Only One Jury Case In Court This Week

A rather long, drawn out case is before the jury this week, being Welborn vs. Warr, which is a gas and oil lease case. Besides Judge R. L. Graves, local attorney, Attorney Riddle of Oklahoma City, Jack Randall of Lubbock is representing C. B. Warr of Oklahoma City, who is here at the trial. Tom Welborn, who has been in the Illinois oil fields for the past few months, came in recently to join his brother in the suit. Robert Sansom of Fort Worth and Judge Graves represent the plaintiffs.

Most all the land cases to clear title were passed on by Judge Reed last week, as well as some ten divorce cases. The criminal docket starts in next week, and will have right of way for the last two weeks of court. Mrs. Eldora White informed us that unless something else developed that the criminal docket would be unusually light.

She also stated that the grand jury which has dissolved for the time being, returning only 5 bills of indictment, which goes to show that we have some 10,000 or 12,000 pretty good citizens in Terry county, after all. Very little real crime.

Big Fall Opening!

This Big Fall Opening has a whole list of important goods to offer! Most of these are and have been standard necessities through the centuries. These are goods which never go out of style, goods for which some have paid all they had to obtain. These have all testified they were well pleased with their bargain. These goods are never shop worn, always fresh. They are not prepared to satisfy a certain call, a certain class; all men whatever color or station in life stand in need of them. Only a very brief list can appear here, some inner essentials, Fellowship, one with another, Consolation both human and Divine, forgiveness of sins, fellowship with the Father of our Lord, assurance of forgiveness and immortal life. But at a big sale like this there is a great need of helpers, clerks, skilled salesmen, both men and women. This institution could use a number in important positions. The fact is these helpers should be users of the same goods; it is far better equipment.

Wanted: 100 new recruits to carry into action the ladies' department. 100 men to carry into action the male department. You can be assured of big returns in way of rewards and incomes. All of these jobs carry with them also a big annuity which will supply riches in old age—the reward of a well spent life, and will further pass these annuities down to the children.

All these rewards and annuities are based on a bank which never suffers a depression or is shy of funds, The Bank of Heaven whose cashier is Jesus Christ the righteous, whose President is God, his Father. To this bank no check has ever been presented and not honored.

All customers and laborers be present at the Methodist church the following hours, 9:45 a. m., Church school; 11 a. m., public worship; 7:30 p. m., Young people; 8:15 p. m., evening worship. Your demands and needs shall be supplied through his Riches in grace of our Lord and Master.

Miss Margaret Sue Bynum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnett Bynum, who has been attending McMurry College at Abilene this summer, is home for a few weeks.

South Plains Fair Boosters Coming

LUBBOCK, Sept. 4.—More than fifty goodwill boosters will arrive in Brownfield at 3:50 p. m., Tuesday, Sept. 12, on the goodwill tour publicizing the 26th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair, which will be held in Lubbock September 25 and 30.

With this group there will be a string band and other entertainers.

Traveling in special chartered busses, the trippers will leave Lubbock early Tuesday morning dressed in cowboy regalia. In each town along the route these trippers will present a program and distribute free souvenirs to school children and grown-ups. Every school child on the South Plains will be given a ticket to the Fair for Children's Day.

This year Fair officials have decided to have two Children's Days instead of one. School Day for Brownfield has been set for Wednesday.

Mr. Smith, School Superintendent, will be given the tickets for all Brownfield school children.

Chamber of commerce, newspaper and school officials have been asked to assist in arranging for the reception of the Lubbock goodwill delegation. School officials have been asked to assemble the children for the short program.

R. D. Shinkle, Publicity Mgr. Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

'Union Pacific' Comes To Rialto Theatre

Directed and produced by Cecil B. DeMille! That's the hallmark of greatness on Paramount's roaring romance of America's empire builders, "Union Pacific," which comes Sunday and Monday to the Rialto Theatre. This is the picture that brings you adventure unlimited! Once more you'll see the fighting Irish drive the gleaming spikes that drive the twin rails to the setting sun. You'll see the mighty Sioux nation rise to battle the empire builders! You'll see fortunes in gold clicking across the tables in the roaring railroad towns! Nights of wild revelry! You'll see Barbara Stanwyck and Joel McCrea enact the love story that makes "Union Pacific" the greatest of all Western romances! You'll see a mighty nation welded with bands of steel as roaring thousands celebrate as a golden spike completes America's mightiest task! If you enjoy pulse-pounding, heart-trobbing entertainment, you owe it to yourself to see this mighty picture with a cast of more than three thousand. Remember, "Union Pacific!"

District Presbytery Meeting This Week

The District meeting of the Abilene Presbytery is holding its sessions for this year with the local Presbyterian church, which we believe is the first time they have ever convened in Brownfield. Rev. Fred A. Walker is the moderator, and was greatly instrumental in having the district meeting meet with his church as host.

Sessions are being held at the Presbyterian church, and some 30 delegates from over the district are in attendance, several of whom are ministers. Dean Gordon of Texas Technological college addressed the body Wednesday. Other speakers are scheduled for the sessions. They are to be entertained one day at the Wines Hotel for lunch, and a chicken barbecue was on tap Wednesday night, complimentary of Postmaster Jas. H. Dallas. Other meals are being served jointly at homes of members, with all members co-operating.

Rev. Walker will likely have a report of the high points at the convention in these columns next week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Turner have under construction a lovely six room and bath residence, in east Brownfield, next to the Pete Tiernan home.

School Registrations May Reach 1200

Supt. Emmett Smith informed us this week that up to Wednesday afternoon the registrations had reached approximately 940 students. This was divided as follows: Approximately 440 in high school, or from the sixth to 11th grades, and 500 in the West Ward school. This is approximately the amount last year for the first few days.

Mr. Smith amplified his remarks by stating that it was safe to predict that the enrollment for the term would reach in the neighborhood of from 1100 to 1200. In view of the fact that all pupils in high school were registered before the term opened, beginning August 21, little confusion was evident when that department assembled Monday, and they immediately went to work Tuesday.

The school authorities are at last finally making a real stab at beautifying the grounds about the school buildings, and the view thereabout with green grass is certainly an eye relief from the old caliche rock surface, and bumps that prevailed up to this year. It is believed that with a minimum amount of tramping over the sod this fall, winter and spring, the grass can be made almost solid next season.

So far as we can learn, there has been no last minute changes in the personnel of the faculty except the resignation of Tommy Zorns, who goes to Monahans. Tommy was handling the younger football lads nicely, and his place will be hard to fill, but most fans think his successor, Elmo McCook will fit in splendidly. McCook is an A. C. C. graduate and comes highly approved.

Of course the trustees and teachers can run the school. In fact they will do it. But parents and interested people can help a whale of a lot by an occasional visit; a friendly chat with Johnny and Mary's teachers. The Herald is certainly pleased to see as many faces that have been teaching here for several years as there are. It not only shows loyalty to the school system here, but when a great majority of teachers are former teachers, we just simply have a better balanced faculty. The less changes, the better if the teachers are giving satisfaction.

Allison visits Co. Superintendent's Office

Friday, September 1st, Alvin R. Allison, Representative from this district was a pleasant caller in the County Superintendent's office. His chief topic of conversation was the new Rural Aid Bill and more specifically, the provision for transportation.

He asked us to explain to the people that he was one of a hundred-fifty Representatives and that his efforts had been spent in opposition to the 2½ mile limit to the above mentioned bill. He thinks that the legislative committee will make provisions for our situation in West Texas and asked if the County Superintendent and the Superintendents of the independent districts would be willing to appear before the committee if necessary. He was assured of the co-operation of the school people of this county. Mr. Allison has proved to us beyond a doubt that his interest in the schools of West Texas is worthy of our highest commendation.

TERRITORIES RECEIVE DEGREES FROM TEXAS TECH

The following Brownfield and Terry county people received degrees from Texas Technological college August 25th at 8 p. m. There were 206 graduates, 52 of which received the Master's degree:

Kyle Martin Buckner of this city, received the Bachelor of Arts degree.

Nina Short Gammill of Meadow, received the Bachelor of Arts degree.

Arch T. Fowler, Jr., of this city received the degree of Master of Science.

Ross Motor Co. To Show Olds About 21st

E. C. Ross, of the Ross Motor Co., stated this week that he had recently received a 1940 model Hudson 8, which is now on hand for demonstration purposes, and is expected to be in position to make deliveries soon, as this car is now coming off the assembly line at the factory at an increasing rate each day.

The Oldsmobile Co., has also started producing their 1940 models, and Mr. Ross is to leave around the 21st for Dallas, where he will obtain a new model of this make. It is said that new Pontiacs are being assembled, but that 1940 Chevrolets will not be available for a month or six weeks, according to Bailey & Teague. Fords for 1940 are expected about the same time, thinks W. B. (Red) Tudor.

The Craig Motor Co., is expecting the new Nash models this month. The Jordan Motor Co. has the new Plymouth on the floor and Mr. Jordan and son will leave this week end for Oklahoma City, where they will see the new Dodge, but they do not expect one for some time.

So, it will not be long now until you can begin visiting the show rooms of all the car agencies of the city to decide what make and model you'll drive in 1940, or if you are like us, just go around and see how much better the new 1940's look compared to your '36 model that you think will be OK for another year or so.

Burton Fed the Two Ugliest Men Wed.

County Attorney Burton G. Hackney got to studying about how pretty he was Wednesday noon, and how much he pitied us ugly birds, and picked out as the ugliest, District Judge, Louis B. Reed and the editor of this great sheet as the second best in town, to eat lunch with him at the Lions club. Don't see how he ever overlooked some of the visiting attorneys. Anyway, we went with him, and had a very delicious feed at Mrs. Shelton's Wines Hotel, and enjoyed the program.

Judge Reed was the main speaker of the occasion, standing squarely behind Roosevelt's Sunday address to the nation on neutrality in the present war. He also agreed that while we might have our silent mind made up as to whom we are in sympathy with in this struggle, but that we should be careful how we express ourselves, especially as to rumors, and try to discern the real news from overseas from mere rumor. By so doing, we will come much nearer to keeping ourselves out of a war.

The Lions have a real live bunch that are putting over a real program for the betterment of the community. In the past month they have spent $80 alone for glasses for underprivileged children. They will have charge of the carnivals and concessions at the county fair, and we understand will use the net proceeds if any, for such purpose.

Two blind ladies of the city are making their own way as a result of this civic club starting them into business with confectionaries and news stands, one at the courthouse and the other in the postoffice.

Good Crowds Here Saturday and Monday

One of the largest Saturday crowds in some time, followed by a great Tradesday crowd was on hand Monday. It was so hot, however, that most of the people took refuge under the trees at the courthouse park, many of them listening to and watching a "strong" man doing his stuff getting out of chains.

Merchants generally reported a fair day, even though a big shopping crowd was here Saturday. It is expected that the First Monday crowd in October will be a lot less as by that time the farmers of the section will be busy with crop harvest.

Terry Melons Going On the Market

Those big, juicy, red to the rind Terry county melons are now on the market in all their glory. Wagons and trucks now park at convenient corners of streets, especially at highway intersections, with big loads of this luscious eating every morning, and seemingly by night when ready to leave for home, their trucks are empty or practically so, and fresh ones are brought in next day.

But the local market can no more consume the local production than the Rio Grande Valley can use all their grapefruits, so other markets must be had. Many of them are being carried to the oil fields of Winkler and Ector counties, and perhaps new Mexico. Negotiations have been under way for some time to get trucks to carry them as far as California, but we don't know when this will be done.

In the meantime, N. A. Newberry had a quantity of stickers printed and places them on all his melons, especially those intended for the oil fields. They tell who raised them and where, and the local dealers in the oil fields have room on this sticker for their names and the prices asked. Mr. Newberry has eleven acres in melons.

An unconfirmed report is that another grower south of the city has 80 acres in melons, and there are various and sundry other large and small growers in the county with more melons than three or four times our people can consume. It would not be a bad idea for the Chamber of Commerce to help these farmers all they could to find a market, if they are not already doing so.

Those Who Attended Parker Co. Reunion

A little late last week for publicity, we are this week telling you those who attended the Parker county reunion last week, and enjoyed the hospitality of the A. L. Baker home, Wellman, as well as other exes:

Mrs. R. W. Wilhite and Wynelle, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Upton, all of Plainview, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Upton and Ronnie Dell, South Plains; Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Coffee and five children, Mineral Wells; Mrs. John Bishop and Jackie, Brownfield; Mr. and Mrs. Art Blanton and three children, city; Miss Nanah Pistole, Andrews; Mrs. Tom Turnage and boys, Goldsmith, Texas; Mrs. Carl Underwood and son, Earl Lee Jr., Andrews; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Barnwell and 3 children; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Garrison; Mrs. Aline Christopher and Jimmie; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Doss, Seminole; Claude Baker, wife and two children; Mrs. Mutt Oliver and baby.

Mrs. J. J. Woodard and 5 children; Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Griffith; Mrs. C. D. Hester and 4 children; Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Stephens and 3 children; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lyon; Mrs. Aaron Fox and Dixie; Mrs. Kate (Meardor) Webb; Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Chambers and 5 children; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cline, Petersburg; Cora Snider, Brownfield; Mr. and Mrs. P. Z. Goza, Wellman; Jack Stricklin, Sheriff Ches Gore, Sam White and daughter, Evelyn; Chris Quante; Mr. and Mrs. R. Loe and children, Weinert; Walsie Harrington, Mrs. W. A. Campbell and Alvin Gayle, Wellman.

J. S. Stephens, wife and Mary Ann; Louis Lee and Ruby Nell; Lolene Stephens, Lois Rainey, T. A. Wartes, Billie Jo Galbreath, Chas. Norton, Newt Newberry and wife. Those having no address following their names were local Wellman community people.

SPECIAL: In order to help parents who wish to send the Herald to their children who are attending college this coming term, we are making you an offer of just half the out-of-area price of $1.50 for one year. In other words, we will send the Herald to your boy or girl the full nine months, dating up to June 1, 1940 for only 75c. Drop in, or a phone order will be acceptable.

FAIR DATES SET

The definite date for the County Fair has been set for Friday and Saturday, September 22 and 23. The grounds will be west of the Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Company and its vicinity. The Agricultural department will be in the show rooms of the Farmers Implement Co., the livestock pens just west across the street, and the poultry department in an iron building north of the Miller Service Station. The woman's department will be in the show rooms of the old Carter Chevrolet agency and the carnival in the vacant lot just west of the Higginbotham-Bartlett sheds. Catalogues are being printed and will be ready for distribution the latter part of this week and may be had at the Chamber of Commerce office and the County Agent's office. Considerable interest is being manifested and it is believed that we will have a creditable showing of all products. The Lions Club will have charge of all carnival attractions and concessions. Efforts are being made to have several high school bands in attendance for the first day.

Judge R. A. Simms, accompanied by Commissioners Warren, Henson, W. B. Benton of the Union community, Tom May, and the writer appeared before the highway commission during the past week for the purpose of discussing some changes in the routing of the Highway between Brownfield and the Dawson county line and their reaction to our request was very favorable and we believe that a new route will be selected that will tend to serve a larger number of people than the route that was submitted to us a short time ago.

Mayor Clyde C. Coleman and Commissioner Henson attended a meeting of the International Parks Highway Association at Hereford on Monday of this week and one at Sterling, Colorado on Tuesday, returning home Wednesday. Delegations were from North Dakota, Nebraska, Colorado and several points in Texas. This highway is expected to become one of the most important north and south highways in the United States and connects several national parks between Canada and the Big Bend of Texas.

We are again becoming short on apartments and houses for rent and would like to have everyone who has an apartment or house for rent to call us over the phone or call at this office and list it. Another favor that we would like to ask is that when a house or apartment is listed with us and is later rented, we be notified of it. You will confer a favor not only on us, but upon prospective tenants as it frequently happens that we send a prospect out to look at a place and they report back that it is occupied. This is a little bit embarrassing to us and we would appreciate it if property owners would co-operate with us to the extent requested.

New Cotton Gin to Be Ready by the 16th

Paul Lawlis, owner of the new gin built on the site of the north side or Thomas gin which was burned last spring, was in this week to get his name in the pot for future issues of the Herald. He announced that he and family, the wife and two children were now domiciled in Brownfield to call this home again, and really Paul appeared to be really pleased to be back in Brownfield.

His new gin consists of a ground floor 4, 80-saw Continental, powered by steam. He wants people to see his gin and welcomes farmers who wish to inspect it. He is making a supreme effort to have it completed by the 16th and ready to gin.

Mrs. Martha Lingle and sister Miss Carolyn Spencer of Austin, came in Monday evening to visit their mother, Mrs. Percy Spencer and grandmother, Mrs. J. L. Randall.

Mahon Expects Extra Congressional Session

LUBBOCK—Congressman Geo. Mahon, in discussing the war situation in his Lubbock office early this week, made the following statement:

"The first order of business when Congress reconvenes should be the passage of legislation designed to take the profits out of war in the event America should become involved. We should make certain at the very outset of this war crisis that in case America gets into war nobody in this country shall profit financially thereby. In the World War we drafted our men, but we did not draft our capital and resources. It has been often pointed out, to the shame of our nation, that while American soldiers were giving their lives abroad more than 22,000 Americans were becoming millionaires at home. There is an additional threat to our peace as long as our entry into war holds out the lure of huge profits to large numbers of our people.

"Legislation on this subject has been advocated for years by veteran organizations and by Americans generally. Among other members of Congress, I have advocated such legislation. Some progress has already been made. Several bills are now pending and there should be no delay in enacting this proposal into law.

"To stay out of the European war is now the greatest task before us. If we will lay our plans carefully and determine with all our hearts to do so, I have every confidence that we will stay out. As a Representative in Congress of a quarter-million West Texans, I shall make every possible contribution toward that end."

Brownfield Gins Are Rearing to Go

The Farmer's, the Griffith, the Independent all west of the railroad, and the West Texas gin in the south part of the business section, have all undergone thorough overhauls during the summer, new parts were placed where needed, the saws sharpened and indeed they have been put in splendid running condition, and are now ready for the season's run. We also understand that the Paul Lewis gin, rebuilt on the site of the Thomas or North side gin, is just about complete, and of course will be brand new.

While the crop will be considerably larger than last year, it is believed that the five big plants in Brownfield are ample to nicely care for their customers without much waiting. As there will not be a large crop, with possibly a lot of labor available, it is generally believed that most of the cotton will be picked this year in order to make as good sample as possible, as there surely will not be much of a market this year for bad cotton, with two thirds of the best customers of the United States at war.

Anyway, Brownfield has five good gin plants with an excellent set of managers, who know gins and ginnings, and they have surrounded themselves with a personnel of helpers who are on their jobs and ready to assist their customers in every way possible.

Rio to Reopen Friday, September 29th

In conversation with Mrs. Ethel Jones, proprietor of the Jones Theatre, the Rialto, Ritz, and Rio, she stated the opening date of the Rio, which had been closed through the summer would be Friday, September 29th, opening with a great program to run through Saturday.

This is the new theatre built in 1938, and has a fine seating arrangement, and some of the most modern sound machinery to be obtained. Watch this paper for the opening announcement, and remember the date, Friday, September 29th.

Mrs. Erby Bedford of Plains, was over Monday, shopping.

The Official Paper of Terry County and the City of Brownfield

A friend says to us this week: "Well, this is what you get by supporting Jerry Sadler," referring to the oil business. Will just state again, as we stated several times during the campaign of 1938 that we were for C. V. Terrell in both the primaries. Jerry did NOT go in by our vote.

Ginners say Lorenzo territory lost about 2,500 bales of cotton on account of dry weather the last ten days. That's around $75,000 to be charged up to dry weather. But in reality a very large portion of this could have been saved with one or two more "going overs." Field after field the middles are hard and full of grass and weeds. Another rain would have kept it growing and so would cultivating. Rain cannot be controlled but cultivation can. As one farmer put it, "when it gets dry I go to work."
—Lorenzo Enterprise.

The U. S. has declared its neutrality as between the warring nations of Europe; so far as we know, Texas has taken no sides, or Terry for that matter, but we heard via the grapevine route that a small battle lasting but a few seconds happened at a service station here Sunday or Monday. It seems that a square-head with considerable accent was boasting of the "power and might" of Hitler and his outlaw gang, when a big husky at the station proceeded to take him by the collar and seat of his pants and throw him out on his ear. Since that time, the pro-German talk has been sorter quiet in Brownfield. We understand the Hitlerite did not belong here.

If you listened in to the talks by the several rulers of this and other nations Sunday, you were bound to note the difference in the tone of their addresses. For instance, King George and Prime Minister Chamberlain of England, as well as our own president had no note of hate for the German people in particular, and each of them mentioned the help and blessings of the Almighty God in what they were undertaking. On the other hand, Mr. Hitler of Germany made no mention of God, but depends on the might and force of the Nazi. Now, we shall see whether or not such a nation and people are allowed to exist and force their dominion over people who still call on Jehovah.

We liked the spirit of the reply on Connally Baldwin of the Lamessa to our beer advertising article, and we shall always admire and respect Connally and others in their opinions and decision. But, Connally you were not the only one to write telling why you do not carry the ad. There were many that came to our desk, some not in the spirit of good will of yours, in allowing others to choose for themselves. Some of them were from papers printed in counties that are wet or partially so. But, to illustrate our point that

WE RESERVE RIGHT TO LIMIT QUANTITIES

"you are not hiding anything from babes," we will give you this: We have a little grandson aged two and one-half years who surprised his elders not long ago when something was said about driving around, by saying, "let's go to Seagraves and honky-tonk and drink some beeah." Of course the little fellow had heard someone else say that either in jest or otherwise. But of course, Connally, all children are not as smart, quite, as our offsprings.

Well, the Herald lost a carnival ad that would have paid us around $3.50, and we have been shedding tears of regret every since. It all came about this way. The advance man of the carnival wanted his little ad placed alongside that of the local theater. We explained that the Jones Theatre here had been paying the Herald from $20 to $40 per month for advertising for lo, these many years, and that we did not feel like taking any risk of insulting them by placing a carnival ad beside their's. That we might and we might not ever get another ad from them, but that the Jones Theatre had been regular and good customers for years. He then made a remark about this being a one horse town, so we proceeded to tell him a bit, and he carried his ad to another source, but had to send back to borrow a mat we had to illustrate his ad. If this or any other carnival had to depend on what we would spend with them, they would be stranded in the first town they landed in. Yes, they will talk about "one-horse" town, but that is the kind they expect to find suckers in, it seems.

Etex Pressure Rises
With a world war threatening again, and crude stocks reported near exhaustion, pressure in the East Texas field was reported by Thompson to have jumped over 31 pounds during the shutdown. This, he said, is a distinct contribution to conservation, and will prolong life of many producing wells materially.

The red-headed commissioner, who has taken the lead in the fight precipitated by the mid-continent crude price cuts, threw another curve at the major price-cutters, when he drew up an order for a hearing on pipe-line rates, dated tentatively Sept. 7, and cited sworn reports of major pipeline companies showing $400,000,000 of net profits in nine years, as evidence of need for a review of pipeline rates, and of justification for his advocacy of 5-cent a barrel tax on pipeline-transported oil. He would use the revenue for pensions and other social security measures. Thompson also promised independent refiners short of crude the Commission would seek to obtain crude for them to operate with, "thus testing their good faith in the matter of reducing their stocks."

Mann's Ruling
Attorney General Gerald Mann handed down two important rulings during the week. First, he held Gov. O'Daniel's veto of appropriations for eight examiners employed by the Life Insurance Commission did not prevent the commission from appealing to the Board of Control for power to re-employ these inspectors, who are paid out of funds assessed against the insurance companies for supervision purposes.

A bitter blow to 300 Texas University students was Mann's second ruling, holding that part-time jobs for students by state departments are not authorized. It has been customary to create a single job, then divide the work and the pay between two or three students, each working part of the day. This makes many friends for the politicians who give out the jobs, and also enables many students to get work to help pay their college expenses. Mann pointed out authority for "splitting" the jobs was left out of the detailed appropriations bill, and the practice could not

Appointments.
Appointments recently made by Gov. O'Daniel indicated that there is no great difference between the way it is done in business, and the way it has always been done in politics. The Governor named F. C. Branson, building and loan association executive of Galveston, state banking commissioner. Branson was employed by the Maco Stewart interests, and reportedly had two years of a three-year contract yet to fill. His compensation as Banking Commissioner is $5,000. The Maco Stewart interests have been ardent and enthusiastic friends and advisors of the Governor since the election.

Mrs. Ella Mae Murphey, of Corpus Christi, an employe of the Board of Cosmetology, which licenses and supervises beauty shops, was named a member of the board, succeeding Mrs. P. A. Hous-ton of Henderson. Mrs. Murphey, described as a highly capable employe of the board, is also a sister of a prominent public utility lobbyist, who led an active fight among the special interests group to pass S. J. R. No. 12, the Governor's sales tax constitutional amendment at the regular session.

Leon, the Governor's banjo-picking foil on his radio program, is fulfilling his duties in a new position as disbursement officer of the Texas National Guard. He is stationed at Camp Mabry, easily available for the Sunday morning radio broadcast.

Austin Notes
The folks who tried to get the Senate to call off its filibuster and pass a driver's license law with teeth in it at the regular session evidently knew what they were talking about. The Senate dithered along with the filibuster, and killed the driver's license bill. During the first half of 1939, 394 persons were killed in highway accidents in Texas, and 25 per cent of them were accidents involving drunken drivers. . . . Senator Joe Hill, who opposed the sales tax, urged Gov. O'Daniel to call a special session and submit a natural resource tax to finance pensions. . . . Rep. Lon Alsop of Carthage, blind house member, also urged a special session to take care of the needy blind. . . . The lobbyists in Austin feel certain the governor will not call a special session, they say, but when the pension money runs short in another month or two, forcing reduction in the present $14 average monthly payments to 118,000 pensioners, it may be a different story.

LOCAL LADY LOSES BRO.

Mrs. A. M. McBurnett of this city lost her brother last Saturday afternoon with the passing of W. R. Frickas, 64, prominent druggist for the past 15 years in Lubbock. He had suffered a serious paralytic stroke on Wednesday His wife and three daughters, his father and four sisters survive.

The body was carried to the old home at Snyder following funeral services at the First Baptist church at Lubbock, for burial, following another service at the Snyder Baptist church.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Latham of Bowie, Texas spent the week end with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Latham.

SHERIFF'S SALE

THE STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF TERRY

WHEREAS, on the 12th day of September A. D., 1930 the State of Texas recovered a judgement in the District Court of Terry County, Texas, against C. G. Goodman as Defendant for the sum of One Hundred Seventy Three and 61/100 ($173.61) Dollars, with interest thereon at the rate of 6% per annum from the 12th day of September A. D., 1930, until paid, and the further sum of Twenty-nine and 89/100 ($29.89) Dollars, costs of suit; and

WHEREAS, said judgment decree described the foreclosure of the lien created, established and continued on the lands, lots and property hereinafter described, by reason of the levy and assessment of taxes and of the delinquency therein, the said taxes remaining unpaid and due to the State of Texas and the County of Terry, and as the same lien then existed and at any time theretofore existed by reason of such levy and delinquency and at the dates and for the years 1920, 1925, 1928, 1927, and 1928, and against the property so described and set forth as follows, to-wit:

Lot 12, Block 5, Original Town-site of Meadow, Terry County, Texas.

(Other property described in the deed to the State of Texas with above described property is not included in this notice.)

WHEREAS on the 27th day of October A. D., 1930, the then duly elected and qualified Sheriff of Terry County, Texas, levied upon the above described land as the property of the defendant, C. G. Goodman, and afterwards, advertised the same for sale at the courthouse door of Brownfield, Texas, such sale to be held, and the same was held, on the 2nd day of December A. D. 1930, being the first Tuesday of said month, and

WHEREAS, on the 2nd day of December A. D. 1930, between the hours of ten o'clock a. m. and four o'clock p. m., at the courthouse door of said county, in pursuance to the order of sale and said advertisement, sold said property at public outcry to the highest bidder for such land and the same was bid off to the State for the amount of said judgment, interest and costs adjudged against said property, to-wit: The sum of Two hundred four and 37/100 ($204.37) Dollars, and said State being the highest and best bidder for same; and

WHEREAS, the said property has not been redeemed within the time prescribed by law.

NOW, THEREFORE, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the authority vested in me by law, on the 3rd day of October A. D. 1939, being the first Tuesday of said month, between the hours of ten o'clock a. m., and four o'clock p. m., on said day at the courthouse door of said county, I will offer for sale as under execution, in behalf of the State of Texas, and sell at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash, all the right, title and interest of said State of Texas in and to said property.

DATED at Brownfield, Texas, this 6th day of September A. D. 1939.

BILL'S IN TROUBLE

I've got a letter, parson, from my son away out West,
An' my ol' heart is heavy as an anvil on my breast,
To think the boy's future I had once so nicely planned,
Should wander from the path of right and come to such an end.
I tol' him when he left us, only three short years ago.
He'd find himself aplovin' in a mighty crooked row.
He's missed his father's counsel and his mother's prayers too
But he said the farm was hateful and guessed he'd have to go.
I know there's big temptations for a youngster in the West,
But I believed our Billy had the courage to resist,
An' when he left I warned him of the everwaitin, snares
That lie like hidden serpents in life's pathway everywhere;
But Bill he promised faithful to be careful, an' allowed

That he would build a reputation that would make us mighty proud.

But it seems as how my counsel sort o' faded from his mind,
And now he's got in trouble of the very worsted kind.
His letters came so seldom that I somehow sort o' knowed
That Bill was a trampin' on a mighty rocky road.
But never once imagined he would bow my head in shame,
And in the dust'd waller his old daddy's honored name.

He writes from out in Denver, the story's mighty short;
I just can't tell his mother!—It'll crush her poor ol' heart!
An' so I reckon, parson, you might break the news to her—
Our Bill's in the Legislatur', but he doesn't say what fur!
James Barton Adams.

Before the World War, when the world export trade in wheat was 60 per cent greater than it is today, the United States furnished about 16 per cent of the export wheat. Aided by the Government expert program, this country has sold 20 per cent of the world's exported wheat in 1938.

Excavation Started To Recover Meteor

ODESSA, Texas, Sept. 5.—Excavation of one of the nation's largest known meteor craters, eight miles southwest of here, was started last week by a crew of 20 men under joint supervision of The University of Texas and the WPA.

Measuring 600 feet from rim to rim, the Ector county crater is known to be exceeded only in size by the famed mile-wide canyon Diablo pit in Arizona, Dr. E. H. Sellards, director of the University's Bureau of Economic Geology and in general charge of excavation, said.

It was Dr. Sellards who first announced in 1927 that the largely filled-in Odessa crater was actually caused by an "iron" meteorite, which appears to have smashed into the earth "thousands of years ago."

Dr. Sellards says excavation was being pushed to study the effects of the earth under the impact of a large meteor. The Canyon Diablo crater was never completely excavated, he said.

The bureau director added that he was unable, as yet, to estimate the actual size of the original meteor—other than it was "quite large"—or whether excavation would yield any of the projectile imbedded deep under ground.

"It may easily have exploded under impact," he explained. "We have already found and examined several fragments."

In accord with University-WPA plans to make the excavation accessible to the public for its educational value, Ector county officials are now constructing a two-mile road from U. S. Highway 80 to the crater's edge, Dr. Sellards said.

BRUNSWICK TIRE SHOP OPENED RECENTLY

Mr. G. W. Foster of Plainview, Texas, has opened a tire shop on east Main, next to Fitzgerald Service Station, in one of the Cleve Williams buildings. Mr. Foster is married and has a son, Dan, two years of age. He will handle a full line of Brunswick tires and tubes.

Mr. Foster stated to a representative of the Herald that he had been raised in a cotton section, and was glad he was returning to a cotton section from a wheat country, as wheat on the Plains seems to be more uncertain than cotton.

He not only sells tires and tubes, but can do your jobs of repairing.

BULLITT FINISHES JOB GIVEN JEFFERSON

In 1787, the Congress of the United States commissioned Thos. Jefferson to have made in France dies for medals commemorating the courage and achievements of John Paul Jones, Father of the American Navy. The medals were to be struck there and with the dies shipped to the United States. The medals were made but due to confusion arising from the French Revolution, and Jefferson's sudden return to Washington to become Secretary of State, the dies were overlooked.

On August 19, 1939, William C. Bullitt, United States Ambassador to France, notified this Government that he now has the dies in his possession, they having been stored in the museum of the French mint. The dies will be added to the mementoes at the tomb of the naval hero at the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.

TO BE EXPECTED

A dispatch from Prague states that a statue of Thomas Masaryk, Czech national hero and first president of Czechoslovakia, was pulled down by Fascists on July 7th, in Budweis, and mutilated by having the hands broken off and the face battered. This is not surprising. The Fascists are merely repeating another incident that happened in Rome. Shortly after Mussolini's ascendancy an equestrian statue of the great Garibaldi, liberator and Freemason, was mutilated, the black shirts removing Masonic insignia at the base of the statue and replacing them with Fascist emblems.

NOTED MASONIC SPEAKER ASSAILS BUND LEADER

William Moseley Brown, Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Virginia, addressed a group of 2,000 Masons on August 19th at a meeting held at the New York World's Fair.

Mr. Brown stated the Masonry welcomed the participation of many foreign nations at the Fair, but that the Masonic Institution would not stand for the inculcation of an "ism." He denounced Fascism, Nazism and Communism specifically, referring to the leaders of these ideologies, Hitler, Stalin and Mussolini.

Declaring that the dictatorship of both Right and Left had restricted freedom of speech and liberty, Mr. Brown averred, "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," adding that the Fraternity has for the last 200 years "stood for the intangible, eternal things that make life worthwhile." The speaker denounced Fritz Kuhn, leader of the so-called German-American Bund, as a "blot on American civilization" and demanded that Kuhn be "put out of business."

Mr. H. P. French of the Tokio section of Yoakum county, was in this week after supplies. He stated his crop was holding up very well.

Atty. J. B. Cotton of Crane had business here in district court this week.

Willie McDonald of the Needmore section, was in town Wednesday.

POTATOES NOT FATTENING!

College Station, Sept. 4.—An Irish potato, bugaboo of persons trying to lose weight, is no more fattening than a large apple, yet it provides the diet with valuable vitamins and minerals at low cost.

Nora Ellen Elliot, specialist in food preparation for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, the authority for this statement, also says many people throw away dollars in health value because they peel potatoes instead of using the whole potato. Potatoes baked or boiled in their skins save money and health, since the part of greatest health value is nearest the skin, she explains.

Moisture absorbed during cooking is the primary cause of soggy potatoes. Steamed potatoes, the specialist says, absorb less moisture than boiled ones and therefore mealier, though not as mealy as baked potatoes. Mature potatoes are recommended for baking purposes.

Food specialists consider the potato the first vegetable to buy when a low-cost health food is to be bought, and they advise serving this economical food at least once a day.

It is estimated that if all the low income groups were to use the same diet as is used by the higher income groups, about 25 to 30 million more acres would be required to feed America.

The Vantage Ground

But no pleasure is comparable to the standing upon the vantage ground of truth.—Bacon.

Mrs. H. F. Heath of the Stanford Valley section of old Yoakum was in Saturday shopping with our merchants. While Mrs. Heath is still on crutches, she says she is running the farm-ranch out there now, and has H. F. busy windmilling most of the time. She says they have eight windmills, and if Mr. Heath can keep six going they feel satisfied.

J. L. Simms was mixing with the first Monday crowd. Did not see any sign of Cedar Lake oil on him.

C. J. McLeroy, prominent farmer of the Gomez section, was among the Tradesday crowd.

Henry Breneman of the Western Union downtown station, is expecting the folks out from Paris soon. So Henry will have to quiet down some.

COMMERCIAL FAILURES GAIN

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 5.—With liabilities more than doubled, commercial failures in Texas in July gained 75 per cent over the like month of last year, University of Texas economists disclosed today.

Failures dropped 22.2 per cent below the June figure, however, the University Bureau of Business Research reports said. Liabilities, on the other hand, gained 19.9 per cent over June.

The total number of descendants of any colonial family that settled in this country between 1620 and 1640 is estimated to be more than 200, 000.

Miss Glynn Anderson of Plainview, spent the week end in the A. W. Turner home.

LOCAL MAN'S GRANDFATHER DIES AT ENNIS, TEXAS

W. R. McDuffie of the First National Bank received the sad message Saturday of the death of his grandfather, W. R. Pryor, pioneer merchant of Ennis, Texas, at the age of 87 years. Mr. Pryor's death was primarily caused from a fall the Sunday before when he sustained a broken knee and shoulder. Mr. and Mrs. McDuffie, accompanied by Mr. McDuffie's sister, Mrs. Marlin Davis of Lubbock, left immediately for Ennis.

Mr. Pryor was a native of Mississippi, but came to Corsicana, Texas in young manhood, where he married. He also lived for some time at Meridian, Texas, but had been a citizen of Ennis for 50 years, where he was active in business up to his death. Mr. McDuffie and son are both named for his grandfather, William Richard.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist church at Ennis, Sunday, with Rev. L. S. Ballard of the Trinity church, Dallas, officiating, assisted by the local pastor, Rev. Kirkland. Interment was made in the Myrtle Cemetery, Ennis. Mr. Pryor had been a member of the Baptist church since 14, and was a charter member of the Ennis W. O. W. lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Herod and Mr. and Mrs. Mon Telford were Lubbock visitors, Monday.

R. M. and Clovis Kendrick, of the First National Bank and Leo Holmes and Nelson Smith of the State Bank, went to Midland, Monday to attend the Banker's Convention.

Mrs. R. M. Kendrick and Richard visited in Big Spring and Foran this week.

Mrs. Patterson and Miss Johnnie May Patterson of Plains, were over Tuesday, shopping.

Wellman

A successful Baptist meeting came to a close Sunday night.

Mrs. Wade and daughter have moved to Wellman.

Mrs. Avis Stark is visiting in Fort Worth. She is expected home soon.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Edwards. They were married September the second. Mrs. Lawrence Edwards, formerly Miss Letta Lindley was one of the 1939 graduates from Wellman High School. May they enjoy many years of married life.

Wellman schools opened Sept. 4th. Every one was glad to be back in school and a more prosperous school year is expected.

The faculty: Mr. E. McWhirter, Supt; Mrs. McWhirter, English and Home Economics; Miss Oliver, History; Mr. Scott, Boy's Coach; Mr. Davis, Business and Typing; Mrs. Winters, Girl's Coach; Mr. P. C. Goza, Grammar School Superintendent, and Math; Miss Lucky, Primary Department; Miss Gregg, Mrs. Lyons and Mrs. Winters are instructors in Grammar school.

HARMONY

Canning is the order of the day at home; farmers are getting ready to begin harvesting their crops.

The Baptist meeting closed August 27 with 10 additions to the church. Bro. Curtis Jackson did the preaching for the revival, the young people did some good singing.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fore had relatives visiting them recently. We failed to get the names and where they were from.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wilhite had as their guest recently her sisters, one from Denton, the other from Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Bingham visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Davis last Thursday night.

Our school started Monday. Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wilhite are our teachers and we will have a good school.

Mr. and Mrs. Lum Howell and daughter, Miss Ardibell of Olden visited Mrs. Howell's uncle, Mr. Joe A. Davis and family recently. While here they visited Mr. Howell's brother, Mr. K. W. Howell and family of Brownfield.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Thompson visited relatives in Abilene and Tuscola over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Davis had as their guest, her sister with her husband, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Lynn of Raymondville who has been attending business interests and visiting relatives in Lynn county. En route home they will visit Mr. Lynn's sister, Mrs. Griffin Leverett, who lives at McKinney.

It makes us sad to hear the war news coming almost hourly from Europe. How we pray we shall always have peace in our country.

Miss Dorothy Davis and Miss Counts of the nursing staff, Lubbock Sanitarium, accompanied by Bill Jones and Mr. McCreary, were visitors in the A. J. Stricklin home Sunday evening.

If the Texas railroad commission was shelled with telegrams from other west Texas towns like they were from Brownfield, they'll spend all the rest of the week reading telegrams.

Most of us know very little about the machinations of the oil game, but most publishers know that Ernest O. Thompson pulled a stunt in closing down wells that caused one oil company to advertise in the newspapers. The radio failed to get the job done. When the corporations really want to speak directly to the people, they know no method succeeds like newspaper advertising. (P. S. Also page Jerry Sadler and Lon Smith, the other two on the Railroad Commission.)—Clarendon Leader.

SCHOOL TIME AGAIN

School teachers get notes from parents—lots of them. Here is one sent to a Dallas teacher last spring: "Dere teacher, you keep tellin my boy to breathe through his diaphragm. Rich. folks may aford diaphragms but we can't when my ole man makes on dollar and 50 a day to keep a famby of 5. It ain one thing it is nother. Now it is diaphragm. That is the worst you ast of one of my bunch of children."

Matt McPherson of Houston, is here visiting his brother, Lester and family.

Poverty vs. Covetousness
We thing poverty to be infinitely desirable before the torments of covetousness.—Jeremy Taylor.

Esteemed Self
A man must be excessively stupid, as well as uncharitable, who believes there is no virtue but on his own side.—Addison.

Dangerous Spirit
Of all the evil spirits abroad at this hour in the world, insincerity is the most dangerous.—Froude.

Through August, 1938, The University of Texas issued 26,836 degrees. Bachelors in Arts and Sciences were most numerous with 10,933, masters of science, law and business administration and bachelors of engineering followed with 3,801 and 3,258.

PA IS PROBABLY AN EDITOR
"Pa, what is a publicity hound?" "One with a big mouth and a long tale."

Back to School

The time of the year approaches when Civic Organizations, Service Clubs, Parent-Teacher Associations, School Boards and others of the community will begin their "Back to School Campaigns." This truly is a worthy movement and will enlist the support of every thinking Texan.

Success in the campaign will lessen the unemployment problem among the youth of the neighborhood, but will tax the facilities of education. But the lack of facilities is not the fault of the boys and girls. To the boys and girls of this county and state, there is no such thing as a youth problem. And to their parents and to their elders, they should be regarded as blessings rather than a problem.

There are still hundreds of rural counties in all sections of the United States where the schools have neither the buildings, the equipment, nor the trained teachers to give the children an education that will fit them for the demands of the day. Usually where the birth rate is the highest, the taxable values are poor, and the local governments must strain every resource to provide for the education of the children under their care.

There's still another burden the schools should aid in bearing, and that is, to teach students how to use their hands as well as their three R's.

Now demands of the country call for experienced workmen and youth who actually know how to handle their hands; how to sweep, hoe, hammer, use a typewriter, wash tub, broom, canning machine, etc., as well as a football, tennis racket and a baseball bat. These latter playthings have their purpose and their place, but after all, this is a world of practical works it should be borne in mind that the laborer that is worthy of his hire must first learn how. Without jobs in which to gain experience, the schools must save the day for the boys and girls.

MORE SCHOOL STUFF

The first day at school for a little tot brought on these questions from her teacher: "What is your father's name?" "Daddy," replied the tot. "Yes, I know, but what does your mother call him?" "She won't call him anything. She likes him!"

SCIENTIFIC

"Do you know," said the first year student of the agricultural college to an old farmer, "your methods are 100 years behind the times? Why," looking across the field he mowed a grain patch, "I'd be surprised if you made 10 bushels of wheat to the acre on that field!" The old man smiled and said, "me too, buddy, seein' as how it's oats!"

Good Excuse

England's aleconners, who practiced their profession of testing ale and beer up to a few years ago, determined the sugar contents by pouring some of the liquor on a wooden stool and then sitting on it. If their leather breeches stuck, they considered the brew satisfactory.

MOST INFANTILE PARALYSIS OCCUR IN SUMMER

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 4.—Infantile paralysis, like typhoid fever and intestinal disturbances of infants, is largely a summer disease. Although cases may occur during any month of the year, over half of the total number occur during July, August, September and October. To date, 109 cases of poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) have been reported to the Texas State Department of Health in 1939.

Direct contact between persons is regarded as being the chief factor in the spread of infantile paralysis. Because of the seasonal prevalence of the disease, flies and other insects have been suspected of conveying the virus or germ. Insect transmission has not, however, been scientifically proven. Although animals are subject to paralysis, they are seemingly not susceptible to the human type of this paralytic disease. Carriers are difficult to determine; this fact makes advisable the reduction to a minimum of human contacts during an outbreak.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis comprise headache, fever, vomiting, intestinal disorder, drowsiness and irritability, followed by neck or back stiffness. Prompt medical care, early recognition and reporting of cases to health authorities make possible the use of valuable preventive and control measures.

After the acute stage of the disease has passed and walking is permitted the patient, under no circumstances, must the affected part be fatigued. It is thus observed that the secret of successful rehabilitation lies in continuance of professional guidance and large doses of patience.

Address of Ernest O. Thompson

Chairman, Interstate Oil Compact Commission and Member, Railroad Commission of Texas.

Two weeks ago last Monday night I spoke to the people of Texas on the oil crisis. Tonight, I am glad to tell you that the crisis is over. Order has been restored, hope renewed and the power and dignity of the sovereign states has been upheld.

We have demonstrated that the State of Texas is stronger than even the biggest oil company on Earth.

We have shown the Standard Oil Company that its fair-haired child, the Humble Oil Company, cannot trample the rights of Texas producers under their golden boot heels.

The Humble Oil Company does not run Texas.

The State of Texas, her citizens, through their duly elected officials stepped into the line and saved to our people a hundred million dollars annually.

We protected, defended and fostered the prosperity and well-being of our State.

We demonstrated that the sovereign states can and will and do work together when the occasion demands.

It has been said that the battles of peace are no less important than those of war.

We have just been in a battle with the Standard Oil Company. They were using their Texas subsidiary, the Humble, in this, their latest fight to drive the little oil man out of business and kill off their competition.

We have won that battle. We saved that hundred million dollars for Texas. But now we've got a new fight still ahead of us.

We can win it, too, if we all pull together. It's high time for the people of Texas to start collecting on their birthright, the natural resources of Texas.

It's high time we start taking a share of the profits from Wall Street and start putting them in the coffers of Texas, for the benefit of our old people and our younger generations.

John Black was among the prominent farmers in on Tradesday. He took the occasion to renew for his own paper and that of his brother at Comanche, Texas.

A. C. Harvey of west Terry, has a brother here from Missouri visiting him. This is Mr. Harvey's first trip to Texas, we understand.

A. L. Baker was in from the Wellman section, Monday, and sent out a number of last week's Heralds to old friends, mostly back in Parker county.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Walters of this city, accompanied by their son, Chester and family of Houston, have just returned from a rip to Fort Sumner, N. M., where they visited their daughter, Mrs. Pete Kyle. Saw some large orchards and the grave of Billy the Kid. Returning they visited another daughter, Mrs. Gladys Smith, of Hereford and family.

Cecil O'Neal of the Pleasant Valley section was in Saturday to renew and informed us that the school board of that district had again elected him as school bus driver.

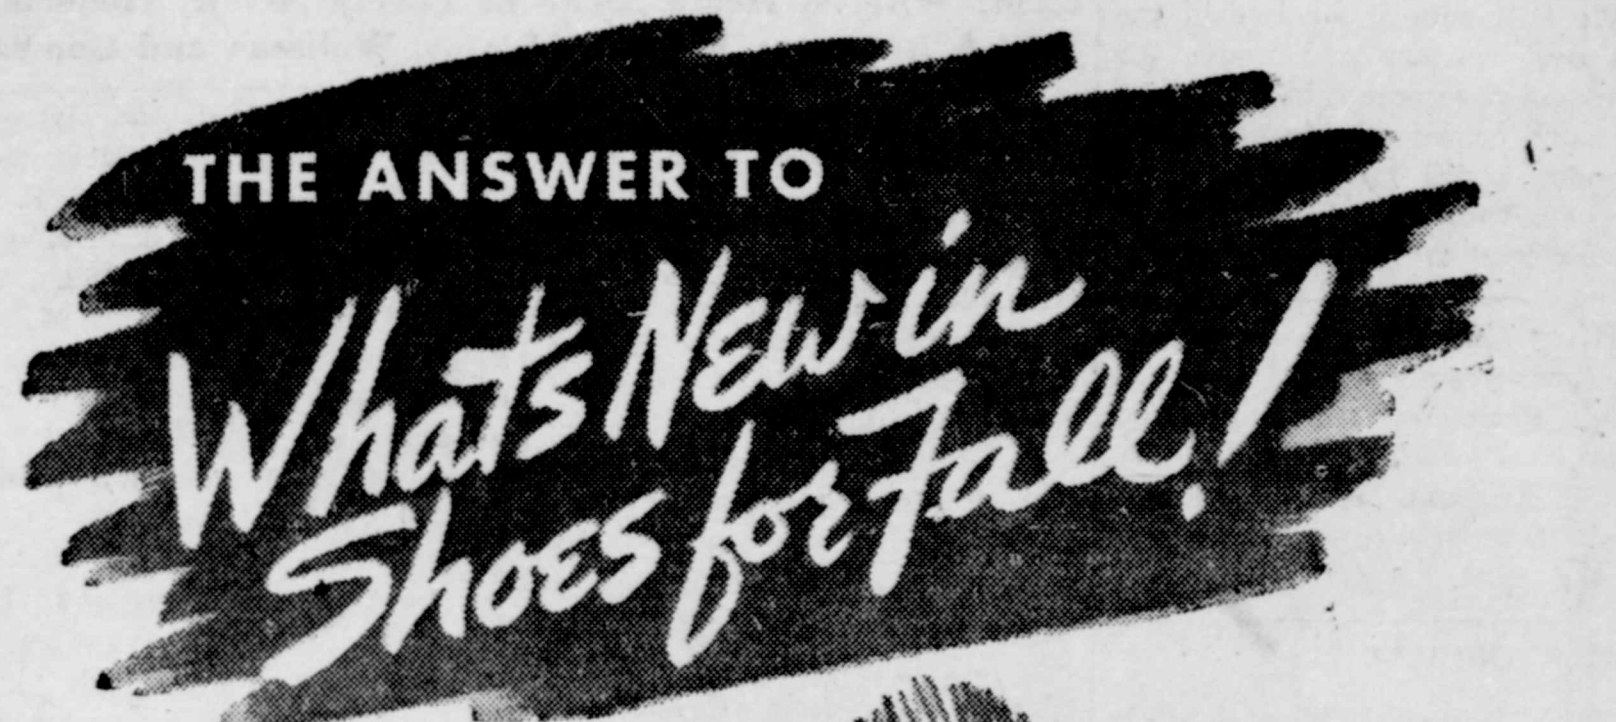

Mrs. L. C. Wines handed in her dollar this week for another year of the Herald. Like her late husband, Mayor Wines, Mrs. Wines likes to be right on the dot with her renewal. Her paper would have been out the 6th. She renewed the 5th.

Mrs. C. W. Prichard of Caddo Mills, only sister of C. Sears, has been visiting relatives in this section for the past three months. In that time she gained 39 pounds in weight, and of course loves the Plains. She left for home last week.

Bob Locker is having the south half of his building on the west side of the square repainted and decorated, making it ready for occupancy about the 16th by a Mr. Thurman of Albany, who is described as a first class cafe man.

STRANGE BED FELLOWS

When Hitler was writing his book, "Mein Kampf," here is what he said about Russia.

"Any alliance between the Reich and Soviet Russia would be the end of Germany."

"We must never forget that the regents of present day Russia are common, blood-stained criminals; that here is the scum of humanity."

That Stalin does not think much of Germany is evident from the fact that he practically ruined the efficiency of the Red Army by executing his ablest generals for their pro-German sympathies.

They have but one thing in common and that is their hatred for religion.

MRS. MON TELFORD ENTERTAINS KOLONIAL KARD KLUB

The lovely country home of Mrs. Mon Telford was the scene of the Klonial Kard Klub's meeting last Friday when she entertained with three tables of bridge at nine-thirty.

Mrs. T. L. Treadaway and Mrs. Clyde Cave were high scorers, each receiving large bath towels. At the conclusion of the games, the hostess served a delicious chicken dinner, buffet style.

Those enjoying this lovely affair were Mesdames Bob Bowers, Dick McDuffie, Jack Bailey, Cecil Smith, Jim Graves, Clyde Cave, E. C. Davis, Money Price, Garrett Daugherty, Lee O. Allen, T. L. Treadaway and Miss Virginia May.

MISS ROANE IS WED TO LOGAN REDFORD

The marriage of Miss Jeanne Roane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Roane of Floydada, to Logan Redford, son of Mrs. E. L. Redford of Brownfield, took place Wednesday night at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. John Eldridge, pastor of the Floydada Methodist church, read the ceremony.

The bride wore a tailored tweed suit with moss green and burgundy accessories. Her shoulder bouquet was of gardenias.

After a brief trip, the couple will be at home in Amarillo where Mr. Redford is with the U. S. Soil Conservation service. —Lubbock Avalanche.

LABOR DAY FAMILY REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Underwood and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Buell were hosts on Monday for a number of visiting relatives who had not met together in some fifteen years.

Guests were Mrs. Alex L. Smith and sons, Clyde and Alexander of New York City; Mr. E. C. Buell, Sr., Pilot Point, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Giles and three daughters, Mrs. Edwin Stultz, Miss Francis Jane Giles and Mrs. H. L. Weller and daughter Mary Ann of Amarillo; also the Moore children, Billy, Ervin, L. G., Mary Alice and Linda Giles, and Roberta and Nancy Underwood.

Mrs. Smith is a sister of Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Underwood and Henry Buell, and Mr. Buell is their father. Mr. Giles is an uncle. Mrs. Carl Beedle of Amarillo, another daughter of Mr. Giles was unable to attend. These young people are the only descendants of the late Henry Giles of Amarillo, an Englishman who came with his family to Amarillo in 1884. A very pleasant day and night were spent together once again.

WAYNE TIPTON WEDS MISS SWEENEY

The marriage of Miss June Sweeney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sweeney and Wayne Tipton, son of Mrs. Racheal Tipton, took place last Thursday evening at the Baptist parsonage in Kermit, Texas, the Rev. Watson officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Tipton are both popular members of the young social set of Brownfield and both graduated from Brownfield high school. They are at home to their friends at the Dr. Jacobson residence.

MAIDS AND MATRONS CLUB HAS FORMAL TEA, SEPTEMBER 5TH

L. M. Wingerd Home Scene of Lovely Affair, Honoring Club Affiliates, Meadow, Plains, Wellman and Gomez.

MAIDS AND MATRONS ANNUAL FORMAL TEA

The reassembly meeting of the Maids and Matrons Club for the club year 1939-1940, was in form of a seated tea honoring the District President, Mrs. J. M. Ruth-erford of Chillicothe, Texas and the club affiliates, Wellman, Meadow, Plains and Gomez.

The tea was held in the home of Mrs. Roy Wingerd, Tuesday, September 5th. Mrs. J. M. Teague, Mrs. J. L. Randal, Mrs. J. E. Moore, Mrs. John Randal and Miss Gertrude Rasco were co-hostesses with Mrs. Wingerd.

The social committee, Mrs. Wingerd, Mrs. E. C. Davis, Mrs. J. W. Hendrix, Mrs. W. B. Toone, Mrs. J. R. Turner and Miss Olga Fitzgerald planned the afternoon's program.

The entertaining suite was pretty with daisies and yellow gold-englows in the club's colors of white and yellow.

Receiving the guests were the club's incoming president, Mrs. Jim Moore, lovely in blue tafetta; Mrs. John Randal, stately in burgandy crepe; Mrs. J. M. Teague very exotic in yellow organza; Mrs. John R. Turner, lovely in pastel pink lace; and Mrs. Roy Wingerd, serene in orchid lace. The immediate past president, Mrs. Redford Smith in pink and silver; and Miss Gertrude Rasco, demure in striped tafetta were also in the receiving line.

The tea table with a cover of embroidered grass linen and centered with daisies and fern was set with crystal and was presided over by Miss Jane Brownfield, dressed in bustled effect, blue tafetta. She was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Wingerd.

Mrs. Jim Moore, the new president, in her own gracious manner gave the address of welcome which was responded to by Mrs. W. M. Schroeder.

Club presidents of affiliated clubs introduced and introducing their members were: Mrs. W. M. Schroeder, Wellman Study Club, Wellman; Mrs. Floyd Copeland, Meadow Study Club, Meadow; Mrs. A. G. Mabry, Tis-Ma-Ga Club, Plains. Mrs. Moore introduced the members and associate members of the Maids and Matrons Club.

Guest speaker of the afternoon was Mr. Vernon Brewer, Principal of Brownfield High School, and his subject, "The American Woman in the Present Crisis," was very ably handled, in which he gave some very important highlights of the present European crisis.

Mrs. Davis gave a humorous reading, "If" by Adelaide Andrews.

Musical numbers were played by Misses Gertrude Rasco and Jane Brownfield. Miss Brownfield, a talented student of Miss Rasco, played a piano solo, Rhapsody by Liszt. Miss Rasco gave two marimba numbers, London-derry Air, and Estrilita, by Ponce. At the conclusion everyone joined in a singsong of familiar tunes, with Mrs. Roy Herod at the piano.

Members of Maids and Matrons club in attendance were Mesdames W. A. Bell, Lee Brownfield, E. C. Davis, J. W. Hendrix, J. E. Moore, Joe J. McGowan, L. Nicholson, Pat Patterson, David Perry, Money Price, J. L. Randal, Redford Smith, A. J. Stricklin, J. M. Teague, J. M. Telford, W. B. Toone, J. R. Turner, Roy Wingerd, Roy Herod and Miss Gertrude Rasco. Mrs. J. R. Wright of Houston and Dallas and Mrs. Mary Jones of Plainview were visitors.

Members of Study Club, Meadow; Mesdames Floyd Copeland, Lanon Bisset, Homer Franklin, Roland Evans and Afton Richards.

Club of Plains, Mesdames C. I. Bedford, J. V. O'Neal, Betty Criswell, P. C. Blankenship, W. Hayhurst, Raymond Bookout, A. G. Mabry and M. McGinty.

Club, Wellman; Mesdames W. M. Schroeder, Gibb Phillips, A. L. Christopher, E. McWhorter, J. L. Lyon, T. A. Wartes, G. L. Sullivan and Miss Almetta Gregg.

The club regretted very much that Mrs. Ruthertford was unable to attend and look forward to having her visit at a later date.

LAF-A-LOT CLUB

Mrs. Orb Stice was hostess with a very pretty party last Thursday, August 31st when she entertained the Laf-a-Lot Club with four tables of bridge.

Mrs. Wilson Collins scored high, receiving double plaques and Mrs. Dick McDuffie second, receiving cigarette holder.

PARALEE NELSON, 4 HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Homer Nelson honored her daughter, Paralee, on her fourth birthday Monday afternoon at 4. Each little guest was presented with dolls and balloons.

Paralee received many nice gifts from her friends who attended the party. The guests included Joe Lynn, Gloria, and Ronny Swan, John Holmes, Betty Jean Holmes, Gloria Ann Smith, Charlotte Ann Smith, Mumford Austin Graham, Jack Taylor Stricklin, Bobby Jean Duke, Roscoe Treadaway, Ronny Daniell, J. FORMER ARYAIN STORE BUILDING LEASED

Two gentlemen whose names we failed to learn, one being from Lovington and the other from Roswell, N. M., have leased the store building formerly occupied by the Aryain Dry Goods on west Main street. It is our understanding that they will put in a stock of dry goods in the building.

The building is the property of Lee Brownfield, and has been empty for the past five months, the only empty building except one small 12x50 on the west side of the square anywhere near the business district.

NEW MINISTER COMING TO CHURCH OF CHRIST

Elder James F. Black and family will arrive here this week as he has been engaged by the officers of the local Church of Christ to take charge of the work for the coming year, as minister and worker. Elder Black is no stranger in this section, as he has held two or more meetings for Gomez, and one here this summer.

The officers and members of the church are asking that every one possible, who attends this church, or are members, be on hand Sunday and hear the new minister. Also, we presume that plans for the coming year's work will be made known.

BAPTIST CHURCH

The attendance at the morning hours last Sunday was good. The Bible teaching hour as well as the preaching hour, but the attendance at the evening hour was disappointing and every member of the church shares the responsibility of this evening service and it will be what you make possible for it by your presence. The weather will be cooler shortly if this is your excuse so manifest your interest by your presence. The people have returned from their vacations and school has started and we invite every teacher in the public school not otherwise affiliated to be present in our teaching service as well as at the preaching hour, and furnish the students of their classes a fine example.

The architect has an appointment to meet the building committee Friday evening of this week to show them the completed plans for the new building and an early contract for its construction will be made. This is a big job and requires the fine cooperation of all the people to make it successful and a good spirit is being manifested.

The W. M. U. will meet next Monday at 4 p. m. in circles and places to be announced Sunday morning.

May next Sunday show great crowds at both morning and evening hours.

The Brotherhood of the church will meet in regular meeting next Monday 8 p. m. The program will be brought by a new group of men and it is interesting how these men assume their places on these programs at each monthly meeting. Every man is welcome at these meetings and some who refrain from coming might learn something themselves as well as be helpful to the work by their attendance.

Hospital Notes

The nursing staff at the Treadaway-Daniell Hospital reported all the patients reported confined in the hospital last week, were mending. This included Mrs. E. H. Jones of Meadow, who had been seriously ill. Those having operations this week, all for appendectomy, are as follows:

Mrs. Ray Castleberry of Meadow, the 4th, doing nicely.

Mrs. Glenn King, Welch, the 4th, convalescing nicely.

Little Miss Charlie Gaston, August 31, Gomez community, improving.

Mr. David Mitchell, city, operated the 5th, is doing well.

Book Review

The thing that distinguishes "Our Common Herd," by Sue Sanders is that without any disguises whatever it comes straight up from the good American earth. It is an authentic story, done without affectation, and its honesty and verity commend it at once. Some true stories are so dressed up that we doubt them from the start. This book wears its every-day clothes.

It is the story of one woman's struggle with poverty in Texas and in oil fields of several other western states; of a woman proud enough to stand on her own feet and earn her way, cooking, waiting on tables in a restaurant, running a boarding house, or drilling an oil well.

It is what is called a "Success" story, but it is different. As a story it is built up out of home-ly details in such a way that you live it yourself as you read; and you identify yourself with Sue and her struggles with daily problems, unable to lay the book aside

"Our Common Herd" is way off until you know how she won her way to freedom. The beaten track where professional and conversational books are to be found; and it calls for a wide reading. Personally, I wish it could be read by all those enfeebled folk who hold that the world owes them a living, just because they have favored the world by having been born in it. —Los Angeles Times.

METHODIST CHURCH

John Wit Hendrix, Pastor

This divine institution makes four vital offerings Sunday, namely:

I—Church school at 9:45 a. m. A class and social group for every age and size.

II—Morning worship: This will offer some choice music and hymns, and the pastor will deliver a sermon, using as the subject, "We've Jumped." This is an endeavor to set forth what difference has occurred in our civilization, its benefits and its perils. Could a Christian culture carry its own destruction, develop a passion it had no power to control?

III—Young People's meeting—a full group of them—7:30 p. m.

IV—Evening Worship: This features mostly a young choir and the pastor will speak on this subject, "Pied Piety?" That is, religious in spots? Are we developing dead cells, consciences dead on important issues?

Of all the forces at the disposal of humanity, faith has always been one of the most tremendous, and the gospel rightly attributes to it the power of moving mountains.

When Children Refuse to Eat

College Station, September 5.—Many children refuse to eat because they are stirred to active opposition by adults who stand guard, ready to beg the child to eat his spinach or carrots.

Often times children enjoy this attention, and refuse to eat just to keep themselves in the limelight, says Dosca Hale, specialist in parent education and child development for the A. & M. College Extension Service.

If a child doesn't eat, it may be because he is ill or because he is too tired to eat, she adds. Then, some children do not eat simply because they have not learned to eat a variety of foods. The specialist suggests that when a new food is offered, only a small portion should be given the child at first; if it is refused, say nothing but serve it again in a few days and continue to do so until the child has learned to like it.

"Parents should not mention food dislikes before children," Miss Hale says, "for if father and mother do not like milk, carrots, spinach, and other valuable foods, it will be natural for the children to dislike them."

HINTING!

There is a little matter that some of our subscribers have seemingly forgotten entirely. Some of them have made us many promises, but have not kept them. To us it is a very important matter—it is necessary in our business. We are very modest and don't like to speak about such remittances.

The Fashion Frock Of The Week

DRESS WITH BOLERO JACKET as worn in Hollywood by TOBY WING

Well-Known Screen Player

Out in front of the fashion parade today is this chic Parisian bolero-ensemble, a style that one may see often, but in many variations and a variety of colors. This one is particularly pleasing, because of its unusual details, which really makes it outstanding when compared with other bolero styles. The lines of the frock down the front and back go out to a slight flare in the skirt. The dress buttons onto the white vestee, making it simple to remove away effect and is deeply banded. Dark colors are best for this fashion—the one shown is in navy, but it makes up well in a deep rose.

Last Call For Winter Pastures

The Southwest is particularly fortunate in the variety of pasture crops which can be grown for fall, winter, and spring grazing. Of course pasture crops are of little interest to a farm without livestock, but a farm without livestock and poultry is not a complete farm anyway. Away back in 1924, when cotton had been twice to four times the price of recent years, an Oklahoma investigation showed that farmers who depended on cotton for less than forty per cent of their income had accumulated property three to four times as fast as those who depended on cotton for seventy-one per cent or more of their income.

"As the percentage of income from livestock increases the annual saving of wealth increases," and "the farmer who had less than forty per cent of his income in cotton and more than twenty-five per cent of his income in livestock and livestock products made the most money on the average." There are perfectly logical reasons why this was true then and is true now, which have been touched upon in these articles before.

In 1924 and for a long time afterward there were no government "benefits" for doing a good job of farming. Now the government actually pays farmers to do what good farmers were already doing. But the "benefits" from cotton, wheat, etc. will not make prosperity for those who do not follow through and capitalize the land and labor released from cotton growing, by using both in some other profitable profitable manner.

There is nothing wrong with trying some new "cash crops," or looking forward to "industrial crops" of which we hear so much since the "farm chemistry" idea has been so highly touted. In the meantime it is within the immediate ability of every Southwestern farmer to improve his own condition by practicing the well-known and long-proven principles of balanced farming outlined in the Breeder-Feeder program.

Crops and livestock belong together on the farm, and as shown above, offer greater promise for independence and farm prosperity than any new-fangled theory that has ever yet been invented. Now pastures, winter and summer, are the foundation of a balanced farm program in which man-labor is better distributed and better paid, by turning more of the work over to the animals. And winter grazing depends on planting the right crops at the right time.

It is a common expression among practical farmers that wheat, oats or barley will pay for the seed and labor in the grazing alone, in most years. The grain crop is that much to the good. Says the Texas Experiment Station "for fall and early winter, barley is the best producer; wheat, oats and rye produce most grazing for winter months; while rye grass gives the most grazing for March and April."

"Winter legumes offer another good use for the land and labor during the winter months. Crops such as vetch, winter peas, and some of the clovers, grow well in many sections during the winter and early spring, and when plowed under in the spring, improve the soil. Substantial increases in the yields of cotton have consistently resulted . . . in East and Central Texas when legumes are grown in winter and plowed under in early spring before planting the cotton.

This holds true also in Eastern Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas, as thousands of farmers have proven by their own experience in recent years. Winter pasture crops may be sown from now until November in the Southwest, but naturally the earlier they get started the more grazing they will provide.

HIS REAL WORRY

Bill McCraw, who has won many friends by the manner in which he took his defeat in the last gubernatorial race, so-called, never minds telling a joke on himself. In a recent talk to the members of the Salesmanship Club he told of his admirer in a certain South Texas county wiring him excitedly: "Bill, they are lying on you down here. They're telling lies and nobody's denying them. Come down on tonight's train.

Bill swears that he wired back, "Am too busy covering the spots where they're not lying to come down. If they start telling the truth down there, wire me at Abilene."—CAPS and lower case.

DOWN THE ROAD

By Charles M. Upham
GOOD ROADS, GOOD MOVIES, GOOD MANNERS

Last night, or perhaps it was last week, you sat in your local moving-picture theatre and you saw your favorite Hollywood stars act out a story that sent you away well pleased with what you received for the quarter you left with the girl in the box office. It was the story, let us say, of the rise of a young man to an enviable place in the business or political world. He fell in love, of course, somewhere in the process and his movements and those of his associates were screened against a background of good manners, good speech and good living. You saw, too, a travel short of Brazil which stressed coffee, the great industry of that country. You were shown and told how the bean is cultivated and prepared for export to the far corners of the globe, to be served up at countless dining tables to please the palate of mankind. To complete a program of well-rounded interest, you were taken next to the capitals of the world on the magic carpet of the modern talking newsreel. Now, I know that I have reached the point where you are ready to say, "Well, yes, it was a good show, come to think of it, but what's that got to do with roads. I'll tell you.

Although you did not pay any particular attention to them, there were quite a few farm families in the audience that night, movie fans who didn't know the meaning of the term before the building of an all-weather highway in front of their farm made them only a gallon of gas and a twenty-minute drive away from town and its picture show. So the farmer, who used to take only the boys along when he went to town once a month for supplies, because the trip was too hard and too long over unimproved dirt roads, now bundles the whole family into a new touring car, whenever they choose, and off they go to see "Union Pacific" or "Goodbye Mr. Chips" or "Stanley and Livingstone."

What is so wonderful about that, you may ask. Just this. The American farmer and his family are educated every time they drive to town and sit through a movie program. The newsreels parade before their eyes the major events of the world. They are brought face to face with the important personalities who make the news and who make the laws under which men work and live. They are transported to distant lands to see and hear about things that never even existed in their imaginations before a good road was built that decreased distance and diminished time between farm and town.

Last summer I visited a small town in Florida. One night the friends with whom I was staying took me to the show. The population of the town is three thousand and one theater seats about three hundred. I was Tuesday night and I was amazed to find a crowded house. The picture, while not what you would call a special attraction, was a good one. I had been laboring under the popular impression that Saturday night was the big time in small-town circles, but here was a crowded theater on a week night. I decided to have a chat with the manager on my way out.

"Isn't that a mighty good crowd for a week night?"

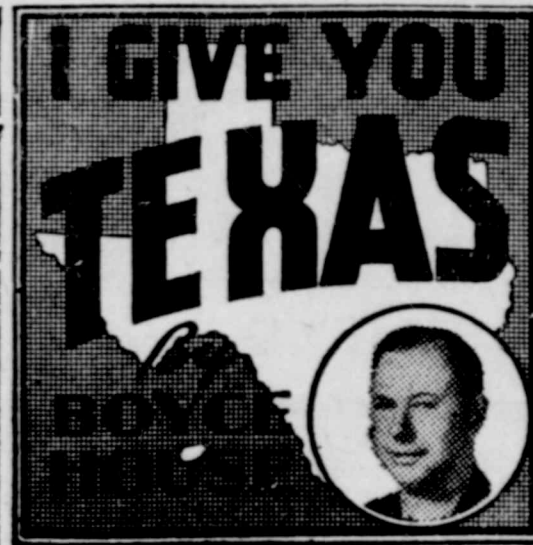

"Yes, sir, it is," he replied. I told him that I had always thought that Saturday night would be the big night for the average small town theater.

"Well," he said, "it used to be that way up to a few months ago, but now we get a good crowd like that about three times a week."

"What brought about the change?"

"The state finally decided to pave three roads out of town to the west, the north and the south, and all of a sudden he people out in the country started coming to town more often and in larger numbers. They soon learned that they could drive to town over the good roads, make a movie and drive back home in time to get to bed by a decent hour. That's when my business started getting better. You can't beat good roads for bringing folks to town."

Good roads have opened up the door to new adventures for the average farm family. Good roads conveniently bring them to town to thrill to the screening of films that give them a liberal education in what to wear, what to say, how to act—motion pictures that teach

Eddie Cantor on a recent visit in Fort Worth, wisecracked: "I'm not a Democrat or a Republican; in fact, I'm somewhat Socialistically inclined. I believe what's mine is mine, and what's yours I'd like to get half."

Alluding to the traditional rivalry between the two cities, the comedian said, "I told Amon Carter I thought I'd run over to Dallas last night and he said he would fix it up and in about half an hour there was a knock on my hotel room door and two men came in, put me in a strait jacket and kept me there all night."

On the subject of "jitterbugs", Cantor declared, "I'd rather the boys and girls would be hailing band leaders than hailing bund leaders."

Brann Garner runs the picture show in Ranger. He's more colorful than any of the actors he shows on the screen. Broad around the equator, somewhat resonant of voice and given to sweeping gestures, Garner has been nicknamed "Little Caesar" because of the role that the very assertive Edward G. Robinson made famous.

Garner's given name was bestowed in the honor of the famous "Iconoclast" who ran a magazine in Waco 40 years ago. Garner has been something of a writer, too, as he formerly edited the newspaper at Woodson in Throckmorton county, then 25 miles from the papers in the United States. Remember back in 1927 when there were no wars and depressions and all we had to talk about was what Henry's new model car was going to look like? Well, Garner wrote an advance description. It began: "The new Ford will come in two styles, open and closed. It will have four wheels, one at each corner," and so on. The article was reprinted by nearly every paper in the country.

THE TROUBLE WITH TRUTH

"If I had a son, I'd swear to do one thing: I'd tell him the truth." That opinion is from J. Edgar Hoover, famed chief of the G-Men, whose experience with boys-gone-wrong gives it special point. Probably few parents will disagree, yet many are concerned with the problem of how to tell the truth to a child.

But no matter how diplomatically and tactfully information is presented to the youngster, it is true that, as Oliver Wendell Holmes once asserted, "truth is tough." George Eliot put it even more dramatically, saying that it "has rough flavors if we bite it through." Consequently the father or mother who decides to tell the youngster the truth chooses a troublesome—not a dainty—job. There may be a specific time and place for some things, but truth recognizes no stop signs, no "do not disturb" placards.

A youngster may break out in a rash of curiosity at any moment. His quest for knowledge is not confined to the privacy of some domestic laboratory, and it is seldom impersonal. Parson Jones' mannerisms and Aunt Lydia's hats may start inquiries shocking to conventional parents, yet prompted by the most scientific attitude.

But here's the trouble with the truth: Long ago it severed all diplomatic relations with white lies and terminological inexactitudes, with prejudice and propagandas. Unfortunately few adults have followed this policy; consequently, as vigilant custodians of the truth, they fall short when a child wants to know why some children must live in the slums, why some children must go hungry, why some children must be targets for bombs.—The Rotarian Magazine.

McCORMICK-DEERING Power-Operated Corn Binders The Fast Way to Cut Corn

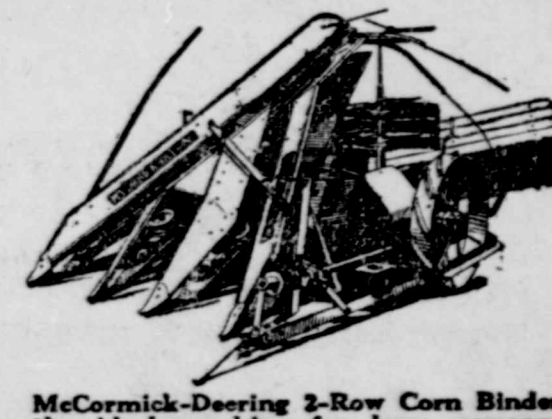

This McCormick-Deering 1-Row Power Corn Binder and Farmall 20 Tractor cut 10 to 12 acres of corn a day.

WHETHER you're cutting corn for the silo or the shock, McCormick-Deering Power-Operated Corn Binders are a good investment. They easily handle more acreage in a day than horse-drawn binders. They perform smoothly, turning out bundles that are firm, well-tied, evenly butted, and easy to handle.

These binders are made in 1- and 2-row sizes and are available in two types—one for average corn and one for short, small varieties.

Ask us to demonstrate these labor-saving machines. The McCormick-Deering line also includes vertical and horizontal horse-drawn binders.

McCormick-Deering 2-Row Corn Binder, the ideal machine for large acreages. Capacity: 20 to 25 acres a day.

Sudden Death

Eighth in a Series of Articles on Safety by Captain J. C. Tappe of the Texas Safety Council.

A majority of automobile accidents during June occurred at the time when there was the least excuse—broad daylight. Not only that but they occurred in clear weather, on straight, level roads of concrete or asphalt, in which there were no defects.

The explanation is that drivers lessened their vigilance on these long, straight stretches, gazed at the countryside—or in some cases took a drink—and imagined they were secure.

Had it been night, a crooked road, or rainy weather, they would have been more vigilant, thus avoiding the clearly avoidable accidents which claimed lives and made cripples.

These facts are convincing proof that the human element is still the most important factor in motor transportation.

The summary for June, Pierce Brooks, President of the Texas Safety Council and runner-up last year for Lieutenant Governor, said shows 654 accidents in daylight hours; 915 in clear weather; 797 on straight, level roads; 291 on concrete and 700 on asphalt; 927 where there were no defects in the roads; 608 at no intersection out of a total of 1,209 accidents.

Seeking to fix cause for the fatal accidents, Brooks pointed out it was found that of the 119 fatalities, 22 occurred with the collision of a motor vehicle with a pedestrian; 40 from the collision of two vehicles; one from a collision with a train; 4 bicycles were struck; one car collided with a horse drawn vehicle; 17 cars collided with fixed objects and 34 of the fatal accidents involved no collision. Further analysis showed 26 drivers had been drinking; 23 driving too fast; 12 were chargeable to pedestrians, while the others were bunched under a half under primary causes.
