AROUND THE COUNTY
by

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

Pecans entered in the Tom Green County Pecan Show by Sterling County residents did very well last week. They brought home one champion plaque, one reserve champion rosette, and one third place ribbon. All the pecans entered placed in the top three places of the classes entered.

John Brock was the leading winner. John won first place ribbons on his entries in the Desirable class, Eastern Schley class, Mahan class, San Saba Improved class, the group of three varieties, and the group of six varieties. His entry in the Western Schley class placed second while his Burkett pecans placed third. His San Saba Improved pecan was chosen as the champion shell-pecan of the show; for this he received a beautiful pecan wood plaque. The reserve champion in-shell pecan was the Desirable pecan entry by John.

The other entry from Sterling County was by T.C. Davis. The Davis' John Garner entry placed second in its class and was beaten by the Garner entry which was adjudged grand champion pecan of the show.

All the Sterling County pecans will be entered in the Regional Pecan Show to be held at Brownwood on Dec. 16-17. Winners there will be sent on to the State Show to be held in July, 1969.

Although colder temperatures are helping to check the spread of screwworm cases, livestock producers are urged to continue to check for late cases and submit samples to the Mission Laboratory for identification. Good management is necessary to keep down the possibility of the screwworm fly overwintering in the area.

The biggest concentration of cases now is along the Rio Grande River. Ninety-five cases were chalked up over the weekend, Monday, and Tuesday in six counties close to or adjacent to the river. This brought the state's total to 9,101 cases for the year.

Sterling County marked up a total of 30 positive cases between June 25 and October 26. This is the greatest number in the county since 1964. With the cold temperatures, our chance of more cases is slim but every one is urged to keep up their guard against these pests.

A new experimental chemical, Nopalmate, is showing promise of giving excellent prickly pear control in Texas. Phil Buckley, range scientist at Texas A&M University, said work now underway shows that about 98% of the cactus can be knocked out when Nopalmate is properly applied. Grass remains unharmed.

Buckley says "There has been no indication of a depressant effect on the grass cover, composition, or production of grass seedling establishment. In fact, an actual increase in grass production has been observed on 4 pounds of Nopalmate per acre treatment."

A small amount of the new chemical, a powder to be mixed with water, was made available to us last spring along with some Tordon beads to be used in comparison with the Nopalmate. The two treatments were put out on the Worth Durham place just south of his old house next to

Eaglet Boys Win Grape Creek Tourney

The Sterling City Junior High boys won first place in the Grape Creek basketball tournament last week end with wins over Fairview, Paint Rock and Veribest. They defeated Fairview in the opening game 57-37 and then defeated Paint Rock 46 to 24.

In the finals Saturday night they defeated Veribest 42-20. Boys playing for the Eaglets in the tournament were Bobby Rodriguez, Bill Bautista, Tommy Bynum, Roy Leal, Ken Peel, Skeete Foster, Steven Foster, Mark Sullivan, Jesse Lujan and Albert Estrada.

Monday night the junior high teams played Robert Lee here. The boys defeated Robert Lee 49-47. The Robert Lee girls defeated the Eaglet girls in a close, well-played game.

Earlier this year the teams played in Robert Lee with the teams again splitting. The junior high boys won by the score of 38-24 and the girls were defeated in another close game.

Mrs. L. C. McDonald Is Noradadata Hostess

Twenty-two members and two guests of the Noradadata Club were entertained by Mrs. Chesley McDonald in her home on Monday evening. A Christmas buffet dinner was served and bridge played after the business meeting. Mrs. Joe Emery made arrangements for several members to help with the TB Steering Committee in San Angelo in January. Club members were reminded to bring gifts for the Sanatorium to Brooks Dry Goods by Thursday at 5:30 p.m.

Plans for the club's civic improvement project were discussed; and member of the community having suggestions for such improvements is urged to contact a Noradadata Club member.

Mrs. McDonald presented the program on "Charm" and Christmas Giving.

Mrs. Martin Reed won high score; Mrs. Reynolds Foster second high; Mrs. Dayton Barrett, low score; and high table cuts were won by Mrs. Alvie Cole, Mrs. Hubert Williams, Mrs. Worth Durham, Mrs. James Thompson, and guests Mrs. William Foster and Mrs. Bill Reed.

Other members attending included Mrs. Charles Probandt, Mrs. J. I. Cope, Mrs. Foster S. Price, Mrs. Danny Stewart, Mrs. D. Kirk Hopkins, Mrs. Larry Glass, Mrs. Stan Howard, Mrs. Finis Westbrook, Mrs. Henry Bauer, Mrs. Ross Foster, Mrs. Forrest Foster, Mrs. I. W. Terry and Mrs. W. R. Brooks.

Along about Thanksgiving week Mrs. Debert Dearen had the misfortune of stepping in a hole in her yard, and breaking her ankle.

The Barnhart road in early May. Results looked promising when evaluated in October this year; another evaluation will be done in October, 1969.

The chemical is slower-acting than the commonly used 2,4,5-T but appears more effective. It is still strictly experimental, is not available commercially, and has not been cleared by the federal government.

Behind the 8-Ball

By the editor.

As I look around in the various stores and shops doing my Christmas shopping (or looking) I have strange thoughts or memories. As I view the ranges, the appliances, the dishes, etc. I remember ---

Dishes cost a lot, even the cheaper, pottery ones nowadays. Why, I can remember when our best looking dishes all came out of Mothers Oats boxes along with oatmeal. And golly, they were all white with little gold designs painted (or printed) on 'em. I thought they were scrambling.

Or something. And these cook ranges of today! With their automatic brains, etc. We had an old New Perfection coal oil range that my mother could turn out steaks, bread, rolls, cornbread, (even prize winning cakes for the fair) on that thing. And she had to be the brain behind it. It had little ising glass peep windows and you could sorta see through 'em.

We made toast in the oven, and it was good. Nowadays you need a little fancy toaster, broiler a settin on the table or close by.

I used to have to go buy a whole gallon of coal oil about once a week. It cost a dime, too, as I remember.

And the refrigerator. Well. It was made of wood, and had a pan down below the bottom to catch the ice drippings, and somebody had to empty it ev' day or so, or somebody would step into a puddle of cold water ever so often. Ha.

TV's, automatic record players and radios. Now, in those good old days, we had Victrolas. We wound them up with a crank handle. If you didn't—the songs would get kinda slower and slower. A package of new needles cost about a quarter, against about $5 now for one of these diamond-studded needles. Gosh, the young people of today just don't know what they are missing.

And then the "bath room" or really the rest room, was out back and down a little well worn path. A Sears catalog or some such was hanging on the wall close by and, one could really day dream the time away. This was sorta an ideal way, except for the cold bad days. (and heaven help us—no nights!)

Water was from windmills in North Angelo and all except right down in the business part of town or the elite residential districts. Those were the good old days.

(Ha.) And no one had cars, hardly. We kids walked to school and didn't know any different.

After all, we had to get our exercise, and stuff.

Life was rather simple in the early twenties in Angelo. They had four ward schools, junior high and high school.

Kids were supposed to do their best in school, on a job, or whatever chore they had to do. No foolishness about life and what lay ahead.

Boys would sneak out and smoke One-Eleven or Chesterfield cigarettes (at 10c a pkg.) and wonder if Mr. So-and-So was really a bootlegger like everybody said he was.

Shows cost a dime at the old Crystal and even up to 25c at the Lyric and Ritz. That was high-powered entertainment.

The preachers preached against bobbed hair, going to the movies, playing cards and kids having to wear bloomer suits

Local Student in Texas Woman's University Play

Ann Lawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Lawson of Sterling City, is in the cast of Care Boothe Luce's satirical play "The Women." The play is being presented at TWU on December 12, 13 and 14. Admission charges are $1.

This is the first TWU Concert and drama program of the semester by a student group.

in gym classes, and some kids could not even do the old folk dances in music classes.

Visiting preachers like B.B. Crim, John Brown, Cowboy Winsett, and others, would enliven life and living while they were in town.

And the medicine shows—Wow. They were the latest—and they didn't cost anything unless you wanted to buy the McRae's XXX medicine that darn near cured anything under the sun.

Nearly everybody kept a bunch of chickens and many kept a milk cow. Some raised pigs for eating and to use for a garbage disposals, I guess.

Those were the good old days.

Funerals were held pretty soon after a death. And in the homes a lot, or sometimes in the church. Families helped to dig the graves and fill em up, and lay out the body.

Grief was more evident at funerals and the sermons a little more flowery and kind toward the deceased.

Nowadays, things move too fast and in more efficient manner, in all walks of life.

People don't die of pneumonia, consumption, etc as a matter of course, they get well and live on. Soon they will conquer cancer, most heart diseases, etc. Things are looking up in all phases of medicine.

A train trip to Dallas was a nightmare or horror. You could use up a day and a half. And that was the way to go.

Mostly, the good old days are fine—for remembering or reminiscing, only.

I'll take these days with all the problems and like 'em. Over those old days.

8-BALL

Tugboat Jones, an old footballer and coach that spoke to the football-pep squad banquet here Tuesday night said back in his day the helmets were softer and things were easier on players. Nowadays, when a tackler uses his head in tackling, he has that solid helmet to use as a battering ram. And all things connected with football are tougher now than then.

I can remember when San Angelo High School used to play on the old hard backyard of the school and lines were hastily drawn off before the games on the rock-hard ground. Football shoes were just old Boy Scout shoes that had been worked on by a shoe shop repairman—who just added a few leather cleats.

There wasn't much real fancy running, just a lot of big brawn and pushing your way to the goal line.

Scores rarely ever got up very high--just a few points for each team.

Nowadays, players have real fancy suits and padding. They have oxygen tanks for a real quick snort of oxygen if they need it during a game.

Trainers help the boys in the training rooms and all their hurts are covered with hospital insurance.

Obie Bistow claims he was a player on the Oklahoma University team back before the players wore shoes in games.

I could run on more about this sort of thing, but the metal in this machine is getting cold and won't print good, so I'll quit for now.

Sterling Eagles Place 5 on All-District

Five Sterling City Eagles of the 1968 squad made the all-district teams of 3-B 8-Man football this year. The names or selections were made known last week.

Frank Price made the all-district offense team on guard position and the defensive one as end. Randy Peel was an all-district offense end and Pat Foster center on the all-district offensive team. David Currington gained a spot as an all district halfback on the offense team and Tim Duncan was named all-district line backer on the defensive team.

Honorable mention for the defensive team in cluded Ishmael Vargas and Tim Duncan of Sterling City. On the defensive team (honorable mention) from Sterling were Allen Price, Ishmael Vargas and Randy Peel.

Frank Price, a senior, was given a spot on the all-star east-west game of next summer. Randy Peel, also a senior, was named an alternate.

All-star players for the east-west game from this area included Price, James Dubose of Garden City, Guy Zant of Gail and Robert Hillger of Garden City. The alternates include Peel, David Hillger, J.V. Conorn, and Glen Perry.

The all-star game will be played next summer at the coaching school.

Football-Pep Squad Banquet Held Tuesday

The annual football-pep squad banquet was held Tuesday evening in the community center. Randy Peel, football hero, was master of ceremonies.

The invocation was given by the Rev. David Marx, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here.

R. T. Foster, Jr., as a parent of a high schooler, gave the welcome. Responding were Pam McEntire, football sweetheart and Randy Mixon, senior letterman.

Thurmon "Tugboat" Jones, athletic director of the Midland schools, made the main address of the evening. He was introduced by Chesley McDonald, president of the local school board, and a former college class-mate of the speak-

Lions Straw Vote Favor Sewer System and Sales Tax

The Sterling City Lions, at the Wednesday luncheon, held a straw vote (show of hands) on favoring a city sewer system and a city sales tax of 1% like most other cities.

On the show of hands for favoring a city sewer system, 8 voted for, 6 against and 7 did not vote. For a city sales tax, 13 were for, 0 against and eight did not vote.

Dan Glass presided in the absence of president Tom Asbill and vice-president Skipper Lively. C. W. Wolf of San Angelo was a guest and the prize went to Dr. Swann.

No Meetings on Christmas or New Year

The members voted not to hold meetings on December 25 (Christmas Day) and January 1 (New Year's Day). A regular meeting will be held next Wednesday, December 18.

P.T.A. Next Monday Afternoon

The Sterling City Parent-Teacher Association will have its December meetin next Monday, December 16 at 3:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The Rev. Phil Roberson, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, will be the main speaker of the program, it was reported.

PTA officials ask that all members and interested uests attend the meeting.

Hildebrand Visitors

Visitors at the H. L. Hildebrands here last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. James C. Anderson of Wichita Falls, formerly of Dallas. Mr. Anderson, who served as president of the American Bank and Trust Co. of Dallas for ten years, is now a director of the bank.

Mrs. Charles Allen, sponsor of the pep squad, talked on the year's activities. George White, football coach, spoke on teamwork and the season's playing. The cheerleaders, Lelah Estes, Charlotte Foster, Ginger Jones and Susan Terry, gave the Pep-Sickles.

Gifts by the boys and girls were presented to those involved with the program here this year.

TOWERING ST. VITUS CATHEDRAL

The highest spires in Prague—city of 100 spires—are found at beautiful St. Vitus Cathedral, an awesome structure that is part of Prague Castle. Construction began on this largest of the city's churches in the 10th century, but the finishing touches weren't applied until 1929. Two of the most skilled architects who contributed most to the cathedral's Gothic character were the 14th century artists, Matthias of Arras and Peter Parler. Parler was just 23 years old when he was commissioned for St. Vitus. Today, the building is a must on travelers' lists of things to see, reports the Czechoslovak Government Committee for Tourism. Masses are celebrated here regularly and on special occasions—during the Prague Spring Music Festival, for example—concerts are performed at the cathedral.

Social Security News

People who sign up for social security only to gain Medicare coverage are often amazed to learn that they will also be drawing some checks for the year, according to Ted F. Moellering, District Manager of the San Angelo Social Security Office.

For instance, a person entitled to a monthly benefit of $122.90 who expects to earn $3000 in 1968 would draw a check of $17.40 for June, 1968, and full checks for the rest of the year.

"This is possible because of the liberalized retirement test under the present social security law," Mr. Moellering said.

"A social security beneficiary can earn $1680 per year and draw his checks every month. If his earnings are $2880 or less, an amount equal to one-half the earnings between $1680 and $2880 is subtracted from total benefits payable for the year. If earnings are over $2880, an additional one dollar for every dollar over $2880 is subtracted from benefits payable.

"There has been no change in the provision that a person can draw a check for each month that he is age 72, regardless of his total earnings for the year."

For further information, contact the Social Security Administration at 3000 West Harris Avenue in San Angelo, Tex. or see the representative when he is in your area.

The "length of marriage" requirement in social security's definition of "widow", "widower", and stepchild of a deceased worker" has been changed, reports Ted F. Moellering, District Manager of the San Angelo Social Security Office. A widow, widower, or stepchild may now qualify for social security benefits based on a marriage that has been in existence for only 9 months just before the death of the worker.

Mr. Moellering added that in some cases a marriage that has lasted for as little as 3 months may qualify the survivor. These are cases involving accidental death or death in the line of duty in the uniformed services.

Benefits under this change in the law were first payable in February, 1968. Any person who has been previously disqualified because a marriage had not been in effect long enough should contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area.

Home Health Benefits from Medicare

The least understood service under Medicare is home health benefits, according to Ted F. Moellering, social security district manager in San Angelo, Texas. Mr. Moellering explained that these benefits are available to home-confined Medicare beneficiaries in most localities, when ordered by a doctor and when furnished by a participating home health agency. These agencies send skilled people to the home to provide health care, such as part-time nursing; physical, speech and occupational therapy; use of medical appliances; and part-time services of home health aides.

Home health benefits are furnished under both parts of Medicare: Part A, hospital insurance, and Part B, supplemental medical insurance. Part A takes care of all of the costs of up to 100 visits for up to a year after the most recent discharge from a hospital or participating extended care facility, under these conditions:

1. The beneficiary was in a participating, or otherwise qualified, hospital for at least 3 consecutive days;
2. He is confined to his home;
3. A doctor determines the need for home health care and sets up a plan for it within 14 days after discharge from the hospital or participating extended care facility; and
4. The home care is for treatment of the same condition for which he was hospitalized.

There is no requirement of prior hospitalization for these services under Part B. Up to 100 home health visits each year are covered, if:

1. The patient is confined to his home;
2. A doctor determines the need for home health care; and
3. The doctor sets up a home health care plan and reviews it periodically. Part B pays all but the first $50 and 20 percent of the remainder of the costs of covered medical services in a calendar year.

ELIZABETH ERNSTEIN
Parents Issue Plea to Help
Locate Missing Daughter

Redlands, California-- Monday, March 18, 1968, began as an ordinary day for Elizabeth Lurene Ernstein when she left home for classes at Moore Junior High School in Redlands, California. But this Monday on the 18th of March was not to be an ordinary day.

Elizabeth's school day passed without incident. She attended her last class, then left school at 3:40 p.m. to walk home, a two-mile route thru blossoming orange groves. She never arrived home. Somewhere along the lonely street Elizabeth Ernstein vanished.

There are no clues to her whereabouts, or even to what happened to the 14-year old girl, other than a report from a Redlands businessman who was driving through the area. He thought he saw a girl resembling Elizabeth walking toward the corner of the street on which she lived.

To her parents, Norman and Ruth Ernstein, the months of uncertainty and anxiety over their missing daughter "are the deepest anguish a person can go through. It is a shock so deep you become wooden," the mother explained.

The Ernsteins are appealing nationwide for help in locating their daughter. Ernstein, a chemical engineer at Lockheed in Redlands, and his wife, a psychiatric social worker, have posted a $5,000 reward for information that will solve the mystery of their daughter's disappearance. They have vowed: "We will not rest until we know."

Neither parent has rested since that first long night when their young daughter failed to come home. They have tracked miles through orange groves, fields, foothills, and canyons in and around the Redlands area. They have followed every lead, no matter how slight, in the search for Elizabeth.

"I can face the daytime better than the night," the distraught mother said. "At night I find myself saying: 'Is she safe? Is she warm? Is she fed? and finally, . . . is she alive?'"

When Elizabeth, nicknamed "Liz" by her friends, left for school that March morning, she had only 25c with her. She was dressed in a blue dress with white flowers, tennis shoes and a dark-olive corduroy coat. Around her neck she wore a small gold chain with a pendant gold and blue star. Enroute home, she carried a red algebra book and a blue looseleaf notebook. Neither has been found.

Elizabeth is five feet, five-inches tall, weighs 105 pounds and had brown hair and brown eyes. She is one of five Ernstein children. The family lost one of these, a son, to polio in 1952.

"This, the second tragedy in our lives, is even greater because of the uncertainty," the desperate father said in his appeal to end the nightmare. I can accept anything, even the worst, which I'm resigned to, but I must know."

Any information concerning young Liz Ernstein should be reported promptly to this newspaper or to Capt. Charles Callahan, San Bernardino County Sheriff's Office, San Bernardino, California, phone (714) 889-0111.
