

Elevator Storage Bursts Resulting In Heavy Damage

Around eleven o'clock, July 4th

a fire alarm was turned in and made a run to the Goodpasture Grain and Milling Co., elevators, but as no fire or smoke could be seen, few investigated till later in the day. One of the eight section concrete reservoirs had burst up some 40 or 50 feet above ground, loosing several thousand bushels of wheat stored in that particular bin.

Being a holiday, just a few of the employees were on hand, and the noise gave all time to get away before the wave of broken slabs of the bin, together with wheat cascaded toward the offices and the mill. While no one was hurt, grain pushed in through the offices, and while it covered typewriters, adding machines and other office paraphernalia, it is believed they can all be cleaned and repaired.

The next heaviest damage came to the metal building over or near the unloading pits. Whether the burst came from an explosion, or a weak portion of that one bin, has not been entirely determined at this time. Employees present state there was no loud explosion, but just a kind of "poof" or "hiss" and debris began to roll. One theory is that there might have been an explosion, as large pieces of concrete was found 40 feet away, and some smaller ones as much as 200 feet.

At the top section of the 100 feet tall bin remains attached to the others, and perhaps will remain that way until torn away, as they are filled with grain. As stated above, no one was hurt, but the damage will probably run as high as $25,000, possibly covered by insurance.

At the time of the disaster, the owner, Grady Goodpasture was on the north Plains harvesting a wheat crop, but when notified by employees here, he rushed back, and stated that repairs and rebuilding will go forward as fast as possible.

Spilled wheat is being salvaged with little loss by truck and suction from the ground, and replaced in other buildings or bins.

Lions Hear Boys State Report

Jerry Worsham, who the Lions club sent to attend the Boys State at Austin a few weeks ago, addressed their Wednesday luncheon here and reported on the trip.

The boys from over the State were assigned various positions in the state government, from governor down, for a day or two. Jerry was in the Board of control department.

Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Daniell and children and her brother, Mr. A. T. Fox, of Rule spent the holiday week end in Cloudcroft.

Housing Expediter's Office To Be Closed

The housing expediter's office in Brownfield will terminate its activities effective July 25, according to Jimmie Wilson, housing expediter for Brownfield and vicinity. The closure results from congressional enactment of the recent rent-control measure, which abolishes all housing-construction controls and virtually all controls over nonhousing construction, Wilson said.

The Brownfield office has been in operation since March 26, 1946, under the Veterans' Emergency Housing Act of 1946, whose major provisions seeking to provide housing for returned servicemen are now rescinded. Its services, Wilson pointed out, have included assistance of every character locally, to builders striving to produce homes for veterans. Additionally, at the national level, the Office of the Housing Expediter has allocated scarce materials in the building field, increased building-materials production by premium payments for volume in excess of normal, aided builders to secure surplus equipment and materials from the Government, and more recently exercised jurisdiction over limitation of non-housing construction. The strongest and most effective controls were removed last December, Wilson asserted, and still more were removed in April.

"Regardless of statements in some quarters, the Veterans' Emergency Housing Act of 1946 was effective in producing houses, until it was weakened by the end of its major provisions last December and the termination of price control earlier," Wilson stated. "Housing construction is up somewhat this year over last, thus far; but nothing like what it should be, considering the supply of materials on hand now, prices being the major deterrent factor. With most non-housing construction now freed of limitation, it is anticipated that construction of housing at prices people in most serious need can afford will be increasingly difficult for a good while to come."

BUSINESS BUILDING BEING EXTENDED

The one story brick building on the south side of square, formerly known as the Chisholm building, but now owned by Bailey and Webber, occupied by McWilliams Furniture, is being extended sixty feet back to the alley, 50 feet wide.

When completed this summer it is to be occupied by McWilliams.

Brownfield Stands Third In South Plains Bank Deposits

With Lubbock first and Plainview second, Brownfield easily takes third place on the south Plains in bank deposits. Below we are giving the readers the total bank deposits as of June 30, of some 29 banks in the south Plains area.

It is very likely that if the call had come 30 days later it would have been much higher, as the big wheat harvest would have been over at that time. Eleven of the towns, including Brownfield showed increases since Dec. 31 call. The others showed a slight decrease.

Lubbock of course headed the list, but El Paso and Amarillo had slightly more deposits than Lubbock, but it stood ahead of two other largest west Texas cities, Wichita Falls and Waco.

Three names have been filed for aldermen in next Tuesdays special election. The one elected is to fill out the unexpired term of Troy Noel, recently resigned and moving from the city.

They are, Tess Fulfer, proprietor of the Coffee Shop; J. Virgil Burnett, former Tax-Assessor-Collector, now with the Board of Development, Henry Chisholm, groceryman and Frank Szydoski, cleaner.

The election is to be held next Tuesday at the City Hall.

Latham & House Open Levelland Store

Everett Latham and M. T. House, well known merchants of Brownfield, have procured a dry goods store at Levelland, and House and family moved there this week to assume management and operation. It is known as the Latham-House Dry goods store on north side of the square there.

House, recently elected President of the Lions club here has been active in civic and church circle for some time and has been with the Latham store here several years.

Yep, It's A Boy!

As we climbed out of our old chivvy last Thursday in front of the Herald office, R. L. Lewis came up the street from toward the hospital. It's a boy, yelled R. L. as he reached for a cigar to give us.

R. L. is a very efficient and courteous employee of the J. B. Knight Hardware, which position he held before and since his return from service. His wife was Miss Evelyn Day, once the book-keeper of the Knight stores.

Semi-Annual Dairy Report For City

The grades of all milk sold in the City of Brownfield both raw and pasteurized have been determined by the local Health Department according to the grade specifications of the U. S. Public Health Service Milk Ordinance and Code which is in effect in the City of Brownfield.

The director of the local South Plains Health Unit urges all citizens to purchase only grade A raw or grade A pasteurized milk, as shown on the bottle cap, where the grade A sign is posted in restaurants or soda fountains. The grade A raw milk sold in Brownfield is as safe as milk can be made short of pasteurization.

The following named distributors are the only authorized and qualified milk handlers with permits from the City of Brownfield for distribution of milk.

Banner Creamery, Grade A Pasteurized Milk.
Alvin Forbis Dairy, Grade A Raw Milk.

South Plains Dairy, owned by Mr. N. L. Mason, Grade A Raw Milk.
The Forbis and South Plains Dairy are equipped to produce and handle milk according to State law and have filed a veterinarian's certificate of freedom from Bangs disease and tuberculosis with the local Health Department and are the only milk producers or distributors so authorized and so qualified to produce or sell milk in Brownfield. Any other person offering milk for sale does so in violation of law and is not qualified or equipped to produce or distribute milk according to the requirements of the City Ordinance or the State Law.

Local Banks In Excellent Condition

We have before us condensed statements of the two banks here, the Brownfield State and First National. Next week we will have a complete breakdown of all resources as well as liabilities, a copy of which has to be sent to both the Comptroller of the Currency at Washington, as well as the State Banking Commission at Austin.

In the past mid-summer was always a seasonal low in banking institutions anywhere in the cottonbelt. But with many other sources of income added in this area, such as wheat, and the usual products of the farm, augmented by oil, bank deposits are even higher than the last of December, which usually shows the high water mark in deposits.

Below we give a breakdown of the resources, deposits, loans and cash and available assets of the two banks:

Resources	$9,601,025.41
Deposits	9,218,947.82
Loans	2,319,921.59
Cash and Avail.	7,203,572.22

Westex - New Mex. Dairymen To Re-Organize

LUBBOCK, July 11—Dairymen from West Texas and Eastern New Mexico will reorganize the West Texas Branch, Texas Dairy Products association at a meeting here July 17. Specific place for the meeting has not been designated, but it will probably be on the Texas Technological College Campus, according to L. G. Harmon, professor of dairy manufactures.

Plant operators from all branches of the dairy manufactures industry, including butter, cheese, market milk and ice cream, are expected to attend. Meetings of the West Texas branch were discontinued when transportation grew critical during the war. Members are drawn from a wide area, including the Texas Panhandle, Big Spring, Vernon, El Paso and Eastern New Mexico.

Tech cooperates with the organization and the industry in providing counsel in quality control, Harmon said. Prof. K. M. Renner, head of the college dairy manufactures department, is also chairman of the state quality control committee. Harmon is in charge of the West Texas dairy products analysis laboratory at the college.

Burrow Motor Co. To Hold Formal Opening July 19

According to Crawford Burrow, owner, the new building is much larger than their old quarters, new equipment has been added and the stock increased. The personnel has also been increased to give quicker and better service. The public is invited to attend "Grand Opening" July 19 and to meet the personnel.

The company is dealer for the Hudson car and maintains a complete service department for the Hudson and all other makes of cars.

Littlefield Jaycees To Stage Rodeo

LITTLEFIELD, July 11 — One of the most colorful rodeos to be staged in West Texas this summer will be the annual big-time Littlefield Jaycee western show, set for July 25-26-27.

The four-show rodeo will be directed by the veteran Howard Brown of Dublin, for five years superintendent of the Gene Autry World's Championship Rodeo Association. This stock will be furnished by the famous Autry & Colbert ranch at Dublin.

Added attractions of the big western show this year will be a mammoth street parade on the opening day of the rodeo, street dances each night and the cow-girl sponsor contest.

Some of the specialty acts will feature Don and Virginia Wilcox of Tulsa, Okla., performing trick and fancy roping; Gene McLaughlin of Fort Worth, a veteran trick roper who has appeared at such shows as Madison Square Garden, the Boston Garden and others; Ruth Miriam, one of the leading trick riders of the country; Roy Seward, who will stage his famous Calgary rope act and Alec Alexander, clever and resourceful colored bull fighter and clown.

The Littlefield Jaycee Rodeo, approved by the Rodeo Cowboys Association of America, is posting prize money totaling $2,000.

Santa Fe Gives Texas Crop Report

Texas has matured the greatest wheat crop in its history, last estimated at 142,405,000 bushels, a figure that now depends on weather conditions for the remaining part of harvest in the north-west.

Harvest is largely completed below the caprock and on the South Plains and will be almost completed on the North Plains by July 11. Farther down state, 95 per cent of the wheat and oats have been harvested and land plowed for fall planting.

Yields from early harvested wheat ranged from 12 bushels an acre in the northern portion of the state, to 15 and 25 bushels in the northwest, and it is now believed that the late wheat will do better by 5 bushels an acre, for an average from 20 to 30 bushels.

While wheat in the northwest recently has had too much rain, there has been little damage except in low spots. Hail losses as well as yield reductions due to rust have also been comparatively small; however, farmers are hoping for dry weather as continuation of too much rain might spoil the picture.

Cotton and grain sorghums in the northwest are late but stands are good and with an abundance of moisture there is plenty of time for these crops to mature. Potatoes are doing well in this area and digging will start late in July. Despite some delay due to wet weather, sugar beets are making satisfactory growth.

Read Polio Preventatives now appearing in the Herald In Interest of Public Health

Mayor Frank Jordan informed us last week that a local capitalist, Mr. R. M. Kendrick, president of the First National Bank, had offered to finance a wading pool for children at Coleman Park. He asked Mr. Jordan to obtain plans and specifications.

At the same time, Mr. Jordan stated that another young citizen of means, Roy Herod had offered to finance the building of at least one barbecue pit at the park, and left it up to Mr. Jordan to have plans and specifications drawn.

Coleman Park, named for the late Clyde C. Coleman, who at the time the park lands were purchased and laid out, was mayor of Brownfield. It is fast becoming a gathering spot for young and old alike, and is a pride and joy to the people here. They no longer have to leave Brownfield to find a lovely spot with shade trees and grass to have a picnic.

Therefore it is a civic step forward for some of our citizens to take the lead in making Coleman Park a more pleasing spot. Therefore, inasmuch as Coleman Park is really a memorial park now to one of our demised and at one time leading citizens, why not designate improvements that have been made to those who make them as memorials to their memory?

For instance, erect a small tablet of stone at the proposed wading pool with the lettering "donated by R. M. Kendrick." Also one for Mr. Herod for the barbecue pit.

There are a lot of men here, also ladies, with some means who, we feel sure will follow through with many improvements to go on down the stream of time, and in new sections of the park when it is enlarged, which step is even now under consideration.

We shall appreciate suggestions from other readers, and space will be allowed for all such things in following issues of the Herald.

A Quiet Fourth Was Rule of Heraldites

Like most of the business places in town, the Herald was mostly a closed organization. The Junior member left Thursday with his family for Denison to visit his wife's folks. Carlos Cross chose, to roll around home at Wellman. Gene Walker made a trip to Dallas to visit his brother. R. O. Winter of the advertising department and family accompanied a friend to the Davis mountains. The society editor and family visited Mr. Ferguson's folks in Dallas.

That left the Old He and wife, who stayed at home, and the lino operator, "Blacky" Bownds, who said there was a lot of machine job work that had to come out soon, so he and the Old He spent most of the time behind closed doors and kept busy.

But we did get out to the Bernard Lays for a good old farm dinner, topped off by ice cream, and it was really cream. Then that night we went out to the Money Price farm to mainly meet the parents and sister of Buel Price's wife, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sauer and Susan, of Spokane, Wash., and eat ice cream.

Jack Shirley, wife and baby were also visitors out there that night. Mr. Sauer and family are fine folks and we could readily see why they raised such a sweet daughter as Mrs. Buel Price.

PANHANDLE PRESS ASSOCIATION

The Prime Minister of Great Britain, in addressing the American colony in London last Friday, stressed the fact that we once whaled the loll out of them, 1776-81, and that the world is better that they—the English—took that licking. He could have mentioned the repeat order of 1812-14. England was the aggressor nation in both struggles. Going on from there, we might add that if England had shown a little more concern during the beer hall pushes of Hitler beginning about 1932, there would have been no necessity for World War II. But the peaceful nations all thought that it "can't happen here." But it did, and will again, if peaceful nations don't stay prepared. By the way, some writer with a witty angle has suggested that it is about time the English were declaring their Independence of the United States.

An exchange asks why the government can't be as honest with its citizens as it requires them to be with the government. He mentions the fact that Texas as well as nine other states recognizes the wife an equal partner with the husband in community property, but Uncle Sam says this just can't be. We might also mention the fact that our Uncle Samuel is now putting the squeeze on states that have what is known as tidal or submerged water land that has oil. Among them is Texas, which was admitted to the Union and allowed to keep all its public lands, rather than make a loan to Texas for these lands. Now that the black gold has been found in Louisiana, Texas and California, uncle is putting on the grab act. Is it any wonder that some of the European nations sometimes referred to the long whiskered old gentleman as Uncle Shylock?

Editor Clyde C. Warwick has kinder taken it to heart what Editors Watson, Richard and the Old He had to say about the Panhandle Press Association. Forget it Clyde. Don't get your blood pressure up with the weather like it is. As for us, we were just kidding. Maybe all of us may attend some future meeting in Amarillo and try to learn something.

Some of the younger men of the town seemed to have gotten a bit het up last week about a signed article appearing in these columns, which they had a perfect right to do if they wished. But we are repeating what we have said many times before, that the Herald never questions anyone's right to his honest opinion, and as Voltaire once said, "we may disagree with what you have to say, but will defend to death your right to say it." And we might also repeat that we publish a lot of articles from time to time with which we do not agree. In fact the editor of this paper believes that we will have to have some kind of zoning law or any peaceful neighborhood may become a sounding brass or tinkling symbol with a boiler factory next door. At the same time, we are ready to admit that the zoning law has perhaps worked a hardship on some persons. But while we discuss this matter, let's all of us remember that we are citizens and taxpayers and have a perfect right to our opinion.

"Great is the Goddess Diana of the Ephesians!"—quote from Acts of the Apostles. So, President Truman drove his Cadillac from Charlottesville, Va., all of the 117 miles to Washington, D. C. Now aint dat somphin? As if he had never driven a car before. But evidently news was scarce with the UP and AP, and the boys just had to extend themselves. They also reported that he got a chuckle out of birds fighting over feed out at an estate where he stopped. Well isn't Harry S. a human, and what human don't like to see birds fight. We used to get a great kick out of watching scissortail birds rip feathers from the backs of hawks or crows that approached too close to their nests. But even the radio commentators had their day over the incidents.

Hunger and cold are said to be communists best allies. We arise to ask that if a small minority electing a dictator for life, or the fact that the average guy can't ever hope to rise above the common level without a political pull, and not on his own efforts and genius, will those facts warm his hide or fill his belly? An educated horse or dog should know better than that such a condition would be better than a free and independent life. Well, if they just want less food for themselves and family, less automobiles, less telephones, less conveniences, less everything in general than democratic countries—how can we stop 'em?

As bad as we hate to see such guys as John L. Lewis throw the whole country into a jigsaw, if there were no control measures, on the other hand we hate to see the country have to take steps that has any resemblance to class or trade legislation to control of either unions or management. Such things could be the first step toward totalitarianism. But us older ones remember when the nation had to clamp down on management with anti-trust measures, after some of the multi-millionaires said "the public be damned." We just can't afford to let either side get out of hand, it seems.

Local merchants tell us that for the first time in several years a buyers market is developing. Up to this year, the snappy traveling salesman told them just what they could have and in what quantity. Now they are insisting that the merchants buy more of this or that article.

News that investigation of some of the Washington bureaus is proposed as some of them are said to be using public funds to propagandize socialized medicine, brings to mind that a survey of public sentiment has recently been taken by Newspaper Alliance. All classes, wealthy, white collar, laborer and professional, were asked if they wished a socialized medical and hospital law like social security. All gave a heavy negative vote. Altogether the breakdown showed 63 per cent were for present arrangements, 30 for socialized medicine and 7 per cent undecided.

We wonder if anyone was ever surprised that the vote in Spain went for Don Franco being privileged to name his successor? That election was just as cut and dried as any election in Germany and Italy in the heyday of Hitler and Mussolini, or Uncle Joe in Russia today.

You never hear a hen cackle until she's finished her job.

True Stories of West Texans

"The Wallet And the Cow"

The men about the chuck wagon were relaxed but their faces still bore signs of fatigue. Their mission had been completed and the 3,000 steers marketed in Abilene, Kansas; the badlands had again been traversed and they were back on Texas soil. From here on home they could take it easier.

As they refilled their coffee cups and grouped themselves in a casual semi-circle about the low fire, the new look out rode off to his post.

The conversation turned, as usual, to their northern drive. Its full flavor unappreciated in the midst of the sweat and dust and stampedes, was now mullied over. But gradually quiet prevailed, and their thoughts swerved homeward. It would be good to be back again with some hard cash in their pockets! This was in 1870; money could surely be used in war depleted Texas!

The boss of the outfit patted his pocket fondly. This trip meant much to him. He had come out of the Civil war a captain and with a shoulder wounded at Chickamauga. And no money nor business. All that Texas had was cattle—and no home market. So he had talked several friends into trusting him, with some of their beeves and another into staking him with purchasing some of his own, and had then set out for the railroad in Kansas. And his gamble had paid off well.

The hand on the pocket suddenly contracted and dived inside. Other pockets were searched frantically but to no avail. His wallet was gone! And gone, too, was the peace around the camp fire that night. Each cowhand took up the search, but it was finally agreed that the wallet, with the hopes of a man's future

Tonsillectomies in Polio Season Up to Physician

Although summer is popularly considered a favorable time for removal of children's infected tonsils or adenoids, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, through its local chapter, urges parents to seek the advice of their own personal physician on whether such operation during the polio season is advisable.

Scientific investigations carried out with March of Dimes funds indicate that there may be more of a predisposition to infantile paralysis infection as a result of tonsil and adenoid operations performed during the seasonal polio months—June through September.

Consequently, the National Foundation points out, parents should be guided by their own physician's advice in each individual case.

tucked inside, was surely lost.

"When do you remember having had it last?" someone asked, and the young captain sat down to collect his whirling thoughts.

"I know that I had it this morning just before we broke camp," he decided; and he hadn't had it since. Already he was starting for the remuda and a few seconds later he rode off in the moonlight.

He was glad that they had dwalled today and covered less territory, but if his wallet had been lost on the trail, it had probably been cut to shreds by that herd that had passed this morning.

In the murky light of dawn he rode up to the charred remains of last night's cookfire. An old sow stood nearby chewing her cud at that time of morning. As he looked, she lowered her head. And there at her feet lay his lost wallet.

His spring from his horse was instantaneous and he reached the wallet just as her grasping tongue was encircling it. But a sad looking object it was! Only half of it was there; it had been bitten into, and the other half swallowed.

WHERE THOUSANDS DIE!

91 killed—3,150 injured! If that were the report of an explosion, wreck or other disaster, it would be front page news. People would be horrified! But worse—it's just one day's automobile casualty list in the United States. It happens every day, week in, week out. Four deaths, 131 injured—every hour. At year's end 33,500 lives snuffed out, over a million injured or maimed for life. That's what happened last year. This year's record threatens to be even higher.

Speed—reckless, wanton speed—drunken driving—defiance of safety rules and regulations—and careless, jaywalking pedestrians, top the list of causes for this grim toll.

What can you do about it? Will the speeding wheels of your car add one death to this mass murder of the highways? Not if you, the driver—and you, the pedestrian—take your individual responsibilities seriously. Drive carefully at all times, under all conditions, and be alert when walking.

Don't be one of the thousands to kill, or be killed. Drive safely—and live!

Rodeos And Growing Whiskers New Idea

We note that some of the neighboring towns are busy trying to get their male inhabitants to grow a beard, mustache, goatee or at least sideburns, a month or so before their rodeo comes off. It seems there is no penalty for thus boycotting the barbers, but the request is rather commanding.

They were preparing to put on their rodeo out at Cooldidge, Ariz., last fall when we were there, and that was the most bewhiskered town we have seen in some spell. But they had a penalty for non-compliance. They had a large bull pen out in the street made of poles and covered with them, and when locked up in there one was put on a diet of bread and water. Also the bed didn't look too soft to us. If they shaved, in they went.

But back to neighboring towns. They are at it on a voluntary basis. And they have to wear "glad rags" like what cow nurse maids are supposed to wear. Well maybe there was a time back some 50, 60 or 70 years ago when cowpunchers dressed and acted that way. Back then, even the farmers of the east wore whiskers, or most of them.

But going back 40 years ago, when Terry, Yoakum and Gaines were in their early childhood and Hockley and Cochran were still unorganized, and this was a real cattle country, very few of the old boys wore whiskers on purpose.

Of course they may had had branding work, and a herd to trail to a railroad that required a week, or maybe much longer. But our remembrance was that as soon as they hit town, they would tie their nag to a hitch rack on the west side of the square and the first place they hit was the barber shop to have their "high shinnery" extracted, as they would say.

Four high officials of the U. S. Department of Public Health from Atlanta, Ga., are here this week investigating reports of Bubonic Plague, to plan suppressive measures, in this area.

The average American is drinking less milk this year than last, due in part to the fact that he is spending more for other goods and foods which were still scarce last year.

Railroads Now Own Sleeping Cars

PHILADELPHIA June 26 — A three judge Federal Court approved today a "closing agreement" under which all the capital stock of The Pullman Company will be sold to a group of 57 railroads over whose lines virtually all of the nation's sleeping car service is operated.

The Court's approval is the last development in litigation which began in 1940, when the Department of Justice filed Anti-Trust proceedings here against Pullman Incorporated and its two principal subsidiaries—The Pullman Standard Car Manufacturing Co., which makes sleeping and other railroad cars, and The Pullman Company which owned and operated the sleeping cars.

Immediately after today's ruling the buying group of railroads announced that the closing of the transaction went into effect Monday, June 30.

Harvesting cotton in a once-over operation is the short cut to bigger profits. Get this advantage by stripping and delivering cotton, two rows at a time, with a labor-saving John Deere No. 15 Cotton Harvester.

Designed to work with the John Deere "A" and "B" Tractors, the No. 15 is a simple, sturdy, long-lived machine that does a fast, efficient job of saving bolls after the cotton plants have been killed by frost. Many gin operators state that cotton stripped by the John Deere is cleaner than that pulled by the average hand puller.

This year, to make short work of your cotton harvest—use a John Deere Cotton Harvester. See us for complete information the next time you're in town.

COLD FACTS about HOT WATER

by Margaret Mallaby

Considering that the average American family has to wash a full acre of dishes and launder three miles of clothes every year... the present enthusiasm for automatic laundries and dishwashers is not surprising.

What is surprising is the general lack of knowledge about the kind of hot water supply necessary to make these new labor-saving devices do their jobs efficiently.

The situation is so serious that one of the leading manufacturers of laundry equipment asked the Gas Industry to double its promotion of automatic Gas water-heaters for private homes.

The reason why Gas is preferred for water-heating... particularly by washer makers... is simply this: Gas heats water faster than any other agent; A 30-gallon automatic Gas water-heater provides as much constant high-temperature water as a 100-gallon heater of any other type.

The secret, of course, is the way Gas immediately replaces and stores hot water as it is drawn off... a vital point when you realize that the most popular do-everything laundry requires 18.3 gallons of 160 degree water to soak, wash and rinse nine pounds of clothes.

Furthermore, clothes washing is just one of the many modern hot water requirements. The new automatic dishwashers need plenty, too. In doing the complete job they use three fillings... clean-off with lukewarm, actual washing with extra hot, and steam rinsing with 180 degree water... all of which must be instantaneously on tap! Add to that the dozens of house-cleaning tasks, baths, showers, shaves and cooking needs and it's easy to see why the reliable temperature control and super abundance of an automatic Gas water-heater is the only answer today.

There's one more point without which no Gas water-heating story is complete. Economy! I like to save it for last because it seems all the more remarkable that a Gas water-heater could give so much with so little effort and yet cost so little to run. Frankly, haven't you found that's true with all Gas appliances?

Faithfully yours,

Margaret Mallaby

MULE DEALERS BRAYING—TO NO AVAIL

This story leaks out of Washington: Either by trade agreement or request, Uncle Sam was to sell Mexico 8,000 mules, to take the place of their oxen slaughtered through the foot and mouth disease project now going on down there. Our Secretary of Agriculture, Clinton Anderson, sent telegrams to all known mule dealers, asking how many could they furnish. These dealers being typical Americans, went into action, buying and buying mules. Then Anderson informed them the deal was off. The mule union hastened to Washington, where they found that another individual mule buyer had dashed over to Mexico, entered private contract with that Government, to sell them all the mules they wanted at $115.00 each. This buyer then offered to buy the mules from the others at $80.00 each.
Then a Texas congressman introduced a bill in Congress to prohibit shipping mules to Mexico. Now 8,000 mules are left holding their feed bag and costing the owners 50c each per day. But that is the way of American free enterprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gage and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jenkins were dinner guests Friday of Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Morris of the Lakeview community.

- and Ability to match

GIVE yourself five seconds, and you know that here's car styling as up to the minute as the time of day.

Spend a few fast minutes to see why — and you spot both smartness right from tomorrow's designing boards and everything that should go with it. Measure the reach and spread of that Buick bonnet, brim-filled with Fireball power.

Sweep your glance over the broad beam that spells wheel, the stretch that means easy-riding wheelbase, the size that tells of enough roadweight to end jounce and jitter.

Here, you tell yourself, is something to see. Here are looks to hold the eye for seasons to come — and lively, durable ability to match:

... Rich abundance of smooth, hushed Fireball horsepower from a straight-eight kept young and lively by Accurite cylinder finish.

... Tireless coil springing on all four wheels, leveling all roads to boulevard smoothness.

... Riding poise from two steadying tons of roadweight — ease of handling from balance to draw a ballet dancer's envy. Soft, roomy cushions seating three apiece — finish that's the very last word in richness and taste.

Yes, it takes no time at all to show that you and Buick belong together, should go together steady — so what's holding you back?

After all, we can't do much about getting one to you till you make your wishes plain. You do that simply by placing your order — which will get equal consideration whether or not you have a car to trade.

TUCK AWAY PLENTY: Roomy luggage compartments hold plenty — and high-lifting lids make it easy to get at any piece.

Texas Business Activity High

AUSTIN, July 11 — Texas business activity remained 87 per cent above its prewar level in May and stood 10 per cent higher than in May a year ago, according to the index prepared by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Only sobering element in the picture was the fact that activity did turn downward slightly in May, falling 1 per cent lower than in April.

Texas business for the past 6 months has fluctuated within a narrow range but has always remained at a very high level. The postwar peak was reached in February, a month before the national peak, but the February index was only 2 per cent higher than the index for May.

Trade continued high in May, as retail sales of independent stores were 6 per cent larger than in April and 17 per cent greater than in May 1946. The general dollar figures obscure the retail trade situation, however, because prices have risen and sales in some lines declined. Sales of soft goods have failed to rise as rapidly as sales of durable goods, and luxury

Soil Conservation District News

Community group action of some 10 or 15 farmers would be an excellent way to aid further in wind erosion control.

Balboa and Abruzzo rye planting seed seems to be in demand. Several farmers have already bought seed. These two ryes are excellent ground cover against fall and winter sand blowing and each furnish good winter pasture.

Engineer Joe F. Krizek, with his surveying crew consisting of James T. Little, William D. Dugger, Robert West of Brownfield and Messrs. Harmon and Gordon of Morton, on June 27 made a one day tour of the Lubbock Soil Conservation district. This trip was made to study first hand problems relating to irrigation. This group observed several improved pastures in Lubbock County. One in particular was 55 acres of irrigated pasture carrying slightly over 500 head of mixed dairy and beef cattle.

The total rainfall recorded on the rain gauge in Brownfield for June, 1947 was a total of 3.15 inches. The total for a 35 year average for June is 2.39. Compare these two figures with June 1943, 2.08 inches; June 1944, 2.58 inches; June 1945, .75 inches; June 1946, 1.57 inches.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jenkins spent the week end in Friona visiting relatives.

Items are feeling definite slumps. Production on the whole remained steady in May throughout the State. Expected seasonal declines were reported in cotton consumption, cotton linters consumed and cottonseed crushed. On the other hand, dairy manufacturing, lumber production and crude petroleum production turned up and showed substantial gains over May of last year.

Texas agriculture continued to enjoy dollar prosperity in May with farm cash income soaring 15 per cent above the April level to stand 18 per cent above the May 1946 figure.

Q. What is meant by a guaranty of loan under the G. I. Bill?

Q. If I can't meet payments on my guaranteed loan, is payment by the government a gift to me?
A. No, payment by the Government of your guaranteed loan is not a gift. It must be repaid, and if the government pays the guaranteed part of the loan to the lender, you are obligated to the Government for that part of the loan.

Q. I have a lender who will lend me the money I need, but he wants additional security. Does the law allow his to ask for security?

HARD TO HANDLE

Of all things new, the Dallas-Ft. Worth area has had a drought on this spring. With floods here there and everywhere except on that spot on the Trinity. The Methodists produced a sprinkle with a revival two weeks ago. Then when the deep water Baptists opened up, they had a flood the past week. Now all the non-Baptists are sore at the revival crowd that made it rain because they over did the affair and produced damaging floods along the Trinity in and around both Ft. Worth and Dallas. That just goes to show that some folks are never satisfied.—Clarendon Leader.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Been galavantin' again. Been up to the city. I always come home with sore feet and a kink in my neck, and glad that I don't live amongst the stop and go signals and traffic whistles. But when 6 months roll around, there I am at the ticket window and preparing to take off again. Something like the farmer going into town to get "tight" and claiming "how he did dread it."

Things are getting a little better, maybe, in the city—but still room for improvement. On a street car, I asked the conductor if my "token" ticket was good on his line. He ripped out a raucous, "ya" meaning, I figured "yes"—anyway he grabbed the token. It was a municipal-owned car—the guy was on civil service, it would be difficult to fire him. Anybody surmising that maybe city or Govt. ownership of anything is good for a community, or brings better service, he can try a street car ride like I am talking about.

And another thing—it concerns big business versus little business. Susie says to me as we passed a grocery store, look at the figs, let's have a few. We did. They were 45 cents a pound. In the next block at another store were some more figs—same kind—25 cents a pound. This last place, some day, it will be big business. Then along will come somebody running for some office or other—and pointing at the little store that gave skookum service for less, as a menace.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA.

Farm, Business and Labor Leaders Should Be Consulted by Lawmakers, Says C. E. Wilson

A plan to utilize the knowledge, experience and service of leaders in business, agriculture and labor to aid Congress in writing fair and constructive laws is proposed by

CHARLES E. WILSON

Charles E. Wilson, president, General Electric Company, in an analysis of economic control and political freedom prepared for the American Iron and Steel Institute. "We are more interested," he wrote, "in creating new wealth for all the people than in dividing what there is, a luxury which only a state-managed economy can bestow upon its children."

Blaming "tinkering in high places" for the present situation in which many manufacturers, and other business men have "no alternative but to increase wages and kick prices a little higher in order to bail out," Mr. Wilson criticized the principal distortion in the price structure.

"In somewhat roundabout fashion," Mr. Wilson told the Iron and Steel Institute, "we have come to a situation in our national life important to management and labor, vendor and vendee, public servant and private enterpriser. It is this: Are we to purchase social stability, a more equitable distribution of wealth, and insurance against the hazards of unemployment, sickness and other unhappy by-products of a non-interference economy by giving up a large chunk of our traditional freedom and independence in favor of a planned and controlled economy?"

Stating that the nation has experienced the preliminary and conditioning doses of planned economy and after a decent interval rejected them at the polls and elsewhere Mr. Wilson continued:

"We do not want to turn away from the problems of inflation, housing, agriculture, depression and unemployment, the perils of unregulated industrial disorders, the benefits of constructive unionism, the question of universal military service, regulation of atomic energy projects, financial and investment safeguards,—from any of the things which will help more Americans live longer, healthier, safer, more comfortable, more efficient, prosperous and useful lives. We want to eat our cake—and have it."

The General Electric executive said we need "government in the modern economic picture, but government's participation must be by law, not by executive whim." Government should participate, he said as an enforcer, not as a petty tyrant.

Stating that we have right to expect only the "virtues of common sense, fairness, and respect for law in our national law makers, Mr. Wilson declared that private citizens owe them a duty to supply expert advice and counsel in special fields. It is vital, he said, that some form of continuous conference be set up at which non-governmental leaders in business, agriculture and labor will sit with representatives of the proper committees of House and Senate, and with access to the statistics and knowledge of governmental departments assist the legislative branch in writing the laws. He stressed that such a conference would be "advisory and unofficial, but extremely practical and helpful."

Read Polio Preventatives now appearing in the Herald In Interest of Public Health

Chairman Taber of the House Appropriations Committee invited me to fly to Old Mexico today—June 28—with a group from the Agriculture and Appropriations Committees for the purpose of investigating the hoof and mouth disease. The group is headed by Congressman Gillie of Indiana, a veterinarian. Congressman Worley of the Amarillo District, a member of the House Agriculture is making the trip and since Texas will be well represented I have remained in Washington to attend to duties here.

Here is the reason for the trip. The deadly hoof and mouth disease broke out in Old Mexico late last year. This past spring we appropriated $10,500,000 to be used in fighting the disease in Old Mexico, hoping to prevent the spread of the infection to the cattle of Texas and the Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, and Bob Kleberg of the famed King Ranch, provided some very convincing facts to the Committee a few days ago and I feel sure that when Dr. Gillie's group returns from Mexico Congress will provide the additional funds for combating the spread of this disease.

I hate to see us have to spend millions of American dollars for the slaughter of Mexican cattle in the infected area but everyone agrees that without such action on our part, the hoof and mouth disease will spread to the United States and paralyze the cattle industry of the nation.

The U. S. Government operates on a fiscal year basis which begins on July 1 of each year and ends June 30—not on a calendar year basis as is the case with most businesses. Therefore, the annual appropriation bills for the various government agencies must be passed by Congress and approved by the President prior to July 1, otherwise government agencies will lack the funds with which to operate after July 1.

The present Congress has utterly failed to carry out the normal procedure of government. Only one of the 12 annual appropriation bills has passed both the House and Senate and been sent to the President for approval. A stop-gap measure has been passed authorizing the agencies to continue to operate on a temporary basis but they cannot pay their obligations.

Agencies which will lack funds with which to operate on July 1 include the Department of Agriculture, Veterans Administration, State Department, War and Navy Departments, Justice Department, in fact all government agencies except the Post Office and Treasury Departments.

This is being written on June 28. The chances are that within 15 days all the major appropriation bills will have cleared Congress and gone to the President for his signature. The House has passed all of them with one exception. The delay is in the Senate.

On the tax veto, Texans in the House voted 13 to 4 to sustain the President. On the Taft-Hartley Labor, Texans voted 15 to 3 to override the veto. I voted sustain the President on the tax bill and to override the veto on the Taft-Hartley Bill.

Mrs. Emma Caskey of Corsicana is here visiting in the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Walding and Mr. Walding.

We Flunked Out On Two Side Trips

Subscribers who may have read what we "writ in this collyum" last week may have concluded that we made this thousand mile trip just to eat some ham and bring one home. That was entirely secondary. We love our old and young relatives back there, and would go to see them occasionally if they never had another ham in their homes. But we did flunk out on some side trips.

One of them was on Monday the 9th to Reelfoot lake some 100 miles from the old home and tucked away in northwest Tennessee, close to the Mississippi river, and near the Kentucky line. Well, we believe all who made that trip were a bit disappointed. It was just another murky, stagnant looking lake with few boats but lots of moccasin snakes. As some were in the bunch who had never been in the State of Kentucky, they drove over there.

The section they visited looked very much like Tennessee and they reported that they saw no distilleries, but saw a good diversified country, with good horses and cattle. You are out of the cotton country up there even before you get out of Tennessee.

But one thing that made the trip more appreciated was a monument erected to the memory of one Casey Jones, remembered in song and gossip of railroading.

Casey wasn't his given name; that part is included on the monument. But Casey Jones actually existed as an engineer on the Yazoo line of the Illinois Central railroad than ran through our old county seat and down through Mississippi to New Orleans. Chicago is the northern terminal, but Casey's run perhaps began at Jackson, Tenn.

We also flunked out and gave our seat in a three car caravan and picnicking youngsters, mostly, who hit the road on Thursday the 12th for the Shiloh battle grounds and park, and Pickwick Dam on the Tennessee. We had seen both places twice in recent years. But all got a big kick out of this trip, especially those from Texas.

However, did make one over to Bolivar, where we have some more grand nephews and nieces, some old friends, and called to pay our subscription to the old home county paper, the Bolivar Bulletin, but found the editor and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Sexton were off on a trip to California. How these editors gad about. So, drove out to the Western Hospital for the Insane, and they let us leave when we got ready.

This institution, about two miles west of Bolivar, has one of the most beautiful parks you can imagine, and giant oaks, some of them nearly seven feet in diameter two feet from the ground, and some amazingly large buildings. One is said to be over a mile around it. We took a highway out of there through the northern part of Hardeman county most of which we had never seen, but had heard much about, especially the Hickory Valley section. At Grand Junction we took 57 back to Middleton.

Outside the immediate family we had few meals this time. We enjoyed one with cousin John Casey, wife and daughter, near Pocahontas, on their fine farm—a swell feed. Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Jones, who were out here in April took us on a picnic feed that was fine at Rogers Springs. We shall have something to say about this place later. Also a delightful dinner on Saturday night the 14th with Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Rogers. He was the cousin that came home with us last summer and grabbed off one of our fine young ladies, Miss Fabelle Oliver.

We missed the usual feed with Will Smalley this year, as his wife got copperhead snake bit a week or so before we got back there, and we just didn't want to impose on her. (More Anon.)

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Parker of Tacoma, Washington visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McCraw of Johnson and Opal Parker of Brownfield. Annie McCraw returned home with them for a visit.

Lynn Machens, of Seymour visited his cousins, Jerry and Jackie Worsham this week.

Mrs. L. R. Pounds is on a two weeks vacation from Cobbs Dept. Store.

That Good Old Soya Sauce

A diet authority's release, special, tells of what a great household art has been handed down from grandmothers to daughters and on to granddaughters in the making of soya sauce. According to the writer, who may have been straining a wee bit, the details of the recipes and the strains of ferment to be used are quite important because it has been imported from China where the grandmothers seem to have just cooked some good old soya sauce forgetting to "standardize."

Over in the United States we are fixing things up a bit, "standardizing" you know, so every batch, regardless of the bacterium, molds, yeasts, or micro-organisms used, they will all taste just alike. We are good at that. Especially in hinterland of "up nawth" are we good at making it all taste like a piece of rough fencing run through the tannery and dehydrated after it has soaked awhile.

Thus, says the writer, after a few paragraphs, has the "scientist captured a Chinese art." To many of us it would have been a good idea if the scientist had had a choking fit just before he effected the capture. But anybody who has a mamma who cooks to make the food that is good for you taste good, too, or a wife who also does her best against odds to fix her husband and children something that will tempt their palates, knows these good women are getting out of fashion and will do what can be done to keep these mothers and wives from making spectacles of themselves. What if they should speak out of turn at the bridge party, the WCTU meeting or the gathering of the home demonstration club women! We must indeed standardize! All together now! Rah, Rah, Rah! Leather, Leather! Make it all taste like Leather!— Floydada Hesperian.

Miss Kate Walls of Abilene, Mrs. M. B. Hawks, of Roswell and Mrs. A. E. McCarver and son of Andrews, were weekend guests in the home of Mrs. John Walls
