Fred Hodges Dead; Services Today at 2

Louis Fred Hodges, 77, died at 3:15 a.m. Thursday in the Sterling County Hospital. He had entered the hospital last weekend.

Funeral services will be at the First Methodist Church here today at 2 p.m. and the burial will be in the Foster Cemetery. The Lowe Funeral Home will be in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Hodges, a pioneer rancher and registered Rambouillet breeder of note over the entire southwest, was born Mar. 15, 1889. He moved to Sterling County in 1891. He was married to Elizabeth Jane Woods at China Valley May 26, 1915. They had four children—Mrs. Dayton Barrett of Sterling City, Mrs. Ross Huffman of Brady, Mrs. W. R. Brooks of Sterling City and Clinton Hodges of Sterling.

The first Mrs. Hodges died September 27, 1944 and he and Mrs. Ollie King were married August 3, 1946.

Survivors include the widow, the four children listed above; a niece, Mrs. Orella Denton of Irving, and—

Four step children survive including Loyd King of Goldthwaite, Dr. Steve King of Brady, Mrs. Forrest McCleery of Odessa and Mrs. Henry Burkett of San Angelo and fifteen grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Will Durham, Fred Igo, Seth Bailey, Reynolds Foster, Arthur Barlemann, Jr. and Charles Probandt all of Sterling City, and R. T. Caperton of Coleman and J.H. Sims of Veribest.

The name Hodges Rambouillets mean large, quality Rambouillets all over the sheep-growing world. Hodges Rambouillets usually take the top prizes at stock shows, fairs, exhibitions, etc wherever entered in competition. Some years ago a plane load of them were sent to India for bettering the stock there by an organization devoted to that effort.

Mr. Hodges enjoyed nothing more than attending and competing in stock shows. His registered Rambouillets and their offspring were shown by his family or youthful competitors over this area—with good results. His son, Clinton, is carrying on the lines of the Hodges Rambouillets with success.

One-Act Play

Sterling High School's entry in the one-act play contest will be put on in competition tonight at Bronte (Thursday). This will be too late to get the results printed in this paper.

The cast, under the direction of Mrs. Lynn Glass, put on a dress rehearsal performance at the school Tuesday evening to a large, responsive crowd.

The play consists of excerpts from "The Miracle Worker" by William Gibson, a story about the blind and deaf Helen Keller.

For our money, the locals have the district win in their pocket.

Members of the cast include David Foster, James Morgan, Rosanne Foster, Jeanie McDonald, Drew Durham, Jaynell Cope, Dusty Dillard, Ann Lawson, Elaine Price and Lynn Alexander.

Stage crew hands are Chris Frizzel, Bill Allen and Debbie Reed.

RAIN HERE SUNDAY

Hail Hits in Spots

Rains from one-half inch to 2½ inches fell in Sterling County Sunday afternoon and night. Only half an inch was received here in town but to the north and east up to 2½ inches fell.

The draws on the Robert Lee highway, just north of town and before one gets on the divide, got up and held up traffic Sunday afternoon. Hail fell across a strip running through the Flavy Davis ranch and on to the east that covered the highway and the hills like snow.

The hail was not large, but rather sleet-like, in size and make-up. The draws that got up and stopped traffic were full from localized heavy rain showers.

School Has E.S.E.A Program Underway

The funds for these programs come from the money allotted to the school in the amount of $12,038.00 under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, Title I program according to superintendent O. T. Jones. This program also provides much needed equipment.

Instant Easter Bunny

Two terry towels, a quart bottle of NuSoft aqua blue fabric softener, rubber bands, a piece of ribbon and . . . you have a bunny, almost instantly. Here's how. Start with one soft, white towel of about 17 by 26 inches. Fold in thirds and wrap around base of fabric softener bottle. Fasten with a rubber band. Lay wrapped bottle on other towel about two inches from end. Draw bottom corners together around bottle and fasten with a rubber band to make a tail.

At other end of flat towel, draw center down until corners take the form of ears. Twist a rubber band around them in a figure eight to hold the shape. Smooth rest of towel around bottle. Tie ribbon around bottle's "waist" for the bunny's neck. Set bottle upright and balance ears on bottle cap. Arrange towel folds to suggest a face. He's finished!

Post-Easter-bunny-season, take apart the bunny and use towels for face washing and such and use bunny's fabric softener "innards" to help keep towels and other laundry items soft and fluffy new.

TRAVEL FAIR

By Betty Wason

Roadside Picnics

An important part of many family vacations is a picnic lunch along the way. To make your picnic even more enjoyable, here are a few hints from my new book, "Travel Fair," (Random House $1.00). This handy, glove compartment-size paperback was prepared with the help of Howard Johnson's and may be found at all restaurants and motor lodges of the nationwide chain as well as at leading bookstores.

The basic rule is for plain foods that can be eaten with your fingers, with little to pack up afterward but paper for the trash can.

Sandwiches are the picnic's mainstay. Try combining peanut butter with honey, applesauce, cottage cheese or horseradish (for the daring!) for exciting variations on the peanut butter and jelly theme. Most sandwiches, if wrapped properly, will keep fresh up to two hours without refrigeration. Of course, fillings of meat or fish are more perishable than cheese or peanut butter and on a very hot day should be kept in a cooler or refrigerator unit right up to lunchtime.

In addition to the sandwiches serve carrot sticks, celery, or cherry tomatoes as a vegetable; apples, bananas, or oranges for your fruit. Children like to suck oranges; "roll" the orange to make it juicier, then cut a hole at one end. It's easier than having to peel off the rind, and not nearly so messy.

Most picnicking is done in warm weather, but on crisp fall days or the first tantalizing days of spring, you may feel the urge to take off for the great open space. Just add to the basic above menu pattern a thermos of a hot beverage, such as cocoa, or a hot soup that can be drunk from paper cups, and you're set to go!

MEDICARE APPLICATION BLANKS AT POST OFFICE
 Postmaster Virgie Garrett of Sterling City announced today that application blanks for supplemental Medicare benefits are available at the post office window here.

The application blanks are being made available as the Social Security Administration seeks to contact 3.1 million senior citizens before a March 31 deadline imposed by the Medicare law.

President Johnson has proclaimed March as "National Medicare Enrollment Month." He urged all federal agencies and all citizens to cooperate in enrolling senior citizens in the program.

Initially, some two and one half million application blanks were distributed to nearly 34,000 main post offices throughout the 50 states. Additional forms are available as needed.

Through direct mailings and other means, the Social Security Administration has had contact with 16 of the 19.1 million citizens who will be 65 or over on July 1. Of the 16 million who replied, less than one million said they did not want to sign up for the supplemental program.

The supplemental program costs $3 a month and provides doctor bills and other benefits. Everyone 65 and over is eligible for the basic hospital benefits under Medicare.

A copy of the application blank is displayed on the lobby bulletin board of the local post office.

Senior citizens who reached 65 before 1966 face a two year delay if they do not sign up by March 31. The application forms are preaddressed to the Social Security Administration in Baltimore, Maryland.

DISABLED MAY BENEFIT FROM SOCIAL SECURITY

Some 3000 Texans who may be eligible for disability benefits under the new Social Security provisions, have not yet applied for them according to Floyd B. Ellington, district manager of the San Angelo Social Security office.

Under recent liberalizations of the law, persons with nonpermanent disability may now qualify for benefits. Ellington said that under the previous law a person was eligible only if he had a severe disability that was expected to last a long and indefinite time. Now benefits can be paid if the severe disability has lasted or is expected to last as long as 12 months by his doctors. There are also more liberal requirements for certain persons who are blind.

These liberalizations make necessary a revised State-Federal agreement under which the Texas Education Agency will continue to make disability determinations for all Texas residents who apply for benefits under the Social Security Disability Program. Signing ceremonies recently took place in the office of J. W. Edgar, State Commissioner of Education.

What have you done lately to avoid dying of cancer?

It's news to you that there actually is something you can do about cancer? Fine. Doing that something may save your life. And what could possibly be more important than that? Your grip on life is not so fragile that you must feel intimidated to the point of paralysis by the very mention of cancer. Cancer is not necessarily a death sentence. Many cancers can be cured, but they must be detected early. Neglected, cancer will kill. Detected, there is a good chance of cure.

Each year more than ninety thousand Americans die of curable cancers. They were not detected in time—treatment that could have spared these people death came too late.

You must have a complete physical checkup at least once a year. Just tell your doctor that you want one. The examination is relatively simple and absolutely necessary.

With the knowledge that we now have about cancer, we could save one out of two people, with early detection.

With the knowledge that we need, we could save all. But we must have that knowledge.

For this we need more research to bring us closer to the solution of cancer's terrible mysteries. Is it caused by a virus? Is it inherited? Is it contagious? Is it for once and for all completely curable? We will get these answers. With your help.

How do you avoid dying of cancer? You do something about it.

ELDON MAHON For U. S. CONGRESS

Best for the New 17th District

AGGRESSIVE, CONSTRUCTIVE, EFFECTIVE
 BUSINESSMAN, ACTIVE CIVIC LEADER
 FORMER DISTRICT JUDGE & DISTRICT ATTORNEY

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

By Omar Burleson, Member of Congress, 17th District

Washington, D. C. — Issues have a surprising way of developing in the Congress. For many years there have been proposals making it a Federal offense for the inhumane treatment of animals.

Recently there have been sickening stories about the treatment of dogs by dog-nappers.

Investigations developed that dog stealing and the transportation of them to laboratories is big business. One man alone has admitted accumulating over $600,000 in less than 3 years in this business. Pictures show 4 or 5 dogs in one box not large enough for a medium-sized dog. Many have starved and others have frozen.

Numerous bills have been introduced to make dog-napping a Federal offense when they are transported across State lines. Hearings have gone on for several weeks before a Sub-Committee of the Committee on Agriculture of the House of Representatives, with testimony from 53 witnesses.

The most sensible legislation is based on two concepts. The first is that men should never subject dumb beasts to any unnecessary cruelty. The other is that we should use every resource, including animals, to improve the knowledge and well-being of mankind. This means recognizing that when animals are properly treated, it is necessary to use them for medical and scientific research. This does not mean that it is always painless, but to make as certain as possible that pain not be unnecessarily inflicted.

There are some who feel that these two objectives can not be reconciled, but while recognizing that there should not be unwelcome interference with scientific progress, regulations for the humane handling of animals while they are transported to the laboratory and while they are being cared for are not unreasonable.

Such legislation would have the effect of eliminating the blackmarket or plain commercial stealing of dogs and cats, and ultimately result in the establishment of extensive and legitimate business of breeding dogs and cats for scientific work. This should, at the same time, protect the owners of pets, often children, and will prevent needless mistreatment of animals. Finally, it will open new opportunities for breeders to supply a market, which today is depending too heavily on stolen animals.

It is too early to know just what legislation might be finally drafted or approved by the Committee, but there is a greater sentiment than ever before for the need of doing something about this matter.

For many years the humane society has performed a reliable and a commendable service. The Animal Rescue League is a very fine organization which tries to see that pets are "adopted" when they are abandoned or lost. They perform another service by keeping stray animals, which may be diseased, away from other healthy animals and people.

It is hard to imagine anyone not loving animals, and most people do. Dog and cat owners spend nearly $3 billion annually in pet care. The bill for care of larger type animals in any city is considerable. Canned dog and cat food does not come cheaply, and the veterinarian's bill is often more than that for a member of the family. Behind the 8-Ball

GOSH! Today is April Fool Day, is a Friday, and the issue number of this volume of the paper is 13.

This all might add up to bad luck for somebody. Me, I guess.

With all this flu (two kinds I hear) and the dreadful stomach virus making the rounds, it's almost dangerous to be a member of the human race.

How do we know that the sound barrier cracks that hit us now and then are not from a UFO—One of those Unidentified Flying Objects—that are being spotted by people all over the country.

I have the book by Major Keyhoe, the major that was assigned to make the Air Force official investigation of the UFO's several years ago, AND it is interesting.

He and his men tracked down all reports of sighted objects for years. Some of the tales told are ridiculous all right, but some are very reasonable from reliable persons.

Now, I have always held that they are from outer planets or worlds, and the persons or things from them are looking around down here to see just what goes on in the planet we call earth.

I have always hoped to see one of those flying saucers land and people (or things) come out of it. Then I could report the biggest story of my life to the Associated Press—and the United Press, too.

Usually, anything I have to call in is small potatoes, BUT that would be big potatoes.

I did see a flying saucer or spaceship one day at noon at my house. I was in the front yard and was looking up into the clear blue sky and one of 'em flitted about—in a fast jerky type of movement. But I never mentioned it to anyone, because I didn't want to be considered nuts or queer.

I would like the answer to the question — any time now.

Had Your Car Inspected Yet?

Johnny Marion of the Car Inspection Division of the Texas Department of Public Safety said this week that there were about 700 cars registered in Sterling County and so far only 286 had gotten their inspection sticker. That's about one-third of the total. So—somebody is waiting till the deadline, April 15.

It might get a little crowded by then around here.

SUMMARY OF VO. AG. LIVESTOCK PROJECTS 1964-1965

Last year in the Sterling City Vocational Agricultural Department 27 boys had a total of 430 animals or 53 projects. This is an average of 16 animals per boy or 2 projects per boy. Of these 430 animals, 30 were breeding beef, 130 feeding for mutton, 259 breeding sheep, one horse and 10 goats. The total labor income (income minus expenses) for the chapter was $9,778.49. This accounted for an average labor income per boy of $362.17. This is an increase of $25.00 from 1962-63.

Improvement projects, which are projects to beautify or in-see that they know it, but do or farm, totaled 49. Supplementary farm practices, which are not related to the students projects, amounted to 712.

for pets go a little far, but this too is big business, and no one suggests an allowance for an income tax deduction, but it might not be a bad idea.

A Mr. Fitzgerald who died recently was an old-time horse trainer. He was nationally recognized as the best. His advice was to "love your animals and see that they now it, but do not let them get the upper hand."

AROUND THE COUNTY

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

The Sutton County 4-H Club is sponsoring the Sonora Junior Quarter Horse Show at Sonora on Saturday, April 16. The show is open to all 4-H Club and FFA members with quarter horses. The show will be held at the race track. Halter classes will start at 8:00 a.m. and will be followed by the performance classes. Any 4-H Club or FFA member who is interested may contact me for more information.

Nineteen 4-H Club members sold thirty-two lambs at the recent San Angelo Fat Stock Show for a total of $754. Club members received their checks this week for the proceeds of the sale at San Angelo.

In addition to this, the club members shared in $377 in prize money in the junior sheep show's various divisions. Two trophies were brought home from the Junior Quarter Horse show but the Junior Horse show, unlike the lamb show, pays no prize money.

Sales at the Sterling County show for the 34 4-H Club and FFA members selling lambs amounted to $3,092. Prize money totalling $212 went to twenty-five of the exhibitors.

Eleven 4-H Club members started working on grass identification and range judging this week. They met twice and will meet again this evening Friday. Anyone interested in working with these boys is urged to come in during the next day or two in order to be able to catch up on the missed workouts. The District Seven contests will be held on Saturday, April 30, at the college in San Angelo.

LOCAL DELEGATES ENJOY LATIN CONVENTION

Delegates from the local chapter of the Junior Classical League, Jerry Currington, Collin Douthit, Drew Durham, Jeanie McDonid, and Elaine Price, were among the first to register for the Twenty-Sixth Annual Convention in Robert E. Lee High School, Baytown, March 25-26.

Following registration at 7:00 p.m. the first general assembly was held with State J.C.L. President Roy Biser of Beaumont, presiding. Officers for this term sat on the stage and were introduced by Roy. Then the candidates for 1966-67 were introduced by their campaign managers. Following campaign skits, announcements, and singing of "The Purple and Gold," National JCL song, there was a mixer in Student Commons where delegates were served homemade cookies and punch; there they could dance or visit with delegates from other chapters and teachers and sponsors could meet and reminisce.

On Saturday morning contests, exhibits, workshops, and committee meetings were held from nine to eleven o'clock. Jeanie was asked to be a member of the nominations committee soon after registration, and the rest of the delegates participated in the scholastic contest for which each had prepared. Mrs. Milligan and the local chapter members now realize that no winner emerged that did not come from a school offering a minimum of three years, and only one in that case. The other winners came from schools offering at least four years. Waco High won the sweepstakes award as they have done for many years, and it was due to the effort of that school that Texan won the sweepstakes at the National JCL Convention at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles last August. The many schools offering only two years of the subject still feel that the convention has great value for them in spite of the handicap. Local participants will know their scores in a week or so when the contest directors have had time to mail them to the sponsors.

Following the morning activities, the first assembly of the day convened. After the invocation, the singing of "The Purple and Gold," and repeating the JCL Pledge, President Roy Biser introduced Dr. Joseph Michel, Director Foreign Language Teaching Center, University of Texas, who gave the address. Dr. Michel who taught at the University of Madrid last year began his address which he emphasized was for the students, by saying he had never realized until he lived in Spain and traveled in Europe a great deal the magnitude of the physical influence of the Romans one can still see all over Europe. Then he began with a play on the words in the first line of Caesar's funeral oration by Antony in Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar": "I came to praise Latin, not to bury it." The theme of the address was Which Way Latin? He first gave statistics: 1,400 students attended the convention, all participating in some worthwhile activity. After giving this statistic Dr. Michel declared he had never witnessed the interest and dedication evident in this JCL Convention in Baytown and that he had attended many Spanish conventions, the foreign language with which he is best acquainted, and never had he seen the enthusiasm displayed at Baytown. In the United States today 1,157,000 students are enrolled in Latin. One thousand are graduating this spring with a major in Latin for the B.A. Degree. In a course on the teaching approach to languages in general that Dr. Michel teaches, a class composed of majors in French, German, Latin, and Spanish he has drawn these conclusions: Latin students are intelligent in general; they have orderly minds; they express themselves well. Their chief fault is that perhaps most of them are somewhat unaware of the problems of the world today. Dr. Michel concluded that the general public had ceased to give Latin the importance of the other languages, but that for the student with language ability it can be most valuable. Even German and English owe much to Latin; sixty per cent of the English vocabulary is Latin, and a knowledge of Latin grammar will insure a solid background for the English student. A knowledge of Latin will permit one to learn Italian in a matter of weeks, French and Spanish in months.

So great has been the surge back to Latin that many of the schools have been offering it again. Among many examples is Harlingen which did not offer it five years ago; today it has three Latin teachers, one of whom told Mrs. Milligan he taught Latin classes five hours each day.
