UNDECIDED.
FLORIDA HEARD FROM, BUT NOT THROUGH REGULAR CHANNELS.
LOUISIANA FOR HAYES.

THE BROOKLYN THEATRE BURNED—GREAT LOSS OF LIFE.
DOES THIS SETTLE IT?
Washington, Dec. 6—The following dispatch is bulletined by the Western Union office:
TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 5th.
To President Grant:
The count is just finished. Hayes' majority is 930. The Republicans elect the Governor and both members of Congress. Signed, LEW WALLACE.

There is nothing through regular channels.
FROM LOUISIANA.
New Orleans, Dec. 6—Both the Republican and Democratic electoral colleges meet today. The latter will have certificates of McEnery, the de jure Governor. The Democrats also claim that two Republican electors are ineligible.

The returning board gives the Kellogg electors as large a majority as the McEnery electors 70,508. Packard, for Governor, 74,624; Nicholls, 71,915. It is understood they return the Republican Congressmen in 23, 24, 25 and 26 districts, and the Democrats in the 1st and 2d districts.

By their statement the board ignored Grant and East Florida. The electors of East Florida, Keago and West Florida are throughout, excepting six polls in each. In Oneonta, eight polls were rejected, at Montgomery and polls were also rejected in Dozier, Rossier, Franklin, Claiborne and Calcasieu.

FROM OREGON.
San Francisco, Dec. 6—A dispatch from Portland, Oregon, says the argument before Governor Grover in the contested election case will not be closed in time to issue certificates before the time for casting ballots arrives. It is generally conceded by the Republicans that the Governor will not issue certificates to either Watts or the Democratic elector. Interest centers on the election of the Governor.

THE BROOKLYN THEATRE BURNED—100 LIVES LOST.
Brooklyn, Dec. 6—A fire broke out last night on the stage of the Brooklyn theatre, during the performance of the "Two Orphans." Mr. Studley, who played the part of Jacques, made a speech to the excited audience. He stepped to the footlights, and said, "there is no trouble here—there is no fire—indies and gentlemen keep your seats." His remark caused a stampede, but only for a few seconds, as the flames spread rapidly, and the theatre was soon enveloped in flames.

The audience rushed for the door, women fainting, the aisles were blocked and many were thrown down and trampled upon. The ushers and police made every effort to induce the people to retire in good order, but without effect. The least of those who were killed were in the orchestra seats. One hundred lives are believed to have been lost, including H. S. Murdock, the actor, who has not been seen since. Most of the killed were in the orchestra seats, their means of escape being cut off by the burning stairs.

LOSSES.
Dieters' hotel was damaged $50,000 by the fire. Every member of the company loses clothes and costumes. The Brooklyn Building Association loses $40,000. Shock & Palmer lose the scenery used in the play of the "Two Orphans." George Butler loses several thousand dollars worth of furniture and personal property, and his Vernon loses her wardrobe and diamonds, worth from $50,000 to $70,000. The total loss is not short of $200,000.

ANOTHER CONVENTION—THE WALLACE LEGISLATURE GETS A CONSTITUTIONAL QUORUM.
Columbia, Dec. 6—The Democratic session of the House, the Carolina Hall has just sworn in another member who deserted the Mackey House, making 63, which constitutes a constitutional quorum held by the Democratic side of the State canvassers.

JOYFUL DEMOCRATS.
The Supreme Court has decided the Democratic House to be the legal House of Representatives, and will issue a mandamus compelling the Secretary of State to turn over the returns for Governor and Lieutenant Governor to Speaker Wallace. The Democrats are jubilant over these results.

DOMESTIC.
MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.
THE BROOKLYN HORROR.
New York, Dec. 6—The loss was very great in the Brooklyn Theatre. Bodies were found to keep within a few feet of the door. It is supposed they were taken down by the ladies. They are buried beyond recognition. Thirty six names are registered as missing, among whom is H. S. Murdock, the actor, who, after an endeavor to calm the crowd last night, went to his dressing room. A bulletin dated 11 o'clock says forty four bodies had been recovered. It is supposed that at least one hundred remain. It will take all day to get the remains from the red hot ruins. It is supposed the dead are those who were in the dress circle and gallery. There is intense excitement. The ladies have adjourned, and a scarcely any business is doing. Park Theatre is closed for a week, and a meeting of the profession has been called on Thursday to concert measures of relief.

Brooklyn, Dec. 6—Ninety four bodies have been recovered, and others are still visible in layers four feet deep. Mr. Harrington, an actor, is among the victims.
Later—130 bodies have been removed, and they are still finding others.
Still later—6 p. m.—At 5 o'clock, 245 bodies had been recovered.

DE PAIN'S CREMATIONS—A SUCCESS.
Washington, Dec. 6—The cremation of the late Harold De Pain was a success. The remains gradually shrunk in size, and passed away in vapor. At the end of the first hour the bones crumbled. The cremation occupied 2 hours and 20 minutes.

TIT FOR TAT.
New Orleans, Dec. 6—The Hayes electors, headed by Governor Sherburne, met in the Senate chamber. Brewster and Lovell being absent, the adjournment proceeded to fill the vacancies. The vote was cast unanimously for Hayes and Wheeler. The Tilden and Hendricks electors, with certificates from Gov. McEnery, met in the House of Representatives and voted unanimously for Tilden and Hendricks.

WASHINGTON.
Washington, Dec. 6—Sherburne, Hale and Garfield have returned from New Orleans.
BUSINESS.
Porter, Ill., Dec. 6—Yell & Francis' distillery burned. Loss $60,000.
A FLUCKY TILDEN ELECTOR.
Montpelier, Dec. 6—Aldrich, the contesting elector, appeared, with his certificate, before the electoral college, offered his vote for Tilden and Hendricks, filed his protest against the vote of Sherman, and appointed himself to carry his own vote to Washington, where he will fight it out in Congress.

SOUTH CAROLINA FOR TILDEN.
A full electoral vote was cast with no kind of objection.
GEN. NICHOLS' CONCISE PEACE.
New Orleans, Dec. 6—Gen. Francis T. Nichols issues an address to the people of Louisiana, exhorting them to pursue a policy of peace for a vindication of their rights.

Speaking as the duly elected Governor, he says: "In the midst of events vitally and injuriously affecting your highest and most sacred rights, you have been called upon to elect a President. The first consideration with every citizen should be the good of the State, and the perpetuation of Republican institutions. All action which tends to divide the people, to create dissension, to weaken the ties of the Union, is to be rejected. Need I remind you that there are moments in the history of every people where the highest courage and most exalted devotion are best exemplified by a noble self-sacrifice. The final triumph of right and justice rests and depends upon allowing the results to be worked out by quiet legal methods."

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.
The only matter of interest in the House to day was an extraordinary transaction. The President of a communication made to him by Senator Sherman and others, and testimony taken by the President in New Orleans in regard to the presidential election in Louisiana. The message itself made no recommendation or suggestion. The reading of the communication was demanded on the Republican side of the House, and was read on the Democratic side. The President decided it was best to read, and it was accordingly read. When the reading was finished, Wood, of New York rose and expressed his surprise at such a message having been sent by the President. He regarded it as most extraordinary and unprecedented, but remarked that this was a mysterious and extraordinary transaction. The President has had experience which nearly eight years of service has given him, and that experience of itself should have given him a knowledge not only of theory but of practice of the government and its officers, and yet the President had seen proper to send to the House this unauthorized communication from persons clothed with no official position. In the presence, the President, by giving to it his official sanction, and by transmitting it to the House, made it one of the records of the government. Wood could conceive of but one object which the President could have had in transmitting it, and that was the incidental one of suggesting that the House was clothed with authority to present a careful inquiry into election of President, and in advance of the regular presentation of that great subject. The President told the House, by this procedure, that it was authorized to inquire into the correctness and integrity of the certificates of election. The objection which Wood took to it was that the President should have transmitted to the House a mere partisan and ex parte character, and his first impulse had been to move that the communication be returned to President Grant, and if he had followed the indignation which rose to his heart when the document was presented, he should have made such a proposition, but now he should simply move that the message of the President, with the accompanying documents be laid on the table. [Applause]

Heart of Massachusetts sat that his side of the house desired to have some debate on the subject. The motion, however, was not debatable, and was adopted—yeas, 153; nays, 93—a party vote. Adjourned.

Withers called up a resolution submitted by him yesterday requesting the President to inform the Senate not in compliance with public interest, if under what authority he had sent the troops of the United States occupied the city of Petersburg, Va. on the seventh of November, 1876, the day of the general election.

Logan moved that it be referred to the committee on military affairs. A lengthy debate followed, arguing that it was not necessary with his army and interest, why the troops of the United States were stationed at Petersburg, in the State of Virginia, on the 7th day of November, 1876, the day of the general election, under what authority and for what purpose.

Rising debate followed covering the whole field of the alleged Southern outrages. Resolutions were modified agreed to without a division.

The President's message with Sherman's report was then read.

Therman objected to printing all matter accompanying the message.
Sherman explained that communication was prepared in response to the request of the President that certain gentlemen proceed to Louisiana and witness the canvass of votes before the returning board. Those gentlemen did meet in New Orleans, and this was their report to the President.

A motion that it be printed was referred to the Committee on Printing.
FROM WASHINGTON.
Washington, Dec. 6—Nothing later from Florida. The line to Tallahassee has been down, but Wallace's message probably was sent by the special messenger to Montpelier and thence by telegraph. It will doubtless be authentic.

The Democratic caucus remained in session two hours this morning.
In its course there were general exchanges of views. Several members expressed great indignation at the course pursued by the President, alleging that he had interfered with the freedom of elections by sending troops to the Southern States, and commencing with special severity upon his conduct.

A committee was appointed to report at an adjourned meeting to-morrow their recommendations as to the policy in the case of an official declaration, a report which they denounced as the work of partisans of his own selection, and if for no other reason, they argued he ought to be impeached. The caucus took no action on the suggestions.

TO MRS. J.
All is quiet in old Bracket to-night,
The stars in the heavens are brilliant and bright,
They cast their fond rays o'er the tomb on the hill,
Where all is most dim, silent and still.

The sun has gone down o'er the far fading west,
L'Es me in darkness, and nature at rest,
To bring back to-morrow, the new born day,
And smile on my foot once more, far away.

I know not silent and quiet alone,
My thoughts are with thee at my distant home;
I shall never, never, forget the day,
And fondly hope, soon to be there.

All's now silent at the place of the dead,
In sweet visions I'll meet thee, good night all's well.

A number of bankers, ministers and prominent insurance men of New Orleans make an appeal to the nation on behalf of Louisiana and the success of the Democracy.

THE VERDICT.
A jury is supposed to represent fairly the general intelligence of the community from which it is taken. The guilt or innocence of a party, the value or wisdom of an article is established by its verdict. A verdict has recently been rendered by a jury composed of the best men taken from every corner of the globe; the evidence was clear and impartial, and thousands of witnesses gave their testimony. The trial was a long one occupying many days, and the jury have at last brought in a verdict which was, "Treat Dr. TUTT'S PILLS possesses greater power over disease than any medicine invented since the creation of the world." It is pronounced by all a righteous verdict.

A BLACK CHARACTER

Without doubt hundreds of people who will read this item are suffering with skin diseases in some form or other. You can cure with a bottle or two of Johnson's Sundry Lintment, need internally. Why not try it?

A Card to the Public.
For many years we have made two medicines out of the extracts of a vast class of medicines. Thousands of cures have been made by them, and, in fact, the worst failure could not be completed with them. But within the last two years counterfeits of our medicines have sprung up, dangerous in their close imitation of our Trade Mark. To secure the people we have placed upon our genuine box of Holloway's Ointment the fac simile of the signature of our agent, Mr. Joe. Haydock. To counterfeit is felony. We shall indignantly pursue any one who imitates this with the slightest purpose of gain. We most earnestly beg that the great mass of the American people will aid us in our efforts to protect their health, and help us in our task of bringing these most unprincipled men to the bar of justice. Uniformly return to purchase Holloway's preparations to the only dealer, Mr. Joe. Haydock's signature is attached to each box of Pills or pot of Ointment and the end will soon be reached. The public's obedient servants,
Doel. HOLLOWAY & Co.
