Arthritis Drive Planned To Help Fight Disease

On Tuesday, October 28, the annual Arthritis Victory March gets underway in Muleshoe. Workers will be knocking on doors 5-7 p.m. seeking donations to help fight the crippling disease, Arthritis.

Terry Young is serving as coordinator for the drive and she said she is encouraging as many people as possible become involved in this annual function. A large number of local and area people will be helping with the drive, said Mrs. Young.

President of the Bailey County Arthritis Foundation is Elaine Damron. She commented, "If we are to eliminate the pain and crippling of Arthritis sufferers, we must raise funds to upgrade medical care facilities and support vital research aimed at curing this disease."

In conjunction with the drive, the following personal story was written by

Arthritis victim Dean May, brother of Don May, a local resident:

by Dean May

"It was fifty-five years ago at the age of five while playing on the floor with a younger brother, I noticed my knees were badly swollen. My parents, upon examining, also discovered my knees were sore to pressure exerted by fingers. A trip from the Indiana farm to a doctor in a nearby village indicated the possibility of arthritis.

"Advising my parents that further examination by some well known specialist would be wise, I soon was embarking upon a trip to a large city called Memphis, Tennessee. During the 1920 decade, such a trip was considered quite some way.

He also served in the U.S. Navy.

J.R. now works for Missouri Valley Inc. at the SPS Talk Station as warehouse clerk and purchasing agent. His wife, Deborah, is employed at Gibson's Discount Center.

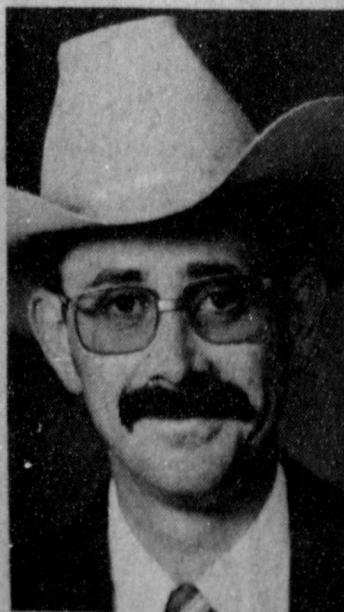

They are the parents of a four year old daughter, Wendi.

J.R. was employed by the Muleshoe Police Department from 1974 to 1978. During this time, he attended many different schools of training.

With four and one half years of police work and 470 hours of police schools, J.R. feels he is fully qualified to well serve the public as Constable in Precinct One.

J.R. said he would like to urge everyone to get out and vote in the general election, and added he would appreciate your vote and support.

Halloween Carnival Threatened By Apathy

For the past several years, the Muleshoe PTA has sponsored a Halloween Carnival for elementary and primary school age children, as well as toddler size.

However, because of what has been termed 'parent apathy' the annual carnival is in dire need of workers for the one evening of the popular event.

Doris Palmer, president of the Muleshoe PTA, told the Journal this week:

"Every year, the PTA sponsors a Halloween Carnival for the kids to help keep them off the street Halloween night.

"We have been told this year that we do not have enough parents to help with the PTA Carnival. There is not enough participation from the parents and without it, there is no way we can have these carnivals every year."

She added, "As the way things stand right now, we will have to stop the carnival at 9:15 this year because the parents don't want to help.

"This situation has got PTA in a very bad place. If the parents don't want to have the Halloween Carnival after this year, we need to know by October 27, so please let your room mothers know.

"If we do not hear from the parents, we will count

Muleshoe-Olton Start District

Powerhouse Olton will be coming to Muleshoe tomorrow night to take on the win-hungry Mules in the Mules' first district game for 1980. With a shortened district season since Morton dropped back a notch, the Mules and the Mustangs will play for the chance to creep upon a strong and powerful Littlefield, who early on seems to be dominating the district this year.

Muleshoe's Mules are coming into district on a 3-3 record, and will be facing an Olton team stung in their opener by a 30-0 drubbing by Littlefield last Friday night.

Olton has fallen to 5-2 for the year, and along the way dropped from second to fourth in rankings behind Muleshoe at third, Dimmitt ranked second and Littlefield, holding on to the top slot with a 6-1 season record.

Littlefield held Olton to 36 yards rushing and 28 yards passing, while amassing 255 on the ground and 35 in the air.

Although the Mules had a rest last Friday, they have been practicing and plan to bring some of the 'ticks or the trade' to the Mustangs this week.

With Mule quarterback

Monty Hysinger back in form after being injured earlier in the season, all the Mules will probably be ready for action when the Mustangs hit town.

For this year, the Mules have scored 76 points while holding their opponents to 53 points.

In Muleshoe's homecoming victory against the Lockney Longhorns, Hysinger passed for one touchdown and Felix Norman broke loose for an 83 yard TD. Hysinger also hit Larry Beene for a two point conversion and kicked a 27 yard field goal.

This year, the Mules are

Doyle Weirs' Perfect Score Wins Contest

How about another perfect score in the merchant's football contest for the past week. Doyle Weir was the only contestant to turn in a perfect entry blank for the week.

A female moved into the winner's bracket, with Judy Davenport being in second place. She missed one game, and was 32 points off on the tiebreaker scores.

Third place winner also missed one game, but was 33 points away. He is Wade Cargile. Wade now has a first place and a third place in the contest this year.

Barely out of the money was Nona Blake Douglass, who missed only one game, but is 42 points away on the tiebreaker scores.

There's still time for the lead to be determined and it is still anyone's contest before the contest winds down in the next few weeks. Be sure to get your entry blanks in to The Journal.

Persons who regularly travel Kakawate road, the cutoff between Muleshoe and Portales are well aware of the deterioration of the road in the past several months. Traveling that particular road formerly meant a savings in time traveling between Muleshoe and Portales.

However, as huge pot holes began to show up shortly after you cross the state line into New Mexico, travel became hazardous as time went by.

Last Friday, following numerous complaints to Roosevelt County Commissioners closed the road. That is, they erected signs stating "Closed To Thru Traffic."

County Commissioner Bonnie Rea posted the warning signs and said that although the signs had been placed at both the New Mexico and Texas ends of the 13 mile stretch, the road has not technically been closed.

Many vehicles had reported extensive damage after attempting to traverse the hazardous roads. Kakawate road links U.S. Highway 70 with U.S. 84 near Muleshoe.

Rea advocated that the sign needed was "Warning Dangerous Road Ahead." He also commented, "Some people make it sound like you never come out once you go in. But, it isn't really that bad, but we do need to work on it."

On the Texas side of the road, it is just as smooth as any very good grade highway anywhere in Texas, and has no problems anywhere on it. The County of Bailey maintains the road and has kept it in excellent condition.

However, immediately after crossing the state line going west, it is evident major work will be necessary to put the road back into a safe condition. Some of the pot holes are six feet across, and on at least two long stretches of the road, it is impossible to swerve to avoid one deep pot hole without hitting another one.

In the two worst areas, one two miles and three miles inside the road headed west, the pot holes are deep enough to hold water for several days after a rain, and some were found up to nearly a foot deep and at least that wide.

Light Freeze Hit Vegetables Last Weekend

Last Saturday morning, local and area residents got up to find icicles hanging from fences where sprinklers were running, and in open spaces, very icy tomatoes and other vegetables.

Then on Sunday morning the second light freeze was recorded, and additional damage to all vegetables in exposed places. Some protected and semi-protected vegetables survived the early freezes that turned many tomatoes 'black' and virtually halted all vegetable production in the entire area.

On Monday and Tuesday despite nighttime temperatures in the high 30's, daytime temperatures warmed into the 60's and early 70's.

Although light rain was recorded on Monday as close as Levelland, the rain moved out of the area without reaching Bailey County. National Weather Service predicted cloudy weather and some light precipitation to begin in the area Thursday night or Friday. However, the moisture was expected to be light with little accumulation.

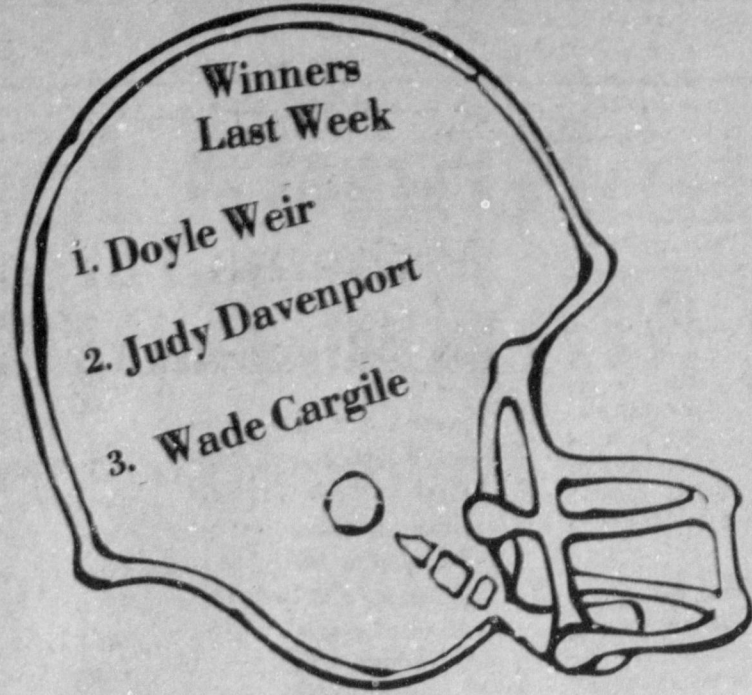

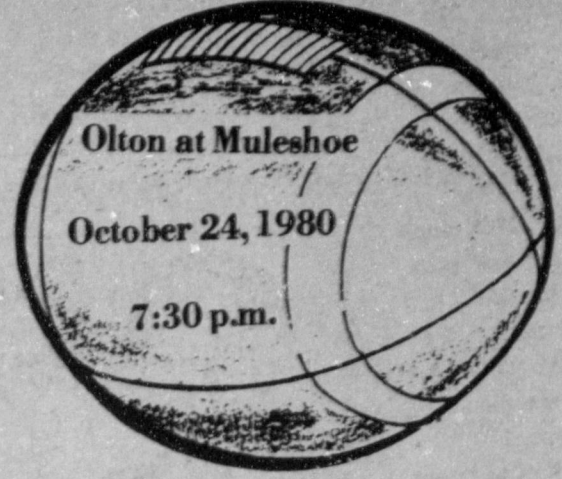

A DRAMATIC REALITY.....It's dramatic, but true. This man is shown lying down to his full six feet in one of the numerous pot holes on Kakawate Road west of Muleshoe. When 1760 turns into Kakawate Road at the New Mexico state line, the pot holes in New Mexico have proven to be dangerous for drivers. New Mexico officials indicated the road will be closed to through traffic until repairs can be made. (Photo courtesy of the Portales News-Tribune).

City Council Has Okayed Agreement

Following a discussion Tuesday morning, members of the Muleshoe City Council approved and signed a joint agreement proposed for operation of police dispatching services and operation of the Bailey County jail.

Minor changes had been made in the proposal prior to the final approval, and now the agreement will go to members of the Bailey County Commissioners Court to be signed.

With the new agreement, the city will provide all police dispatching and Bailey County will provide jail quarters for all city prisoners. In other action, the City Council approved a temporary move for the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture. The C of C will be moving back into the City Hall while they search for adequate quarters for a permanent office. The lack of finances is hampering the search for permanent quarters for the C of C explained Muleshoe City Manager Dave Marr.

It was explained that the move will only be on a temporary basis. Don Foard of Pak-Mor Manufacturing Company met with the City Council and demonstrated a Pak-Mor garbage collector from Friona. Foard said the vehicle had been in operation in Friona for the last nine months, and said there had been no 'downtime' since it was purchased by the City of Friona. A Friona city workman demonstrated how the machine works for the City Council and City Manager. Marr informed Council members the City Hall will be used in the General Election on November 4 as a voting place, thus the City Hall will be closed for business that day. Also, he informed the members of several upcoming meetings, especially two meetings on the water future, which he explained may be of interest to members of the City Council.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — During the 1978 gubernatorial election, the Mexican-American voters were touted as an up-and-coming political bloc, and one on which would hinge the outcome of several political races.

The Democrats traditionally drew strong support from the Hispanic voters, and both parties may have taken it for granted. For whatever reasons, including a lack of incentives or political hopes, Hispanic voters turned out in low numbers. Consequently, Democrats were surprised and Republicans joyful to learn that GOP nominees Bill Clements and John Tower had defeated Democrats John Hill and Bob Krueger.

The low turnout had its punitive repercussions, at least in the Legislature where Hispanics won few committee plums. Since Hispanic leaders did not deliver the votes, the plums were not delivered to them, so to speak.

Second Time Around
As this year's presidential race nears the finish line, the Hispanics are again receiving their fair share of attention, by both Democrats and Republicans.

Both President Jimmy Carter and Ronald Reagan have made campaign swings through South Texas with promises to be back soon.

Both campaigns say carrying Texas is vital to winning on Nov. 4. Thus, Reagan elaborated on Clements' plan to issue work visas to illegal aliens and Carter bragged on more Hispanic appointments by him than any other presidents.

Growing Bloc
The politically emerging Mexican-American vote has doubled since the 1976 presidential election, when nearly 400,000 voted. A voter registration drive has bumped it to an estimated 800,000, or about 18 percent of the total Texas vote.

And Hispanic leaders are again touting their bloc's role in making a president. The winner, they say, will have to make gains among Hispanic voters.

The Republicans are aiming to capture 30 percent of the Hispanic vote, more than double the 13 percent garnered by Gerald Ford in 1976. A low Hispanic turnout is seen as harmful to Carter, who drew only 20 percent Hispanic votes in his primary run against Teddy Kennedy.

Unsolved Problem
Outspoken Ruben Bonilla, president of the League of Latin American Citizens (LULAC), doesn't put much stock in any short-term solution to the flow of illegal aliens from Mexico. He favors a liberal amnesty program instead of an open border, and a strong emphasis on bilateral trade.

He supports Carter, saying "If Hispanics wanted an actor as president, they would vote for Ricardo Montalban."

Penalize Employers
A Lufkin Congressman, Charles Wilson, wants Congress to make it illegal to hire undocumented workers, making it a felony crime on second offense. Wilson was addressing a group of teachers concerned about the problem of educating illegal alien children.

Many Texans have been up in arms lately since a federal court ruled the state must foot the bill for schooling the youngsters whose parents unlawfully cross the Rio Grande to work here. Wilson, Atty General Mark White and others want the federal government to reimburse school districts who enroll alien children.

AG Ruling
In a legal opinion issued last week, White ruled state law prohibits dentists from consenting to dental treatment of persons under the care of a Department of Mental Retardation facility. Dentists may provide treatment, however, provided consent is obtained from three physicians licensed by the state.

The Speaker Reports

by Bill Clayton

AUSTIN—Proposed Constitutional Amendment 8 would change the jurisdiction and the authority of the appellate courts in Texas. It changes the name of the Courts of Civil Appeals to simply Courts of Appeals. Also, it changes the names of the Associate Justices of the Supreme Court to simply Justices and requires them to retain a license to practice law in the state while serving in their offices.

One of the primary goals behind this legislation is to alleviate the heavy caseload of the Court of Criminal Appeals. The legislation provides that 14 regional courts of appeal would share the criminal caseload, as well as handle civil cases, with the exception of cases involving the death penalty which would go directly to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Proponents point out that this legislation would allow for speedy procession of criminal cases and, therefore, serve as a deterrent to crime. Moreover, they say that appellate courts that handle both civil and criminal matters may attract and develop better judges that have benefitted from experience with a variety of legal problems.

However, there are some who question this legislation and their arguments must also be carefully weighed. Our present judicial system is a viable one. It may not work as speedily as we would prefer, but it does at least work. There may be other and better ways to correct the system. Also, the addition of a large number of criminal cases to the civil caseload of the Courts of Civil Appeals may only create another caseload problem.

In the event that this legislation does pass in November, there would have to be enabling legislation passed during the next session. Therefore, I have charged the House Judiciary Committee to study what this would entail and to make recommendations for such. Thus far, the Committee has held open hearings throughout the state and has received both positive and negative responses to the proposed amendment along with suggestions for implementation.

Whatever our decision on this proposed amendment, it is a fact that our Court of Criminal Appeals is overburdened with cases. If we want to continue to maintain a high standard of swift justice, we must pay close attention to this problem and find some solution.

ON STUDENT LOANS

Senate and House negotiators agreed to raise interest rates on guaranteed loans for students to 9 percent as part of a new compromise package of aid to students and institutions of higher education.

SUGAR INCREASE

Three of the nation's largest sugar refiners raised the wholesale price of sugar by $2 a hundred-pound bag. As a result, consumers can expect retail price increases of about 10 cents a five-pound bag in 45 to 50 days.

Mabel Caldwell Visited Nashville

Mabel Caldwell returned Friday, October 17 from a 15 day trip to the north-eastern states. She went by way of Nashville, Tennessee to visit her niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Carver, where June works in the cancer research laboratories of Battelle in Columbus, Ohio.

While there she visited the following places, the Carrusal, the restored Johnson House, Jimmie Dean's new Biscuit and Gravy Restaurant, the French Market, an old church with a churchyard cemetery dating back to the early 1800's, the Columbus Zoo, the Ohio Village and Museum under the direction of the Historical Society she gathered red maple leaves and buckeyes. Ohio is the Buckeye State.

Then she journeyed to Maire by way of New York, Boston and Augusta. She visited her granddaughter, Vickie Clay who is working on her masters in geology at the University of Maine and sat in on one of her classes there and toured the campus. Vickie lives in Bangor. Mabel met Vickie's mother, Mettie Clay of Boise, Idaho who flew in and they visited the following places of interest; Bay Harbour and Acadia Park on the coast, a look tower which overlooks the harbour, the coast line where hundreds of lobster traps were located. Each buoy above the water had names of owners and they run the traps every two days. Lobster fishing is one of the main industries of Maine.

They later viewed a tray in a museum and heard a lecture on it. They picked up shells on the beach and visited a light house. Before leaving the area, they ate their first lobster.

The next day they went to a big flea market in Bangor, which is held monthly. Then to Augusta to the State Museum. Then they went to Vermont by way of New Hampshire where they visited another state museum. Fall Festival of Crafts, the world's largest granite quarry and a cemetery of carved tombstones, several covered bridges which were made to keep ice off during the winter were also visited by Mrs. Caldwell near Montpelier, the capitol of Maine.

Then they went on to Burlington where they viewed the ferry crossing on Lake Champlain, then to the Shelbourne Museum of wonderful things which cost 45 acres and took part of two days to go through. Mabel thought the reproduction of an old time circus parade was the best. It was 10 yards long in carved wood and colors and took several men 20 years to carve. The figures were about a foot high.

On the way home, they visited the Maple Syrup Museum at St. Johnsbury and saw the syrup being boiled. This is another big industry of Vermont as is dairying and cheese and broomcorn. She brought a chimney hand crafter broom back. She returned back to Columbus down the Maine coastline to Portland where she spent the night before returning home by way of St. Louis where she viewed the Jefferson Memorial, the great arch gateway to the west.

In all she was in 16 states and said the fall leaves were in full color and brought back some to prove it.

Charlotte Redwine was proud to announce that the Young Homemakers had sold 120 cases of pecans and have now re-ordered 25 more cases. The pecans sell for $3.25 a lb., $19.50 for half a case, or $39.00 for a case. Any person interested in purchasing these Del Cerro Brand Pecans can call Charlotte Redwine or Mandi Seaton. These can also be purchased from any one of the Lazbuddie Young Homemaker members.

Associate Prof. Gregory Allen, at age 30, won the $5,000 first prize plus a Rubinstein Gold Medal and the opportunity to perform with Israeli and American orchestras.

In 1978, the pianist placed second in the Queen Elisabeth International Music Competition in Belgium.

Road...

A possibility existed that patching the roadway could begin in the next several days although Roosevelt Commission Chairman Herschel Caviness told the Portales News-Tribune he would "try to get some boys to begin patching the road early in the week. I've been out of town, so I haven't made any plans yet."

It was reported that the badly damaged road is in Caviness' district of the county road system in New Mexico. Any work done on the road would require his approval.

Last Wednesday, the state Highway Commission in New Mexico turned down a county request to swap the Kakawate for a state road, SR86, a gravel road west of Floyd.

"The state won't take the road (Kakawate) until it is brought up to their specifications," said Roosevelt Commissioner Clovie Chunn. "But, we don't have the money to bring it up to their specifications."

Upgrading the Kakawate to secondary road standards would cost the county $2.5 million, according to New Mexico highway department estimates. The state spends $8,000 a year to maintain state road 86 near Floyd.

According to the News-Tribune, a secondary road must include a 100 foot right of way, sufficient shoulders, drainage facilities, and proper fencing. The Kakawate road has sufficient right of way, and has been fenced, but has never had the proper base to sustain an asphalt surface.

One reason for the deterioration of Kakawate, county commissioners believe, is overloaded tractor trailers which use the road to by pass the state port of entry in Texico.

It was suggested that load limit signs which would prohibit heavy trucks from using the road.

It was also suggested that the county ask the state transportation department to install portable scales to catch the offending rigs.

In the meantime, if you plan to travel to Portales from the Muleshoe area, plan to travel via Clovis, then south on Highway 70.

going into district action with a slight disadvantage over the last few years, when they went to district play on the definite winner's side of the column. Injuries have hampered the Mules' action this year, and they are hoping to be on the comeback trail for the next four games, which will be the ones to determine the district winner.

For the past two years, the Mules have won bi-district, and this year cannot afford to lose any of their four final games to be in the playoffs.

Be sure to attend the game Friday night and back the Mules. The coaches and the players have been outspoken in saying the support of the hometown fans helps keep the team morale high.

arthritis. Today, referred to as rheumatoid arthritis, one of many types of arthritis. After approximately six months of medications and treatment without help, it was off to a small town in northern Illinois, near Chicago. A country doctor who had some success with a serum started me on a series of shots to be administered by the family doctor back home in Indiana. With these shots, I got along quite well....an apparent remission. These shots were continued until the age of eleven, at which time (our mother having passed away three years earlier on January 11 1928) six of us children were orphaned by the death of our father on February 11, 1931.

"As orphans, we no longer could live together as one big happy family. Different directions we went. The four youngest to live with uncles and aunts, while the two oldest returned to college. Soon after moving in with an uncle and aunt near Pittsburgh, Pa., the arthritis in my knees worsened. This was not because of an unhappy homelife. My aunt and uncle were very kind, sweet and concerned over my physical condition. I think pressure on my knee joints from the long walk to and from school was causing my knees to again become swollen and sore.

"In those days, the more exercise one could get, the better, so they thought. Today, so called pressure joints as are the knees, most doctors recommend a moderate amount of exercise. With knees becoming worse, doctors in Pittsburgh recommended surgery to both knees, first on one, then some weeks later, the other. After surgery on the left knee and still no better, my uncle from Memphis came to Pittsburgh and from there it was to Dansville, N.Y. where I spent nearly a year at the Physical Culture Hotel (a health resort). Over the next four years, it was a series of water fast, strict diets, exercises, massages, baths, etc. The longest of eight water fast days was ten days and six of seven days each. During the water fast, my arthritis went into remission, swelling and soreness disappeared. But, each time I returned to a milk diet, combined with oranges, my arthritis would flare up and spread to other joints.

"In January, 1936, my uncle took me from Dansville to a medical doctor in Williamsburg, Ont., Canada. This doctor's treatment was largely manipulation of the feet. The arthritis responded, to foot and other treatments. The doctor told me to return next year during school vacation.

"All the money made from the carnival helps all of the children in both schools as it is used to get things for the school that is needed.

"It is not too much to ask the parents to help one night a year, to benefit your child's own welfare and fun. Please, contact your room mother, help us keep the PTA Carnival for the future years to come," concluded the PTA president.

place to have fun for Halloween."

Mrs. Palmer continued, "The sheriff has said that the Halloween Carnival was a very good activity for the children, as it does help keep them off the streets and in a safe place.

"All the money made from the carnival helps all of the children in both schools as it is used to get things for the school that is needed.

"From Canada, I went to Bradford, Pa. to live with my eldest brother who was graduated from college and had obtained a job with an oil company. A year earlier, he had taken my youngest brother and sister under his wing, renting a third floor flat. Now, once again, it was the four of us living together as a happy family. Over the next three years, I concentrated on high school graduating in June of 1939.

"During my high school years, not getting back to the doctor in Canada, I tried various faith, quack and herb cures. But these were of no help. An arthritis flare-up during my senior year of high school spread the disease to additional joints. My brother took a bride in September 1939. No one could ask for a better sister in law as I continued to make and have a happy home with them. During early 1940, I went to a children's hospital in Erie, Pa. Here, my arms and legs were put in a cast, and each day wedges were inserted into the casts, breaking the adhesions of my joints.

"After seven weeks, arthritis was not only worse I had side effects that were also evident. A sister and her boyfriend took me back to my brother and his wife in Bradford. During the next few months, from the tender care of my family, my arthritis was again in remission and the side effects had disappeared. With the approach of fall, 1940, and through President's Roosevelt's Rehabilitation Program, I entered a rehabilitation school in Williamsport, Pa. Here, I took a course in drafting and in December, 1941, (two weeks after the Pearl Harbor attack) I obtained a job on a drawing board in Buffalo, N.Y., making my home during the war with my younger sister now married. Once again blessed with a top-notch in-law, a happy home life.

"After the war, (with war plants shutting down) my sister and family moved for a brief period to Florida. Finding a place to room and board, I continued to work for the same company and did so for nineteen years and eleven months. A six and one half month strike by the shop forced the company out of business.

"For a few months during 1962, I had another job on a drawing board. But, now with extra fatigue, both wrist and left elbow locked, and I realized the drawing board was no longer for me. Hence, I took an IBM course on panel board wiring. After completing the course, the teacher suggested I expand the training and take computer programming. This I did, and after completing that, moved into the home of my now married youngest brother at Winchester, Tenn. and hoping to find a computer training job in Tennessee or northern Alabama. I had no such luck. Thus, for several years, I had another happy home with my brother and another peach of a sister in law and their four children.

"During my working years in Buffalo, N.Y., I tried various treatments and medications. Only from two did I show improvement. One was moccasin venom. I first too, the venom shots from a doctor in Detroit and later the shot was administered by my doctor in Buffalo until the serum was no longer effective. The other was cortisone, which I began taking about 1958.

"Later, however, through the advise of doctors, I attempted to discontinue the use of cortisone. But, during each of three attempts, arthritic flare-up was rather pronounced. Hence, I resumed its use and did so until 1971. During 1972, I had surgery on six occasions. Each was for conditions other than arthritis. Again I was advised to discontinue the cortisone. This time, rather than stop its use abruptly, it was reduced gradually. There was no arthritic flare-up. In fact, for the next three years, I felt very well. Arthritis was in remission. This remission lasted until the spring of 1975, when my hips, especially my left hip, flared up with considerable pain. An orthopedic surgeon advised surgery on both hips, first the left, then later, the right.

"After a total left hip replacement, both hips improved. Upon re-examination and x-rays, the surgeon said it would not be necessary to have right hip surgery. Prior to the surgery, I apparently favored the more painful hip. Once I stopped favoring the left hip, the right improved. Since the surgery, the arthritis flare-ups have been rather mild. I have, however, been hospitalized for other ailments and presently at the age of sixty, reside in a Methodist Nursing Home of Hermitage, Tenn.

"Many people have dreaded fear of rheumatoid arthritis, that the onset of the disease means the end of life's pleasures and a shortened life span. If possible, I hope that by having rheumatoid arthritis for fifty-five years, I can reduce much fears.

"When I last went on crutches at the age of nineteen, and have each year ever since, I had a thorough physical by doctors in a clinic. Unlike today, during the 1930's, little was known of the disease, and, of course, with the severity of my disease.

"I could only have a bleak forecast, little future to look forward to and no prospects of a normal life. Chances were, by the age of twenty-five, I would be bedridden, and from there just a matter of time. But, through the grace of God, the bleak forecast did not materialize. Through my wife was somewhat curtailed, other than marriage and children, it was fairly normal. A big advantage throughout my fifty-five years of rheumatoid arthritis, is the family with which God blessed me. Without understanding, concern, love and tender care of my parents, aunts and uncles, sisters and brothers, and their families, life would not have been as it has. Through the years, the encouragement and help from our close-knit family has given me the strength and desire to enjoy many of life's blessings."

Mrs. Damron said that through research, financial aid, and more study, persons such as Dean May may be helped to lead normal lives. She asks your help.

5 percent from last year. Low hog prices and high production costs simply made it unprofitable to continue to produce at such high levels."

Brown said that the latest report shows there were 925,000 hogs and pigs on Texas farms as of Sept. 1. The June-August pig crop in Texas totaled 360,000 head, down 4 percent from a year ago. This, combined with plans to farrow fewer sows in coming months, will decrease pork supplies this winter and probably through the first three quarters of 1981, he added.

Brown noted that while pork production increased over the past several months, prices fell. In April of this year, barrows and gilts at the Giddings market were bringing an average of $29.75

$30.50 per hundred pounds.
Last year at that time, $49-$50 per hundred prices were not unusual.

Over the next six months,
Texas producers have indicated that they intend to farrow 89,000 sows, 2 percent fewer than a year ago.
Farrowing intentions nationwide are down by 8 percent for the coming six-month period.

Farm Operations Safety

Although poor work practices cause many farm and ranch accidents, poorly designed equipment and facilities can also create hazardous conditions that lead to accidents.

"Therefore, it's important to 'program' safety into your farming and ranching operation," contends Dr. Gary Nelson, an agricultural engineer in safety for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Hazardous conditions represent conditions of risk which could cause human and financial loss due to injury or damage to equipment. In addition, such conditions can also stifle agricultural productivity and lead to inefficient operations," points out Nelson.

"Farm and ranch workers should be on the constant lookout for hazardous physical or environmental conditions," emphasizes the Texas A&M University System engineer. "Such conditions should be corrected on the Railroad Crossings Need Respect

"Railroad Crossings Need Respect, Too!" is the theme for 1980 Grade Crossing Safety Week in Texas.

Governor Bill Clements will designate the week of October 19-25 as Texas Railroad Grade Crossing Safety Week at a public proclamation signing October 17 at 3 p.m. in the Governor's office.

This special emphasis week is a part of Operation Lifesaver, a public education and awareness program directed at reducing motor vehicle-train accidents in Texas. The program is sponsored by the Railroad Transportation Section of Texas Safety Association.

Tom Murphy, state chairman of Operation Lifesaver, said, "Comedian Rodney Dangerfield has built a highly successful comedy act around the premise, 'I just don't get no respect.' If there ever was something that needs respect—but unfortunately doesn't get enough of it—it's the railroad grade crossing."

"Unlike Dangerfield's act, railroad crossings are not fun and games. Respect for crossings -- and trains -- can mean the difference between life and death," Murphy continued.

Texas has almost 15,000 public grade crossings, the highest number in the nation. Over 1000 motor vehicle-train collisions occurred at crossings in Texas last year resulting in 71 deaths, 638 injuries and thousands of dollars in damages. Texas Department of Public Safety statistics show that the majority of these accidents were caused by failure of motorists to regard grade crossing warning signs and devices and failure to yield to oncoming trains.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, after a three year investigation, concluded that, concerning responsibility for the protection of the public at grade crossings, "...it is the highway, not the railroad, and the motor vehicle, not the train, which creates the hazard (at grade crossings) and must be primarily responsible for its removal."

Operation Lifesaver urges motorists to heed all grade crossing signs and approach crossings with a healthy respect.

spot or as soon as possible to reduce the potential for accidents. Special attention should also be given to the safe design of equipment and facilities when purchased or installed."

Among hazardous conditions that lead to accidents include unsafe basic designs; worn equipment; protruding objects; lack of storage space; poor arrangement, placement or storage of equipment; objects which may move unexpectedly; exposed sources of electricity; congestion and insufficient clearance; improper and loose clothing; presence of flammable, corrosive or toxic substances; excessive noise; inadequate illumination or ventilation; or the presence of such atmospheric substances as dust, gases, or vapors.

Burleson Bells

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.)—A note of nostalgia will be struck in 1981 at The University of Texas.

Eleven bronze bells, which chimed atop the tower of the Old Main Building from 1930 to 1934, will be refurbished and reinstalled in a new setting on the east side of the campus. Supporting the bells, which weigh from 29 to 560 pounds, will be six pylons.

Cast in France, the bells were given to the University in 1929 by Albert Sidney Burleson, an 1884 UT law graduate who later became a U.S. Postmaster General.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Creek comes up with some new proposals this week, perhaps.

Dear editor:

I have been keeping notes on the number of ways TV commercials claim you can save gasoline.

One claim says if you buy its brand of oil you can save gasoline. Another says its tires will save gas. Another says its gasoline will save gas. Another says the shape of the car's hood will save gas. Another says its sparkplugs will do the job. Even the telephone company has a system for some big firms that'll save energy.

On the assumption that a certain percent of the population acts on these claims I'm about to come out with an invention of mine that'll save gasoline. It's a gas-saving windshield wiper.

Don't ask me how a windshield wiper can save gas, it's a trade secret, but if I can get a million car drivers to try it out at $10 apiece before the government gets around to testing it, you can see the high price of gasoline won't bother me.

On the subject of saving,

I've figured out a way to make political promises of tax cuts come true. Like it is, there's an un-bridged gap between pre-election tax cut promises and post-election forgetfulness.

The answer to this absent-mindedness is bonded promises. If we can let a man get out of jail on bond, why can't we require a candidate to get into office on one?

For example, if a candidate promises a 20 percent tax cut, bond him for 20 percent of his salary. For every month he fails to deliver, his bond is forfeited. If a whole party comes out for a tax cut, bond it for the amount of promised cuts. That way we get a tax cut, whichever way the vote goes.

If we're going to let criminals out on bond, it seems only fair we let Congressmen in on the same terms.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

CROSS TIMBERS

AUSTIN—Cross Timbers cattle and calves numbers totaled 1,140,000 head on July 1, 1980, a 14.8 percent increase over 1979, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

In the July 1 inventory by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, the biggest increase came in beef cows at 435,000 head, up 3.81 percent. Milk cows stood at 1,500 head.

Cattle in feedlots totaled 487,000 head, a 3 percent increase over the same period last year. Brown attributed the increase to the summer

studying in MBA programs

COLLEGE STATION — A profile of students entering the graduate business program at Texas A&M University this fall shows an eight-fold increase in the enrollment of former school teachers, counselors, and those with education backgrounds but no work experience, say college officials.

At least 50 percent of those entering the graduate business school have undergraduate degrees in areas other than business administration. Among these 16 percent have education degrees, 19 percent come with liberal arts backgrounds, eight percent from engineering or technology and seven percent from science. And at least 40 percent of the students this fall are women, officials say.

Farm Production Costs Tied To Machinery Ownership

With increasing production costs continually nibbling away at farm profits, a producer must give closer attention to cost control. This is where his machinery ownership habits come in.

"A farmer can control some of his operating costs by the number of hours he uses a piece of equipment per year and the number of years he owns that equipment," points out

Lawrence A. Lippke of Corpus Christi, area economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. The more or longer a piece of equipment is used, the cheaper the per-hour cost of operation, explains the economist. For example it costs a farmer about $27 an hour to operate a $30,000 tractor 300 hours a year for seven years. He can reduce his cost of operation to $21 an hour by using the tractor for 500 hours a year.

"Given that most farmers will spend about two hours of tractor time for every acre of land in cultivation, using the same $30,000 tractor for 500 hours a year instead of 300 would reduce production costs by $12 per acre," says Lippke. "On a 500-acre farm, that's a savings of $6,000 a year."

However, the effect of years of ownership is not really so dramatic, notes the economist. If this tractor is used only four years at 500 hours per year, cost of operation is about $23 per hour, only $2 more than if used the same amount of time for eight years.

"The main reason that hours of use per year is so important is related to the interest either paid or foregone on the investment," emphasizes Lippke. "Interest paid per year remains independent of the number of hours used. Thus the more the equipment is used, the cheaper the interest per hour of use."

Increasing equipment usage has some drawbacks, however, notes the economist. Increased usage implies owning fewer items of equipment. That could lead to more days needed to complete certain farm operations, thereby increasing the risk to adverse weather.

"A farmer must therefore make a tradeoff to find the right balance of risk and cost with which he can live," adds Lippke.

ON ABORTION

The Supreme Court closed a technical provision through which the Federal Government has continued to pay for thousands of abortions for poor women. The Justices announced that they would not rehear the case they decided on June 30, upholding the Congressional ban on Federal financing for most abortions.

HAPPY SURVIVORS — Members of the Eastern New Mexico University Greyhound women's volleyball team show the remnants of a trip down the Kakawate Road Wednesday night. The Greyhoundette van was delayed when their rear tire was thrown completely off the rim five miles east of Highway 70 on the Kakawate. The girls are (clockwise from bottom left) Ceil Genitski, Carey Moore, Stephanie Stratton, Kathy Wendland, Lucy Johnson, Laurie Kinyon, Eva Chavez, and Diana Chavez. The Roosevelt County commissioners ordered the road closed to through traffic effective today until repairs can be made. (News-Tribune photo)

Hospitals should simplify systems to survive future

COLLEGE STATION — Two Texas A&M University architecture professors warn that hospitals must return to simpler systems and facilities or face serious threats to their ability to provide health care. George J. Mann and Raymond D. Reed said that hospitals and health facilities in the 1980s need to return to systems that utilize less energy.

"The dramatic and continuing rise in energy costs is, and will pose serious threats to the economic viability of hospitals and health facilities," Mann said.

In new construction, Reed said, "We are going to have to rethink how we design buildings." He suggested such things as use of natural light, natural ventilation, overhangs for protection from the sun, windows that open and better insulation be considered.

7th. Grade Mules Fall To Morton

The 7th grade Mules played the Morton Indians here, on Thursday, October 16. The final score of the game was 14-8, with Morton coming out on top.

Morton's first score came when they ran a reverse in from fifty yards out. The extra point was good. Their next score came when a Morton defensive back intercepted a pass and ran it in from eighty yards out. The extra point failed, and the score at the half was 14-0, Morton.

The Mules rallied back on a short pass to David Vela, who romped ninety-five yards. This TD was nullified by a clipping penalty. The Mules first score came when David Vela ran it in from sixty yards out. The extra point was good, with less than 2 minutes to go in the game. The Mules held Morton and got the ball, but the time ran out.

Players receiving stars were: Mike Holt, recovering two fumbles; Loy Triana, one fumble; Monte Horne, with one interception; and Jarrod Embry, one interception.

The Mules' next game is here, Thursday, October 23, against the Olton Ponies.

Michael Evans, economist: "The economy has come out of its free fall and is in a period of stabilization before starting to rise."

MRS. PAT WATSON

Teacher Of The Week

Mrs. Pat Watson was selected for teacher of the week by the Student Council.

Mrs. Watson graduated from Texico High School and received her teaching degree at ENMU. She has been teaching for 8 years; 1 year in DeShazo and 7 years in Jr. High, where her teaching duties include 6th grade reading, 6th grade English, and the annual.

Mrs. Watson is married to W.T. Watson, who farms. They have three sons: David, who is a petroleum engineer in Ardmore, Oklahoma; Edwin, who is a junior at Texas Tech; and Clifford, who is a senior at MHS.

Her hobbies include playing the piano and organ and sewing. When asked her feelings about teaching she replied: "I have a super bunch of students to work with on the annual staff. I enjoy teaching and find the sixth grade age an enjoyable group to work with."

Congratulations, Mrs. Watson!

Jr. High First Pep Rally

Thursday, October 16, the Jr. High had their first pep rally.

As the Jr. High band played the "Fight Song", the football boys came in to be greeted by arid cheers from the student body. Stacy Smith gave the opening speech. The cheerleaders, Stacy Smith, Laury Grant, Louise Lopez, Kristi Campbell, Lori Ellis, and Connie Puckett, mascot, led rousing cheers

Speech Candidates Chosen

This year Connie Puckett is the nominee from Speech for the Halloween carnival princess.

Connie is the 13 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Puckett. She has one brother, Johnny, a senior at MHS. In her spare time, Connie enjoys bike riding and skiing.

Connie, an eighth grader commented about school, "It's pretty good overall, with an exception of a few things."

We on the annual staff wish Connie the best of luck in her competition!

Seventh grader Ricky Rasco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Odell Rasco, was elected speech candidate for the Halloween prince. Ricky enjoys football, basketball, track, and tennis. He is a Student Council Representative, and is on the A team in football.

Ricky is enjoying speech very much this year.

throughout the pep rally. John Isaac, an offensive tackle and defensive end for the 8th grade Mules, gave the 8th grade speech, followed by an excellent presentation by the Jr. High band.

Mike Holt, a defensive corner and quarterback for the 7th grade Mules, spoke for the 7th grade. The Spirit Stick was given by Connie Puckett, with the 7th grade winning. Kristi Campbell closed the pep rally and Coach Ronnie Jones gave a speech. The football boys filed out to the sounds of the school song and the fight song, concluding a very successful pep rally.

Teacher Of Week

The teacher of the week this week was Mrs. La Jean Williams, who is currently teaching 7th grade English. Mrs. Williams is a native of Pampa, graduating from Pampa High School. After graduating from high school, Mrs. Williams attended West Texas State University, majoring in elementary education and specializing in English.

Mrs. Williams began her teaching career at Three Way, where she taught first grade and sixth grade. She then taught kindergarten in the Witharral school system. Mrs. Williams moved to Muleshoe eight years ago. Last year she began working at MJHS as a teacher aide, and when an opening occurred in English this past summer, Mrs. Williams began her present job as an English teacher.

Like a number of her students, Mrs. Williams enjoys pizza as her favorite food. For her entertainment she enjoys sewing, reading and china painting.

She and her husband, Carter, have one son, Chad who is a freshman in high school. Carter is a farmer, and his hobby is acrobatic flying.

The Annual Staff congratulates Mrs. Williams.

Helmut Schmidt, West German Chancellor: "The proposal, made by the Soviet Leader, Leonid I. Brezhnev, could pave the way for new arms control agreements..."

Mules Scalp The Indians

The 8th grade Jr. High Mules met the Morton Indians last Thursday night, October 16 at Muleshoe. The final score was 35-0.

Coach Jones commented that it was by far the best effort this year. He also said that it was a very good job by the defense and offense and the offensive line did an excellent job of blocking. He also commented that if the team plays like this, they will have a very good chance of winning all of the district games.

Hector Flores was selected player of the week, and he also received 2 stars for touchdowns and 1 for the best hit of the game. Mark Mton received a star for touchdowns and 2 stars for extra points. Danny Sanchez received a star for an interception. Smiley Orozco received 1 star for a touchdown and 1 star for blocking.
