MADE IN GERMANY

Every old timer can remember the time when he bought jackknives, spoons, harmonicas, accordions, toys and a thousand other things stamped, "Made in Germany." The stamp, "Made in Germany" taught us that it meant shoddy, inferior goods. If we desired a good knife or other cutlery, we didn't buy a "Made in Germany" knife, because we had long since learned that a "Made in Germany" knife was no good.

Along about 1917, we had strenuous dealings with Germany. At St. Leibel where the raw, American toughboys met the boasted shock and storm troopers of Germany, we were made to realize that like "Made in Germany" knives—they were no good in a showdown. They ran like cald dogs when they got up against the real thing.

After a few other trials at St. Leibel, they hollered "Kamarad." They were badly whipped and they knew it. They didn't want any more of it. They signed up a solemn compact in which they promised to behave and quit murdering our women and babies on the high seas as they did in the sinking of the Lusitania in which 1200 women and babies were sent to the bottom of the sea.

These Nazis were sore and were determined to even up the score. They repudiated the debts they owed Uncle Sam. Violated their treaty with all nations; turned ban-lites and hijacked Austria and Czechoslovakia and took the lands and goods from those nations. Held up the Jews, Catholics and Protestants and took their substance away from them and whom they haven't murdered, they are driving from their native lands.

Fearing to lay violent hands on Uncle Sam, they are bombarding him with damnable propaganda incubated in hell to sow trouble, discontent and dissension among the American people in the hope that some day they may lay dirty hands on this country as they did on Austria and Czechoslovakia.

This propaganda is in a myriad of forms. When you see a fellow loping up and down the land ranting about the mess that Wilson and the munitions makers got us in with Germany, you may write it down that is a lie, "Made in Germany", because any man who can remember 22 years back knows that all of Satan's legions could not have kept us out of that war, because it was a peoples war against the infernal cruelty that was practiced against innocent and unoffending of that time. Such men are servants of Hitler and have no other mission except to serve the Nazi cause.

The sentiment against American preparedness against possible and probable invasion was "Made in Germany" and the promulgators of this sentiment are servants of Hitler, maybe unaware, but they are serving the Nazi cause.

Those people who are trapping the unwary youth of churches, schools and colleges to pledge themselves in the name of peace, that they will not support the United States in any war it might engage with any foreign nation, are promulgating a propaganda "Made in Germany." They are serving Hitler and not Uncle Sam. Whether it be a spoon, knife or this German made sentiment, I don't like it. I don't like these fellows who go about knocking Uncle Sam. I don't like them. I think they ought to go back to Germany where things are more to their liking.—Uncle Bill

CRITICISING OUR COURTS

Judges are sometimes criticised because they interpret and construe the law as it is, even though the law is a vagary and more or less foolish. The fact that a man has read about a murder or other crime in the newspapers, or heard it discussed, and has formed an opinion of the guilt or innocence of the accused based solely on what he has read or heard, is no reason why he should not go into the jury box and render a just verdict according to the law and the evidence.

An honest and intelligent man who goes into the jury box to determine the guilt or innocence of the accused, is sworn to render a true verdict according to the law given by court and the testimony of witnesses. Such a man, if he follows his oath, can, and will give a just verdict, even if he has read about it in the papers and heard it discussed.

In the case of Frank Salazar who is alleged to have murdered Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kennedy at Miles last month, beat up their two little girls and abducted the oldest daughter, is a case in point. When the crime was discovered, the wires, the air and the newspapers carried the news all over the United States. Every normal citizen was made acquainted with the facts of the case, and it is reasonable to conclude that everyone who knew the facts, formed an opinion.

This reason was based on the crime more for the reason that the victims had been slain by someone—possibly and probably Frank Salazar, but whoever did the murder should be punished according to law. From what the people heard and read about the case, they were led to conclude that Frank Salazar was the guilty one, but if Frank Salazar could prove in court that he was innocent, no honest, fair minded man would do otherwise than acquit him of the charge.

After reading and hearing the facts in this case, a man who had not formed an opinion is not fit to be a jurymen in a crap game trial in justice court.

In his heart, Judge Sutton knew that the citizens of Tom Green County would give Salazar as fair a trial as would the citizens of Nolan County or any other county, but Judge Sutton is bound by laws and decisions of the higher courts that he must obey, and taking no chances on the delay of a speedy trial by being reversed by the Court of Criminal Appeals, he transferred the case to Nolan County where the citizens are as well informed about the case as are those of Tom Green County.

If it is proven in Nolan County that Salazar is guilty of the crime of which he is charged, they will give him all that was coming to him, but if the state fails to prove his guilt, they will acquit him as they would in Tom Green County.

The fact that a man has read about the facts of a crime in the papers, or heard them discussed and from such things formed an opinion is no reason why he cannot render a just verdict. But I would challenge a man who has read the facts and has not formed a conclusion. Better watch him.—Uncle Bill

Planning For 8th Annual Fat Stock Show March 3-6

Committees handling the various departments of the Eighth Annual San Angelo Fat Stock Show and Rodeo, March 3-6, inclusive are busily engaged in drafting plans for the exposition. Awards for winners in the baby beef show, the fat lamb exhibit and breeding sheep display, all for boys aggregate $1,900 in cash.

In the baby beef show total cash premiums, for both the milk fed and dry lot classes, will be around $1,300. Animals will gain their owners $420 in cash prizes for placing in the fat lamb show and in the breeding sheep display there will be $152.

Outstanding among the trophies and special awards will be the C. A. Broome memorial award of a registered Hereford calf. This is the third year the Broome estate has offered a fine animal from its registered herd to the youth showing the best calf from counties adjacent to, and including, Tom Green. These counties are Irion, Schleicher, Concho, Coke, Runnels and Sterling.

Committees this year are expecting entries to exceed last year's record-breaking mark and are making their arrangements so as accommodations will not be over taxed. Some entries have already been received.

Department superintendents this year include, Abe Meyer, vice chairman of the show, who heads the milk fed calf division; R. M. Millhollin, dry lot class; Foster Rust, fat lambs; Virgil Powell, mens breeding sheep; Ralph Leftwich, mens Hereford show; and R. O. Sheffield, boys breeding sheep.

A special livestock judging contest for F. F. A. Boys is scheduled for March 4, this event beginning at 8 a. m. F. F. A. boys of Area 2, vocational agriculture set up of Texas, are eligible to compete. A. J. Bierschwale, Alpine, Area 2 supervisor, is in charge of this feature.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Pruett, of McKinney, were last week guests of their son in law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Oran Ballou.

SONNETS

II

Should I despair that noonday sun shall turn
That youth's brief morning hour too soon is spent?
—Then why within this breast should this heart yearn
For things which never were, nor ever lent
Joy nor white peace to lonely soul's pursuit
Of that austerity which men call art?
Will not the mind's long search for hidden fruit
Suffice? Why should the sad and stubborn heart
Still thirst? Still hunger long forbidden ways,
Though steady-browed impatient intellect
Calls up old sorrows of forgotten days
And points to austere path of earth's select?
For what is love but vain and lonely quest,
And what youth but strange and alien guest?

Helping to Carry On

The twenty per cent dividend given to the stockholders of the First National Bank of Sterling City is a sure sign that 1938 was a good business year in this part of West Texas.

During the 29 years of the bank's existence, there have been times when the stockholders forgot the dividends which were due them in order to take care of the small customer and let him carry on. As a result, nearly every one of them got his head above the financial water and is still carrying on and is a steady customer.

This bank has nearly always been free from foreclosures and litigation. This means that most everybody within its range is a friend and customer.

Perhaps, few banks in Texas have a more substantial backing and is in as sound condition as our First National Bank. It is owned and controlled chiefly by citizens of the county.

This bank is a corporation with a human soul.—Uncle Bill

Local Methodist Pastor Attends San Antonio Unification Conference

Rev. Bruce M. Cox, pastor of the local Methodist Church makes report on the Unification Session of the General Missionary Council of the three Uniting Bodies of Methodism.

The council which met at San Antonio, Texas, the first week of January was the outstanding event for all Methodist churches of the great southwest. On its platform appeared the outstanding Methodist of America who brought informative and inspirational messages that stirred the hearts of all who heard. Preachers and laymen went back home to undertake more seriously their task of bringing men and women to the foot of the cross. I have never attended a meeting where every speaker so impressed me with their earnestness of appeal to preach Christ and Christ only to a sin sick world that had lost its way. I wish that every Methodist, especially could have listened to those Veterans of the Cross proclaim in no uncertain terms a call to Arms.

I have chosen for my subjects Sunday:

"United Methodism and the Conquest of the World", 11 a. m. "Evangelism; the Challenge, the personnel and the method", 7 p. m. It is my purpose to try to present something of the spirit and challenge of that great conference. The public is cordially invited.

Which Is The Winner?

During the holidays, it is reported that two prominent citizens in the north part of town fell out and had a fight. One of them whammed the other on the head with a buggy spoke and then retreated to his car in an effort to make a get-a-way before the victim of the buggy spoke woke up, but while he was trying to start his car, the other man woke up and grabbed some rocks and knocked the windshield and windows out of the car. The folks on the north side are trying to decide who got the best of the fight. Harry Tweedle is of the opinion that the George McEntire, who is convalescing from a major surgical operation, is in town last Wednesday. His visit to town delighted his many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hudson accompanied by D. O. Mercer attended the inaugural of Governor Lee O'Daniel at Austin last Tuesday. Mr. Hudson says it was the greatest show he ever saw. He says he never saw so many people together at one time in all his life. While at Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Hudson visited relatives there.

Our old time friend, S. T. Wood who ranches in the Chinati Mountains west of Marfa, writes: "We have had fine rains and the goose hangs high." Tom Wood owns one of the finest ranches west of the Pecos. It is where the largest and finest Herefords are raised as well as the biggest and best apples grow. These apples have Arkansas apples skinned a city block for size and quality. I am of the opinion that Mrs Wood had a hand in growing these apples.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. McEntire, Jr., of Midland, were welcomed callers at this office last Saturday. Mr. McEntire last Friday brought his father, George H. McEntire home from a hospital at San Angelo, where he had undergone a major surgical operation several weeks ago. Mr. McEntire, Sr., is now at his U Ranch home where he is convalescing nicely. Hopes are entertained by his many friends that he will be himself again soon.

At the weekly luncheon of the Lion's Club last Wednesday, County Agent H. P. Malloy entertained the club with a very interesting talk on soil and water conservation. He related facts to show that Sterling County and vicinity were making a fine beginning in the way of terracing and dam building. He showed that where the land was terraced, the depth of moisture was many times as deep as where it was not terraced.

 These bargains will close March 1. You can't very well do without the Star-Telegram.

Entertains Pioneer Friends

To compliment pioneer friends Mrs. George Conger entertained with a turkey dinner at her home Saturday, Jan. 14.

Seasonal flowers centered the table, and floral plaques with name and age were plate favors.

Places were laid for the hostess and Mesdames J. F. Tompson, Helen Lyles, M. Z. House, J. H. Bugg, Joe Cotton, Bill Conger, G. G. Ainsworth, Tilder Latham, G. Williams, Oscar Longshore, and W. B. Everitt.

Band Receives New Bass Horn

Last Tuesday morning Mr. Edwards, our band director, brought out our new bass horn, that the Band Mothers Club purchased through contributions contributed from local townspeople. Jack Mathis is now playing the bass horn and Eugene Blackburn will start next week. Their tuition will be given to them for one month.

Every Tuesday night we have our band rehearsals. We cordially invite those interested to attend. These rehearsals are at the school building at 7:00 P. M.

Museum Receives Additional Items

Recently several articles have been loaned to our school museum, among those loaning us some articles are:

Oscar Findt--A belt worn by German soldiers during the World War.

Theodore Mayben--Wooden shoes worn by French during the World War.

We would welcome any article that anyone would loan to the museum that would be of interest to everyone.

Eagles Lose to Town Boys' Team

The Sterling Eagles lost to the town boys last Monday night by a score of 25 to 12. The game was hard fought all the way through, but by being outplayed, the Eagles lost to the town boys.

The boys and girls teams go to Coshoma this week end to engage in a tournament. At this time we do not know the teams that they will play. Both teams have improved steadily and we hope to win some games at this tournament.

Work on Senior Play

The Senior Class have selected their play, "Foil of Youth" and have all been assigned parts. They are to begin rehearsal this week. The date for presentation will be announced later. Watch for it.

Dramatic Club

Miss Hutchins has cast four one-act plays to be given by the Dramatic Club. The Club is now memorizing its lines and rehearsals are now under way. These plays will be presented to the public in the latter part of February.

See or phone Mrs. Rufus Foster for flowers.

JOKES

Many students are like coffee--98 per cent of the active ingredient has been removed from the bean.

"What were Webster's last words?"
 "Zymosis, zymotic, zymurgy."

The absent-minded professor coming downstairs in his home slipped and fell to the bottom. Picking himself up, he said:

"Now I wonder what all that noise was about?"

A patent medicine company received the following letter from a satisfied customer:

"I am very much pleased with your remedy. I had a wart on my chest, and after using six bottles of your medicine, it moved to my neck and now I use it for a collar button."

PLANT PECANS AND WALNUTS

From now until April 1, is a good time to plant pecans and other trees. There are thousands of young pecan trees growing along the river banks. These, in many places can be had for the digging. They make ideal stock on which to bud your favorite pecan.

If you do not buy trees from a nursery, or get them on the river, get a few good nuts and plant them where you wish them to grow. After a couple of years, you can bud the young trees with any kind of pecans you may wish.

Walnuts, as well as pecans are natives in this part of the country and will grow to perfection if given ordinary care.

The best way to grow English walnuts is to go to the river and gather the little native nuts and plant them where you wish them to grow. After they are two or three years old, you can bud them with English walnuts. Growing English on native walnut stock is now past the experimental stage. They will grow and produce nuts here that rival the California product.

As in the case of pecans, late frosts are to be contended with, but these walnuts will hold their own as well as pecans.

Growing pecans and walnuts is past all arguments as to their success in Concholand. Of course you will have to water and care for them as you would any other thing you plant.

Plant pecans and walnuts.-- Uncle Bill

THE NEW AND THE OLD

The twentieth century turbo-electric liner, "Santa Rosa," on the left, leaves her Grace Line pier in the North River, New York, for the Caribbean. Seventy-five years ago, her Grace Line forerunner, the square-rigger "W. R. Grace", named after the founder of W. R. Grace & Co. and Grace Line, here reproduced on the right from a painting hanging in the dining room of the "Santa Rosa," sailed from New York to Valparaiso via the Caribbean and the Horn, in 120 days. Today Grace Line still sails this route, but the New York to Valparaiso trip is made in sixteen days, linking together more than three-quarters of a century of Grace Line service between the two Americas.
