THE INTERNATIONAL .- We must congratelete our sister city of Austin on the ompletion of the Interestional R. R. to her limits. This road brings not alone a new era to the city of Austin, it is harbinger of good cheer to Western Texas as well as it is the artery by which will come the mighty streem of pangle, seeking lorse and torture from a poor and selected by the colored woman, of complicity in cheap homes, in the fertile country to the killing of a man who was not killed, but is west of the Coloredo. The international will not ferminate long at Austin, Its course will soon, we think, be extended to wards this city. And it will become the great through line from the North and East to this country. It will shorten the distance from this city to St. Louis by

THE MAYORALTY.

Both candidates for the office of Mayor are now in the field and the campaign has opened in a direct and pointed manner. On the part of the Democrats, neither cost nor labor will be considered to bring sucsees to their candidate, Mr. James Callaghan, while the "people," who will cluster about Mr. French, will work upon principles naturally surer of success, but in some sections the latter will be subject to

Mr. Callaghan outers the field to a large extent the forced choice of his party, which has sought to add, subsequent to his nomination, various influences to bolster him up-to give the ticket the requisits amount of back-bone to support it through a heated canvass. Whether the tacket has been jointed in a manner sufficiently strong to hold together, remains to be seen. Certainly, great ingenuity has been shown in getting up the ticket, but we seriously doubt whether it. will be conducive to that harmony which it is calculated to bring about. The nomination of Mr. Callaghan is not satisfactory. to a great many Democrats, nor is the nomination of Mr. McAllister. The choice of Mr. A. While all this diseatisfaction has been incurred within the Domodratic ranks, the firm Republicane and the "people" are strengthened and the chauces of Mayor French's success rendered more hopeful As a Republican remarked to us yesterday, it was strangely significant that the City Convention of Monday night was not attended by more than two or three of the real and sound party leaders. We do not soudues a Dentocratic organ, but if we did we should speak out squarely, in the interest of our party, against such p o coodings as have been recently enacted, tell the reasons which kept many good Democrats out of the Convention, and labor to bring about certain reforms which -The handsomest side-lace, are needed to insure the success of the ns our duty is malely to guard the internone of our business to correct party

> Mr. Callaghau is a good man, and, as was said of him by way of commendation the night of the Convention, undoubtedly pos-cases the Jeffersonian qualifications of honesty and capacity, but he should not have been presented as the Democratic nominee in the face of the strong object tions within the Democratic party. He should rather have been brought forward under a "people's purty," which the local Deniceracy seem to have resolved themselves into, jadging by every other indication save and except their protessions. As we have remarked, Mr. French is a man who will carry a vast amount of infisence with him. ## A REGULAR NUISANCE.

We have spoken several times in these olumns, about what a nulsance the numberless tramps that infest our city BEER have become. We would again direct the attention of the authorities to the subject. Yesterday we were told by a respectable citizen, that before twe've o'clock no less than four had been to his house. They came into the yard, some demanded food, one asked for a glass of water, and when given to him, refused to drink it, and after making an investigation of the premises, took his departure. Without exception, they were able-bodied men, capable of making their living if so minded. The day previous a scoundrel of the same class visited a neighboring house about dusk, before the gentleman had returned, and demanded money of the lady, and on being refused and at the same time reminded that he had been there only a day or so before, he shook his fist in her face and left cursing her. Now this cort of thing is getting severely monotonous. Is demands the attention of the city authorities. If our police force is too small to patrol the city, and now As big as the grand Pyramid might be. and then be within call, when such outrages are being committed, its number should be increased. Its efficiency should be one of the main objects and efforts of every administration. There was a time when people in this city ould and did go to bed without danger. That time has ceased, and now it would be the height of temerity, from which, if they did not suffer, to 'leave only Providence or blind chance to be thankful to. If there is such a thing as a vagrant law, let us have it in torce; there are numbers itching for the benefit of it. And its maintainnes, would be a blessing appreciated by the whole community

IN CONTEMPT. It was in -The hunting party, comp s d of Mr. cats of our city, regardless of party, it is the course of Mr. Green's speech, for the defendant. Mr. Green stated that there was an inconsistency between the testimony of two of the witnesses, Mr. Dewate and Mr. Sharlein, both having testified that they lind taken the pistol from the defendant after the shooting. Blasini pronounced Deware's statement false. The Judge promptly ordered the Sheriff to take Mr. Blasial into custody and commit him to jail for three days, imposing in addition a fine of $100.

Men who cannot control their temper. as in this instance, in the halls of instice, should be sent to some place where they can cool off.
