Decoration day in San Antonio.

In accordance with previous announcements and a general public call, many of our citizens visited the National Cemetery Tuesday, and assisted in the observance of a day, thrice dear to every patriot's heart.

At a few moments after ten o'clock, Col. L. E. Moore, Post commander of the G. A. R. announced the opening of the ceremonies of the day, and in a few brief, though eloquent words, expressed his high sense of the obligations of the day and the purity of the hearts that had assembled to do honor to the memories of a Nation's dead heroes.

At the close of his remarks, Messrs. Lett, Kempton and Muller, advanced a few paces, and each in a few feeling words deposited upon the graves, choice bunches of beautiful flowers.

At the close of his remarks, Messrs. Lett, Kempton and Muller, advanced a few paces, and each in a few feeling words deposited upon the graves, choice bunches of beautiful flowers.

At the close of the General's speech, the assemblage continued through the beautiful grounds of the cemetery, and assisted in decorating the graves with the flowers that were present, in quantities. Many ladies came upon the grounds, and their sympathies in the day, and its memories, went far to encouraging the directors of the ceremonies, to extra exertions.

The halyards of the flag staff were lined with flags, that floated majestically upon the morning breeze; the neat walks, the green shrubbery, the neatness of the grounds, and the air of solemn quiet pervading the cemetery, lent an air of poet to the eye and the mind, in full keeping with the spirit of such an occasion.

attendance, with their ladies, fully appreciating the memories of the day.

General Reynolds and Carleton, Col. Terrell, Col. Wood, and other officers of the post were in attendance. We cannot close our notice of this event in San Antonio, without alluding to the splendid patriotism and our well known citizen Samuel Bell. With the weight of years and honors upon him, how was upon the grounds, while the fire of loyalty and patriotism shone from his eyes with a light that but few younger hearts and souls ever experienced; tempered only by the mists of sorrow that the memories of the sacred occasion evoked.

His was the fervent patriotism that lived through all the hot-breaths of secession, and found happiness in hugging the dear old flag to his heart and biding the time when strong arms would again uplift its glorious folds, proclaiming a return to the eternal principles of Liberty and a Nation's honor preserved.

As the burning words of General Ekin fell upon his ear, the old man's form gained new vigor. We could see the old proud dash come into his eye; Memory with a thousand strings was busy within his loyal heart, and though there were those around, whose histories were eventful, there were none whose honor was greater, whose patriotism more fervent or whose pride in the grand old flag above their heads more noble than that of Samuel Bell, whose name and record of loyalty is to be written upon the brightest page of Texas history.

We hope that many, many happy days of patriotic fervor, such as was felt on this the decoration day of a Nation, will return to bless loyal hearts in San Antonio.

Vandalism.

The truth of the old saying that drowning men catch at straws, receives a remarkable illustration in the recent action of the Ohio wing of the Democracy, under the direction of the celebrated Vallandigham.

There is a dry kind of facetiousness about this that has not been exceeded by anything in the political world since the time that a somewhat similar movement was attempted in the South, under the direction of Wade Hampton, shortly after the war, when he exulting announced, that the North in establishing negro suffrage had placed a club in the hands of the Southern people, and that it was their loyal intention to beat out the brains of the Republican party with it.

From the desperation caused by the certainty of political annihilation, should they continue to stand on the Democratic platform, we may expect a wholesale exhibition of political hypocrisy that will border on the sublime.

Before these seemingly penitent political criminals can be pardoned and received into the fold of the Republican party, we would like to put them through a little preliminary examination, in order to test their sincerity.

Question 1st.—What is your present opinion in regard to the abolition of slavery; have you any doubts as to its not being a divine institution, and what is your opinion of John Brown as an American citizen and Patriot?

Question 2nd.—Are you fully convinced of the federal supremacy; that the doctrine of state rights is defunct; that the rebellion was a political crime; and are you really sorry for whatever you may have done to favor it, and do you promise to do so no more under any circumstances?

Question 3.—Do you still think that Jeff. Davis, Stevens and the ex-Confederate heroes were really actuated by the purest of motives in waging war on the Government; do you really think treason idolatry? The idea of the unreconstructed Ku Klux of high and low degree becoming enthusiastic over such doses as negro suffrage, the war debt, State Police, Public schools, registration of voters; and wanting more of the same sort, is so exorbitating that we are unable to do the subject justice.

In Kansas City, Mo., a little child—one of the Marretta sisters—while performing on the trapeze fell headlong from a great height, striking with a heavy "blind" upon the floor of the theatre. By a miracle she escaped death, but was dreadfully bruised.

Why is the camel the most irascible animal in the world? Because he always has his back up.

Important Correspondence.

The above correspondence has been very kindly furnished us by the Hon. E. Degener, in addition to his return home, he writes to us that he appreciates the anxiety which the Government feel upon all subjects connected with the numerous Indian captives upon our borders.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS, WASHINGTON, D. C., April 13, 1871.

Sir:—Referring to letter of this office to you, dated the 10th of February last, relative to Rudolph Fisher, a captive among the Indians. I have now the honor to enclose for your information upon the same subject, a copy of a letter from Laurie Tatum, Agent for the Kiowa, Comanche, and Apache Indians, addressed to Superintendent Hoag on the 11th ultimo, in which that Agent says there appears to be a young man answering to the description given of Rudolph Fisher, with one of the bands of the Comanche Indians.

Very respectfully, Your obedient servant, R. R. CLUM, Acting Commissioner.

FOUR BILL, INDIAN TERRITORY, OFFICE KIOWA AGENCY, 3 mo 11, 1871.

FRIEND E. HOAG, Sup't Ind. Affairs: Your letter of the 11th ultimo, from Commissioner E. S. Parker, and E. Degener, M. C., have been received. I have made inquiry concerning the boy mentioned, Rudolph Fisher. There appears to be a young man answering his description, with one of the bands of the Comanche Indians.

Will the Department order that he be taken without his consent, if it can be done without being likely to cause difficulty with the Indians? I think it would be best to remove him from the Indians if practicable, whether he is willing or not.

There appears to be another boy among the same band of Indians. Perhaps it may be the son of — Friend, who lives in Kansas. I have heard that there are two Indian prisoners at Fort Richardson. If so, and I could have the assurance that they would be brought here in exchange for those whites, it may be that I could get them in that way.

Respectfully, LAURIE TATUM, Indian Agent

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, OFFICE INDIAN AFFAIRS, April 4, 1871.

Sir:—Your letter of the 24th ultimo, enclosing two communications from Agent Tatum, and one from G. H. Smith, "Acting Agent," Kiowa Agency, is received.

One of Mr. Tatum's letters relates to Rudolph Fisher, a captive among the Indians, respecting whom he was directed to make inquiry, by office letter of the 10th of February last.

Mr. Tatum now reports that there appears to be a young man, answering the description given of Rudolph Fisher, living with one of the bands of the Comanche Indians; and, that the Indians say the captive has married among them and is not willing to leave. He also remarks that there is another boy captive with the same band, thought to be a son of "— Friend" who lives in Kansas, and suggests the recovery of this and the other captive, by exchanging them for two Indians, who, he has heard, are at Fort Richardson.

In regard to Rudolph Fisher, the question is asked—Will the Department order that the young man be taken from the Indians without his consent, if it can be effected without causing difficulty with the Indians among whom he lives?

It is not, perhaps, advisable to take any step for compelling the young man against his will to leave his present associations; but, if it be possible, he should be secured and persuaded to return to his relatives and friends in Texas. Should the only obstacle in the way of his return, be the objection or unwillingness of the Indians to part with him, a demand, positive and firm, should be made upon them to deliver him up, as also any other captive in their possession.

You will instruct Agent Tatum to inquire further into this matter; and if it be practicable, he should visit the band said to hold these captives here referred to, and by his utmost endeavors, cause the captives to be released; but, he should not listen for a moment to any claim on the part of the Indians for a ransom price. The captives must be returned to their relatives, without condition. No exchange of Indian prisoners who may be in the hands of the Indians, for white captives among the Indians, can now be considered. Mr. Tatum has not given the name of the band of Comanches referred to, nor say where they reside, or that they, or any of them, ever come upon the reservation under his charge. If they are distant and not likely soon to come in, and if it is impracticable for the Agent to go, it would be well to dispatch some trustworthy and influential chief of the friendly Comanches living upon the reservation, to effect the object desired.

In this connection, your attention is called to the enclosed copy of a letter from H. M. Smith, of Kendall county, Texas, dated the 8th ultimo, and addressed to the Governor of Texas, in which Mr. Smith says, that on the 27th of February last, a party of Indians, Comanches or Kickapoo, captured and carried off with them his two sons, Clinton and Jefferson, aged respectively, 11 and 9 years. He remarks that a Capt. Sansome, who went in pursuit of the party, was of the opinion they were Comanches, because they proceeded north, but that a Mexican shepherd, who saw them distinctly, pronounced them to be Kickapoo.

You will direct Agent Tatum to ascertain whether the boys are with any of the Kiowa and Comanche bands; and if he found they are, he will endeavor to obtain their recovery also. The captives may, however, be Kickapoo, who at times raid into Texas from Mexico. If this be so, something may be learned of the boys by Agent Miles, who has doubtless, by this time, gone down to the Rio Grande, by order of this Department, to see about removing back to the United States, the Kickapoo who reside in Mexico; and it is possible he may be able to recover the boys and cause them to be returned to their home in Texas. You will give him, without delay, suitable instructions in the matter.

Very Respectfully, Your obedient servant, H. R. CLUM, Acting Commissioner.

ENOCH HOAG, Supt. Indian Affairs, Lawrence, Kansas.

Fearful Report.

Mr. John S. Chism, passed Fort Concho on the 20th inst., with about 3,000 head of cattle, bound for New Mexico and Colorado, having in company several hundred goats. To-day, the 27th, the stage driver from the west, brings a report to Ft. Concho, that on the plains this side of the Pecos river, the Indians attacked and stampeded the herd, and killed eight of the drivers. We hope the account is not true, or is greatly exaggerated, but other reports of the doings of the Indians, in that vicinity, leave but little ground for hope.

A negro was recently killed by lightning near Montgomery, Ala., as he was carrying home a bag of stolen corn. An old negro exclaimed, as she viewed the body, "Dar now, I see sure 'nuff do Lord done turned Ku-Klux."

The above side-splitting exhibition of wit is the best thing we have seen in the Herald for some time. We have heretofore pondered over its dreary columns, full of the stereotyped epithets against law, order and decency, in search of something worth noticing, but in vain.

The above is a hopeful sign of improvement. The jokes, itself, bears upon its face, evidence of midnight toll, of the combined intellectual trio. In order to encourage the local of the Herald in his German studies, we quote a German proverb in reply, expressive, at once, of the grovelling instincts of the perpetrators of the jokes, and the rarity of its occurrence: "Eine Miade Saw hat eine Eschel gefunden."

Sheridan's Speech at Boston.

General Sheridan, at the meeting of the Army of the Potomac Association, said: Gentlemen—I will not detain you long. I can only say I have always felt proud of being or having been a member of the Army of the Potomac; but I think I feel prouder since my return home that at any period heretofore. During my absence I had the privilege of seeing nearly every army in Europe. Some of these armies are in the field, and some are in peace at home; and, although it was not my privilege to be a member of the Army of the Potomac at that period of its existence which has been rebuffed by our distinguished orator, still it was my great delight and pleasure to be a member of it during the last year of the war, and I can say that while I did not know it at the period related, yet I did not know it very well toward the last. I can only say, in conclusion, that of all the armies I have seen, I have seen none whose standard of excellence was higher than that of the Army of the Potomac during the last year of the war.—[Loud cheers.]

THE DIFFERENCE.—The Albany Evening Journal pertinently remarks: "The civilized world stands aghast at the murders perpetrated by the rabble of Paris since the war closed. But the aggregate of these murders may be counted on one's fingers while carefully prepared statistics show, that, since our war closed, more than thirty thousand men have been slaughtered in cold blood by unreconciled traitors. And yet men whose eyes overflow with tears at the massacre of a few Parisians, are indignant that any steps should be taken to put a stop to this wholesale murder of their countrymen."

GAMBLING in a paradoxical way claims that he ought to be valuable to the Republican party, because he is costly.

CONSIDERABLE sickness is reported between here and the coast. We hope immediate steps will be taken so thoroughly to cleanse and police our city as to prevent any possibility of disease making its inroads upon our people.

Why are we extremely obliged to Dr. Stocum for the trouble he takes in keeping a republican paper that supported and endorsed him into office, posted, as to the doings of the county court. Though Republicans are considered ungrateful, we do not charge the Doctor with any "sib" tendency.

More than 500,000 people bear testimony to the wonderful curative effects of Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery. OUR CITY surveyor is the hardest working man in Texas. All this week he has been out in the shrapnel, personally assisting in the survey of the grounds for the military depot. Mr. Hartnett understands his duty and does it well. We wish he were more consulted. For instance in building bridge abutments and works of like character that require nice mathematical calculation, and then nice practical work.

In our notes regarding the ceremonies of decoration day, we omitted to mention the reading of the General Order of the Grand Army, authorizing them to use every endeavor to observe the day indignantly, by Captain J. C. Hanson, who we believe is a veteran of the order. As much of the taste displayed in the decorations of the graves in the work of Capt. Hanson we desire that he may not be omitted in the general mention of loyal and worthy men who have done so much towards the inauguration of the sacred ceremonies of a National decoration day of its heroes graves.

We haven't tried them.

Victim of debility? who is responsible for your feebleness? Not yourself, you will say, for you've done all you could to cure it. That's a mistake on your part. You haven't tried Hostetter's Bitters. Gleomy dyspeptic, with an uneasy stomach and a world-weary face, of course you don't think yourself responsible for your own torments. But you are. It's easy to condemn your condition that you haven't tried Hostetter's Bitters. Bilious sufferer, it is not your fault, you think, that your symptoms grow worse day by day. Blue pill doesn't do you any good. Very likely. But you can be brought round for all that.

Why haven't you tried Hostetter's Bitters? Friend, on whom fever and ague alternately blow hot and cold, and whose brain seems to be harrying with the effects of some powerful drug, do you assume the responsibility? O, no! You've taken pills, quinine, and all the regulation medicines. What could you do more? One thing more—the very thing that would have exempted you from all the pangs that now rack you.

You have never tried Hostetter's Bitters.

Nervous invalid, what have you to say? You plead that you have taken all the nervines of the pharmacopoeia. If they have done you no good, it is not your fault. You are not responsible. Wrong, all wrong. You have, in reality, nobody to blame but yourself.

Why haven't you tried Hostetter's Bitters? For all the above-named complaints, the Bitters are absolute specifics.

An inquisitive old bachelor wanted to know how it was so many ladies signed their names "Sara" now-a-days, when a fellow at his elbow replied, those who did so were English girls and dropped their 's.

Origin of Ku-Klux.
To the Editor of the New York Tribune:
As an explanation of the origin and significance of the term "Ku-Klux" would doubtless be gratifying to many curious readers, I have been asked to furnish it. It is from Weaver's "Famous Moments," edition 1871, noted in Dirrell's "Calamities and Quarrels of Authors" (London edition, 1867, p. 621). The lines were written on the death of John Perry, a Welsh non-conformist:
The Welshman is hanged,
Who at our krike flanged,
And at the state hanged,
And hanged are his buns;
And thought he be hanged,
Yet he is not wrangled;
The devil has him flanged,
In his braked kinks;
Sure the devil's braked kinks (crooked claws or clutches) would be a very appropriate name for those emissaries of Satan known in our days as the Ku-Klux. D. PLAINFIELD, N. J., April 29, 1871.

THINGS which don't always follow as a natural consequence. If you peep on a healthy male, it does not always follow that he is a man standing in the doorway of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, it doesn't always follow that he boards there.

If you see a man running along the street, it doesn't always follow that he is doing a rushing business.

If you see a man beating time at a concert, and looking very knowingly, it does not always follow that he understands a particle of music.

If you hear a couple "dearing" and "daring" each other before people, it doesn't always follow that they do it when they are at home alone.

If you meet a stranger who asks you to lend him five dollars, and you lend it to him, it doesn't always follow that he will be in a hurry to return it.

If you meet a man troubled with dyspepsia and rolling his eyes in a very sanctimonious way, it does not always follow that he is a "saint."

When you read what the Herald's correspondents are "enabled to send" to that paper from France, it doesn't always follow that they were not perched on a stool in the top of the Herald's building when they "sent" it.

Three little girls who had very carefully buried in a garden, in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, the dead body of a pet bird, after consultation, sent one of their number into the house to inquire "if people didn't sing at funerals." On being told that they often did, the messenger ran back, and in a few minutes the three were seen standing hand in hand around the little mound, gravely singing, "Shoo! shoo! do bolder me."

Consumption,
Its Cure and its Prevention,
By J. N. Schenck, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whom death there was no other reason than the neglect of Schenck's Bitters, a timely proven means of cure. These men and women to family and friend are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they early adopted

Dr. Joseph N. Schenck's simple Treatment, and availed themselves of the wonderful of Schenck's medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is questioned into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the fact of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-evident, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the enemy of the malady is assailed. Two thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbid action of the liver. Here then comes the eliminating result, and the sitting in, with all its distressing symptoms of Consumption.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's richest gifts—the Podophyllum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-cleansing, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they "Leave no sting behind."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the lungs and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It crosses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting on his feet.

A Supply of Good Blood.
The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, purifies and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no accumulation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its function and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impacted and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gelatinous, it separates from the surrounding medium, and in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten tissue that it occupies is reabsorbed and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the more good or womanhood that was Given up as lost.

The second thing to be, the patient must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. For as air and rising out especially in this season of the country in the fall and winter seasons are all very dry. Physicians who recommended that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased, and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patient must keep to good spirits—be determined to get well. This is a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and total certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement in the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words: "Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption confined to my bed, and at one time my physician thought that I could not live a week; then, like a drowning man, reaching at straws, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They opened up the matter in my lungs, and I could spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.

As soon as that began to subside my cough, fever, pain and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite began to grow great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown a flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is one hundred and twenty-five (25) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and London. He is now in San Antonio, Texas, still continuing to see patients at their homes, No. 15 North Main street, Philadelphia, every Wednesday from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Microscope will be charged $5. The Microscopist declares that exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniment than the simple instructions that accompany them; First create appetite. Of restoring health, hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood is now flowing, the cough subsides, the night sweat is checked. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, 25 cts a bottle, or $1 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

SAVED BY HERRING'S SAFES.

OFFICE OF ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY,
 No. 55 Broadway,
 New York, Dec. 21, 1891.
 Messrs. Herring, Farrell & Sherman, General Agents at Richmond, Va. We got through tonight drying and fixing up the money from the contents of the safe—$25,000 in bills, we recovered. It was a Herring safe, and a good one, indeed. Yours, truly,
 C. B. WOOD, Treasurer,
 Messrs. Herring, Farrell & Sherman, No. 55
 Broadway, New York.
 The two safes of your manufacture, which we had in use on the morning of the fire, at the Spotswood Hotel, which destroyed the Spotswood Hotel and adjoining block of buildings, have given full satisfaction, and served to prevent the destruction of some $25,000 in currency, besides the valuable papers and books contained therein. It was impossible for them to have been destroyed, and we are glad to say that the safe was nearly 30 hours after the fire.
 Respectfully,
