THE MARGARY MURDER IN CHINA.

The Margary mucher investigation is and the character has decided that China, by the British commissioners, Messra. Groevener and Barber, is exciting considerable interest, as manifest by late dispatches. This interest grows partly out of the general desire of civilized actions bolding treaty relations with that fast. Oriental empior to so their consective effices there protected from the fasticion and jestony of native motor but it is increased by the conviction that England, long cocking an exense to secume arbitrary control there, to the partial exclusion of other countries, has Received actions of other consistence, here determined to adopt the Margary case as such excess. This is strongthened by the fact that in a religious riot, April 24, in Chang Kingle, Szedwan Province, along towards gastive Christians were hilled and some 200 houses burned.

It is confidently respected that the whole Margary affair will be respected by the Sritish actionists, who, for a long time past, have had in contemplation the mocanity for dealing with the matter in a new and more violent way. It is also stated that energetic measures would have been adopted a yage age, if the Seritish had been ready for heatile operations. Delays of long negotiations and the mission of Grovenor are intended to diagnize inability to act at the moment. It is now considered certain that the investigations of Grovenor are intended to diagnize inability to act at the moment. CAPT, McNRIEV'S COMPANY,-We were pleased to find, in a conversation with Capt. McNelly, the character of the company which he has been using so effectual ly on the frontier. The Captain seemed proud of his men, speaking of them in about the following terms: "My men are mostly from the interior of the State, many of them from Washington county, near my home. I prafer men from the interior, because of their greater s'eadi-

nee. I find that they can ride longer, stand more hardships, oat less, and are most obedient to my commands. I enforce the very strictest discipline, and would not besitate to compare my company with a similar number of men anywhere, in any respect, regarding their qualifications as soldiers. I allow no whiskey in camp,-there has not been a drop of liquor in my camp for many months. No man who wears a Mexican hat with anakes around it can belong to my company I allow no obscene language to be used by my men. When any missed. I can bring my men to your city, know better than to get drunk, shout, run their horses through a town or past house in the country. I can rely upon my men." Capt. McNelly told us this in a
