Make It Yourself With Wool

"Sew Now! Fly Later! Win a European Holiday!" So state bulletins being distributed now by the Woman's Auxiliary to the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association to enlist young women in the 1965-66 Make-It-Yourself-With-Wool Contest.

District 4 contest is set for Dec. 4 at Angelo State College, the state contest for Jan. 7 and 8 at Texas A&M University.

Entry forms are available from home demonstration agents and will be in the hands of home economics teachers.

Mrs. Percy Pace, Home Economics Department Angelo State College, is director of District 4 which includes the counties of Brown, Coke, Coleman, Comanche, Concho, Reagan, Glasscock, Irion, Runnels, Sterling, Tom Green, and Upton.

The Twin Mt. Unit, T. S. & G. R. A. Auxiliary, is assisting Mrs. Pace in contacting agents and teachers and in distributing entry blanks to the towns in the 12 counties. Mrs. Pace has arranged a workshop for August and is urging potential entrants to plan early on their patterns and materials and stressed that entrants buy only 100% wool, loomed or knitted or felted in America. Any imports are unacceptable.

There will be four divisions: Sub-Deb, 10 to 13 inclusive; Junior, 14 to 16 inclusive; Senior, 17 to 21 inclusive; Adult, 22 and over. Texas is one of the states to sponsor an adult division. The Twin Mt. auxiliary is offering two prizes in the adult division for District 4—$20 cash for first place winner and a gift, yet to be selected, for second place, according to Mrs. Carroll Farmer, unit chairman.

Contestants may use commercial patterns or an original design. They are reminded to select a fashionable design coordinated with the contestant and the chosen fabric. All contestants serve as their own models.

Make-It-Yourself-With-Wool contests in Texas are sponsored by the American Wool Council, the Women's Auxiliary to the National Wool Growers' Association, and the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association. Mrs. S. M. Harvick of Ozona is director for Texas.

Ricky Hopkins, son of the D. Kirk Hopkins, has been hospitalized in a Big Spring hospital. He returned home this week.

AROUND
COUNTY
by

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

Sterling had its first positive case of screwworms identified by the eradication laboratory at Mission on Monday of this week. This is the first positive case of worms in the county since August 31, 1963.

The sample of worms was sent in by Calvin Johnson on the T. Wayne Harris ranch sixteen miles west of Water Valley. The worms were taken from a calf that had recently been marked. No known cases occurred in this area since 1963.

On Sunday of this week, a positive case of worms was found in Irion County on the Bill Hemphill ranch on the Middle Concho River. The Irion county case is about fifteen miles south and four miles west of the Sterling County case.

Mr. Johnson mailed in the sample on Saturday. Monday night the laboratory at Mission contacted the field man in Abilene who in turn called the county agent about 6:30 Tuesday morning. As soon as he could get here from Abilene, the field man and the agent went to the ranch and marked the pasture so that the fly-dispersing plane could drop flies in the area. Flies were scheduled to be dropped in the area on Wednesday morning according to the officials at Mission. On Thursday morning, the thirty cows and thirty calves in the pasture are to be sprayed to give them protection until the sterile flies have had a chance to work.

The cases in Irion and Sterling Counties are the farthest north thus far this year. Previously, cases in Menard and Kerr counties were the northernmost cases.

These cases illustrate the need for a continued check of all livestock. Even though there were no cases in Sterling County in 1964, and no livestock had been moved into the area from an infected area, it could have resulted in a rash of cases. As it is, it is being treated under the hot-spot program and chances for more cases are decreased.

The protect their investment, livestock producers are urged to maintain a constant check on their livestock. If any worms are found in any stock, take a sample to mail to the laboratory for positive identification and treat the animal. The weather of the last few weeks has been wetter than normal, the humidity has been higher than normal, and all conditions are in favor of the fly. If vials and shipping tubes are needed, they are available in the county agent's office.

Grasshoppers are making their appearance again this summer. Quite a few of the large jumbo 'hoppers are being found along the roads, especially on top of the divide. Not very many of them have been seen in the area around Sterling City itself but they may migrate into the town.

Control measures call for the use of either sprays or dusts to control the pests if they do move into the town area and feed on the yard plants. Chlor-dane, lindane, toxaphene, dieldrin, and sevin are recommended either as a dust or spray. If any of the treatments are used on areas where livestock are grazed, the stock should be removed.

If you have a large number of small grasshoppers, you might want to control them before they begin eating on your plants. The young ones are easier to kill than the old ones. Any of the control measures can be used on the foliage of the plants; they will kill when the 'hoppers feed on the plants or grass.

Residents should, by all means, use the accepted methods of mosquito control here. Most people know to oil down water holes, turn over all cans, water containers, etc. and use the elementary controls.

Mosquitoes caused encephalitis epidemic in Houston and Hale Center last summer and it could happen here.

LIONS CLUB

George Campbell, Dr. O. E. Sperry of A&M and Rev. Bill Wiemers were guests at the Lions Club luncheon Wednesday. The prize went to Bill Wiemers.

The club decided to have ladies night and installation of officers on the night of June 29.

President Wayne Loury reported that the club needed to finish the fencing around the little league park. A calf of Stan Horwood's had fallen into one of the holes and died. The club voted to pay for the calf. Loury said the light poles had been donated and would be put up this weekend. Ross Foster said that the climbers to put on the poles had been bought at cost.

Saturday Is Work Day at the Park

All members of the club, all boys and men of the community who will, Latin Americans included, are asked to come help put up the finishing touches on the fence, etc. this Saturday, June 26. Some of the holes need cleaning out (for the light poles) and some workers are need to help on all work.

Oil Figures for Texas

Texas produced more than 27 billion barrels of oil during the past 69 years of recorded production, resulting in a statewide distribution of income which currently averages about $3 billion a year, according to Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

With 203 out of the state's 254 counties producing crude oil, each section is marked by several prolific fields.

"The widespread development of production in all sections of the state has been fostered by the state's oil and gas conservation laws," James L. Sewell, Association president, has pointed out. "By giving all fields in the state, regardless of location, a share of the market for Texas oil the Texas Railroad Commission has encouraged development of resources in every sector — both in drilling and in the building of a transportation system to get the oil to refineries."

Sterling County, which has recorded production since 1947, has had a total crude oil output of 8,542,000 barrels up to the beginning of 1964. Sterling County production in 1963 was 749,000 barrels at the rate of 21,000 barrels a day.

Texas has 35 counties scattered over the state which produced at the rate at 25,000 barrels or more per day. The three largest are: Andrews, 195,000 barrels a day; Ector, 164,000 barrels per day; and Crane, 114,000 barrels per day.

Gregg County is the only county that has produced more than two billion barrels of oil. Two had produced one billion or more up to 1965: Ector and Rusk. Andrews celebrated its billionth barrel this year.

Vacancies in Highway Patrol

Major Leo E. Gossett, Commander of the 49 county West Texas Region of the Department of Public Safety, announced today there are 70 vacancies in the uniformed patrol services with increased salaries going into effect September 1 with an additional raise one year later.

"The vacancies exist in all parts of the State, and will be filled by competitive examination. Salaries will range from $453 up to $484 per month, depending on the branch of service," Gossett pointed out.

"This is an opportunity for qualified young men to become dedicated career officers in a proud organization whose purpose is to serve and protect the people of Texas," he stated. "It is also an opportunity for men to further their education while in training."

Student patrolmen receive some 800 hours of study in 95 subjects, such as highway law, accident investigation, first aid, professional driving, care and use of firearms and many other courses. While in training at the DPS Law Enforcement Academy in Austin, trainees receive $375 per month and after 16 weeks they become commissioned officers.

Applications and other information can be obtained by contacting any DPS Patrolman or the nearest DPS office. July 6 is the deadline for filing applications for the next examination on July 14 and 15 for the training school beginning August 31.

SOCIAL SECURITY

"You don't have to retire completely to get social security benefits," Floyd B. Ellington, social security district manager in San Angelo said today.

"If you earn $1200 or less in a year, you are considered to be completely retired and would be entitled to all your benefits," he added.

If you earn over $1200 in a year, you may be considered partly retired and entitled to part of your social security benefits. For example, a worker would have only one dollar in benefits withheld for every two dollars earned between $1200 and $1700. For earnings over $1700 annually, one dollar in benefits is withheld for each dollar of earnings.

Ellington emphasized the fact that, no matter how much you earn in a year, you can be paid your social security benefits for any month in which you neither earn over $100 as an employee, nor render substantial services as a self-employed person.

Avoid any misunderstanding you may have about the social security retirement test, especially if you are over 65 earning anywhere between $1201 and $3600. Get all the facts from your social security office at 3000 West Harris, San Angelo, Texas.

For Social Security

Maids and Cooks Must Have Social Security Paid

Wages paid a household worker—whether employed as a maid, cook, laundress, cleaning woman, baby sitter or similar job—are covered for social security purposes if the employee is paid $50 or more in cash in a calendar quarter.

A calendar quarter is a 3-month period beginning with January, April, July or October. Room and board are not counted, but carfare is, if paid in cash.

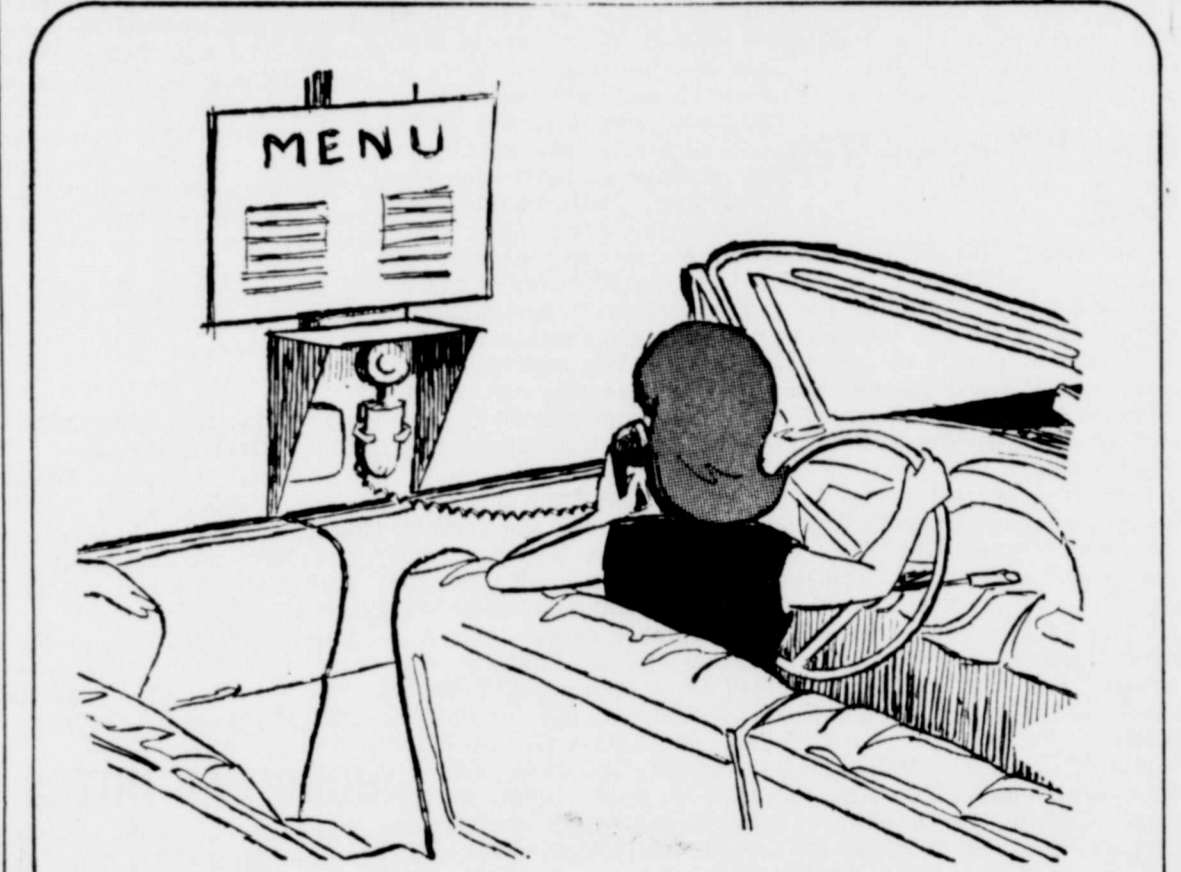

If you have a domestic emment, you are required to report these wages to the Internal Revenue Service and pay the social security taxes. A report for the quarter just past is due not later than April 30. Failure to file timely tax returns may result in additional penalty and interest charges.

But most important, you might be depriving your household worker of her social security protection and benefits for herself and possibly her family—benefits to which she is legally entitled.

Additional information concerning this subject can be obtained from your local social security office. Ask for leaflet OASI-21.

Your San Angelo social security office is located at 3000 West Harris. The telephone number is 949-4608.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE ANNUAL MEETING

The Christian Science Board of Directors today urged its church members to find the "areas of agreement" which exist with other denominations.

The message was presented before an estimated audience of 7,000 Christian Scientists who attended their annual meeting at The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. Christian Science has much in common with other denominations, the Directors said in their message, and added: "To every honest adherent race, we offer our fellowship and support."

In one report to the meeting, it was disclosed that the number of Christian Science branch churches has now reached the 3,300 mark, with recent additions in Argentina, The Netherlands, New Zealand, and for the first time in Guatemala and Korea.

Next year, the church will undertake a vast development program to enlarge its headquarters offices in Boston.

Traveler's Tip

Immunization is as important as a transportation ticket or a passport to hundreds of thousands of Americans going abroad during the approaching vacation season, says the United Nations World Organization (WHO).

Normally, U.S. health regulations require only a valid smallpox vaccination certificate from returning Americans. But to protect himself and his community, WHO emphasizes, a traveler often needs other inoculations. Depending on the overseas area to be visited, these include shots for tetanus, typhoid, plague, yellow fever and cholera.

While WHO's worldwide epidemic warning network and national health checks at frontiers spot and isolate disease victims, some infected travelers inevitably go undetected. Thus, plague strikes in California, New Mexico and Arizona... an American traveling via Okinawa arrives in Japan with cholera... tourists from Jamaica and Puerto Rico bring dengue fever to Minnesota, New York and Michigan.

"Substandard health in any part of the world is a threat to people everywhere, including advanced countries," WHO warns. "With modern jet travel, disease germs and viruses can travel with the speed of sound. The Asian flu epidemic a few years ago and the introduction of smallpox into North America are cases in point."

LETTER FROM RALPH YARBOROUGH

Dear Fellow Texans:

The educational prospects for underprivileged children and children in low-income areas in this country have been immensely improved during this Congress.

Increased opportunity will now come even before such a youngster has been enrolled in the first grade, through a program called "Head Start," administered by the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Under this program, deprived children will be provided eight weeks of training this summer before they begin school for the first time this fall. Whereas these children would normally enter school less prepared for education than their classmates from more fortunate homes, this eight weeks of pre-school training will provide diagnostic, remedial and development programs to give the child pre-school learning experiences.

Through this increased attention, the doors of a productive educational future will open to many young people who would otherwise become victims of their economic poverty. Project Head Start will give them the chance they need to share in the wonderful benefits of our educational system here in America.

During the last two months, more than 150 Head Start Projects have been approved for this summer in the State of Texas alone. Through these, more than 40,000 pre-school Texas children will be given supplementary training.

This has been made possible by grants from the Office of Economic Opportunity to Texas of almost $5 million. In addition, the Texas projects will provide paid jobs for almost 3,000 Texans to assist in training these children.

When this project is combined with the $85 million which Texas is to receive the first year under the newly enacted Elementary and Secondary Education Act, our state will be able to provide improved educational opportunities and benefits to all of our Texas youth.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

The house voted last week to up the public debt limit from the present figure of $324 billion to an all-time high of $328 billion, in order to be able to borrow more money to meet the government's present over-draft rate. I voted against the increase. If the government spent less money for what is not actually needed, this constant rise in the public debt would not be necessary.

The debt limit has been increased 15 times since World War II. In 1959, the limit was $288 billion. If a limit is to be meaningful it should be respected when budgets each year are planned.

The House turned thumbs down on an Administration request for a reduction from $100 to $50 in value of duty-free merchandise which one may bring in each year from foreign countries. This will maintain our present international trade practices across the Rio Grande and the St. Lawrence — where a cut would result in reciprocal action by Mexico and Canada, and adversely effect trade relations.

The voter-registration bill which has passed the Senate, is moving toward final action in the House. Labeled by some "The Martin Luther King Bill," the measure is a product of the Negro leader's demand and the fear by some that failure to respond to King's orders would lose a lot of Negro bloc votes.

In fact, while Martin Luther was at Selma some months ago, before anyone had suggested the need for additional voter legislation, the Christian Science Monitor quoted him as saying: "If Alabama doesn't do right, there will be federal registrars in here. If the registrars don't do right, President Johnson will have to speak to them. And if President Johnson doesn't do right, we'll have to speak to him some more."

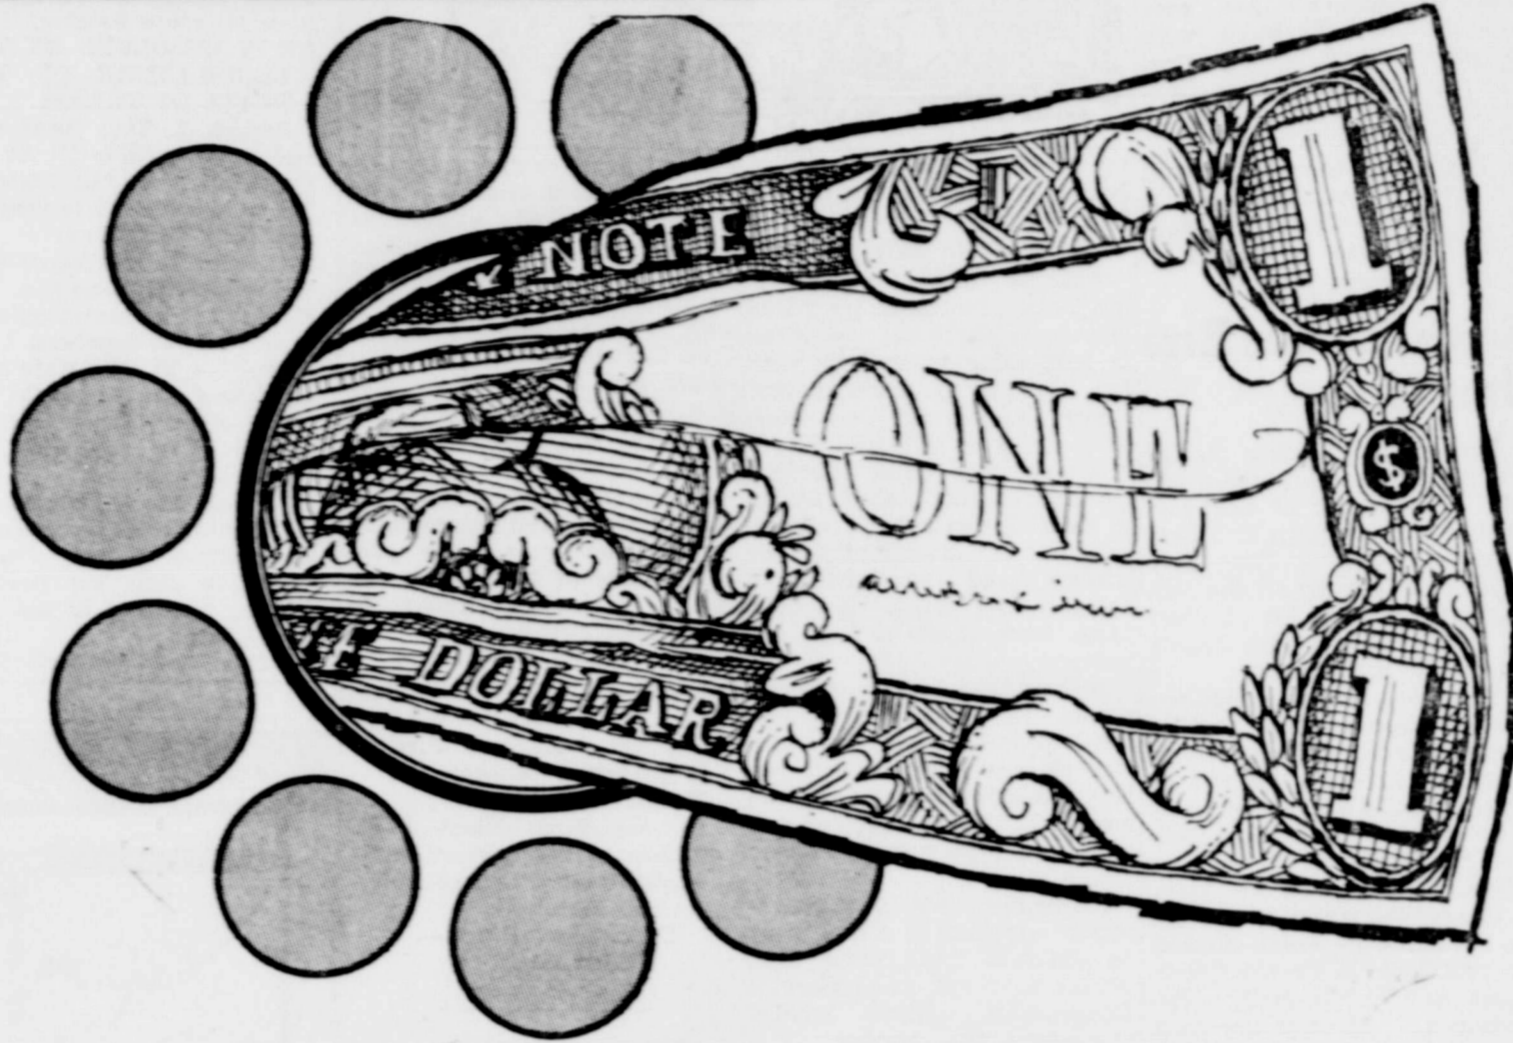

Riding the wave of unprecedented power, King recently joined in a protest against U. S. bombing missions into North Viet Nam. He urged a protest march on the Pentagon. The Negro leader made no comment about his feeling regarding the Communist bombing of the American Embassy in Saigon and the brutal murder of hundreds of innocent civilians by the Red aggressors there.

Among recent guests in our office have been: Groner Pitts and Stuart Coleman of Brownwood; Janna Sue Kelley of Eden, Pam Lively of San Saba, Guy Wood of Richland Springs, Joe Henderson of Brookesmith, Mrs. R.
