New President West Texas Banqueted

Dr. James P. Cornette

More than 400 citizens of Northwest Texas gathered at the beautiful new cafeteria building on the campus of West Texas State College in Canyon last Friday night to welcome Dr. James P. Cornette to West Texas. Dr. Cornette became executive vice-president of the college on January 1, 1948, coming from Baylor University. He will become the third president of the college on Sept. 1. He will succeed Dr. J. A. Hill as president. Hill has served the college for 38 years, being the last member of the original faculty to retire. He has been president for 30 years.

The dinner was given by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce and the Canyon Rotary club to guests from practically every town in this area. Herschel Coffee, president of the Rotary Club, presided and greetings were extended by Delbert Lowes, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Newton Harrell of Claude, member of the Board of Regents, introduced the other visiting regents, Judge W. L. Kerr of Midland, Dr. M. C. Edison of Austin and Walter Woodul of Houston.

The regents highly praised the work accomplished by Dr. Hill during his long tenure of office, and pledged full support to Dr. Cornette in the further development of the college.

Dr. Cornette stated that he came to the Panhandle because of the splendid spirit which was shown by the citizenship. He has faith in the future of this area and great faith in the ability of the college to render service to the people of this section. He praised the spirit behind the development of the museum of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, and urged full cooperation that other enterprises be established on the campus which will be of service to this section.

Dr. J. A. Hill thanked the thou-

G.I. Question And Answer Department

Q. I was told that by disability, which I claim was due to service, cannot be service-connected because I had it before I entered service. Am I eligible for compensation?

A. If VA decides that your ailment was incurred in or aggravated by your service in the armed forces you will be entitled to receive compensation, if it exists to a compensable degree.

Q. I am a veteran of World War and would like to know if there is any limit for filing a claim for compensation for disability caused by my war service?

A. There is no time limit set for filing claim for compensation under existing legislation.

Q. I was practically compelled to sign a statement before my discharge that my disability existed prior to my enlistment. Will this prevent my receiving compensation?

A. Any statement of this nature, according to the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (G. I. Bill), which you made at discharge is considered null and void. Decision as to service connection of the disability will be made by Veterans Administration based on the service medical record, excluding the statement made at time of discharge.

Q. I have been receiving readjustment allowance from Veterans Administration, and now would like to know if the money that has been paid to me will be deducted from any future bonus that may be authorized by the U. S. Congress?

A. No.

Mrs. Jeff Farley and children are in Temple, Okla., for a ten day visit with her mother, Mrs. Frank Jamison. Mr. Farley took them up there and spent the week end, returning Monday.

W. J. Chesney, of Colorado City, was a business visitor in Brownfield Wednesday and Thursday. He is a former resident of the city and owns property near Union.

Thousands of people who had been of such great service in building the plant of West Texas State. He pointed out great accomplishments during the past 38 years, but this was just the beginning. The college has a mission to perform and the intelligent cooperation of all citizens of this section will bring about a greatly expanded program.

The Canyon City Commission and Randall County Commissioners Court offered to the Regents on Friday a tract of 200 acres adjoining the campus for development of aviation.

Where Do People Live the Best?

Russia?
England?
United States?

The answer: The U. S.

We are better fed, better clothed, and have more automobiles, refrigerators, telephones, and radios per capita than any other country.

Why? One reason is the efficiency of the American farmer. In countries where farm production is low, the standard of living is low.

The American farmer represents only 2 1/2 per cent of the world's farmers, yet he produces approximately 20 per cent of the world's food supply.

Steel production also is an accurate measure of living standards. America, with only 7 per cent of the world's population, produces 50 per cent of the world's steel.

Expanding Viewpoint

AFTER listening to hours of debate over the appropriation for emergency European aid and the consequent Marshall plan, your Home Town Reporter is proud to report that members of the American congress, by and large, have grown up, have increased in stature and statesmanship commensurate with the powerful position our country holds in the world today.

Despite political and some provincial local pressures, the vast majority of the members of house and senate, Democrats and Republicans, have proved they can stand above and face world issues in the light of their own knowledge and conscience not only for the future welfare of this nation, but also for the future peace and economic welfare of the whole world. Six years ago the story might have been different.

Voting more millions for foreign relief while living prices continue to rise here at home is none too popular in some sections of the country, and 1948 is an election year. Despite those factors only a comparatively few discordant voices were heard in either house or senate. And most debate was not over the main issue but the method to be employed.

One congressman, white-haired Dwight Rogers of Florida, cited the alternatives succinctly: We either pull out of Europe, abandon what we have undertaken and crawl into our own shell of isolationism—or we declare war with Russia—or we give economic aid to France, Italy and Austria to halt communism and save the economic structure and freedom of those nations for our own future economic benefit. Congress chose the latter road.

There is confusion in both political camps here in Washington. On the Democratic side it is fear that Henry Wallace will announce his candidacy for president. On the GOP side it is fear that Gen. Ike Eisenhower soon will get his hat in the ring. If either is a candidate it certainly will revise the organization strategy in both camps.

If there is any doubt in your mind about effectiveness of government controls in keeping prices down, consider what has happened to sugar. It is plentiful and comparatively cheap. Remember when it went to 30 cents a pound after World War I? Well, sugar is controlled by law under the 1947 sugar control act passed by the first session of the Republican controlled 80th congress. It not only fixes quotas, but also sets rates and prices. Public hearings on 1948 beet sugar rates and prices will be held January 5 to 14.

Party for Press

Your Home Town Reporter also can report that President Truman, back in harness after his Florida vacation trip is tanned and genial, his grin more infectious, his general attitude more assured and his hand-clasp firm. We stood in line, ages it seemed, to greet the President and Mrs. Truman and shake their hands, at the second annual formal reception at the White House for members of the press and radio galleries.

An invitation from the White House is tantamount to a "command performance" in Washington and protocol dictates you must attend if not ill or absent from the city.

President Truman inaugurated these formal receptions on the plane of the big state or diplomatic receptions last year as a change from the informal affairs during the Roosevelt veldt era. At least wives of the reporters like them for it gives them a chance to dull up in formal evening dress. During the Roosevelt regime the annual spring press parties on the White House lawn were most informal, gave the members of the press a chance to relax, imbibe a little beer amid the surroundings and trappings of presidential prominence.

President Truman has given up his early morning walks in deference to his secret service guards. Now he takes his daily walk in the afternoon. Recently he strolled through fashionable Peacock Alley in the Willard hotel, a block-long corridor from Pennsylvania avenue to F street, without being recognized. The President dislikes notoriety. He goes to a certain Baptist church here because the pastor never refers to his presence. When he attends the National theater as he often does, he never occupies a box but sits in the audience preferably a seat in about the 10th row.

Aid for Libraries

With some 35 million rural people without public library service, hearings on the public library demonstration bill, authored by Rep. Thomas Jenkins of Ohio, drew witnesses from farm organizations, educational and library associations. The bill would make it possible for each state to receive $25,000 to $175,000 annually, on a matching basis, to carry out demonstration programs in counties where there is no library.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hoy visited Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Baldwin in Lubbock Sunday. Mrs. Hoy and Mrs. Baldwin are sisters.

Texas has about 113,000 acres of citrus trees in bearing, and 40 per cent of the nation's total grapefruit acreage.

Mrs. Sue Christopher of Amarillo, spent Monday and Tuesday in Brownfield.

Plenty of Uses For Dried Fruits

There is plenty of dried fruits at lower prices on the market this winter and the thrifty housewife will find plenty of uses for them.

Louise Mason, extension food preparation specialist for Texas A. & M. College, suggests, for instance, that dried fruits are always a good choice for a confection for children, as they offer some vitamins A, B, and G, some mineral value, particularly iron, copper calcium, phosphorus and potassium, as well as natural fruit sugar. Run the fruits through the meat grinder, using the medium cutting plate, mix with a small amount of lemon or orange juice and some grated rind, form into small balls and roll in granulated or powdered sugar. Nut meats may be chopped along with the fruit in the grinder.

If the dried fruits are chopped or cut up, Miss Mason says, their sweetness and flavor will spread more evenly through cakes, cookies, puddings or other baked mixtures. Dip the kitchen scissors in water, or rub the blades with butter as that will help to keep the fruit from sticking to the blades. And if the fruit is first dusted with a part of the sifted dry ingredients, it will be more evenly distributed through the mixture to be baked.

Eastern Star Entertains Visitors From Lubbock

(Delayed)

Mrs. Bertha Thomas, of Lubbock deputy grand matron, made an official visit to the Brownfield chapter of the Eastern Star Tuesday evening. Several other visitors from Lubbock accompanied her.

Preceding the meeting a banquet was given in the Empire room of the Esquire honoring Mrs. Thomas. The table was decorated with an arrangement of red and white sweetpeas flanked with red tapers. The colors of red and white were chosen for this year by Mrs. Dorine Criswell, worthy matron of the local chapter. Twenty-four attended the banquet.

During the meeting at the Masonic hall, Mrs. Thomas made a talk and highly complimented the

Non-Layers Should Be Culled, Sold

Although "Eggless Thursdays" are no longer a part of the Voluntary Food Conservation Program, it doesn't mean that poultry producers should let up on the grain conservation drive.

Ted Martin, extension poultry husbandman for Texas A. & M. College, says that January usually marks the beginning of the normal increased production period for laying hens and for that reason, it is believed that "Eggless Thursdays" can be dropped from the food conservation program. However, there are still many unproductive hens in Texas flocks, and unproductive hens mean wasted grain.

In a recent letter to all county extension agents, Martin pointed out that a 200-egg hen will produce a dozen eggs of five pounds of feed, while it requires 11 pounds of feed to produce a dozen eggs from an 80-egg hen. "It's a waste of time and money, as well as grain," he said, "to continue feeding hens that don't pay off in eggs."

The National Poultry Coordinating Committee recently reported that the flock culling program is behind schedule in the United States with approximately 35 million inefficient hens still on a diet of scarce grain.

Martin says that although the hen production in Texas has dropped considerably, due in part to the culling program, poultry producers are urged to continue culling their flocks in order to get the most efficient use of the grain that is fed.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

This new talk on meat rationing, you know, I kinda think I am going to be for it. Sounds goofy to me, says Henry. That is just it, I says, that is why I am for it. It will take several months to get the coupons printed up and for folks to get over to the school house or wherever you go to sign up and tell the man how many there are in your family, and if all your off-shoots are old enough to eat meat or are too old and their teeth are not so plentiful and can't eat meat anyway, by that time, folks will be so hot under the collar, they will clean house down there on the meandering Potomac.

And emptying the bulging buildings there of an excess one million—getting one million off our backs—is what we been needing to do for nigh onto a dozen years.

And, furthermore—and still on the same subject—one million ex-Govt. slide-rule artists, if put to work, say each of 'em running a 40 acre farm, they could raise around 800 million bushels of wheat or maybe 20 million hogs, and that is enough wheat and pork chops and bacon and pork tenderloin to feed half our nation's 40 million families.

It don't sound so goofy, put that way, says Henry. Thank you, I says.

Yours with the low down, JO SERRA.

Proclamation

WHEREAS, infantile paralysis again struck the nation heavily last year, taking toll of thousands, mostly little children, and
 WHEREAS, the past five years marked the highest incidence of infantile paralysis in any previous five-year period in the nation's history, with some 86,000 Americans being stricken, and
 WHEREAS, the 1948 March of Dimes—January 15-30—is the sole support of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which this year is celebrating its tenth anniversary, and
 WHEREAS, during the past decade the National Foundation and its chapters serving every county of the Nation have prosecuted vigorously our fight against infantile paralysis, and provided for prompt and adequate medical care and treatment of infantile paralysis patients regardless of age, race, creed, or color, and
 WHEREAS, through the National Foundation's great humanitarian endeavors fear has been replaced by hope, panic by knowledge, and thousands of children have had restored the priceless gift of motion,

THEREFORE, I, Frank Jordan, Mayor of the City of Brownfield, do call upon all residents of Terry County to join wholeheartedly during the two weeks January 15-30, in making the 1948 March of Dimes the most successful in history so that the fight against this dread disease can be pressed more vigorously than ever.

Signed,
FRANK JORDAN, Mayor
 Of the City of Brownfield, Texas

Herbert Bell Here On A Visit

Herbert Bell of Marshall, Texas, is here visiting his son, Milton, and family, after being in the grocery business here several years, he has been a constant reader of the Herald all that time. They had, and still have a lot of good friends here. And, don't think we are vain, but we have an idea that J. E. and family just like a good paper, and know one when they see it. He is in the grocery business at McAlester, Okla. at present.

Anyway, J. E. alone with his check stated that the entire family are ok and that he hopes everyone here is the same. He also cracked that they had a very mild winter there. We imagine he made that statement before the "cold front" lashed out early last week.

Also, Herbert and the writer has a lot of fun over the illicit stills caught down in his old county, Harrison. Usually the Liquor Enforcement Board reports one or two each month, but for a few months now Harrison has reported not one. This month, however, they had two.

Herbert has been telling us that old Harrison would make a comeback and they did.

YOUNG MAN INJURED IN CAR MISHAP

Jack Carter, 19 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Vic Carter sustained head injuries and bruises when the car he was driving crashed into the rear end of a parked truck on North First St. Saturday night.

He was taken to the hospital in a Brownfield Funeral home ambulance and released the next day.

A Bit Of Snow Fell Here Monday

Following almost a week of prolonged cold weather in which the thermometer dipped down into the teens, there was a light snow on the ground Monday. The snow fall stopped soon after sunup.

However, Sunday afternoon was fairly moderate with nice sunshine. Made the Old He and wife want to get out where we could hear a rooster crow, so drove out to the Ed Thompkins in the Harmony community.

Most of the feed, and very little cotton remains to be gathered in that area. Ed said he had a little cotton and some corn still in the field.

By the way, Mrs. T. announced that there was some ham in the kitchen, and with very little persuasion, as Felix said to Paul, we decided to stay for supper. Man! ham, streaked gravy, hot biscuits, several vegetables and pie.

Tom And Joe Cobb Down Last Week

Two old and staunch friends of Brownfield and trade area, Tom and Joe Cobb, were down from Lubbock last week to see how Paul Campbell was conducting the Cobb Dept. store here. Evidently everything was up to Hoyle, as they appeared to be in a very fine humor.

Way back yonder many moons ago, these boys started in a very modest way in Brownfield, but continued to expand. Finally they began establishing store at other places, until now we believe they have near a dozen in some of the best towns in west Texas.

A few years ago, Tom purchased a 6 story office building in Lubbock and is said to be classed way up on the financial ladder in West Texas.
