THE Austin Gazette contains a correspondence between Judge Hancock and Hon Gustav Schleicher, relative to a resolution introduced in the District Convention which nominated the latter for Congress last summer. Mr. Schleicher shows that he was not the auther, and further declares that Judge Hancock's course upon the Frontier bill was entirely misapprehended. Judge Hancock, he'believes, was as warm a friend to the bill as he himself, and the introduction by him of the objectionable South Carolina resolution was to make friends for the Texas Frontier bill.

THE MEXICAN REVOLUTION.

Instead of brightening, the prospects of early peace in Mexico are growing mere hopeless. The opposition to Teja-da, whose term of office derived from his first election expired on the first of November, is constantly growing stronger. It is reasonably alleged that his claims to another term of office are the result of fraud and intimidation enacted at the polls to bring about his election; and that he is not now the legal Presi-

Many of the most prominent Mexican soldiers and statesmen ceased their loyalty to the Lerdo government with the expiration of his last term of office, and have allied themselves with the revolu-tionary party to secure his overthrow. This new departure has infused the revolutionists with atrong hopes of success, and the reality reverses of fortune on the part of the Lerdistas is evidence that the revolutionists are not by any means an insignificant faction. A battle was recently fought between Canales and Pedro Martinez in which the army of the Lerdistas was almost annihilated, 2000 federal soldiers being left dead upon the field.

Iglesias claims to be President, and has made his temporary seat of government in Guanajuata. On the same day, Cortina also issued two proclamations—one addressed to the defenders of Matamoros, the other to his own command. In the first he says that he has waited patiently for the day to come when there would no longer be any pretext for the followers of Lerdo to sustain him, and that day having arrived, his future operations will be ac-tive, serious and decided. Cortina gives adherence to the Iglesias government. He will consider the struggle from now on as one between Iglesias as President ad interim, under the constitution, and Lerdo, claiming to be elected, holding that Lerdo's election was secured by the persuasive influence of the bayonet and all kinds of fraud. If Iglesias wins, he H. R. STEVENS, Esq.:

Dear Sir—It is as much from a sense of duty of the control of th will order a new election to be held in cordance with the Constitution. The new and increasing support the revolutionary interest has received aince the 30th of November, renders Jerdo's cause an extremely doubtful one. He finally seems to be on the weak and unpopular side, and that his government will be overthrown, there is now the strongest probability. The recent news from Mexico indicates that the ablest Mexican generals and a majority of the people are on the revolutionary side, and the fact that the revolutionists grow stronger, instead of weaker, in their opposition, augurs anything but good fortune for the arms of the Lerdistar.

A question here arises as to whether the overthrow of Lerdo will be attended by good results for the Mexican Republic. ## THE TEXAS CATTLE DRIVE,

So far as we have been able to inform why the celered men voted the Demooratic ticket so largely in Louisiann is a natural one. The colored people of the

We learn from conversations with stock men that the concentration of the cattle interest into the hands of a few main dealers is considered as the firs, step towards its just and proper management. Those who pursue the avocation of stockraising as their regular and only business, to achieve success must adopt and abide by practical rules of business. The utmost fairness in all dealings must also be pre served. There is great success in store in Western Texas for the energetic and udicious steck man.

Three Points for Consideration

During the past five years VEGETINE has been steadily working itself into public favor, aistiffuse who were at first most incredulous in regard to its marits are now its most ardent friends and supporters. There are three essential causes for those having such a horror of patent medicines, changing their opinion and lending their influence toward the advancement of VEGETINE. Ist—It is an honestly prepared medicine from barks, roots and herbs. 2nd—It honestly accomplishes all that is claimed for it, without, leaving any bad effect in the system. 2nd—It presents honest vouchers in testimonials from honest, well known citizens, whose signatures are a et, well known citizens, whose signatures a cient guarantee of their carnestness in the n Taking into consideration the vast quantity cine brought conspicuously before the pu-gabiths flaming advestisements in the newspa-

The Tired Body Sues for Sleep.

H. B. STEVENS, Esq.:

Dear Siz—It is as much from a sense of duty as of gratitude that I write to say that your VEGETINE. even'lf it is "apparent medicine—has been of graticular that I write to say that your VEGETINE. even'lf it is "apparent medicine—has been of graticular that it is apparent to me when nothing else seemed to avail which I could safely use. Either excessive mental work or unusual care brings upon me a mercous exhaustion that desperately needs sleep, but as desperately defies it. Night after night the poor, thred body sues for sleep until the day-dawn is welcomed back, and we begin our work tired out with an almost fruitless chase after rest. Now I have found that a little VEGETINE taken just before I retire gives me sweet and immediate sleep, and without any of the evil effects of the munal pareotics. I think two things would tend to make brain-workers sleep, 1st—A little less work. 2nd—A little more VEGETINE. This prescription has belped me.

Now I have a particular horror of "Patent Medicins," but I have a greater horror of being afraid to tell the straight out truth. The VEGETINE has helped me and I own it up.

Valuable Evidence,

The following unsolicited testimonal from Rev. W. T. Walker, D. D. formerly pastor of Bowdon sequirer Church, Boston, and at present settled in Providence R. I., must be deemed as reliable evidence. On our arrival here, in casting about for approaches to the officials who control the elections in the State, we discovered that they were all of one political party: that the Governor had appointed uous but Republicans as supervisors of elections, and that the returning officers constituting the State Board were of the same political school. Influenced by these inauspicious surroundings our thoughts and hopes were turned toward the eminent gentlemen' who had been selected by the President to be present and see that the Board of Canvassers made a fair count of the votes actually cast, and on the 14th of November; we invited these gentlemen tomeet and confer with us. This cooperation was declined, but we, nevertheless, have reason to believe that to this correspondence may be attributed the invitation to us of the 18th ult. by the Returning Board to attend and be present at its meetings as spectators and wit nesses of its proceedings.

Through this courtesy and the services of a competent stenograph er we became possed of all the es-sential facts developed on the face of official papers. We have been furnished with a certified copy of duplicate statements of votes made by the commissioners of the election at each place of voting in the State. From these statements it appears that the candidates for electors received the following votes in the State, to wit:

TILDEN.	HAYES.
McEnery 83,712	Kellogg77,153
	Burch74.889
81, Martin 83,676	Joseph74 859
Pacha81,529	Sheldon
D. Blane ,63,667	Marks 75,221
	Levisse75,370
	Brewster 75, 457
Cross	Jaffrion 7 ,504
The result for	the vote of prest-

dential electors, as disclosed on the face of the returns opened by the Beturning Board in our presence,

Tiblea	HAYRS.
MoEn-ry82,223	Kellogg 77.023
Wickliffs 92 3 26	Barch

	Marks75,687
	Levisece 75,157
	Brewster75,270
Cross83,109	Jaffrion 75,370

In most cases the returns opened by the Returning Board correspo ed precisely with the certified copies of the statements of the Commis-sioners of Election furnished us. The most material difference arose from failure of supervisors of East islatures chosen by the ruffians Baton Rouge, Tangipahoa and Or- who terrorized nearly all the polls leans to forward statements of vote of the Bouth on the 7th of Novem, from all voting places in their re- ber.

spective parishes.
In thirty-five out of thirty-eight States in the Union, these figures would be conclusive. No one would claim that Tilden and Hendricks were not entitled to the electoral vote of the State; but in Louisiana a tribunal has been set up, which on former occasions has overthrown the will of the people as expressed at the polls, and for which power is now claimed in its decretion to change the result of the popular vote at the recent election. In view however, of the returns and law and facts, which should control the Returning Board, with which we have made ourselves familiar, we have no hesitation in saying that the result shown by the votes actually cast can not be changed without a palpable abuse of the letter and spirit of the law governing the Returning Board and a manifest Irregularities have been commitin in some instances by officers conducting elections and making returns, but they are about as much on one side as the other: and, as to intimidation, violence or other illegal acts preventing a free and fair election, there is evidence on both si les, but not of such a character as to affect the general result. In most instances, acts of violence proceeded from mere lawlessness, as in the case of Henry and Eliza Pinkston, and had no connection with politics, It is a significant fact that in parishes where it is alleged that voters were kept from the polls by intimidation, the total vote of such parishes was as large as at any time heretofore and in the whole Stata is 15,000 above any vote here-perversion of the facts before it.

An honest and fair canyans of the returns, even under the Louisiana law, can not materially reduce Tilden's majority, as shown on the face of the returns,

DANIEL WEBSTER AS A BOY AT TABLE.

The following story is told in a communication to the Boston Trac-

Gen. Pesbody, who was by pro-tession a physician, was a hero of the Revolution, and after the war resided in Exeter, N. H. During the summer days he was wont to pasture his horses back in the coun-try, bringing them home in the fall. On one occasion as the cold weath-er drew near, he went to the town where his horses were, and asked the owner of the pasture, who was both a farme and tavern-keeper, to send his black horse home on a certain atternoon. 'Yes,' was the reply, 'I shall send my boy down with your black horse on that morning, sure. On the appointed day the General stood at his gate, and saw it approaching along the read, while on its back, using for a saddle only his own coarse jacket, rode along in his shirt sleeves, a large, heavy, rough boy, his face very dark, its natural color having been deepened by the sun. On atriving at the gate the boy remarked, 'I have brought your horse home, sir,' 'Yes, so I see,' replied the general, 'and I am glad to see here safe and sound. You must have started early. Walk in. Our dinner is almost ready and after a ride in this keen air you must be hungry. The boy, of course, accepted the invitation, and when seated at the table proved that, like most boys when growing, he possessed a good appetite. He appeared awkward enough, for he grasped the knife and fork in his clasped bands, with the top of the bandle at the thumbs, and the blade protruding downward from beneath the closed little finger. Still be plied the implements of the table service vigorously and skill fully, and did full justice to the noon meal. During the dinner the general inquired of the boy what his name was, to which the prompt response was given, 'Daniel Webster.' 'Oh, yes,' remarked the webster, who pastures my horses, 'Yes,' said the boy. So it was—that big, dark-skinned boy was the germ of the great statesman, whose name in after years was ilestined to celiit the admiration of the world tor his wonderful powers and learning. How little he divined as he looked upon the Phillips Exeter Academy, then a great building in his eyes, that the day would come when the illustrious anumui of that now ancient institution should bail his name with pride as that of the greatest of their number. Time brings wonderons changes, but none more remarkable than that which transformed the country boy, awkwardly handling his knite and fork at General Peabody's table, to the renowned and influential lawyer, crator and statesman.

The last number of the National Republican, the organ of General Grant, has the following significant paragraph:

There are plenty of precedents in the experience of the United States Senate to exclude men from that body who are sent there by undeniable fraud and intimidation, and as there is a square Republican majority in the Senate, we trust there will not be the slightest hesitation to inquire into the right to seats of all who shall claim admission on credentials granted by Leg-

THE RANGERS .- Some of McNelly's Ranpers came in on Saturday, bringing with them Kart Tiner, whom they captured in Blanco county. Tiner is the man that shot the deputy sherift over in Austin some time since. He is also charged with eattle stealing, which charge he will have to answer here, and he will then be likely taken to Austin to stand his trial for murder. When he was captured, it seems he was out of ammunition, and was going into a store to obtain a supply, when arrested. He resisted, and made a pass at one of the officers of the law with his kuife, just grazing his throat and cutting away a good deal of his beard.
