outing and voting, nominating, parading and singing, shouting, real and pretended, are all 1932, as for the Republicans, Hoover and Curtis, nobody else has a faintest chance at the head of the parade.

There were really not any issues, as a prohibition fog, much of it, hangs in the air, and every man discusses in private, crime, racketeering.

"Conventions can't give the anything and they can't take away from the people," depends on what the people themselves are, not on the particular individuals chosen to hold office.

House voted immediate cash of the $2,400,000,000 bonus.

Business would have preferred jobs; spending $2,400,000,000, cash, the merchants, big and little, a wonderful thing for business.

Unfortunately, it is necessary to learn that the bonus so quickly in the lower house will hardly be a reality.

By MacDonald, at Lausanne, he knows that "the United States encouraged us to believe we will co-operate." He does not know what the United States is to "cancel its share of the debts."

It doesn't happen, Europe will cancel them for us.

That, the French and Italians, the British, probably, will understand they will not pay us. Paris says that the French and English ministers have "an understanding," that includes an understanding about the debts.

Dummy Gun Did Not Work Here

Last Monday five prisoners in the jail at Ballinger held up the jailer, Carl Henson, with a dummy gun made of wood and took the keys and made a get-away. Before leaving, they fastened the keys to the imitation gun and tossed them to a lady.

The same thing was tried here on Sheriff Vern Davis about two weeks ago. When Sheriff Davis went to the cell of the Sterling county jail to take Harold Henderson, who was recently convicted of conveying arms to a prisoner in jail, to Abilene to deliver him to a penitentiary agent, Henderson pressed a nickel plated revolver against the sheriff's body.

Quick as a flash, the sheriff with his left hand slapped the gun to one side and with his right drew his heavy Colt, but when he slapped the barrel of the "gun" aside, he realized that it was a dummy, and this fact perhaps, saved the prisoner's life, for he was ready to fire the next instant. When the sheriff's gun leaped from its scabbard, the prisoner was frightened almost out of his wits. He put up his hands and begged that his life be spared. From that moment he proved to be a model prisoner and gave Mr. Davis no further trouble. He was delivered that day to the penitentiary agent at Abilene.

The dummy gun was shown to us a few days ago by Constable W. Y. Benge, who is keeping it as a souvenir. The dummy is a very clever imitation of a nickel plated revolver. The frame is made of wood, while the cylinder is made of soap, and the whole thing is covered with tin foil to make it look like it was plated with nickel. The handle was of paper mache made by chewing paper and sticking it together and forming it into a pistol handle. It was a wicked looking "gun", and most anybody would lose no time in "putting em up", if it was "thrown down" on them.

The only words spoken about the matter by the sheriff to the prisoner was: "that is a mighty good way to get yourself killed."

Executive Committee Assesses Candidates

The County Democratic Executive Committee met last Monday and among other things, the assessment against the county candidates was made for expenses of printing the ballots and of holding the primary. The assessments were made in proportion to the time given to the duties of the office and the pay received.

The Sheriff and Tax Collector candidates were each assessed $27.50
County and District Clerk 18.00
Tax Assessor, each 15.00
County Judge, each 11.00
Treasurer, each 11.00
Commissioner, each 10.00
If each candidate pays his assessment there will be $263 to pay the expenses of the primary. If there is any runoff primary, a further assessment will be assessed against the candidates in the final runoff.

Camp Fire Blew Up

Jap Bradley and a party of friends went to a spring in Holmes Canyon in Dick Knight's pasture on an outing a few evening ago. They built their camp fire on a flat rock near the spring. In the midst of the festivities, the rock exploded with a loud detonation and scattered burning coals all around. At first it was thought that some explosive had been placed there and the heat of the fire had set it off, but it was very likely the rock had moisture confined in its layers, and the fire generated enough steam pressure to explode it.

1,187,000 Pounds of Wool Is Sold

A total of 1,187,000 pounds of 12 months wool was sold this week at San Angelo, Uvalde, Eldorado, Mertzon, Sterling City and Knickerbocker. Prices ranged from 6 to 10 1/4 cents per pound.

George Devine, representing Forte, Dupree & Sawyer also bought the J. T. Davis clip of 50,000 for a fraction over 10 cents per pound.

This is said to be the largest wool sale that has ever been made for the length of time in West Texas.

Garner For Repeal

Speaker John Garner has declared himself in favor of repeal of the 18th Amendment. John Garner cannot be called a straddler. He does not want to deceive anybody about his stand on any question. No one yet knows how Herbert Hoover stands on the question. It is doubtful if Hoover himself knows.

The W. T. C. U. has declared war on John for this declaration and will do all they can against him. They prefer a straddler like Hoover, to a plain, honest and courageous man like Jack Garner. These good sisters are striving to perpetuate the Hoover prosperity which the country has been enjoying for the last three years. They and the bootleggers will do all they can to defeat John. There is not a bootlegger an inch long in the U. S. who will not vote the same ticket as these sisters do.

Air Show Sunday

We are indebted to George McEntire, Jr., for an invitation to the big Air Show scheduled for Sunday Afternoon at San Angelo Airport.

The affair is the celebration of the anniversary of the air school at San Angelo. There will be a number of visiting ships including a big 14 passenger, tri-motored Ford air plane.

There will be a lot of stunt flying. George is scheduled to take a parachute jumper up to an altitude of 7,000 feet and let him jump out, and after rocketing for a mile, he is to open his chute and descend slowly to the ground.

Automobiles In Collision

While Mr. and Mrs. John Purves and two others were returning from San Angelo last Saturday, the car which was being driven by Mrs. Purves was struck by a Ford coupe that was being driven at a high rate of speed coming from the opposite direction. No one was hurt. The Purves car was badly damaged. The stranger's car was turned over, but apparently slightly damaged.

Jack Sharkey Is Champion

Max Schmelling and Jack Sharkey had a mighty fight in Chicago last Tuesday night. Many of our fight fans listened in over the radio. Altho Max whipped Jack, Jack got the decision. It is presumed that Jack got the decision because he got whipped, and that there was more money bet on Max.

There was a big crowd at the show looking for black eyes, bloody noses and cut lips. When Max hit Jack in the eye, the crowd screamed itself hoarse with delight. When Max got it on the lips the crowd had a fit of ecstasy when it saw the blood flow and the man grin to hide the pain he suffered.

The entertainment was so moral and uplifting (?) as well as conducive to good citizenship (?), that we would suggest that the votaries of such exhibitions, go to a packing house where they can enjoy the sight of blood and guts on a much larger scale.

Dry Agents Are Acquitted

L. C. Smith and N. D. Heaton, Federal Prohibition Agents were acquitted of a murder charge in an instructed verdict from Federal Judge William H. Atwell at Dallas last Tuesday. They had been charged with the killing of Marion McGlothlin at his country store near Irving on April 8.

It is alleged that these agents made a raid in search of booze. Thinking they were hijackers, McGlothlin's wife drew a pistol. They shot her, and when the husband sought to defend his wife, they shot him down. They were set free on a plea of self defense.

Child Dies While Asleep

John Vernon, the 20 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Cole died last Monday night at the home of Mrs. Cole's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Purves. Interment was made at the City Cemetery the following afternoon.

The child had been ailing all its life and was said to have suffered with heart trouble. When the parents woke up on Tuesday morning, they found the child dead. The parents had returned last Friday from a trip to Louisiana.

Protracted Meeting Begins July 1

Beginning Friday night at 8:45, July 1, the Lord willing, there will be a series of gospel meetings at the City Tabernacle. Glenn L. Wallace of Wichita, Kansas, is to do the preaching. Evening services will be at 8:45. The morning services will be announced.

Everyone remembers how brother Wallace preached the gospel in love and with power last year. It is believed that people will be greatly benefitted and will enjoy the instructive sermons presented from evening to evening. It is hoped that each person will be so situated that he may attend this meeting.

It is said that Herbert Hoover has been known to smile, but no one ever heard him laugh.

In their platform, the republicans say: "We are somewhat dry ourselves, but if anybody wants to vote wet, they have our special permission to do so."

Whatever might be said of Governor Sterling, no one yet has had the gall to say that he is not honest. No one can truthfully say that he has not been instrumental in cutting the expenses of the state and getting it out of the red.

The gangsters a few days ago showed their authority in Chicago when they threatened to machine gun the court if it didn't release some of the members of the gang who were being held for trial for bank robbery. The court very promptly ordered the prisoners set free. Such a thing in Texas would be followed by an old time hanging. But it is different in Chicago.

With twelve weeks remaining of the present shipping season, cotton shipments out of the port of Galveston reached a total of 2,022,163 bales on May 6, passing the total for the entire season of 1930-31. Foreign shipments aggregated 1,926,670 bales, and are expected to pass the 2,000,000-bale mark before the present shipping season ends on Aug. 1.

The Republicans at Chicago have adopted a wet plank in their platform on which they hope to re-elect Hoover. In 1828, Mr. Hoover ran on a dry platform and won. The Republicans indorsed Mr. Hoover and praised his administration as being wise, sound and prosperous. They claim that times are going to be mighty hard if the Democrats get in power.

A 600 mile gas pipeline from the Midland field to Topolobampo, Mexico with a lateral at Chihuahua City to Torreon and possibly to Mexico City, is projected by James F. Sadler, president of the Calif.-Tex. Leasing Co. Following the line of the Santa Fe and paralleling an oil line projected by the same interests, the system will supply gas to the cities along the route.

The republicans last week in their convention in Chicago inserted a "pig-puppy" plank in their platform. The plank is worded so that the campaigner in New York, or any other wet state, can tell the folks that theirs is a wet platform, and in Kansas or even down here in Texas, they will try to make suckers of us by telling us that their platform is very dry. But this time they will have no one fooled except themselves. The folks are tired of Mr. Hoover, and they are going to vote for a change.

JACKSON FOR CONGRESS--WHY?

Former Judge Dan M. Jackson, who left El Paso when this city was in the trough of depression in 1923 because he managed to get a federal appointment, has now returned to us.

He has returned not because he wants to remain and work with us, as he might have been doing for the past nine years, but because he wants us to do something for him.

He wants us to send him back to Washington as congressman for this district. He wants us to throw out Ewing Thomason, who has stayed with us in good years and bad, who in the brief time he has been in congress has worked for us as hard and earnestly as any man could, and not alone for us of El Paso but for every part of this 16th congressional district.

Yet Dan Jackson wants us to prove ourselves completely unappreciative and ungrateful by turning Thomason out of office and putting Jackson in. He announced yesterday his candidacy for congress from this district.

Thomason has made a splendid record in congress, as the people of this district well know. His fight for a copper tariff, his fight for river rectification and flood control; his successful battle to prevent the abandonment of border army posts; the high regard he has already won although a "freshman congressman," from his colleagues in the house—all these are proof of the fact that he has been working hard, long hours for us and working intelligently.

But even if he had not—even if he ought to be replaced—would Dan M. Jackson be the man to replace him? Why Jackson? There are plenty of other men of competence throughout this district, in Del Rio, San Angelo, many other towns, and in El Paso. There are plenty of others of intelligence, zeal and certainly greater claims upon the support of this district.

What has Dan Jackson done for us that he asks the favor of our votes? He held public office here for a number of years and engaged in private practice of the law for a time. When conditions became bad for all of us in 1922-23 (and continued bad for several years thereafter) Jackson left us early in the period of the slump to work ourselves out as best we could while he went off to Washington to take a well-salaried position in the attorney general's office.

Now, after all these years, he has come back to us. And for what? Not because he loves us. Not because he wants to live here, but because he wants to use us. He wants us to send him to congress.

Jack-on's sole appeal, so far as The Times can see, is an advocacy of a referendum on the question of repealing the prohibition amendment.

The Times is for a referendum, as its readers know. But The Times is not for Dan Jackson. He has no valid claim on the consideration of the voters of this district as against Ewing Thomason.

The Times would be for Ewing Thomason, even if Thomason were unalterably opposed to a referendum of the prohibition question to the voters, because his earnest, faithful work in congress has earned him the right to the support of the voters of this district.

But The Times is certain that Thomason will vote for a referendum on the liquor question. He doubtless would oppose any return of the open saloon. He has expressed his personally "dry" sentiments and has fulfilled his campaign pledge by voting against liquor. Nevertheless, the most sincere prohibitionist

A KITCHEN SHOWER

WHOEVER originally remarked that "it never rains but it pours" must have had in mind those showers for engaged girls which pour a lot of useless trinkets for which the restricted space of love-in-a-cottage is pressed to provide room. When there are so many things a bride is going to really need, and especially now when we are just coming out of the depression period, why, oh why, give brides an over-abundance of chiffon handkerchiefs and bon-bon dishes?

Do we brand ourselves as prosaic, utilitarian and thoroughly unromantic when we suggest a kitchen shower? There are two alibis: one that the bride's kitchen should rightfully be one of the most enchanting nooks in the whole house; and two, that the kitchen, since it is all dressed up, has stepped into the social whirl to the extent that kitchen parties are now quite the thing.

Towels, Aprons and Tins
A kitchen shower may include pretty peasant linens for the kitchen and dinette, for tea-towels, for curtains and other uses; tiny pots of growing kitchen plants—mint, parsley and chives. But such a shower should concentrate on tin—foods in tin cans, shining new kitchen utensils of tin and the various other mediums.
And since the guest of honor may be very uninitiated into the charms of the kitchen, the shower might well take place there. Let one of the guests disguise as a woman peddler who comes to the kitchen door with a pack on her back. The hostess may answer her knock and then invite the guests in to see her wares. Have a table available so that the interesting gifts may be arrayed there, and when the peddler places the last gift on the table it appears bedecked in bows and streamers of white satin ribbon. The peddler then removes her shawls and disguise, and the secret is out.

Canned Food Delicacies
The canned foods should include a plentiful assortment of delicacies which the bride will delight to use for her own entertaining. Such things as canned fish for cocktails—shrimp, crabmeat, oysters and clams; delicious fruits which include choice cherries, figs, grapefruit hearts, loganberries, pineapple and strawberries; interesting imported cans of cheese, mushrooms, sardines, anchovies and similar delicacies for hors d'oeuvres and canapés; soups, such as chicken broth, consommé, green pea, crab gumbo, cream of asparagus; and unusual vegetables such as the Chinese sprouts and bamboo shoots for chop suey, artichokes, baby lima beans, tender rhubarb and Brussels sprouts, as well as the usual vegetables. And, by all means include some canned nuts, candies, and other sweetmeats.
If you like to have your whole entertainment in keeping, serve a canned food luncheon or refreshment menu. Here is a menu suggestion with tested recipes:

- Roll'd Celery and Pimiento Sandwiches*
 - Heart Cheese Sandwiches*
 - Cocoanut Cherry Macaroons*
 - Iced Cup Cakes*
 - Honeymoon Punch Tea*
 - Mints*
 - Salted Nuts*
- Roll'd Celery and Pimiento Sandwiches: Cut crusts off a very fresh loaf of bread and cut in thin slices. Cover with a wet cloth for at least an hour. Butter. Mix very finely diced celery with sufficient mayonnaise to moisten; season to taste and spread on bread. Place a long piece of canned pimiento across the center of the slice, then roll tightly together, with the red pimiento showing at each end, and tie with a narrow white ribbon.
- Cocoanut Cherry Macaroons: Beat the whites of four eggs until stiff but not too dry. Fold in one cup of confectioner's sugar, one-half cup of candied cherries and one cup of moist cocoanut. Drop by spoonfuls on ungreased brown paper and decorate the tops with red cherries. Bake in a slow oven, 250° for forty-five minutes.
- Honeymoon Punch: Simmer two cups water and three table-spoons sugar for a few minutes, then add the juice from two No. 2 cans of red pitted cherries and the syrup from two No. 2½ cans of sliced pineapple, and four table-spoons of lemon juice. Chill and serve with a marshmallow floating in each glass.

cannot reasonably oppose allowing the people of the United States to say for themselves what they want—whether repeal, modification or enforcement of prohibition, or the exercise of state's rights.
So The Times believes Congress man Thomason is just as ready for a vote of the people on prohibition as Dan Jackson or anyone else. That being the case, we come back to where we started—why Dan Jackson?
Let him return to Washington, as he wishes, but not as our congress man. We have had to get along without him for a good many years; we can continue to do so.—El Paso Times.

A SHEEPMAN'S WOE

There have been lots of stories about how sheep did not pay the railroad freight to market and the railroads have come in for a lot of panning because of this, but here is a story about how the sheep did not bring the cost of the trucking.

Bruce Kerley of Robert Lee shipped 32 yearling mutton to Fort Worth last week which were finally sold for $1.00 a hundred or a total of $16.80. His bill for the commission firm was as follows:

32 yearling muttons at $1.	$16.80
Yardage	$3.30
Commission	$6.60
Trucking	$8.90
Total Expenses	$18.80
Difference Due	$2.00

In other words Kerley was out his sheep and $2.00. He says the next time he has any light yearlings he is going to give them to the Community Service at San Angelo—if they will come after them—or turn them out in the lane.—San Angelo Standard.

The Ensemble Sandwich

In this age of merger mania when we like to merge not only our business affairs but our household and personal effects as well—the term ensemble usually denotes progress. We have ensemble homes where one room serves for several purposes, ensemble costumes which combine street and dress attire, ensemble lingerie which simplifies much.

Three In One

The mission of the ensemble sandwich is to merge several courses of the meal. Properly made, the ensemble sandwich is the appetizer, main dish and salad course all in one. Garnishes of stuffed olives, radish roses or pimienta bits, tempt our appetites; the substantial toast or bread with meat or fish provides the main dish; while the crisp greens—lettuce hearts, celery stalks or cress which surround the sandwich and are sometimes filled with mayonnaise, provide the salad course.

Serve these ensemble sandwiches for Sunday night suppers, luncheons, after the dance or for bridge refreshments. You will need only a hot beverage and a light dessert to achieve a finished menu. Here is one:

Chicken and Vegetable Salad Sandwich: Toast three slices of bread for each sandwich. Cut up the contents of one 6-ounce can of chicken, moisten well with mayonnaise and spread on one slice of toast. Drain one 8-ounce can of peas, add one cup of celery and moisten with mayonnaise. Spread this on the second slice of toast, top with a third slice and garnish the top with stuffed olives. Place the sandwich on a nest of crisp lettuce hearts which contain additional mayonnaise.*

Arrangements For Primary Made

The Democratic Executive Committee of Sterling County met at the courthouse on 20th of June, the time fixed by the Primary Election law.

The certified list of State candidates and the list of district, county and precinct candidates, who had filed, were presented. An estimate was made of expenses for a first and a second primary and the officers of the first primary were requested to hold the second primary and, in payment for doing so, the funds remaining on hand will be prorated to them. The first primary will be July 23 and the second or run-off will be August 27.

Only 7 district candidates filed, paying $1.00 each. The estimated expenses were assessed against the local candidates, based mainly upon the net fees of the respective offices, and these assessments are payable on or before June 25.

Following Presiding Officers of Election were appointed:

Prec't No. 1, N. L. Douglas; No. 2, Rufus Foster; No. 3, Tom Brannan; No. 4, R. J. Welch; No. 5, John Reed; No. 6, Nelson McClellan; No. 7, Clyde Reynolds; No. 8, Ben McWhorter; No. 9, G. A. Stockton.

Following Chairmen were appointed to hold precinct conventions on July 23 to elect delegates to county convention on July 30, at 3:30 p. m.

Prec't No. 1, Durham K. Durham; No. 2, Templeton Foster; No. 3, Martin Brown; No. 4, John Copeland; No. 5, J. S. Augustine; No. 6, John Clark; No. 7, Henry Bade; No. 8, M. J. Askey; No. 9, Phillip Thompson.

There are 73 candidates for State offices, 7 district and 19 county and precinct, which makes the longest primary ticket we have ever had. Lots were drawn for the places on the ticket and the following committee was appointed to prepare the official ballot: J. S. Cole, T. F. Foster, D. M. Brown and Henry Bade, with Malcom Black as Ex-officio Chairman. This Committee meets at 10 a. m., June 27 to prepare the ticket.

The following certified resolution has been received from the State Democratic Executive Committee:

Public Sale In '49

Interesting sidelights on the manners and customs of by-gone days are found in old newspapers and advertisements, one of which was recently reproduced by an exchange which quotes a public sale announcement published at Versailles, Ky., 83 years ago, as follows:

"Having sold my farm, and as I am leaving for Oregon Territory by oxen team on March 1, 1849, I will sell all my personal property, except two oxen teams (Ben and Buck and Lon and Jerry), consisting of the following:

"Two milk cows, one grey mare and colt, one pair of oxen, 1 yoke, 1 baby yoke and two ox carts, 1 iron plow with wood board mold, 800 feet of weatherboards, 1,500 fence rails, one 60 gallon soap kettle, 85 sugar troughs, 10 gallons of maple syrup, 1 40-gallon copper still, 2 spinning wheels, 30 pounds of tallow, 1 large loom, 300 poles, 100 split hoops, 100 empty barrels, 4 sides leather, 12 wooden pitchforks, half interest in tan yard, 1 rifle with bullet mold and powder horn, soft soap, bacon, hams, lard, molasses, 6 head of fox hounds, all soft mouthed but one.

"Also 6 negro slaves, 2 men, 2 boys, and two mulatto wenches; all together in one party, as I will not separate them.

"Sale will begin at 8 a. m. Plenty to eat and drink."

Some may wonder why anyone possessed of the large and varied assortment of worldly goods listed should have wanted to leave Kentucky.—Concho Herald.

PREFERRED HADES

An oil man died, and when he reached the gate of heaven which St. Peter was guarding, he found a great crowd of oil men lingering on the outside of the portal seeking for admission.

These annoyed St. Peter very much with their importunities. Seeing this, the new comer said: "If you will let me in, I will talk these fellows into leaving this place."

"All right", said St. Peter, "go ahead".

So the new comer told the crowd on the outside that down in hell they had discovered a new oil field and that leases were cheap. In a little while the crowd was on its way to hell, while thru the grace of St. Peter, the new comer had found a place in heaven.

But the new comer was not happy, and he said to St. Peter: "If it is all the same to you, I would like to go down to hell, because they might bring in a gusher there and I want to be on the ground when they do."

If the five men that combined to kidnap the Missouri woman and extort $75,000 from her were all strung up at once it might make kidnaping seem less attractive. Depew was given a life sentence.

Congress, in its talking, planning, voting, taxing and appropriating, worries big business, and big business has been saying earnestly to congress, "Won't you please go home?" and congress has been saying, "No, I won't."

A train wreck in Russia kills scores; sixteen railroad employees, held responsible, are charged with murder. A stationmaster and others are accused of being drunk and mixing the signals, causing the fatal crash.

That does not happen in this country, thanks to the character of American railroad men.

HARDTIMES CLUB

The Hardtimes Club was not well attended last Monday at the official bench in front of the Sterling Theater. When President Grumbling McCroaker bit off a cud of Brown Mule and lodged it in his left cheek, he ordered Secretary O'Scratcher to call the roll of members, and only Tingle-dod Stinkly answered, "here".

Pokalong Easily was absent on account of having to remain at home in order to detail his dog. Stinging-lizard Gabberman had told Pokalong that if he would cut his dog's tail off, he could get thru the fence quicker when chasing a rabbit, so he was detained at home to perform that duty.

Abe Duckendodgitt was absent because of a sore hand. Abe found a hole in the ground and concluded there was a rabbit in it. In exploring in the hole for the rabbit with his right hand, he found he was mistaken. When the possum let go of his hand, it went back in the hole.

Tingledod Stinkly reported that Argumnt Doddendodthin was suffering with a sick stomach. He said that Argumnt had been helping Mr. McBuzzard make up a batch of homebrew, and that they put too much soap in it. After drinking a few bottles, it made him throw up. Tingle-dod said he tasted some of the stuff, and that anybody who would drink it, would be hard up for Coca Cola. He said it was liable to give a fellow a case of Jakefoot. But, he said times are so hard that people had to drink anything they could get.

Gitterby Hardluck and Billious Hopenfettitt were reported to have gone out to Fencestay Smith's ranch to see about digging some post holes.

Secretary Damly O'Scratcher reported that Hamfoot Merfermaw, one of Peter Mefermaw's boys got bit on the foot last Tuesday by a rattler. "Did it hurt him much?" they all asked.

"No, it didn't hurt him much to speak of, but it killed the snake as dead as a door nail."

Peter had to stay at home to keep Hamfoot from drinking all the homebrew before the snakebite could take effect.

A tomcat who was on his way to meet a lady friend at the rear of the Cafe, suddenly met the country dog who was also making a social call. The Club now adjourned to watch the tomcat ride on the country dog's back as far as the city limits. From the fog of dust that streaked along, the tomcat was evidently dusting off the dog's hide as they sped for the hiweeds.

The Club will meet again next Monday.

For the last nine years, Dan M Jackson, candidate for congress and opponent of R. E. Thomason, has been living in Washington and holding down a job under a Republican administration. He has been running with the Republicans so long, a fellow is apt to suspect that he has imbibed some of their ways, though he may be good democrat. When one sees an alleged honest dog running with a pack of sheepkillers, that honest dog is under suspicion. He may not kill sheep himself, but who can tell that he is not helping eat the sheep which his companions have killed? Dan may be all right, but what is the matter with Thomason? Thomason does not have to explain things, does he?

Telephone and electric service rates are too high in Sterling City. Folks are doing some tall kicking about it. While they are not hostile toward these corporations, yet, they are complaining that the rates are exorbitant when compared to the price of labor and the products they have to sell.

THE MEN'S STORE

Kennedy Sisters Coming Monday

Kennedy Sisters, one of the well known travelling troupes of entertainers, will arrive here Monday to begin a week's engagement. They have their own equipment, and their big tent will be erected just south of the public square.

This company comes well recommended, and it promises Sterling a week of good, clean entertainment. Its orchestra will furnish plenty of music and vaudeville artists will fill in between acts.

The opening play is entitled "Little Spitfire". Our merchants have arranged to give many free tickets to the opening play.

THE HOME TOWN FIRE APPARATUS

The modern fire department has two major goals—efficiency and the standardization of apparatus.

This last demands intelligent selection of engines and equipment—selection which is not determined by original cost alone, but by the potential danger of cheap, inferior apparatus. The day when a town could buy a truck, mount it in hoses pumps, bells and what-not, and label the result a fire-engine, has definitely passed. Too many towns have found, to their sorrow, that apparatus of this kind fails when it is most needed.

The making of fire apparatus is a fine art. Those who work in the standard factories have given years to learning their jobs. They have been taught that their is no substitute for quality; that cost is of secondary importance. The apparatus they produce is uniformly capable of operating under the most grueling conditions without breakdown and without loss in efficiency.

Standardization of fire apparatus cuts down maintenance costs and labor. It does away with the untried and the inferior. It makes for greater life and better service. Most important, it protects us and our property against disaster.

Fatal Accident

Charles H. Ran, 47, saddle maker of San Angelo, was accidentally killed last Wednesday at Watervalley, when the gun he was carrying was discharged while crossing a fence. He was hunting rabbits and when someone heard the fatal shot, they found the body with the head almost shot away. He was buried at San Angelo.

Quite a number of Sterling people are taking advantage of the abundant supply of vegetables by canning them for winter use. String beans are most abundant and very cheap. Plenty of good eats stored in the cellar means a swift kick in the pants of old man Hardtimes.
