

Welcome, Festival Visitors!

Record Crowds Expected To Be On Hand For Gigantic "Mardi Gras Of The Mesas"

The bunting is up, the main streets are being roped off and everything is taking shape for the big show, the Harvest Festival and Merchants Jubilee to go on with a rush today at 10 o'clock and last for the entire day. Brownfield is expecting by far the largest crowd in the history of the city.

A well rounded program for the entire day has been worked out, and you'll probably agree that it is a grand one. We are to have as our guests some of the top notch men of this state, as well as the Mexican Consul from Amarillo, not to mention thousands of other people who are just coming to see and be entertained.

In an editorial in the Sunday Avalanche-Journal, it was stated that the Jubilee celebration in Brownfield should not be confined to Brownfield and immediate area, but should be representative of all sections of the Plains and west Texas in general. That is surely the intention of the merchants, business and professional men of our city, as well as the Rotary Club here that initiated the affair.

You bet, every mother's son and daughter from here to yonder are cordially and urgently invited to be with us today. If you want to ask any questions and don't know the name of the guy you are talking to, just call him Bud, Pard, or any name you wish permissible in polite society, and you'll get his attention and perhaps the information you seek.

WELCOME, THRICE WELCOME!

'Uncle Tom' Bowers Killed by Automobile Monday Night

T. J. (Uncle Tom) Bowers, 86, a resident here for the past 20 years died at 10 p. m. Monday in the local hospital from injuries received three hours earlier. Uncle Tom was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Kenneth Hill while walking across the Lubbock-Seagraves highway at the intersection of Tate street.

Mrs. Hill stated that she did not see Mr. Bowers, until she felt the impact of striking him, and seeing him familiar walking came tumble in the air. She stopped immediately and with a host of others nearby rendered aid.

Mr. Bowers was rushed to the hospital by a Brownfield Funeral Home ambulance where it was determined that leg and pelvis fractures and numerous internal injuries caused death.

"Uncle Tom" came to Brownfield from Searcy, Arkansas in 1928, a few years after his wife died there. They had no children. He owned and operated a commercial printing plant, publishing the "Shopper" a weekly advertising paper, with his nephews, Rex and Paul Headstream. He also engaged in real estate business, and owned several properties here.

Funeral services were conducted at 3 p. m. Wednesday at the Methodist church by Herschel L. Thurston. Burial by the Brownfield Funeral Home in the Terry County Memorial cemetery.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Lillie Boyce, Maryland, and a brother, C. C. Bowers of Comanche; three nieces, Mesdames Inez Campbell of Big Spring; Opal Parker and Veda Greenfield of Brownfield. Three nephews, Rex, Wade and Paul Headstream, all of this city.

Pallbearers were: C. H. Matney, James M. Wellborn, H. R. Winston, Roy Scott, Willie Wilgus and Jack Price.

Murphy Grocery Changes Hands

Sam T. Murphy, groceryman here for many years, announced the sale of the store at Main and 5th Monday to Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Stell of Anson. The new owners took charge Tuesday and will continue the services of most of the employees there.

Mr. and Mrs. Stell will move their family here as soon as they obtain a dwelling. He is a brother of Bill Stell who managed the St. Clair variety store here a few years back. The new store will be known as Stell's Grocery & Market.

The Murphy's have not announced any plans for the future, but will remain in Brownfield as all their property interests are here, Sam stated.

The Maids and Matrons, Club are having a yearbook published.

Lions Club To Aid In Loading Friendship Train

The Brownfield Lions club, together with other Lions clubs throughout the country, are spearheading the drive to load the various "Friendship Trains" now going through the country to aid in the feeding of starving Europe.

Dr. W. A. Roberson, president of the local club, met with his directors early Tuesday in order to start the program locally. At this meeting, it was decided that boxes would be placed at various business houses to receive gifts of non-perishable food and at the bins, where farmers may conveniently deposit their gifts, such as canned goods and sacks of grain—especially wheat. Incidentally, canned goods must be in tins, as glass jars are too breakable.

The boxes are to be gathered up Wednesday, November 12th and will be loaded on one of the famous "Friendship Trains," which will arrive in Lubbock on the 15th. The trains will proceed to coastal ports, where the food will be unloaded for shipment to Europe.

Much comment over the nation has been made lately about "Aid to Europe." This is not a political party-ism. It is a far reaching problem—a future economical problem—as well as a charitable act on a big scale. Of course we, as individuals, do not have first hand information on the situation abroad, but leaders of both political parties, Generals in charge of occupational forces, Congressional committees and visitors and investigators are in absolute agreement that the cause is worthy and urgent.

Band Director Resigns Monday Night

Mr. Frank E. Wentz, officially resigned his position as band director of the Brownfield Schools Monday night at a meeting of the board of trustees.

Meanwhile, while the board is looking for a successor, Dr. W. A. Roberson, dentist, and former band director has consented to work with the band and hold it together until a regular teacher is secured.

Mr. Wentz stated that he has accepted a position with a music firm in Dallas.

GRAND JURY RETURNS TWO BILLS

The grand jury in session Tuesday returned two bills of indictment, one for driving while drunk, another for swindling by worthless check in sum over fifty dollars.

Judge Reed held short session, disposing of some minor cases, being pressed for time for an important trial on adjoining counties, adjourned to reconvene here next Monday, Nov. 10.

Parsley lends flavor, color and food value to many dishes and can be easily grown in a kitchen window box or flower pot.

The Esquire Has Grand Opening

Esquire Restaurant did not open at the lunch hour Wednesday, but rather at the dinner hour. Everything was in readiness, and by six guests began arriving, increasing as time wore on. Guests visiting The Esquire for the first time, were shown over the place.

The place is something that any city much larger than Brownfield could be proud to claim, and using a favorite expression of Walter Winchell the place is "swellegant."

Ming To Start Cotton Harvester Tuesday

Carl Ming was in Tuesday night to attend the GI night school of blacksmithing and welding. He stated that his crop in the draw northwest of town had received a pretty heavy frost and would be defoliated enough to run a cotton harvester by Tuesday.

Both he and his father-in-law, B. R. Lay will use the harvester on their cotton crops. Carl stated that the high wind Monday did not seem to damage fields very much.

The above heading does not mean the local post office service is poor. To the contrary it is excellent considering the unreliable condition of incoming and outgoing mails. In a conversation with Postmaster James H. Dallas this week, we believe he is ready to lend any assistance he can get to get a better mail distribution in and out of the office here. In fact, he stated he thought he would get in touch with the Third Assistant Post Master General at Fort Worth, and have him come out for an inspection and talk with the Chamber of Commerce and business men in general to see what can be done about the matter.

It is the general agreement by all that some other carrier than the mixed Santa Fe train will have to be procured to carry the mail if we are to have any improvement in the mail system. And like the writer, Mr. Dallas nor anyone else has anything against the railroad. It is very essential to our business life in Brownfield. In fact, the branch line of the Santa Fe is worth millions of dollars to the section.

And the railroad has some reasons for conditions themselves. When this line was built through here it was sparsely settled by farmers and ranchmen, and loadings were not so great but what fairly accurate scheduled time could be followed. But with the growth of the towns and farm areas, together with the bringing in of some of the largest oil fields in Texas, the 11 a. m. from Lubbock schedule might mean 3 p. m. and the return trip scheduled for 2 p. m. from Seagraves, might be after dark.

And no one can very well blame the Santa Fe for waiting at Lubbock an hour or two for 15 or 20 carloads of piping for the oil fields, or leave the mail car shuttled on a siding while the crew helped to load out several cars of cattle. For that reason, however, the afternoon mail is seldom made up here for the train, but held for the mail car that leaves around 7 p. m. for Lubbock.

And, sometimes swine and other animals are shipped in the same freight cars with the mail. On one or more occasions, mail sacks have been stacked on the hog crates, and some sacks have been chewed up together with contents, be it parcel post, letters with money orders or checks. Of course this is very infrequent, but it has actually happened.

Now just a bit of our own experience in recent months. Part of the time when people at Wellman wants something to appear that week in the Herald, they send it special delivery. But we received a letter last week from our correspondent Friday, after the paper was done printed and mailed. The post mark of the Wellman office said, "Oct. 28." That was last Tuesday. Three days of traveling 12 miles—that is not even pony express speed—that folks, is slower than oxcart travel. The only thing we can compare it to is "snail speed."

And we have the poorest mail connection with Meadow to be imagined. There is no way to get papers or other mail from this direction until late Fridays. So, they go out on the rural routes Saturdays. It is either that or carry them yourself early Friday morning.

Folks, if we go on like this, it will hurt us with new prospective settlers, when they find out about our mail business. They'll think we are just as far behind in other ways. This is the day of fast trains, fast buses and air mail. We are no longer back in 1849. Let's do something besides talk. Let's give our Chamber of Commerce something to do other than eat, smoke and talk.

City Lets Contract For Sewer System

The largest construction contract ever made at one time by the City of Brownfield was let last Tuesday evening. It was for $200,765.41 for the huge and long awaited sewer system for which bonds were voted last year. The Panhandle Construction company of Lubbock was the successful bidder.

The work includes construction of a new and large disposal plant complete, one mile southeast down the draw of the present plant, sufficient to care for this rapidly increasing city for many years. A main line is to run up the draw, under the railroad bridge, to be in reach of all of the northwest part of town which has never had such accommodations and also to reach all of the Cordell addition, in the East part of town just south of Tahoka road. Also to reach the south side of town, to the Legion hall vicinity and across the highway to the extreme south part of town.

The Panhandle construction co., who laid the brick paving here around the square and other buildings here, state they have most of the piping and material in stock and will begin preliminary work next week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Smith, of El Reno, Okla., visited Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. G. M. Thomason and Mr. Thomason.

A New Editor Born Last Saturday

Well, well, it looks as if the Stricklin family is going on awhile yet, as little 8 pound Robert Andrew Stricklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stricklin, jr., made his appearance last Saturday at 7:30 A. M., at the local hospital. We have been waiting for his dad to take this assignment but that individual has been about as busy as a pack of hunting dogs this week.

So, the Old He and grandpa in one will take on to let the folks all know that a new member of the staff of the Herald is here, and in the course of time, we hope to make a newspaper man out of this young gentleman. He is named for both his paternal and maternal grand parents.

We are proud to welcome young Robert Andrew to our city as well as to the newspaper fraternity. We have already found he is pretty vocal, and if he can use a typewriter just as well, he is well on his way to newspaperdom. He and mother, both doing nicely, were carried home from the hospital Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Self had as their guests Tuesday Mr. Homer Self and Mrs. R. F. Self, of Melbourne. Mrs. Self remained for a longer visit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nelson and Mrs. J. C. Criswell attended the Eastern Star Grand Chapter meeting in San Antonio Sunday through Friday of last week.

Probably it is not best for any one to drink; we are not going to argue that point here. But most of us have seen or heard evidence that convinced us that any person who is inclined to be aggressive, insulting or overbearing to others when drinking, should especially let liquor alone, for it will get you in trouble as sure as there is a heaven. And this would apply equally to those who drive cars when in an inebriated condition. If we should kill, wound or maim anyone while in that condition, our conscience would hurt us all the days of our lives. Let all of us be on our guard to do the right thing at all times. This is not intended to be a rebuke to those who may drink occasionally, especially in their own homes or the homes of their friends, but to all of us who might get out of reason.

No, dear brother, you do not vote out communism at the next election. That is just not done, even if you don't like it. If the commies once get in power, it is always as a dictatorship, and only a bloody revolution changes things in that case. And as far as the next election is concerned in a dictatorship nation, whether it be called communism, fascism or nazism, all free election are gone with the wind. Only a bloody revolution of the people of that nation, or the intervention of some democratic nation by arms, can change matters. Read your history book for just the past 100 years, and use that old noggin of yours for something other than to eat and sleep.

Following the fatal accident here this week, reminds us that Brownfield is in need of some more stop lights, badly. We understand that the city council has five more in mind, but we are not qualified to say where they should be placed. But in observing traffic for some time, we note that one could be used at the following places: Broadway at Sixth; Broadway at Fifth; Hill at Fifth and Tate at First. Usually there is quite a jumble and uncertainty at the juncture of the Lubbock-Tahoka highways, but whether anything is needed right now save a caution light, we would not know.

It may just be the natural born hillbilly in us, but when a lot of fuss is made over so-called royalty and "blue blooded" people we want to get out behind the smokehouse and vomit, or to use the more explicit hillbilly meaning, just puke. We started reading such an article in the Star-Telegram recently by a female writer of that journal, who has a leave of absence to go over to England and do the "royal" wedding up in tinfoil. Even though that gal, who claims to be nothing more or less than just a plain Texas Democrat, she is just pointing out how we in the good old USA go over to "dear ole Hingland" and kawtow to the so-called "blue blooded." Well, maybe their blood is blue, after all. From what we have read of some of them in ancient, medieval and even modern history, some of them were not red blooded. Such mush disgusts us.

"Wimmen" are peculiar folks, and we get a great kick out of their actions at times. Tother night a bride elect and a good friend of the family, was over to show us her hat "creation." And the person that thought up that creation was some creator. Of course all the other ladies ah'ed and oh'ed at the "hat." We stuck our foot in our big mouth by asking what it was. While it was made of feathers, we could think of nothing it favored more to us than the "crown of thorns" pictured by Bible painters, that was placed on the head of Jesus. Good idea the coming bride knows us so well, or she would never speak to us again. But that gal looks good no matter what kind of creation she wears on her head, or whether just barheaded. But what in the world would we do without the ladies? bless 'em.

Leo Travis Coming Home Soon

Had an air mail letter from Leo Travis, who is at present a civil employee over on the island of Guam, M. I. He says we might as well stop his Herald, as he is coming home in the next few weeks. But he says he sure has enjoyed the old home town paper. Along with the letter came two copies of the "Navy News," which we found to be very interesting and contained some mighty fine articles.

Be seeing you soon, Leo.

Lynn County Officials Visit Our Fair

Met some of the Lynn county officials who were over attending the Terry County fair. In fact, Judge Homer Winston handed us their names after introduction. The slip of paper was crammed in that little "watch" pocket inside your right hand coat pocket, and forgotten.

Just what that pocket was created for, we have never been able to fathom, except to lose stuff in. Anyway the visiting officials were Tom Garrard, County Judge, E. J. Cooper, Commissioner Precinct 1; Herman Reed, County Treasurer; Walter Mathis, County Clerk; Jake Weathers, Commissioner Precinct 4, and Bill Griffin, County Agent.

Alleged Slayer of Lasiter Indicted

The Gaines county Grand Jury which were empaneled for the new term at Seminole Monday morning, promptly returned a bill of indictment against Ed Aubin, a 70 year old hotel operator at Seagraves charging him with the murder of Homer H. Lasiter. Aubin who is well known to Seagraves and Seminole peace officers, was taken into custody soon after the shooting which resulted in Lasiter's death and jailed at Seminole. His bond was set at $5,000 by Judge Reed upon arraignment.

Information obtained by investigating officers, was to the effect that Lasiter had been at the hotel, apparently on friendly terms with Aubin, but suddenly became involved in an argument over a minor matter, when the accused shot him through the upper stomach with a pistol.

Lasiter, while being rushed to the local hospital told officers how it happened.

Aubin is said to have lived in Seagraves for the past three years coming there from Borger.

Mrs. G. T. Peyton, of Pecos is here visiting in the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. T. Stafford.

Conserve But Consume Proper Food

Commenting on the food conservation program now being stressed throughout the nation, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer today emphasized the importance of including the proper food requisites in the daily diet, as being important to the maintenance of health.

"Food conservation is an absolute necessity and all Texans are eager to assist in this program; but eliminating needless basic foods will only result in undernourishment and illness, which can be avoided by observing the Texas Food standard in daily meals," Dr. Cox said. "This food standard will enable Texans to utilize available foods, eliminate waste, cooperate in conserving food and spend their food dollar wisely."

The Texas Food Standard, recommended by Dr. Cox, provides all necessary food elements, and for each individual includes daily servings of 1 pint to 1 quart of milk; 1 egg or substitute; 1 serving meat, poultry or fish; 1 serving potatoes; 1 serving green or yellow vegetables; 1 serving citrus fruit or tomatoes; 1 serving other fruit; 1 serving whole grain products; other enriched cereals or breads; small amount butter or margarine with vitamins added; some sweets or desserts in moderate quantities.

"Good nutrition is based upon the observance of good food habits, practiced every day," Dr. Cox declared. "This is important at any time, but especially now, when it will not only maintain good health but assist in the conservation of food supplies."

Immunization For Terry County — By SPHU

Diphtheria—The results of active immunization against diphtheria are so reliable and so well-known they need no elaboration. However the more than 1500 cases and 101 reported deaths in Texas during 1946 emphasize the need for more vigorous efforts to protect against this preventable disease. In Terry County we had two cases during the summer months which is unusual. Active immunization is recommended for all children under 7 years of age, for children over this age who have a positive Schick and for adults who are in exposed conditions (doctors, nurses, etc.). The average adult need not be immunized.

Whooping cough—In 1946 there were 80 reported deaths from whooping cough among Texas children and more than 8,000 reported cases of this disease, which often causes troublesome complications, even when death does not ensue. During the first 25 weeks of 1947 there were already more than 13,000 cases. Therefore, the importance of whooping cough cannot be overemphasized.

With the problem of pertussis of such magnitude in Texas, particularly among the medically indigent groups, immunization against pertussis should be done, and it is advisable to begin the first 2 or 3 months of life.

Typhoid—In general typhoid vaccine should be given (1) in localities where milk and water supply are not approved and sewerage disposal is known to be inadequate; (2) to persons who are in exposed occupations or persons likely to be exposed when

Lyntegar Gets Loan Of $334,000

The Herald received a copy of a telegram sent from Washington to Garland Pennington, manager of Lyntegar REA Electric Cooperatives. The telegram was sent Monday by Ruth B. Proscue, Washington office clerk of Congressman George Mahon, who himself is in Texas.

The telegram states that Lyntegar REA cooperatives, have been granted a loan for new line extensions and improvements of $334,000, to be used in Terry, Gaines and Yoakum counties.

This will be good news to many of our farmers who had to wait for rural electric line through the war years.

Roy Keaton, Assistant Secretary General of the Lions International, of Chicago and H. C. Petry, 3rd Vice President, visited with Mayor Frank Jordan this week. They were enroute to other clubs south of here.

traveling areas where milk and water supply and sanitation are questionable, (vacations, trips, etc.); (3) in cases of epidemics of typhoid fever.

The usual age for various immunizations are as follows: Whooping cough: 2-3 months of age.

Diphtheria: 6-9 months of age. Diphtheria and Whooping cough combined: 6-9 months if whooping cough vaccine has not been given previous. Booster or stimulating dose should be given not longer than 2 years for whooping cough; 3 years for diphtheria.

Smallpox: 6-12 months of age. Revaccination for smallpox 3 to seven years after first successful take, or oftener if exposed to smallpox.

Typhoid: 2 years of age. Booster or stimulating dose each year after series of three doses.

150 LAP STOCK CAR RACE IN LUBBOCK

Speed fans will have an opportunity to cheer their favorite automobiles for several hours this coming Sunday afternoon at the Lubbock Fair Grounds track as the North American Stock Car Racing Association presents a 150 lap race open only to late model standard makes of American automobiles.

Fords, Plymouths, Mercurys, Chevrolets, Jeeps, Hudsons, DeSotos, Buicks and Chryslers are expected to face the starter's flag as their pilots, amateurs as well as some of America's top test drivers, compete for over $1500 in cash awards as well as the International Motor Contest Association trophy for the southwestern champion.

Time trials are slated for 1:30 followed by two races for drivers not qualifying for the main event, with the gruelling 150 lap competition due to get underway at 2:30.

In the qualifying trials these cars will be clocked for time laps with the best lap determining the position in the race.

Under the rules of the International Motor Contest Association which sanctions the meeting, convertibles and pick-ups are barred due to the danger in roll-overs, with all cars, except jeeps, sedans or coupes. No "jallopys" will be allowed.

Among top entrants are Frank Winkley, veteran Dertoit, Michigan test driver, Tommy Thompson well known Lubbock Midget racer, Casey Wrightwood, Dallas, Dick Jones, Peoria, Ill. and Jimmy James, Chicago.

Farm-operator families in the North Central and Southern states spent an average of $82 per family for medical care in 1945, an increase of $31 per family over 1941.

Shrouded in Secrecy

WITH international control of atomic bombs still deadlocked in the United Nations, our government, although willing to come to terms as outlined by the Baruch report, is taking no chances either in the manufacture or policy making divisions of the atomic energy commission.

The building occupied by this commission in Washington at 19th and Constitution avenue is probably the most heavily guarded public building in the world and not even members of the commission can enter or leave without running the gamut of close inspection and "fool proof" identification.

The building was formerly the home of the public health service and during the war was occupied by the joint chiefs of staffs and part of the elaborate system of alarms was installed then to make the building tamper proof.

There are approximately 100 specially trained war veterans, who have been given intensified training in security measures, patrolling the building.

Windows are protected by electric eyes which set off alarms and specify the point of entry; doors are electrically controlled and can be opened and closed after regular business hours only by two guards with keys at two separate points; the electric system cannot be cut off or sabotaged from the outside; roofs and walls are electrically sensitive and nothing larger than a pigeon could settle on the roof without setting off an alarm; floodlights spot the building during night hours.

Sen. Owen Brewster's war investigating committee, with Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan in the driver's seat, has renewed, with great secrecy its probe into the Howard Hughes war contracts. Witnesses are spirited into the hearing room, which also is kept secret. The Michigan senator said public hearings would start November 17.

True to Precedent

Bull-necked Congressman John Taber of New York returned from a six-country tour of Europe saying he saw no evidence of anyone suffering from lack of food. Congressman Taber's blindness to facts has been apparent many times during his service in congress. One observer remarked "It is precisely this superficial attitude that is likely to drive underfed peoples in war-torn lands to despair. What may be even more serious, it is likely to mislead complacent Americans who overestimate Taber's ability to see what is under his nose."

Debate Fizzles

Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming is probably the best debater in the U. S. senate. Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio is more or less a campaign manager for Senator Taft and ranks high in GOP counsels. Consequently, announcement by the National Press club that these two men would discuss the "issues of 1948" drew a large crowd.

Ordinarily these "debates" at the national press club are "off the record" and the speakers "let their hair down." When the two men arrived at the luncheon, however, they found arrangements had been made to broadcast the debate over a local radio station. Result, a slapping on the wrist by each and certainly no debate over 1948 issues.

At least, President Truman apparently plans to deal harshly with any of the speculators who attempt to gamble on the grain market in an effort to make huge profits out of the misery of Europe's foodless people.

Census of Industry

Questionnaires for the first nationwide census of manufacturers since before the war will be in the hands of U. S. manufacturers early in 1948. Termed by the census bureau as the "most important single industrial census ever taken," the census will cover production, labor, materials, fuel and electrical energy involved in production, inventories of goods on hand, use of highway motor vehicles and expenditures for plants and equipment.

The Civil Service Commission has announced examinations for several positions with Veterans Administration offices in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi.

Positions open include Contract Officer, Contract Section Supervisor and Contract Unit Supervisor. Entrance salaries for these jobs range from $4,149 to $5905 per year.

Also open are jobs as Instructor-Education Retraining, Instructor Supervisor and Chief Education Retraining. Entrance salaries range from $2644.80 to $4,149.60 per year.

Application forms may be obtained from the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Veterans Administration, Branch Office No. 1114 Commerce St., Dallas.

Each veteran in training under the G I Bill will receive a notice from the Veterans Administration with future subsistence checks advising him not to cash the check if he believes he is not entitled to the full amount of the payment.

The notices are designed to help eliminate subsistence allowance overpayments and the necessity for refunds by veterans VA said.

The notice informs the veteran that, according to VA records he is still in training. It urges the veteran to contact his nearest VA office before cashing the check if he has stopped training or has any reason to believe the check represents an overpayment of his account.

If the veteran is entitled to a part of the money, VA said it will make every effort to adjust his records and issue another check without delay.

Behind the Scenes in American Business

By Reynolds Knight

You do not hear much about thrift these days. It seems to be an old-fashioned word as well as an old-fashioned virtue. But the Christmas Clubs as an example of thrift—and as a means of storing up purchasing power for the gift season—are thriving as never before. More than two million Americans saved almost $150 million this year through mutual savings bank Christmas Clubs. The average sum of $74.54 is not at the disposal of each man and woman participant. Some of this gladsome money, at least, will jingle through merchants' cash registers all over the U. S. Christmas Clubs as a means of saving was started in the mutual savings banks, which are largely concentrated in the east. But other types of banks took up the idea quickly, and now people all through the country make use of their convenience. There is a moral here somewhere. It seems to be simply this: give the average American a specific purpose for saving and he can be counted upon to act as thrifly as any New Englander.

THINGS TO COME—They are still making new things out of plastics; here comes a new plastic curler which bends with the contour of the head and allows m-lady a good night's sleep with her hair "up"—you can keep your live bait alive longer by putting the minnow in a plastic case perforated in such a way that the water passes through—at least four more companies are getting out that plastic that the youngsters use for blowing bubbles . . . Through electronics they are now able to locate leaks in pipelines, valves and tanks; while General Electric announces an improved version of the "electric eye" which can see up to 1,000 feet—Latest kitchen gadget is a pair of stainless steel pliers for gripping hot pans and other utensils—A new sun lamp folds under the bed and is equipped with a built-in automatic timer . . . Not alone the motor car companies but the motor cycle manufacturers are introducing new models now

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

You know, not until the Govt. sticks its nose into your own business, does the average person sit up and take notice. So long as it is the other guy that Sambo is pestering, it is okay. But it is the same with all our afflictions. You take a neighbor headin' for the dentist with an abscessed tooth—that is his baby. But let it be your own molar, sisters and brothers, it is no minor matter.

I got in mind how nobody is paying much attention to the nibbling here and nibbling there, that the Govt. is doing on business—getting a big foot on the powerhouse door—becoming the nation's biggest trader in the grain market—forgetting the war is over and bargain' in on priorities—using a slide rule on the farmer to decide what to and what not to plant. Except you are touched, you pay no heed.

So today I am poppin' off with this warning. As Uncle Samuel gets to feeling his oats more and more, and is not slapped down—you are just as liable to find the old boy sittin' on your own doorstep most any morning. It happened in Great Britain—just like that. So folks, get registered—get your vacations over—you have only one year left to ponder.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA.

VOLCANO ASH USED IN BRICK, TILE

Manufacturers of building brick clay and sewer pipe will benefit from a discovery made by a University of Texas ceramic engineer.

F. K. Pence, chairman of the department of ceramic engineering has discovered that the addition of cheap, abundant Texas volcanic ash to brick clay and sewer pipe will improve the quality and lower the price. Further, the ash increases water resistance of heavy clay products.

Ash is adaptable only to heavy clay products, Pence pointed out, because its color is dark. It is virtually non-absorbent and therefore ideally suited for heavy materials.

SHIPMENTS OF LIVESTOCK SHOW INCREASE

Livestock shipments in Texas totaled 8,912 carloads in September to exceed August shipments by 34 per cent, reported the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. At the same time last year, shipments slid 18 per cent between August and September.

Shipments of cattle soared to 3,559 carloads during the month to tally a 41 per cent hike. Calves registered a 28 per cent gain, hog shipments were up 18 per cent during the month and sheep shipments advanced 22 per cent.

Interstate shipments (plus Fort Worth) rolled forward 37 per cent between August and September, with most of the gain resulting from the 46 per cent jump in cattle shipments.

West Texas C of C Referendum Votes

Proposed policies and work program for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in 1948 are being debated by town groups in the area served by the regional organization as its 1947 convention season—sixth annual of the referendum type—nears the climax.

Announcement from the headquarters office Saturday said reports had been received of local referendum meetings held during late October in 22 of the 140 affiliated West Texas towns. The number is expected to exceed 100 before Nov. 11—Armistice Day—when the directors' assembly will convene in Abilene to register the final binding vote on all planks in this year's referendum ballot.

H. C. Custard of Cleburne, WTCC president, will preside at the 7-hour windup session. It will be an all-business affair with an hour's time-out for the annual assembly luncheon at which C. W. Bailey, banker of Clarksville, Tenn., will be the speaker. Bailey is the immediate past president of the American Bankers Association.

For Rural Life

Policy planks in this year's ballot as presented and recommended for adoption by various WTCC commissions call for work for enhancement of Texas rural economy and life; for parity in freight rates with new comprehensive studies of commodity rates moving raw materials produced in volume; continuation of the West Texas industrialization campaign; security benefits for full-time workers in the area's local chambers of commerce; and promotion of better relations with Mexico.

All planks have been closely gone over at WTCC's eight district referendum meetings held from Oct. 14 through the 24th. Most extended discussion has been on Plank 2 advocated by the Agricultural & Livestock commission headed by W. R. Cusenberry of Sonora. This resolves that the regional chamber campaign for adoption of the state constitutional amendment submitted by the last Legislature which, if adopted at the November 1948 general election, will permanently abolish the state ad valorem tax for general revenue purposes, and second, authorize by popular vote to levy property taxes up to 30 cents per $100 valuation for financing their own farm to market roads and flood control projects.

Soil and Water Conservation

The WTCC commission's proposal in Plank 2 is that, if the amendment is adopted by Texas voters, the Legislature pass an enabling act forthrightly defining soil and water conservation as coming within flood control, and authorizing the respective counties to set up tax supported funds earmarked in advance for determining and meeting their own distinctive problems in that broad field aimed at improving rural economy and life, as well as for lateral roads.

The commission contends that abolition of the ad valorem tax heretofore going in to the state treasury could be diverted to provide the 132 counties of West Texas with not less than $4 million annually for these purposes—all without establishing new political subdivisions and incurring added overhead administrative expense. Such a plan, says the commission, will provide faster, more effective and more economical methods for preserving and fully utilizing the county's soil and water resources.

Tie-In With Districts

The conservation plank stresses that enabling legislation for putting the constitutional amendment into operation should require that each county's soil and water work tie in with and carry out its share of any existing district conservation program to which it is committed, with its portion of the overall fund to be spent within the county. Other safeguards call for a definite time limit on the entire program so as to assure relief from the tax after a given period; for explicit breaking down and allocation of the county's tax fund with a 75 per cent ceiling on any one project; and for providing good fiscal control to assure maximum farmer protection and benefits.

If Plank 2 is adopted the West Texas chamber will study out and submit to the next Legislature a proposed enabling bill. Wiley Caffey, president of the West Texas County Judges & Commissioners Association, has joined WTCC's agricultural commission in sponsoring the plank.

Tarpley Says His Wheat Crop Up

Called around to chew the fat a bit with M. G. Tarpley, manager of the J. B. Knight implement section, one day last week, and our conversation drifted to the sandier lands of Terry county, and what could be done to reclaim them. We suggested that some of the deeper sand lands should never have been put in cultivation.

Mr. Tarpley is a great believer in deep breaking, and while he suggested that some of these sandier lands should be reset with some of the new pasture grasses for grazing, he believed that many of these fields could be reclaimed and put back in cultivation very successfully by rebreaking deeply, turning the heavy clay on top, thus getting a good mixed soil.

He then went on to state that he had a section of pretty sandy land that the tenant left this spring after some attempts to hold a crop on it. In late summer, the land was broke very deep, and his section of the county received a fairly good rain in September.

He stated that his wheat was now up, growing and as green as Former President Herbert Hoover, a world wide food expert, made an official tour of all Europe last winter, and reported this need to us last January. It is easy to see, that any country, blown to devastation by four years of destruction, cannot recover in two years. Besides, they, as well as we, have suffered record storms and droughts this year.

Unfortunately, Europe has, by the powers that be, been divided. Eastern Europe has been dominated by Russia—let Russia feed them. But the people of Western Europe lean to us and on us. It is either for us to sustain them or they, too, will go under Soviet rule. And if and when they do, the hereafter may well be, well—the famous "hereafter."

The time for this drive is limited. People are urged to contribute promptly. The boxes are to be picked up next Wednesday and be entrained a week from tomorrow.

you please. He will not only have a splendid winter pasture for his livestock, but if we have the usual snows through the winter, he will have a good wheat harvest next spring.

What Did His Grandpa Do?

"Farmers in the dairy business have a pretty good future ahead of them, if . . ."

That's what extension dairymen of Texas A and M College are saying. And that "if" is mighty important.

"If the herd replacements are the result of a good bull; if the feeding program is built around good pastures, high quality hay and plenty of silage, and if the job of managing the herd is handled in such a way that the cows produce quality products for the market, then the dairy outlook is good."

Good dairy management goes back in the end, to one thing—the right kind of sire for the herd. The feeding program won't help much if the cows are culls; there won't be plenty of quality products for the market if the cows aren't good producers and aren't handled right. The way to get best results, all the way round, is to pick out a good bull.

The extension dairymen say that a prospective buyer should thoroughly investigate the bull under consideration. Go back to the records of his sire and dam and his grand sire and grand dam. The production records and type classifications of tested daughters of all three generations are especially important.

His physical condition, feet and legs, disposition, general appearance and size should be considered. The health record of the herd from which he came should be examined. The needs of the herd for which he is being bought should always be kept in mind.

The future of the dairy business depends on the breeding program, and the breeding program depends on the bull.

State Seeks To Delay In Sweatt Hearing

The state entered a motion Oct. 30 in the third court of civil appeals requesting an extension of time from Nov. 1 to Nov. 15 to complete its brief answering the mandamus action of Heman Marion Sweatt, Houston negro seeking to force his admission to the University of Texas.

Attorneys for Sweatt agreed to the motion.

Court attaches said they believed a heavy docket of cases will prevent setting of hearing on the Sweatt case before Jan. 1, unless one or both the parties ask for an advanced hearing.

SHORT STORY

A Perfect Alibi

By ANN HARRIS

"BUT, sergeant," Gilson insisted, "last night at midnight I was home in bed. He—" pointing to a pompous individual sitting near, "he didn't see me at that hour. He couldn't, unless he was up in my room."

The other sneered, "Yeah," he said, "you were home in bed. Your ghost, I suppose, was walking about at midnight."

The sergeant raised his hand for silence. He had known Frank Gilson, whom he was questioning with regard to a burglary of the night before, as a quiet family man, employed as a mill accountant for a number of years, and always honest and trustworthy. He was loath to believe that Gilson had now turned to burglary, breaking into a hardware store, cracking the safe and robbing it of $2,000.

The mills, however, had been closed for nearly six months, and Gilson may have been driven to theft through need. He had a family to provide for.

Although Howard Crossley, the pompous one who claimed to have seen Gilson fleeing from the vicinity of the store at midnight, was a newcomer to the town, yet he was respected by all who knew him.

The sergeant knitted his brows. It was a case of mistaken identity he felt sure.

"Maybe," Gilson spoke up, "Maybe he robbed the safe himself."

"What!" Crossley shouted. "How dare you intimate that I would do such a thing?"

"Why did you say that?" the sergeant asked Gilson.

"Well," Gilson replied slowly, "one day last week I saw him examining the back windows of the store. He noticed, too, that I was watching him. That is why he is now accusing me. It was through the back windows you say the burglars got in."

Crossley sprang to his feet. "You lie," he cried hoarsely, "you never saw me near the windows."

THE sergeant told him to be quiet. Crossley apologized.

"Now the man you saw near the store," the sergeant asked Crossley, "you are sure was Gilson? Perhaps you made a mistake."

"I made no mistakes," Crossley replied firmly. "It was he."

"Tell us again just how you came to be there at the time, and saw Gilson coming away."

"As I said before," he began, "I had been at my office all evening. It was nearly midnight when I left. I walked down Main street, intending to go to the restaurant."

"At the corner of Main and Pine streets, where the store is, I turned into Pine. The restaurant where I usually lunch is at the other end. When about in the middle of the block I noticed a man slinking close to the building, occasionally looking backwards over his shoulder. When he caught sight of me he jerked his arm up and pulled his hat down over the side of his face, the side closest to me—the right side. I had already recognized him, though. It was Gilson."

"He was slinking close to the building."

"What did you do after that?" the sergeant asked.

Crossley continued, "From the man's actions I suspected that something was wrong and started to hunt for the constable."

"You positively identify Gilson as the person you saw?"

"I do. I saw his face clearly before he pulled his hat down."

All the while Crossley was speaking, Gilson was listening attentively. "You say," he asked finally, "that I pulled my hat down over my face and ran back? How could I see where to run with my face covered?"

"I didn't say you covered your whole face," Crossley snapped. "I said the right side. Your left eye was open and I guess you could see with that."

"What are you laughing at, Gilson?" the sergeant broke in. "Unless you can prove where you were last night, it may go hard with you."

Gilson made no reply but took off his spectacles and wiped them carefully. Suddenly he pulled his left eye out of its socket and handed it to the sergeant.

The eye was glass.

TO AN APPLE A DAY ADD CELERY, CARROTS

An apple a day—plus a little celery and raw carrots—will keep the dentist away, says a University of Texas Dental School doctor.

"One way to prevent tooth decay in children is for them to chew raw carrots, celery, and apples at the end of every meal. Although it is no sure prevention, it will help lessen decay," Dr. S. S. Arnim said.

As good as celery, carrots and apples chewed immediately after a meal, he said, is a good scouring with a tooth brush.

"Anything," Dr. Arnim added, "to get the food out of the mouth and into the stomach, where it belongs."

Mrs. M. G. Tarpley left Sunday to visit her mother, Mrs. C. J. Johnson who lives in Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Holmes attended funeral services for Fred Childress in Seminole Thursday of last week. Mr. Childress was killed in a plane crash near Big Spring.

Here's Post-war Power for Pre-war Buicks

A brand-new 1947 Fireball engine puts today's Sparkling Zip into your 1937-1942 Buick

If you've been itching to get the thrill of a power-packed 1947 Buick engine under your treadle toe, here's the quick and happy solution.

It's a factory-fresh Fireball engine right off the 1947 production line. It's exactly the same mighty package of power that goes into the flashing new Buicks. You can get it now to repower any Buick built in the last ten years.

How can we do it—when new cars are so hard to get? Here's the answer:

While shortages of bodies and other parts slow up completed cars, Buick engine production has forged ahead. So engines are available now—ready to go into your car and step it up with today's up-to-the-minute power performance.

And it's as simple as this: We take out the old engine—put this new one in its place—and your car's young again, rarin' to go, with a new lease on life and headed for thousands and thousands of miles of smooth, spirited service.

It doesn't take long—far less time than a thorough overhaul—and often at less cost. Convenient payments can be arranged, if you like.

It's the next best thing to getting a new Buick—and a good investment because it makes your car worth so much more.

Certainly well worth while looking into, isn't it? Come in and let's talk it over.

Soil Conservation District News

A recent survey of Terry County by Soil Conservation District Technicians on crop residue reveals that in the south portion, where late fall rains were had, that fall grasses have covered the ground in cotton fields, thus affording better land cover against wind erosion. Most of Terry county has been farmed to cotton on types of land that easily blows through the winter and early spring. This large cotton acreage presents a problem for serious wind erosion hazards unless properly managed by the farmer himself. Cotton stalks in straight rows blow out more easily than contour rows, cotton on light sandy land is a very serious problem, and if the dry season continues dry from now until spring the blow hazard to farm land will not be lessened. With these problems confronting the average farmer the question arises as to how he should manage cotton land to keep down the blowing hazards. Several farmers contacted say that if sufficient moisture arrives in time they will deep flat break and leave the land rough and packed down with tractor tires to prevent unnecessary blowing. Others say that they will deep break and bring up some clay to hold the soil. Several have seeded wheat and Balboa Rye in the cotton stubble to obtain a cover crop as a protection against blowing.

Apparently, no two farmers can or will solve this problem in the same way, nevertheless, definite action should be exercised to prevent any land from blowing, is the general opinion of all landowners. The CYT District Supervisors, leading farmers, and the Soil Conservation District Personnel are ready to assist in getting the job done in order to save our top soil from blowing next spring.

Despite many handicaps, several farmers in this area have made a fair success of improved pastures.

A District Conservation Supervisors election has been called to be held for Dec. 5, 1947, at 7:30 P. M. at the Johnson school house for the purpose of selecting one new district supervisor. Landowners of precincts 3 and 4 of Terry county may vote. Remember the date and do your duty by voting.

If farmers who plan terraces or contour guide lines in their Conservation Program for another year will contact the CYT District office in the basement of the Post Office, necessary assistance will be available. Your District Conservation Program was organized back in 1940 for this very purpose, to assist with the free planning of a soil and moisture conservation plan for every farm. Conserve Your Soil.

Several farmers say that if ground moisture is available between now and December 1, they will seed Balboa Rye for a cover crop and pasture.

Sulfa Experiments In Bangs Disease

Experiments with a new sulfa drug to combat Bangs disease in cattle and undulant fever in human beings will soon be made at the University of Texas.

In the Clayton Brucellosis Laboratory, directed by Dr. V. T. Schuhradt, the new drug sulfamethazine, will be tested on infected cattle.

Tests already made show that the drug will come through the mammary gland in high concentration, Dr. Schuhradt said, and other sulfa drugs tested in the laboratory did not kill all bacteria in the mammary gland.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Benton and children, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Brown, Mrs. J. D. McCullough and Betty Ferguson spent Sunday in Odessa visiting Mr. and Mrs. Carl Marshall.

GI Question And Answer Department

During what period must a World War II veteran have served to become eligible for the educational benefits of the GI Bill of Rights?

A. From September 16, 1940, through July 25, 1947. Any veteran enlisting on or before July 25, 1947 is entitled to educational benefits according to the length of his service, thereafter.

Q. May a veteran of World War II study with a private teacher and receive benefits?

A. Yes, if the veteran is disabled to the extent that a private teacher or tutor is required for his rehabilitation. Non-disabled veterans are not entitled to a private teacher.

Q. If I obtain a GI loan to go into business and the business fails, is the guaranteed portion of the loan paid by the Government charged to me or is it an outright gift to me?

A. guaranteed loan is not a gift to the veteran. It must be repaid. If the Government has to pay the guaranteed portion of the GI Loan to the lender, the veteran is obligated to the Government for the payment.

Q. I would like to appear before the Veterans Administration rating board to explain my application for compensation. Will VA pay my traveling expenses?

A. No.

Q. Can a veteran of the Spanish-American War get Government insurance because of his service in the armed forces?

A. No.

Buford Milner, student at Tech, spent the week end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Milner.

Sign Normal Times Have Returned

The radio industry is one of the first to get caught up on production.

What happens then? Just this, with almost enough radios to satisfy the demand each company has to either offer a better radio for the price—offer a better trade in, or a combination of both. Crosley is probably the first to realize that the market has "gone competitive" again. Proof of this is in the ad Wright & Eaves, local Crosley dealer ran in last week's Herald.

This ad offered fifty dollars for your old radio, regardless of its condition, a pretty sizable discount on the purchase of a radio-phonograph in the two hundred dollar class.

And smart merchandising on the part of Wright & Eaves who seem to be out after new business in a big way.

Mystery Play To Be Given by School Club

The dramatic club of the high school, known as The Footlighters, will present a three act mystery comedy Monday, November 10 at 8 P. M. in the high school auditorium. Student tickets are 25c and adults 50c.

The play titled, "The Suspense" centers around the people who work in a radio broadcast doing Sherlock Holmes stories. A jeweled cigarette case introduced early in the play furnishes mystery that brings in a great many suspicious characters. An unusual broadcast in the third act clears up the mystery and brings the play to a close.

Miss Ruth Griffin, librarian in the high school, spent the week end in Lubbock visiting friends.

SOME ONE PULLS WRONG LINO SLUG

Last week in the write up of the death and burial of our brother-in-law, J. A. Roberts of Cananona, an error occurred, which was marked for correction, but someone jumbled the matter. The lines should have read as follows:

"Mrs. Ida Collins of Big Spring and Mrs. Irene McKinley of San Angelo." As it read, Mrs. McKinley was left out entirely, and we had Mrs. Collins residing in "Big San Angelo."

An error will always pop up just where you don't want it.

MORGAN COPELAND PLEDGED TO SCOUT FRATERNITY

The University of Texas chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service organization for former Boy Scouts, has initiated five and pledged 47 to membership.

The recent initiates include: Robert Adcock, Cleburne; Jack Brougner, Calvert; John Richard Fowler, Memphis; Blake David Sables, jr., Lubbock and Donald Sellstrom, Austin.

The pledges include Morgan Copeland of Brownfield.

DR. WALLACE BASSETT

Five thousand Texas Baptists will attend the Texas Baptist General Convention in Amarillo November 11-13 to hear reports on denominational work of the past year and messages from outstanding Baptist ministers and laymen.

Of the 41 members of the 1947 University of Nebraska football squad, 22 are Legionnaires.

The Woman Listener

By Sally Welles

BREAKING INTO RADIO on an initial try is about as easy as breaking a Brazil nut with your bare hands. In a Chicago studio a few years ago, Donna Keath challenged the tradition with an impressive reading, and walked out with the lead in the daytime serial, "The Couple Next Door". Underlying the advantages of youth and vivid loveliness, Donna has warmth, understanding and more than a superficial knowledge of what makes people tick—qualities that give no mean prop to the business of doing a fine acting job. Donna currently carries the important character of Mrs. Roger Dineen in the popular CBS daytime serial, "Young Dr. Malone".

October marks a double anniversary in the radio career of Michael O'Day, running star of "Big Sister", heard over CBS. Fifteen years ago this month Michael successfully auditioned for his first radio program; four years later, in October, he obtained his first contract when he joined the cast of "Big Sister" as Neddie Evans, a role with which he has literally grown up.

Julie Stevens, Maggie Lowell of NBC's "Road Of Life", is a young lady who followed through. From the time she was a youngster, she spent her summers in Provincetown, Mass., living almost next door to the famous Wharf Theatre. Naturally little Julie absorbed the theatrical atmosphere, and soon decided upon her future career. On this score she never changed her mind.

The Laughing Man, John Early, of the town of Washington College, Tenn., is currently taking the public's consequences for four or five weeks. Edwards has asked the NBC "Truth Or Consequences" listening audience to send in the toughest consequences they can think of, and the one judged the most difficult each week is given to the jovial

Mr. Early. Latter will win $1,500 if he can carry them out.

Louise Barclay, Connie Wakefield in the NBC serial, "The Right To Happiness", tops the record for unusual experience. Once, in Italy, she joined a party for a climb up Mt. Vesuvius. At the top, Louise was completely done in, and decided to rest a bit. While the party waited, she made a little groove and went to sleep—cradled in the crater.

Willard Waterman, running star of "The Glimming Light", on CBS, is what is known as a "die-hard". In his first radio role, he was killed in the first episode. His next three air roles followed the same pattern. But his ability to bounce back for another "killing" convinced directors that Waterman is here to stay.

What is believed to be a radio audience record was set by the ABC "Welcome Travelers" program recently when travelers from 45 of the 48 states were entertained at a single show. Also present in the audience of more than 500 persons were travelers from Canada, Norway and Mexico.

Because so many octogenarians, nonagenarians and centenarians have appeared on Tom Breneman's ABC "Breakfast In Hollywood" show, a life insurance company is considering making a special study of them. Breneman presents the eldest lady at each broadcast with an orchid. In the future, she may also receive a questionnaire asking about the things she's done to remain hale and hearty.

The Press Party for radio editors, which would ordinarily be given to mark the beginning of a new show, was sacrificed in the case of the CBS coast-to-coast "Lowell Thomas" program, which started Sept. 29th. The sponsor has decided instead to donate a $1,000 to charitable organizations selected by the radio editors who would have been invited to the customary fete.

Harvesting cotton in a once-over operation is the short cut to bigger profits. Get this advantage by stripping and delivering cotton, two rows at a time, with a labor-saving John Deere No. 15 Cotton Harvester.

Designed to work with the John Deere "A" and "B" Tractors, the No. 15 is a simple, sturdy, long-lived machine that does a fast, efficient job of saving bolls after the cotton plants have been killed by frost. Many gin operators state that cotton stripped by the John Deere is cleaner than that pulled by the average hand puller.

This year, to make short work of your cotton harvest—use a John Deere Cotton Harvester. See us for complete information the next time you're in town.

Just Nosing Around

Been here on the Herald five weeks now and Simon Legree has a peculiar glint in his eye. Maybe he figures I'm overworked and need a vacation, or something.

Went out to the Esquire Restaurant opening night. It's really a beautiful place and will look even better when the booths are installed. Bob told me he had to open under quite a handicap—some of his supplies didn't arrive in time—waitresses didn't show up after he'd hired them, but he made the best of it and has the situation under control now.

We're going to press before the final count on the Harvest Queen voting, but there is one thing certain, five girls are going to be disappointed. Every one has worked hard and all deserve to win. Hope that each of you gals remember that the number of votes you receive is not a true reflection on your personal popularity, nor on the work you and your sponsors put in. We all know you were right on your toes up to the last minute.

Now that government restrictions are off on credit buying, many of the stores are easing up on down payments for merchandise.

The checker contest over at the Brownfield Hotel is getting hotter each week. "The Fox" still claims the championship, but I heard that a travelling man came in and beat everyone a few nights ago.

With all the talk of high food prices, one thing people should remember is the fact that your grocer isn't profiteering on it. Mr. Patterson of Piggly-Wiggly showed me where the grocer actually works on a smaller margin of profit than any other retailer.

That bunch of Rotarians selling tickets to the Harvest Festival are so steamed up over it that they go around selling tickets to each other.

Notice a lot of signs around town urging us to give food and canned goods to starving Europeans—that's swell, I suppose, but right in Texas we have a lot of families that need food and clothing, too. In Dallas alone, over 500 kids can't attend school because they have no clothes. Just a case of not being able to see the forest for the trees.

S. T. Murphy is enjoying a well earned rest after twenty years in the grocery business.

Mr. and Mrs. Stell, who bought the Murphy store are not exactly strangers to Brownfield. Bill Stell was manager of the St. Clair Variety store for years and is here helping his brother.

Here's a tip for you hunters and fishermen—Copeland Hardware will have a few new out-board motors in a day or two. Get in line boys.

The Lindseys expected to have their end of town all lit up, with a sign I mean, but the darn thing arrived with the neon tubing broken.

If we were giving out any orchids this week they'd have to go to Collins Store for their attractive windows.

If any of you need a good hat cheap—see Paul Campbell at Cobb's. He's got over a hundred of 'em, good brands, that you can pick up for a five dollar bill.

Now that the Festival is over, lets think about Christmas. It's only six weeks away!
