VOLUME THIRTY-EIGHT

BROWNFIELD, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1942

NUMBER 17

JAMES BURNETT MAY BE HOME CHRISTMAS

Nov. 15, 1942

Staff NTS, Building P-4
Norfolk, Va.

Dear Mr. Stricklin, Sr.:

Thought I would just drop you a line to let you know that I have been receiving the Herald for the past several weeks and it is certainly great to hear from the old home town. You can hardly know how to appreciate the old home town until you have been in a place like this.

Have been reading about the CUBS. I would like to be in town to see the CUBS go as they are doing grand for their first year in AA. You might pass the word to the boys that all the exes of BHS are behind them and are proud of their record so far and to keep up the good work. I would like to wish my old coach, Coach Johnny Bost, the best of luck with his team.

As you probably know I am in the Navy and came in as Physical Instructor and have been retained here on the staff of Naval Training Station here in Norfolk, Virginia. Would like for you to tell all my friends hello and would like to hear from all my friends there.

Mr. Stricklin I would like to compliment you on editing the finest little newspaper in the country.

Sincerely yours,
James R. Burnett.

P. S. It is my intention to visit in Brownfield some time before Christmas.

Hopsons Boys Visit Home Folks

Cpl. M. E. Hopson of Btry E, 86th CA, (AA), Camp Haan Calif., and Pfc Robert Hopson of Ft. D. A. Russell, Marfa, Texas, were visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hopson over the last week. Another son, Oather Hopson and wife of Clovis, New Mexico, were also here. M. E. and R. W. were really glad to come home, but after a short visit were anxious to get back to their camps—said that there is a job for us to do and the sooner it's done, the better for all.

Both boys were looking well, were in the best of spirits and seemed to feel there was no doubt but that we would win this war.

Now Has Four Boys In The Service

Mrs. W. M. Goldston, who perhaps holds the record in Terry county for the number of sons in the armed service, was in recently to get the Herald started up to all the boys, while there were only two of the boys in the service at Fort Bliss, she could make one paper do both.

Now they are scattered. One still at Bliss, one at Camp Carson, Colo., and a third at Camp Hulen, Texas. The other one, Louis E., who was recently at home, is in the Navy, training at San Diego, Calif.

Pvt. Cecil Paschal is at home on furlough, and looks every part of a fine soldier. He stated that his job for the present was guarding interned Japs. Some one asked him if he was not tempted to "shoot 'em up," he remarked: "No, we treat the rats pretty well," then quickly added, "we'd shoot 'em if they tried any monkey business."

Mrs. Brit Clare is having the Herald sent to her brother, John Dumas, who is now located at Camp Indictot, R. I. He is a seaman, second class.

Sgt. James A. (Squirrel) Bowers of the Radio division of the Army sailed this month. Sgt. Bowers, formerly of Brownfield, reported, "I have serviced Jimmie's radio."

Three Terryites Finish At Sheppard Field

Pvt. Warren W. Cowan, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cowan of Ropesville; Pvt. Jim Neill, son of Judge and Mrs. Geo. W. Neill of this city; Pvt. James W. Cox son of Robt. C. Cox, also of this city, have finished courses in aviation mechanics at Sheppard Field, Texas.

These boys are now entitled to become crew chiefs with ratings of Corporals or Sergeants.

Warren Nobles Now Second Lieutenant

A dispatch of Nov. 21, to the daily press with a Greenville date line, stated that William Warren Nobles had been made a Second Lt., at the Majors Army Air Field, Greenville, Texas. He is a nephew of Mrs. W. H. Collins, and worked several years at the Collins store.

Nobles' home was at Hamlin, we understand, but after graduating from Tech College, he made his home here, where he had many warm friends.

ANOTHER ANSWERED UNCLE SAM'S CALL

Rev. James Dee Taylor, pastor of Challis and Lahey Baptist and employee of Dixie Star Bakery, left for Tipton Oklahoma Nov. 15 to visit before going in to the Service of our Country as Chaplain.

He left his wife and young daughter, Margaret De Loy, at Tipton, Tuesday of this week. Rev. Taylor gets his first training at Cambridge, Mass. Then he will be assigned to a post with the rank of lieutenant.

PVT. STEVENS HOME FOR THE WEEK-END

Pvt. David Earl Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stevens of Union, visited them over the week-end. He was accompanied home by a friend, Gavin Allsup.

Stevens volunteered at the Lubbock Army Flying School about six weeks ago, while his friend had been there only two weeks. Both boys like fine, and say they have the best of food to eat.

Com. James G. Stahlman, publisher of the Nashville, Tennessee, Banner, is now on duty as a naval reserve.

A BONER: Last week, in the article about Pvt. Norton, we stated he was a sailor. Norton is a cavalryman.

Tom B. Davis is now located at Camp Kilmer, N. J. He has been at Fort Knox, Ky., for several months.

Pvt. Bob Robinson of Roswell, New Mexico, visited here last week-end.

Pvt. Norwood Browder of the Lubbock Army Flying School spent Sunday with his parents.

Pvt. Byron Sandage, somewhere across the blue Atlantic, wrote us recently a short letter, asking us to stop sending his Herald till the rush is over, probably meaning the holiday movement of stuff to the soldiers. He will let us know when to start up the paper, which he hopes will not be too long.

Kenneth Hill Now Second Lieutenant

Fort Benning, Ga. Nov. 21.—Kenneth Weldon Hill of Brownfield, Texas, was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army of the United States today upon successful completion of the Officer Candidate Course at The Infantry School at Fort Benning, Lt. Hill is the son of Mrs. Ben J. Hill of Brownfield, Texas.

The new lieutenant was inducted into the army on January 23, 1942 and served with the Camp Wolters Replacement Center before going to Officer Candidate School three months ago. He held rank of Corporal before being commissioned.

The new officer, is a graduate of Brownfield High in Brownfield.

"Scrap" Show Was Very Disappointing

In conversation with Mrs. Ethel Jones, proprietor of the Jones Tintatres, this week, we found that good and civic minded lady very much disappointed in the attendance at the "Scrap Show" at the Rialto last Saturday. In fact, Mrs. Jones stated there were a pitiful few that came and brought metal for intrance and that it was really a good show.

It was not because of cold weather, for there was a large crowd in the city, and when in the afternoon another of the shows was opened, it was well patronized. She feels that most people had concluded that just because it was advertised as a junk show, there was nothing to the feature. Either that, or people are just more indifferent to the war effort than we think.

This show cost Mrs. Jones around $50, and she lost money on it. Another, for the same purpose is to be given December 19th, and she stated that if the attendance and results were not much better, no others would run.

Maybe lots of people think the scrap metals are not needed now. If you are one of those, won't you please read the telegram from Donald M. Nelson, chief of the WPB, which we received Wednesday morning. It is printed on this page.

Mr. Nelson knows there is still lots of junk metal particularly on farms, and again he is calling on the newspapers and junk committees, as well as civic organizations to get this metal where it can be used for the war effort.

And in the meantime, let's keep the next show date in mind, December 19th, and go ourselves, or send the children to see it at the price of just a few pounds of junk metals.

No Christmas Street Lighting This Year

Noting the fact that in a number of places the WPB had called on cities to refrain from street holiday lights in order to save electricity, we called the utilities department of the local plant. E. D. Jones, Supt., stated that he had already taken the matter up with the City Council before the WPB order came in, and they had agreed that the street holiday lighting could be dispensed with for the duration.

However, for the sake of small children, merchants may at their discretion spend as much as $50 for store decorations and lighting, in order that the kids may not get it into their heads that Santa is out too, for the duration—which he is not.

Noting some of the reasons why the War Production Board made the order, it was stated that elimination of holiday lighting in the United States, would save $50,000,000 in KWH, and that it would light a city of 50,000 for a year.

Brock See Bull Fight At Juarez

L. L. Brock of the Union community, was in this week to get on speaking terms again by putting 'er up in advance, and stated that he had recently made a business trip to Silver City, N. M. He returned via Juarez, Old Mexico, where he took in a bull fight. He was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Wayland Parker.

L. L. stated that while in the El Paso section, he visited his son, Steve and family at Las Cruces, N. M. Steve is the county agricultural agent at Las Cruces.

Santa Fe Employees To Purchase Bonds

Nine Flags of the Minute Men were presented that many units of the Santa Fe Railway Western Lines recently in Amarillo, for purchases of Victory Bonds. More than 97 per cent of the 12,378 employees of this Santa Fe Grand Division, working in Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas and Oklahoma have enlisted in the bond purchase plan.

Series Of Fires Here Past Week

So far there has been no serious or costly fires, either in human or money toll, but there has been entirely too many small fires, and with high winds at times to fan them, and with a rank growth of weeds and grass everywhere, they could easily become something to make us set up and take notice.

With one of the best fire records in this section, and with an insurance rate as low and perhaps lower than any neighboring county seat town, we should use every precaution. Take no chances on burning weeds and grass. Be sure you can control the fire.

Fire Chief E. D. Jones gives us the following report on fires for the past week:

The premises of Mr. Dalton the 20th. Got panicky on account perhaps of an invalid lady in the home. No damage.

Slight damage to Jap Proctor's garage same day.

Fire department called to North Gin Saturday on account of high wind. Cotton that was a fire run to the floor of the gin and extinguished.

On the 23, there was a fire at the Charley Vest tourist camp in west Brownfield. Two cabins burned and four others slightly damaged.

Called to the residence of Mrs. J. L. Randal Tuesday. Grass fire from caught from burning trash.

Called to west edge of city limits Tuesday where Texas Utilities running line from Levelland to Seagraves. Grass fire burned one or two poles.

Remember too, that the fire department is also somewhat limited on gasoline, and this applies to the voluntary fire boys. But call if necessary.

Hard To Teach Haskellites, Says Hemphill

There are a lot of people beyond the caprock that just seem can't get it through their noodles that in reality, crops are more sure year in and year out, here than there. The older ones still remember that the geographies they studied called the Llano Estacado, which to them was not "staked plains" but a desert, because there were no towns or villages marked on the map.

Not so long ago, in conversation with M. R. Hemphill, who handles lands and leases here, remarked that he almost got aggravated with the folks he knows every time he goes to Haskell county. When he asks why they don't sell out there and buy cheaper and better land in a better farming county, he hears the same old story: "Too many drouths out there."

As a matter of fact, remarked M. R., Terry county will beat Haskell on five out of ten crops, and equal them on the other five. When he shows them products from here, they usually grin and ask "whose tank dam did that grow on?"

Sawyer Graham Made Second Lieutenant

Sawyer Graham came in last week from taking a training course at Fort Warren, Wyoming. At the conclusion of which he was commissioned Second Lieutenant in the Quartermasters Corps.

He will leave shortly for Fort Sam Houston for assignment to duty. Sawyer is a graduate of New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell. His wife and little son, Munford Austin, were expected to join him here this week. They have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Smith, at Glendale, Ariz.

Ginnings Far Ahead Of 1941

A report released this week by R. D. Copeland, special agent of the Bureau of Census, gives the Terry county cotton ginned up to Nov. 14th as 25,011 bales. This compared to 12,658 for the same date in 1941.

Bank Deposits More Than 3 1/2 Million Dollars

The high water mark of bank deposits for all time record has been passed this fall, and the end is not yet. There may be a possibility that deposits in the two banks here will see a height of four million dollars by the 31st day of December, when the annual bank call will be made.

In round figures, the Brownfield State Bank and the First National Bank of this city, report combined deposits as of Monday of $3,585,000. We believe that once before they climbed to or near the three million mark, or slightly less, but they are now well over a half million better than ever before.

We have heard complaints this year, from smaller towns especially, that about all the benefits banks were to their communities was to make change. Just how near right this was or is, we are not prepared to say. But the fact that some of them have been sold or consolidated makes it apparent that there was something to the report.

When a bank along with other institutions fail or refuse to fill the niche which they are supposed to fill, then they cannot be any great blessing to a community.

However, we believe that practically 100 per cent of the people who have dealings with either of the banks in Brownfield, not only appreciate them for what they have done for the community and individuals, but further, their customers and the personnel of the banks have become good friends, and have the utmost confidence in each other.

In other words, the banks of Brownfield are taking care of the financial interests of the community in a fine way. We get checks now and then from people as far away as Ohio, who own property here, on Brownfield banks. They, too, have confidence in our banking institutions.

County Health Office Issues Warning

The County Health office issues a warning against diphtheria that is timely and special attention should be given it and save as much sickness from this disease as possible.

At this time of the years the community is advised to be aware of the possibility of cases of diphtheria among young children. Attention is brought to a case of diphtheria in a nearby county which should make all parents vigilant in preventing the disease among their children.

Diphtheria is a disease caused by a germ which is passed from one person to another by kissing, coughing, sneezing, or handling the same articles. It is usually a disease of the nose, throat, or windpipe. The infection may be mistaken for a simple sore throat and only a doctor can be sure it is diphtheria. It is always wise to have a doctor see any sore throat at the very beginning of symptoms. Any one having diphtheria is considered in quarantine until the doctor obtains two negative throat cultures.

Diphtheria is a killing disease. It kills infants and small children, but may also attack adults. About 90 percent of all deaths from this disease occur before the age of five years. Every infant should be protected against diphtheria during the first year of life to help wipe out this disease.

It is unnecessary for any child to suffer from diphtheria. Protection against this disease is possible by the early use of such preparations as toxoid. Toxoid is a preparation that the doctor may give at one or two injections. If this is given between the ages of six months and one year, the child is protected in the most dangerous age and there is usually no reaction noticed by the child.

Toxoid will make 90-95 per cent of children immune or safe from the disease. So at this time if a child is unprotected parents are

Cubs Defeated in Last Of Season's Game

The powerful Amarillo Sandies took the Cubs for a drubbing in their final game of the season on the Sandy Field last Friday afternoon. However, the Cubs fought the much heavier team every minute of the play time, and came near getting a break through one time, but were stopped.

Taking everything into consideration, we can all feel due pride in the season playing in the Fighting Cubs. In the pre-season contests with five opponents they ran up 155 tallies to their opponents. Three of these games were in AA, being Midland, Lamesa and Colorado City. Two were in A, being Tahoka and Levelland.

In District 1-AA, the Cubs took three of the five games they played, and we think it is something to crow about for it is a well known fact that this district is one of the toughest school boy districts in the state, and three out of five is no mean record. Many years the champions of 1AA have gone on to win the state, and Amarillo has an excellent chance this year.

In the district plays, the Cubs lost to Pampa by a score of 29to7. They tied Plainview 6 to 6, but won the game on penetrations. In their third game, they won over the Lubbock Westerners 7 to 6. They won the fourth from Borger 27 to 7, and lost the fifth game to Amarillo, 26 to 6.

By the way, the Amarillo Times is a bit more complimentary of the Cubs than area dailies. They were not referred to as the "inferior" team. The Times states they are clean and hard fighting boys, and that three wins in five tries in this highly competitive district was a compliment to the new comers (the Cubs.) Also, the Times stated, "these boys will bear watching next year."

Texas Tubercular Seals Go On Sale

Christmas Seals by the Texas Tuberculosis Association are now on sale here, and definitely we can state they are the prettiest yet released by the state and national association. For reason of the war, and consequent increase in this disease, those who have been receiving $2 worth, received $3 this year.

Among the things that net 95c out of every dollar these seals did in Texas this year was that over 13,000 people received chest examinations; 7,577 were given fluoroscopic tests, and nurses made 34,211 calls upon persons unable to hire a nurse.

These seals are on sale at the Herald office, as well as other business places at 1c each.

Mrs. A. F. Newman returned Friday from Eastland, where she has spent the past three months with her daughter who has been ill.

urged to visit their family physician or local health office to have the toxoid given if the child is eight years or under. With school in session parents are cautioned to play safe and keep any child home with a sore throat and have a physician check the sore throat. It is not wise to take chances at this time.

Bond, Stamp Sellout At Victory Concert

The program was composed of vocal and instrumental numbers presented by the High School Band, Choral groups from Jesse G. Randal school directed by Mrs. Kittle, Jr. High School, directed by Miss Huff, and from Tokio, directed by Mrs. Lair.

Mr. Hancock introduced the concert as a part of a state-wide plan initiated by the State Department of Education, and Texas Music Education Association, with a series of dates, one each month being proclaimed by the Governor. Three of these games were in AA, being Midland, Lamesa and Colorado City. Two were in A, being Tahoka and Levelland.

Mr. McDuffie spoke upon the subject "Bonds and Inflation", telling us how we could help finance the war and at the same time help keep a check on inflation, thus making the money we spend buy more.

The State and National banks handled the sales of Stamps and bonds. Due to the unexpected demand for stamps and bonds the bank representatives were unable to sell as many as were wanted. Both banks plan to come earlier and be prepared with more representatives so as to supply the demand more readily.

The next School Victory Concert is on December 17. We plan to make it a Christmas and Patriotic Program with more variety, "pep", and less loss of time between numbers. Everyone is prepared to come on that night and bring your stamp and bond money.

Coffee Ran Short Here Saturday

The Herald talked with five of the larger grocery stores here Monday, and found that with one exception, coffee was nonexistent here Saturday night. One store reported plenty left.

Another reported that they ran out by 3 in the afternoon.

Still another reported they had coffee till about noon. However, they were able to care for a few customers they were sure had no coffee at all.

Another reported they sold out by noon Saturday.

Another reported they had very little supplies all last week, but had a few cans for people absolutely without. All grocerymen seemed to be hedging on hoarders—if any.

Most of them believed they would have a good stock on hand by next Tuesday, when people can buy on ration cards.

Jowers Family Moves To Carlsbad

Mrs. J. J. Jowers was in recently to get the Herald started to them at Carlsbad, N. M., where they have moved to do defense work, presumably.

Mrs. Jowers herself represents another pioneer family in Terry county, being a daughter of Mr. W. J. Smith of west Terry. We imagine they will appreciate the visits of the Herald even more in their new home.

Misses Helen and Eleanor Gillham, Tech students, visited their parents last week end.

A year ago the Maritime Commission set a goal of 12 million tons dead weight, of shipping for the years 1942-43. Now that has been doubled, with 8 million tons this year and 16 million tons next year. Six million tons have already been delivered this year with two months to go at the time of the report.

The Texas Liquor Control Board is our authority for the statement that the noted moonshiners in southeast Oklahoma are rather losing money on their wares in "dry" north Texas counties. For instance, in the two counties of Denton and Collins in October, the "shiners" lost 17 cars, confiscated, paid fines of $3,300 and had 13,000 bottles of bottled in the barn whiskey confiscated. They had had better confine their business in their own "dry" state.

The medical profession, as well as social workers are elated over the fact that the public is becoming less prone concerning social diseases, and that we are making headway toward elimination, or at least the arrest of general diseases. With better education along this line, and the use of the powerful sulfa remedies, it is stated that cures, where they have not run too long are made in one day, that used to take weeks and month of patient and painful treatment.

A mammoth job has been assigned to the railroads of America, and they seem to be meeting the issue pretty well with as little inconvenience as possible to the public. True, the regular passenger trains have not been up to schedule, but so far as we know, troops have been moved without delay. Aside from the passenger and troop traffic, an unprecedented amount of freight has had to roll to meet demand on factories, as well as food for factory workers. Before the end of 1942, it is predicted that 7,000,000 persons will have been moved, a population equal to greater New York, and a distance of 1500 miles, that would have landed the city dwellers out somewhere near Topeka, Kansas.

The Herald believes it our patriotic duty to comply as far as is within our power with the War Production Board to conserve paper. For this reason, a bare necessary number of copies over and above our regular mailing list will be printed. WPB states in plain language most anyone can understand that the manufacture of printing paper will be cut 60 percent of normal demands. Therefore the Herald will refrain from printing great "goms" of un-ordered and perhaps unwanted papers and scatter them to the four winds. It is therefore imperative that readers keep their papers paid up in advance if they wish to get the Herald regularly. When this war is won, and things loosen up some, then we'll think about special editions.

We listened to a commentator over the radio the other night, who stated emphatically that it would take four years to whip Japan after Hitler is eliminated. His line of reasoning was the slow process we are making to kick the Japs off the Solomons and New Guinea. Perhaps the learned man has forgotten how far we have to transport men and materials to fight the Japs, and also how many ships and men the elimination of Hitler would release from Europe and other war theatres to pitch in on the Japs. And there is every indication that as soon as the Germans are worked over, old Joe Stalin would like a lick at the Japs, himself. The U. S., Britain and Russia, from Siberia would and could pulverize the Japs islands in six months.

The fighting qualities of Southern Senators has prevailed in ditching anti-poll tax bill for this session, at least. The Herald for one time agrees with Senator O'Daniell, who made it plain while governor of Texas, that he was opposed to the poll tax. Yet, when it came up, he asserted that it was the prerogative of the States to say what their qualifications for electors should be, and not the Federal government. When and if the time comes that the Federal government can tell people just when, where and how to vote, we'll be in a mess such as prevails in Germany today. The poll tax law may be a nonessential in the eyes of the administration, northern Democrats and negro leaders in the north, but the poll tax law is on the statute books of eight southern states, and should stay there until they are taken off by the people concerned. There is too much dabbling by Washington in state matters, already. All glory to the fighting southern senators.

A Letter To The Boys In The Service

Another week has rolled by, with no volunteers to take this job off our hands. All still too busy. So it becomes the task of the Old He to hand you another scrambled egg. We sure have had a lot of nice weather of late, and the cotton, even that hailed out and replanted in June, is opening nicely, and those unlucky birds are going to get a bit of a "break" after all. Gins running night and day and wagons, trucks and trailers of cotton all over the yards. And boys, there is plenty of cotton piled in the grounds around the gins, as the storage space is full, something you probably never saw before.

It is new to us at least. And while the merchants are having a struggle to keep in their shelves what they obtained easily in normal times, on account of rationing, are busy selling what they can get, and there is no complaint from either the customer or the merchant. We may have even more inconveniences before the fight is over. No one seems to care just what they have to put up with just so there is plenty of the best for you boys—and they hope you are getting it.

Of course the home folks are thrilled the way you boys that have already gone over are thrashing the Slanteys and the Huns. Of course a chill goes down their spine, for they know that it is costing lives—lives of men who are worth all the Hitleries and Japs in the world or that will be born. And here is hoping that darn few of them will ever be born. They are a disgrace to the world. Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition.

You boys that have not been home in months, or perhaps years, would be surprised to walk into Brownfield. When you left a majority of the help at the drug stores and banks were men. Now, when you want a coke or other soft drinks, there will very likely be a curly headed blonde or brunette to take your order. Also they are liable to wait on you at the bank, and the person behind the partition that takes your order for ham and or soup, may be a lady you have known for years. But they are getting the job done with a smile.

All those long trips down on the "crick" somewhere to fish, or to visit your wife's kin in old East Texas, is going out fast. Nearly all the tires are getting thin, and those who have good ones—just a bare few—are as particular with them as if they were pure platinum. They have put off gas rationing until Dec. 1, but the slow pace of 35 per is in effect already, and you seem to be drifting down the road, oh, so slow. A very few will pass you like a freight train from a tramp, but if they get caught, it goes against them when and if they apply for rereads, etc. But some of them don't seem to know it, or like the darkey's mule, just don't give a darn. But a highway patrolman will get their number some of these days. The new speed law has sure cut down accidents between here and Seagraves. Savvy!

No frost yet to amount to anything, yet leaves have turned to gold and are falling. Some predict a hard winter. Guess the shucks on the corn is the indicator. Folks are getting ready for Thanksgiving feasts, but personally we have seen very few turkeys this year, and we've been over the country quite a bit, and jack-rabbits are scarce too. So it may be meatless day for us. Hope you boys arrange for a real "mess" that day, and we know you'll have it if it is possible for Uncle Sam to get it to you.

Many of your dads and mothers and sisters and wives visit us to tell about you. While they fear for the worst, as all good parents and folks will, they are proud of you, and pray for you. There is no person in Terry county that we are aware of that are not for you 100 percent. And they'll bet their last pair of socks that any foe-man you meet will know they have been to a real fight.

All for this week. So long till next.—A. J. Stricklin.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS BY BOYCE HOUSE

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

by
BOYCE HOUSE

In the hills of Southwest Texas, there is a little town two miles from the railroad. An aged darkey with an ancient cart and an old horse used to meet the trains and carry the traveling men to the hill town and back. On one occasion, a "drummer" spent more time than he intended and, hurrying up, said:

"Uncle Mose, can you get me to the station in time for the train?"

"Naw, suh, boss, da train an due in 'bout eight minutes."

The knight of the grip exclaimed:

"Didn't you tell me that Pegasus there was a cavalry horse in the war with Spain?"

"Yas, suh, dat's a fact."

"Then, give me the lines"—and jumping into the seat, the man said, in a ringing voice:

"Tension!"

At the once-familiar command of "attention", the horse pricked his ears and seemed to straighten in the traces.

"Charge!" commanded the driver.

And away the animal leaped. Around the curves through the hills, he sped, the darkey turning pale and hanging on. As they came in sight of the station, they saw the train. Not slackening speed, the horse rushed on until his driver shouted:

"Halt!"

The man jumped to the ground, threw a $5 bill to Uncle Mose, grabbed his grip and swung on to the last coach of the train as it started pulling out.

It was several months later, that another traveling man rushed up under similar circumstances. Remembering the wild ride, the old uncle said "Yes, suh, I kin get you thar!"

As the drummer had done on the other occasion, Uncle Mose shouted: "Tension!" The horse stiffened. "Charge!" And away he went. They rushed around the turns and, when they reached the final stretch, there stood the train across the road.

The Negro's lips began to tremble as he turned to his passenger and said:

"I'se leaving' dis heah cart an' you better jump, too—'case I'se don forget de words whut means to stop!"

The whole field of consumer credit in Texas—but more especially the victimizing of soldiers, sailors and war workers by loan sharks—will be conducted by the Texas Consumer Credit Committee it is announced. Unnecessary consumer credit, which acts as a deterrent to the war effort, will be studied. The research is expected to provide data as the basis for bringing relief to small borrowers who are now without adequate, or even any, protection. By reducing undue financial burdens which destroy the peace of mind of many small borrowers, a contribution can be made to morale and many people left with more money to invest in War Bonds. The study will include not only the cities but small towns and rural communities as well, the problem considered state-wide.

ever born. And here is hoping that darn few of them will ever be born. They are a disgrace to the world. Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition.

You boys that have not been home in months, or perhaps years, would be surprised to walk into Brownfield. When you left a majority of the help at the drug stores and banks were men. Now, when you want a coke or other soft drinks, there will very likely be a curly headed blonde or brunette to take your order. Also they are liable to wait on you at the bank, and the person behind the partition that takes your order for ham and or soup, may be a lady you have known for years. But they are getting the job done with a smile.

All those long trips down on the "crick" somewhere to fish, or to visit your wife's kin in old East Texas, is going out fast. Nearly all the tires are getting thin, and those who have good ones—just a bare few—are as particular with them as if they were pure platinum. They have put off gas rationing until Dec. 1, but the slow pace of 35 per is in effect already, and you seem to be drifting down the road, oh, so slow. A very few will pass you like a freight train from a tramp, but if they get caught, it goes against them when and if they apply for rereads, etc. But some of them don't seem to know it, or like the darkey's mule, just don't give a darn. But a highway patrolman will get their number some of these days. The new speed law has sure cut down accidents between here and Seagraves. Savvy!

No frost yet to amount to anything, yet leaves have turned to gold and are falling. Some predict a hard winter. Guess the shucks on the corn is the indicator. Folks are getting ready for Thanksgiving feasts, but personally we have seen very few turkeys this year, and we've been over the country quite a bit, and jack-rabbits are scarce too. So it may be meatless day for us. Hope you boys arrange for a real "mess" that day, and we know you'll have it if it is possible for Uncle Sam to get it to you.

Many of your dads and mothers and sisters and wives visit us to tell about you. While they fear for the worst, as all good parents and folks will, they are proud of you, and pray for you. There is no person in Terry county that we are aware of that are not for you 100 percent. And they'll bet their last pair of socks that any foe-man you meet will know they have been to a real fight.

All for this week. So long till next.—A. J. Stricklin.

Migratory Farm Labor To Get Gasoline

Migratory farm workers who use trucks in traveling from job to job and who are away from home are required to contact the District Office of the Office of Defense Transportation on the proper procedure to procure their Certificates of War Necessity.

There are many such workers in this district who are planning to leave their jobs and return home in the fear that they would be unable to operate their trucks after November 20.

Everything possible will be done to expedite the handling of these applications so that trucks used by migratory workers will not be forced from the road. It will not be necessary for these workers to leave their job and return home in order to obtain a certificate. This would only be a waste of time and rubber and would probably delay rather than expedite the issuance of certificates.

Any migratory worker who has not received his application should contact either the County Agent in the county in which he is at present domiciled or the District Office at 623 Lubbock National Building, Lubbock, for detailed information.

Ev'rybody Ev'ry Pay Day

6,000,000 Women Enrolled in War Savings Payroll Plan.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Women At War Week, opening Nov. 22, during which women will seek to sell the greatest single week's volume of War Bonds and Stamps will serve to put the spotlight on the mighty contribution women generally are making toward financing the war.

Six million women are on War Savings payroll plans. Their monthly deductions total $70,000,000.

The customers of 300,000 newspaper boys who have sold more than $50,000,000 in War Bonds and Stamps are mostly women.

Volunteer saleswomen run nearly all the Bond booths in theatres from Maine to California. They also are sparking the War Bond sales in retail stores.

Ralph G. Engelsman, Associate Field Director of the payroll savings section of the War Savings Staff, readily admits that without the support of women the phenomenal record of payroll savings enrollments would not have been achieved. Payroll savings plans are now in operation in 148,000 businesses and factories. Employees of twenty-five thousand of these firms are converting at least 10 percent of gross payrolls into War Bonds every payday.

Associate Field Director Engelsman says that women have contributed directly and indirectly toward this record. When a man devoted 10 or more percent of his pay envelope to War bonds, the woman at home has had a powerful voice in the decision. Her planning, her economies and her cheerfulness play their part in the success of payroll savings.

The Treasury Department is counting upon this woman influence in its current campaign to "top that 10 percent by New Year's." By the first of the year the Treasury hopes to enroll at least 3,000,000 women workers in a payroll savings plan and 5,000,000 more men with total deductions for War Bonds over the 10 percent mark.

'This Is My Fight Too'

Proud of her investment in the American way of life and equally proud of the grime of war production on her face and arms, the young lady in this "Women At War Week" poster symbolizes two of the chief activities of women at war.

Weekly "Junk" Ads Outpull Dailies

The weekly newspaper have at last come into their own.

Dr. Starch in a survey for the McCann - Erickson Advertising Agency found that a 44-inch "junk" ad in weekly newspapers attracted almost as much attention as a full page ad in the dailies and more attention than a seven column ad.

The American Press in a comment on the ads said "this" does not mean that a three or four to one space allotment can definitely be established as a formula for getting equal results in weeklies but it does add strength to the findings of studies made by Rutgers University and Ohio State University which showed the readership of national advertising in weeklies to be about five times as great as readership in dailies."

Quiet people aren't the only ones who don't say much.

BRAZIL MAKES CHANGE IN TEN YEARS

AUSTIN — Brazil has been transformed from an agrarian nation to a country whose industries are in the ascendancy within the short period of a single decade, Dr. Herman Tavares de Sa, Brazilian educator, has told a University of Texas audience.

"In 1940, Brazil's total industrial output was twice as large as the total agricultural production," Dr. Tavares revealed. "This was an exact reversal of conditions ten years earlier."

"While coffee is generally considered the chief product of Brazil, it, in reality, produces less than ten percent of the nation's total output. Brazil has undergone an industrial revolution which has raised the standard of living of her people, and gotten the country away from the one-crop-coffee-economy."

• A Complete Job Work Dept.

They Might Be Alive Today

Admiral Morrell, chief of the Navy's Bureau of Yards and Docks, in an address to the American Federation of Labor convention at Toronto, put the American workmen—and labor leaders—squarely on the spot.

Among other things, he told the workers that "you cannot have your cake and eat it too. You exist by virtue of the fact that this is a democratic country and, therefore, you have to preserve and protect democratic institutions. When the country is in peril, as it is today, all rules must be relaxed or waived completely. It is just as sensible for you fellows to take the position that a brick mason cannot, in time of emergency, help out with the placing of a steel beam, as it is for a Marine to take the position that because he is trained as a machine gunner, he cannot use a rifle or unload a landing boat. What a hell of a war this would be if such rules were applied to the boys on the firing line.

"... no one can live without labor, but they certainly can live without labor unions. They are living without them in Germany and in Italy and in Japan... and they damn well will live without them here if you don't get in there and pitch."

Here are the sentiments of millions of Americans. They are written on the wall in the blood of American soldiers, sailors and airmen who have died because strikes and slowdowns in vital industries reduced our production of the machines of war—men who would have been living today had they but received a new plane a tank, a gun.

War To Speed The Scientific Development

AUSTIN—War speeds up scientific developments from five to fifty years ahead of normal peacetime progress, but science won't win the war, Howard Blakeslee, science editor for the Associated Press, has told University of Texas journalism students.

"Social, moral, economic, political and scientific gains are bound to come from this war, as from any war," Blakeslee declared, "but science, regardless of its progress, won't win war alone. It takes human beings who are willing to fight and die to win any war."

Military censorship plus the inherent reticence of scientists is preventing the publication of scientific discoveries at present, he explained, but predicted that when the war is over writers will have a gold-mine of scientific news to write about.

"I put Texas at the top of the list," he said, "for you have an empire here with astounding natural resources—natural gas which yields innumerable drugs, cosmetics, explosives, etc., petroleum and agriculture."

Why Can't People Understand This?

The first is freedom of speech and expression — everywhere in the world.

The second is freedom of every person to worship God in his own way—everywhere in the world.

The third is freedom from want, which translated into world terms, means economic understandings which will secure to every nation a healthy peacetime life for its inhabitants—everywhere in the world.

The fourth is freedom from fear, which, translated into world terms, means a world-wide reduction of armaments to such a point and such a fashion that no nation will be in a position to commit an act of physical aggression against any neighbor—anywhere in the world.

—President Roosevelt.

The writer has often wondered since Mr. Willkie's return and stated that Russians, Chinese and East Indians wanted an expression from our government about the freedom of other than the white races, can't understand the above. It has been some time since Mr. Roosevelt uttered the above.

Why can't people understand plain spoken English? It seems to us the above brief statement covers the four freedoms of every race, creed or color.

Don't tell us there is a shortage of textiles after the way the ladies have been saving material on dresses all these years!

Save Leaves For Compost

COLLEGE STATION — Fallen leaves, dead grass and other vegetation about the place is Nature's plant food in the making. Don't burn it says J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist for the A. and M. College Extension Service. Save all vegetation and make it into a compost. Composted vegetation improves the texture of the soil and prevents it from becoming hard and crusty. The more compost added to the soil the better. It is especially helpful in main taining high quality in growing vegetables, Rosborough says.

In making compost, prepare a simple frame enclosure, then put down a layer of lawn trimmings, weeds, or other vegetative matter and cover with a thin layer of dirt. add water if the material is dry. Let the pile remain for about 10 days or two weeks then fork it so that the portion at the bottom will be on the top. After two or three spading the heat will have disappeared and the material then is ready for use. The decaying process will destroy the fertility of weed seeds.

Compost has sufficient nitrogen, especially if a little barnyard manure is mixed with it. But it likely will be deficient in phosphorus and potash. In order to supply adequate plant food, Rosborough suggests mixing the phosphorus with the compost and plowing or spading it six or eight inches in the soil. Additional nitrogen and potash can be applied just prior to sowing the seed.

For growing cabbage, beets and carrots in winter gardens compost is a valuable addition to the soil, the horticulturist says.

GIVE YOUR HEART A "BREAK"—DR. COX

AUSTIN — The human heart pumps approximately 50 gallons of blood every hour with no vacations, no days off, no sleep, and no rest except between beats, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who says that since the heart has such a tremendous task to perform it deserves your whole-hearted cooperation.

In order to give your heart every possible assistance in the performance of this amazing task, Dr. Cox suggests the following rules for keeping the heart healthy:

Go to your doctor at least once a year for examination and then follow his advice.

After a serious illness have your doctor give your heart a thorough examination and then return to active life as carefully and slow as possible. This will give your heart sufficient time to rest and recuperate from the unusual strain of a severe illness.

Go to your dentist regularly and do not neglect infected teeth or tonsils.

Keep your weight near the average for a person your age, sex and height.

Be sure that your diet is well balanced and be careful not to over eat.

Do not take headache medicines without consulting your doctor. Many so-called headache cures contain drugs that are injurious to the heart.

Ask your doctor about the use of tobacco and stimulants. Live a well rounded life, exercising regularly without overting yourself.

With the billions of cigarettes sold yearly, it's strange how some fellows are always "just out".

LOST — WHO HAS IT?

Noted Reporter Gives Impression of Texas

The following story by Fraizer Hunt, noted newspaper correspondent and radio newscaster, was the subject of a broadcast made while he was in Houston. His regular analysis is presented by the Radio television and electronics department of the General Electric company ever Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings over the Columbia Broadcasting system.

Houston—Some 20 miles outside the city of Houston, the slender whit shaft of San Jacinto towering into the Texas sunshine, stands as an everlasting monument to freedom. For it was in San Jacinto in April, 1836 that Texas won its freedom from Mexico. And here almost within sight of the San Jacinto Monument, I would like to comment on how the descendants of those courageous Texans, led by Sam Houston, have a grim determination to protect that dearly won liberty. I'm not sure that this busy and beautiful country around Houston isn't far more than merely "Deep in the heart of Texas." I'm beginning to feel that it's deep in the heart of America.

"For no where else have I quite felt the depth of power and magnificence that I have these last two days riding about these rich and endless prairies, these booming harbors great ship canals, rising industries, thousands of oil derricks, shipyards, refineries; all expressing the restless energy of this mighty gulf coast section. You simply can not know and understand America unless you know this rich and resourceful land here.

"There is hardly anything they haven't got or can't and don't do down here. It's an incredible land, fantastic story-book land. It has spirit and the will to win. I can not begin to tell you of the power there is in this Houston country. It spurt out of the earth through deep oil wells. It comes actually out of the sea, salt water that is turned as if by pure magic into priceless magnesium. It slides down the shipways in a hundred victory cargo boats, it flows as by products from gasoline refineries into vulcanian that will soon be turned into fine synthetic rubber that will, in the future, make America independent and free us from the strangle hold that rubber plantations of the East Indies and Malaya long have threatened us with.

"They're actually freeing America here, making us self sustaining, self supporting. I tell you this is a land for poets to write verse about and great singers to sing about. It's a land that is like youth suddenly come to the full power and knowledge of his manhood. It is bursting with energy and riches. It sings as it goes to work building, making, training, dreaming victory. It's an epic land.

"As some of you are of faint heart and some of you are prattling of our complacency and some of you know so little of America, yet talk so much about it you come out here, come deep into the heart of Texas and you'll stop you fault finding, your cheap criticism and suddenly you'll find yourself lifted up until you can almost touch the fair stars that love this wonderful land so much that they hang low in the skies, so as to be near it.

"I have never felt so sure of my country as I do here and at this very moment. I have never had so much strength and sureness and glory come to me. Honestly, it's almost like getting religion just to come down here and let the power of this magnificent land flow into you recharging your spirit and determination to the service and the protection of your dear country to its honor and its victory. This is a land, my friends, a land of milk and honey, of cattle and rice, of chimneys and busy brave men. Here is something to sing about, to shout about. This is where Texas and America come together."

NEXT TO NOTHING

An old Indian who had ordered a ham sandwich at a drug store was peering between the slices of bread.

"You slice'um ham?" he asked.

"Yes," replied the waiter.

"Ugh! You come near miss' um."

Solving our problems by running from them isn't a new idea. Look at our divorce record.

MAN KEEPS HAWKS, OWLS FROM GETTING OLD

Birds of prey are popularly considered to be long-lived birds, but the Fish and Wildlife Service says that this often seems true only in zoos. Reports from the Service's bird banders indicate that in the wild few hawks and owls survive more than a year or two, despite the fact that most of these predators are beneficial to man.

Service records give ample evidence of an indiscriminate war against hawks and owls. The evidence shows that not only that these birds are usually not permitted to live out their natural life spans but also that those who kill them do not distinguish between the beneficial species and the few that are known to do damage to man's interests.

Harmful species make up about 11 per cent of the 11,200 hawks and owls that have been banded in recent years and only about the same number that are killed and reported. In other words, those who kill hawks and owls do so with the same lack of discrimination that is purposely used in banding and releasing the birds. Out of 1,250 banded hawks and owls killed in recent years, 1,100 were beneficial to man.

WINTER AILMENTS HARD TO COMBAT

AUSTIN—In discussing seasonal health hazards for young children need as careful protection now against winter complaints as they do in hot weather against "summer complaint."

Influenza, tonsillitis, pneumonia, bronchitis, and asthma are included among those diseases which may be dangerous winter illnesses among young children since they affect the respiratory or breathing system. Such diseases as pneumonia may develop from a neglected cold, they may follow as an after-effect of measles or whooping cough, or they may occur suddenly and with very little warning. These diseases of the respiratory system are more prevalent in winter than in summer and are much more difficult to combat than digestive ailments such as summer complaint.

"These winter diseases are particularly dangerous to babies and young children," Dr. Cox stated. "Nerly all of them are spread through the secretions of the nose and mouth. Children not in vigorous health are naturally more susceptible to these complaints and the first line of defense," Dr. Cox cautioned, "is to strengthen the powers of resistance against disease; the second is to keep them under medical supervision and the third is to make sure they avoid contact with others who have coughs, colds or fevers."

EMULATED

The distinguished Senator Henry L. Dawes, from Massachusetts, was, for a time, chairman of the Committees on Indian Affairs of the United States Senate.

One day a Quapaw Indian called at his office to urge the passage of a bill authorizing the Quapaws to allot their land in severalty. Senator, Dawes objected on the ground that the Quapaws were not sufficiently intelligent.

"Why, Senator," protested the Indian representative, "do you mean to tell me you think I have not sense enough to manage my own business?"

"No, certainly not," replied Dawes; "I was only thinking of the average Quapaws."

"Senator Dawes," said the Red Man, "I am an average Quapaw Indian."

"Oh, no," countered the Senator, "the Quapaws would not send an average man to represent them before the Congress of the United States. They would send the smartest man they had."

"My dear Senator," said the Indian very patiently, "you are very much mistaken. The Quapaws are just like the white men. They never send their smartest men to Congress"

Surgeon (after examination): "I can stitch that scalp wound for you and it will heal in about 10 days."

Patient: "What'll it cost?"

Surgeon: "$10."

Patient: "But, Doc, I just want plain sewing, not hemstitching or embroidery."

This man is not dead. He is just sleeping. And sleeping a little more soundly, perhaps, because there are still many Americans who are not putting at least 10% of their pay into War Bonds on a regular Payroll Savings Plan. How about you joining a lot of other fellows in giving the little paperhanger a rude awakening? How about you signing up with a Payroll Savings Plan today . . . to the tune of not 6%, or 7% or 8%, but 10% and more if you can? LET'S TOP THAT 10% BY NEW YEAR'S.

WHAT YOU SHOULD DO:
If you are . . .
1. Already investing 10% of your pay in War Bonds through the Payroll

- Savings Plan—boost that 10% if you can.
- 2. Working in a plant where the Plan is installed, but haven't signed up yet—sign up tomorrow.
- 3. Working in a plant where the Payroll Savings Plan hasn't been installed, talk to your union head, foreman, or plant manager—and see if it can't be installed right away. The local bank will be glad to help.
- 4. Unable to get in on the Payroll Savings Plan for any reason, go to your local bank, or wherever Bonds are sold. They will be glad to help you start a Plan of your own.

Two Rumors Among Farmers Spiked

There are two rumors going among farmers that County Agent A. L. Hartzog wishes to spike. Whether started by idle tongues or the sharp tongues of the enemies of our country cannot be determined at this time.

One is that farmers will have to pay a tax to process their own meats. This is lie No. 1.

Lie No. 2 is practically on the same subject. Farmers must pay tax to sell their own processed meat. There is no such tax. Farmers are free to sell meats to anyone.

Mr. Hartzog will enlarge on these and other matters in these columns next week. Watch for these articles.

It is made of alpaca (rayon) with contrasting saddle stitching, kerchief and tiny buttons set in slanting rows astride the bodice. The shallow pockets, high on the bodice, are very appealing, as is the graceful unpressed pleats in the skirt and the soft open collarline. ### A TATTOOED REMINDER

The commander of a British warship at the Brooklyn Navy Yard for repairs was asked by one of his sailors to make an official complaint concerning an alleged violation. After investigation the commander marked the case closed. It seems a British sailor, who had one too many drinks, met some American sailors and made some disparaging remarks about the United States Navy. The American sailors took him to a Bowers tattoo shop and on his chest they had tattooed a large United States battleship under the red-white-and-blue inscription: "God Bless America."

Rev. and Mrs. Avery Rogers, Marion and Don spent Friday shopping.

Boys and Girls Club Work, which services 4-H Club in cooperation with the Extension Service announces that club leaders or members may obtain bulletins on any of the above subjects, without charge, by postcard request to its headquarters, 59 East Van Buren Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Nazi Immigration Laws Revealed

History through the ages has revealed that the tyrants, after once conquering a country with their armed hordes, have taken all the young male and female population with them or shifted them to different conquered lands so that they will forget their homelands. It is unfortunate that, during this century of civilization, the same cruel method is applied, with their shrewd torturing and scientific means, to the unhappy Poles and Czechs by so-called civilized Nazis.

Since the Nazi occupation of Poland, the annihilation of 700,000 Poles has been officially reported. Bessarabian Germans, numbering about 50,000, have already been settled in Danzig and West Prussia, and many more are expected.

To a gathering of 3,000 German student settlers in Posen, their leader said: "The East is not to be a colonial territory, but a homeland for the best parts of the German nationality," and on another occasion: "The German in this country is the master, the Pole his servant."

At Lodz, a "race-official" collects whole families of blue-eyed blonds for special camps where they are forced to become Germans and 1,000 of these are, each month, sent to Germany. This Germanization is most intensely pursued in Pomerania and Silesia, where youngsters are forced to join Hitler's Youth. Fifty thousand Polish farms and 500 small estates have been placed at the disposal of 60,000 families of Germany transplanted from Germany.

All poles are forced to work, except children under twelve, women over forty-five and men over sixty. The men are taken to Germany, but the women remain in Poland.

This plan of supplanting and shifting the populations, like cattle, from one country to another is applied with out mercy, and the Nazis think that this will solve the complex problem of minorities in Middle Europe.

Diphtheria Shows Seasonal Increase

Austin, Texas— With the incidence of diphtheria showing a seasonal increase in the state of Texas, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state Health Officer, is again warning parents to make sure that their children are protected against this killing disease by diphtheria immunization.

According to the State Health Department, records show that less than 50 per cent of the children in Texas are inoculated against diphtheria.

"Inasmuch as toxoid inoculation can and will prevent diphtheria, it seems incredible that so many of our children are allowed to remain open to attack," Dr. Cox said. "Diphtheria is a killer and a vicious one. There are few diseases which cause the victim more agony than does diphtheria, and it is certainly the solemn responsibility of parents to make sure that their children do not fall victim to this disease."

Dr. Cox advised that children be taken to their family physician for inoculation and stated further in the event parents are unable to pay for this service, county health units will administer the toxoid without charge.

All children should be immunized against diphtheria before each their first birthday, but not, they definitely should have the inoculation before entering school, Dr. Cox said. There is always danger of diphtheria among school children and until every child in Texas is inoculated before school age there will be no way preventing the incidence and spread of diphtheria among our Texas school children.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

The American newly-arrived in London sat down at his hotel table and briskly began to give his order. "I'd like a thick porterhouse steak smothered in mushrooms, some buttered toast—"

"Excuse me, sir," interrupted the waiter gently, "are you trying to give an order, or just reminiscing?"

Whatever else we may accomplish — we did get "non-partisan" spelled correctly.

We have before us a report of the work of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Briefly stated here are some of the high points:

Buying Defense Bonds. The per capita quota in the US was $7.60 per month; West Texas had a per capita purchase of $8.20, 8 percent over the national quota.

While there was no quota on paper collection, West Texans collected 23 pounds per person.

In the scrap rubber collection the U. S. showed a collection of 6 8/10; 8 7/10 in Texas, and West Texas around 42 pounds per capita.

Scrap Metal: The US collection, 86; Texas 102, and West Texas, 482. One town with 5,800 persons collected 2,182 pounds for each of its inhabitants. This town was in or near oil fields.

Aluminum collection: Texas 1/9 pounds per person; West Texas collected 7/10 pounds per person.

The national quota in Red Cross and USO drives was given at 24c per person; in Texas it was 17c per capita, and in west Texas, 32c per inhabitant.

As to volunteers in the Armed Forces. Based on reports of total enlistments received by us, one out of every 20 persons in West Texas has enlisted in the armed forces, for a total of around 75,000 West Texas boys now in service

Reviews Year Of Gestapo Horrors

Jan Masaryk, Czechoslovak Minister of Foreign Affairs, has issued a resume of the Gestapo's rule in his country, for the year following the arrival of Heydrich in Prague.

The German attack on Russia led to increased Czech sabotage which disorganized the entire railway system of the "Protectorate" and made a big dent in the output of Czech factories. This was one of the reasons for Heydrich being sent to Czechoslovakia.

Another purpose of Gestapo rule there was to wipe out Czech national leadership and thus by exterminating Czech leaders, the people could be brought into complete subjection. The Czechs feel that a day of retribution will come.

Mr. Masaryk declares that the Czechs are watching with breathless anxiety and hope the heroic struggle which their fellow Slavs at Stalingrad have been and are continuing to make against Nazi tyranny. He says, "Give us one Allied victory and the Germans will soon be scuttling out of their mock "Protectorate."

WHO MENTIONED SCARCITY OF FARM LABOR

Had a short letter from our old friend, Dr. M. C. Bell, out at Quemado, N. M., this week, who mentioned that he liked the arrival of the Herald each week so that he might see how the old boys here are getting along.

Incidentally, he enclosed a clipping from a New Mexico paper that his grandson, Mike Bell, six last January, was driving a Ford tractor for his dad, Lee Bell, of Fence Lake, N. M., every day. But his dad has to put up 50c per diem for this labor.

KNOW THY CONGRESS

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON President, Harding College Searcy, Arkansas

(Editor's Note: Dr. George S. Benson is president of Harding College of Searcy, Arkansas, a co-educational institution noted for having no unemployed graduates. Dr. Benson found himself catapulted into the headlines in 1941 when he appeared before the House Ways and Means Committee, and Senate Finance Committee, and offered a concrete plan for cutting non-defense expenditures by two billion dollars. Self-reliant Harding College students recently hit the headlines when they asked the National Youth Administration to accept the return of funds allotted to them, requesting that the sum be invested in "tools for MacArthur's men.")

Are you critical of Congress? I was before going to Washington and having direct experience with various Congressional committees.

For years I read the good-natured wise cracks of Will Rogers about Congress. I also read numerous other articles which deliberately criticized Congress. Then I watched the aggressive executive branch of the Government making ever greater and more detailed demands of Congress, and finally found myself wondering whether Congress was still a capable, independent, representative law making body.

Having a measure of Scotch blood which has always given me considerable appreciation for the value of a dollar, I was also disturbed about the huge appropriations, which, from 1930 to 1940, averaged about $3 billion a year above National income, and which were creating an unfavorable background for a long hard war, which was evidently before us.

Putting all of this together made me wonder if there was not some truth in statements made by "crack-barrel philosophers" to the effect that Congressmen were only a group of professional politicians, whose chief concern was keeping their jobs.

In May 1941, I decided to go to Washington and personally request the Ways and Means Committee of the House to reduce extravagant non-defense expenditures of the Government about $2 billion. While I knew that any private citizen had that right, I nevertheless started to Washington with grave misgivings. Why should that group of Congressmen be interested in me—an average citizen with only one vote. Moreover, I wanted to talk common sense, straight from the shoulder, and wondered if that would make them want to throw me out. Having bolstered my courage with a sense of public duty, however, I faced that august body, determined to speak my mind and take the consequences.

My turn came toward the close of a long weary day of hearings, and I was almost frightened to observe every member of the Committee following me closely, and apparently analyzing my every sentence. Having finished, I stood almost breathless, awaiting their reaction, and expecting criticism of my suggestions.

Then came the most astonishing moment in my life. Not a single question was asked or a single statement made for the purpose of confusing or embarrassing me. On the contrary, I was thanked for coming and the testimony was complimented. Sympathetic, intelligent, comprehensive questions were asked, demonstrating both their genuine deep concern in the general welfare of the Nation and their familiarity with economics and National budgets. They were thoroughly aware of the need for greater National economy, and interested in proper steps to achieve it.

That one experience completely revolutionized my opinion of Congress. Three months later, I appeared before the Senate Finance Committee. Again I was treated with unsurpassed courtesy. My growing esteem for Congress was further enhanced.

Still more recently I appeared before a third group—a Senatorial subcommittee. This time one member of the group spent about an hour, apparently trying only to heckle, embarrass, confuse, or discredit me. His conduct was quite different from that of his colleagues, and I later found that he had not been elected at all. He was a recent appointee, who evidently had not yet become familiar with the dignity and honor which customarily characterizes the distinguished body of which he had suddenly become a member. He was the type I had heard so much about, the rare exception—not the rule.

During this most critical period in our history, national unity is of extreme importance. For the purpose of winning the war and protecting our National interests, it is imperative that Congress receive the respect and enjoy the confidence of the public to which it is justly entitled, and of which it is proving itself worthy.

In later articles I want to explain why I believe that Congress is the most important of our three branches of Government; why I believe a Congressional Committee is the best jury in the world; and why I believe a respected Congress is positively essential to the future of democracy in America. These statements will be proven by first hand factual information.

Our Fire Record Bests Bomb Busted England

AUSTIN—The loss of American lives by fire when compared with death lists during the three years of war in bomb-battered England, is described by Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, as deplorable. The comparison, he said, presents "a very unpleasant picture."

"In a vain effort to defeat the British," continued Hall, "Nazi planes rained flaming hell from the skies over England. War casualties in the first three years ending August 31, 1942, show that German air raiders killed 45,871 persons in England.

"Approximately 30,000 civilians burned to death in America during the same three-year period. In a land free from the roar of enemy planes; where screaming bombs are unknown, our carelessness with fire caused a death toll two thirds as great as wartime deaths in England."

The Commissioner said last week's incomplete fire reports list at least two deaths in Texas. In one, a man was burned to death when he fell asleep while smoking in bed.

The other death resulted from the dangerous practice of keeping gasoline in the home. A can of gasoline near a water heater was ignited. A shower of flames covered a child standing nearby, causing death within a few minutes.

"Fatal fires are almost daily occurrences in Texas," Commissioner Hall said. "They result from acts of carelessness — our failure to consider either the safety of others or our own safety. If as many of our people in Texas were killed by bombs as there are by fire, we would be doing something to stop it. Yet, a life lost by fire is just as horrible a tragedy as one lost by an enemy bomb."

Grand Jury Report

THE STATE OF TEXAS COUNTY OF TERRY IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF TERRY COUNTY TEXAS, AUGUST TERM, A. D. 1942

To the honorable Judge of said court:

We, your Grand Jury in and for the August term of the District Court of Terry County, Texas, respectively report that we have worked five days as a Grand Jury and have returned into open court three bills of felony indictments. We have carefully investigated all alleged offenses brought to our attention and have returned into court indictments where we deemed the evidence sufficient.

In our investigations we have found that a certain Warehouse and Compress in our county is weighing cotton in practically all cases short of their actual weight, thereby depriving the good farmers of our county from receiving the full value of their cotton. We call upon the officials of this state and county to continue to call to the attention of the future Grand Juries of this county such violations of the law. We wish to thank the person who came before us and gave of their testimony, also we wish to thank our District Judge, District Attorney, County Attorney, Sheriff and the State officers for their assistance and courtesies shown us. We as a Grand Jury call upon our good citizens and officials to enforce the law at this time and keep our county, state and nation a respectable place for which our boys who are serving their country to come back to after our present conflict is over.

We have inspected the courthouse and jail and find that same is being kept in a good and sanitary manner.

Having finally concluded our work as a Grand Jury for this term of said court, we respectfully ask that we be permitted to adjourn for the term.

Respectfully submitted C. W. Collins Foreman of the Grand Jury

On this the 20th day of November, came to be heard and considered the above and foregoing report of the Grand Jury asking permission to adjourn for the term of this court and after duly considering the same it is hereby ordered, adjudged and decreed by that court that said Grand Jury be dismissed for the August term of the District Court of Terry County, Texas.

J. E. Garland Special District Judge Presiding.

Mrs. E. L. Sturges took her husband to Lubbock last Friday to catch a train for Dallas where he spent the week-end.

SERMON SUBJECT AT CHURCH OF CHRIST

Evangelist Warren A. Henry, minister of the local Church of Christ on Sunday night as being the word "IF". While this is one of the shortest words in the English language, yet, according to Mr. Henry, it is one of the most important.

This sermon will be given entirely in question form, leaving the answer to each point up to the audience. Are you puzzled about some particular Bible doctrine? If so, you are invited to hear this sermon at the Church of Christ this Sunday night at 8:15, and let the minister assist you in answering your own questions; over which you have pondered so long. You are always welcome to the "Church where you are never a stranger."

Mrs. Everett Latham and Mrs. Clovis Kendrick were Lubbock visitors Friday.

Miss Alma Faye Ballard spent the week-end in Fort Worth as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bradshaw and Sgt. Kenneth L. Moyer.

DANGER IN THE HOME THE whole breed of domestic contagious and infectious diseases will disappear in the years to come as the lessons of cleanliness come to be learned; not only the lesson of cleanliness of the home, but also personal cleanliness, the cleanliness that demands the daily washing with soap and water, the cleanliness that destroys germs, removes the substances in which they breed, and disinfects and makes healthy all human surroundings. It has long been an established fact that one of the most dangerous agents in the transfer of bacteria is the human hand with its five fingers. When we wash our hands we seek to do for others what we would have them do for us. WEST TEXAS GAS CO.

Red Cross News

The Terry-Yoakum chapter of the American Red Cross made a shipment of finished garments to headquarters on Manday. The shipment consisted of: 187 mens shirts, 143 ladies slips, 167 ladies and childrens blouses, 64 Army, Navy and refugee sweaters, 22 Army mufflers, 4 pr. Army gloves, 3 helmets, 2 pr. wristlets, 4 p.c. Navy socks, 2 Afghans, 5 quilts, 23 heavy bath robes, making a total of 656 garments.

The chapter chairmen wish to thank you that so willingly made this shipment possible by your whole-hearted cooperation. As the winter comes on your effort will be needed more and more in making refugee garments. Let more of us sacrifice a few hours each week to help in this work—it's not only our war—as that are working—it's yours and yours. Our boys are fighting for you as well as the rest of us. You may not be able to buy bonds, but you can help in this service. The materials are free for you to work up; come and get it and take it home with you. Our next shipment should top this one. Don't you want to knit a helmet, sock or muffler or sweater to keep some boy warm at the front; you can do this in complete comfort in your home. Who knows; some one you love may get it to wear—may keep him warm in the front line trenches this winter.

Let us go all-out for the war effort in our Red Cross work. Let us not let our boys or our allies down. Let's hold their arms up with ammunition in buying bonds and keep their bodies warm with our knitted garments.

—Mrs. Eldora White.

Janey

Janey closed the bedroom door and locked it. Alone at last! She threw back her head and heaved a deep sigh. Then she peeked out of the corner of her eye at the mirror to see whether she really did look like Hedy LaMarr. Quite a lot, she decided.

And now to business. She drew forth from the bottom of her top bureau drawer the sheet of pink writing-paper and the envelope that she had been saving for this day. She sat down at the table by the window and dipped the pen into the bottle of green ink that her sister Rose was such a pig about. She wrote, with beautiful arabesques, "Dear Mr. Morgenthau," and held her head back to admire this effort of the best pupil in penmanship class.

"Here are my stamps for a bond. $18.75. I started last Christmas when I got $3.00. Not counting 50 cents, I have earned all the rest, working one or more days a week at a local grocery store, and I'm quite proud to say I worked hard to get it."

Janey stared out of the window at Peterson's house and beyond at the big yard where the kids were playing football. She held her pen elegantly in air.

"Sitting here looking out the window, I see a peaceful little town, and I wonder how the world can be in such a turmoil and the people of this world can have such hate for their fellow men. So I'm proud to send these stamps because I know I'm helping to make the whole world peaceful again like our little town."

She signed her name with an important flourish, not forgetting a conspicuous "Miss" in front of the "Janey." After she had sealed the letter she went on staring out of the window. It really was awfully peaceful. Overhead she heard a plane humming by through the sunny afternoon air.

Then the voice of her best friend, Betty, called from outside—"Janey!" In an instant Janey was on her feet and tearing downstairs and out. She was not Hedy LaMarr nor a deep philosopher any more, but exactly twelve years old.

Grown-ups and children alike should all help the "breadwinner" of the family to budget for War Bonds. Let's all join a payroll savings plan and "top that 10% by New Year's."

Reduction Of Church Debt Approved

The deacons of the church made recommendation that an effort to retire $5,000. of the $15,000. debt on the building be made during December was unanimously adopted by those present and voting.

No doubt many of those favoring this worthy objective have not considered the size of the task as nothing but liberal giving on the part of the entire membership of the church can reach such a large goal. The wisdom of this move is without question to which all can agree as it may be several years before there is as much money in the hands of the membership again and much interest can be saved and the debt reduced in this amount will be encouraging to all.

This can be accomplished without doubt if the task is not underestimated and the forty men who are personally liable for the payment of this note should give their full endorsement by getting behind the move and make it successful and certainly those who are not personally liable will not support it less for that reason.

We have a wonderful church home which is the pride of the community but in order to complete it the debt was larger than anybody wanted but a fine spirit of cooperation in the retirement of this amount is much needed now if it shall succeed.

What is more fitting as a token of thanksgiving than paying a worthy share of this obligation.

The cool wave of last Sunday brought a slump in attendance and with gas rationing we must be careful to use a portion of our gas in attendance at the Lord's house and not reserve it all for our own use.

What we accomplish in 1942 must be done now as it can never

4-H Gardener's Output in 1942 is 3,500,000 Bushels

A record output of more than 3½ million bushels of garden vegetables and small fruits will be produced this year by 4-H Club members throughout the nation, in response to the Government's call for superproduction of these foodstuffs to meet war needs. This output is an increase of 60 percent over last year's production by the clubsters.

Roughly 350,000 members participated in the 1942 National 4-H Victory Garden contest conducted in cooperation with the Extension Service, in which Sears, Roebuck provided awards consisting chiefly of U. S. War Saving Bonds. This also is an all-time high enrollment in the 4-H gardening project, and shows how vital 4-H production is to the war effort in this as in all lines.

County winners in this competition received gold-filled medals, and four representatives of each State's blue award group were awarded a $25 War Saving bond. One of the latter will be considered in selecting sectional and national winners. All-expense trips to the 21st National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 29-Dec. 2, will be awarded to the two highest scoring participants in each of the four extension sections, who will also receive a $100 War Saving Bond apiece.

Mrs. J. T. Auburg visited her mother Friday, in Lubbock.

be recalled and what is your record this year for Christ and his church, are you satisfied with it? Visitor always welcome in the congregation.

HELP WANTED

Johnnie was trying to save pennies for war stamps, but was finding the task difficult.

"One night he was saying his prayers, when his mother overheard him plead "Lord, please help me save my money to buy war stamps—and don't let the ice cream man come down this street."

Cotton Beach Frock

Handblocked cotton in shades of dull rose is used to make this beach frock worn by Gene Tierney, lovely film star. The skirt ties on, and underneath are matching shorts to form a play suit when the skirt is removed.
