Sterling Eagles Bop Wellman 38-16

Play Grandfalls Here Tonight

The Sterling City Eagles, with superb work in the line and some good blocking, walloped Wellman here last Friday night 38-16. The game was the third for the Eagles and was not a conference tilt.

Following the invocation by the Rev. Hubert Travis and the school songs the game got underway.

A light sprinkle hit the hot flood lights and nine bulbs burst before the game began. The rain quit just as the game started.

Wellman kicked off to the locals and Don McDonald took the kick. Sam Nance got a first down on the first play from scrimmage. Jack Asbill then racked up seven yards for the Eagles and then the Wellman line stiffened and held coach Dillard's boys with a 4-3 defensive line. Then the visitors took two plays to make a first and then another in two tries. The Wellman Wildcats pushed on down to the Sterling 18-yard line and the locals stiffened up and pushed them back.

McDonald dashed around right end for an Eagle first; then he and Asbill made another in two tries. Nance pushed through for four yards and then the locals lost the yardage on a fumble, but McDonald got loose and got to within one foot of a first down and Nance pushed over for the first down. Then ended the first quarter.

Right off Jack Asbill made a touchdown on a lateral pass play, but it was called back due to a clipping penalty against Sterling. A long pass from McDonald to David Durham almost got the 30 yards needed for a first down, but Wellman held and took over the ball on the 11 yard line. They couldn't gain so Sterling took the ball. After 3 tries Asbill punted to the 5 yard line and Wellman drew a clipping penalty for a setback. They kicked on the 4th down. Don made a first on the third down and a personal foul penalty on Wellman gave the Eagles a first with the goal to go. Don passed to Asbill advanced the ball almost to the pay-off stripe and then the Eagles lost the ball on a fumble. THEN Wellman fumbled the ball and a pass play to Leroy Churchill gave the locals the first touchdown of the evening. A try for extra point was no good.

Sterling kicked to Wellman and their good player, J. L. Pinson was making a good return until he got hit by Jack Asbill. The half time whistle stopped play at this time.

Eagles kicked to the Wildcats cats as play resumed. They failed to gain so the locals got the oval and Don ran around right end for a first. Don got 3 and Nance, who had picked up four yards on the first down, found a hole and went through it for the second TD for the Eagles. The try for extra point was no good.

The Wildcats received on play resumption and on the first play they fumbled with Jimmy McCarty recovering for the Eagles on the 8-yard line. Then Sterling fumbled and the Wildcats got the ball on their own 8. The Wildcats couldn't advance and kicked on the fourth down and the ball went out of bounds on their own 20 yard line. Nance bulldozed the ball up for a yard and Durham picked up two before the Eagles lost the pigskin on downs.

Wellman's J. L. Pinson got loose and ran 70 yards for a Wildcat counter. They made two extra points on try after the goal, making the score 12 to 0.

Nance took the kick-off and on the first play Durham took a McDonald pass for 7 yards and McDonald got three more for a first. Then on a pass play from McDonald to Bill Coleman was good for 7 and Don pushed on over for a 1st. Then he passed to Durham and Durham went over for the third Eagle touchdown of the game. No extra points were added after the goal.

(End of Third Quarter)
Jack Asbill rushed the Wellman passer and threw him for a 10 yard loss. Wellman kicked and Sterling took the ball on Wellman's 35 yard line. McDonald passed to Nance for 8 yards and then Don got a first on a long end run. At that juncture the Eagles drew a 15 yard penalty for illegal use of the hands. Asbill, a real kicker, punted way down to the Wellman 5 yard line. Leroy Churchill pushed back a Wildcat for a loss and they did not gain. They punted and the Eagles did a repeat and had to punt after three tries. Pinson picked up a Wildcat first on a pass play and repeated on the second try. BUT, those pass plays that were clicking seemingly, backfired. Don intercepted the next one and ran all the way for a Sterling touchdown. The try for extra point was no good. The score was now 24-8 in favor of the Eagles.

Asbill kicked the ball right over the Wellman goal on the kick following the TD. Don plucked another Wildcat pass out of the air and got the ball for Sterling. Durham went scooting on a fast run for a touchdown making the score 30-8. Wellman's Pinson was not yet through, and he took the oval down the field for another touchdown and they added two points.

But the game was not yet over for the Eagles. Nance lanced all over and around the line and with a nice broken field run, went all the way for another Eagle TD. Durham snagged a pass from McDonald for the extra two points, making the final score 38-16.

The pep squad girls, under the direction of Miss Radora Masey, put on a drill.

L. F. and Clinton Hodges will exhibit their Rambouillets in the open, or adult division, of the sheep show at Dallas. Judging in this division will take place on Tuesday morning, October 11; the junior show judging will take place that afternoon.

Supervisors election for zone 2 of the North Concho River Soil Conservation District will be held on Tuesday, October 4. Zone 2 is all of that part of Sterling County lying north of the North Concho River. Bubba Foster has been supervisor for the area for several years.

Present plans for the election and meeting call for a tour of some aeral spraying of mesquite done on the L. R. Stringer ranch in 1959. More concrete plans for the tour and meeting will be worked out in the next couple of days and announced next week.

Marcus Loader, work unit conservationist for the SCS and the county agent looked over the spraying recently. If there is no more resprouting next spring than there is now, this will be a very good kill. A narrow strip of the plot right along the railroad right of way has more resprouting than any of the rest of the plot. At the time of spraying, there was probably a south wind and the spray drifted north and the area did not receive as much of the chemical as it should have. The other areas to the north received plenty due to the overlap and are showing up very good.

Mesquite robs 55 million acres of Texas rangelands of precious moisture and plant nutrients each year. It invades an area readily when the soil is bare of high producing deep rooted perennial grasses. In order for a ranch to maintain its highest production, it is often necessary for the rancher to seek the most economical and profitable means of controlling mesquite.

"Mesquite Control," a publication by Garlyn Hoffman and B. J. Ragsdale, Extension range specialists, discusses the different methods of brush control and is available in the county agent's office. Mechanical and chemical means are both discussed in a brief but concise manner.

A 14 year study at the Spur Experiment Station has shown that steers grazed on treated pastures made about 5 pounds more gain per acre than on untreated areas. The individual gain per steer per year was 28 pounds more on treated pastures; this during a 156 day period from May 1 to October 3.

Other added benefits were less labor to work stock, fewer screwworms, higher calf crops, higher carrying capacity, and fewer bulls needed.

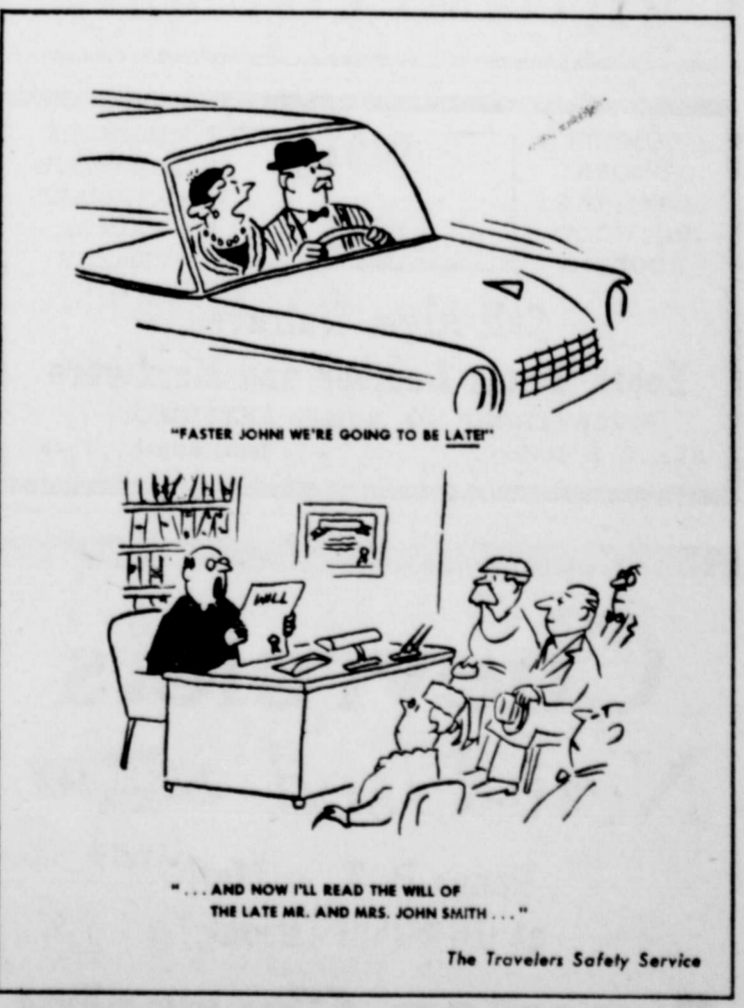

Although it is too late to carry out many of the practices such as spraying this year, it is well to begin planning next year's program well in advance. Weather may of course cause adjustments to be made in the plans but it is never too late to make plans for the future year's work.

By MARY STROUS

Our baby Laura was born on Mother's Day seven years ago. We lost Laura seven weeks later on Father's Day.

She gave a soft little sigh as she died in my arms. My husband and I buried her with the rattle to which she had clung tightly during her brief life.

But Laura, who died of the terrible birth defects known as open spine and too much fluid on the brain, still lives in the hearts of her father Don and myself. When asked by strangers, we always say we have three daughters (instead of really only two), and I want to explain why.

We feel that each of us, including our tiny Laura, is brought into the world to serve a purpose, even if our stay on earth is as tragically short as 49 days.

For years we were numbed by our baby's passing. But today we recognize that in being asked by The National Foundation to renew our memories of those despairing seven weeks, my husband and I are somehow fulfilling the purpose of Laura's fleeting visit with us.

That purpose is to repeat as forcefully as we can the lessons we have learned:

1. Scientists insist that parents should not be ashamed over the birth of an infant with a congenital malformation; instead, face the situation bravely and seek professional advice. Feelings of guilt aren't justified.

2. There is no medical evidence that birth defects are always hereditary; and

3. There is no evidence that because a couple have had one defective baby, they are likely to have another. Doctors at Columbus, Ohio, near our farm at Laurelville, said our chances of having another malformed baby were something like one in 40,000. (Donna Marguerite, Mary Strous, of Ohio, and daughters Julie Ann, two, and Donna Marguerite, five, study photos of youngest child, Laura, who died of birth defects at seven weeks.

five years old, and Julie Ann, two, who followed Laura after Don and I had reflected deeply and sought advice, could not be healthier or more normal.)

But by no means have Don and I forgotten our hopelessness and indeed our self-loathing during those 49 days and nights when we took turns holding Laura in our arms, or sat hour after hour beside her bassinet, watching life drain from her eyes.

We detested ourselves because of torments that something was wrong with us physically, or that a shameful defect had been inherited from our forebears (later proved untrue), and that we were thus responsible for this cruelty to an innocent baby.

Never will we forget the frantic drive, while our baby was dying, to our church so that she might be baptized before she left us. In some way our congregation had learned of the reason for our headlong visit, and the tears of those sorrowing folks flowed with ours.

Our Laura was one of 250,000 babies born each year in our country with significant birth defects; that tragic total is growing with our increasing population. Our baby was one of 34,000 who in addition die annually from these congenital malformations; and that awful figure is also mounting.

At last, something constructive is being done about birth defects. With March of Dimes contributions, The National Foundation is directing a broad study of this devastating puzzle, just as it fought polio and in time found the Salk vaccine to prevent it.

With a donation in January from each of us, in time there will be many fewer Lauras in our land.

Outdoorsmen's Quiz-Column

by Joe Bates, Jr.

Q. Can you catch more fish by adding scent to plastic worms? If so, how do you do it?

A. Scenting plastic worms isn't necessary, but many fishermen think that it helps. The easiest way I know is to remove the sardines from a sardine can and to soak the plastic worms overnight in the remaining sardine oil. Bait-up with the oiled plastic worms, and judge for yourself how well it works.

Q. Do fishermen have to spend so much money buying so many kinds of plugs? Isn't there one universal plug that will do the work of many — and save us money besides?

A. The nearest thing to a universal plug seems to be one called the "Diamond Jim". This is a jointed, sinking plug shaped like a bait-fish. The secret of it is that it wiggles at both ends, rather than only at the tail. It can be fished near the surface or as deep as desired. Thus, it covers water at almost any depth. If a plug looks and acts like a bait-fish, and can be fished at whatever depth the fish are, it should do the job. This "Diamond Jim" does this, and is effective on nearly all game-fish. Your dealer can show you the one-half and one-quarter ounce sizes, in a choice of nine color combinations.

Q. Where can I get a free booklet that tells how to catch fish when they don't seem to be biting?

A. When fish are not feeding, it's pretty hard to tempt them. However, there are tricks that help. Mail a postcard to me and ask for the free booklet "How To Catch Bigger Fish". This booklet will give many of the answers. Address: Joe Bates, Jr., 195 Algonquin Road, Des Plaines, Illinois.

Q. Is there any kind of a dye which will make live worms a brighter red in color?

A. Easiest way is to hammer a red brick into fine powder. Mix some of this powder into the dirt in which the worms are kept. They should be a bright red in a few days.

Q. I've heard of a plastic body lure that works both as a wobbler and as a jig. Can you tell me what it is?

A. Probably the lure to which you refer is the "Vervette", made by Fastex Division, Des Plaines, Illinois. This has a nickel head and a fish-shaped, translucent plastic body which can be bent or re-bent for any degree of curve. The "Vervette" acts as a wobbler when being retrieved. On a slack line, it will dive head-first, and thus works excellently as a jig.

Social Security Should Be Paid on Household Workers

Many housewives in this area may be depriving their household workers of social security protection according to a joint statement issued by S. Baker Mallett, Administrative Officer of the San Angelo Internal Revenue office and Floyd B. Ellington, Manager of the Social Security district office.

"Workers' earnings are credited to their social security account from reports of their employers, and most of the employers," Mr. Mallett said, "faithfully report these earnings year after year." Some household employers who only recently hired household help may not realize their responsibility, and their employees, in particular, should make sure they are protected. The next quarterly report is due by July 31.

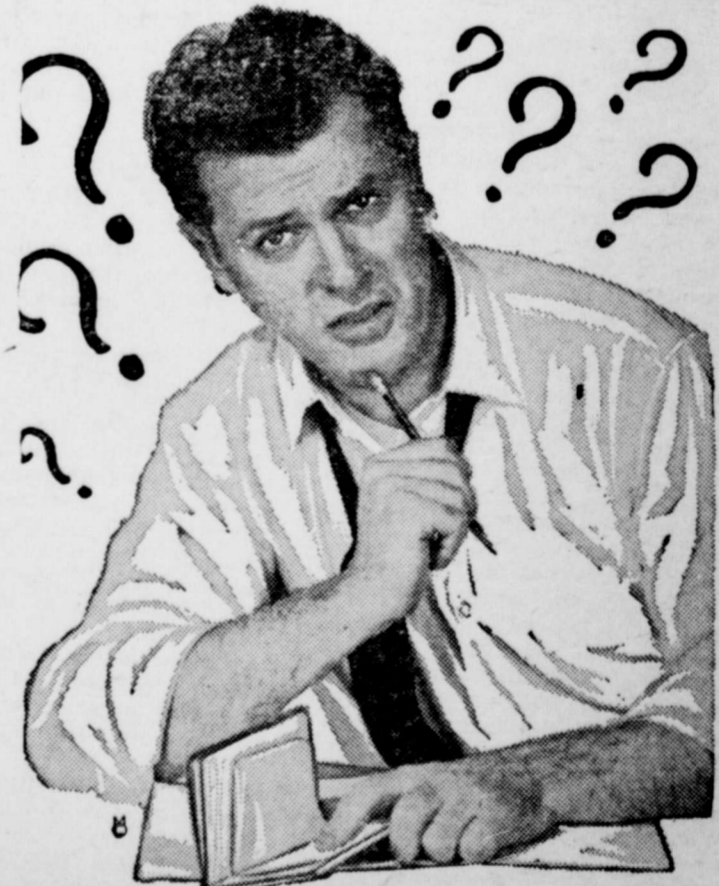

"Postcard forms for checking your own account with social security are available at all social security offices and should be used as least every three years by all workers," added Ellington.

If statements returned by social security show that your earnings are not posted to your record, steps will be taken to correct the omission and make sure that your employers report promptly and properly.

"Most people need many years of social security credit to qualify for benefits." Ellington said, adding, "It's your social security; make sure you are protected."

Additional Work Might Increase Your Social Security

"Social Security benefits can be increased in some cases by additional work after a person first applies for benefits," Floyd B. Ellington, manager of the San Angelo social security office announced today. "But certain requirements must be met before the benefit amount can be refigured."

If a person continues working during the year he first files for social security, he may request that his benefit amount be refigured to include the total earning for that year. There is no definite amount he must earn in the year, but it must increase the average earnings figured at the time of filing.

Another type of recomputation has a definite earnings requirement—earnings must exceed $1200 in a calendar year after the year the person first filed for benefits. Even though the earnings exceed $1200, the benefit cannot be increased unless the work since filing would raise his average earnings.

ings. Ellington emphasizes that it is better to check with your social security office and be sure, rather than to guess whether work after retirement will increase your benefit amount. Write your local office and include the amounts of your earnings in each year beginning with the year of filing up to the present, as accurately as possible and the effect on your present check can then be determined.

Attend Democratic Dinner in Abilene

Among those attending the Democratic Dinner in Abilene last Saturday night were Mr. and Mrs. Nick Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Neal J. Reed of Sterling and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Johnson of Abilene. City Marked for Parallel Parking on Highway 87

U. S. Highway 87 through town was marked off for parallel parking this week by foreman Jim Butler and his crew of the State Highway Department.

Now drivers must park parallel on both sides of the street all the way through town. A double stripe was put down the middle meaning that one cannot make a turn except at the corners. The double parking in front of the post office or in the business area must stop. The penalty for parking on a highway anywhere applies to the city portion as well, it has been pointed out. U turns or crossing the double stripe is illegal in the places marked.

The purpose of the parallel parking is to relieve any congestion of traffic in town. The street is wide enough for all highway traffic if no one loubie parks now.

SUPERVISOR FOR NORTH CONCHO RIVER SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT TO BE ELECTED OCT. 4

On the first Tuesday of October (October 4) an election for Soil Conservation District Supervisor for Zone 2 of each Soil Conservation District in Texas will be held. The election will be at a mass meeting held at an hour and place set by the Supervisors of the local Soil Conservator District.

Zone 2 of the North Concho River Soil Conservation District includes Sterling County north of the river and a little bit or Howard and Glasscock Counties.

All persons (both husbands and wives) who own land in Zone 2 and live in a County all or some part of which is in the district who have attained the age of 21 years are eligible to vote. Nominations are made from the floor and the person receiving a majority of the votes of the qualified voters present is elected for a term of five years. The present supervisor is J. Q. Foster.

Supervisors serve without pay except for a small allowance for expenses. The Supervisors constitute the administrative and policy forming body of the Soil Conservation District just as the school board members manage the school district.

To be a district supervisor a person must be 21 years of age and a landowner in the zone from which he is elected. He should be practicing conservation on his own ranch, be a leader in his area and be willing to spend sufficient time to fulfill the responsibilities of the office.

Widows Get Full Social Security Benefits at Age 62, Says Ellington

"Widows should apply for social security benefits as soon as they are 62", Floyd B. Ellington, Manager of the San Angelo District Office advises. "It would be even better if they applied a month or two before they are 62. Of course no one should delay, but widows in particular should be careful to apply for benefits promptly."

A woman's benefit based on her own account, or on the account of a living husband is reduced if she applies before age 65, but a widow's benefit is different. Widows' benefits are not reduced and the full amount is paid at age 62.

"So, if you are a widow", Ellington explained, "And we once paid you a lump-sum or monthly benefits, you should apply again when you are 62. In fact, you can speed your first check by applying a month or so before."

Luck has very little to do with success in fishing. In the long run, it's knowledge and skill that count. An important part of the knowledge is in knowing where the fish should be (and how deep they should be), plus what types of lures to use, and how to use them.

Fish seek shelter, whether it be a weed bed or stump in a lake, or a submerged rock in the current of a stream. If the shelter is near a food supply, so much the better. Weed beds and gravel bars provide food, so we look for fish there. Currents bring food downstream, so we find fish in protected spots in or near currents.

Since fish need oxygen, we rarely find them in backwaters, or in ponds containing too much decayed vegetation. They prefer moving currents in streams, or spots in lakes or ponds where wave action adds oxygen to the water.

Fish also seek comfortable temperatures. When the water is too warm or too cold near the surface, chances are that they will be down deep—in the kinds of places above mentioned. Adding all this together gives us a good idea of where to fish, and where not to.

Too many lures are made to please the fisherman, rather than the fish. A few well selected lures are better than a whole tackle box of inefficient ones. Take plugs, for instance. Why pay good dollars for a big collection, when a few can do the work of many?

An example of a plug which can do the work of many is the famous "Diamond Jim", which was developed by men who really know their fishing. The "Diamond Jim" can be fished near the surface or deep down. It does the work of every kind of plug except a popper—and it can be fished so near the surface that a popper rarely is necessary.

The thing I like about the "Diamond Jim" is its famous wiggling action. It's a jointed plug that wiggles at both ends, something like a woman hurrying to catch a bus. Its wiggle is the nearest thing to that of a live bait-fish I ever saw. When you see it work, you just know that it catches fish. It not only catches a lot of fish, but it gets the big ones, too.

Take a look at the "Diamond Jim" when you visit your tackle dealer. Use the half ounce size for plug casting and heavy spinning. The quarter ounce size is ideal for light spinning—and both come in a selection of nine fish-taking color schemes.

In the wobbler department, there's a new one called the "Vervette" which has a metal head and a fish-shaped flat plastic body. The body can be bent and re-bent to provide any degree of curve for whatever action is needed. Thus, the "Vervette" can do the work of many wobblers, just like the "Diamond Jim" can do it in plugs. Also, since the weight is at the head, the "Vervette" can be fished as a jig. It's great when fish are lying near the bottom. When trolling, or fishing in a strong current, the "Vervette" should be fished with very little bend. But in slack water, it is most active when a pronounced bend is put into it. I'll never forget the day I tried the "Vervette" on a school of white bass. Just about every cast hooked one. Maybe it's the shape, and maybe it's the action—but I think the secret of this little killer is in the translucent, pearlescent plastic body. It looks so much like a little bait-fish that I don't wonder that the big ones get fooled. This lure comes in three-sixteenths and in three-eighths ounce sizes, and in six color combinations. Some fishermen have told me they have trouble finding this lure in tackle stores. If you can't locate it, just send me your dealer's name, and I'll see that you get one.

Any readers of this column who would like a handy little booklet crammed with fishing secrets can get one free of charge. The booklet is a 32 page job with diagrams, charts and pictures, and is titled "How To Catch Bigger Fish". Just mail a postcard to me and ask for it. The address is: "Joe Bates, Jr., 195 Algonquin Road, Des Plaines, Illinois."
