ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

A number of junior and senior 4-H Club members are training in preparation for the district Seven 4-H Club elimination contests. The contests will be held in San Angelo on April 27. Most of the contests will be held at Angelo State College.

First and second place winners in the senior division will represent the district at the State Contests held in conjunction with 4-H Club Roundup at College Station on June 4-5. Junior winners are not eligible for the state contests but will receive ribbons for their placings.

Sterling County club members are hoping to participate in several contests. Among those contests are junior livestock judging, junior and senior range grass identification, natural resources conservation and perhaps others.

The chemical composition of the mesquite bean has been determined at Texas A & M University. Findings show that the beans make a fair livestock feed based on the composition. The bean contains 41.9 percent crude protein, .53 percent phosphorous, .48 percent potassium and .06 percent calcium. Pods and beans contain 11.0 percent protein, .10 percent phosphorous, .66 percent potassium, and .08 percent calcium. The pod alone has 7.6 percent protein, .09 percent phosphorous, .80 percent potassium, and .08 percent calcium.

Even though the chemical composition makes mesquite beans a fair livestock feed, everyone knows that they are a problem and will cause livestock losses, particularly in wet weather. It also requires a lot of beans to make a pound of feed. They do not make a crop of feed every year either. A point that makes them more detestable as a feed is the fact that it requires four times as much water to make a pound of beans as it does to make a pound of grass.

American family income reached a new peak during 1966. The median income of all families was $7,400, a seven percent increase from 1965. Real consumer purchasing power gained about four percent in 1966. Prices rose three percent from 1965 to 1966.

The number of low income families decreased from 16 percent to 14 percent in 1966. A low income family is one with less than $3,000 annual income. At the same time the number of high-income families increased from 27 to 30 percent. A high income family receives more than $10,000 annually.

One of the reasons for the increased family income was the fact that more wives are working. In 1957, 27 percent of the wives were in paid jobs, in 1967, the percentage of employed wives reached 35 percent.

Cattle producers are reminded that the spring months are usually the worst months for lice infestation on cattle. Lice are more abundant when the hair is long. Also, the cattle are bunched more during the winter and spring because of supplemental feeding and lice have more opportunity to spread.

Sprays and dust are both effective against lice. There are a number of either that can be used; most producers have one or two that they like. Alternating the use of the insecticides is effective also since the pests may develop an immunity to one if it is used exclusively over a long period of time.

Extension Service publication MP-691, Texas Guide for Controlling External Parasites of Livestock and Poultry, is available in the county agent's office. It contains precautions as well as recommendations for controlling lice and other parasites. It is well to consult this guide occasionally because of the restrictions on the use of certain insecticides on animals destined for slaughter.

Give Yourself A Break

"What did you do all day?" That's the age old question to homemakers to hit the hot button that makes the sparks fly.

You did the laundry, washed dishes, cleaned the house, taxied the children, shopped for groceries, and cooked, too. And you probably never stopped all day.

Who makes you work at such a frantic pace? You do. Just think about the advantages you have over your career-women contemporaries. You may envy them; the way they look when they set out each morning, and the exciting time you think they have in the business world. But look what you've got. You're your own boss. You can set your own pace. And no one puts a time limit on your breaks.

But, do you take a break? Or do you keep on working until you are dog-tired and a first rate drudge? You find it's difficult to be smiling and peppy when you greet the five o'clock crowd. Rare is the woman who really likes that way of life. So do something about it. Give yourself a break.

Look at it this way: Do your work as fast and as well as you can, but then stop. Take a mid-morning breather. Sit down with a cup of coffee, put your feet up and read a short story or the morning paper. Save the novels for the afternoon off you owe yourself. You'll find you're recharged and can sail through the rest of the morning with renewed energy.

Treat yourself to a sit-down lunch. Use your pretty china once in a while. Be your own guest. Listen to your favorite records and relax. You might want to think about your plan of attack for the rest of the day. Don't try to do everything in one day.

Some chores can wait until tomorrow and you won't be overwhelmed with what you have to accomplish by dinner time.

You'll be amazed at the change in your attitude. Now you've begun to enjoy the nicer things about your home that you strive so hard to have just right for your family at the end of a day.

Back to work, now, but be a clock watcher. About an hour before you're due to hear the first "Hi" at the door, close up shop. You've planned your dinner and have the major preparations out of the way. All that's left are the last minute details of serving dinner.

Now, run a bathtub full of water — as warm as you can comfortably stand it — add a little Calgon Bubble Bath, and step into a tubful of luxurious bubbles and relax... relax. Think pleasant thoughts. Hum a little tune. Flex your smile muscles. Take your time.

When you're completely rested and your skin feels all warm and velvety, step out onto your fluffiest bath mat. Pat yourself dry and don your prettiest robe.

When you apply your make-up, don't skimp on the extras, such as eyeliner or perhaps a little eye shadow. Wear a pretty, but comfortable outfit. Keep it feminine. Then take a long, careful look in the mirror. You'll like what you see. So will the family.

When he asks "What did you do all day?" you'll say "It was a good day — got a lot done."

A NEW WORLD... Astroworld, the new multimillion dollar family amusement and entertainment center just south of the Astrodome in Houston will open Saturday, June 1st, featuring 17 rides and scores of other attractions. Astroworld will have more than 2,400 tons of air conditioning in order to make it more comfortable for guests.

Change in Driver's License Laws

AUSTIN — Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety reminded Texans today that a color photograph becomes a standard part of all drivers' license issued after January 1, 1968.

"The change makes it necessary for all drivers to renew licenses in person at one of our Department offices," Garrison said, "and we have been working toward setting up a procedure that will not cause excessive delay when a person comes to us to renew a license."

Garrison explained that the change in license was incorporated into law by the last legislature.

"Renewal notices will be mailed to each driver, just as always," Garrison said. "However, under the new procedure, each driver must take the renewal notice to the nearest DPS office. There he will be given a standard vision test, sign the renewal notice and step in front of our camera. The picture will be snapped and a receipt will be issued to enable the person to drive until he receives his new license in the mail."

Garrison explained that about 250 full-time license offices would be in operation over the state to service license renewals. Issuance of new licenses will also be conducted in many of these new offices as well as at offices already established.

There are currently over 5,800,000 licensed drivers in Texas and about 2,500,000 licenses are renewed annually. To facilitate the process all licenses after January 1 will be renewed to expire on the birthdate of the licensee. If the person holds a license ending in an even number, it will be renewed for a four year term if the license ends in an off number, it will be renewed for two years the first time, then for four years each time thereafter. The cost to the driver remains the same per year.

The new license will be approximately 2 1/2 inches wide by 3 3/8 inches long, or about the same size as a standard credit card.

"We anticipate fairly large crowds at many of our offices," said Garrison, "and we hope to be able to give each person completely satisfactory service. We look forward to making many new friends among the millions of persons we have been serving by mail before now."

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

By Omar Burleson, Member of Congress, 17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In view of the fact the U.S. Senate has recently passed a Civil Rights Bill, including the "open housing" provision, and the fact that a great many communications are being received on the subject, the following is a reprint of a release of July 7, 1966.

Section IV of the Civil Rights Bill of 1966 provides in substance that the owner of property for sale, rent or lease may not decline to sell, rent, or lease to any person because of race, creed or color.

Other provisions of the measure make radical changes in an effort to confer "rights."

In 1879 the people of America were fearful that Government might restrict their freedoms. The first Congress of the United States in that year proposed the Bill of Rights.

The bill of rights essentially tells the government what it can not do and comprises the first ten Amendments to the United States Constitution. Many countries have an abundance of natural resources, vast lands and climate as good as ours, but 40 million immigrants came to this land seeking something called freedom.

They came here with the hope of security and the promise of the precious right to live as free men with equal opportunity for all.

In July 1868 a new guarantee of freedom was ratified. Its purpose was to guard against human slavery. Its guarantees were for the further equal protection of all. It is the 14th amendment to the Constitution, and it reads in part as follows: "No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property, without due process of law nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

Laws enacted during the past three or four years, and the proposal now before the Congress erode the rights and freedoms of every American property owner.

If anything more is needed to guarantee individual rights let it be that the individual American property owner, regardless of race, color or creed should be allowed under law, to retain:

1. The right to privacy.
2. The right to choose his own friends.
3. The right to own and enjoy property according to his own dictates.
4. The right to occupy and dispose of property without Governmental interference in accordance with his own judgment.
5. The right of all, equally, to enjoy property without interference by Laws giving special privileges to others.
6. The right to maintain what, in his opinion, are desired surroundings for tenants.
7. The right to contract with a real estate agent or other representatives of his choice and to authorize him to act for him according to his in-

Behind the 8-Ball

By the editor.

We see where mister Martin Luther King is going to lead a Negro march on Washington, D. C. in April to tell congressman and the federal government that the plight of Negroes is such that they can no live under such unjust laws, and ghetto conditions.

I'll bet that the officials in the capitol city are somewhat worried, from LBJ down to the chief of police. Some problems are bound to arise in a deal of that kind.

You know it just might not help the "cause" any.

Such things could backfire.

8-BALL.

Now wouldn't it be something if at the Democratic convention that LBJ was nominated for the presidency and RFK was nominated as vice-president? That would be one for the history 'books'.

But after all, who would have really thought that LBJ would have been the vice-presidential nominee in 1960? I didn't.

8-BALL

If hard work, political savvy and know-how, money and a 'play all angles' philosophy works. Bobby might get some where at the Demo convention.

And they play to win.

Just like LBJ.

And there are a lot of real young voters in the good old USA.

8-BALL

Now that spring is officially here, we hope that no more ice, snow and freezes hit us. The fruit trees are either in bloom or past it, and they can't stand any more.

But the wise old mesquites haven't laced out yet with their pale green leaves.

They're kinda smart. But I have seen them fooled.

8-BALL

A big white bunny rabbit was featured in the style show last Friday night. He did not fail. He kept real still in the arms of the holder.

8-BALL

AT THE STYLE SHOW— Would whoever bought the pecan pies (whole) of Mrs. Douthit, please return pans when pies are removed. Name on bottom of pans.

NOTICE— Would whoever got the trash barrels in the city park, please take em back before the ball season starts. They're needed.

Win Yearbook Award

The Epsilon Zeta Club won the Junior Club second place Award with their yearbook at the district convention (TFW C) in Brownwood last week.

8. The right to determine the acceptability and desirability of any prospective buyer or tenant of his property.

9. The right of every American to choose whomever, in his opinion, are congenial tenants in any property he owns and to maintain the stability and security of his income.

10. The right to enjoy the freedom to accept, reject, negotiate or not negotiate with anyone.

The prohibition against the individual to do with his property what he wishes, so long as he does not infringe upon his neighbor, is the denial of the third element of fundamental rights guaranteed under the Constitution.

When government attempts to confer the privilege by legislation upon some, and by so doing takes away the rights of others, it does grave violence to the Constitution.

Loss of these rights diminishes personal freedom and creates a springboard for the future erosion of our liberties.

F.H.A.
National Future Homemakers of America Week

"Focus on Citizenship" is the theme of National Future Homemakers of America Week. More than 600,000 members in over 12,000 local chapters throughout the United States and Puerto Rico will conduct special activities in observance of their 22nd annual National FHA Week, March 31 through April 6, 1968.

This national youth organization of home economics students in junior and senior high schools provides opportunities for developing individual and group initiative in planning and carrying out activities related to the home and the community. Special activities and observances during National FHA Week are designed to focus attention on the objectives and accomplishments of FHA in meeting the responsibilities of today and preparing themselves to be good citizens in the adult world of tomorrow.

Leadership and citizenship responsibilities take on new dimensions as, alert to current needs, members use creative approaches and utilize their capacity for flexibility to identify and meet the concerns of youth. Seeking to improve themselves and the world about them, they develop a broad understanding of the overall needs of our society and those things required to provide a good life for all human beings.

The FHA carries out its goals with programs based on local needs and interests. In broad fields of family relationships they tackle such problems as how to get along with parents and start family councils to discuss family problems and plans.

They learn to budget and how to make their money behave by spending it wisely and well. They hold morals and manners clinics with participation by both youth and adults. They raise funds in a variety of novel ways for worthwhile organizations. They study local government and history of the areas pointing up how government works and opportunities open to them as citizens.

They learn to understand and help with elderly, welfare groups, and school and community activities.

The FHA Creed summarizes the organization's objectives: We are the homemakers of America

We face the future with warm courage, And high hope.

For we have the clear consciousness of seeking Old and precious values. For we are the builders of homes, Homes for America's future. Homes where living will be the expression of everything That is good and fair. Homes where truth and love and security and faith Will be realities, not dreams. We are the Future Homemakers of America We face the future with warm courage, And high hope.

TEXAS TECH ROTC NEWS

During the current Spring Semester at Texas Technological College, the Army ROTC will contribute greatly to the affairs and events of a well-rounded college atmosphere. The highlight of these contributions will be the annual Military Ball which is scheduled for March 23.

The military ball which is open to all Army ROTC cadets and their dates, will be highlighted by the crowning of the Queen of the Military Ball for 1968. The Queen will be selected by popular vote of the cadets from a list composed of young ladies from the Corps Dettes, ROTC Sweethearts and alternate Sweethearts.

In addition to the ball, the Corps is presently implementing a new program for all Military Science Juniors and Seniors who will attend summer camp this summer. This program stresses leadership, command potential, and introduces subjects that will be covered quite comprehensively this summer at camp.

The cadets are solely responsible for the performance of the Corps at Tech. The cadets organize and administer all Corps functions to the best of their ability, with the supervision of the Cadre, who are stationed at the college.

Two from Sterling City in Corps

Two boys from Sterling are members of the ROTC. They are Larry McGinnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. McGinnes. He is an accounting major and has received the good conduct award for two semesters.

David Foster, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Foster of Sterling City, has also received the good conduct awards. He is a liberal arts major in Tech.

AMERICANS IN JAPAN ARE PLEASANTLY SURPRISED

Rising in the midst of a 10-acre Japanese garden is the finest hotel in the Far East, Japan's ultra-modern New Otani.

Many of the 200,000 Americans who visit Japan this year will receive one pleasant surprise after another as the country unfolds before their eyes!

Can you imagine an "Eiffel Tower" taller than the one in Paris? A busy metropolis where most of the streets have no names? Religious pilgrims clapping their hands to catch God's attention before praying? A bronze Buddha over 71 feet tall? A beautiful ten-acre Japanese garden with a modern 17-story hotel soaring up in the midst of it?

These are just a few of the surprising sights awaiting the visitor to Japan.

In the Tokyo Tower, an elevator will transport you 1,092 feet above the earth—108 feet higher than the top of the Eiffel Tower in Paris—for 200 yen (80¢).

It's hard to believe, but you won't lose your way—even though Tokyo, the largest city in the world, has no names for most of its streets! One notable exception is the Ginza, or "The Ginza", which is a fast-moving combination of Times Square, Fifth Avenue and Wall Street.

At Meiji Shrine, one of the holiest pilgrimage centers in Japan, you'll be able to touch the large torii—symbolic gates made of Japanese cypress wood—1,700 years old. In this shrine, the worshippers clap their hands to call attention to their prayers. A walk through the Inner Garden, filled with trees and shrubs contributed by people from all over the country, is an exhilarating experience.

A magnificent 71½-foot-tall bronze Buddha, cast in 749 A. D., is housed in Nara's Todaiji Temple, a symbol of reverence and tranquility.

You will be concerned about your "house" when you travel to the east. Travel experts recommend staying in a Western-style hotel when in Tokyo. The lovely Hotel New Otani in Tokyo has attracted world attention by successfully blending oriental charm and mystery with Western convenience and luxury—another surprise for the lucky traveler.
