Dispatches were received by About Belmon last night and by Wm P

Bennet also telegraphed to his eister that he was minure.

A cousin of Frederick May, in this city, also received a telegram from one of May's friends on the ground saying, May has been wounded, but not stating how severe the wound is. From the fact that only one shot was fired, it is believed that May's under must be severe, while his May's injury must be severe, while his friends admit that he is wounded, they are unwilling to state the character of the wound and also to give information where the wounded man was borne. It is probably the parry bearing the wounded man will arrive in Baltimore this morning.

An old woman, on being examined before a magistrate as to her place of legal settlement, was asked what reason she had for supposing her busband had a legal settlement in that town. The old la-dy said: "He was born and married there, and they buried him there, and if that isn't settling there, what is ?"

MISS ALLIGATOR MOORE, of Giddings, Texas, expected that the boys would tin pan serenade her on her wedding night, and she turned her house into a fortrees. The serenaders approached cautiously and were ready to commence the din, when four shotguns blazed from the windows. Wounds were numerous, and the fun was spoiled.

The pine apple is cultivated extensively in the East Indies, where the leaves are converted into a kind of wadding, used for upbolstering purposes instead of bair, and into a cort of flaunel, of which substantial shirts and coate are made.

OLD Mr. Bledsoe, although he is a very profane, wicked man, looks very youthful for his years. One of his neighbors remarked to Mrs. Bledsoe, the other day "The old man is wearing well, isn't he ?" 'Oh' yes," replied the good woman, "he's swearing well enough as it goes, but, considering the opportunities and practice? he's had, he might put a little more polish

MAR COUNTY OF THE WAR SOUTH OF BRICKERS

THE CITY ELECTION.

We asserted no preference for any of the candidates before the people at the late city election, not conceiving it to be con. istent with our professed policy to do so Ours is not a party paper, not a political journal, but a newspaper, and we only aim to give the public the news of the day and to labor for the good of the city, the county, the section of Texas in which we are located. However, since the citizens of Sau Antonio, regardless of party lines, have chosen an administration for the ensuing two years, it behoos smile to speak of the achievement We cannot but do so in landstory terms, The exciting municipal election just ended was fraught with much importance. The two tickets, one nominated through the exercise of all the forms of a nominat-ing convention, and baptised Democratic, the other placed before the people; by a meeting of tax-payers, have passed through the ordeal of a test of preference at the ballot-box. The result has been recorded, to wit: The Cittzens' ticket has been elected by majorities ranging from 162 up to 745. The nominees upon both tickets were good men, capable of dilling the offices for which they bad been nome Vegetime insted, but let us speak only of those who were selected to manage our city affairs.

We have nobody's obituary to write.The head of the ticket, Mayor French, in receiving the hearty endorsement of his past administration that he has, may well leel proud of the honor. His re-election is an honor, bestowed upon him by a very large majority of his fellow citizens em bracing a majority of the wealthies and best citizens of San Antonio. It cannot be said that Mr. French has not made us a good Mayor-in fact it is o'nimed that he has discharged the duties of the office the past two years with greater precision more interest and greater general satisfac tion to the people than any predecessor. He is a gentleman, infinitely above those who villify him, and whose unremitting energies will be devoted to the duties incombent open bim to the future, as has characterized his past administration. Mr. French is a thoughtful man, and thes not jump at conclusions blindly. During the late canvass, every little objection imagin able was brought to bear against him, but we found his bitterest opposers to be men who entertained some petty personal spite | Vegetine against him, and governed by this spiterines, they endeavored to lead others to think as they did. But Mr. French's sop. porters proved to be the strongest at the ballot box, and they now rejoice in having gained the brilliant victory that they did.

The second man elected on the citizens' ticket is Mr. John Rosenheimer, for heart fill with bitterness against his ac- Recorder. Certainly, no better choice could have been made for this position. cleans off his sidewalk, makes paths all Judge Rosenheimer is a lawyer of excelaround his house in every direction, and lent judgment, a firm, prompt and faithful then lifts himself above his sleepier man. He will discharge the functions of his office with credit.

Julius Hoyer we find is re-riected for Collector. Mr. Hoyer has occupied this office for many years, and is as Vegetine is sold by all Druggists thoroughly conversant with its duties as any one could be.

Mr. Louis Giraud, thosen from the Demecratic ticket for the office of City-Engineer, is a young man raised in San Antonio, well known and generally liked. Louis will be found lacking that experience which an officer in his important position should bave, but nevertheless we most trusty engineers. Louis must properly conceive an idea of the responsibilities which may devolve upon him, and then work with might and main to execute them. This office will be of transcendant importance in the fature. We have for our City Physician that intelligent and pashing young gentleman, Mr. Rudolph Menger. He bore off the palm of victory over the heads of four palm of victory over the heads of four older physicians opposed to him, and came. out with a majority of 500 Truly, this esented this last at Baltimore, and were decided preference of the people as ex pressed indicates Mr. Menger's standing quently arrived at Washington without in the city as a physician, though young in years, worthy of his calling Mr. Anderson as City Attorney, Mr. Buffey as Street Commissioner, and Mr. carrying away what clothes were left him Dobbin as Chief of Police, are choices satisfactory to a large majority, of our people. They are all fully qualified and suited to fill the positions given them, We have a city administration which could under the circumstances not have could under the circumstances not have been well improved upon. We trust that the officers elect, upon assuming their duties, will do so forgetting self, and the emoluments of position, and look beyond to the real interests of the city, which are to a great degree de-pendent upon the administration for proper advancement. Let us all work together to such an ead, forgetting the broils and bickerings of the past.

A-DOWN THE FIELD TOGETHER.

BY L. E. UPHAM.
The blackbird pipes his solemn notes,
Through copes and dreamy hollow;
The air is fanned by myriad wings.
Of the beaven, low-dying swellow;
As hand in finning at twilight horie,

All day he has bound the yellow sheaves.

With a patient hand and willing. For the wealth of his own new home is stored. In the garnary he is filling;

And all the grain or reward he asks,

Is to know that through the heather.

Shall roam the field together.

Shall roam the field together.

What is it, to happy hearts and young.
That the seer, and leaves are fallin?
They hear but the cheery voice of love
To his sweetheart gently calling?
And close as he bound the yellow sheaves
In the pleaning, authum weather,
Sly cupid Binds their fender hearts
With love's golden bands together.
The field of stabblishwill soon grow brown,
The frosts will chill the meadows,
And highland, lowland, garden and lawn
Will fade in 'he deepening shadows;
But, bright as the sun on a thousand hills,
Will seem the autum weather,
When, hand in hand, to the dear old kirkThey wend their way together.
And on and on the years shall roll,

They wend their way together.
And on and on the years shall roll,
And dien shall grow love's story,
Till head of brown and head of gold
Shall loss youth's crown of glory;
While a-down the field of golden sheaves,
In the somber, autumn weather,
A tottering man and \u00e4 wrinkled dame
Shall slowly walk to, wther.
Abit who will remember the harvest hour
Of the youthful mad and her lover,
When life's gray sleaves are bound at last,
And life's brief desom is over!
When the field shall be o'ex-run with yeeds,
And none shall roun the heather,
while, side by side, in the old thirk yord.
The twain chall rest together!

A GRAND DEMONSTRATION

00 "CITIZENS" CELEBRATE THE VICTORY OF THEIR TICKET.

About 10 o'clock yesterday mornir active preparations were inaugurated de. With the smallest vote of any ward for celebrating the event of the victory in the city to count, they did not fin ish of the Citizens' ticket. The suggestion sands of people had made up their minds to count fine printed ballots by candles o join in a grand public demonstration light. We say this not as the least rein honor of the election of Mayor French and the ticket he headed. Two bands were engaged for the occasion, and a hard and faithfully. But men who are large number of torches provided, the not used to clerking, should not be the place of meeting being fixed at Wolfram's Central Garden. About 7 o'clock requiring brisk and experienced penpeople began to crowd in from all direct mans. ions, and at 8 o'clock a mighty throng, the like of which we have never before seen in the State of Texas, marched off at the tap of the drum.
