SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE EXPRESS

New Orleans, Feb. 28.
The steamer Mississippi, southward bound, heavily laden with stock and western produce, struck a snag at 2 P. M. near the landing at Water Proof, La., sunk, no lives were lost. The boat and cargo a total loss.

WASHINGTON, February 28.
One million bonds will be bought every week and one million gold sold every alternate week. This announcement creates surprise and much apprehension among the sports.
The following extracts from Saturday's monthly report will indicate the effect of Boutwell's vacillating policy at New York.

The foreign exchange market was excited and unsettled by the fluctuating course of gold. Prime sixty-days Sterling are quoted 109.

The gold market was very feverish during the afternoon and closed at 110 1/2 to 1.
The gold room abounded in rumors all of which affected the market.

At one time it was reported the Government would sell eight million dollars next month and the low currency at the treasury, and gave color to this report, by following close upon this private telegram, from London, quoting bonds at 90 1/2, which was afterwards magnified to 91 by rumors, although no such quotations could be verified.

At the close a very unsettled feeling prevailed, and the programme for March is awaited with much interest.

SENATE—Railroad matters were discussed.

HOUSE—The House is struggling over the exception of pork-packers from manufacturer's tax.

Mississippi has been attached to the department of the Cumberland, under command of General Cook.

It is rumored that Congressmen Goll-day and Dewees, have resigned.

The Supreme Court to-day, in the cotton cases, appealed from the Court of Claims, took the President's proclamation of August 20, 1865, as the date of the termination of the war. This affects many cotton cases and other litigations.

Legislative Proceedings.
THIRTEENTH DAY.
SENATE.

The Speaker announced that the first business in order was a resolution introduced by Mr. Sinclair.

Resolution read and is as follows:
Resolution asking Congress to establish a general postal telegraph system.

WHEREAS, There is pending in Congress of the United States a bill to provide for the establishment of a postal telegraph throughout the United States; and

WHEREAS, The passage of said bill, and the establishment of said system of postal telegraph is of vital importance and an urgent necessity to the people of this State, more especially so because of the fact that we are at so great a distance from the commercial, political and social centers, thereby involving upon us great expense in the transaction of our business; and

WHEREAS, the present telegraphic system of the United States is a total monopoly, and holds within its grasp the entire business of the country, which must of necessity be transacted through that medium, and dictates its own terms for the same;
therefore

Resolved, That we, the Legislature of the State of Texas, do most earnestly pray that the Congress of the United States will pass the bill now under consideration, or some other, in words and effect embodying in its provisions the objects contemplated by said bill.

Resolved 2nd, That the Speaker of this House be directed to forward a certified copy of this resolution to the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States.

Mr. Morrison moved that the resolutions be adopted. Carried.

The concurrent resolution, introduced by Mr. Morris, on the 21st inst., relative to the admission of the State in the Union, and the adjournment of the Legislature, was then read.

Mr. Robinson offered the following amendment:
Amend by striking out the words "thirty days," and substituting therefor, "twenty days."

Mr. Adams moved to amend the amendment as follows: "That this House will adjourn until the 15th of May next."

The amendment to the amendment was lost.

Mr. Cooper offered the following substitute for the amendment of Mr. Robinson:
Amend by striking out in the first resolution, "Thirty days after the admission of the State by Congress," and insert, "at such time as the Governor may direct by proclamation."

Mr. Franks moved the adoption of the substitute. Carried.

The question then recurring on the adoption of the amendment. Carried.

The question then recurring upon the adoption of the resolution, as amended, was carried in the affirmative.

Mr. Butler moved to take a recess until 11:55 A. M., this day. Carried.

At 11:55 A. M. the House was called to order.

The Speaker announced that the business now before the House was, nominations for United States Senator for the term ending March 4th 1871.

Mr. Butler nominated Mr. M. C. Hamilton.
Mr. Slaughter moved a call of the House.
Call sustained.

Absentees—Messrs. Sheriff and Manning.
Messrs. J. Abbott and Haswell were excused on account of sickness.

Mr. Robinson moved that the absentees who were not absent through sickness, be brought into the House by the Sergeant-at-Arms. Carried.

On motion of Mr. Schutze the call of the House was suspended.

Mr. Hughes nominated Mr. Horace Boughton.

Mr. Franks moved that each member rise to his feet upon giving his vote. Carried.

The result of the vote was as follows:
Mr. Morgan C. Hamilton received 54 votes, Horace Boughton, 28; A. B. Norton 1.

The Speaker announced that nominations for U. S. Senator, for the term ending March 4th, 1875, were now in order.

Mr. Burnett nominated J. W. Flaahagan,
Mr. Adams nominated Nelson Plato, Mr.
Sullivan nominated S. D. Wood.

The result of the vote was as follows:
J. W. Flaahagan received 63 votes; Nelson Plato, 23; S. D. Wood, 2; A. B. Norton, 1.

The Speaker announced that nominations for U. S. Senator, for the term ending March 4th 1871, were in order.

Mr. Docke nominated M. C. Hamilton; Mr.
McLean, nominated A. H. Latimer; Mr. Miller, nominated K. B. Saunders; Mr. Ellis nominated J. J. Jarvis.

M. C. Hamilton received 2 votes; A. H.
Latimer, 24; K. B. Saunders, 1; J. J. Jarvis, 4; Nelson Plato, 1; J. W. Glenn, 1.

Mr. Adams asked for leave of absence for the balance of this session. Leave granted.

Mr. Butler moved that Mr. Manning be excused from paying the fees prescribed by the rules of the House, he having been brought in by the Sergeant-at-Arms.

Motion carried.

Mr. Slaughter moved that the House stand adjourned until to-morrow at 10 o'clock A. M. Carried.

Taking out Bullets by Lightning

Curing should be as important as killing in the arts of war; extracting your enemy's bullets from your flesh is the next duty after putting your bullets into his flesh. Now, bullet probing is a tiresome and painful operation, one, that ought to be reduced to the perfection of simple certainty as some humane philosophers have thought, and they have thought, and they have done their best to give their thinkings tangibility. But we are bound by our means; and while there were none known whereby a lump of buried lead could be told from a fragment of shattered bone, probing was slow work. However, the next time—far be it—that wholesale bullet extraction has to be performed it is to be expected that the Army Surgeons' labors will be lightened by the help that electricity will afford; for two inventors have independently proposed methods of searching for and drawing out metallic missiles from the wounds they have inflicted. Both men told their ideas to the French Institute at one and the same meeting during the past month. Mr. Trouve was one he who made the electrical jewels that delighted fashionable Paris for a few months two years ago.
His new bullet probe is a double jointed needle, each point being connected by a wire with a little electric battery and a bell, which rings whenever the two needle points are united electrically; that is to say, whenever they both touch a piece of metal. With this divining-rod bullet-searching is a simple business. The suspected part of the body is probed with it, and the instant the points touch lead the bell announces the fact. The bullet found, the worst half of the extraction's task is over. This plan was suggested by an Englishman, I fancy, some five years ago, but not put to trial till M. Trouve made an instrument. The other proposed is of more limited application. M.
Meisens is its author, and he promises to draw fragments of iron or steel from a flesh wound by the help of powerful magnets. He can do nothing with lead, though, because it does not follow the load stone.
Trouve's is the best idea. There is quaintness in the notion of a bullet telegraphing its whereabouts.—Curren's (London,) Magazine.

Salvation for the Hair.

For Restoring to Gray Hair its Original Color.

PHALON'S "VITALIA" differs utterly from all the "dyes," "colorers," and "restorers" (?) in use. It acts on a totally different principle. It is limpid, fragrant, and perfectly innocuous, precipitates no muddy or flacculent matter, requires no shaking up, and communicates no stain to the skin or the linen. No paper curtain is necessary to conceal its turbid appearance, for the simple reason that it is not turbid. It is, to all intents and purposes, A NEW DISCOVERY

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 2, 1870.

The kind of Immigration the Herald Wants.

Our contemptible cotemporary, that poisonous snake, which is creeping amongst us, seeing whom it can bite and damage, takes offense at the speech of Mr. Morgan C. Hamilton, whom it hates for his honesty and integrity, qualities entirely unknown to the Herald crew.

If we have any influence in the affairs of this State we will urge that Texas be spared the infliction of that class of immigrants, which, in the course of time, will come in conflict with our better civilization, and have to be displaced in order to give place to communities who respect law and order.

Speech of Senator Parsons Before the Legislature in Joint Session.

FELLOW MEMBERS OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:—As I sit beneath that chandelier and witness the scene to-night, memory carried me back to similar occasions to this. Similar! The same lamps burn, and I see the same decorations of this august chamber, save the living presence of him (General Houston) who spoke so eloquently upon the canvas before you.

I have upon the floor of the Senate expressed my views in regard to what I considered the new era upon us. We are living now in a new Union. We have had a final interpretation by the highest power of the nation; and I claim that I am entitled to the position that I have taken.

Some of my ancient friends pretend to be surprised at the strange company they now find me in. I can only answer that the position I now hold is the only true position that an honest Confederate can occupy.

United States. (Applause.) Returning upon a voluntary exile in South America, I came back to visit the man who had caught safety in cisterns during the war, and to prove that the honest soldier who had to fight out this great fight during the war, was at the same time willing to accept the results of the conflict for those great principles. What was the result? General Barney, an old friend of mine, told me the other day that these same men were only willing to give him their left hands, but I found they would give me neither hand. (Laughter.) When I came out and assumed the position which the logic of war had placed in me, and when I was manful enough to declare it, there was nothing before me but ostracism and the contempt of those who were yet enemies to the government of the United States.

When I first perused this conversation in a newspaper I felt that it could not be true, that the President of the United States should make such a condition precedent to the admission of Texas into the Union—that laws be adopted guaranteeing a free expression of political sentiment in the State of Texas. I finally managed to test this thing, and from this rostrum I declare I tested it to my complete satisfaction. (Applause.) And to those who opposed me in my conclusion, I said, that there were Confederates enough still living in our State who would see that free speech should be guaranteed, and a free expression of political convictions upon any subject, if the commander-in-chief of the Army and Navy of the United States should demand that free speech should be guaranteed in Texas by law. (Applause.)

We are upon the threshold of a new era—an era which is simply the elimination of a period of government conceived originally in the brain of Alexander Hamilton. We are no longer a compound of disintegrating elements, or independent powers who have made a compact of force to dissolve, as well as to create, the structure of our Government is Federal in form, and in this lies its central power. Upon this point many of my ancient friends ask me, 'Are you no longer in favor of State rights?' Well, you know, if you are, why you are not. The idea of the Calhoun principle was well known to myself—the right of a State to be the judge of an invasion of its rights and of the measure of redress. There is not a Southern man present that is not aware of the fact I am about to mention. So actions was the provisional government of the Southern States to embody the central idea of the right of a State to secede, that it was incorporated as a fundamental provision of their organic law. I wish that the leaders of the Confederacy, both in the civil and military walks of the Confederate service, were now before me. I would like to refresh their recollection of one fact. Would they not remember that in the highest military and civic circles it was understood that if the South achieved their independence, it was the intention of the Confederacy to establish such a central power of government as could never be shaken by any such principle as State rights? But further, the central power of government does not imply imperialism. It is simply a synonym for that power necessary to prevent the recurrence of the former calamities which have so recently passed over this land, leaving such widespread devastation behind their paths.

Senator Parsons here referred, in an eloquent manner, to some of the anticipated purchases of the islands of the Antilles, and spoke in gloomy language of the recent visit of Mr. Seward to the capital of the Mexican Republic, where he was so elegantly entertained, and continuing, said:

Is there a man within the sound of my voice that believes for one moment to believe that the time is near at hand when the Monroe doctrine will be fully carried out, and when no European intervention in the affairs of this continent will ever be permitted, from one of its extremities to the other? (Applause.) From the school-boy days of any one present to this moment, I ask is there a man within the sound of my voice who has ever believed that a portion of a government that embraces such a continent would not absolutely require centralized strength to hold the vast extremes together? If we should have no other lights how long will it be before we would be engulfed in the Bay upon the North and Nicaragua on the South? How much more should we require centralized power when we have the heterogeneous elements of all races, under the protection of the folds of our flag, and who under that Xth Amendment, which is a part of the Constitution of the United States, are citizens thereof. (Applause.)

But, gentlemen, I was very much astonished to hear my name called this evening to address you. What I have stated has been without any premeditation whatever. I may hereafter reproach myself for having said so much, and especially in the presence of so many distinguished persons. My friend upon the right (Hon. J. W. Flanagan) stands in the presence of the Representatives of the people of Texas, who have just placed the laurels upon his brow, feeling that his long life has at last been rewarded by the omniscience which the Representatives of a grateful people have bestowed. (Applause.) But, gentlemen, when I turned to my left, where sits his colleague, Morgan C. Hamilton, I must say that, in the canvass for the nominations of United States Senators, I opposed him, but in addition I must state that in my life I have never witnessed a more striking illustration of virtue and principle in a party than that which has finally eliminated so completely in the choice of a candidate for such an important office as that of a United States Senator, in the person of Morgan C. Hamilton. (Applause.)

In conclusion I have only to say that upon these gentlemen, on my right and on my left, our Senators elect, rests the grave duty they owe to those who have delegated to them the important trusts which have been imposed upon them by the representatives of the people of Texas. Pardon me, therefore, for trespassing upon your time and attention, as I believe that they will meet firmly the issues which have been entrusted to their care.

Horror of the Paraguayan War.

Hunting for Lopez—A Country Stripped of Everything—Piles of Dead Bodies on the Road—Soldiers Compelled to eat dogs—Hunger, Torture, desertion or Death.

Lopez was supposed to be at Igatimy and Comte d'Eu was trying to complete a sufficient depot of supplies to permit another march against him. Comte d'Eu had sent back about a third of his forces, not considering them needed.

Lopez is now confined to the forest and mountainous districts of the northeast of Paragua. The last reports in regard to Lopez were that besides the 3000 badly armed men and 20 cannon at which deserters placed his strength, he had obtained the aid of 15,000 Indians, who are posted in the mountains of Maracaju, and has conferred the rank of General on the Guarani cacique.

The main of the second Brazilian army corps had arrived at Rosario from Curuguary, on its way to Concepcion to join General Camara's force, which is to penetrate, if possible, into the North of the District held by Lopez. Two tailors from Lopez's headquarters, deserters, had been interrogated. They declared that Lopez had 3000 men with him, mostly armed with lances; that he had eighteen small cannon and one howitzer of ordinary bore; that he had thirty wagons, only one of which contained ammunition, the others having food; that his cannon had two yokes of cattle to each, and the wagons two or three yokes; that he had no cavalry with him, but a few were among the 400 men at Tupitatinga; that Lopez was going to Igatimy, and that a long road was being made into the mountains; that 2900 to 3000 cattle had been collected at Aracanguai, and that 100 horses had been sent to pasture there; that a person had been sent to Igatimy to manufacture powder; that the alleged author of the conspiracy at St. Estanislao was tortured and then beaten to death; that Col. Mongoto and Major Villalba were shot for want of vigilance; that, among others, Cois, Venancio Lopez (brother of Lopez), Morco and Dimiz, Major Orbieta and Palacios (brother of the Bishop) were executed; that General Caballero, Resguin, Delgado and Roa were with Lopez, and that Lopez spent fifteen days in getting cakes of sugar made from the cane at Curuguary.

A volunteer officer in the Comte d'Eu's force wrote on the 24th of October, that he saw to piles of dead said to be the bodies of the body guards shot by Lopez at St. Estanislao. He says, when they arrived at Rosario, they found no fresh or jerked beef provided for them, but owing to the abundance of roots, cane and bananas, managed to fill themselves fairly. Four leagues from Rosario nothing was to be found, and only 200 bullocks in the rear remained for beef for 8000 men. At St. Estanislao they were placed on half rations. From the 17th it became still worse, the officers receiving only four ounces of beef and a trifle of farina when there was any. Soldiers were sent into the woods to eat cabbage palms. In those days 500 men deserted, 28 of whom were caught and punished with 120 blows each. A teaspoonful of sugar cost 2000 reis; five little biscuits, 2000 reis a pound. Some men arrived on the 23rd for the horses, but the officers and men ate it up. Two bullocks were allowed to each 500 men, or one third allowance, but on that day only one and a half was given to his battalion of 500 men; and that the soldiers eagerly drank the blood, even the skin being devoured. He also says that in General Victorino's corps the men ate dogs, and that even officers deserted from hunger.

MURDER.—Escape of the Murderer.—Last night about half past 11 o'clock, a man named George Richards was murdered in this city, under so far as were able to ascertain, the following circumstances: It appears that a man named "Shaun" Horlan, who had been employed by Messrs. Geo. Schneider & Co., as driver of a truck, had been separated from his wife for some time, she being in the employ of Mr. A. Allie; at his residence, near the corner of Market and Twenty-seventh streets.

Last night about half past 11 o'clock Richards came to the kitchen where the woman was, and let himself in, saying, that he wanted to tell her about a fuss he and "Shaun" had. She begged "for God's sake to go away," as she was afraid of trouble. About this time the man "Shaun" came in, and attacked Richards and the woman with a knife, wounding the woman severely, and Richards mortally.

The neighborhood being aroused by the cries of the wounded persons, the murderer shortly left the scene of blood, and notice was left at the police office and officer James Stevenson immediately proceeded to the house, and procuring a hack placed the wounded man in it and conveyed him to the police office, where he expired in about fifteen minutes after his arrival.

It being reported that the murderer had taken refuge in the "New York House," quite a number of persons surrounded it for the purpose of arresting him, but without success, as he escaped from the house, and is reported to have been conveyed out of town by a hack.

The man "Shaun" was arrested about two months since in company with three other persons, charged with being implicated in the cutting of Edward Cleary, near the Central Market—Galveston Civilian, February 24th.

Local Intelligence.

The Pews of St. Mark's Episcopal Church will be rented Wednesday evening March 29, at their place of worship.

A DRIVE around San Antonio convinced us that the last northers have not done so much damage as we expected. The most of our gardens are full of vegetables and look promising. A good rain, and all is right again.

The Herald is again indulging in slanderous language towards its betters. We are sorry to say that he compels us to publish those interesting letters of Judge Palmer on old Logan, and that spicy but true statement of the moral value of the Thompsons. Ye shall have it sirs! If you can't keep peace, you shall have war, certainly.

Old Logan states what positions Mr. Newcomb holds. There is one position he did not enumerate, which is that of an honest man. When we come to write the history of old wry-log Logan, during the Confederacy, we shall certainly establish his low-down character for honesty and integrity.

Rumors of Indian depredations and murders reach town daily. One fact is established, our military force is entirely insufficient to protect our frontier. It is not our province to ferret-out who is to blame for the present unsatisfactory state of things; be it sufficient to state that a change has to be made, and the sooner it is done, the better for all of us.

WEATHER.—Yesterday morning we had good reason to expect rain. The sky was covered with clouds, which promised to come down early; but alas, all predictions in regard to the weather prove failures in Texas. Still, we have a right to hope. Four weeks have passed without a drop of rain; and as the month of March is not counted among the dry months, and as the wind blows from the east, and the sky is still dark with clouds, we may safely prophesy a rain within the next twenty hours. If it should not come to pass, it is none of our fault.

We are sorry to have to chronicle another smash-up which took place yesterday evening, the sufferer in this case being Mr. Gallagher. The team of his carriage became frightened, ran away and upset the conveyance, throwing Mr. Gallagher into the street. We hear Mr. Gallagher is injured but slightly.

Facts for the Ladies.

I have one of the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing-Machines, which has been in constant use for the past fifteen (15) years. It has never been repaired, and to-day is in perfect order, and is equal for all kinds of work to any machine I have yet seen. It has been used in making heavy clothing, beside doing all manner of family sewing, and I think it gets better every day. Toronto, Ontario. Mrs. JOAN SCALES.

Ask the Ladies Maids and they will tell you that PHALON'S VITALEX OR SALVATION FOR THE HAIR is the favorite article for reviving the natural tinge of bleached or fading ringlets. Clear as fluid glass, wholesome to the skin as water, undecolorable by the light, without any mineral odor and yielding no sediment, it defies competition and courts comparison.

EMILIO CASTELLAR is one of those Spaniards who are not only not infamous, but are illustrious. He is one of the most eloquent orators in Europe, and the rhetorically excelled by none. It is to the glory of Spain that she has a Republican as earnest as he; yet it is due to the loose state of her society that his efforts have greater sentimental value than practical effect. Castellar, though his genius has necessarily made little impression on the Government of his nondescript country is perhaps the noblest idealist which Spain for centuries has produced among her scholars and orators. His speeches contain what a great deal of Spanish poetry does not, and his latest effort—a philippic against the Bourbon—suffers from no want of argument. The reappearance of the Duke of Montpensier in Madrid gives especial point to this masterly speech.

Our Voting Population.

In 1850 there were polled in Texas 20,404 votes. In 1855, 45,412. In 1857, 56,180. In 1860, 62,707. In 1860, at the presidential election, there were 16,547 votes for Breckinridge, and 15,110 for Bell, total 62,657. The same year Flournoy, for Attorney General, received 32,020, and McAdoo 15,488, total 48,447. In February, 1861, at the vote on secession, there were polled for that measure 39,776, against it 12,162, total 51,938.

In September, 1861, there was an election for Governor. Lubbock received 18,558, Clark 17,143, and Chambers 12,412 votes, total 53,344.

In 1866, Throckmorton received 48,631, and Pease 11,051, total vote 65,082.

In 1868 there were registered, whites, 50,161; colored, 48,619, total 107,780. The same year a vote was taken on calling a convention to form a Constitution. There were polled for the measure 54,388; against 15,448, total, 69,836.

An Ordinance.

Re-enacting and amending an ordinance providing for the payment of Confederate money, or other worthless paper, on account of the principal and interest due upon lands sold by the city of San Antonio, to divers persons, &c., passed on the 10th day of January, A. D. 1863. Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of San Antonio, That the ordinance, passed on the 16th day of January, A. D. 1864, and hereinafter published, in reference to payments made in so called Confederate currency, &c., be re-enacted with the following modifications and amendments thereof, to wit:

That all persons interested, their agents or assignees, are hereby required to settle with Messrs. Davis & Murphy within ninety days, from and after the publication of this Ordinance, the entire amount due to the City of San Antonio, on principal and interest on lands purchased from said city on fifty years credit, the payment of which having been made in so-called Confederate currency, since the 1st day of April, A. D. 1861, with whom, said Davis & Murphy, the claims as above stated are placed for settlement, and upon the presentation of their receipts for the payment of said principal and interest, in U. S. currency, the city will execute the final title to said parties.

Sec. 2. That all persons who are interested for lands purchased from the city of San Antonio, on fifty years credit, and have failed to pay the same, are hereby notified that the aforesaid firm has been employed by the city of San Antonio to institute legal proceedings against all delinquents on said interest, from and after the 1st day of May, A. D. 1870, in case such interest have not been paid in U. S. currency, to said city, up to said date.

Sec. 3. That this ordinance shall take effect from and after its passage. Passed, January 31st, A. D. 1870. Published February 2, A. D. 1870. WM. C. A. THIELEPAPE, Mayor of the City of San Antonio.

Attest: MARTIN H. CAMPBELL, City Secretary.

The ordinance above referred to and passed on January 16th, 1866, reads as follows:

AN ORDINANCE.

Concerning payments made in Confederate money or other worthless paper, on account of the principal and interest due upon lands sold by the city of San Antonio to divers persons, declaring the instrument of writing purporting to be deeds from the city of San Antonio for said lands, to be null and void, and allowing credits on account of said principal and interest for the market value of the amounts paid at the time of payment.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the city of San Antonio:

SECTION 1. That the city of San Antonio does not recognize the act or acts of any person or persons, claiming to act as officers of said city, from the 1st day of April, A. D. 1861, until the ninth day of October, 1865, in receiving in the name of said city, the Bonds, Treasury Notes or currency of the late Confederate Government, worthless paper, purporting to be city scrip of said city, issued during that time in payment of the principal and interest, or either of them, due to the said city upon lands sold by said city, or in assuming to act in the name of said city in signing or executing instruments of writing purporting to be releases or conveyances from said city for such lands, or receipts for such pretended payments, and that all such pretended releases, conveyances and receipts, are hereby declared to be null and void.

Sec. 2. That to avoid any seeming injustice to those persons who have acted innocently and in good faith in making any such payments since the 1st day of April, A. D. 1861. All such persons as have paid to any person or persons acting as officers of said city, any such bonds, treasury notes, currency or scrip on account of the principal and interest, or either, due upon the lands heretofore sold by said city, shall, upon presentation and delivery to the Mayor of his, or their receipts, for such payments, together with such instruments of writing purporting to be releases or conveyances from this city, within three months after the passage of this ordinance and shall at the same time surrender such instruments of writing for cancellation, shall receive from the Mayor of this city a receipt on account of the actual market value of the bonds, treasury notes, currency or scrip so paid by such person or persons at the time of the payment thereof; provided, that such person or persons shall at the same time execute and deliver to the Mayor, an instrument of writing wholly cancelling and annulling the writings heretofore executed and delivered to such person or persons by persons acting in the name of this city, as aforesaid, and putting this city in the same position, with the same price and charge upon such lands as before such payments.

Sec. 3. That in case any person or persons having delivered his, or their, receipts, and instruments of writing as mentioned in the 2d section of this ordinance shall be dissatisfied with the amount of credit allowed him or them by the Mayor thereon, and shall refuse to receive from the Mayor a receipt for such amount, and to cancel such instruments of writing; then in that case the Mayor shall deliver back to such person, or persons, the original receipts, and instruments of writing so delivered by him, or them, as aforesaid, and that therefor such receipts and instruments of writing shall be null and void.

Sec. 4. That it shall be the duty of the City Attorney, after the expiration of three months from the passage hereof to commence all necessary suits in the proper courts, for the cancellation of such instruments of writing as have not been surrendered up and cancelled according to the provisions hereof, and for the recovery of the principal, and interest, due to this city upon such lands.

Sec. 5. That this ordinance shall take effect from and after its passage. Passed Jan. 16th 1866. Mayor's Office San Antonio Jan. 16th 1866. (Signed) D. CLEVELAND, Mayor.

M. STOKUM, City Secretary. Mayor's Office City of San Antonio Texas, December 4th 1865.

I hereby certify that the foregoing and above is a true and correct copy from the original Ordinance on file in the Mayor's Office of this City.

MARTIN H. CAMPBELL, City Secretary.

PLANTATION BITTERS

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits. Wherever it is introduced it becomes a standard article—a medicinal staple. It is to-day the best and purest tonic, and the most popular medicine in the civilized world—be sure and get the genuine.
