AROUND THE COUNTY by

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

Saturday, November 16, is a big day for many. This date marks the opening of "hunting season" for many all over the state. And to them, hunting season means only one thing—deer season.

I would like to urge all to exercise just a little more precaution during this hunting season. Be sure that you are aiming at a deer, not a human or some type livestock. No one has been shot in this county but each year several head of cattle are lost in this way. This upsets the landowner, and rightly so, and makes it difficult for other hunters.

Along this line, the story is told of livestockman who put up this sign on his fence after painting COW in big letters on his cows. The sign read: This Property Posted. Trespassers Will Be Shot. If I Miss, They Will Be Prosecuted.

Another sample of worms sent in from Sterling County has been identified other than screwworms. This sample came from the Claude Collins ranch and was sent in by Bubs Gressett; location was in the north west corner of the county on what is called the Douthitt country.

This was the location of the first confirmed case of screwworms in the county this year. It was sent in on May 1. Since that time, eleven other samples of screwworms have been sent in for identification. Nineteen samples have been identified as not screwworms. At the same time last year, 140 cases of screwworms had been identified.

Statewide, there were 346 cases during the period October 27—November 2. Last year there were 1,429 cases for the same period. We have not had a case in the county since September 4.

Dimmitt County led with 26 cases. Uvalde had 24 during the week and Zavala had 20.

Monday, January 6, has been selected as the date for the Sterling County Livestock Show. This was decided on at a meeting of the show association Tuesday night.

If the weather runs in the usual pattern, that day will be cold, snowy, icy, or otherwise miserable. At least that has been the case for about two out of every three years. Newly elected president of the association is Ross Foster. Billy Ralph Bynum is vice-president and J.Q. Foster is treasurer.

Garlyn Hoffman, Extension range specialist, reminds all that chemical control of brush by the individual plant treatment method should be stopped now until after all trees have become fully dormant. Then it can be resumed. It is doubtful that anyone is using this method at this time here but in some areas, it is being done.

Hoffman also says that in many areas of the state, rainfall thus far this year has been the lowest on record. It is going to be necessary to furnish supplemental feed to all classes of livestock. There is some dry grass on the ground but protein needs to be supplied.

Phosphorus is the most likely mineral to be deficient under the present conditions, according to U.D. Thompson, Extension animal husbandman. A mineral supplement high in phosphorus should be fed free choice. It can also be supplied in the water under controlled methods.

Vitamin A is the most likely to be short of the vitamins. It can be supplied in protein supplements. Many of the cubes and other feeds preferred by ranchers have it added in one of the synthetic forms. It can be added to your mix if you are having yours mixed. Other forms can be used in the drinking water. Some prefer to supply it to their cow herd in the form of injections.

Livestockmen should check their feeds to see that the proper minerals and vitamins are being supplied. This is more important than ever this year under the conditions which have prevailed. A shortage of the essential vitamins and minerals can result in a lowered calf or lamb crop. Check to see that you are supplying what the animals cannot themselves find in these present conditions of stress.

FHA Meeting Held

The FHA met Monday night of last week at the community center with Nelwyn King and Shirley Price as hostesses.

During the business meeting the forthcoming candy sale and freshman initiations were discussed. Jeanie McDonald was selected to be the Sterling City chapter's nominee for an area officer for 1964-65.

The program was on school drop-outs and was presented in the form of a panel. The panel of Karla Jackson, Karen Williams, Temple Ann Foster, Louise Alexander and Jeanie McDonald was introduced by a skit entitled Drop-Out City. Discussion followed in which reasons were given for quitting school. The panel gave disadvantages of drop-outs in total money income, contributions to community life and inability to pursue hobbies and other interests.

Seventeen members, Mrs. John Copeland and Miss Radora Massey attended the meeting.

Sterling Votes Agin' Amendments

Sterling County voters went to the polls last Saturday and voted against the four state constitutional amendments.

The repeal of the poll tax amendment was defeated here by the most votes, 81 to 23.

On the increased welfare payments, 51 voted against and 50 for. On the Jefferson County pension amendment 68 voted against to 24 for, and the Sterling voters were against the veteran's land fund increase 54 to 44.

All the voting was done in 1 box here at the courthouse. Three absentee ballots had been cast—a total of 104 votes cast.

ABOUT YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY . . .

After you had changed your address, you wouldn't think of carrying the same old house key, would you? Yet, according to social security records, there are many married women who still carry the same old social security cards they had before they were wed. Some fail to make the change for months, or even years, after they have changed their names, even though they continue to work after marriage.

The key to your social security record is your social security account number card. No one should have more than one social security number. In the interest of having all earnings credited to the proper account number, the Social Security Administration needs to know about changes in names whether it be because of marriage, divorce or other reasons. Women who marry and fail to report this change may experience delay when it comes time to figure the social security benefits due them.

It really is a simple matter for a newly married woman to be sure that her social security records are current and under the proper name and number. She simply takes her social security card to the nearest social security office. There she will be issued a new social security card with the same number she had but under her new name. The social security office in this area is located at 204 Continental Building, San Angelo, Texas.

50th Anniversary Observed

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Allen were honored Friday, November 8, with an open house in the Lester Foster home, in celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Hosts for the event were the couple's son, Bramlette Allen, and Mr. and Mrs. Foster.

Guests were received by the Fosters and the Allens. The table was laid with an imported linen cut work cloth over yellow satin. The centerpiece was an arrangement of yellow mums and gold tapers.

Mrs. H. Q. Lyles was at the silver service. Mrs. J. C. Lyles served cake. Also in the dining room were Mrs. William Foster and Mrs. J. Q. Foster. Mrs. G. C. Potts and Mrs. H. H. Wilson registered guests. Mr. Pat Ray directed the showing of gifts.

Other members in the house party were H. Q. Lyles, William Foster, J. Q. Foster, H.H. Wilson, G. C. Potts and Pat Ray.

150 guests called during the afternoon.

Mrs. Lucy Fisher of Pomona, California is here visiting the Roy Fosters.

Visiting the W. B. Allens this week were Mrs. W. A. Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Harley Alexander from Gruver, Texas.

Dick Bailey, son of the Seth Baileys, is spending this week here with his parents. Dick, is an auditor with the Air Force in Kansas City.

Paul and Jim Harzke, nephews of Hugh Harzke, are now in the service. Paul has joined the Security Service Agency and Jimmy is in the regular army.

Daughter to the Leslie Coles

A daughter, named Lana Gay, was born to Mrs. and Mrs. Leslie Cole on November 6 in the local hospital. The baby weighed six pounds and fourteen ounces. This is the fourth child of the Coles.

Eagles Beat Garden City 36 to 26

To Imperial Tonight

The Sterling City Eagles downed the Garden City Bearkats here last Friday night 36—26 in a conference set-to. The Eagles were trailing 14 to 20 at halftime, but bounced back and garnered three more touchdowns and held the Glascock County boys to only one more.

The Sterling boys outplayed the Garden City boys. They made 9 first downs to 7 for the Bearkats. They added 6 extra points after touchdowns to only 2 for the opposition.

Danny Bailey, Sterling back, hit his stride and picked up three of his team's TDs. Speedy Sparks made 2 TDs and passed to Crisp Williams for 2 points. The first Sterling City touchdown came on a pass from Sparks to Bailey early in the game.

For the Bearkats, Gary Pagan accounted for 3 TDs; Dennis Seidenberger got 1. Riley Chandler picked up Garden City's only 2 extra points.

Coach Dillard's boys go to Imperial tonight for the final game of the season. The Eagles beat Imperial here in a preconference game (20-0) on October 4. The Imperial boys have not given their opposition much trouble this season.

Sweetheart and Hero Named

Between halves the football sweetheart, Temple Ann Foster, was crowned by the football hero, Billy Bauer. The pep squad girls pick the hero and the football boys select the sweetheart. Temple Ann, daughter of the Forrest Fosters, is a cheer leader and Billy, son of the Henry Bauers, is in a leg cast resulting from an injury in one of the early football games.

Homecoming for Sterling City

The Garden City game was the homecoming game for the Eagles. A parade was held at 3 p.m. Friday with all students in it. A party was held after the game in the community center and a number of college students were here for the affair.

LIONS CLUB

Wayne Loury presided at the Lions Club luncheon Wednesday noon in the absence of president Frank Jackson.

Charles Cunningham was a new member. The prize went to Leslie Payne.

MRS. CHESLEY McDONALD State PTA Meet Next Week

Easy Skillet Dish Simplifies Entertaining

Have you been putting off having the new neighbors over — or some friends you haven't seen in awhile? Why not invite them soon for an informal supper around the "TV" or at the card table. It can be a lot of fun yet little work.

Canned condensed soup makes the difference. This attractive skillet dish of tender round steak has its own delicious sauce. Canned condensed cream of vegetable soup teams up with dairy sour cream for flavor galore. Sliced onions surround the steak . . . paprika and thyme are the seasonings. It cooks just as well in an electric skillet or on top of the stove.

Toss a salad of greens . . . pass crusty rolls . . . bake frozen individual apple pies for dessert.

Steak Paprika

- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1/2 teaspoon paprika
- 3/4 teaspoon leaf thyme
- Dash pepper
- 1 1/2 pounds round steak
- 2 tablespoons shortening
- 1 medium onion, sliced
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 can (10 3/4 ounces) condensed cream of vegetable soup
- 1/2 soup can water
- 1/2 cup sour cream

Combine flour, paprika, thyme, and pepper; pound into meat with meat hammer or edge of heavy saucer. Cut into 6 pieces. In skillet, brown meat, onion, and garlic in shortening. Blend soup and water; pour over meat. Cover; simmer about 1 1/2 hours, or until meat is tender. Spoon sauce over meat now and then. Remove meat from skillet. Stir sour cream into sauce; heat for a few minutes. Pour over meat; sprinkle with additional paprika, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

NOTE: In electric skillet, brown meat at 400°F. and simmer at 220°F.

Comment from the Capital —

ARE WE A NATION OF SHEEP?

by Vant Neff

Making a 100-year forecast is one thing. Having history prove it right is another.

Alexis de Tocqueville, world-famous commentator on American democracy, did both.

Well over a century ago, he warned how the growth of big government could put the skids on our free enterprise system and reduce us to "nothing more than a flock of timid and industrious animals, of which the government is the shepherd."

What's more, he was right. That's exactly what's happening today.

The fact is that our government is mushrooming into a massive monster, with an insatiable appetite for power.

And as it grows bigger and bigger, it's crowding the price-less American traditions of rugged individualism, freedom and self-reliance, closer and closer to extinction.

Let's take a close hard look at what's going on.

Fifteen years ago, there were 7.1 million workers on public payrolls. Now there are 12.3 million—a jump of 73 percent. And don't expect it to stay at that.

But that's only a small part of this story. Those on the receiving end of federal program funds, and their dependents, plus those on federal, civilian and military payrolls, and their families may well add up to half the population of the United States.

Who says so? A highly respected Democratic congressman—Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia.

All this, of course, takes money, and in the end it's always the taxpayer who suffers. Federal, state and local taxes take away from us about 35 percent of our national income—more than third of what all people and business corporations earn.

Naturally, a big fat bank-roll like this commands a lot of deference in the nation's marketplace. And well it should. One out of every five dollars spent on goods and services is spent by the government.

Now take a good look at those government dollars and you'll make an important discovery. They have strings attached to them—long strings that more often than not stretch all the way back to Washington.

When the strings are pulled, people and companies all over the country dance to whatever tune the Administration chooses to whistle. No dance, no dollars.

After all, does it make sense to bite the hand that feeds you?

For the sake of example, let's say that you head up a major steel corporation. To stay solvent, you need your share of United States defense contracts. Then suppose that the government starts telling you how to run your business. Would you tell them where to go? Or would you toe the line in order to keep those defense contracts?

Or suppose you are the head of a great university with a contract to train members of the Peace Corps. The government tells you not only what you will teach but insists on passing on the members of your faculty who will be allowed to teach. Do you surrender your academic freedom or give up the Government contract?

Suppose you are a farmer. The Government offers you a subsidy with the one hand and with the other it compels you to grow or not to grow whatever the Government chooses on acreage which the Government determines, with your product to be sold at a Government-established price. Will you knuckle under or forego the subsidy?

It happens far more than you think, even though you don't read about it in your daily paper.

And there doesn't seem to be any end to it. The federal government keeps growing bigger, spending more money and acquiring more and more power.

As a result, there's practically nothing of any significance that hasn't been meddled with, in one way or another, by the administration.

For example, radio and TV stations can't operate without a license . . . who issues the license? The government, of course. But only if they decide you deserve one.

Railroads, electric-power companies, pipelines, interstate truckers and barge lines aren't permitted to set their own rates. The government tells them what they can charge.

"Management of the news"—a new polite term meaning "distortion"—has apparently become a standard government procedure. (It's no secret that the White House virtually ostracized reporters from a famous New York newspaper because the President resented something it printed.)

In labor-management relations, government meddling has been downright disastrous. It's all but hamstringed business and it's also deprived the American worker of his basic freedom to decide for himself whether he joins a union and what he settles for.

Remember that the White House has issued directives to all government agencies, even the military, virtually inviting unions to move in and sign up civilian employees.

The administration's tolerance of monopolistic unions is obvious, and leads to an inescapable question: Why?

Could it be to curry favor among unions for votes that would perpetuate an administration's existence?

All this just doesn't add up to the American way of doing things. The tragic fact is that within the past few decades the government has spun a web of supports, subsidies, interventions and controls that threaten to extinguish the spirit of free enterprise.

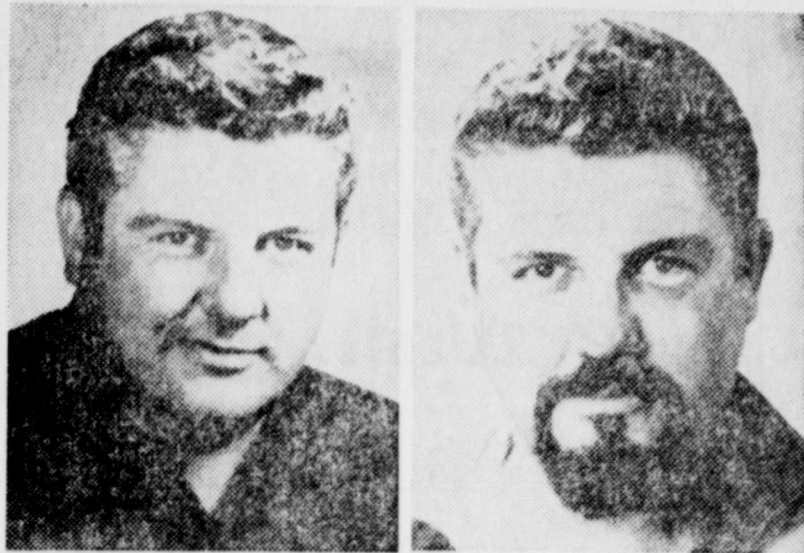

It would be difficult to name a basic American freedom that has escaped the long arm of government. Power breeds on power, and the bigger the government grows, the more greedy its demands become.

I refuse to believe that self-reliance, thrift and freedom of the individual are obsolete and have no place in modern society.

To me, just to sit back and let the Big Government take over all of my freedoms and responsibilities, and make all the decisions would be intolerable.

How about you?

WANTED BY THE FBI

EDWARD HOWARD MAPS

Edward Howard Maps, "beatnik," firearms expert, college graduate, artist and sculptor, who is charged with brutally slaying his wife and four-month-old daughter, is one of the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives."

Firemen attempting to extinguish a blaze in Maps' Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania, home on January 21, 1962, found the infant dead of smoke inhalation, and Maps' young wife dying of a fractured skull and cerebral hemorrhage. At least ten fires had been set in the home and the gas oven was turned on.

Maps was missing but allegedly telephoned two neighbors shortly after the crimes were discovered, threatening one with being "next." A Federal warrant charging Maps with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for murder and arson was issued on January 23, 1962, at Scranton, Pennsylvania.

Generally known as an artist and sculptor, he is a nonconformist who shuns ordinary footwear, going barefoot in the summer and wearing sandals without socks during the winter. A sloppy dresser of unkempt and untidy appearance, he was discharged from the Marine Corps as a schizophrenic.

A white American, born on June 29, 1922, at Passaic, New Jersey, Maps is 5' 8" tall, weighs 170 pounds, has a ruddy complexion, broad shoulders, a barrel-chested build and is unusually strong. His eyes are brown, he has bushy, curly graying-black hair and sometimes wears a full beard and mustache.

Consider Maps armed and extremely dangerous. Please immediately notify the nearest FBI office of any information concerning his whereabouts.

JERUSALEM . . .

Billy Graham Film at the Baptist Church November 18
The Billy Graham film "Jerusalem" will be shown here at the First Baptist Church at 7 p.m. the evening of November 18. Such was the announcement made by the pastor, Sherman Conner, this week.

No admission charge is made but a free will offering will be taken up, it was said.

The city of Jerusalem, for four thousand years the focal point of human history and Divine intervention, has been totally destroyed on at least two occasions, has been captured by conquering armies more than thirty times; but has re-built from the rubble of its own ruins to outlive all conquerors, clinging tenaciously to its rocky foundations as if determined to await a future day of glory.

Dramatic vignettes provide effective transition sequences beginning with the Conquest of the Promised Land, continuing to the present dilemma of the divided city; Moses and Joshua atop Mount Nebo overlook the Jordan Valley; Mary and Joseph wend their weary way along the Jericho Road toward Bethlehem; we see Mary Magdalene, both as a young girl in Galilee and as the sorrowing woman at the Garden Tomb; and the Centurian who stood at the foot of the Cross witnesses to his new found faith. All this symbolizes the dynamic of the Early Church, as Jew and Gentile alike are transformed by the power of the Resurrection.

Rare photographic courage includes sequences from Solomon's quarries underneath the city; Hezekiah's Tunnel, where the water from the Virgin Spring still flows clear and cold to the Pool of Siloam within the city walls; newly excavated areas on the site of Solomon's and Herod's Temples; and what is probably the first production footage of new British diggings below the Southeast corner of the City Wall, site of the Jebusite village stronghold which David conquered to establish the City.

Everyone is welcome to the film, said Conner.

Textile Plant

Today, because of aggressive leadership, this Texas Panhandle town boasts an active new textile plant making sheets for national distribution. What is more important, the plant's parent company is the world's largest manufacturer of textiles using all known fibers.

This new industry is the Hall Plant of Postex Cotton Mills, a unit of Burlington Industries, Inc. It is designed to have in excess of 100 employees, mostly women, and is an important addition to the economy of this 3500 population community. It is another reason we say big things are happening in General Telephone towns.

These towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. If your town seeks additional information about expansion, perhaps we can help. Just write our Community Development Department, Box 1001, San Angelo, Texas.
