THE COUNTY

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

While it is a problem in a very small area of Texas, the situation in regard to the fever tick in Texas needs to be brought to the attention of livestock producers. The fact must be emphasized that this information is provided to livestock producers for informational purposes only and is not intended to alarm anyone.

As most livestock producers know, there is a very small area in Texas along the Rio Grande River which is known as the South Texas Quarantine Zone. Within recent weeks as you know from newspaper accounts and other news media sources, fever ticks have been found outside the South Texas Quarantine Zone.

Dr. James B. Henderson, Executive Director, Texas Animal Health Commission, Austin, made the announcement and asked stockmen to send a sample of ticks found on either cattle or horses to a regulatory laboratory for identification.

The importance of the samples cannot be overemphasized, Dr. Henderson said, and it is urgent that stockmen throughout the state cooperate.

Ticks should be placed in a vial of commercial alcohol and mailed to the State-Federal Laboratory, Third Floor, Western Republic Life Bldg., Austin, Texas 7701. A label or memorandum should accompany the sample listing the name of the owner, location of farm or ranch, and type of animal from which the tick or ticks was removed.

As an aid, the vials used for submitting screwworm samples for identification can be used. The vials and mailing tubes are available at the county agent's office, at Sterling Feed and Supply store, or the Reed Warehouse and Feed. Be sure to use the address given above—not the address label provided in the vials.

Because of the importance and urgency of this sampling program, all cattle and horse owners in Sterling County are asked to closely observe their animals for tick infestation and submit to the Austin laboratory specimens if and when discovered. Assistance is available at the county agent's office.

Voy Eason who started work in Sterling County on September 1 as trapper now has a telephone. Voy's number is 378-2361.

He is presently getting acquainted in the county and getting agreements with landowners so that he can carry out his work when, and if, coyotes, bobcats, and other predators become a problem. If you have any predatory animal problems, Voy says he would appreciate your calling him.

About fifty trappers from this area and other personnel of the Predatory Animal Control Service and Rodent Control Service met at the Community Center Tuesday. Trappers were given information in regard to the control of predators during the coming winter.

The area trappers also honored Carl Baker who is known to many here. Carl was district supervisor of the trappers for a number of years and headquartered in Colorado City. He has now retired from

Rev. Barrera was called to the ministry in 1947. He studied at St. Joseph's Academy in Brownsville, Edinburg Junior College, Sul Ross College and is a graduate of Southwestern University in Georgetown. He has held pastorates in Alpine, Georgetown, Texas City, Alvin, Big Spring and Lovington, New Mexico.

Rev. and Mrs. Barrera are the parents of two sons, Homer and Hector, and three daughters, Evangeline, Hebe, and Vicky.

J. E. Mitchell underwent surgery in the Big Spring Hospital the first part of this week.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Patients in the Sterling County Hospital on Thursday morning of this week included—

Mrs. W. J. Swann

that position and is now working in Tom Green County.

According to the last reports, the situation in regard to anthrax in cattle was under control. Only two counties, Brown and San Saba, were involved in the outbreak which was confined to those two counties and involved only a small number of animals. Personnel of the Texas Animal Health Commission had checked out the areas and livestock and were confident that there was no cause for alarm.

GOOD RAIN

Rains totaling up to 1.25 inches fell over the county last Friday night and early Saturday morning. The amount gauged was about the same over the county, and fell over a twelve hour period. More is needed.

Soil Conservation Records

The ranchers and farmers located in the North Concho River Soil and Water Conservation District, which contains parts of Sterling, Glasscock, and Coke Counties carried out a significant amount of conservation practices on their places this past fiscal year, June 30, 1967 to July 1, 1968.

These conservation practices were carried out with cost share assistance from the Great Plains Conservation Program and through the Agricultural Conservation program. However a large amount was done with no cost share assistance from either of the programs. The entire cost was carried by the land owner or operator.

The Soil Conservation Service assisted in the planning and technical phases of most of this work. Some of the significant amounts of conservation work carried out were 45,000 acres of brush control, 67,500 acres of rangeland rested from livestock grazing for three months or more, 197,000 acres of rangeland properly used by not overgrazing, 15,283 acres of new rotation grazing systems were started during this period. In the St. Lawrence area of Glasscock County, farmers installed 35,400 feet of underground irrigation pipeline to aid in conserving their limited supply of water.

These amounts may seem small when compared with the total land area worked out of the Sterling City Soil Conservation office. The total area been 1,152,604 acres. Just as a comparison with the past three years will give you some idea as to the rate this work is being done. Land owners and operators the past three years carried out 118,000 acres of brush control, 189,000 acres of deferred grazing and properly used 750,000 acres of their rangeland, 90,600 feet of underground irrigation pipeline was also installed during this time.

These are just a few of the many conservation practices needed to help improve range conditions, prevent erosion of the soils, and use each acre of land within its capabilities and at the same time realizing more net dollars per acre from each acre.

Drilled to 8,600 feet with 4 1/2-inch casing set at total depth, it is plugged back to 8,568 feet.

Drop Game Friday to Woodson

The Sterling City Eagles dropped their first game of the 1968 football season to Woodson here last Friday evening 42-12 in a one-sided game. The Woodson boys outweighed and outclassed the smaller Eagles all the way and had no real trouble with the smaller, injury-ridden Sterling club.

The Woodson Cowboys racked up 18 points the first quarter and chalked up six first downs to 2 for the locals. Also Sterling's heaviest backfield man, David Currington, was injured in that quarter for the rest of the game. And in the second quarter, end Ishmael Vargas, received a broken (or fractured) arm, between the elbow and wrist and was out of the game. Numerous other Eagles were carried off the field with not so serious injuries during the game. They just weren't equal to the Cowboys for size, and roughness.

For the Cowboys, quarterback Danny Bellah and Terry O'Dell-back, racked up most of the points for the visitors. Bellah first scored on a keeper play from the one-yard line then later he passed to O'Dell for six more, then O'Dell got through on a ten-yard run for a TD—all in the first quarter. In the second quarter, Bellah on a keeper, went four yards for a score, then Gregg Slaughter made a field run of 22 yards for a goal. Then O'Dell picked up another TD and Bellah passed to Nichols for another.

For the Eagles, quarterback Tim Duncan passed to Randy Peel for a TD and later in the game passed to Allen Price for another counter for the locals.

The Eagles racked up 15 first downs to 27 for the visitors.

Cole, Carolyn Sue, Jim and Phil and Miss Ginger Jones of Sterling City and Miss Debe Huling of San Angelo.

Selective Service

Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 209 W. 9th St., Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q. Where may a person volunteer for induction?

A. A registered man may volunteer only at his local board. If not registered, he may register, then volunteer, but only at the board having jurisdiction over his place of residence. He must be at least age 17.

Q. As a college senior, I hope to attend graduate school. May I take my armed forces physical exam prior to graduation to determine acceptability so can make plans accordingly?

A. If induction may occur shortly, the board may order you for the examination; such action is not mandatory, however. The board's first concern is to fill current and imminent calls from those classified as available for service. If time, space, and funds are available, the board may comply with your request. You should check with your own local board for a decision.

Q. If there is a substantial increase in calls from the Department of Defense, will those in class II-A be reclassified before those in III-A, or vice versa?

A. Neither. There is no prescribed sequence for review of classification. It is observed, however, that classification in class II-A is limited to one year. At the time of expiration, the case will be reopened and considered anew. The II-A may be continued if circumstances warrant, or a new classification given, if appropriate.

Home Health Benefits from Medicare

The least understood service under Medicare is home health benefits, according to Ted F. Moellering, social security district manager in San Angelo, Texas. Mr. Moellering explained that these benefits are available to home-confined Medicare beneficiaries in most localities, when ordered by a doctor and when furnished by a participating home health agency. These agencies send skilled people to the home to provide health care, such as part-time nursing; physical, speech and occupational therapy; use of medical appliances; and part-time services of home health aides.

Home health benefits are furnished under both parts of Medicare: Part A, hospital insurance, and Part B, supplemental medical insurance. Part A takes care of all of the costs of up to 100 visits for up to a year after the most recent discharge from a hospital or participating extended care facility, under these conditions:

1. The beneficiary was in a participating, or otherwise qualified, hospital for at least 3 consecutive days;
2. He is confined to his home;
3. A doctor determines the need for home health care and sets up a plan for it within 14 days after discharge from the hospital or participating extended care facility; and

 4. The home care is for treatment of the same condition for which he was hospitalized.

There is no requirement of prior hospitalization for these services under Part B. Up to 100 home health visits each year are covered, if:

1. The patient is confined to his home;
2. A doctor determines the need for home health care; and
3. The doctor sets up a home health care plan and reviews it periodically. Part B pays all but the first $50 and 20 percent of the remainder of the costs of covered medical services in a calendar year.

Information about the availability of home health benefits can be obtained from the Social Security Administration located at 3000 West Harris Avenue in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area.

The Texas Highway Commission has approved the expenditure of $10,000 for highway safety and betterment in Sterling County during 1969. District Engineer J. A. Snell of San Angelo said that a total of 4.3 highway miles in Sterling County will be involved in the annual program. Work will be under supervision of R. N. Behind the 8-Ball

The rains of last week-end were just in time. They were needed, and badly.

Most of the county was in a dry condition and the slow rains will help a lot.

8-BALL
 While watching the football game here last Friday night against Woodson, I wished for some of the bigger boys of two or three years ago. The Woodson boys played "dirty-pool" ball it seemed to me. A lot of our little boys were injured in plays that had no call for injuries or roughness.

New Service by General Telephone

Customers who call "Information" are being provided a new service by General Telephone Company of the Southwest. In fact, the name of the service has been changed from "Information" to "Directory Assistance," according to an announcement by Jack Goss, Division Manager for the company. "The new name better describes the function," he said.

The new service, he explained, is to advise customers if the number they are requesting is listed in the current telephone directory. And, if the number is not in the current directory, the directory assistance operator will so inform the customer by saying, "That is a new listing; if you care to make a note of it, the number is _____." It is felt this phrase will save customers the trouble of looking in the directory for a new number not listed and give them an opportunity to make note of the number.

Operators in San Angelo handle directory assistance calls for local numbers in Ballinger, Barnhart, Big Lake, Bradshaw, Bronte, Carlsbad, Christoval, Crews, Eden, Eldorado, Eola, Mertzon, Miles, Norton, Ozona Paint Rock, Robert Lee, Rowena, Sonora, Sterling City, Talpa, Water Valley, Wingate, and Winters.

"The new name for the service, along with the new procedure for giving the customer the desired telephone number, has been tested in several other General Telephone exchanges with very favorable results," said Mr. Goss, "and customer reaction has been good."

SIX FLAGS TO BEGIN FALL SCHEDULE NEW $20,000,000 CALIFORNIA PARK DUE

The world's largest land-based oil derrick, which will be Six Flags Over Texas' newest attraction, is seen in this artist's rendering. Construction is already under way on this 300-foot "rig," which will be the tallest single structure at the popular 140-acre, $18,000,000 theme entertainment center located in Arlington, midway between Dallas and Fort Worth.

Arlington, Texas: Six Flags Over Texas will begin its Fall operating schedule on September 7 and will operate on Saturdays and Sundays only until the 1968 season ends on December 1. Operating hours will be from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The popular historical-theme entertainment center, located midway between Dallas and Fort Worth, has set Monday, September 2, as the final day of the Summer season, during which Six Flags has been open seven days a week.

Angus G. Wynne, Jr., President of Great Southwest Corporation which owns and operates the Six Flags Over Texas and Six Flags Over Georgia (Atlanta) entertainment centers, announced last week that the company will build a new 147-acre, $20,000,000 theme entertainment center in the Oakland/San Francisco Bay Area on the West Coast. The new park, tentatively named Six Flags Over California, is located east of Oakland in the city of Pleasanton.

The California Park is scheduled to open in the Spring of 1971.

Construction of new attractions at Six Flags Over Texas for the 1969 season is already under way with the building of the world's largest land-based oil derrick. This 300-foot oil rig will tower 300 feet in the air and will be supported by 800,000 pounds of steel. Costing in excess of half a million dollars, the oil derrick is located on a new 1.5-acre site near the Boomtown area of the Park. Giant elevators will take visitors to the two top observation platforms at the 267- and 255-foot levels.

The Oil Derrick will become the most prominent single structure at Six Flags, looming far above the 190-foot Sky Hook and 55-foot Astrolift rides.
