Cpl. Chambliss To Miami, Fla. Officers School

LUBBOCK—Corporal Roy C. Chambliss, son of Mrs. L. D. Chambliss of Brownfield and a former teacher in the Harlingen schools, left the Lubbock Army Flying School last week for the Air Forces' Officers' Candidate School at Miami, Fla. All those who successfully complete the three months' course are eligible for the commission of second lieutenant.

A graduate of the Brownfield high school and Texas Technological College in Lubbock, Cpl. Chambliss received his bachelor of arts degree in 1941 with a major in speech. Active in dramatics and debate, Cpl. Chambliss was a member of Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary speech fraternity. Cpl. Chambliss was stationed at the Lubbock field in February of this year.

Hare Has A Prolific Apricot Tree

W. H. Hare was in Tuesday and presented the Herald with a sack of very fine apricots, that while small had a fine flavor, and were ripe enough for a man without his uppers to eat.

Mr. Hare stated that he had one tree that more than six bushels had been taken from it, and that much more remained. He stated that they were as thick as plums on the tree.

This would account for the small size of the fruit. Thanks for the treat.

Fred Harvey will serve only one cup of coffee on diners, except to soldiers or sailors.

Pouring It On The County Candidates

Had a discussion this week with Joe J. McGowan, local attorney as well as County Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee. Way back in the early twenties, the writer held this "thank you" office or rather "thankless office" for a period of several years, until we did just what Joe is doing this year, put some other men on the ticket "unknown" to them, and let the people elect one of them.

But what we started out to say was, that in those dear old days, each state and district candidate was assessed one dollar per county to get their name on the ticket, which in those days with several unorganized counties, amounted to around $240. and if the said candidate failed to respond with the bathide by the deadline, well his name was left off—accidentally, of course.

Later the State Committee or the Legislature, or somebody made a ruling that for the sum of $100, a state candidate could get his or her name on the ticket over the entire state. This ruling left it up to the county and precinct candidates to pay for the primary in each of the several counties. For two, neither McGowan nor this writer believes that there is anything fair or just in this ruling.

Take Terry county, for instance. There will not be a runoff in the county unless by a miracle almost, there is a tie in some of the offices, which is quite remote. So, there will be nothing that can be done about the matter, now. On the other hand, there will be a number of runoffs perhaps in the state and district slate, and Terry county candidates will have to pay for this election.

The Herald doesn't pretend to say just what should be done or what would be fair and just, but when a bunch of county candidates have to pay for a primary election, yes, two of them, there is something radically wrong. Yet, if the assessment was higher, a lot of unheard-ofs all over the state would yell to high heaven that the poor man had been excluded from the primary election on account of the high cost of getting their names on the ballot.

On the other hand, we might exclude a lot of half wits, mugg-wumps and radical yowlers that are forever trying to poison the minds of voters, and make them believe that Wall street or some other crooked thoroughfare had a rope around Austin with a down hill drag by a medium army tank.

This year, for the first time in 32 years, the Herald had to bid on the ticket job, which is all right, as two other firms wanted to bid. Yet bidding is a good way for the one that gets the job to lose the most money, while the ones that did not get it devote their time to some jobs that pay well.

However, after thinking of the expense the poor old Terry county boys have paid to carry on two elections, one of which they will not participate in, we cracked down with a pretty low figure, and was surprised that we got the job. Even so, we are glad if we can save the boys just a few bucks. Like us, most of them need to save some money.

Tokio To Be Bombed July Fourth

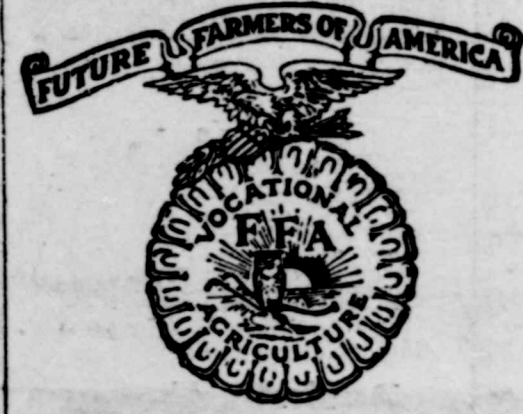

A large and elaborate model of the city of Tokyo, Japan, has been laid out on the filed of the bomber school at Midland, and 150 of the cadets and instructors will try their hand at obliterating it tomorrow, July 4th. The general public is invited to see this display at a safe distance, of course.

The model city, 1500x2000 feet, has been laid out around a dry lake, with important streets, docks, and military objectives. The dry lake will represent the ocean. This is on their vast target range.

Not only is the public invited, but representatives of the press, radio and newsreel companies will be on hand to describe the destruction.

H. W. Nelson attended a gift show in Dallas this week. He went to Dallas Sunday and returned Tuesday.

Terry-Yoakum FFA Boys Get Lone Star Degrees

AUSTIN, June 29—Harold Taylor, and Dwain Short of Brownfield and Johnnie Fitzgerald, A. J. Mabry, Melvin Fitzgerald, Auvie Johnson, Don Sloan, and C. C. Copeland of Plains were awarded the Lone Star Farmer Degree at the State Future Farmer Committee meetings held at New Braunfels, June 18-20.

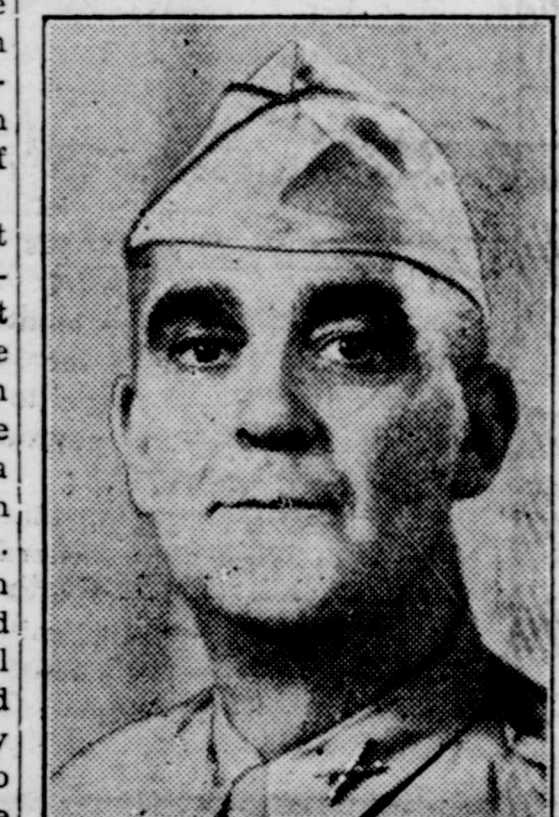

Chosen from more than 28,000 members of Texas these lads are among the 175 Future Farmers of the entire state who have received the highest degree of attainment this year that may be awarded by the State Association of Future Farmers.

In order to receive this degree a boy must be carrying on his third year farming program under the supervision of the vocational agriculture teacher, and his investment in farming must exceed $250.00.

He must be active in Future Farmer activities, a leader in his local chapter and be in the upper bracket in his high school scholastic standing. Nor more than two per cent of the organization's members may receive the Lone Star Degree during any one year, however, only about six boys per 1,000 met the minimum qualifications this year.

Judge Reed Unable To Make Personal Campaign

Judge Louis B. Reed is unable to make a personal campaign for re-election as District Judge because of his assignment to active duty with the United States Army since January 12, 1942. Judge Reed kept up his Reserve Corps Commission by studies and successful passage of regular examinations for more than twenty years as a side line with his practice of law and other legal activities. He holds a commission now of Lieutenant Colonel, and is stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Judge Reed, with the continuous docket he helped inaugurate in this district, left the docket well cleared and court has continued as provided by law which provides for a Judge in the absence of the regularly elected official.

He wants to get this war over with and is not asking for a leave of absence or furlough to come home for campaigning for that reason. His campaign is left to his friends who are invited to read his message.

Jim Hatton Manager Of Copeland Ranch

Jim Hatton has moved to the Gaines county ranch of Mrs. W. M. Copeland, that she purchased early in the spring. This is said to be a desirable ranch.

Jim will also look after his real estate business, coming into town occasionally to contact parties, and answer correspondence. He stated that he was selling considerable real estate, especially farms in Terry county.

Local Man Trims A Jehovah Witness

Last week another nuisance in the way of a Jehovah Witness, so-called, blown in from Pennsylvania, music box, records and all, and began his calls and distributing literature. He was apprehended but some local members went on his bond. The ink was not dry on his bond till he was out distributing literature again.

A local man, whose name we will not divulge, went to him and asked why he came in the name of religion to molest people who were doing all in their power to aid the war effort. This man is a member of the local American Legion, and told the guy that he was violating our laws, while the Legion men were working early and late to collect scrap metal and old rubber.

The local man said he wanted to explain before getting on the guy, and finishing the lecture with a real ugly name for the Witness, he cocked back a fine right to the mug that felled him like a beef. The local man paid a fine, and they dabbed on a pretty heavy one.

As one man can't fight alone, the Witness was looked for by officers to pay one, but he had skipped the town, trailer house and all and hasn't been heard from since.

American Legion Elect Officers

Officers were elected for the coming year by the William Guyton Howard Post, No. 269 of the American Legion last week.

Tommy Black was elected commander, and E. G. Akers is the new adjutant. Other officers are O. L. Peterman, first vice commander; Lee Lyons; second vice commander; W. M. Schroeder, third vice commander; Raymond Simms, chaplain, and J. D. Miller, finance officer.

L. A. Greenfield was appointed sergeant at arms, and Sam Pyeatt was named mess sergeant. Dr. Turner is the service officer, and members of the building committee are C. T. Edwards, Money Price, and H. M. Pyeatt.

The American Legion has been very active in the scrap iron and rubber drive. They have several thousand pounds of scrap rubber and more than 100 tons of iron on hand.

Nelson And Gore Off To Training

Lynn Nelson and Bill Gore, two hustling young men, are now taking training at the Lubbock Army Air School. Lynn will take technical training as he is a watchmaker. We have not learned just what part Bill will take, whether servicing or flying.

Both boys have been hard workers in the Texas Guard work here, and Lynn has spent much time and his own money in the promotion of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, as well as its programs of improvement to the town and community. The Brownfield Jaycees are known all over Texas, Lynn and Ray Christopher, past presidents being largely instrumental in this.

Buddy Gillham has been elected to take the place of Lynn, and knowing Buddy as we do, we believe he will carry on nicely.

Homer Nelson Visits Dallas Markets

In order to know just where he would be in regards to holiday goods, Homer Nelson of Nelson-Primm Drug, left last Sunday night for Dallas, did his shopping Monday that usually takes two days, and returned home Monday night as the first was so near.

Homer stated that one was limited in quantities in many lines, especially metal goods, but that he found plenty of dolls, games, etc., and that with a small carry-over stock, he felt that he would have a fairly large representative Christmas holiday display.

The price on some things, he stated, was upped 10 to 15 percent. These items were mostly in the game and toy departments.

Brownfield Did Pretty Well In Drive

Chris Quante, who has aided the committee consisting of C. T. Edwards, R. L. Bowers and R. N. McClain in their scrap metal and rubber drive, stated this week that he felt that Terry county had done pretty well in their drive, but that we had not done enough. However, it is so much better than a half organized drive that was put on some time ago, he felt that the people should be commended for their effort, and that another should be undertaken in the very near future.

On the rubber situation, Chris reported that he had collected for the Legion, 130,000 pounds, and that representatives of the oil companies in that city had another 30,000, and J. H. Caperton, a junk dealer reported two tons, making a total of in Brownfield of 200,000 pounds or one hundred tons.

On the scrap metal proposition, the showing was fairly good, too, we think. The Legion had collected ten tons; C. E. Logan, 20 tons; C. H. Vest, 24 tons; S. O. Murray, 6 tons and J. H. Caperton, 80 tons, making a total of 280,000 pounds. This included metal, or what the junk dealers term metal, such as copper, brass and aluminum, as distinguished by them from scrap steel and iron.

We thought they were all metals, and still think so, despite their explanation. The books we studied listed steel and iron as base metals, and they are still steel and iron although now in the form of rusting junk.

And by the way, all the Brownfield junk dealers want it made plain that they are not hoarders, but are shipping as fast as they can accumulate a full car load, to where it will do the most good in the war effort. We say hurrah for them, despite the fact we disagree on metals.

Why All Aged Don't Get $30 Per Month

The Herald received a letter from W. R. Dorsey, of Lubbock, recently, who heads the Department of Public Welfare, of this area, in which he explains why it is not possible to pay each aged person in Texas $30 per month under the present set up. In the first place the Texas laws says that no more than $1,750,000 can be spent in one month for this purpose. If all of the 345,000 people in Texas were to draw $30 per month, the payroll would be $10,353,000.

And on top of that, the state would lose the Federal matching dollars which amount to nearly on and a quarter million dollars. There has been much loose talk of waste in administering the funds, but this has not come from responsible parties. Usually someone with a political ax to grind.

There are now 163 aged persons in Terry receiving checks, an increase of 44 over the previous month. These checks average $19.56. Also, 7 families are receiving aid for dependent children, averaging $21.71 per family.

Church Of Christ Revival Drawing Large Attendance

The attendance at both the morning and evening services, now in progress, at the Church of Christ, is much better than anticipated.

Mr. W. Wallace Layton, of Silver City, New Mexico, is the evangelist engaged, and is bringing interesting, inspirational and doctrinal themes each day at 10 A. M., and at 9 P. M.

Mr. Layton quotes Book, Chapter, and Verse for everything taught in his sermons, and urges the public to make use of the Question Box to call in question anything he says or ask any BIBLE question you desire.

"We especially urge the public," says Evangelist Layton, "to hear the message next Monday evening, July 6th, wherein will be shown that all prophecy in the Old Testament has been fulfilled."

Bobbie Jean and Buddy Duke spent last week end in Lubbock with their mother, Mrs. C. E. Duke.

See Some Of The Hail Area This Week

To get a first hand view of the hail of Tuesday the 22nd, we took a trip, found the area northwest of town in various degrees of destruction, some of which was from the heavy, washing rains. There also seemed to be skips in the hail area. One man would have total obliteration; others partial. But to say the least, it was bad enough.

Stopped at the Ed Thompson farm, and despite the fact that they had another hard rain and some hail again Sunday, they were planting the higher and dryer spots over. This farm as well as many others surrounding seemed to catch the full fury of the Tuesday storm. They had also planted some cotton and feeds last week after it dried enough but the Sunday rain packed it and washed it in until there is some doubt about it coming up. They will start scratching as soon as it is a bit drier, as the cotton is just sprouting. If the weather had remained clear and hot, this cotton would likely be up.

This family showed us some snapshots made after the flood of the 22nd, and there seemed to be water everywhere. Their mail box on a four foot post down on the road lacked about a foot of being under water. The Thompsons had some 30 acres of old corn that perhaps will come out. At least they are leaving it for awhile. The gardens were thoroughly riddled. Beans that were bearing and tomatoes that were almost bearing were beat to a fizzle, but the old tops were trimmed off, and they were putting out again.

What we saw on the Thompson farm is true to a similar or less degree of all the close neighbors. Of course the strip was only between two and three miles wide here and some on the outskirts of the strip will not have to plant over. We came back south from the Harmony school, and saw some house partially unroofed Sunday afternoon. Many smaller barns and outhouses were torn up, but so far as we could learn, no one or stock were hurt. The hail was small, according to the people out there, or the havoc might have been much greater.

As we traveled south on the road from Harmony, there seemed to be considerable let up, but for some miles all seemed to lose their cotton, the feed weathering the hail better than the cotton. As we neared highway 380, there was still considerable cotton standing. However, it was bad in portions of the Lahey community, the hail seemingly to have lifted and skipped somewhat.

Where there was no hail, the crops are as fine as one wants to see. Some however don't seem to have been touched by plow or hoe and the weeds are higher than the crops. Both hail and rain played out before reaching the M. C. Chambers farm south of Lahey, according to Mack. In fact, Mack was complaining that rains had been missing him considerable, but somehow he always manages to make a fair crop.

Hail seems to get on an average of one out of five or six crops, but some of these farmers state that government insurance is too high, and most of the other kind does not pay actual damage. And if hailed out under government insurance, they state one is not allowed to replant cotton. One that we talked with, however, stated he had made some 20 crops on the plains with this as his first hail out. No wonder he was not scared.

What the farmers in the hail belt need more than anything is hot, still and dry weather.

Terry Wildcat Test Planned

Location for a 7,000-foot wildcat oil test 10 miles northeast of Brownfield in northeastern Terry county was announced Monday for Dan Auld of Lubbock.

It is his No. 1 fee, 1,980 feet from the north and east lines of section 91, block 4-X, D & SE survey. Auld has extensive ranch holdings in the area, extending eastward into Lynn. The well will be drilled with rotary and is scheduled to start within the next 60 days.—Lubbock Avalanche.

More Hail, Wind And Rain Visit County

The northern part of the county, which escaped the destructive hail of last week, came in for its share Sunday afternoon, according to reports from that area. Centering around the Needmore section, in a very rich farming section, a wide scope was hailed out completely or partially.

There was also a deluge of rain accompanying, that also did a lot of damage to young crops in washing. Some reports of the rainfall was as high as six inches or more. In the Harmony community, that was in the hail belt of last week, a roaring wind, said by some to be in the shape of a twister, partially unroofed houses and barns, and flattened many trees.

The worst of the cloud seemed to have spent itself when it reached Brownfield, as only 35-100 inch of rain was recorded here.

206 Young Men Register In Terry

R. A. Simms, secretary of the Terry county Selective Service Board stated yesterday that a total of 206 young men from 18 to 20 years of age, inclusive, registered here and at Meadow, the two registering places, Tuesday.

Of this number, 18 were non-residents, here for one reason and another, divided as follows: 45 in the 20 year class; 69 in the 19 year class and 74 in the 18 year class.

Seven men, five white and two Mexicans, left on the morning bus Tuesday for Lubbock, for final examinations, before being sent to induction camps. As Mr. Simms had no report on how many passed or were rejected, he could not give us their names.

E. E. Hancock Is New School Superintendent

E. E. Hancock took over duties as superintendent of the Brownfield schools Wednesday, July 1. He succeeds Emmett Smith, who is now in the army.

Mr. and Mrs. Hancock and their son moved here recently from Ralls, where he was superintendent of schools last year. They are living at 221 N. Second street here.

Mr. Hancock said there are still five teaching positions open for the next school year, including positions of band director, physical education teacher, and public school music teacher in the high school.

Two Attend 90TH Division Reunion

So far as we were able to learn, only two from here attended the 90th Division Reunion at Abilene last week. They were A. B. Buchanan and Jimmie Thomason. The old 90th was trained in San Antonio in 1917-1918.

They saw service in at least three major engagements in France. Among them, Meuse Argonne, and St. Mihiel. The World War II 90th division is now training at Camp Barkley, Abilene, and the old division presented their old fighting colors to the new.

Curley Edwards Made Corporal Technician

Curley Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Edwards, located at Camp Bowie, has been promoted from private to Corporal Technician. Curley (we don't know his real name) made the grade in less than three months, which is somewhat of a record, we understand.

He comes by his military knack honestly, as his dad was mustered out of the army of World War I, as lieutenant, and is Captain of the Texas Defense Guard here.

ROBERT HERRON NOW PRIVATE, FIRST CLASS

Lubbock Army Flying School—Robert G. Herron of Brownfield, son of R. F. Herron of route 2, has just been promoted to Private First Class. He is engaged in Field Lighting and with the 98th Material Squadron.

Berry Black is spending a three-weeks vacation visiting in Dallas and Huntsville.

We see by the papers the contract has been let for the construction of the South Plains Army Air School at Lubbock. Naturally being financially curious, we wondered with a lot of people about how much the job was going to cost. The news report with its usual conservatism gave us a pretty good idea when it said the contract prices was "under three million dollars." That statement of amount could cover a good many items we think of just now. For instance,

We Need A Law With Teeth In It

Not infrequently some high official in Washington who wants to make a speech popofabout, "work or fight." Paul V. McNutt, chief of the national manpower commission, remarked in those words just a few days ago.

So what happened? The very next day, 3,000 CIO steel workers struck from war jobs in a Lorain, Ohio, plant. They met during the noon hour and drafted wage increase demands. These were presented immediately with the further demand that they be granted instantly. They wouldn't allow time to study the demands. They wouldn't negotiate. They walked off the jobs with the brazen announcement they might return Saturday. Thus the operations of the plant were tied up for several days.

Just what was behind the strike perhaps unauthorized by either the national or the local unions involved. The 3,000 strikers percentage in the number of workers engaged in war industry. But the fact remains, they struck when the nation needed their efforts.

They also proved that, as a rule, those who talk about "work or fight," mean absolutely nothing. Usually they are playing the cheapest, most contemptible sort of political game. They try to say something that will sound good to the mass of the people. Yet they are confident that they won't make organized labor angry. They know that organized labor is aware of the meaninglessness of "work and fight." So, when a politician raves about working or fighting, organized labor simply laughs up its sleeve—and strikes when fancy pleases.

Conditions like this cannot continue indefinitely without risk of arousing the masses of America to a fury far surpassing that of few months ago, which scared official Washington, and labor, half out of their wits.

This nation needs "work or fight" regulations which actually mean something. It needs measures which actually will mean that the man who strikes today will find himself in the armed services tomorrow. It needs the sort of regulations under which prison will be the quick penalty for the man who refuses to fight.

The time has come to make an end of, "work or fight," as a mouthful of meaningless words. This is one mouth most urgently in need of teeth that bite speedily and hard.—Lubbock Avalanche.

probably due to the fact that such is about the size of an average Jap farm, than our own average farmer would produce on ten.

They fertilize, cultivate, and work with intensity, and if that land is capable of production, the Japs, with government financial aid, would bring it out, and prove it. If it isn't, that also would be proved.

If the project materializes, there are of course going to be objections from farmers who own land surrounding, the values of whose land or its marketability, might, temporarily, take a nose dive.

will find 20,000 workers in and around Crystal City alone, a town of only 4,000 or 5,000. The land was cleared and irrigation did the rest.

And even aside from all of that, the Japs have got to be moved off the Pacific Coast, and the country has got to find a place for them to live. For West Texas as not to want to do its part in this phase of the war effort—well, it would be un-American, if not absolutely un-Texan.—County Wide News.

To The Citizens Of The City Of Brownfield:

The City Election has come and the voters have expressed themselves at the polls. As your elected City Marshal, I want to express my profound thanks. I hold no ill will against any citizen who may have voted for either of my worthy opponents. I feel that I owe my election to the School Children, who I have worked with as Traffic Officer for the past 13 months. I have tried to protect them, and I am sure my election was largely an appreciation of parents for this effort.

I want to thank the farmer Citizens, who use Brownfield as a trade center. I am sure they have campaigned for me, due to courtesies I have shown them.

It will be my purpose to show this appreciation, by being continuously on the job doing my duty to the best of my ability. Again I thank You, Roy Moreman.

Says Rubber Shortage Excuse For Gas Rationing

AUSTIN—It is hard for Texans to understand why there should be reason for gasoline rationing in the State "when we are literally swimming in oil," Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson declared Wednesday night in a radio broadcast from Austin announcing his candidacy for reelection for his second full term to the office of Railroad Commissioner of Texas.

"I've been up in Washington protesting long and loud against gasoline rationing in Texas, Thompson said in a broadcast announcing his candidacy for reelection to the post he now holds. "Such a proposal was disastrous to the economic life of Texas because more than one million people in the State of Texas derive their livelihood and make their living from the production of oil and gasoline and the sale and transportation of oil and gasoline. I don't want to see them go broke."

However, Thompson pointed out, it was announced by Washington authorities that gasoline rationing in the oil-producing states had been proposed only as a rubber-saving measure. The current drive to collect scrap rubber—in order to stave off gasoline rationing—was then suggested.

For that reason, then, Thompson said, the people of Texas should do their best in the rubber collection drive. "This big drive is going on now," he said, "and I beg of every Texan that you hunt up every bit of rubber you have and turn it in so that we may avoid gasoline rationing in Texas. I think we can do it."

Thompson mentioned his candidacy very briefly, pointing out that the voters were to vote this year for two Railroad Commissioners—for the office held by Thompson and for the office vacated by Jerry Sadler.

Baptist Church News

The pastor being out of town last Sunday the pulpit was occupied by Alfred Richards of Plainview who is the pastor of the church at Union in this county. He is a very earnest young preacher of the Word and his messages were appreciated by the people.

Tuesday and his services were very much appreciated in this emergency. The pastor returned Tuesday evening and will continue the direction of the school in which there is an enrollment of approximately 150. The school will formally close next Sunday evening when the audience will be enabled to judge the character of the work done and it is hoped the young people will have a good audience and everybody has an invitation to be present and enjoy the program.

We mention the installment now coming due on our building note and next Sunday will be the last day in which this money can be paid to take care of this installment. The payment of this installment should be a joy to our people as we have the building to use and if we did not have it we could not now build on account of the war. The people have already paid about thirty-five thousand dollars on this building and note and they will pay the remaining fifteen thousand dollars after this payment as it matures. We have many members who would borrow the cash if necessary in order to see this debt paid promptly and we have a few members who would be willing for them to do so, but only a few. But

Sunday is the day that all who have not given recently may do so.

Fifteen percent of our receipts are placed in the building fund and this is approximately one-half of the amount necessary each six month period to pay these installments and the other half must be raised by offerings for this purpose. It will not be mentioned in this column again for another six months. Visitors always welcome here.

Celebrate 4th Without Fireworks; Buy Bonds

AUSTIN—"Texans who may plan to celebrate July 4, cannot hope to compete with gunpowder explosions on the battlefield," Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, said in urging a safer and saner celebration for Independence Day.

"Lives can be saved, injuries prevented, loss by damage and fire destruction averted," Hall added, "if we eliminate the use of fireworks from our plans for observing our country's Declaration of Independence."

"Gunpowder and explosives burned up for useless reasons can't be used by our fighting forces in the front lines. Fireworks exploded in Texas will not win another 'Midway victory.'"

"Our celebrations with fireworks have caused us to pay a high price in previous years. This year the most patriotic manner of celebrating the Declaration of Independence will be to convert gunpowder into bullets and bombs by the purchase of war stamps and bonds instead of firecrackers."

Cinderella Patricia Dane Comes To Rialto

When Patricia Dane, in a moment's whim, boarded an air-liner for California, she never expected to wind up behind a moving picture camera.

But when a girl has black, flashing eyes and a smile like Miss Dane's, anything might happen—and it did. The young woman had been seeing the sights of Hollywood only a week when someone meeting her at a dinner party, suggested she try out for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Ziegfeld Girl." Sent over to the studio with a card of introduction, Pat stood in line with nearly a thousand other girls, and, much to her surprise, was chosen to be a Ziegfeld girl in the picture.

That was only the beginning. Executives, seeing here in the "rushes," signed her to a long-term contract, gave her a small roll in "I'll Wait for You," and followed that with a real piece de resistance, the role of Mickey Rooney's New York heart interest in "Life Begins for Andy Hardy." Now in "Rio Rita," new picture co-starring Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, Miss Dane has another excellent opportunity.

Pat was still in long curls and knee-length frocks when she started a "Little Theatre" project of her own—in a miniature theatre made out of half of the family garage. They put on a play every week-end, charging five cents admission.

It was now that Pat's dancing lessons began to pay for themselves, for she danced in amateur cantests on Saturday matinees, often winning $5 prizes, which went toward the purchase of a miniature piano for her large dollhouse.

Something she had to put up with. Other things, such as writing poetry or playing the piano seemed infinitely more important. She was graduated from Andrew Jackson High School, however, and then enrolled at the University of Alabama.

She was designing all her frocks, and many for her sorority sisters, when suddenly the idea hit her. Why not go to New York and design there? With her characteristic forthrightness, Pat left school in the middle of her junior year, and a week later was designing and modeling for a large wholesale company there.

One day she decided she had worked long enough for a holiday, so she boarded an airliner for the coast, landing a day later in Hollywood. The rest is history.

"Rio Rita" comes to the Rialto Sunday and Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Moxley spent last week-end in Lubbock visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Prideaux, and brother, Tom Prideaux. Tom has been attending a medical school in Louisiana and is spending a two month vacation at home.

Miss Margaret Travis has returned from a vacation in New Mexico and Colorado. She visited her sister, Mrs. Charles Roberts, in Clayton, N. M.

Miss Jane Brownfield visited friends in Lubbock last week-end.

Around The Block

Buster Moxley's birthday last week turned out to be a jinx for him. When he started to work on the fateful morning he found the chain that opens his garage door broken and he couldn't get his car out. He hitch-hiked to his office, and since he had no assistants there he had to stay on the job all day without even leaving the place. He had a carton of cigarettes in his car, but none at the office, and he could not get away to buy any.

Practically every person he saw matched him for a coke, and he lost every time. Then, to cap the climax, he came home after a hard day's work, and found that his wife had made him a chocolate pie instead of a birthday cake.

We caught a glimpse of Bobbie Bowers at the bus station in Lubbock Sunday. She looked very happy, so she must have had lots of fun last week-end.

Just to get it off our chest, we'd like to mention one of our pet dislikes: sales ladies who call all women customers "hon."

Aren't the high school girls getting social minded? We've heard a lot about the Six Stars, Sub Deb, and Phi Beta Craesus clubs. Some of them are making rush week plans, but we can't talk about that now.

We saw Ida Mae May out at the swimming pool the other day. She had on a good looking green slack suit, and she was trying to keep the boyfriend from pushing her into the water—successfully as far as we know.—Martha McClish always has a smile for every body.—We admire Jane Brownfield's poise.—Lots of people comment on Minnie Lee Walton's pretty red hair. . . Rose and Lucy Bechtel's northern accent sounds refreshing. Or is it really a "northern" accent? To us anyone who doesn't talk with a Texas drawl sounds like a "furriner" . . . Phola Jean Browder is an attractive little girl. . . The Stahler boys are really going places in the Army. Charles was promoted to captain several weeks ago, and Bob received his wings at Ellington Field in Houston this week. They're Mrs. Bertha Stahler's sons.

The new Victory Cocktail, or "Slapajap" that has been publicized so much lately sounds pretty clever, and the standard price is 25 cents. The maker mixes colorful ingredients from several containers, shakes thoroughly, and gives the concoction along with a twenty-five cent defense stamp to his customer. The drink turns out to be water, but you have the stamp.

Lots of people are planning trips for the 4th. Rudoso will be popular with week-end trippers, and Buffalo Lakes seems to be "the" place to go for the holiday afternoon. Nearly everyone we know is going to one of those two places.

The following appeared in the classified section of a paper from another town last week: "Piano and stool for sale. Come down and hear it." We'd love to hear the stool.

There have been a good many soldiers in town the last week or two, haven't there? We finally found out that the words "sustained alas," on the crest that men in the air corps wear on their overseas caps, are the nearest Latin equivalent to "keep 'em flying." A boy in the army air force at Scott Field, Ill., writes that male civilians are getting so scarce up there that people are thinking of tying ropes around their necks and keeping them for pets. Of course, he may have exaggerated a little.

Thirteen-year-old Jake Miller of the Tokio community knit an attractive sweater for the Red Cross. He turned it in Monday. Among the people we frequently see bicycling to work are Minnie Hazel Gore, Ray H. Powers, Jack Stricklin, Jr., and W. O. Mills. We agree with popular opinion that bike riding is patriotic in that it saves tires, and that it is good exercise, but we can add that it is mighty hot work about noon these days.

Dr. and Mrs. T. L. Treadaway have as their guests Mrs. Treadaway's mother, Mrs. Dora Thalman, her nephew, Marcus Roy Thalman, and her sister, Mrs. Hubert Risinger, all of Bandera. The guests plan to be here about two more weeks.

Neighbors Honor Sailor Boy

On Wed night, June 24th, neighbors and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Minnix to talk and be with Kelly Minnix before he returned to the destroyer base at San Diego. The neighbors brought ice cream, and with what O. M. bought made 15 gallons, which was served to over 100 guests.

Mr. Norbert, radoman, 2nd class, was among the guests. He was also on the USS Lexington, although he and Kelly had never met before. The two boys told many interesting things of various battles at sea, and the fatal disaster of their ship.

Music was rendered by Doyle Morris, Jake Benson and Royce Hester. All seemed to enjoy the evening. Kelly left on the 8:15 bus Thursday morning. He will be at the destroyer base for a few days, and from there, no one knows.

Receipts Of Low Income Farmers Increased

Texas' low-income farm families have increased their annual net income by 103 percent and have more than doubled food production for their own use since receiving rehabilitation loans from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, according to information received here by Dennis Q. Lilly, FSA supervisor in Terry and Yoakum counties.

The gains registered by Texas' farm families were above the national increases of more than one-quarter million FSA borrower families.

Mr. Lilly's information came to him in a report by C. B. Baldwin, Farm Security Administrator, tary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard.

Pointing out that these increases are particularly significant as a contribution to Food for Freedom, the FSA administrator told Secretary Wickard these gains "support in a striking manner your recent statement that on all these small farms with their supply of home labor lies a real opportunity today for a high percentage increase in wartime production."

"This family progress report," said Mr. Lilly, "shows greater increases than in any previous year of FSA operation. This proves the willingness and ability of low-income farm people, when properly assisted, to do their share toward meeting the nation's food goals."

The Texas phase of the national report shows that the annual value of home-used production per family had increased from $166 to $378, or 128 percent since farmers in this state received help first.

Texas FSA borrower-families increased their annual net incomes an average of 103 percent, from $470 to $953, during the time they received assistance. They increased the amount of fruits and vegetables canned by 127 percent, from 121 quarts in the year before they got loans to 275 quarts per family in 1941. They increased their milk production for home use from 347 to 545 gallons or 57 percent. They increased meat production for home use from 233 to 457 pounds or 96 percent. Last year, they stated, in addition, 18 bushels per family in fruits and vegetables and produced and used 143 dozen eggs and 11 gallons of lard for the average family.

Lions Club Installs New Officers

New officers of the Lions club were installed at a meeting Wednesday night. They were elected last week, and their term of office is one year.

Officers are R. N. McClain, president; Spencer Kendrick, first vice president; Lee Fulton, second vice president; Virgil Crawford, third vice president; Tommy Black, secretary-treasurer; Slim Schellinger, tail twister; Jack Griggs, lion tamer, and Leo Holmes, Spencer Kendrick, W. T. McKinney, and V. L. Patterson, directors.

Mrs. Maxine Johns of Plainview has been temporarily employed at the Sandra Sue Beauty Shop this week.

Paul Goodman and Lal Copeland attended a gift show in Dallas this week. They returned Wednesday.

Mrs. Frank Wier received severe burns on her face and neck last week when a pressure cooker exploded in her face.

Jiggs Tankersley visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Red Tankersley, here last week-end. He is employed at the Carlsbad air field.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Kendrick and Mrs. Dick McDuffie were in Lubbock Tuesday.

There is more use of explosive and inflammable matter today than in any period in our history. This is reason enough, Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, believes, "to employ at all times added caution against the outbreak of fires."

er emphasis has been put on food production and loan requirements have been broadened by the FSA to enable a large number of eligible farm families to contribute to the food production goals.

Mr. Lilly said the administrator has instructed Texas Farm Security officials to expand the community and cooperative services program to enable small farmers to make maximum use of available machinery and tools and also to develop facilities through which their increased food production can flow readily to centers of distribution.

A reader of this newspaper can get the answer to any question of fact about Texas by writing A. Garland Adair, Curator of Patriotic Exhibits, Texas Memorial Museum, Austin, Texas.

WORTH REMEMBERING:
These beautiful lines written by Edmund Travis, of Austin, are inscribed on the cornerstone of the Tribune's new twelve-story building: "A free press is the protagonist and preserver of all rights, the foe and destroyer of all tyrannies. It insures every good cause a hearing and every false doctrine a challenge. It is the servant of religion, philosophy, science and art; the agent of truth, justice and civilization. Possessing it no people can be held in intellectual or political bondage; without it none can be secure against any form of government."

A Statement

The successful prosecution of the war is far more important than the election of any Judge. As much as I desire to come home, I feel it my solemn obligation to help in the great task of making forever secure our liberties. Consequently, it is improbable that I will be able to see you.

I seek re-election on my record and the Democratic custom of a second elective term. Few Judges have tried as many cases, nor as long and difficult ones, as I, during my term. Few cases were appealed, and of these, most were affirmed. I have tried to make

Court efficient and reduce expenses, and in this connection state that I have not and will not receive a dime of my salary from the State of Texas during my absence from Court.

The continuous terms, which we have through my efforts, eliminated delays and reduced expenses to litigants and taxpayers. It has attracted statewide attention and all courts of Texas will eventually adopt it.

I served in the other war, and now with others from this district we are now serving in the present World War. We do so proudly and willingly, although we desire to be home. We believe that upon victory and return home, you desire us to hold the same positions we held upon departure into the service of our country.

The Constitution of Texas permits an official to be a Reserve Officer on active duty and seek re-election. Many are doing so. To serve in our armed forces is a sacred duty, which I am performing. I ask a Second Term so I may return to the duty of Judge.

By the only means available, I earnestly solicit your vote and active support.

Sincerely,
Louis B. Reed.

An Open Letter

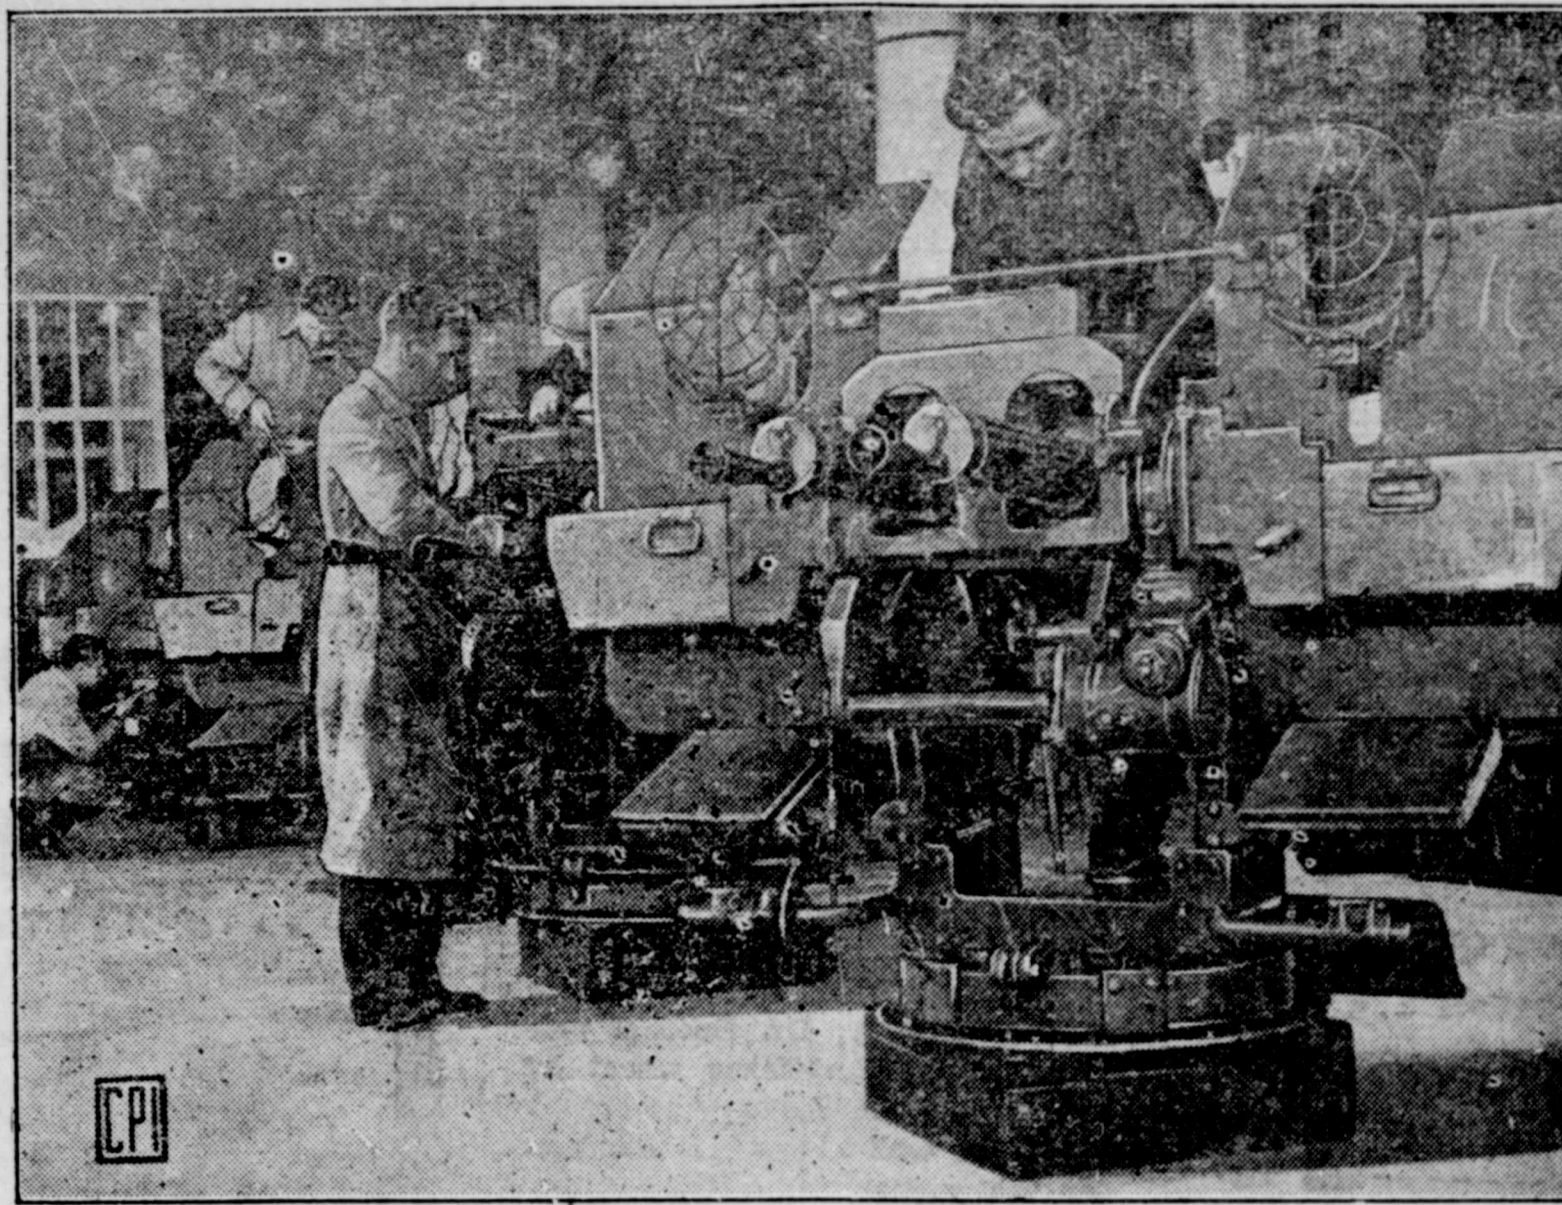

June 22, 1942.
Judge E. L. Pitts, Lubbock, Texas,
Judge E. C. Nelson, Amarillo, Texas,
Gentlemen:

Each of you is making the race for Chief Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals for the Seventh Supreme Judicial District of Texas while holding the office as a District Judge.

Each of you is receiving a salary of $5,000 a year from the State of Texas, or approximately $17.00 per day for each and every working day of the year. Each day you campaign for Chief Justice the taxpayers of this state are out approximately $34.00, which you receive from the State of Texas as a District Judge. Assuming you both campaign as many as 90 days you receive $3100.00, from the tax payers of the State of Texas. Hundreds of other tax payers join with me in believing that a District Judge resign his office before making the race for Chief Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals.

A Kick For Adolf

A CANADIAN shoe factory is now turning out a product with a much more violent kick in it—guns. Vickers machine guns and two-pounder anti-aircraft pom-poms are being assembled here in the same plant where the gun mountings are manufactured. Browning, Vickers and Sten machine guns are coming off Canadian production lines in increasing volume as part of the mammoth war production program totalling more than $3,447,000,000 since July, 1939. The Canadian government has provided about $660,000,000 worth of capital assistance for the construction of new plants, extension of old and the installation of machines and equipment. Production of guns, mountings and barrels includes 22 different types ranging from field guns to safety fuse pistols. Output of Bren guns, for instance, is nearing 4,500 monthly. More than 100 types of ammunition, mines, bombs and pyrotechnics, 12 types of chemicals and eight types of explosives are included in the program, and other weapons will be in production soon. Canada's armament industry is in high gear.

this creates a vital issue for the taxpayers of this District, and since I also am a candidate for the office of Chief Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals I will be pleased to debate this issue with you upon a date and at a place suggested by you at any reasonable time before the July primary.

This is an open letter and a copy is being released to the press for publication as a new item.

Yours very truly,
W. T. Link,

Petitions For Congress From Farmers

Petitions signed by 16,000 Texas farmers asking for a fair chance to meet Food for Victory goals through average parity prices on all agricultural commodities were sent to Congress last week from state headquarters of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation in Waco.

Shown above are a portion of the 2,500 copies of the petition on display in state Farm Bureau offices just before being relayed to Texas congressmen in Washington.

The petitions, which were circulated in more than 200 Texas counties, are shown here lined up by congressional districts. Each of the 21 Texas congressmen received copies signed by farmers in his district, and master lists from the entire state were sent to Senators Connally and O'Daniel.

The petition urges Congress to retain the 85 to 110 percent of parity market range provided in the present price control law so that farmers will have a reasonable chance to average parity products and thus be able, in the face of rising production costs, to produce the food and fiber need to defeat the axis.

Farm Cash Income Much Above 1941

AUSTIN—Although the rise in farm prices during the past year is contributing substantially to the rise in farm cash income, the present level of farm prices is still far below that reached in World War I, according to Dr. F. A. Buechel, assistant director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Farm prices had reached a two-year low in August, 1939, just before the outbreak of war, Dr. Buechel points out, so the increase since then should not be viewed with alarm. Further substantial increases in farm prices above the present level would, he believes, however, be justifiable basis for concern.

Writing a monthly report on farm cash income for the state during May, Dr. Buechel points out that the Texas wheat harvest now under way is expected to be well above last year's and that higher prices now prevailing will mean a substantial increase in cash income from that source. Cotton and cottonseed prices during the marketing season are also expected to be considerably above a year ago, Dr. Buechel says, and a crop of the same size as last year will result in substantial income gains from these products.

Growing income from milk and milk products, fruits and vegetables, poultry and eggs are also forecast.

Dr. Buechel pointed out that income from agriculture in the state during May totaled $53,694,000 or 40 per cent more than the $38,415,000 for the same month of 1941. Aggregate farm cash income for the first five months is 60 per cent above last year, he reported.

Seasonal declines in livestock dealings, always expected from April to May, were more than offset this year by increases from wool, mohair, milk and milk products, fruits and vegetables, Dr. Buechel says.

"The outlook for feed and pasture is on the whole quite favorable," he said. "As a consequence, with the expected maintenance of high levels of marketings and prices, farm cash income from livestock during the remainder of the year promises to continue favorable. This also holds for milk, poultry and eggs, wool and mohair."

Two Boys Awarded Star Farmer Degree

Two boys of the Brownfield Future Farmers of America Chapter were awarded the Lone Star farmer degree for the past three years work.

Harold Taylor and Dwain Short were chosen from the Brownfield Chapter. There were 175 boys chosen from the Texas Future Farmers of America Chapters.

In order to receive this degree a boy must carry on at least three years of supervised farming under the supervision of the vocational agriculture teacher, have earned and invested from his program at least $250, and be outstanding in scholarship and leadership.

Only 6 percent of the 28,000 FFA boys of Texas were awarded the degree this year.

Harold Taylor also received a $100 scholarship in the agriculture division at Texas Tech College so will attend school there this fall.

We Must Win War To Keep Social Gains

James V. Allred, under whose administration as Governor the social security program in Texas was started, warned Texans that preservation of social gains depended upon the successful prosecution of the war against the dictators.

"If we don't win this war, there won't be any pensions for the old people of Texas and there will be no security for any of us," the candidate for United States Senate said.

"Any threat from the isolationist bunglers who would slow the war program of President Roosevelt is a threat to the security of every old person in Texas because if we lose the war, we lose everything."

Pleading for wholehearted unity behind the President in all-out support of the war program and "winning the peace to follow," Allred declared that the headlines in the daily newspapers disproved the easy optimism that the war "ain't gonna last very long."

Reviewing his record of long devotion to social security work from his first campaign for governor in 1934 to the time he left the Governor's office in 1939, Allred said he was ready to stand on that record before the people of Texas in his present campaign.

Allred laid his candidacy for the United States Senate before the voters of South Texas this week in a vigorous stump campaign that will take him to all parts of the State.

Lubbock Flyer Turned Back Monday P. M.

Monday afternoon as a cloud of mostly sand rolled in from the north at a terrific rate of speed, and looked really worse than it was, one of the flyers from the Lubbock Army Air Base began to meet it right over town. The pilot may not have learned any signal for retreat, but he did.

It seemed that at first he thought he might go to the east of it, and turned toward Tahoka. Then he turned south and it appeared he was headed for Lamesa or Big Spring until the blow was over, but finally he pointed the nose of his plane southwest, and evidently headed for the Hobbs field.

The last seen, he was showing that cloud of dust and a bit of rain "the way to go home."

GAS RATIONING WILL HURT TEXAS SCHOOLS

Schooling for Texas children may suffer heavily if gasoline rationing is extended to Texas.

That's the conclusion to be drawn from study of a school tax survey just received here. The survey, compiled from reports of independent school districts and official state records, shows that last year petroleum and its products bore 39 per cent, or virtually two fifths of the total cost of schooling Texas boys and girls.

Or to put it another way, two out of every five Texas school children were educated last year through taxes on the Texas petroleum industry and on gasoline. A total of 600,000 Texas boys and girls out of the State's scholastic population of 1,539,006 had their entire school expenses paid by petroleum and petroleum product taxes last year.
