SUNDAY, FEBR. 16, 1873.

THE government troops of Mexico have won another victory over the insurgents headed by Lozada, the leader of a band of communists who advocate a general division of property. The insurgents were defeated before Matamoros, and are in rapid flight towards Tepic, pursued by the national troops.

THE New York Herald has sent Mr. J. A. O'Kelly to Cuba whose intention is to penetrate the insurgent lines and furnish the Herald by actual observation with exact information concerning the status of the insurrection. The Spanish Cuban authorities refused to give Mr. O'Kelly a pass, and Gen. Mo ralde, who is in command of the forces, has issued a decree forbidding all persons to leave the island without permission. It is now known that if the Spanish troops find you among the insurgents, or if you afterwards appear within the Spanish lines, you will be treated as a spy and shot immediately.

Whompon the Herald comes bravely to the rescue, and informs whom is many concern that the printing press rules this country, and if a hair of Mr. O'Kelly's head is injured there will be a general "cleaning out" of Spain, and King Alfonso may retire into private life.

There is more in these threats than most people are willing to believe. Mexico has indeed become the martyr whose blood shall give freedom to the foul-smelling Cubans. Something is about to aroise this country in proper sympathy towards the Cuban patriots, and when once it is thoroughly informed the government of the United States will be compelled to act. But we hope the Herald comissioner will succeed in furnishing the country with full and accurate statements of affairs in Cuba, without harm to himself; and believe that the real facts will prove sufficient to aroise the attention of this whole country as well as that of the government.

Legislative Proceedings.
ATX, Feb. 12, 1873.
SENATE.
The memorial of D. M. Patrick was presented, requesting the best of Senator Seward, of the Fifteenth District.
The special order, the amendment of the bill, was taken up. The amendment prohibits special taxation by School Directors to build school houses and maintain schools.

A military bill was reported under a suspension of the rules and passed.

The report of the conference committee on the printing bill was agreed to, by a vote of 13 to 12.

HOUSE.
Brodhead got leave to introduce a report on the Printing bill.

The report recommended that the Senate recede from its amendment abolishing State printer and all other amendments, except those referring to the number of copies of documents, etc., to be printed.

The report was adopted.

A message from the Senate was received announcing the passage of House bill 106, requiring the District Court of Trinity County to hold herself at Trinity.

A bill to create the new county of Hempstead, pending an adjournment, was again referred to the Senate to be introduced by Senator Clark, of that department, who wants the work, now show that he can do it so cheap as it can be done by outside competition, he will probably have it added to the rest amount of other public printing done under his superintendance.

He is now in Washington.

The previous question was ordered. The vote was immediately reconsidered, as the House found it had got in a fix and had to go back.

A message from the Senate was received announcing that that body had adopted the report of the Conference committee on the printing bill. Grinn and applies.

The substitute, previously under discussion, was adopted.

Bands amended to strike out supervisor throughout the bill. The amendment was failed and the bill passed.

The bill to incorporate Gainesville was introduced and passed.

A resolution to give the engraving clerk assistants, and authorizing the employment of a calendar clerk was introduced and passed.

February 11, 1873.

The consideration of the motion respecting the hospitalization of Galveston was resumed, the previous question ordered and the resolution adopted, by a large vote.

The bill for changing the time of holding the courts in the Sixth Judicial District, was passed.

A bill amending the pension acts, with reference to the definition of swindling, passed.

The bill amending the charter of Columbus was taken up and passed under a suspension of the rules.

The rules were suspended to allow members to introduce bills. Every member had his motion fail, and they adjourned immediately. Most of them were present.

It will surely undermine the foundations of the Courthouse, and thus open a general prospect to some misfortune. Will the tax-payers of the city, in view of the unenriched condition of the city, bear the expense?

The speakers took the floor, and introduced upon the brilliant and far-sighted genius, who has devised a way of ridding Soledad Street of super-abundant water and mud. Why not have similar sink holes made in all parts of the city? The times are dull, and little work in this direction will give the doctors and sextons something to do and they must live you know, "by hook or by crook."

The Deaf and Dumb Asylum.

We are just in receipt of the report of the trustees of this institution although it is dated August 31st 1872. The institution appears to be well managed, and would doubtless accomplish more good were its features more generally known. During the last academic year there were thirty pupils in attendance, three of whom graduated and were dismissed.

The period allowed each pupil is seven years, and no charge is made for board or tuition, this being borne by the State, but parents or guardians are expected to furnish clothing and traveling expenses. The total expense of the institution last year amounted to $11,425.75-$425.75 in excess of the appropriation. Considerable improvements have been made in the buildings, and the pupils are under care as maternal and faithful as possible. It speaks well for the location and management that there has not been a single death in the institution since its organization.

The press, in our opinion, ought to appoint a special committee to investigate the charges made against himself in connection with stock transactions. The request was refused on the ground that the Vice President could be reached only by impeachment by the House.

Senator Patterson, also implicated, made a similar request on Tuesday, and it was immediately granted without discussion. The committee consists of Mr. It will amount to nothing.

THE CONGRESSIONAL CHAMBERS.

There is an animated contest going on just now, among the publishers in Washington, to obtain the contract for reporting and printing and publishing the daily proceedings in Congress. For nearly half a century the work has been done by the Blair and Stevens. The reports are published daily in newspaper form, under the title of the "National Globe." The proceedings of the day make up the contents of the Globe of the following morning, embracing ten large pages, together with an supplement, quite often, of two or four pages. The same matter is afterwards made up in small quarto pages for binding in convenient form for preservation. Hitherto the work has been very profitably, there being a responsibility connected with it that few care to undertake. Now, however, there are among the city printers and publishers those who think the work ought to be put up for competition, and have been pressing Congress to allow them an opportunity to offer a bid. The subject has been considered, and joint committee of Congress on Printing have invited bids for the printing of the Congressional Globe for the Forty-third Congress. It is reported that the work has been very profitably done by the Blair and Stevens.

The special order, the amendment of the bill, was taken up. The amendment prohibits special taxation by School Directors to build school houses and maintain schools.

"Well, Chandler," replied Mr. Wade, "I should go home in the afternoon and And you in my poster, sitting and shaking hands with Mr. Wade, I would consider it all right and exceedingly pleasant. ## LOCAL AFFAIRS.

The "Two Boys" who founded that there is but one editor in the Americas, and that he has his own local—and everything else which appears in his paper, for that matter.

This new proprietor of the "Old Stand," seems quite taking the blizzard by storm. They do say that he has the last silts, in town, and therefore we can't advise anybody to go there, because he might get into the habit of going. Habits, it is said, are easily formed, but hard to be broken.

SAN ANTONIO is a remarkable City—let the people abroad mark it. It numbers nearly 10,000 inhabitants, has a mixed population of nearly all races, has no Maine liquor law, nor Sunday laws, and yet there is not in this whole Union a City of the same size, or half so populous and orderly. We may safely challenge a comparison with the smallest town in the country. There is less litigation, less drunkenness, less civil disturbance or commotion here than characterizes any City on the continent. Strangers or transient visitors, notice this fact with surprise. Travelling and house breaking is almost unknown. Boys sharing the so-called "fraternity" there exhibit rules of decency and honor which are seldom disregarded. Life and property are indemnified. There is no longer, though going outside of the Roman Catholic Church, but there is no heister Sabbath breaking, and any one may walk the streets at midnight in perfect security, although it would be a passing business to find a policeman. What is the secret of all this quiet and repose? Simply that we are a law-abiding people, and turn the cold shoulder to criminal adventure. If any one can give a better reason let him do so.

WEDDING JOURNEY OF BENJ.

A San Paul correspondent writes to the New York World an interesting account of the effects of the last terrible storm in the Northwest. He says:

"A sad case is reported of a young bridegroom on their way from Canada, near Fergus Falls, in this State. According to Terra, the young man's father met the bridegroom, near Ferguson Falls, in this State. They lost their way, and, leaving the young bride in the sleigh, father and son started off to find the road, and have, not since been seen.

"After a time the young woman became alarmed, and called to halloo for them. Not hearing any reply, she left the sleigh to seek them. After wandering about for a time she came to some logs, where she discovered herself as well as the child, and where she was found two days afterward, badly frozen, still alive. There is no hope of her recovery. It was a wedding journey of death."

Do not Jews write poetry? The editor of the Jewish Messenger informs us that during all the years of his editorship, perhaps not more than a dozen original poems have been sent to him from contributors of the Jewish faith, and during the past year he did not receive a single poem for insertion."

Pay Director John S. Cunningham, United States Navy, is under orders from the Navy Department to attend the great exposition at Vienna, and to report thereon.

THE INAUGURAL CEREMONIES.

Preparations are being made by a number of public-spirited men in Washington to make the Inaugural Ceremonies on the 4th of March the most brilliant and imposing celebration ever held at the capital. Military and civic bodies will take part in the parade, and in the evening a grand ball will be given in a building erected for the purpose. The Avenue, from the Capitol to the White House will be illuminated at night, and other attractive features are announced. It is quite probable that a grand carnival will be held on the day following the inauguration. If this should be decided upon, and half rates are secured over the leading railroads, it will test the entertaining capacity of Washington to the utmost to properly care for the tens of thousands of visitors who will take this occasion to visit the most attractive city on the continent.

ARRIVALS AT MONGER'S STORE.

February 14th, 1873.

A. L. Baker, Seguin; J. E. Leibert, with St. Louis; F. W. A. Stetson, Fredericksburg; Wm. Wohrmann & co.; A. L. Jones, Houston; Mr. P. Wood, Troy, N. Y.; G. V. Vanish, Austin; Sam Wallach, Ft. McKeever; S. L. Hirschfeld, Cincinnati; W. W. Wood & Lady, Austin; B. F. Keling, Huron; W. P. Cushingham, Hillsboro.

A BRILLIANT ATMOSPHERE.

The greatest atmospheric wave which the meteorologists tell us sweeps over the whole United States from the Pacific Northwest at this season, is loaded with unwholesome vapors that chill the body and distract all its functions. Perspiration is checked, the stomach is deranged, the bowels and the liver sympathize with that organ, the nerves and muscles are affected, pulmonary complaints are engendered, and the spirits are more or less depressed. These are the ordinary effects produced by the moist, ungenial winds prevalent in the winter months. But if the system is toned and fortified in advance with Hinsdale's Stomach Bitters, no danger need be apprehended from any condition of the atmosphere. The ill winds that blow, nobody can feel! will be likely to blow any harm to him who strengthens and regulates his internal organs with this wholesome vegetable tonic and alterative, and clothes his outside in a manner suitable to the season. The seeds of fever and ague and other diseases of an intermittent and remittent type, are now in the air, and are liable to be planted in the system, to germinate and bring forth bitter fruit, unless immediately at a later period, unadvisable precautions are taken to ward them off. Of all safeguards against malaria, this famous vegetable tonic is the best; of all remedies for the painful ailments caused by damp, cold and sudden changes of temperature, such as rheumatism, gout, rheumatism of the bowels, ulcers attacks and indigestion, it is the most reliable and agreeable.

CALIFORNIA BOYS.—Four Mexican boys recovered from the Comanches, have arrived in our city, in charge of the military authorities, on their way to their homes. Their names are Juan Benavides, Jose R. Benavides, Melchor Tovar, and Luis Flores. The Benavides boys are from Laredo, Texas; Luis Flores from San Luis, Mexico, and Melchor Tovar from Laredo, Mexico.—Austin Journal Feb. 19th.

MURKIN, MARY FOLEY AND MARY.—We learn that the bodies of three persons were found in the vicinity of Hope, Lawrence county, evidently murdered. One was the son of Mr. Fowler, aged about twenty-one years; the other two, children of Mr. Galley, ten and twelve years old; all shot to death near the entrance of a cave which they had been climbing. May a just vengeance overtake the perpetrators of this abominable crime.—Galveston Planter.

A BRILLIANT EXHIBITION OF HORSES IN THE NORTH.—The British and American Horse Show will commence March 23, and continue through April 1, 1873, and will probably be attended by millions of people, especially in the immediate vicinity being the largest, and the country adjacent the most populous in the Empire. The fair is to be held under the auspices of the city government of Kioto, and will include exhibitions of every kind of animal, and will be conducted in accordance with the usual English plan.

NOTICE.

THE WORLD does not contain a publication more instructive, which has obtained a wide spread and deserved popularity than the MEXICAN MUSTANG LITERARY. Since its introduction to public notice more than twenty years ago, it has been consistently read by every kind of citizen in or out of man or woman, which can be accounted by a local application, and also as its proprietors are persons who have had a good education, and are well informed in the affairs of the country. The MEXICAN MUSTANG LITERARY is now published monthly, and contains a large amount of valuable information, and is well worth the price of a dollar.

THE MEXICAN MUSTANG LITERARY.—This month's number is the last in the world. Perpetually increasing, it is the record of the most brilliant and glorious, and will probably be attended by millions of people, especially in the immediate vicinity being the largest, and the country adjacent the most populous in the Empire.
