed or weeds that cause it." We never heard of hay-fever here until recent years.

A letter from Mrs. M. E. Jacobson discloses the fact that she is not only enjoying her work in Los Angeles, but the California climate as well. But she wants to hear from Brownfield people, so guess the Herald will be the best route.

Nearly Everybody Likes Chicken

Poultry knows no season. Regardless of time or weather some class of poultry is available. The broilers weighing from 1 to 2½ pounds are on the market by March or April and then follow the fryers weighing from 2½ to 3½ pounds. After these come the fowls to be baked or stewed which are available all year round.

So far as weights are concerned there is an overlapping of the fryers and the older birds but age is easily determined by feeling the breast bone. If it is pliable, the bird is young. Young birds may be broiled or fried but older birds need slow, and more often than not, moist heat. All poultry is more tender if killed the day before cooking.

BARBECUE SAUCE

2 cups tomato catsup	2 tbsp. onion juice
½ cup vinegar	1 tsp. salt
½ cup Worcestershire sauce	1 tsp. red pepper
½ cup A-1 sauce	1-1.5 cups butter

Combine ingredients and bring to the boiling point. Baste broiling meat with the sauce.

Barbecued Chicken: Use broilers and split in half. Place on heated racks about 3 or more inches from the flame. Sear until white, baste with the sauce and turn; continue basting with the sauce until done and delicately browned.

FRICASSEED CHICKEN

Fricasseeing is the use of moist heat for the less tender fowls as braising is the method used for beef and less tender cuts of meat. The methods are the same. The chicken is cut into the desired pieces for serving, salted and rolled in flour, it is then browned in a small quantity of fat, in other words, fried. About ½ cup of liquid—tomato juice, milk or water—is poured over the chicken and p.c.a. tightly covered. Chicken is allowed to cook slowly until tender, liquid replaced as needed. This is cooked either on top of stove or in oven (350 degrees F.) When done, gravy is made from drippings in pan and served with the chicken. Generally rice and at least one vegetable are served with this dish.

CHICKEN POT PIE

4-lb. fowl	4 whole cloves
Water	Bay leaf
½ cup celery leaves	4 hard-cooked eggs
1 onion	Milk

Pastry
Cover fowl with water, add seasonings and simmer until meat falls from the bones. Allow fowl to cool in the stock. Remove, cut into small pieces. Line a casserole with pastry and cut remaining dough into strips. Place a layer of chicken on bottom of pastry lined casserole, then a few slices of egg, sprinkle with salt and pepper and dot with butter; cover with three strips of pastry and then repeat—chicken, egg, seasonings. Strip top of pie with pastry. Add the strained chicken broth to cover the last layer of chicken and bake in a hot oven until done. Remove from the oven and add rich milk or cream to cover and return to oven about five minutes, until top is a delicate brown.

CHICKEN CROQUETTES

Dice the chicken, add white sauce, salt and other seasonings to taste, diced hard-cooked eggs and mix well. Shape into croquettes, roll in crumbs, dip in beaten egg diluted with a little water and roll in crumbs again. Fry in deep hot fat (385 degrees F.) about 2 minutes or until a golden brown in color. Serve hot.

Miss Winona Price of Estelline spent Monday and Tuesday visiting in the R. M. Moorhead home.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Turner of Vaughn, New Mexico spent Sunday with her brother, Joe H. Patterson and Mrs. Patterson.

PLEASURE CLUB

Miss Virginia May was hostess to the Pleasure club Wednesday afternoon at the Clarence Lewis residence. Mrs. C. C. Primm scored high and was presented with a linen luncheon cloth. A salad course was served to the following: Mesdames Ed Stewart, Roy Ballard, Guthrie Allen, D. Smith, Jim Graves, James Parker Davis, C. C. Primm and Miss Wanda Graham. Miss Queenelle Sawyer and Ona Faye Tittle were guests.

METHODIST CHURCH

John W. Hendrix, Pastor

The pastor and his wife are expected back from their vacation on Friday evening, August 25th, and will be in his pulpit on Sunday, August 27—next Sunday. He reports that they have had a fine vacation and rest; and that both are much refreshed. They desire it here to be made known that they very deeply appreciate the response of the church which made this possible.

The pastor announces that the subjects of the sermons will be, "On Goin' Places," and "Seein' Things." The services will be held at their regular time—11 a. m. and 8:15 p. m. The young people will meet at 6:30 and 7:30 p. m.

It is with a great deal of pleasure we approach the fall when all of the people will be back home, in their places, at their tasks. The summer is always hard on the church services. It is difficult for the church to have school in session; that seems to sort of fix the program of the town, and make things regular all around. People are home, have meals on schedule time, and are ready to carry on. Then it is always fine to have our public school teachers back in our towns; they are people of education and equipment and our churches need their experience and wisdom.

Please remember that you are always missed if you are not in your place at public worship. That the minister feels glad; feels the inspiration by your presence.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Evangelist John A. Tabor of Dallas, Texas, will be in Brownfield Sunday, August 27th, and will conduct special services at the First Christian church at 3 p. m. All members are urged to be present. The public is invited.

1ST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Morning Worship .. 11:00 o'clock

The pastor will speak on the topic, "Christ Calls" at the eleven o'clock service. The public is invited to worship with us.

The Presbytery of Abilene will meet at this church on the 6th and 7th of September. This is the first time this group has been to Brownfield in eight years. Members and friends are invited to two public meetings on Wednesday, the 6th at eleven a. m. and 8 p. m. Outstanding speakers will make these meetings well worth your time.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Patterson and son were Lubbock visitors Tuesday.

Miss Betty Jean Holmes is spending the week in Odessa visiting friends.

Tom May and family are going to have one of the real pretty residences of Brownfield, when the carpenters finish.

CONTEST OF FINAL SCARBOROUGH WILL LIKELY

A contest of the will of the late W. F. Scarborough, Midland rancher and oil man, which was filed in Midland appeared certain Tuesday.

Fort Worth attorneys who represented Hollis Scarborough, son charged with slaying his father, who was disinherited, began work on a lawsuit which may be filed within a week.

The lawyers, Arthur Lee Moore and Leo Brewster, said they will base their challenge of Scarborough's last will signed by the late rancher and his wife who died in 1937.

The joint will, they said provided the estate should be divided equally among the children of Mr. Mrs. Scarborough after the death of the parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Bell, and their son-in-law, Johnny Bingham and wife have just returned from California, where they visited another son-in-law, Brock Gist and family of Anaheim. They report a good trip and a good time.

Mr. McCollum of the McCollum Grocery cut himself very badly with the curving knife, while cutting meat in his store. Friends report that he is doing nicely, and expects to be up and about soon.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Large congregations attended the services last Sunday but the goal of 425 at the teaching service was not made and superintendent White asks that we make this goal next Sunday morning at 9:45. This goal seems a little large to some people; however it should be made easily with more than 550 enrolled in the school, but of course it will never be possible for them all to come on the same day and if they should we do not know where we would put them, but the architect has promised to complete the plans for the new building this week and when this is finished we will have a fine place for 600 and the people are here who will attend if the teachers will go after them.

The meeting now in progress will close next Sunday evening and it is urged upon every member of the church to give these last few days the fullest cooperation by being present themselves and bringing their unsaved friends into the services.

The W. M. U. meets next Monday, 4 p. m. in business session at the church when their reports of work done for the year will be read and officers for the ensuing year will be elected. This is a very important meeting and we especially ask the women of the church who have not been active for the past year in this work, to be present, to be present with us and hear the reports and it is our hope that they will see the great work accomplished and will resolve to be present and help us in the work which we hope to accomplish next year. The church has been assuming our budget in order that every woman of the church may join us in the work of missionary endeavor and the study of the many fields where Southern Baptist churches are supporting mission work and the success that is attending their efforts.

If you have not been present and heard the junior choir sing the songs taught them by Mr. Earl Rogers you have missed something, and next Sunday is the last opportunity to hear him lead this choir and may you come and bring any visitors in your home as they are always welcome in this church and you will also hear the simple proclamation of the Gospel of Christ by the pastor.

THE GREAT DESTROYER

Fire, the great destroyer, has been in fine fettle this summer.

Fire, raging and uncontrolled, has made black and barren and ugly thousands of acres of the nation's finest forest land. Fire has turned pleasant homes into smoking piles of debris. Fire has ravaged factories, and added men and women to the long rolls of the jobless. Fire has marched irresistibly through farms, killing livestock, razing buildings, and ruining crops.

A few of these fires may be unavoidable. But they are very few indeed, and so rare as to be hardly worth mentioning. Eighty per cent of all fires, say the experts, could have been prevented. They need never have occurred. But they did occur—because some one was thoughtless, someone was careless, someone was ignorant, someone took a chance.

Back of all these fires, great and small alike lies in the human element. A cigarette butt tossed from a speeding car—a camp fire not quite extinguished—a clean-up job left undone until tomorrow—a vacant lot left to dry, unattended weeds—these are the things that make fire, this year, last year, next year.

There can be no recompense for the fires of the past—unless it is in a general campaign to prevent the fires of the future. It can be done. It's up to us—each of us, as an individual, holds the weapon that will destroy the great destroyer.

Tom May transacted business in Amarillo Monday.

Each Friday at the 51st State Fair of Texas, October 7 to 22, will be turned over to the children and will be their special day. The first Friday will be for the elementary children, and the second Friday for the high school students.

PRIMITIVE BAPTISTS WILL MEET IN TAHOKA

Final arrangements for the entertainment of the Primitive Baptist Association to be held here on Friday, Saturday and Sunday August 25-26-27, are to be made at a meeting of the church here next Monday, according to information given the News.

It is expected that several hundred people will be here attending the association. The territory of this association covers a large portion of West Texas, and many visitors are expected from other parts of Texas, from Oklahoma and New Mexico.

At previous associations held here by this denomination there have been 800 to 1,000 visitors here. Two previous meetings in the past fifteen years were held under the old city tabernacle, which was torn down a few years ago. Announcement as to the place of the meeting will be made next week.

Practically all of the leading ministers of this denomination in Texas will be here. Singing of old-time hymns is always a feature of these gatherings, and many people of other church affiliation will doubtless avail themselves of the opportunity of attending one or more of these services.

173 CONVICTIONS REPORTED IN LIQUOR CASES FOR JULY

As inspectors for the Liquor Control Board filed 383 complaints in July and reported 173 convictions, a jury at Abilene sent a man to county jail for three months for violating the liquor laws.

The severe punishment assessed by the Abilene jury was only one highlight in the month's enforcement activity. Near Texarkana, in Bowie county, inspectors working under Deputy Supervisor M. L. Eilers, accompanied by local officers, seized and destroyed one of the largest moonshining plants discovered in months.

The plant consisted of four stills, of 55-gallon capacity each, together with 2,000 gallons of mash and 35½ gallons of contraband liquor. Two men were arrested and a sedan confiscated.

As a result of the 173 convictions reported in July, counties were due to receive $16,592.70 assessed in fines.

Working on occasion with federal officers and on others with local officers, inspectors made 52 tax-evasion cases and destroyed 36 stills.

Destruction of the stills prevented the potential evasion of $25,626.24 in state and $60,061.50 in federal taxes.

THE HELLO-GIRL'S GOOD-BY

Christian Science Monitor: The machine age, which has resulted in the practical disappearance from American highways of the once numerous horse and buggy, now threatens still another nationwide institution. That important but seldom seen mistress of conversational ceremonies, the telephone operator, is being replaced by a mute, mechanical monitor, known as the dial system; and many long accustomed to hearing the "voice with a smile" when taking down the receiver now hear only an impersonal buzz.

The story of "central" and the part she played in the development of the country, is epic. Upon the girl at the switchboard depended the smooth functioning of the entire community, and, in lesser degree, of the nation. Civic heads depended upon her for the carrying out of their orders. Throughout the day, her deft fingers serve to expedite many commercial transactions, and the wheels of trade were made to move briskly. As with lawyers and other professional people, any information gleaned in the performance of her duty was held in sacred secrecy.

Outstanding instances of individual courage—of employees remaining doggedly at their posts, disregarding danger to warn of flood, fire, or other impending menace—constitute a long and imperishable record. As she is passed in the march of modernity, it is meet that the telephone operator be given her meed of recognition, a tribute for the silent but important part she played in the making of America.

Miss Vondee Lewis spent several days in Floydada last week visiting Miss Jean Rhone. She returned home Saturday accompanied by Miss Rhone who is visiting Miss Betty Joe Savage.
