Says North Africa Was Some Fight

The following is a letter recently received by Mrs. E. E. Ellerd whose husband works at the Cottonoil Mills, from her brother, Lewis Bonham, who enlisted in the navy June 7th, as an "Avenger" of Pearl Harbor. Lewis is 22 and has a brother, Harold, 20, also in the navy, stationed at San Francisco. The boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bonham of southwest Terry, in the Willow wells community:

Dear Sister:

I will write you a few lines to let you know that I am O. K. I hope that this letter finds you all the same. I haven't received any of your letters yet. I guess they are on the ship.

There were 12 of us men and 1 officer on a prize crew. When we were going to North Africa, we had to take over a Spanish cargo ship and take it to Gibraltar, and our ship went on to Africa. We had to stay in Gibraltar four days and when we got back to Africa, our ship had already left for the states. So we had to wait for another ship. We got back to Norfolk the night of Nov. 30.

I guess you thought I wasn't going to write any more, but I couldn't. I am in Norfolk and will be here until Dec. 3. Our ship is coming to get us then. I will write you again when I get on my ship and get my mail. So until then, I'll say good bye.

This letter won't be censored that's why I am telling you where I have been—and boy, that was some battle over there. So long for now.

Love,
Lewis.

Alma Fern Green Being Transferred

Miss Alma Fern Green of Camp Robinson, Ark., spent the last two weeks visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Green of the Union Community and her sister, Mrs. Earl Unger and Mr. Unger of Lamesa.

Miss Green is being transferred to Brooks General Hospital, Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio Texas. She is soon to receive her commission as 2nd Lt., in the newly organized, Army Physiotherapy Corps, a branch of the Medical Corps.

Byron Black Training At Sheppard Field

B. O. Black, of the Gomez area was in one day last week to get the Herald started to his son, Byron O., who is now in training at Sheppard Field near Wichita Falls, Texas.

Byron comes from one of the real pioneer families of Terry county, his great-grandad as well as his grandad and other relatives came here from the North Plains about the time the county was organized.

Another Victory Concert Feb. 18th

Another Victory Concert, sponsored by the High School band, is announced for next Thursday night, 8 o'clock, at the high school auditorium according to Hardy E. Williams, band director.

The citizenship of the town and community is cordially invited to be present and hear this concert. There will be no admission charge, but you will be asked to buy war bonds or stamps if you like.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hyden Griffin and Judy Griffin accompanied by Chloe Marion Schmidt, spent Sunday in Monahans visiting Mr. and Mrs. Donald Peachee.

Founders Day Observed At Jesse Randal School

"Founders Day" was observed with a tree planting ceremony on Thursday, Feb. 4, by members of the Jessie G. Randal Parent-Teacher Association.

Mrs. Will Adams presided at the program which was as follows: Mrs. Kittle led the Jessie G. Randal choral group in singing. The piano accompaniment was played by Mrs. E. E. Hancock.

Mrs. W. A. Bell and Mrs. J. L. Randal were recognized as charter members of the first Brownfield P. T. A. Mention of the life members of the P. T. A. included, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Randal, Mrs. Frank Weir, Mrs. Tom Cobb and Mrs. Wingerd.

Supt. E. E. Hancock introduced the speaker, Mrs. Jessie G. Randal, as one of the early pioneer Teachers.

Mrs. Randal gave an interesting talk on "Parent Teacher Frontiers."

Mrs. C. M. Chapman gave a beautiful rendition of "Trees". The group then assembled in front of the building, where Mrs. Joe Shelton, president of the P.T.A. presented Mrs. Lee Fulton, principal of the school, a tree for faithful work. This choice tree came from Mr. King's plot of select blue spruce.

Supt. E. E. Hancock led the group in prayer.

The meeting then adjourned after singing "America."

To Interview Girls Wishing War Work

Miss Louise Lomax, a representative of the War Manpower Commission, will be in the courtroom at the courthouse on Tuesday, February 16, from 11:00 A. M. to 2:00 P. M. to interview girls who are interested in entering war industry training.

Girls, 17 to 24 years of age, married or single, with at least a seventh grade education may train at NYA centers for jobs as welders, sheet metal workers, radio installation workers or machine operators. While training for 6 to 12 weeks, girls receive board and room, work clothing and $10.80 per month. On completion of training, they are helped to find jobs in aircraft plants, shipyards or flying fields starting at $20.00 to $40.00 per week.

Those interested should see Miss Lomax at the courthouse, February 16 or write to her at 1207 13th street in Lubbock.

City Crew Don't Mind The Weather

Tuesday, just after noon, people living on Tate and Broadway noted they had no lights. At that time the wind was blowing 90 to nothing and the sand, tumbling weed, rags and paper filled the air. There was a call to the power plant.

In a jiffy Eunice Jones and his crew were "squirling" up poles between which a line was down or broken across highway 51. They socked their spurs into the timber, held on for dear life and made the repair.

Power linemen risk their lives many times during the year, but their motto is, keep the lights burning.

Buell Assistant Manager Of Yard

Henry W. Buell who has been connected with the Shamburger Lumber yard here three years under C. L. Aven Jr., Manager, has been made assistant manager and bookkeeper at the company's Lubbock yard. Mr. Buell, wife and small daughter moved to Lubbock this week. They were both active in the Baptist church and have many friends here who wish them success in this promotion.

Mesdames Grady Goodpasture, Herbert Singletary and Mrs. Lucky Pace, were in Lubbock, Wednesday.

Kyle Grocery Buys Bowman Food Store

In the past three weeks, two large grocery stores have closed their doors in Brownfield. The first was the Edwards Food Store, which sold down low, then closed the rest of the stock to the Kyle Grocery. This week, the Bowman Food Store sold their entire stock to Kyle Grocery. So far as this writer knows, neither store owner or owners were broke. It was just a matter of getting something to sell, and being told just what to do and what not to do by a bureaucratic government.

As it becomes more and more difficult to do business with a $10,000 fine and ten years in prison hanging over people, more and more of them will begin to ask: "Why go through with all this, when I can probably get a job in a plant of some kind at good wages and short hours?" In the meantime, the small town and the small business is catching it where the chicken got the ax. Yes, we heard all about our paternalistic government going to help the small business man—help him to get out of business. Was that it?

It can be truthfully said there are more vacant store buildings in Brownfield than there was during the deep of the depression, and the end is not yet. We are circulating weekly among the business men. They say we can get nothing to advertise, but we'll advertise all we can, but much less than last year. In the meantime the large bulk of newspaper advertising from automobile, tires, gasoline coming from the large manufacturers through advertising agencies, is gone—non-existent.

For instance, the Ford Motor Co., usually a large advertiser, didn't have a single ad in 1942, and we are sure will not have this year. The General Motors Co. had a few early last spring, then petered out. You may say that we sound rather pessimistic this week. Well, look about you brother and see what you see? Business and people are drifting to the centers that sport government plants of one nature and another. Yes, there is 4½ million dollars on deposits in the two banks here, but it belongs principally to farmers and ranchmen. They don't want any mercantile business, and we can't blame them, at this time.

Before you get the idea we are quitting business, have another guess. The Herald has its building almost debt free and machinery clear of debt. It stayed here through one of the worst droughts in history, aided and abetted at the same time by world war one. It hung on through the worst of the 1930-36 depression, and when this thing is over and old Shickelgruber is crowned with a bullet, and rolled into a common murderers grave, the Herald hopes to grow like a young spring rooster, and—well just keep going. That's all. Likewise will all other businesses that are able to ride these waves.

The Board of Development and other leading citizens should get behind a movement to see that these counties get a just proportionate share of the cotton acreage in Texas, as well as a just acreage of any other money crop.

Deputy Income Tax Collectors Coming

In view of the fact that personal exemptions on single persons has been reduced to $500 and married couples living together to $1200, and in addition, a heavier surtax levied, many more people will be forced to make income tax returns than ever before.

For this reason, two deputy collectors will be in our city for two days to help those in need of help or who have never made a return to fix up their income tax blanks. There will be no charge for this service, but in order to take just a little time as possible from these men, have all your income and expense with you.

Deputy Collectors Ben M. Hawkins and Fred I. Merrick will be at Brownfield State Bank on Feb. 15 and 16, 1943, from 8:30 A. M. to 5:00 P. M. to render assistance with income tax problems to any who desire it. This will be the only visit that can be made to our city before the end of the current filing period on March 15, 1943.

Doggone It This Paper Is No "Bull" Sheet

Way up at Wellington, where the blue northers first hit Texas out of Oklahoma and Kansas, there dwells one, Ben Hurst, manager of Cicero Smith Lumber Co., former citizens of God's country. Ever since Ben left this section, he has kept his Herald paid well in advance. We have an idea that he was a sneaking idea of returning to good old Terry some sweet day.

Anyway, he enclosed a check for one-fifty and stated he still enjoyed the Herald and the bull it puts out. Why dadblame you red muzzled monkey, this paper is the acme of the truth. People rely on it along with Holy Writ. Where did you get the idea we are "shooting the bull?"

Anyway, as long as you pay for it, the Herald will take the money and pass the ammunition.

Mr. J. E. Shelton is in Alpine visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. M. Corkran.

An Old Timer Drops In To Renew

H. H. Longbrake, was a guy that was here dispensing hardware and gas for the few cars here then from a barrel—yes he had a hand pump—when this writer landed in Brownfield. The bulk of the business in those days was with ranches, and the big yearly sales of course were windmills and overhead galvanized tank. A few years ago, Mr. Longbrake and his partner, W. B. Downing found they had pressed the collar long enough and sold their hardware and furniture business to J. B. Knight.

H. H. missed his paper last Friday and dropped in to get one, incidentally to bawl us out. We got his pain eased, however, and he sat down to "recollect" with us a few moments. H. H. knows the old west that is now our, from A to Z, as he watched it develop from a strictly cattle country to a stockfarming country.

Hizy was born in eastern Ohio, at Findlay, and spent his boyhood on a farm, but graduated and took charge of some engines used as pumps for a lot of oil wells in that section. But his health failed him, so he hit for west Texas, landing at Big Spring when that was a rip-roaring western cattle town, long years before oil under the ground in that vicinity was thought about.

When Terry county opened for settlement he came from Big Spring and settled at Gomez, but came over to Brownfield when it became the county seat and put in a hardware and tin shop. Well, he had regained his health in a big measure, and now looks like he may reach 100 standing up.

Don't Think Terry Gets A Square Deal

Mr. O. L. Peterman, superintendent of the West Texas Cotton Co., was in this week to get their series of advertising started, and stated he felt that Terry county was not getting its proper cotton acreage as was neighboring counties, especially to the north, east and southeast. In view of the fact that we had some bad blowouts a few years ago, and worse washouts in 1941, we have never been allowed an acreage on par with other counties.

Too many of the powers that be at the national capitol, as well as district guys, get it into their heads that Terry county, as well as Yoakum and Gaines don't need a big cotton acreage as they can produce corn, peanuts and what have you. That is just too silly to think about. One year with another, these counties make just as much or more cotton to the acre than their hard land neighbors.

The Board of Development and other leading citizens should get behind a movement to see that these counties get a just proportionate share of the cotton acreage in Texas, as well as a just acreage of any other money crop.

It Pay To Be Honest Says Kendrick

Was over at the First National Bank last Saturday. The president, R. M. Kendrick had his usual grin, but he seemed to be just a bit mad at himself. He soon came out with it.

Says R. M., "I know now that it pays to be honest. I slipped off to the Lamar Grocery this morning and stole a hand full of peanuts, then snunk back to the bank and ate them. Of course you know they will get under your "plate".

"Well, I then slipped into the wash room, got a paper cup and proceeded to wash said plates. When I had finished, I dumped the teeth into the waste basket, and tried to fit the paper cup to my gums."

Of course he soon saw his mistake and fished the molars out of the basket and fit them in their proper place.

A Day Nurse Is Needed In Brownfield

On more than one occasion of late, mothers have phoned the Herald wanting to know if anyone had advertised to keep young children of mothers who are working.

The Herald doesn't believe that the job would require a registered or even a practical nurse, but someone with experience in rearing their own children. With men called into service, or preparing to farm many mothers with small children could hold down jobs in town if there was someone to care for their children or babies.

Committee Select Trees And Shrubs

This week the landscape committee for the Jessie Randal school spent two afternoons at Mr. John King's nursery inspecting and selecting shrubs. It seemed advisable to take only those varieties known to do well in this section. That is one of the many advantages of using a local man to do the work.

At their regular meeting Wed., the Lions club voted to take the financial responsibility of landscaping the south front to the circle driveway, an expenditure of approximately $250, providing the mothers raised the remaining $250. This is indeed generous of the Lions club and we hope the townspeople will respond as generously. Already the school children have give $60. a drive to get the support of the townspeople will be conducted Tuesday of next week. To save time and work for the finance committee, all individuals desiring to contribute are asked to give their donations to Mrs. Dennis Lilly, Mrs. Homer Nelson, or Mrs. Lee Fulton. There will be a section reserved for those who might wish to contribute a plant or shrub from their own yard.

Read The Herald From 'Kiver To Kiver'

Had a phone conversation this week with Mrs. F. McSpadden, local florist. During the conversation she related that they had a letter from a friend somewhere in the Gaudacanal region recently, that said: "I note you have lost your coffee perculator, according to an ad in the Herald. Hope you find it."

Yes, the boys in the service read every word in the paper from home, even the ads sound good to them and every little item of news that we home folks don't think a thing about, they relish like nobody's business. They are particularly interested where local boys are located in the service, and that is why it is so desirable that you promptly report if your boy comes home on furlough, or what he had to say in his letter, if not something personal.

So don't think that we will presume you want publicity yourself when you hear from your son or husband. Contrary-wise, we'll thank you for the information.

Processed Food Rationing—Registration For War Ration Books Explained

The following address was delivered by Mr. George Young, of the Lubbock District offices of the OPA, at the high school auditorium, Tuesday afternoon, auspices of the Junior Maids and Matrons club.

Before beginning a discussion of definite plans for the rationing of processed foods under the point system and for registration for war ration book two, I would like to discuss some of the reasons behind rationing.

We all know that American armed forces are fighting on more and more battle fronts in continually increasing numbers. Our fighting forces and allies must have food and ammunition.

No matter how many tanks or planes or guns our soldiers and sailors are given they can't fight well if they don't eat well. Millions of men need millions of tons of food. Consider the problems of growing, packing and producing that food, and then shipping it through dangerous waters to North Africa, to England, to Australia, to Alaska, to the South Pacific.

The fact remains that there just isn't enough of certain foods to supply all that the men on the battle front need and to supply all that civilians at home might want.

To give those men all the food they must have, we will have to do with less of certain foods that are scarce. But what is left for us to do about these scarcer foods must be democratically shared by all citizens. This can only be done by rationing. Rationing is the democratic way of sharing what is left so that each of us will have an equal share—no matter how small our share might be.

In the battle of the home front, like in all battles, one must take the offensive to win. Well, rationing means taking the offensive against shortages.

Until now, the foods that we have been rationing—coffee and sugar—have been fairly easy to rationing, because practically everyone uses them and most civilians can get the same amount. It was easy to take the total supply of sugar and coffee available to citizens and divide it equally among them. It was easy to plan the coupon rationing system for such food items as coffee and sugar. One coupon brought you one pound of coffee for a certain period, and that was simple.

However, there are a few foods which are not as easy to ration as sugar and coffee. That is why the point rationing system has been introduced.

In rationing a group of related foods such as the canned, bottled and frozen fruits and vegetables, juices, and all soups and dried fruits, we cannot say that you will be allowed two cans of corn a week and six cans of asparagus. Because, after all, what about the family that doesn't eat corn but wants pork and beans—or prefers peas to asparagus. In a Democracy, citizens can still differ in what they like to eat just as they differ in their opinions.

So the question arose as to what kind of rationing would allow a citizen to receive his fair share of those related foods that he wishes to buy. Point rationing will make it possible for you to choose which foods you want in the rationing group—and for you to obtain your fair share of the rationed food.

War ration book two will be used for rationing groups of related commodities under the point system. The first group of foods to be rationed under the new system includes canned and bottled fruits, vegetables and juices, and canned soups of all types and varieties, dried fruits, and frozen fruits and vegetables. Blue stamps will be used for rationing of these foods, beginning on March 1. Retail sales of the foods will be frozen at midnight Saturday, February 20, and registration of every man, woman and child for war ration book two will be conducted during the week opening February 22, in schools. OPA officials conferring with Dr. L. A. Woods, Texas superintendent of public instruction, and other school officials have tried to devise a schedule which will interfere as little as possible with class work in the schools. We have received information in the district office that schools will be asked to close all day Thursday and Friday, Feb. 25 and 26, and that registration for war ration book two in Texas will begin after the close of school on Wednesday, February 24, and continued through Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Before receiving war ration book two, war ration book one must be presented for inspection. A declaration form showing the amount of processed foods on hand also is to be presented at the registration site, and we are making an effort to have these forms sent to county War Price and Rationing boards as soon as possible so they may be distributed prior to registration. Reproductions of the form appearing in newspapers also may be filled out and presented at the registration site.

Any adult member of a family may receive the new ration book for the entire family. One declaration form will serve for an entire family. The applicant for war ration book two also must declare the number of pounds of coffee on hand November 28, 1942. The purpose of the consumer declaration is to give registrar's a basis for detaching excess coffee stamps from war ration book one and point stamps from war ration book two for stocks of canned goods in excess of five per person.

Many persons are interested not only in what they WILL have to declare, but also in what they WON'T have to declare. Some of the foods which need not be declared are canned olives, canned meat and fish, pickles, relish, jellies, jams, preserve, spaghetti, macaroni and noodles and home canned foods.

No one will be entirely without ration stamps during a ration period, because no more than half the number of blue stamps in the new book will be removed from stock on hand. Only eight point stamps will be removed for stocks on hand and 5, 2 and 1 point stamps will be left. If a person has more stocks on hand than can be accounted for by removal of the eight-point blue stamps, a record will be placed on the cover of the book so that deductions may be made later.

The first ration period will be the entire month of March and each person will be allowed 43 points for the first month. In other words, A, B and C blue stamps in the new book will be good during March.

We are all receiving numerous questions on how the point system will affect the housewife and her shopping habits.

For that reason, we have been collecting some points which she may follow to simplify shopping under the point system.

The housewife should use the eight point stamps and the five point stamps when making larger purchases. By using the high point stamps whenever possible, she will save the lower point stamps for foods which have a low point value. The grocer will not be able to give any "change" for stamps, and therefore it is important that the housewife save her low point stamps for small purchases. If a housewife were purchasing food with a point value of 16, for instance, it would be better to use two eight points stamps rather than five's and a one.

It will be better if the housewife shops early in the day and early in the week. Shopping will take longer, because she will need to plan shopping in money AND points. It will take the grocer longer to add up a bill, because he will need to figure out how

The Outlook official publication of Texas State Teachers Association left the best department clear out of their magazine this month, the Joke Department. We protest, and demand a recount. Some one says you're the only guy that missed the jokes. Well sir, you'll be surprised that at least one time we were told by a teacher of long standing that the jokes section was the first part of the magazine that he read.

For five long years the Chinese with nothing much better than rocks and clubs having been holding the Japs pretty doggone well, and at times pushing them back. Give those Chinks some modern fighting material, and their 350 million population will kill every Jap on the Asiatic continent, and save the lives of thousands of our boys. But the bigguns at Washington seem to want to say "See what we've done?"

You've heard the old expression, "as changeable as the moon?" Well that just about fits some of the decisions at Washington, as a half dozen different bureaus work at the same thing from a different angle. The ink had hardly become dry on the "essential" occupations, until there was another substituted, "there is a vast difference in "essential" and "necessary." There has been a half dozen different angles of the rubber situation in the past few months. One time you will hear there will be no chance of even repairing civilian tires, then only this week Jeffers stated there would be plenty salvaged stuff to repair all tires. Such conflicting statement adds up to a confused public. Why can't those smart boys at Washington frankly state where we are at and where we are headed to land? It seems to us that a lot of people are holding down jobs at Washington that know no more about their job than a mule knows about a submarine.

There is a big stir in Washington between the military department, with the sympathy of the chief executive to have an army of not less than 11 million men in all branches of the service by the later part of this year. Another group from the civilian and legislative branch of the government are contending that such a large contingent from the civilian population, would not only greatly hamper production of fighting equipment and ammunition, but would almost spell ruin to farm help, and greatly lessen the chances of making the crops produced last year, not to mention a 20 percent increase as asked for by the government. China has on numerous occasions told us that it was fighting supplies they wanted; not men, except for some technicians. Russia has told us the same. Food and munitions is what they want most. And England and colonies, the French colonies and the some 6 million men we now have under arms seems to be about all the men under arms that we can produce food and war supplies for, not to mention the 5 million additional American forces asked for by the military department. This is under investigation, and the amount of armed men asked for may be greatly cut. Of course there will have to be replacements, but this can be cared for even by easing up on the draft.

Mrs. A. H. Herring of Scudday was in Tuesday.

JUDGE SAYS:

Hitler can't tell us, the loss of that oil and gas don't hurt.

When our boys get back from the Pacific islands, they can tell the Agriculture Department, how to kill rats.

While Congressional investigation of Bureaucracy is welcome, yet a visa versa investigation of congress might make interesting reading.

Maybe if Mr. Ruml would change name of his Tax plan, to "Installment plan," Congress could understand it.

They have fixed price on White potatoes, and Spring potatoes, but have done nothing about these commontaters.

Second Fiddlers

Will be the subject of Evangelist Warren A. Henry's sermon this Sunday morning at the Church of Christ, Corner Main and Third.

Mr. Henry announces that in appreciation for the many young people who have been attending his services of late, especially, Sunday nights he is dedicating both sermons this Sunday to the Young People.

The sermon subject Sunday night will be "The Woman With The Painted Face." Altho this is a novelty subject, yet the sermon is built around one of the most powerful women in all history.

The people of Brownfield, and especially, the young people are extended a cordial invitation to hear either, or both of these sermons at the Church of Christ this coming Sunday night.

VALENTINES for WARTIME MOTORISTS

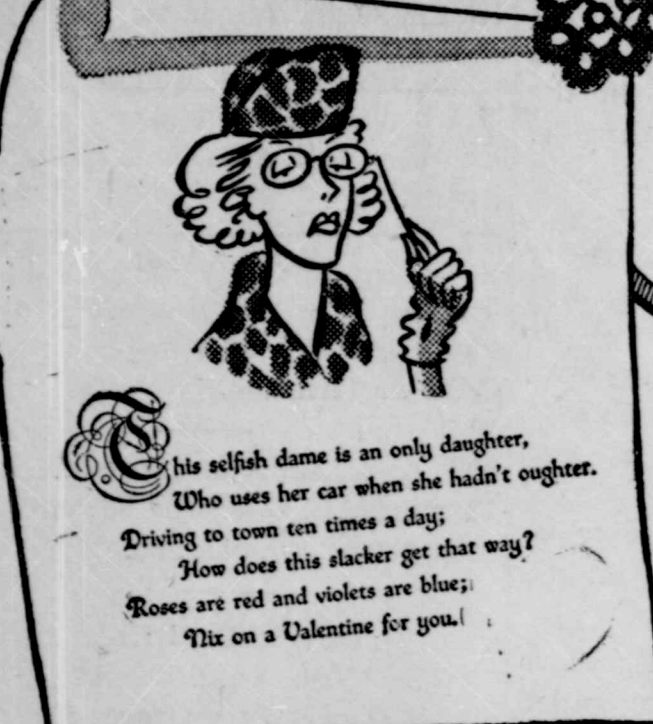

Say a sweet word for Ethel O'Toole,
Who just set up her own car pool.
Today, when the girls set out to drive,
One lone car does the work of five.
Step up folks; send something fine
To Ethel for her Valentine!

Nobody's Valentine at all,
This greedy lug, with his brass and gall,
Wasting rubber with reckless drivings,
Can he and Hitler be conniving?
'Twould serve him right, the dirty crook,
If they took away his ration book.

Esteemed by all is Willie McCann,
The affable Phillips Service Man.
To all your needs he'll gladly cater:
Battery, tires, and radiator,
Motorists bright depend on him
To keep their cars in wartime trim.

His selfish dame is an only daughter,
Who uses her car when she had'n't oughter.
Driving to town ten times a day;
How does this slacker get that way?
Roses are red and violets are blue;
This on a Valentine for you!

STOLEN GRAIN RECOVERED

Two truck loads of grain which were stolen in Terry County were recovered for the owner by Sheriff Charles Trimble 10 miles north of Seminole Wednesday. The truck drivers were taking the grain to El Paso when caught.—Seminole Sentinel.

The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, announces the cancellation of the South Plains Fat Stock Show, perhaps for the duration. The shows are usually held the last of March or first of April, and entrants register from some 23 Texas and eastern New Mexico counties.

Banner Cuts Seminole Milk Consumer 40%

According to the Seminole Sentinel of last week, the Banner Creamery has been asked by the government, and that means commanded, to divert 40 percent of their milk to the Pyote Army Flying school, and that of course means that Seminole people will do without some milk or make other arrangements. To cap all this, one of the largest dairy herds in that area closed shop for lack of farm help.

The paper stated that the loss was partially made up from a ten percent increase from the plant in Brownfield. And all this leads one to wonder just how it came about that Congressman Ewing Thomas of El Paso, got an air field at just about every cross cow trail in his district; down in an area that has more cattle and less milk and feed than any section of Texas. But just start in at Midland and go west, and see how many of the whistling stations have Army Air fields.

Why were not some of these fields placed where dairy cattle and fed are raised? At Midland, so many people were deprived of milk there, that in order that youngsters get plenty, the flying base agreed to defer milk once a week to supply children with needed milk. In this district we have six, all in the larger towns, Big Spring with two, Lubbock with two, and Plainview and Lamesa with glider schools, and that will perhaps be all for the duration, as the army and navy new seem to have all the schools they need.

There was something like that talked here early in December, but since that time all schools have been frozen to death, and if any here now are optimistic enough to expect anything, we have not been able to locate them. In fact there isn't any talk anymore. So bye, bye airfield.

And, we are willing to bet two doughnut holes that when and IF any grain alcohol plant is put up in west Texas, some town remote from the center of the real grain belt will get it. It takes plenty political pull these days, along with lots of poll tax payers to get things.

Dr. W. H. Dunn, for the past 19 years a physician and surgeon at Lamesa, died suddenly Jan. 29, just after completing an operation on a patient.

Future Farms Doing Their Share

The F.F.A. boys in this county are doing their share in producing food to further the war effort. In these trying times everyone should do his utmost to help bring a quick and complete victory, and the F.F.A. boys are certainly doing their part.

In the school year of 1941-'42, the Brownfield F.F.A. boys produced 31,000 pounds of beef and 17,000 pounds of pork, besides large quantities of corn, cotton, and milo. This school year, 1942-'43, the boys have around 70 pigs and 53 calves on feed. The calves will be tops at about 1,000 pounds and the pigs will be tops at about 240 pounds. Also, they have about 32 brood sows, some of which are registered and almost all are purebred, to raise more pigs to feed out, and 400 hens for egg production. Some of the boys are planning to buy baby chicks for fryers. Of course, there will be crops of all kinds.

Thus you can see that these boys have a very patriotic spirit, and they should inspire some of us who are not doing as much as we should to help feed and cloth ourselves and our Allies; and so, bring an end to this devastating war.

A proposal to do something that the farmer has been made in Austin were Representatives Hartzog and Morse have introduced a Constitutional amendment to cut the interest rate on loans secured by a lien on farm machinery and equipment, livestock, crops or other farm produce, or real estate. The maximum rate on such loans would be 8 per cent under the Constitutional amendment, whereas 10 per cent interest is permitted.

Office Of Defense Transportation

Automotive dealers and service station operators were reminded today that the Certificate of War Necessity number must be listed on a receipt when any sale is made or service rendered which involves transfer of any part, to a commercial vehicle operator.

Mr. Richard E. Wood, Lubbock district manager, Office of Defense Transportation, division of motor transport, explained such sales for commercial vehicle use are lawful only to holders of valid Certificates of War Necessity and the seller should keep a receipt with the Certificate number for his own protection.

The purchaser should sign two receipts, endorsing the number of his Certificate on both, giving the original to the seller and keeping the copy, Mr. Wood explained. Such receipts should be available for examination at all reasonable times by accredited representatives of ODT.

If an order for parts or unrationed fuel is placed by mail, telephone or telegraph, the operator may simply furnish his name, address and certificate number to the seller for his records, Mr. Wood said.

With more than four million women entering employment in war industry in 1942, substantial increases are being recorded in the purchases of ordinary life insurance by women as well as in the extension to them of the protection of group insurance.

PASS THE AMMUNITION

Every war has produced its own heroes, its own epic phrase and epic songs. A song that is now sweeping the country is titled "Praise the Lord, and Pass the Ammunition." It is more than a song. It is fast becoming the battle cry of a nation involved in war.

While there is some doubt as to the origin of the phrase there is no doubt as to how well it expresses the spirit of fighting Americans. It is the spirit that is needed to win this war on far-flung battle fronts and right here at home.

Not all of us can fight on the battle fronts, but all of us certainly can "pass the ammunition." Ammunition in the form of metal in our homes, farm and industrial plants; ammunition in the form of waste fats, tin cans, discarded silk hose, rags, rubber—the vital waste materials which Uncle Sam is asking us to donate to the national salvage program.

Scrap is mighty important today; important to a kid who used to live in your block but who is now half way around the world; important to a blue-clad sailor; important to a flyer over the African desert racing to reach his target before a Moesserschmitt can find its mark!

Let us in Terry county resolve to get in for the odds and ends and go in the scrap now. Let us on the home front "pass the ammunition" to those on the battle fronts.

Terry Stand 15th In State Cotton Production

Four south Plains counties were among the first five in cotton production in Texas from the crop of 1942, according to census report as of January 16th, the last report available. Two plains counties, Lynn and Lubbock lead in first and second place. Third is Nueces county in south Texas, with an area almost as large again as the average sized plains county. Dawson and Hockley are fourth and fifth place, respectively.

Such large producers as Ellis, Williamson and Collin of former days are left far in the rear. Even Terry, which has never run as strong to cotton as some of the South Plains counties, stands 15th in the state, and leads such hitherto well known producers as Fannin, Hill and Navarro. Of the 18 largest producers of cotton last year, ten are west Texas counties.

With gins still running more or less regularly in west Texas since the report, there is a bare chance of Dawson and Hockley nosing out Nueces. The following is the 18 counties, ginning more than 40,000 bales, and their totals:

County	1943
Lynn	92,645
Lubbock	80,166
Nueces	75,701
Dawson	67,212
Hockley	64,791

T.S.D. Helping War Effort Says Miss Runnels

Texas School for the Deaf Austin, Texas February 4, 1943

Terry County Herald, Brownfield, Texas Dear Friends;

Three weeks ago, I went home to visit my parents and also many of my friends. I was so happy to see all my friends.

Dear old exams paid us a winter visit and will not return until May. Many of the older boys and girls have stopped school to work in the war industries.

It is gratifying to know that so many of the deaf are skilled enough to be able to do their bit toward winning this war. Nearly every one connected with T.S.D. has some one in the service and many are the anxious hearts who wait from day to day for news of loved one "over there".

Remember how we used to count the automobiles and say "watch the Fords go by"? Now we say, "Watch the airplanes in the sky!" Day and night Uncle Sam's boys fly, fly, fly.

There is an air base not far from Austin, so around and around they go. Some who are flying in Texas one week are flying in Africa the next. Isn't it wonderful how they learn so quickly?

February 2, ground-hog day, was cloudy and misty from daylight til dark; so that little animal failed to see his shadow here in Austin. Some one said that he did not come out of his hole at all, because he had heard of meat shortage and he didn't care to be made into a meat pie for some meat hungry individual to smack his lips over.

School will close early in May this year on account of our having no Christmas holidays, consequently we boys and girls are marking the days off on the calendar until we can be at home again.

Best wishes to all readers of the Terry Co. Herald and God Bless you every one.

I should like to hear from my friends. I would be happy to answer your letters.

Your friend,
Alva Lee Runnels

Culling And Better Feeding Help Dairy Herds

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. — Herd culling and a better job of feeding and milking are progressive steps in solving the dairyman's twin problem of labor and feed.

The Federal government does not expect dairymen to produce milk at a loss, says E. R. Eudaly, dairyman for the A. and M. College Extension Service. But it wants as much milk as each farm can produce. The only solution of one horn of the problem is cull the cows to the number which can be handled with the labor available, Eudaly believes. To relieve the other half of the difficulty he suggests culling the herd and feeding the roughages available.

In some cases, the feed situation, especially roughage, is hampering dairymen more than labor, he explains. In many cases a herd can be reduced in size and by doing a better job of feeding and milking as much or more milk can be obtained from the cows remaining as formerly.

The specialist does not recommend sending to market for slaughter culled cows still capable of profitable production. There is a market for such animals among farmers who want a cow to increase a herd. An unprofitable cow should be marketed for slaughter, but Eudaly says each dairyman will have to decide for himself when she reaches that stage. To help reach a definition, however, he offered this board general rule: Where milk is being sold for manufacture a cow should produce an average of at least 175 pounds of butterfat a year to return a profit. In other instances where the milk is sold for drinking a dairyman might make a little profit on a cow producing no more than 150 pounds of butterfat yearly.

In any case a dairyman offering culled cows for sale should tell prospective buyers how much each will produce and let the purchaser decide whether they can make any money out of them, Eudaly observes.

Emergency Crop Loans Now Available

Emergency Crop Loans, known generally as "the seed loans", offered for many years in this County by Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section of the Farm Credit Administration, are now available to farmers in need of financial assistance for the production of vitally important food crops and normal crops for 1943, according to announcement of W. E. Farwell, Manager of the Dallas Office.

Applications for the loans are being taken in this County in Basement Post Office Building every Thursday under direction of Field Supervisor L. B. Wright.

Funds obtained under these loans may be used to cover the cost of preparing the land and to purchase seed, fertilizer and supplies incident to the production of the crop. A first mortgage on the crop to be grown is the security required on the crop loans.

As in the past, borrowers will be required to agree to plant a large garden for home use and a balanced crop program will be encouraged. This year, however, particular emphasis will be laid upon the patriotic duty of all growers to produce food crops and oil bearing crops outlined by the Department of Agriculture as all important goals in meeting the urgent war needs.

Loans are also available from this Agency to purchase or produce feed for livestock. A first mortgage on the livestock to be fed is the security for that type of loan.

Applicants who can obtain loans from banks, Production Credit Associations, or on reasonable terms from other sources, are not eligible for Emergency Crop Loans.

South Plains Corn For Alcohol

By Geo. W. Neill

Recently, Senator Leo, tried to puncture Rubber director Jeffers charging, he had established two grain-alcohol plants on his Union Pacific railroad, ignoring Texas grain fields. A week later Senator Burton K. Wheeler who has just recovered his voice from that Pearl Harbor debacle also hurled his dartlet at Mr. Jeffers, or who ever it might hit, charging that he, or they, had established too many petroleum rubber plants in Texas. These two javelineers, better do more coalishing with each other to be effective. We commend Jeffers who ever done it, for their appropriateness in establishing the grain plants in the corn fields of Missouri, and Nebraska and the petroleum plants in the oil fields of Texas. We should look only to the feasibility and success of the projects.

We invite and welcome industry to our State, but we could hardly ask for a sawmill out here on these broad plains, nor to train their Ski-troops at Corpus Christi, but we consistently urge that the grain yields of west Texas should not be overlooked, nor be under estimated even by middle Texans.

It was found here, twenty years ago, during a certain unpopular era, that our South Plains corn had a large degree of high gravity content, and when diluted with gasoline, carried in Jallopies, contributed largely to the huge junk piles, that later became such an abundant source for the recent scrap drive. It has straightened out many curves in our Hiways. When the civilian population sees it coming, they wont block the military roads like they did in France. Its annual casualty list; not only makes the war list easy to bear, but demonstrates its effectiveness, as a formidable war weapon. An old weapon in new uses. We recommend, that this corn when properly processed, given abundantly to the drivers of them Jeeps, with "C" cards, will beat the Russians into Berlin. Had the British 8th army been equipped with this ingredient, Rommel would never have reached the 50 yard line.

We have ample supply of this raw material here, to thus win the war. We do not want to appear as hoarders but being patriotic, and wishing to quickly end this global homicide, we tender to General Ike, our corn yield except enough for home consumption which we will ration in our own ways and means, saving OPA worries. We can also furnish several experienced Technicians, with birth certificates, but no college degrees to direct processing, and deliver it already pre-tested, in popular containers, after a short jar drive. Not requiring any steel or precious tin. All we ask is priorities on copper equipment.

Mr. Holmes of the Union community, was a shopper here Tuesday.

Livestock Shows Help War Effort

Denver, Colo. — Grand champion steer, over all breeds, of the junior division of the recent National Western Livestock Show here was Shorty, 840-pound purebred Shorthorn shown here with his owner, Kenneth Quayle, Jr., (at halter), Ault, Colo. With young Quayle is Clarence Borgner, Grover, Colo., breeders of the steer and from whose Shorthorn herd the champion was obtained.

In addition to his junior division triumph, Kenneth showed his steer in the open competition to the reserve grand championship, over all breeds.

According to the records, this nationally important livestock exposition, held this year in spite of transportation and labor difficulties, was the market place for some 2½ million dollars worth of of prebred beef seed stock—seed stock on which the nation depends for maintaining the quality and quantity of its beef supply.

In the opinion of stockmen at ending the Denver event, this kind of show and centralized distribution center is a time and money-saving economy that will help them meet 1943 food production goals.

National and regional shows, it was pointed out, also encourage farm and ranch boys like Kenneth Quayle to stick to the farm or ranch where their aid is vitally needed.

HISTORY
FEB 22nd
History... is being written Today
Heroes... are being made
It is George Washington's birthday... and if you turn back the pages of your history book to read of the heroism, idealism, great gallantry and high hopes shared by him and his men, even in the darkest hours... you would see that much the same is true today of another era's leaders and fighters.

We Americans are purposeful people — and once we see our job, we do it whatever the doing may entail—in terms of courage, strength, effort... even life itself. It is most fitting then, that on the occasion of George Washington's Birthday we rededicate ourselves to that high purpose to which he had dedicated himself—two centuries ago.

THE soldiers who fought in the American Revolution knew nothing of Ack-Ack guns and Bofors and PT-39's. They were neither well fed, well equipped or well clothed. But they knew what they were fighting for. They had faith in their leaders. They knew it is better to die free than live enslaved. That is why we fight today. But to bring Victory—soon—let us see to it that our men ARE well fed, well clothed and well equipped! We can—by observing this birth date with the purchase of an additional War Bonds....

Local Girls Join W.A.V.E.S.

Misses Inez Chandler, Shirley Bond, Margaret Travis went to Dallas last Saturday and were sworn into the W.A.V.E.S. on Monday. Miss Chandler said of the 12 from over the state taking exams, only four passed.

All three are popular young business women having held responsible positions here and elsewhere. Miss Chandler coming here from Lubbock two years ago to accept work in the F.S.A. office; Miss Travis has been a saleslady and buyer for Collins Dry Goods Co., the past four years and Miss Bond has had five years experience in the various county offices at the court house. These are the first recruits to be inducted from Terry county in the branch of service. There has been one young lady inducted into the WAAC a Miss O'Bryant.

The girls expect their calls some time in March.

Mesdames R. M. Kendrick, Orb Stice and Mrs. Spencer Kendrick spent the week end in Brady, Texas, visiting the Richard Kendricks, where Richard is in the Air Corp.

AMERICAN LEGION DISTRICT PRESIDENT SPOKE HERE

Mrs. Richardson of Tahoka, 19th District President of American Legion Auxiliary, spoke here Thursday last week to a small crowd in the District Court room.

Mr. Eldora White announces there will be a called meeting of the local Auxiliary to install the new officers and to formulate plans for the years work at an early date.

Tag Day For Victory Book Dive To Be February 20th

Mrs. Jno. L. Randal chairman of the Victory Book drive, stated Saturday 20th, will be tag day in Brownfield to raise funds to buy books for our U.S.O. soldier, sailor and marine centers. Any amount you wish to give will be acceptable and solicitors will be on the streets that day to solicit funds and each person when solicited will be given a tag showing they are helping in the great work. You may have a good book you would like to give, if so take it to the A.A.A. office. The organization also asks for bibles. In giving books only real he men books of good fiction, mystery or detective stories are wanted.

The following ladies will work in the drive: Mesdames J. L. Randal, Mrs. Clemmie Hamilton, Mrs. Mon Telford, Mary Ellen Brown, Henry Bates, C. L. Aven Jr., Raymon Pickett, Lulu Gainer, Looie Miller, Jesse Cox, Homer Winston, A. J. Stricklin.

This is one service we can give to our boys, good reading and the U.S.O. Centers at all bases where they are located, are always crowded with the boys seeking reading matter and other entertainment provided by the organization. Help us help our boys who would rather die on their feet than to see us help on our knees.

"FOUR FUNDAMENTAL FAULTS" NAMED AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Next Sunday morning at the First Christian Church the minister will name Four Fundamental Faults that keep us and our society from being Christian. They caused the crucifixion of Christ and the imprisonment of Paul. They cause poverty and suffering and war. Are you guilty of them?

Sunday has been designated by the Federal Council of Churches as Race Relations Sunday. A quartet from the Brownfield Negro Baptist Church will sing at our morning service, and our minister will preach at the Negro church Sunday night.

Mrs. Sawyer Graham and son was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Edwards on the farm north of town, Saturday and Sunday.

Redford Simth said whoever ordered Tuesday's sandstorm sure over did the thing. The wind was so strong he had difficulty getting the express to stay on his wagon.

School Libraries Appreciate Donations

The librarian, teachers, and pupils of the Brownfield Schools greatly appreciate the books and magazines donated to the libraries for use as library materials. Early in the month of December, Mrs. Beth B. Schofield donated 14 books, loaned 9 books, and gave a large number of magazines to the high school library. All of these are needed and appreciated.

On February 1st, Mrs. W. H. Dallas gave 44 books to the high school and the Jessie G. Randal school and also magazines at several different times. All are valuable for library use and are greatly needed.

If anyone else has any donations, they will be used to a greater advantage by more people, if they are placed in the school libraries. If you are unable to carry your gifts to the school, please telephone the high school so that a car may call for them, and too, they will be approved as to whether or not they can be used as library materials, and in which school or library division they should be placed.

Since our funds for library books are so limited, and since a large number of books (especially fiction books) are needed in the high school library please send fiction books that have been read and reread in your homes, and that are not wanted any longer, to be read by others in the high and junior high schools. They are so bandily needed that they will be used constantly and will be greatly appreciated.

Preemployment Training For Youth

The National Youth Administration provides preemployment training to young persons between the ages of 16 and 25 to prepare them for specific jobs in war industry. The training is offered in the Nation wide workshops of the NYA War Production Training Projects where production is organized along lines closely approximating those prevailing in private industry. Trainees are referred from the rolls of the U. S. Employment Service or by direct application, and receive NYA wages while on the project. Housing is provided at the work site in resident projects for those youths who live beyond ready access to a project. To meet critical labor shortages in certain areas, a plan for the orderly transfer of qualified trainees from local projects to reception centers near key industrial areas has been devised. With the cooperation of the U. S. Employment Service, the labor needs of essential industries are thus met, and youth are assured of placement in jobs for which they have been trained.

Mrs. Shorty Forbus has returned from a two weeks visit to her husband who is employed on a defense project at Tibband, New Mexico.

MEADOW HD CLUB MET FEBRUARY 2nd

The Meadow Home Demonstration club met February 2nd with Mrs. Jim Finley. Nine members were present. Meeting was called to order at 2 p. m., by the president Mrs. Herman Pendergrass. After roll call and minutes, a very good report from council was given by Mrs. Lillian Doak our council delegate. The program leader was Mrs. Parker. Samples were made and passed around to show different ways of finishing articles of clothing.

Several useful articles made by Mrs. Lillian Doak were auctioned off. This is one of our ways of raising money. Meeting was adjourned.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. M. W. Fox was appointed chairman of salvage drive for old silk and nylon hose and for tin cans. Both of these are badly needed in National Defense. Boxes will be placed in stores at Meadow for easy disposal so everyone help us with this drive. Please wash the hose. Cans are to be washed and dried and both ends cut and smashed flat. Rusty cans will not do.

There was very helpful beef canning demonstration by Miss Blanton and Mr. Hartzog a Mrs. Thelma Lockies last Thursday.

Next meeting is Friday February 19th with Mrs. Ashburn, Miss Blanton will meet with us. Every woman in this community is eligible to be a member of our club and your really missing something good and helpful if you don't come and join us.

Highway Accidents Show Decrease

AUSTIN, Feb. — Traffic fatalities in Texas were slashed more a third in 1942, State Police Director Homer Garrison announced today.

There were 1,316 fatalities reported in 1942, as against 1,981 in 1941, a decrease of 33.6 per cent. Garrison attributed the decreasing fatality rate to slowed speeds, reduced mileage, and a general improvement in the public's "safety consciousness."

Vehicular mileage, however, did not decrease nearly so much as might have been expected. Because reduction in civilian traffic was offset considerable by the state's rapid growth as a military and industrial center, vehicular mileage decreased only 9.9 per cent under the 1941 figure.

This calculation is based upon gasoline consumption figures obtained from the State Comptroller's Department. Gasoline consumption in 1941 was 1,322,074,830 gallons. In 1942, it was 1,191,685,985 gallons. Vehicular mileage based upon these figures, was 17,848,010,205 miles in 1941 and 16,087,760,798 miles in 1942.

Wild Duck Menace In Lynn County

Last week, the Lynn County News discussed at some length the pro and con of the value of the wild duck, and finally came to the conclusion that as a fowl of destruction to the farmer, he was an ace, but as a table tidbit, a flunk. We quite agree. The past week we had the occasion of trying to eat our first tame goose, presented by the Money Price family. Well, the female side of the family assembled at our board pronounced it delicious. As for us we'll take our beef, pork and bacon any old time.

A Mr. Edwards of Lynn county stated to Editor Hill that there was a living lake on his place, and that ever since fall literally thousands of ducks had covered its surface. When hungry, they foraged his grain fields, leaving destruction in their wake. Edwards had quite a lot sickness in his family, requiring much of his time at hospitals and confined at home with the sick. Therefore he was late getting what feed the ducks left, harvested.

Mr. Edwards made a statement that he thought about the only good wild ducks were, was for the sportsman, and Hill added, where hundreds are killed, perhaps one is eaten. Mr. Edwards also stated that it would take a company of men all armed with shotguns to make an impression on his duck population.

Dr. White Speaks Here Sunday Night

General complaint at the early hour of the Bible study period 9:45 is was moved and carried almost unanimously that the meeting be changed to 10 o'clock sharp which will be the meeting hour next Sunday morning and it is hoped this change may make it possible for some to attend who have not been doing so and that others may be present promptly on time.

We would again call to the attention of the people that Dr. W. R. White will speak Sunday evening in this church and the time of the meeting is 8:15.

Dr. White will meet with our people here as he is on his way to the Bible Conference meeting in Plainview next week and we consider it a rare opportunity to hear him as he has been highly honored by Texas Baptist being at present President of our State Convention as well as president of Hardin Simmons University. This is an opportunity for Baptist especially who are members of other churches in the county to meet and hear this religious thinker and leader.

Leaders in the Training Union are seeking a larger attendance and made some progress last Sunday evening. The hour of meeting is now 7:15 and there is a warm invitation out to every member of the church to take part in these exercises which are essentially training in Christian activity as it is here we learn to do by doing.

The singing Sunday evening is directed by Mrs. Rogers and the young people who occupy the choir at that hour are to be commended for their fine cooperation and all young people who sing have a warm invitation and welcome to assist. Our future leaders in all of our church work are now in our Young Peoples Departments and they need development in every Christian activity.

We extend a welcome to visitors.

Mrs. Rogers Nevels and daughter of Odessa, visited Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Lowmore here Thursday and Friday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tittle.

CAC Farm Plan Sheet Ready

The Terry County A.C.A. office has received its farm plan sheets for 1943. The office personnel expects to complete the office work on these forms this week.

Second Tuesday of each month is the regular meeting date for the county and community committeemen. On February 9th practically all committeemen from the ten communities in the county were present, at which time they were schooled in filling out the 1943 farm plan sheets and plan sheets for maximum production.

It is anticipated that by the end of next week these forms will be in the hands of committeemen and the meeting place designated and farmers notified.

It is the duty of each farmer to meet his committeemen at the designated place and get his farm plan sheet completed.

WHAT PRICE SECRET WEAPON?

War has changed the eternal American question from "How's the business?" to "Where and what is the American secret weapon?"

J. Howard Pew, president of the Sun Oil Co., and national vice president of the National Association of Manufacturers, supplies the answer. Our secret weapon is our initiative. Our workers for the past twenty years, have produced three times as much as Europeans not because they are a superior race, but because they are infused with the initiative generated by a keen competitive system in which anyone with talent can rise to the top.

Initiative is intangible, but we can tell by our war production record thus far that it is still present. The question is how long will the genius that is American industry continue to possess the initiative necessary to build better weapons of war. How long will it be before unnecessary restrictions and regimentation from the government stifles it completely?

Olivers' Brother Dies At Bowie

The Olivers, C. T. and J. B. received a message early Tuesday morning that their brother, Ed Oliver of Bowie whom they visited last week, had died Monday night. He had suffered a stroke of paralysis about a week before his death.

It is said that a few days before he was stricken, he learned that a son whom they had not heard from since the capture of Bataan Peninsula by the Japs, was a prisoner of the Japs in the Philippines.

Mr. Oliver spent several weeks here last spring while C. T. was in such critical condition from injuries inflicted in an automobile wreck.—Tahoka News.

WE NEED SOMEBODY

The statement from Washington that red tape will be cut in providing the farmers with the things they must have to make a crop does not come too soon. We had been told that we would get the fuel we need, but we were not told whether that meant the fuel we actually needed, or just the fuel Mr. Jeffers thought we needed. The dole of farm machinery is pitiful when compared with the ordinary supply that is sold in this area of Texas. Maybe a hundred tractors were sold in the county every year for the past ten years and maybe we will get two this year. We are afraid red tape cutting will not get the job done. We need somebody at the head of this rationing business who knows something about what it

YOU MUST HAVE YOUR TIRES INSPECTED

before March 31

TO PROTECT YOUR RIGHT TO DRIVE

DON'T WAIT Avoid the Rush SEE US AT ONCE

Are YOU risking your right to drive—to get tires, even gasoline? Many local car owners are—by delaying having their tires inspected. You MUST have your tires inspected no later than March 31st. Many will put it off until the last minute—there will be a big rush at the deadline.

To keep your car operating, your government is trying to make it possible for you to get tires, whether you have an A, B or C book. But you must take proper care of your tires, and inspection helps you do this by IMMEDIATELY showing whether your tires need repairing, or whether you need recapping or NEW TIRES.

It is your duty to get inspection early and to get the repairs, recaps or new tires you need, while recapping and service facilities are not crowded to the limit. So, don't put off inspection another day. Protect your right to drive. Get our inspection NOW!

Point Rationing

much a customer owes him in money and points. It will save time if the housewife shops early in the day and early in the week — and shops for several days at a time.

The housewife will need to budget points as well as money. Although she will not be able to buy as much canned food as she likes, she will have no big problem in feeding the family enough nutritious food. The family will be able to manage if she budgets points carefully, uses foods that are not rationed as well as those that are, if she doesn't waste food and if she grows and preserves her own food.

Just to give an idea of some of the foods which could be used in place of the rationed foods, there are fresh fruits and vegetables, dried peas, beans, lentils and other dried vegetables, home-cooked soups, home-canned fruits and vegetables and cereals of all kinds.

Many persons are planning to help build up the supply of food by growing Victory gardens back of their homes or on vacant lots.

In the district office we have received numerous questions as to whether baby foods will be rationed and why those foods should be included in the rationing program. Processed baby foods made of strained or chopped fruits, vegetables or meats, or combinations of those, and put up in sealed glass or tin containers, are to be rationed. Canned milk, canned milk formulas and canned prepared cereals are not to be rationed at this time.

The reason for rationing baby foods does not indicate a shortage of baby foods and is not designed to limit the supplies for babies, but is intended instead to safeguard the supplies for small children. If baby foods were not rationed, they might be used as substitutes for adult foods.

The OPA also has received reports that since packaging of fancy dogs foods containing such ingredients as are included in the rationed canned foods program has been stopped, owners of dogs and cats have been buying the small containers of baby foods for their pets.

Everyone is anxious to know what the point values will be. So are we in the district office. The official point values for more than 200 food items in the processed foods program will be made public late. During the freeze, distribution will begin on the official table of point values which each grocery store must display prominently for the information of its customers. Storekeepers will make use of the "freeze" period to replenish their stocks of canned goods against the morning of March 1, when every sale will involve the transfer of point stamps in addition to the usual payment of cash.

Point values will differ according to the relative scarcity of the various foods and also according to the size of the can, jar, bottle or package. However, every item is to have the same point value in every store in the country.

A low point value will be given to the commodity which is most plentiful as compared with the usual supply and demand for that commodity. A high point value is to be given to the commodity which is much scarcer than usual. A point-value somewhere between the two will be given a commodity when the supply and demand are expected to be somewhat less than usual.

Each individual may spend his points to buy any items in the point-rationed group any way he likes, but when he has spent all his points for a month, he will not be able to buy any of the items until the next ration period. Those who chose to buy commodities with a lower-point value will get more for their ration than those who chose to use up their points on high point value commodities.

The reason the government would put a low point value on the more plentiful commodities is that there would be little danger the supply would run out. The government would wish to encourage use of those commodities rather than of the scarcer products.

Consumer buying is to be steered away from the scarce items toward the more plentiful items.

So far, I have referred only to the blue stamps in the new ration book. All of us know now there will be four pages of red stamps as well as four pages of blue stamps in war ration book two. The government has indicated that the red stamps will be used later for meats.

I would like to stress that the advantages of point rationing will be far greater than the inconveniences. Point rationing means "share and share alike."

It gives you all the freedom of choice possible in war time. You can choose those commodities in the group which you prefer and which you can afford. And you can spend your points in any way you like.

Point rationing will assure you

Oxidized Cotton May Aid Science Fight Pneumonia

New York — Cotton — one of America's major weapons of war — may soon become one of medical science's major helpers in combatting pneumonia.

A study with oxidized cotton, conducted by Professor Michael Heidelberger at Columbia University, reveals that particles of oxidized cotton act chemically like certain substances in pneumonia germs of a particular type indicating that this simple material, under special but easily given chemical treatment, might be turned into a substance for preventing pneumonia of this type.

Pneumonia germs, it is pointed out, carry a load of substances known as "polysaccharides", or sugar-like compounds, which are responsible for harmful effects in the human or animal body. In their attempt to cure diseases by chemical methods, scientists have been searching for a simple chemical unit present in these "polysaccharides" which accounts for their action.

In oxidized cotton, Dr. Heidelberger points out a simple chemical unit has been found which corresponds to the unit of which the disease-causing substances in pneumonia germs of type eight is composed. In other words, oxidized cotton produces in blood serum the same kind of reaction the germ's own "polysaccharide" develops.

The discovery marks an advance toward development of methods for predicting just how the human or animal body will react to disease germ substances whose chemical composition is known.

Vaccinations At Jesse Randa School

We have been requested to announce that the Five County Health unit here will vaccinate children for smallpox, at the Jesse Randa school, next Wed. Feb. 17th. Vaccinations will begin at 10 a. m.

Dr. J. D. Moorhead was a pleasant caller at the Herald office, Wednesday afternoon. While a bit feeble, he is just as jolly as ever.

L. F. Hudgens of Lubbock was here on business one day the past week. He and wife will leave for the coast some time this week for her health.

Brownfield Editors Visit News Force

A. J. Stricklin and A. J. Jr., editor and operator respectively of the Terry County Herald, were pleasant visitors in The News office last Saturday afternoon while waiting for Mrs. Stricklin to come in on the bus.

Newspaper folk are all running with a shortage of operating force these days, and editors have little time to visit with one another. It was the first time we had had an opportunity to "talk shop" with the "Dean of Newspaper Men" in the bounds of the Panhandle Press Association for many moons, and we greatly enjoyed the visit of the inimitable "Andy Jack" and his capable son, A. J. Jr.

"Andy Jack" is to appear on the program at the annual meeting of the Panhandle Press Association in Amarillo in April to tell the boys about his experiences in the early days on the Plains. Jack came to Brownfield and established the Herald away back in the winter of 1909, and he has kept the old Herald coming out once a week ever since.

Born in Tennessee, Jack was named for Old Hickory, and he began work in a newspaper office in that state when a mere kid. Naturally, he not only knows the country newspaper business from a lot to a iazzard but he also knows a lot of Tennessee and Texas history.

Come over more often, Jack.—Lynn County News, Tahoka.

Now doggone it Eee Eye, that part about us being asked to sperk about old time printing days on the Plains, and being a Dean, is a military secret. We merely stated that Clyde Warwick, Secretary of Panhandle Press Association, and publisher of the Canyon News, had just felt us out about such an address. Now then, suppose when the program committee gets their heads together, they decide that something else would be more appropriate to fill that time. Our faces would be real red, and Clyde's a deep pink.

By the way we looked up in the dictionary what "Dean" means. The last definition says, "the oldest member, by reason of service, in a constituted body, of which he acts as president." A misnomer, in our case; we are neither the president or even the janitor.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Massengale and children, of Lamesa, spent Sunday with Mrs. Massengales brother, Wilson Collins and Mrs. Collins.

Methodist Church To Lift Debt

We had one of the largest crowd Sunday morning we have had in a long time. Our work is moving along in a good way. We hope more of our folks will attend regularly. We are almost in sight of paying our church debt in full. Those of you who have pledged to that fund please pay as soon as possible. Those who have pledged please see me or J. O. Gillham and make your contribution. It will be very much appreciated. We are expecting Bishop Holt early in March to dedicate our building.

Then let each of us remember our week of dedication, Feb. 28th to March 7th. This is being observed throughout our connection. Read the literature about this movement, and pray daily for its success. February 21st will be laymen's day throughout church, on that day our local laymen will have charge of the service. There will be further notice of this next week. Then remember and pray for our revival meeting. Dr. R. L. Flowers and wife are to lead us in this campaign. We start July 28th and run through August 8th. Let us plan to attend each of these service. We urge all our people to attend all our services. May each of you faithful ones urge someone to come. Visitors are always welcome. We hope all Methodist living here with their membership elsewhere will place their membership here now. We need you. We shall try to help you.

H. W. Hanks, Pastor.

Miss Lenore Anglin is the new science teacher at High School. Seems Mr. Hancock only gets one teacher placed and another resigns for a better job or to get in defense work.

of your fair share of the commodities in the rationed group.

Like other rationing programs, it will prevent you from "chiseling" on your neighbor's fair share and will prevent him from "chiseling" on yours.

Rationing is necessary in order to supply our fighting forces with the things they need—to assure everyone of his fair share of essential goods which have become scarce because of the war—and to help win the war.

Take Care

OF YOUR

WATER HEATER

To conserve vital materials, the War Production Board has ruled that you cannot obtain a new household appliance except under special conditions. That's why you must take extra care of your gas appliances. It may be a long time before you can replace them.

Put your appliances in tip-top operating condition, keep them clean, take care of them and they will help take care of you.

HERE ARE SOME SUGGESTIONS ON THE CARE OF YOUR WATER HEATER:

1. Keep burner adjusted properly.
2. Do not let pilot light burn too high.
3. Be sure vents are unobstructed.
4. Drain water from bottom of tank once a month.
5. Keep water heater thermostat below 140 degrees.

Holmes and Zorns Promoted By Bank

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Brownfield State Bank held this week, Leo Holmes was promoted to Vice-President of the bank and Bruce Zorns, who has been Asst. Cashier for some time was elected Cashier. Miss Elizabeth Upton, who has been with the bank for several years, was elected Asst. Cashier. There was no change in the other officers of the bank.

The announcement of the changes was made by J. O. Gillham, who continues as Executive Vice-President and active head of the bank.

The Santa Fe system moved 32,901 cars last week compared to 31,932 the same week of 1942.

Buescher Bastrop Park, Bastrop County, famous for "lost pines," is one of Texas' best developed state parks.

The Santa Fe railroad company estimates the 1943 wheat crop in Texas at 52,365,000 bushels, one of the largest yields on record.

It's Spread-The-Butter Now!

College Station Feb. — This country's Share-the-Meat campaign necessarily is being followed by a Spread-The-Butter movement.

With 30 percent of the country's butter supplies consigned to the armed forces and with quantities of other fats in the fight, it is important that homemakers study the situation intelligently, says Hazel Phipps, specialist in food preparation for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

She explains that some fat is necessary to a complete diet, since it not only provides calories but perform other functions essential to health. There is fat in many foods, such as whole milk, meats, soy beans, nuts, and avacadoes. Several fats contain one or more vitamins. Butter, for instance, contains Vitamin A.

Some fat makes a meal satisfying, the specialist says. And it gives richness and flavor to make many foods more appetizing.

Miss Phipps offers these suggestions for "spreading the butter".

Serve butter thriftily and eat up all you get.

Use butter where it will taste best. For example, many people prefer to use it on bread. Others may want it for seasoning vegetables.

Store butter properly. Keep it tightly covered in a cold, dark place.

The specialist adds that butter will spread farther if it is creamed or slightly softened, not melted.

Veneral Diseases Increase With War

Austin Texas, — According to an announcement issued this week by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, some type of treatment for veneral diseases is now available to every citizen of Texas.

In view of the startling number of selective service draftees who were found unfit for military service because of veneral disease, increased effort is being exerted by health authorities all over the nation to control the spread of these diseases.

"War time conditions favor the increase of prostitution, which leads immediately to an alarming increase in the incidence of syphilis and gonorrhoea," Dr. Cox stated.

According to figures compiled by the State Health Department in a six month's comparative report, public clinics in Texas between July 1 and December 31, 1942, treated a total of 15,870 new cases of syphilis in addition to a patient load of 156,924. New cases of gonorrhoea treated numbered 6,996. At the present rate of new cases admitted plus the regular patient load, approximately 465,621 treatments are being administered in a six month's period. During the last year, over one-half million tests for syphilis were made by the State Department of Health.

Remember, she says, that fats fight on two fronts. "They are food weapon to keep us fit and a material for munitions of war. Waste none."

The Nation's steel mills are running out of scrap. They haven't enough on hand to last many weeks. When this is gone they may have to shut down—for all new steel is 50% scrap. Get your scrap ready to turn in now!

WHOSE BOY WILL DIE BECAUSE YOU FAILED?

THINK about it as revenge—a way to get back at the scum who have attacked us. Or think about it as a little more protection for our fighting men—something you, yourself, can do to bring as many as possible home alive.

But think about it now—for the scrap in homes, farms and factories has got to be moving to stockpiles within the next few weeks or it may be too late!

Maybe you don't know what it means to have production fall off. Maybe you can't imagine how it feels to be hunkered down in a foxhole wishing for just one more clip of cartridges. Or to see the enemy rolling through your lines because you didn't have just a few more tanks.

Or maybe you don't care!

We think you do. We feel that our whole community is ready to rise up and bring in the scrap as soon as you get a chance. So you're going to get that chance!

We are starting the biggest drive you've ever seen, to get in this precious material. And you're going to pitch in, too, because this situation is serious.

Start looking around your place for scrap today. If you've got a son in the service, do it for him. Do it for the neighbor's boy—for those fine young chaps you just passed, out on the street.

Above all do it for your country... and do it now!

Legionnaires To Help In WAAC Recruiting

American Legion Posts throughout West Texas have been asked to work with the United States Army Recruiting Service of this District in securing enrollments for the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps. Lieutenant Colonel Marvin B. Durrette, Commander of West Texas Army Recruiting and Induction District, said that a number of replies have been received. All replies stated their willingness to aid in the recruiting program. Legion Commanders of the District will appoint local Legion Recruiting Officers as well as Legion Auxiliary Recruiting Officers. These Recruiting Officers will be supplied with application blanks and complete information concerning enrollment in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps. Women desiring information concerning the W.A.A.C. will be able to obtain full particulars from any American Legion Post within the District.

This District has been called upon to enroll 584 WAACs during January, February and March. This quota will probably be increased each new quarter. Women enrolled will take over soldiers' jobs. Soldiers released will be sent to combat duty.

MEN WANTED

Are you expecting a call from your Draft Board to report for duty? Would you like to avail your self of invaluable pre-service training, thereby benefitting your family by faster-than-usual advances in pay? Are you willing to help your country and state against any possible emergency? Are you prepared to help?

The Texas Defense Guard has facilities to train up to 150 men as supernumeraries. There is also a number of vacancies in the Guard itself. YOU are urged to be present at the American Legion Hall next Tuesday night.

If you have been hesitant about joining the Guard because you have heard talk that those who are in it will be drafted sooner than others, forget it. Just mark it down as a harmful, malicious rumor without any basis of fact whatsoever. Membership in the Guard will NOT get you in the Army any quicker; neither will it exempt you from service—BUT, the training you receive here, now, MAY SAVE YOUR LIFE LATER!
