General Reynolds and the Frontier.

General Reynolds, the Military Commander of this State, has not neglected the frontier, notwithstanding the herculean task allotted him in the maintenance of military rule over the State, and the carrying out of the reconstruction laws. The blame for the outrages which have been committed upon our frontier do not properly lay at his door. In 1869 General Reynolds, upon the petition and representation of citizens of western Texas, sent a commission to Mexico to enquire into the condition and temper of the fragments of Indian tribes across the Mexican border. Complete information was obtained and accompanied by a strong appeal from General Reynolds, asking that the Government act immediately upon some policy to break up this nest of Indian robbers and thieves, who made Texas their prey, was forwarded to the Washington authorities, but in stead of some immediate relief being devised, the representations of our military Commander were sent to our Minister in the city of Mexico. Perhaps this was the only course the matter could take, but we think not; we believe our military authorities should have been authorized to follow the first band of Indians, who crossed into our territory and took refuge in Mexico with the property of our citizens, and to retake the property and punish the robbers.

If Mexico asked us to apologize, we could do so with much satisfaction. But we think the Mexican government would tender a vote of thanks to our government and the gallant officer, who crossed her border to punish a band of savages, who had murdered our citizens and brought suspicion upon a friendly nation by taking refuge within her borders.

General Reynolds has, upon every occasion, made a faithful representation of the condition of our frontier, and appealed to the authorities at Washington for help. Among the measures he has suggested and urged are, a frontier telegraph connecting the chain of posts from the Northern Texas border to the mouth of the Rio Grande, and the raising of frontier companies, or rather arming, clothing and paying for the time in service of companies organized among the frontier people, to act in concert with the troops.

In urging the frontier telegraph, he has proven, that it would be a measure of great economy, and certain of satisfactory results, besides being an enterprise conducive to the material welfare of the State. As to the frontier volunteers he has, in advance of authority, issued arms and authorized the organization of companies or patrols; at the same time asking the government to allow pay and clothing to those who serve.

General Reynolds will, no doubt, remain in command of the District and we feel confident, if he is properly backed by the authorities at Washington, the frontier will soon enjoy peace, and the frontier settler will no longer have the Indian to fear. Let our citizens petition Congress through our Representatives, or the War Department, in fact every Department, to aid General Reynolds, to carry out his frontier policy.

For ourselves, we intend to make a stir and keep it up, until our frontier is protected and at peace. We shall not be particular about personal feelings, and can't be so long as the frontier bleeds.

The government having taken possession of the telegraph lines, extraordinary scenes are occurring at the telegraph offices throughout England. The dissatisfaction is universal, and the complaints of delay and error have been greatly multiplied.

PROPOSED EXPLORATIONS.—Now that the Suez Canal is making the Red Sea a thoroughfare for civilized and Christian nations, why will not some enterprising antiquarian society set adequate dredgers and divers at work to recover the remains of Pharaoh's Host? According to Moses' account, six hundred chosen chariots and a great army of men and horses were overwhelmed in the shallow part of the sea, somewhere between Egypt and Sinai. The bones of the men and horses, and the weapons of war must be still in existence, and in or near the region where they were overwhelmed; not so deep, either, as to be beyond the reach of diving bells and other modern appliances. Let us have them fished up.

THE PEABODY ESTATE.—In England, whenever real estate is conveyed to an alien, the title passes to the crown. The heirs of Mr Peabody, finding themselves by this law without a title to his large real estate, petitioned the government to seize the property, and then by a grant from the crown complete their title. This is the only way, by English law, that the lands of an alien can be conveyed.

There is a firm of women in Wall street, operating as capitalists and brokers, and the fact begins to attract the attention of the street and of the city press. The firm is Woodhull, Claflin & Co. Some people think this an ominous proceeding on the part of women, but we do not think it has any special significance. If these women make money, well; if they fail, it is their own business. The world will go on much the same.

There was a time, not many years ago, when we did not offer many prayers for the preservation of the life of Jefferson Davis, but now we are glad that he has lived to see the State of Mississippi represented in the Senate of the United States by a colored man. We still believe there is a Providence which guides the affairs of men and nations in the interests of justice.

What a wonderful climate is that of British Columbia. The Vancouver Colonist, of the 5th of January, says, not a few tabeson New Year's Day were decorated with bouquets of beautiful flowers—fresh from the open garden—such as roses, wall-flowers, violets and pansies, with all the fragrance of midsummer about them.

Dr. Jones of New York, who has been restoring the blind to sight, straightening cross eyes, curing the deaf, and effecting so many wonderful cures of other difficult old standing diseases at Houston, will practice at the Washington House, GALVESTON, from the 18th of March, until the 12th of April. DR. JONES is said to be the most successful Oculist and Aurist in America.

Dissensions in the Council.—Judging from the indications from Rome it would appear that the Ecumenical Council, instead of being the means of cementing firmer than ever the time-honored edifice of the Roman Catholic Church, tends rather to produce a schism. Such speeches as have been delivered in the Council by Bishop Strossmayer give the uninitiated a new and interesting insight into legitimate Catholicism.

Pere Hyacinthe, Professor Dollinger, Archbishops Kettler and Ransher, Bishop Strossmayer and their friends (a strong party) demand "reform in the head and limbs of the Church," in opposition to the pretensions and desires of the Pope. This cry for reform was heard by papal ears at the time of the Council of Constance, and it now resounds with new renewed force. Every reader of the speeches delivered before the Ecumenical Council—every layman cannot but be astonished at the liberty of speech tolerated in a place whence originated the syllabus and the index librorum, and where such a bull as the one about the expominuaciones latas sententia has been reproduced. And they must be all the more astonished that such speeches can find their way into the columns of a fettered German and French press, and that they are read by millions of the faithful.

It is true that the members of the Council have been expelled on the ground that they furnished the press with information of the debates, but their places have been filled by men equally enlightened, which tends to prove that star chamber proceedings belong to the past.

The speeches made in the Council have been read, and every one is at liberty to make his own deduction. It is important to notice the determined stand taken by the liberal American, French, and German bishops against the Italian Jesuitism, that appears to control Pius IX. These bishops represent the Germanic spirit in its struggle with Romanism. Their speeches demonstrate what Dollinger said in a letter six months ago—that it was impossible for German Catholicism to withstand the influences of national and civilized life, or to keep aloof from literature and philosophy, but that it must necessarily be modernized by these agencies.

Strossmayer, the leader of the German liberal bishops goes so far in his celebrated speech, delivered January 26, that he might be considered an adept in the philosophy of Hegel, for he asserts that "That highest seat of ecclesiastical power shall not be in Rome, but in the hearts of the people." He further reasons, that Catholicism can only fulfill its true mission by advocating liberty and harmonizing with the institutions of the present. No reward can be expected by bishops who spread such doctrines; but judging from the boldness of their speeches, it must be presumed that they have a large number of followers who sustain them in their views. They enunciate principles to-day at the Vatican that were advocated by Ronge and the German Catholic apostles some twenty-five years ago. What these reformers whispered among themselves in the unimportant town of Schneidmuhle, falls to-day from the lips of archbishops in the proud halls of the Vatican on the ears of a Pius IX, and the whole college of Cardinals, with the exception of its two members, who are above eighty years of age, and who hold the French bishoprics of Lyons and Chambéry. What the result of this will be the future only can reveal.

At the commencement of the Council, the question of many laymen was, "What means this in the nineteenth century?" The answer was, that Papal infallibility was to be demonstrated or denied, and that this was the great object of the Council. But every session of the Council seems to indicate that this is a pretext. It was impossible for the Pope to call a Council for such a purpose, as he would thereby give his consent to Dollinger's assertion, that even the Popes themselves do not believe in their own infallibility.

A Council could not have been called for the purpose of instituting reforms, as the Pope would thereby concede that positive weakness existed in the Church—a decidedly unpopular admission. What, then, is the import of the Council? what will be the result of this gathering of church dignitaries? We see enough, indications to predict the modernizing of the Church; if not, a schism more extensive than any preceding one will inevitably occur, resulting in the establishing of independent Germanic and Gallic Churches. However that may be, it cannot be denied that the ablest of the bishops have come to the conclusion that something must be done, and that at once, to bring the Church in unison with the progressive genius of the century. They comprehend that it is as impossible to stop the progress of nations by a syllabus as it is to obstruct the course of the papal bull.

The commotion in the Church is felt throughout the world, and the result is anxiously awaited by untold millions, whose future is to be decided by the 800 Council fathers who engaged in the herculean task of reconstructing the Catholic Church. The liberal party, the earnest, whole-souled advocates of enlightened Catholicism, are battling with Jesuitism in its forms, with what results the future alone can tell.

The following anecdote well illustrates the Jesuitism of the men who desire to control, not only the temporal, but eternal happiness of millions: A liberal French bishop, in a debate at the Council, advocated a mild form of procedure against heretics, saying that it would induce the opponents of the Church to return to the old fold. He strengthened his position by using the well known proverb, "Melle capianur muscae." ("With honey you can catch mice.") A French conferee, of the Ultramontane stamp, immediately interrupted by remarking, "Sed ut occidantur." ("For the purpose of killing them!")

In the above article we have simply given expression to the views of liberal Catholic world, as opposed to the dogmas of the Ultramontans. SEND your little child to bed happy. Whatever cares press, give it a warm good-night kiss as it goes to pillow. The memory of this, in the stormy years which fate may have in store for a little one, will be like Bethlehem's star to the bewildered shepherds.

Good magistrates live to serve their country; the bad servit to live.

Local Intelligence.

THE OVATION.—Preparations are complete for an elegant supper at the Club on Tuesday night, given in honor of the Governor.

AN INCIDENT.—Among the many pleasant incidents of the Governor's visit, was the meeting of so many of his old comrades in arms, who greeted him on his arrival. Twelve of the commissioned officers of the "First Texas," happened to be in the city.

ADMITTED.—Mr. A. A. Dial was on Saturday, admitted to practice in the District and Supreme Courts of the State. He is a young man of ability, studious and temperate habits, and will doubtless do well in his vocation.

OUR SUBSCRIBERS at New Braunfels are constantly complaining that their papers reach them via Austin, and the Postmaster at the place states that he has no key to the brass lock bag, and all mail matter has to go to Austin to be opened. If this is not absurd, we do not know what is.

FATAL SHOOTING.—Guadalupe Garcia, a sworn bailiff to wait on the Grand Jury, and a terror to the horse thieves of this vicinity, visited the race track to arrest Martinez de Alas, on a charge of felony. The brother, Valentine, attacked Garcia with a knife. Garcia shot at him but missed, he then disarmed Valentine. Martinez then assaulted Garcia, who in self defense shot him in the breast, inflicting mortal wound. Garcia then brought Valentine to town on a charge of resisting and assisting an officer. He then surrendered himself to await the action of the Grand Jury now in session.

MASQUERADE.—The Casino Association gave a brilliant and remarkably successful masquerade ball at their Hall, on Saturday evening.

There were present about one hundred guests, and over sixty masks, impersonations of an historical, national, poetic or ludicrous character. There were clowns in tasteful costume; some composed of colors elegantly and fitly blended, and one especially noticeable, whose dress was made entirely of playing cards. An exaggerated reproduction of an English General in full uniform, was the cause of much good natured merriment.

Chimney sweeps, dusk as the ebony wing of Erebus, mingled with plumed vivandiers; showy Zouaves; Monks and tailors, shemagans, priests and Highlanders, Greeks and Circassians, jostled each other in the gay and motley throng.

The stately days of the Fourteenth Louis, were well represented by various male and female costumes, while a live Comanche, caught for the occasion, in all the bravery of war paint, scalp lock, plumes and weapons, waddled ever and anon his barbaric yams.

A number of the classic characters of Schiller, were most happily reproduced. Later in the evening, a Camel entered the ball room, ridden by an Ape, and led by men in the South American costume.

The dancing only suspended at midnight for the dismissal of a choice and bountiful supper, and was then resumed till the approach of dawn brought the festivities to a close.

RECEPTION OF GOVERNOR DAVIS.—SPONTANEOUS DEMONSTRATION BY THE PEOPLE.—Governor Davis arrived in our city about noon Sunday. A salute of fifteen guns were fired by order of the Post Commander, General Carleton, and the Governor and his family were received with due hospitality at Menger's Hotel. Several gentlemen made complimentary calls during the afternoon. At 5 o'clock in the evening, Fire Company No. 1, and other Associations, headed by the Mexican brass band, arrived in front of the hotel, and for some music, a deputation headed by Mr. Ed. Braden, waited on the Governor and welcomed him to the city. At least two thousand people had gathered on the square, and the Governor stepped out upon the balcony and made a few brief remarks, expressing his thanks for the compliment, and his friendship for the people of San Antonio. This procession passed on and a half hour later the German Turn Verein marched upon the square, bearing torches and headed by the German brass band, and accompanied by the Bethoven singing association, and at least one thousand of our citizens. After drawing up in front of the hotel, the Bethovens, headed by his Honor Mayor Thielepape, proceeded to the parlor of the hotel to welcome the Governor. The Mayor made a very appropriate address, which was responded to by the Governor.

A delegation of colored citizens headed by Mr. Fayette Walker, also paid their respects to the Governor, and received his thanks for their noble conduct during the recent campaign.

The Bethovens then sang some songs in splendid style. The Governor was then introduced from the balcony, by the Mayor, to the assembled people. His remarks were brief, merely thanking them, in the name of the State for their demonstration.

This ended the out-door reception. The night was very pleasant, and our citizens enjoyed themselves; we have never seen larger demonstrations, and so much good humor in our city. Governor Davis and his family are welcome among us.

RUNNING AWAY.—The precocious urchins of Austin seem to be seized with an epidemic for running away. Within a week four have stampeded; one to Webberville, two to Galveston, and one to the mountains.

The little chaps read the imperishable classic Robinson Crusoe, and the vivid tales of wandering adventure by Mayno Reid, in which the Cub begins by running away from a comfortable home, is captured by Indians, killed by pirates, and swallowed by sharks, and ends by becoming rich, marrying the most beautiful woman in the world, and returning home to bless his parents' declining years;—the boys read these marvellous yarns, and are seized with a natural desire to "take some in their own hands"; hence the running away. A little dose of real practical life, soon cures these vagaries.

A NEW MARKET HOUSE.—We learn that Cook, Christian & Loomis, have taken the contract to build in Austin, a new market house, two stories high, 40x80 feet in dimensions. The upper story will be in one room, suitable for a town hall or Federal Court. The building is to be located on old Capital hill and will cost ten thousand dollars.

Cannot San Antonio do likewise? Our old Courthouse does not meet the wants of the public, and is certainly not a great embellishment to the city.

HEAD QUARTERS POST OF SAN ANTONIO, SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, March 13, 1870. GENERAL ORDERS, NO. 28.

A salute of 15 guns will be fired at 12 o'clock, meridian, to-day, in honor of his Excellency Governor E. J. Davis, who has just arrived in this city.

By command of His Maj. General JAMES H. CARLETON. CHAS. P. SMITH, Capt. U. S. A., Post Adjutant.

The Demand Tells the Story.—From all directions orders for PHALON'S VITALEA OR SALVATION FOR THE HAIR come pouring in. All the noxious dyes, etc., go down before it. A year hence they will be unmarketable. The ladies say it is a pleasure to use as a perfumed toilet water, and it is as transparent as crystal. Nothing else reproduces so perfectly the original hue of the hair.

Facts for the Ladies. My Wheeler & Wilson Sewing-Machine (No. 3277) has done the sewing of my family, and a good deal for neighbors, for fourteen years and three months without any repairs. One needle served to do all the sewing for more than four years. W. A. HAWLEY.

MARYLAND'S SHAME.—There are two hundred and fifty thousand negroes in Maryland, including fifty thousand children. Last year the State contributed for the education of these blacks just $951.27. Of this sum Washington and Frederick counties, which embrace a good many Republicans, gave $638, or more than two-thirds. There is thus presented the spectacle of nearly one-third of the entire population of a State left, as it were, in a condition of ignorance. With a folly and short-sightedness which finds no comparison further south, the whites look with indifference upon this mass of ignorance which must, unless overcome, perpetuate the vices of slavery.—N.Y. Commercial Advertiser.

PLANTATION BITTERS
This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomach-ics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down
the animal spirits.

Wherever it is introduced it becomes a standard article—a medicinal staple. It is to-day
the best and purest tonic,
and the most popular
medicine in the civilized world—be sure and get the genuine. Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Country Stores.

A NEW DISCOVERY!!
PHALON'S
"VITALIA;"
OR,
Salvation for the Hair.
For Restoring to Gray Hair its Original Color

PHALON'S "VITALIA" differs utterly from all the "dyes,"
"colorers," and "restorers"
(?) in use. It acts on a totally different principle. It is limpid, fragrant, and perfectly innocuous, precipitates
no muddy or flacculent matter, requires no shampooing, and communicates no stain to the skin or the linen. No paper curtain is necessary to conceal its turbid appearance,
for the simple reason that it is not turbid. It is, to all intents and purposes, A NEW DISCOVERY
in Toilet Chemistry.

Phalon's "VITALIA" is warranted to effect a change in the color of the hair within 10 days after the first application, the directions being carefully observed.

IT IS AS CLEAR AS WATER!
AND HAS NO SEDIMENT.
Price, One Dollar per Box,
CONTAINING TWO BOTTLES.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

If your Druggist has not
"Vitalia" on hand write, enclosing $1.00, and we will forward it immediately.
