Vol. 76 "Since 1890" PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY AT STERLING CITY, TEXAS JULY 7, 1967 No. 27

AROUND THE COUNTY

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

Walnut caterpillars are at work on pecan trees in various parts of the county. The caterpillars will defoliate a tree if the infestation on a tree becomes heavy enough.

Young walnut caterpillars are reddish brown with narrow yellow lines the length of the body. The mature caterpillar is almost black with two grayish lines on the back and two on the sides. The entire body is covered with long, soft gray hairs.

The insect works in groups on leaves. Much like sheep, the worms will not spread out over a tree, rather, they prefer to congregate on a branch and eat the leaves leaving only the veins of the leaves. Then the entire group moves to another branch. After the caterpillar has completed life as the larva form of the moth, it turns into the moth. The skins will be gathered in bunches in the tips of the branches. The moths of the walnut caterpillar are one of the many types of candle bugs which make a nuisance of themselves around lights.

The caterpillar can be controlled by spraying with DDT, Sevin, or Malathion when the infestation is heavy enough to warrant spraying. Small bunches of the pests can be removed and burned.

It is a good idea to add two pounds of zinc sulfate to each hundred gallons of water used in spraying. A number of trees around are showing the effects of rosette, a nutritional disease.

Positive cases of screwworm have been found in two counties near Sterling County in the last week. One case of worms was positively identified on the E. H. Linthicum Ranch near Parnhart in Irion County. Another case was identified by the laboratory from a sample sent in from the P. H. Coates Ranch in Reagan County near Big Lake. The recent showers have been the type weather which, in years before the screwworm eradication program, would have been almost guaranteed to bring about a large number of cases of worms. High humidity of the type prevailing here recently is most conducive to all types insects.

Once again, all livestock raisers are urged to maintain a constant lookout for worm cases. Doctor all wounds, if worms are found, send a sample and the information sheet to the Mission Laboratory. Old mailing tubes and vials left over from last year are still good. If the preservative has been lost, substitute water or alcohol. If vials are needed, they are available in the County Agent's office.

This is the time of the year for sleeping sickness in horses. If your horses have not already been vaccinated, they should be vaccinated now. The middle of the summer and late summer are two prime times for this disease to strike horses.

There is no cure for sleeping sickness. Vaccination before exposure is the best preventive. Not only does the virus hit birds and horses but humans also.

Symptoms of sleeping sickness in horses includes fever, loss of appetite, and dullness. Restlessness, blindness, hypersensitivity, and depression are also early indicators of sleeping sickness. The horse will stand with the head hanging low, apparently asleep. In advanced stages, the animal may lie down and be unable to eat or drink.

Vaccination consists of two shots seven to ten days apart. The shots may be given by a veterinarian or the horse owner may purchase the serum and give the shots himself.

Visitors at Mrs. Frank Cole's. Visitors here in the home of Mrs. Frank W. Cole over the weekend and for the 4th were her son, Oliver W. Cole and his daughter, Kathy and her friend, Barbie Tobolowsky, all of Dallas.

The two girls thoroughly enjoyed their visit here, and a highlight was playing a game of pool with Oliver—that took all of one hour and a half.

Kathy was winning until she accidentally knocked the ball into a pocket.

The friend, Barbie Tobolowsky said of her visit, "We came to Sterling City on the first of July. It was not my first trip, because I came last year to the Founder's Day Celebration (Diamond Jubilee) I found my stay was very delightful and the people very nice. We all, Kathy, her father, her aunt Ruth Cole and her grandmother and I spent the second day in San Angelo at a movie. I like staying with Mrs. Frank Cole and thank her deeply for her hospitality."

Barbie thoroughly enjoyed the pool game, and browsing through the News-Record office while here.

Sterling Settlers Reunion Here This Saturday

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

By Omar Burleson, Member of Congress, 17th District WASHINGTON, D. C. --How can governmental expenditures be substantially reduced?

One would think this is a question that could readily be answered by any Member of Congress, but a lot of us, including the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, remain in a state of real quandary as to just how it can be done.

Anyone, of course, would think that if we simply reduced the scope of the numerous Federal activities it would cost less money.

But the situation is simply this: There are 14 Departmental Appropriations, not including what we call supplemental. Supplemental are those funds voted for the overall operation of all Departments when, at the end of a fiscal year, it is found that more money is needed.

Each of these appropriations is handled by a Subcommittee which sits for months, going over each item with a fine-tooth comb. When it finally reaches the point of debate in the House of Representatives, each becomes the most important appropriation, and the 13 others are not seen at the time. The overall picture can not be seen until all appropriations have been concluded. This is usually near the end of a Session of Congress.

Unless substantial budget cuts are made in this new fiscal year, which just began this July 1, a gargantuan deficit must be faced.

Like the old soldier who never dies, so do obsolete Federal programs. New programs often come under attack because they have not been in existence long enough to build up a group of beneficiaries who will fight tooth and nail to see that benefits continue to flow. Yet, older programs which may be well outmoded continue because of empire-building in the Executive Branch and the efforts of a select group of program beneficiaries.

In the late 1940's the Rules were changed to bring all appropriation bills under debate at one time. In other words, it was a packaged deal. This procedure was abandoned because it was found too difficult to handle them all at one time and careful consideration was lost. There is talk of returning to this system in the hope of establishing priorities to establish a balanced look at appropriations in their entirety.

There is proposed legislation to create a Government Program Evaluation Commission to analyze old and new Federal programs to determine whether they are cost effective, whether they should be continued, and what priority they should be assigned. The Commission would report to the President and the Congress on or before February 1, 1969. It would be composed of members from private life appointed by the Pre-

LIONS CLUB

The Sterling City Lions Club met at noon Wednesday for the regular weekly meeting.

President Jim Davis announced that he would make the new club committee appointments next meeting day.

Dan Glass reported that work on the water drinking fountain at the City Park was underway, and he hoped it would be ready for the reunion Saturday.

The prize went to Horace Donalson

Fire Department Officers Elected

The Sterling Volunteer Fire Department has elected new officers as follows:

Kenneth Peel, president
Ross Foster, vice-president
Troy Templin, fire chief Albert McGinnes, asst. chief Henry Bauer, 2nd asst.
Dan Glass, fire marshal
Dub Fincher, asst. marshal
Crescencio Rodriguez, chaplain
Jim Cantrell, sheriff
H. M. Knight, secretary
D. K. Hopkins, treasurer
Jack Douthit, reporter
R. P. Brown, honorary fire marshal

These men will serve until June 30, 1968.

A drawing was held for a portable TV set at St. Pascual Catholic Church July 4, and was won by Jose De Leon of Lamesa, Texas.

The drawing was held during a July 4th dance held at St. Pascual Catholic Church recreation hall.

Antonio Muroz would like to thank all who helped make the celebration a success.

General chairman Jim Davis, said some extra barbecue pits would be needed, and asked all who would bring theirs to the park in time for the barbecuing. Also more tables (picnic) and chairs will be needed. So, if you can, bring yours.

No invitations were mailed out by the committee, but it is asked that everyone invite their relatives or former residents in personal letters, said Davis.

The one-day affair will not be as elaborate as the Diamond Jubilee of last year, but the get-together of old settlers and friends is well-worth having a reunion for, said chairman Davis.

Everyone is invited to the reunion and it is hoped that a large crowd will attend.

WOOD NEEDED
If you can bring wood for the barbecuing at the park Saturday, bring it today. Bring a pickup load or part or even a bucket full. All is needed today at the park.

Jim Davis

Direct Dialing Here Soon

On September 10, customers in Sterling City and 13 other General Telephone towns in will become the first to have a new long distance service called EDDD, according to R. R. McCullough, district manager. The facilities which make it possible for approximately 40,000 customers in Sterling City, Big Lake, Bronte, Carlsbad, Christoval, Eden, Eldorado, Mertzon, Miles, Ozona, Robert Lee, Rowena, San Angelo, and Sonora to dial person to person as well as station to station calls will be located in the office at 14 West Twohig, San Angelo.

Cost of the project making the new service available will be over $1,200,000.

Plans for a project of this magnitude must be laid well in advance, McCullough stated. During the past three years, new central office buildings have been built in Carlsbad, Christoval, Eldorado and Sonora. New central office equipment has been placed in these buildings. Additional long distance circuits have been added between San Angelo and the area towns that will have access to the EDDD network. All customers in the exchanges involved now have seven digit telephone numbers except Sterling City. Sterling City customers will be assigned seven digit numbers at the time of the EDDD conversion.

Expanded Direct Distance Dialing (EDDD) is different from the conventional Direct Distance Dialing (DDD) in that it allows customers to dial person to person, collect, credit card or special calls as well as station to station calls.

Here's how EDDD works: On September 10, two new numbers --112 and 110-- will become a part of the telephone long distance routine. Dialing one of these two numbers first connects you with equipment which permits you to dial your call. To dial a station to station call, you simply dial the access code--112, then the area code of the town you are calling--then the 7-digit number you are calling. To dial a person to person or special call you dial the access code--110, then the area code of the town you are calling--then the 7-digit number you are calling.

McCullough noted that instructions for EDDD service will be in front of the new telephone directory which customers will receive in September. In addition, an EDDD instruction booklet will be mailed to all customers at the time of the conversion outlining how to use this convenient, modern telephone service. The company also has speaking teams to explain this new service which will appear before civic clubs and other groups upon request to McCullough's office.

McCullough indicated that the overall conversion to Expanded Direct Distance Dialing which will involve 14 exchanges and 40,000 telephones between now and the cutover on September 10 is the largest and most complex project ever undertaken in San Angelo. When the project is complete, West Texans served by General Telephone Company will be able to dial to most points throughout the United States and Canada.

Oil Stimulates Economy in Sterling

More than $5.8 million a year of economic stimulation for Sterling County flows from its oil and gas wells each year, an annual study by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association showed today.

"As one of the 206 producing counties in Texas, Sterling County's economy is sensitive to fluctuations in the oil industry generally," commented W. A. Landreth, Fort Worth, Association president. "Long range, the demand for oil looks strong and current production rates continue to provide Texas a major source of its income. On the other hand, Texas operators are beset by competition from other oil producing areas, government ceilings on natural gas prices, heavy tax payments, and a price for crude oil that is insufficient to encourage the amount of exploratory drilling that is needed to find future reserves."

Based on latest U. S. Bureau of Mines production figures, Sterling County in 1965 produced 1.9 million barrels of crude oil, valued at $5.8 million and 136.0 million cubic feet of natural gas valued at $17,600, and ranks 120th among Texas counties in production.

A major distribution of income from sale of oil and gas went to county landowners in royalty payments totaling more than $722,062.

In 1966, a year that saw drilling in Texas fall lowest since 1947, oil and gas operators drilled 78 wells in Sterling County. Of these 17 were wildcats seeking new fields.

The Association estimated that operators in the county spent more than $6.1 million in drilling last year, of which $1.5 million was lost in dry holes.

Sharing heavily in the county's production each year is the State Treasury, which received $266,141 in production taxes in 1965 paid by the production and royalty owners. Crude oil production paid $264,909 and natural gas production $1,232.

Social Security Representative Here Each Month

Ted Moellering, manager of the San Angelo Social Security office, said last week that a representative from the San Angelo office would be in Sterling City on the first Friday of each month until further notice. They will be in the courthouse from 2:30 to 3:30 each first Friday. The first Fridays of the next three months works out as—July 7, August 4 and September 1.

Moellering said that in all likelihood Bob Logan would be the man who would be in Sterling City, but in some cases he (Moellering) might be the representative here.

So, if you have any business with the S.S. you can find a representative here on the dates mentioned.

Education Service Centers Established

Education Service Centers
 —a new development in Texas education—will move a step closer to establishment this month with a series of organizational meetings in 20 regions across the State.

When established these Education Service Centers will
 (1) provide for the establishment of the Regional Media Centers authorized by the Fifty-ninth Legislature (2) coordinate and encourage development of supplemental educational services and centers under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 in accordance with State law and policies of the United States Office of Education and (3) provide a locally-oriented base for statewide educational planning.

Through the media services,
 the regional centers will provide participating school districts with such visual aid as motion pictures and slides, a magnetic tape duplicating service for audio and video tapes, and a visual duplication service to reproduce transparencies and filmstrips.

In addition to providing schools in a region with instructional media services, a center will provide an opportunity for resources of the region—metropolitan and rural —to contribute to educational planning.

Still additional services will be developed by each center in answer to regional needs.
 And as needs vary from region to region, so will services.
 Through participating on the Joint Committee, local schools will help to determine what those services should be.

The Fifty-ninth Legislature, with its enactment of Senate Bill 408, paved the way for these media services of the Education Service Centers.
 This bill provided for a State program for educational media for Texas schools and authorized the State Board of Education to establish needed plans and procedures to facilitate media services.

Under provisions of this law, the State should be ready to implement such centers by September 1, 1967.

For Social Security

Does the average worker get his money's worth for his social security contributions?

The answer is "Yes", according to Ted F. Moellering, social security district manager. Young workers can be sure, too, that the social security benefits payable to them and their dependents in the future will be substantially increased by the time they qualify for payment.

"The social security program is financed in such a way that benefits can be more than kept up to date with rising prices--without an increase in contribution rates," Moellering said. Because the social security tax is a percentage of payroll, income to the program rises more than benefit obligations as wage levels go up, he explained.

In an expanding economy, rising wages produce more income for the social security system and make it possible to increase benefits more than enough to offset any increases from time-to-time in the ceiling on the amount of earnings that is subject to the tax (and which counts toward the individual's future benefit payments).

"But even without considering the likely future improvements in benefit levels," Moellering said, "the average young worker will get retirement, survivors, and disability insurance protection under social security worth 20 to 25 percent more than he will pay in social security tax contributions over a 40-45 year working lifetime--even if you count accumulated interest on those contributions."

At the upper extreme--the young man who starts work in 1973 or later, when the maximum contribution rate for old-age, survivors, and disability insurance goes into effect, and who has earnings at or above the maximum annual amount subject to the social security tax, will no more than just about pay for the value of his protection.

People already at work, Moellering noted, get more protection for their tax contributions than those who will be going to work under social security in the future.

Under social security, as under practically all private pension plans, he pointed out, the employer's contribution is not earmarked for the benefit of a particular employee. A major part of the employer contribution under private pension plans, as under social security, is used to meet the cost of "past service credits" for older workers.
